PETERBOROUGH, MARCH 21 1901

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa, and is largely read through out Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press, and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at 25c per month, and to outside points at 30c per year. Delivery in advance.

EDITORIAL NOTE:

Mark Twain, in a magazine article, accused an American missionary in China of looting Chinese villages. Now the American missionary board after careful investigation, finds that the charge is unfounded, and proposes to proceed against Mark for slander. It must be a novel and somewhat stimulating experience for the famous humorist to find that he is taken seriously at last.

If spring has not come in, it's hardly because the winter has not been open enough.

Many members of Parliament won't have their errors brought home to them till they are left at home.

Talking of libraries, Carnegie won't be in the back of the books as a public benefactor.

That ground which was in dispute at Tien Tsin was only about half an acre in extent. Certainly rather small ground for an international conflict.

Now it appears Dewet has been jam-packed British officers in his power. If Dewet is wise in his day and generation he will not lambast any more British officers. It is too djam-packed to think of.

The Boers announce that they are now going to fight for revenge. They got through fighting for fun long ago.

INTERNAL TROUBLES

THREATEN RUSSIA

Situation Has Become So Serious That the Emperor Has Called a Council

St. Petersburg, March 25.—The political situation in no serious manner. Emperor Nicholas held a meeting of the Ministers yesterday to consider the state of public affairs. Threatening letters have been received by Lieut. Gen. Kourapatkine, Minister of War; M. N. V. Mouraviev, Minister of Justice, and M. Sipiaguine, Minister of the Interior. It is reported that Prince Viazemsky has been disgraced for petitioning the Czar to consider the grievances of the students.

Nor in this all. It is admitted that the police have discovered a plot to murder the Czar. A group of students drew lots, and the fatal choice fell to the son of a prominent general. The student told his father, and the latter informed the Czar, imploring him to leave St. Petersburg.

Peter Karpovich, who recently unseated M. Bogolepoff, Minister of Public Instruction, was tried Friday and sentenced to hard labor for life. He will be imprisoned in the fortress at Heligoland. The revolutionary party will make a demonstration to protest against the sentence, and the Government has taken precautions to disperse them with armed troops.

An encounter took place on Saturday between soldiers and workmen. The latter paraded on the Nevsky Prospekt. On the way thither they demolished the State brandy booths. Eight hundred Cossacks, with their swords, met the workmen, and a sanguinary encounter ensued. The number of killed and wounded is kept secret.

EDWARD WANTS WORLD'S FAIR,

Anxious to have All Records by a London Exhibition in 1905.

London, March 25.—King Edward has resolved to signalize his reign by holding the greatest international exhibition on record in London in 1905. He already has privately invited plans and suggestions from experts in this class of work, but the scheme will not be officially launched for six months.

The principal difficulty is to provide a suitable site convenient to London, as Londoners would not tolerate the absorption of Hyde Park for such a purpose. It is reported that King Edward already has been assured a guarantee fund of ten million dollars by a coterie of his millionaire friends.

A Nightingale Meeting

New York, March 25.—A lively outbreak occurred at a meeting of sympathizers with the Russian Nihilists, held in a hall at No. 49 Henry street last night, in which considerable blood was spilled and damage done to the furniture. The object of the meeting was to raise funds for the Nihilists.

The meeting went on peacefully until a man in the middle of the hall began to count a roll of money. Then a rush was made for him, and a free fight followed. Chairs and benches were used as weapons, and howls of rage were heard on every side. Some of the more timid of the Nihilist sympathizers tried to get out of the place, but somebody had locked the door. There were cries of "Kill the spies," "There are Government spies among us," and several of the men were thrown bodily down stairs when the door was finally opened.

A call for the police frightened the combatants and the fighting ceased. It was then decided to hold a meeting at a later date.

Favorite Prescription

"I am so grateful to you for your advice," says Mrs. Sidney B. Oakes, of Whitwell, Pittsylvania Co., Va. "When I commenced your medicines I had been treated by different doctors for three months or more, but would only receive partial relief for a short while and then would be worse than before. Was confined to my bed most of the time. At the time I commenced your treatment my left side was completely paralyzed. Had no desire to eat anything; bowels costive all the time. Nerves were all unstrung, so I could not bear the least noise. I also suffered from diseased ovaries and female weakness. But thanks to my Maker and you, after following your advice, I am able to do all my washing, sewing and house work in general. I haven't had a spasm in two months. Left off medicines about one month ago. Didn't think it necessary to continue them longer. I have taken about seven bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, seven of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and two vials of 'Pleasant Pellets.' I heartily recommend those medicines to all suffering as I was."

The Chicago
Tribune

In a newspaper for bright and intelligent people. It is made up to attract people who think. It is not neutral or colorless, constantly trimming in an endeavor to please both sides, but it is independent in the best sense of the word. It has pronounced opinions and is fearless in expressing them, but it is always fair to its opponents.

Masters of national or vital public interest get more space in THE TRIBUNE than in any other paper in the West.

For these reasons it is the newspaper you should read during the forthcoming political campaign.

THE TRIBUNE'S financial columns never mislead the public.

Its facilities for gathering news, both local and foreign, are far superior to those of any other newspaper in the West.

It presents the news in as fair a way as possible, and lets its readers form their own opinions. While it publishes the most comprehensive articles on all news features, if you are busy the "Summary of THE DAILY TRIBUNE" published daily on the first page gives you briefly all the news of the day within one column.

Its sporting news is always the best, and its Sunday Pluck Sporting Section is better than any sporting paper in the country. It is the "cleanest" daily printed in the West.

THOU'RT NOT AFAR.

(Thou'rt not afar! thy face is still before me
With all its light—its loveliness divine;
The south winds blow thy dark, deep tresses o'er me
And still the gray eyes shine)

Thou'rt not afar! No distance, dear, can sever Hearts that in hearts all faithfully abide.
Love that is love forever and forever
No oceans can divide!

Thou'rt not afar! But oh, to feel the living
Clasp of thy hand! to kiss the tears away
From those dear eyes—the tender and forgiving—
And hear the dear lips say:

"I love you!"—as in moments long departed!
Yet this is still my solace and my trust;
There shall be rest, dear, for the broken hearted,
Beyond God's distant dust.

—Frank L. Stanton.

Little Vidette of Lombardy

In the year 1859 during the war for the liberation of Lombardy a few days before the battle of Solferino and San Martino, won by the French and the Italians, united against the Austrians on a beautiful morning in the month of June a little troop of cavalry of Saluzzo was moving slowly through a solitary path, toward the enemy, reconnoitering the country as they went. The troop was commanded by an officer and a sergeant, and all spied into the distance before them with eager eyes, silent, expecting every moment to see the white uniforms of the advance post of the enemy shimmering through the trees. They came to a hut surrounded by ash trees, in front of which was a large tri-colored flag, but no one was inside. Having hoisted the flag, all had run away fearing the Austrians. As soon as the boy saw the cavalry men, he threw away his stick and took off his hat. He was a fine-looking lad with a brave face, large blue eyes, and long blonde hair. He was in his shirt sleeves and his shirt was unfastened, showing his bare chest.

"What are you doing here?" asked the officer, stopping his horse. "Why did you not run away with your family?"

"I have no family," answered the boy. "I am a foundling. I work a little for every one, and I remained here to see the war."

"Have you seen the Austrians pass?"

"Not for the last three days."

The officer sat thinking a moment, then dismounted from his horse and, leaving the soldiers turned toward the foe, he entered the house and went up on the roof. The house was low and from the roof only a little stretch of the country could be seen.

"It is necessary to climb the trees," said the officer, and he came down. Just in front of the house there was a lofty, slender ash tree, which was rocking its top in the sky. The officer stood lost in thought for a moment, looking now at the tree, now at the soldiers, then, all of a sudden, he asked the boy:

"Have you good eyesight, you rag-s-muffin?"

"I!" said the boy. "I can see a sparrow a mile distant."

"Can you climb to the top of that tree?"

"And could you tell me what you see down below from the top, whether there are any Austrian soldiers, clouds of dust, guns glimmering or any horses on that side?"

"Surely, I could."

"What do you want me to pay you for this service?"

"What do I want?" said the boy, smiling. "Nothing of course. If the Austrians asked me, I would not do it at all, but for my own people—I am a Lombard!"

"Well, then, climb up."

"Wait just a moment for me to take off my shoes."

He took off his shoes, tightened the strap around his trousers, threw his hat on the grass, and clasped the trunk of the ash tree.

"But, look out!" exclaimed the officer, making a gesture as if to hold him back, as though seized with a sudden fear. The boy turned around to look at him with his fine blue eyes, as if to question him.

"Never mind," said the officer; "go up."

The boy went up like a cat.

"Look in front of you," cried the officer to the soldier.

In a few moments the boy was at the top of the tree, with his legs around the trunk among the leaves, and with his breast uncovered, and the sun shining on his blonde head made it look like gold. The officer could hardly see him, he looked so small from the ground.

"Look straight in the distance," cried the officer.

The boy in order to see better took his right hand from the tree and put it over his forehead.

"What do you see?" asked the officer.

The boy bent his head forward, and, making a speaking tube of his hand, answered: "Two men on horseback on the white road."

"What distance from here?"

"Half a mile."

"Do they move?"

"They are standing still."

"What else do you see, after a moment's silence. Look to your right."

Then he said: "Among the trees near the cemetery there is something which glitters like bayonets."

"Do you see any people?"

"No, they must be hidden under the wheat."

At that moment the sharp whist of a bullet passed high through the air and died away, far off, behind the house.

"Come down, boy," cried the officer, "they have seen you. I do not want anything more, come down."

"I am not afraid," answered the boy.

"Come down!" repeated the officer.

"What else do you see at the left?"

The boy pushed his head to the left, and another whist, sharper and lower than the first, cut through the air. The boy shook all over.

"Confound them!" he exclaimed, "they are aiming at me." The bullet had passed very near him.

"Down!" cried the officer in an imperious and irritated way.

"I will come down directly. The tree, however, will protect me. Do not fear. To the left, you wish to know what I can see?"

"To the left," answered the officer; "but, come down."

"To the left," said the boy, turning his head that way, "where there is a chapel, it seems as though I can see—"

A third whist, like the first, was almost at the same time the boy was seen coming down, holding for a moment to the trunk and to the branches, and then falling down head first, with open arms.

"Curse them!" cried the officer, running to him.

The boy struck the ground with his back and lay there stretched out with his arms open; a stream of blood was flowing from his left side. The sergeant and two soldiers jumped from their horses, the officer bent down and opened his shirt; the bullet had entered his left lung. "He is dead," exclaimed the officer. "No, he lives," answered the sergeant. "Our poor, brave boy!" cried the officer.

"Courage! courage!" But while he was saying this and pressing his handkerchief over the wound, the boy rolled his eyes wearily, and let his hand fall back. He was dead.

The officer turned pale and looked at him sadly for a moment, then laid him down with his head on the grass, and for awhile he remained looking at him. Also the sergeant and the two soldiers stood motionless and gazed at him; the others were turned towards the enemy.

"Poor boy," sadly repeated the officer. "Poor and brave boy."

Then he approached the house and took from the window the tri-colored flag and stretched it out like a funeral pall over his body, leaving the head uncovered. The sergeant picked up the boy's shoes, cap, the little stick and the knife.

They stood in silence a moment, then the officer turned to the sergeant and said: "We will send the ambulance for him. He died like a soldier, and we will bury him like a soldier."

Having said this he threw a kiss to the dead and cried, "To horse." They all jumped to their saddles, the troop formed again as followed up its route; but a few hours later the little dead boy did receive the honors of war.

Towards sunset all the lines of the Italian advance post were marching toward the enemy over the same road which had been taken in the morning by the troop of cavalry.

The large battalion of bersaglieri, which a few days before had valiantly gained with blood the hill of San Martino, proceeded in two files. The news of the death of the boy, had spread through the army before the soldiers had left their encampment. A stream ran along beside the path a few paces distant from the house. When the first company of the battalion saw the little corpse stretched at the foot of the ash tree and covered with the tri-colored flag, they scattered with the sword, and one of them bent over the edge of the stream, which was bordered with flowers, plucked two flowers and threw them over him.

Then all the battalion, as they were passing, plucked flowers and threw them over the dead. A few moments the boy was covered with flowers, and officers and soldiers all gave him a salute as they passed by. "Brave little Lombard!" "Good bye, boy!" "Honor to you, little blonde!" "Hurrah! Glory! Goodbye!" One officer threw a medal of valor on him; another kissed his forehead; the flowers continued to shower on his bare feet, upon his wounded chest, and upon the blonde head. And he slept there in the grass wrapped in his flag, with a white but almost smiling face, now boy as if he felt the honor paid him, as though the command to have given his life for his Lombardy.

Very Considerate.

Mr. Suburb—What on earth are you trying to do, neighbor?

Mr. Neighbor—Merely taking down a little of the piling so that I can move my chicken coop over into your yard.

"Eh? My yard?"

"Yes, I like to be neighborly and considerate of other people's feelings you know."

"But—"

"Yes, you shouldn't have any more cause to complain about my chickens scratching up your yard."

"But you are moving your whole coop over on my property!"

"That's the idea. Quick as the chickens find their coop in your yard they'll fancy that you own them, and will spend the rest of their natural lives scratching in my yard, you know."

"I'm!" said the head of the firm as he surveyed the applicant. "So you'd like a job as porter, eh? Well, we need a good, strong porter here; but you don't look quite heavy enough for the job by the way, why did you leave the job you had before?"

"Well, you see," said the applicant, "I liked the boss, and so they—"

"Excuse me; now that I come to think of it, we hired a man to fill this place day before yesterday."—Chicago Times Herald.

Loss of Appetite.

A person that has lost appetite has lost something besides—vitality, vigor, tone.

The way to recover appetite and all that goes with it is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla—that strengthens the stomach, perfects digestion and makes eating a pleasure.

Thousands take it for spring loss of appetite and every body says there's nothing else so good as Hood's.

A RELIC OF MAJUBA HILL

British Sword-Bayonet Lost in That Fight Has Been Recovered.

A relic which is not only of great historic interest, but which will serve as a memento of a very gallant feat of arms, has just been recovered by the 3rd Imperial Yeomanry—through the gallant commanding officer, Col. G. J. Younghouse—its royal highness, the Prince of Wales, second in command of the Imperial Yeomanry.

During Lord Medhurst's attack on Doret, on Aug. 2, Col. Younghouse, with two squadrons of the 3rd Imperial Yeomanry, was ordered to follow the enemy's right flank. After manœuvring close up to the enemy it was found that he held a strong line of barbed wire, and that the enemy was using the ruse in the night and early morning, moved rapidly up to within 50 yards of the position. From this point the command sent one troop of Yeomanry to the left to draw the enemy, and when the Boers were full, engaged with them another troop at a hard gallop went round to the right. This latter troop, with the greatest bravery, arrived within fifty yards of the enemy, when, coming under a very heavy cross-fire, they were compelled to waver. At this moment the remaining troops of the Yorkshire Dragoons and South Norfolk Hussars (which composed part of the 3rd Imperial Yeomanry), dashed up to the front of the position, and dismounted under cover within 20 yards of the enemy, exposed only to a terrific hail of shot and shell from the Boers, but, and eventually also from the B.T.A.G. pom-poms. Even the most veteran troops might be well dismayed under such a fearful ordeal, but Col. Younghouse, having been the survivor of many a desperate encounter on the Indian frontier, and at this critical moment he dashed to the front, and cried: "Action! front, order and at them boys!" The cry was immediately taken up by Major Gascoigne, second in command, and Capt. Bedford, adjutant, the momentary hesitations passed, and led by these three gallant officers, the Yeomen charged into the position and drove the Boers back.

The bayonet, with heavy loss, Lieut. A. M. Knowles and four Yeomen were killed, and Col. Younghouse and a Yeoman severely wounded in this daring affair. When the gallant and onal lay wounded his orderly found among various rifles and other debris of the fight, an old British sword bayonet, which, on examination, was found to be stamped on the frog with the name of the Battalion, the Rifles, the date of issue being 1870, and further inquiry at a neighboring farm it transpired that the bayonet had been taken by a Boer, named Engelen, at Majuba Hill, on Feb. 27, 1881, and now, in this curious and historic manner, it falls again into British hands. His royal highness will, doubtless, greatly prize this interesting memento.

UNFINISHED STILL

A baby's boot and a skin of wool faded and soiled and soft; Add this, you say, and I doubt you're right; Round a seamed neck this stormy night.

Up in the yards aloft.

Most likely it's folly; but, mate, look here;

When first I went to sea, A woman stood on your far-off strand With a wedding ring on the sun-soiled hand.

Which clung so close to me.

My wife—God bless her—the day before

She sat beside my foot;

And the sunlight kissed her yellow hair;

And the dainty fingers deft and fair Knitted a baby's boot.

The voyage was over I came ashore;

Think you I found that boot?

A grave the daisies had sprinkled white,

And this beside the chair.

The little boot, 'twas unfinished still;

The tangled skein lay near;

But the knitter had gone away to rest,

With the babe asleep on her quiet breast,

Down in the churchyard dream.

THE TRIUMPH OF THE SHORT SKIRT.

Common sense has triumphed over the arbitrariness of an absurd fashion. All the best dressed women are now wearing short skirts on the street.

They have then, in the street, or in the house, a ready excuse for walking.

They are usually finished with several yards of stitching, and the hem stands out smartly at a convenient distance from the ground, so that there is no need to lift the skirt, even at a muddy crossing.

Very well-made, and with the fitting boots are a fine qua non with the short skirt, which places the feet in evidence, of course being in this expensive fashion, which, under unfavorable circumstances, becomes also a most untidy one.

"TURKEY RAGOUT."

Chop a pint of cold turkey and put in a new pan. Add two tablespoons of butter, a half pint of water, half an onion, minced, half a pint of canned peas, a small head of lettuce, torn in small shreds, half a table-spoonful of salt, a quarter of a table-spoonful of pepper, cover and cook slowly for one hour, when done dish and serve with a border of boiled rice.

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE Le Roi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 1/2 shares went to $23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that if shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the Le Roi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.00 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 70,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

AGE LIMIT SET

Male Citizens Over Forty Years of Age Will Have to pay $1.00 License Fee

Harrisburg, March 28.—By request, Mr. Roth, of Lehigh, introduced a bill in the House to-day to encourage marriage.

The bill provides that a male citizen of Pennsylvania over 40 years old making application for a marriage license shall pay to the clerk of courts the license fee of $1.00, which is to be turned into the State treasury for the purpose of maintaining homes for old women over 40 years old who have not had a suitable opportunity or offer of marriage and have not means sufficient to keep themselves in clothes and spending money.

Any bachelor over 40 years old who shall go outside of the State for a wife shall pay $100 into the treasury.

The State shall be divided into three districts. The territory west of the Allegheny Mountains shall be the first district; west of the Susquehanna river, the second district, and all other parts of the State the third district.

The act is irrevocable and cannot be repealed without the consent of the majority of the old women who have been regularly admitted to the home.

The House has adjourned until 8 o'clock Monday evening.

PENSION SYSTEM FOR CANADA.

Said That the Minister of Militia Will Shortly Introduce a Bill

Ottawa, March 27.—There is good reason for believing that the Minister of Militia will shortly introduce a bill making provisions for pensions to the officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the permanent corps. It is said that the measure will fix the period of service entitling a pension at twenty years, and that when the service is under that term a gratuity will be given. The creation of the necessary fund for the purpose (will not impose a very heavy charge upon the country, it is reported to be credited, in the case of the officers, they may be asked to contribute 3 per cent. of their salaries each year towards the pension fund, the gratuity upon retirement before twenty years may be upon the basis of a month's salary for every year of service.

CURED BY FOOD.

Nature's Way to Get Well and Keep Well

People who do not know how to select the right kind of food to sustain them become ill, and some sort of disease will show forth. It is worth one's while to know of these facts.

A young woman at Grimsby, Ont., Mich., Mrs. A. P. Sage, began to run down while she was at school. She finally broke down completely and was taken seriously ill with a number of different troubles. The stomach trouble was the most serious one. Her heart also troubled her so she had to stop at high in bed as possible. This was caused however by her stomach.

She says, "In the morning I would be so weak I could hardly move. I was laid up on the morning of Tuesday, principally. After some months I seemed to get a little better, then I got worse, so that I finally was brought to the point of death from non-assimilation of food."

At this time a lady recommended Grape-Nuts Food. She says "Little did I think what a help it was to become to me. I became greatly interested when I read the description on the box that the food was pre-digested and in the shape of grape-sugar."

I had been unable to digest anything at all, but I began on Grape-Nuts Food, and it was so grateful to the taste, and I am much stronger now and can ride a bicycle and take long walks, and have gained very considerably in weight, all of which I owe to Grape-Nuts Food."

ONTARIO CROWN LANDS

Report for the Past Year Now Being Distributed.

NEW TOWNSHIPS SURVEYED

What is Said of the Pulp Land of the Northern Country. Amount of Land Sold During the Year.

Toronto, March 28.—The report of the Crown Lands Department for the year 1900 has been prepared. The area of Crown lands sold during the year was 15,996 acres having a total value of $91,837.08. On account of these sales and those of former years there was collected the sum of $68,861.43. Under the provisions of the Mines Act for the leasing of Crown lands for mining purposes there were leased 27,835 acres, and the rental received for same and lands already under lease amounted to $68,714.41. The total collections on account of Crown lands sold and leased were $138,575.84.

The area of Clergy lands sold during the year was 1,096 acres, having a value of $601. The amount collected on these and former sales was $4,271.30.

The area of Common School lands sold during the year was 219 acres, with a value of $836.20. The amount collected on account of these and former sales was $13,612.45.

There were sold during the year 46 acres of Grammar School lands, having a value of $180. The amount collected on account of these and former sales was $2,407.46.

RAILWAYS AND UNIVERSITY

The collections on account of lands sold under the Railway Act amounted to $162.10.

The area of University lands sold during the year was 13,668 acres, having a value of $3,782.13. On account of these sales, and lands previously sold and leased, there was collected the sum of $2,708.14.

The total collections of the department on account of all sources of revenue was $1,447,948.78.

The total disbursements of the department for the year were $1,267,267.56. This includes $24,682.38 paid on surveys, and refunds amounting to $38,072.46. It also includes the sum of $38,990.32 expended on special services under the direction of the department, such as diamond drill, $9,208.98; Mining Schools, $19,200; from Mining Act, $12,786.32; explorations in Northern Ontario, $4,607.38; migration $6,274.74; colonization, $3,243.17; provincial parks, $8,507.92.

SETTLEMENT OF TOWNSHIPS

During the year the townships of Markham and Etobicoke, in the district of Thunder Bay, Barrie, in the district of Rainy River, Lyell, in the district of Nipissing, and Jones in the County of Renfrew, from the year 1891, were appropriated for settlement, and the Free Grants and Homesteads Act, so that there are now 168 townships open for settlement. There were 96 persons located on 132,668 acres, and 140 locations purchased 4,621 acres according to the regulations. Three hundred and twenty-nine patents were issued to persons in preparation of a survey, and 1,000 locations were issued with the conditions of the act and the regulations.

The revenue from woods and forests during the year was $1,276,376.19. Of this $103,494.51 was an amount of bonus; $61,704.70 on account of ground rent; $1,886.25 on account of transfer fees, leaving the net revenue from timber dues $57,320.99.

The cut was larger last winter than the year before. The officers appointed for the purpose of seeing that no logs were exported to the United States report that the law was observed.

Growing accounts of the settlement of the new districts are given.

Regarding pulp and paper, the report says in part—The explorations in the country north of the height of land have revealed the fact that this province has almost boundless resources in pulpwoods and with the increasing prices and great demand for this class of raw material, we may confidently look for a great expansion in the pulp and paper industry in the not distant future. Regulations have been passed prohibiting the export of spruce pulpwood cut on lands of the crown, and the heavy timber to be used in tanning purposes, the object being, as in the case of pine sawlogs, to realize for the province all the benefits arising from the utilization of these natural resources in our own country.

THE EXPLORATIONS

The ten exploration parties sent through the north country found a tract of arable land north of the height of land, stretching from the Quebec boundary west across the districts of Nipissing, Algoma, and Thunder Bay comprising an area of about 24,500 square miles or 15,680,000 acres. The soil is a clayey loam, nearly all suitable for farming purposes, and the region is watered by the Moose and its tributaries, the Abitibi, Metagamie and Missinabie, and the Albany and its tributaries, the Kenogami and Ogish. Along this latter stream alone, about which almost nothing was known, a tract of good land was found, extending on both sides of the river for a distance of over forty miles, and in the district of Rainy River, between the surveyed townships around Dryden and Lac Seul, another extensive area of good land was found, about 100 square miles, or 384,000 acres in extent.

The climate in this region is reported to have no features which would prevent the ripening of grain or the growing of crops.

A great pulpwood forest has been located north of the height of land, extending across the districts of Nipissing, Algoma and Thunder Bay, with a depth in some places of 160 miles. The timber embraces all the common pulp woods, such as spruce, poplar, jackpine and balsam of gilead, as well as tamarac and cedar along the banks of the streams. It is generally of good quality, usually thick on the ground, and ranges in size up to three feet in diameter. In the district of Nipissing, south of the height of land, an extensive pine forest was explored and estimated to contain about three billions of feet, board measure.

In celebration of the annual recurrence of the Easter holiday, The Chicago Chronicle has in preparation a superb sacred song, entitled "A Vision of Paradise." This sublime production was written and composed expressly for the Sunday Chronicle of April 7, by Arthur Trevelyan, the well-known author of "The Choir Celestial" and others of like excellence. "A Vision of Paradise" is a peculiarly adapted and a solo for church services and entertainments, and will be a welcome addition to the musical library in your home. The high character of The Chronicle's musical supplements is well known and scarcely needs mention.

This great Sunday paper leads all others in the high character of its special features, notable among which is a full sheet of eight pages prepared especially for juvenile readers.

SEES BENEFIT FOR ENGLAND.

Heavy Import Duties on Steel in United States will continue to harm Americans.

London, March 28.—Sir Theodore D. Dorr, speaking to-day at the annual meeting of William Dorr & Sons of Sunderland, said that as long as the heavy import duties on steel continued in the United States British shipbuilders would be able to get American steel at from 20 to 40 shillings less per ton than the price of the same steel sold for in America. Hence the steel combinations selling its surplus production in Great Britain would keep up the cost of American-built ships and keep down the cost of ships built in Great Britain.

ITS WORK TELLS

Malt Breakfast Food

Shows its Happy Results Upon Every Member of the Family After a Week's Use.

Malt Breakfast Food is, according to the opinions of physicians and food experts, the best of the many breakfast grain foods now on the market. It has become the most popular of all foods simply because its work and results tell quickly and satisfactorily.

Malt Breakfast Food is the only grain food perfectly adapted for the requirements of the weak and strong. It is a perfect regulator of digestion, it opens the stomach, it neutralizes the blood, producing skin troubles and eruptions as does oatmeal; it builds up solid flesh, strengthens the nerves and clears the brain.

In addition to the grain nutritive qualities of Malt Breakfast Food, it is the most delicious and appetizing of all foods something to tickle the palate of the most pronounced epicure.

After one week's use of Malt Breakfast Food, its good points are so clearly established that no one will give up. At all grocers.

BLOOD POISON.

If you have this awful disease you are in danger until completely cured; the various symptoms you notice should be a warning to take immediate treatment. Don't put it off until too late, as it continually gets worse. If you have sore throat, patches on tongue or mouth, swollen glands, hair falling out, blotches on body, itching skin, or other signs of this awful disease, call on us. We give you a written guarantee to cure you by our L.A.T. CURED. Each time you call you see Dr. Goldberg personally, who has 18 Diplomas, certificates and licenses received from the various colleges, hospitals and States, which testify to his standing and abilities.

The original testimonials can be seen at our office; $500.00 reward for any we cannot show; at request of patients we publish only the initials.

I am improving every day. I notice if I cut or scratch myself the sore will heal up. I hope you will not stop treating me as long as there is a sign of that terrible disease. I am more afraid of it than death. I believe you have the right medicine for the disease. I feel so thankful to you for the good you have done me; I was a perfect wreck when I came to you, and was on the verge of suicide. To make a sure thing I would like to continue a while longer so that it will not return. Very respectfully yours, Mrs. L. S.

RUSSIAN TREATY NOT YET SIGNED

The United States Sensibly Decides Not to Interfere Between Russia and Japan.

Moral Opposition Plain—Note on Subject Made Public puts Blame on Czar—New Point in Pekin

London, March 28.—The Foreign Office and the Chinese Minister said this evening that the Manchurian treaty had not been signed, according to their latest advice today. Whether it would be signed or not they were unable to say.

Washington, D. C., March 28.—The President and the Cabinet had a full and free talk over the situation brought about by Russia's insistence that China sign the conventions for the transfer temporarily to the Russian government of civil and military control over Manchuria.

From all information obtainable it is apparent that they decided that while the perfection of the convention would constitute a practical repudiation by Russia of the virtual promise she had given the United States not to make any territorial or other concessionary arrangement with China unless all the powers consented, and the transfer of Manchuria to Russia, even under the guise of a temporary arrangement, would be the entering wedge in the break-up of China, any radical attitude on the part of the United States towards Russia might bring this government into war with that country or place us in the humiliating position of being compelled to back down.

Russia Acts Infamously
It is admitted here, that the United States government has abundant reason to attempt to thwart Russia's purpose. Not only has that nation a great principle to maintain in the territorial integrity of China but it has subscribed to the principles that there should be no arrangement between China and any power for the surrender of Chinese territory or financial obligation without the full knowledge and approval of all the powers.

The negotiations which brought about these understandings were initiated by the United States, and for that reason this government, it is said, would have a perfect right to call Russia to account for making secret treaties with China to obtain territorial advantages.

It was intimated to-day that, while on its face Russia's answer to the American office by fire. The fire took place on Wednesday evening, and origin is unknown. It originated in the press room and before it could be gotten under control, damage had been done to the amount of about $12,000. Two Gordon presses and a Typograph machine fell through the flooring into the cellar and of course, will be useless. A large amount of paper was destroyed as well as the type in a number of standing orders. The other departments were all damaged by water and the fact that the mailing lists were lost means more than is easily comprehended by those not concerned. Insurance was carried to the amount of $6,000.

SHARP GETS 15 YRS.

AT HARD LABOR

He Takes his Medicine With a Feeling of Intense Relief

Yesterday morning on the assembling of the Court, Alex. Sharp, was brought in for sentence. Mr. Justice Lount, in passing sentence upon the prisoner, said:—You have been tried by a jury of your countrymen and ably defended, and I have heard the further evidence of your counsel for mercy. I have given this case great consideration and although it is painful duty to perform it is one that compels me to not yield to the pleadings of your counsel. Society has to be protected and it would have been a more solemn duty for me to have passed a sentence of death upon you. The jury considered that there was provocation. Upon your seeing your wife and child together, you lost control of yourself and shot William Hull dead on the spot.

Confessing, His Lordship said that this was a crime. Punishment must be inflicted upon those who cannot control their temper. He had thought over his physical condition and former character, but these cannot prevail. He should have taken this into consideration, when brooding over the matter, as well as the fact that he had a family of his own. He then passed a sentence of 15 years in Kingston Penitentiary, at hard labour.

CENTRAL MILLING COMPANY

First General Meeting of the Shareholders

The first meeting of the shareholders of the newly organized Central Milling Company of Peterborough, Ltd., was held yesterday afternoon in the office of Messrs. Dennison, Peck & Stevenson.

There was a large attendance, and the utmost harmony prevailed. The chair was taken by Mr. Davidson Carroll, President of the Company.

Amongst those who were present were the following: Messrs. Davidson Carroll, Warkworth; John W. Lucas, Baillieboro; John Stohard, John A. Davidson, Wm. Carver, Smith; A. Matchett, George Taylor, Geo. A. Reid, John Matchett, Oronabee; Dr. Grey, George Ward, Geo. K. Martin, F. Geo. Singleton, A. Parker, W. Rudkins, John M. White, H. A. Mulhern, Wm. Yelland, H. P. Kennedy, Dawson Kennedy and W. H. Hamilton.

The company proposes to erect a modern flour mill, having a capacity of 150 barrels per day, which may be increased to 250. The mill will be a safe secured, and will commence the erection of the mill during April. The mill will be completed in August.

The following directors were elected: Messrs. Davidson Carroll, Dr. Grey, W. H. Hamilton, H. P. Kennedy, John W. Lucas, John A. Davidson, James Kennedy, M.P.

Subsequently the directors met and elected the following officers: President Davidson Carroll; Vice-President, Dr. Grey; Secretary-Treasurer W. H. Hamilton.

The company, of which Mr. H. A. Mulhern is the principal promoter, has a bright future before it, and its success is assured.

ANOTHER LITTLE WAR

Warships Ready to Enforce Demands in Morocco.

American Embassy to Tangier Going on the New York for Purpose of Securing Apology and Collecting Indemnity Due from the Sultan of Morocco.

Tangier, March 28.—The United States armed cruiser, New York, which is to convey the American Embassy to Tangier, in connection with the settlement of the United States' claims against Morocco, arrived here to-day.

The American Consul General here, Mr. Gunner, says he intends to have a definite settlement with the Sultan of Morocco concerning all American claims, and will demand an apology for the discourtesy of the Moroccan Grand Vizier and Minister of Foreign Affairs.

CONSUL GUNNER INSTRUCTED.
Washington, D. C., March 28.—Upon being advised by the Navy department that the New York had arrived at Tangier, the State Department immediately sent a cablegram to Consul General Gunner directing him to board the New York at once and go forward on his special mission. Something is left to Mr. Gunner's discretion as to the execution of the details, and it is for him to say whether he will be satisfied if the Sultan and a court meet him half way at Tangier or whether he will proceed according to the original programme directly to Morocco City.

WILL DEMAND FULL SATISFACTION.
It probably will make no difference in principle, provided the necessary explanations are afforded for the treatment our Consul has received, and provision be made for settling the claims. There are not large in the aggregate, probably $50,000 will cover them all, or somewhat less than half an indemnity that was formerly collected by Germany a short time ago on a precisely similar claim of claims. But it can be stated that the court does not appear at Tangier by the third week in April, then Consul General Gunner will go to Morocco City.

PEOPLE WHO BURIED THEMSELVES ALIVE

Bodies of Twenty-Eight Self-Immolators Found

DISCOVERED IN A GRAVE

Curious Custom of a Religious Body in Russia and in India

St. Petersburg, March 28.—The bodies of twenty-eight persons, who were buried alive, have just been discovered at Terasopol. The writings found with the bodies indicate that they belonged to the self-immolating sect known as the Begum. This recalls a similar case which attracted public attention four years ago. The Russian Government had ordered a census of the entire empire to be taken. Within the high priestess of the Begum, warned her disciples and followers against answering any of the questions asked by the census enumerators, on the ground that the government intended to use the information thus obtained to force the Begum into the Orthodox Church, in which event they would be irrevocably doomed to everlasting perdition.

At the same time and in defence to the recommendations of the High Priestess Vialia, a man named Kovaloff buried alive his wife, two children and his sister and took part in the burial of eighteen others. He was arrested, tried and sentenced to perpetual imprisonment in a monastery. According to the evidence produced in court, all these living burials took place at night, and in conjunction with solemn religious ceremonies. The victims, previous to the sacrifice, arrayed themselves in their best clothes, and over these donned funeral shrouds. They then prostrated themselves silent ly and resignedly in their graves. Thereupon, without uttering any moan or cry, without so much as moving a hand, they permitted themselves to be slowly buried alive, by the covering of earth deliberately shoveled over them by Kovaloff and some of his fellow believers.

PRACTISED IN INDIA.
This practice of self-immolation is practised in India, though not from religious motives. In one case a woman who had suddenly become insane, firmly resolved to sacrifice herself in accordance with a time-honored custom of the Orient. This meant that she resolved to bury herself alive in order to save her children and family from the consequence of constant communication with her. She communicated her views to her husband, who concurred in them, believing that such a death was preferable to the living death she would otherwise be subjected to. Accordingly, he invited four of his friends to take part in the obsequies of his wife, who, after she had taken a final leave of her children, accompanied them to the site of the grave, which was thereupon dug in her presence by her husband and his friends. The entire village had flocked to the scene. The woman having addressed a few words to a farewell to those around her took her place in the grave, was covered by the children present with flowers and green weeds, after which the husband cast the first spadeful of earth upon her. The grave was then filled with earth, and surmounted with a cone of soil, capped in its turn by an earthenware jug turned upside down.

A PLACE OF PILGRIMAGE.
The grave became a spot of pilgrimage to the women and children of the district, for the purpose of depositing flowers and fruits upon the last resting place of this victim of maternal devotion. It was this that attracted the attention of the English authorities, and led to the arrest and trial of the widow and her husband, and of his four friends who had helped to bury his wife. The trial at Ruki created great excitement throughout the country, as it was held in conformity with old-established tradition and usage. Even the two native judicial assessors who sat beside the English judge shared these views and urged them on him. He declined to accept them, and the prisoners were sentenced to life imprisonment.

Defeat of the Boers Changed to a Route

The Mounted Men of the British Ride Into the Boer Convoy and Cause Confusion

London, March 28.—Lord Kitchener, in a dispatch sent to the War Office yesterday, gives these details of General Buller's defeat.

"Our casualties in General Buller's action were two killed and seven wounded. The Boers left 22 dead and 30 wounded. As the pursuit was rapid many more Boer casualties are likely. The operations of March 23rd drove the enemy north from their positions at Kaffir's Kraal. On March 24th the pursuit was continued by mounted men only. The enemy's rear guard was driven in by a combined movement on both flanks. Their convoy was then sighted at Leeuwfontein. The Greys, New Zealanders and Bushmen pushed on. The enemy attempted to take up a position, but the Greys and other troops rode down all opposition and gave them no chance. The convoy was ridden into, and the enemy's retirement became a rout. The pursuit was continued until the horses were exhausted."

CAUSED MUCH SATISFACTION.
This despatch has caused much satisfaction in London.

It is improbable that Messrs. Merriman and Sauer, emissaries of the Afrikaner Bond, will be allowed to speak for the Boers in Parliament as they desire to do. The general feeling in London is against offering any peace terms to the Boers.

Letters are pouring into the office of the Daily Mail showing how widespread is the demand that the war is only to be terminated by the unconditional surrender of the Boers.

BOERS MOVING NORTH.
Cape Town advices say that nearly all the invading Boer commandos are now endeavoring to get to the north, as the Orange River is again fordable at almost any point.

Lord Methuen has been very active recently, and has been constantly engaged in minor skirmishes, and so far as reported has not had a single casualty for several weeks, while the Boers have had an average of three killed daily.

On the occasion of the fight near Wolmaranstad the Boers had an elaborate scheme to concentrate a superior force against Methuen, while his column was encumbered with prisoners, cattle, etc. Methuen was too quick for Gen. Buller, who arrived late, and the plan fell through.

With the apparent object of terrorizing the Boer inhabitants, small parties of Boers are concentrating near the boundary of the Drakden, Middleburg and Graaf Reinet districts in Cape Colony.

A Quiet Wedding.
A quiet wedding took place on Wednesday night at the George Street Methodist church parsonage, when Mr. Harry Gible, of town, was united in marriage to Miss Maud Dawson, youngest daughter of Mr. William Dawson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. P. Wilson, and the bridesmaids were Miss Maud Dawson, Miss Maud Dawson, and Miss Maud Dawson.

The newly married couple have many friends all of whom will join in wishing them much happiness.

AGUNALDO CAPTURED BY A CLEVER RUSE

General Funston Successfully Carries Out a Daring Plan for His Capture

First Captured, Then Captures his Quarry—Allows His Party to be Taken by Aginaldo, Then Suddenly Turns Tables

Via Mail, March 28.—The long and eventful chase of the elusive Aginaldo is at last ended. The Philippine leader has been captured by General Funston, who has successfully carried out what is probably the boldest and most romantic project of the whole war.

In January, from his hiding place in the province of Isabela, Aginaldo wrote letters anathematizing the sub-chiefs who had taken the oath of allegiance to the United States. A few days later he sent out one of his officers to the insurgent cause, ordering them to gather at a rendezvous in Isabela province, but the officer intrusted with the mission proved false to his leader and secretly negotiated with the Americans.

THE PLAN FORMED.
On hearing of the whereabouts of the rebel leader Gen. Funston conceived a daring and ingenious plan to capture him. Securing the consent of Gen. MacArthur, he started from Manila two weeks ago with Surgeon-Major Harris, Capt. Newton, of the Thirty-fourth Infantry; Lieut. Adams, of the Twenty-second Infantry; Lieut. Mitchell, of the Fortieth Infantry; six veteran American and a number of native scouts, all of whom were selected for their bravery and extensive knowledge of the country.

The little expedition was conveyed on the gunboat Vicksburg to a remote beach above Baler, near where Aginaldo was said to be hiding. It was arranged that Aginaldo's emissary, with the native scouts, should pass themselves off as insurgent troops, who had captured General Funston and others, and were conveying them to Aginaldo. At the right time, when brought before Aginaldo, the rebels were to turn on him.

The scheme, as will be readily seen, was a bold, even desperate one. A six days' march into the interior was contemplated. General Funston and his little band of Americans had to run the risk of treachery on the part of the native scouts, and the exact strength of Aginaldo's bodyguard was not known. It was possible that it might be strong enough to overwhelm the Americans and their native allies. But General Funston resolved to run all risks and pushed on into the interior.

Fortune favors the brave, and their plans turned out as expected. Aginaldo was captured in the country near Cagayan, nine miles from Baler, on the north-east coast of the island of Luzon. The capture was not effected, however, without a struggle. The rebel forces, though taken by surprise, made considerable resistance, and in the fight an insurgent major was killed. Twenty rifles and a number of important papers were taken.

Aginaldo was taken on board the Vicksburg, and brought to Manila, where he landed at 3.10 p.m. to-day.

He was taken before General MacArthur. He talked freely, but seemed ignorant concerning what had happened recently. He appeared to be in good health and was even cheerful. He lunch-d with the officers of General MacArthur's staff, and was then escorted to the Ards arrest hall.

THE CAPTURE CONFIRMED.
Washington, March 28.—General MacArthur has cabled the War Department, confirming the published report of the capture of Aginaldo. Adjutant-General Corbin is preparing a statement for publication giving the details. Gen. MacArthur's report shows that he has Aginaldo a prisoner in his own place.

FRANCE KEEPS AN EYE UPON CANTON COUNTRY

Suspicious Activity of French Soldiers in Southern China

Hong Kong, March 28.—It is reported from Canton that the activity of the French is greatly increasing in the neighborhood of that city. Two steamers ply between Hong Kong and Canton, and gunboats are much in evidence in the Chinese waterways. It is also reported that two steamers are being built in France to run between Hong Kong and Canton, and that France intends to subsidize the carrying of mails.

It is also expected that a French post office will open in Canton about April 1st. Objections have been lodged to the opening of the steam launches under the tri-color. Chinese capitalists now fly the tri-color with an addition of three small stars, which are invisible at a short distance away, and as a result it is said, the Chinese people imagine they are still under the tri-color, and conclude that the French influence is gaining. It was also reported that a French hospital was opened at Shanghai some months back for the purpose of receiving Chinese patients. All this aids French influence and prestige.

NEGOTIATIONS HINDERED.
London, March 28.—"The indemnity negotiations are hindered," says the Pekin correspondent of The Morning Post, "because Germany insists in forcing a loan upon China to meet the foreign demand. Sir Robert Hart's scheme of international taxation would occupy fifty years."

DR. MORRISON'S CONFIRMATION.
London, March 28.—Dr. Morrison writing to The Times from Peking yesterday, says:—"Reports that the Chinese court has definitely rejected the Manchurian convention are acquiring great consistency, and the extreme reluctance of Li Hung Chang's Yamen points in the same direction."

COMPETITION IN MEDICINE.
Apparently in the medical profession as well as in others, says the Kingston Times, the different competitors are unable to cut prices. This has been illustrated by the vaccine situation. The price at first was fifty cents, but three well known local doctors cut it down to twenty-five cents, and their brother practitioners hearing this followed suit. One doctor who had charged 50 cents for a number of vaccinations made it his business to see whom he had vaccinated, and returned them each 25 cents. A prominent doctor, speaking recently, said:—"The majority of citizens seem to be ignorant of the exact effects of vaccine. The process now is not near what it was like a few years ago. The old barbarous practice of using 'scabs' has passed away. The vaccine we have now is pure, is carefully tested before it is put on the market, and no evil effects arise from its use."

PROF. SHEETS' DANCING CLASSES.
Prof. Sheets' dancing classes have been largely patronized, and marvelous progress have been made by the pupils. New classes are about to be formed, and these will be rapidly filled. Indeed, it is doubtful if the Professor will be able to accept all the desire to join his classes. Not only dancing is taught, but physical development is a leading feature of the exercises.

He was a Woolly Wompler.

"You're Eugene Gay," said the recorder to a Dartmouth at yesterday's police matinee.

"That's me, Judge Briles," replied the prisoner.

"And the witnesses say you have been making yourself a holy terror in Crooked Alley," continued the recorder.

"Judge," said the arresting officer, "Eugene is captain of the Dartmouth Woolly Womplers."

"Awful!" said the recorder. "The idea of a man belonging to the Woolly Womplers is not exempt."

"He is the chief Wompler of the Woolly Womplers," said the office.

"Worse and worse," the recorder said. "Eugene, you will have to explain yourself about raising all that row in Dartmouth, for even the captain of the Womplers is not exempt."

"Judge Briles," replied the prisoner, "the Womplers is a perfect society, an am fer de mutual protection of its members. Queer Request.

It had always been young Squallup's understanding that he would inherit "something handsome" when his uncle, a studious and somewhat scholarly man, passed off the stage of action. The uncle died, and the will was opened.

Young Squallup was, indeed, remembered. The bulk of his relative's means was found to have been sunk in annuities, and the size of the package bequeathed to the young man surprised him. He opened it, examined the contents, and looked it away from prying eyes.

"I hear your uncle has left you something," said an acquaintance a week or two afterward, meeting him on the street.

"Yes," he replied. "My uncle left me ten thousand."

"I congratulate you. With $10,000 a young man may be considered to have at least a fair start in life."

"I didn't say dollars. He left me ten thousand chess problems."

It was even so. For many years the old gentleman had been making a collection of such problems, clipping them from the chess columns of various weekly papers, and as his most cherished possession he left it entire to his favorite nephew, a youth who did not know a pawn from a bishop.

Life is full of disappointments, and certainly young Squallup's was. He was recorded among the bitter ones.—Youth's Companion.

Tragedy of the Types.

He had not the look of a poet, and as a matter of fact he had never mistrusted before that the words on the page he loved a girl, and love makes poets of us all.

"Here," he said, offering a folded sheet of paper to the editor, "is a little thing I have written, and I thought perhaps you would like to print it. I don't care for any pay. Let me read it to you."

"Ah, here is my card!"

"Oh, yes," the editor said. "I remember you. You are the young man who brought a poem in yesterday to submit for publication. I think it was in the paper this morning, wasn't it?"

"Yes—it was—in!" the poet said between his gasps. "You remember that it was headed, 'Lines to Laura,' don't you?"

Now that you call the matter to my mind, I do.

"Well, Laura is not a fictitious name, Laura is really the name of the lady the lines were written for. I told Laura I was writing the poem, also I permitted Laura's mother to know about it. I love Laura. But let me read—no, don't be frightened—only two lines—so it appears in the paper."

"LINES TO LAURA."

"Ah, here is my card!"

"Your kiddy mother is I trow!"

MAGELLAN'S GIANTS

Dr. Cook Gives Some Information Regarding This Race.

Myth and superstition are long-lived. But they are distinct foes to human progress. Therefore we may hope that the voyage of the Belgica, as chronicled by Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the only American aboard, may result in permanently exploding one especially vigorous myth. The Belgica did not succeed in discovering the South Pole, but it practically rediscovered the Straits of Magellan, which run between Patagonia and Terra del Fuego. Dr. Cook has given us a fund of information about these territories that border on the Straits. He has met the inhabitants face to face. He has told us positively that they are not giants, although they are, perhaps, the tallest races on earth. Their average height is places at six feet. A few fall below that. A few rise to six or seven inches above. Now, the legend that these races were of an almost super-human stature, though repeatedly denied by occasional travellers, has persistently survived in the minds of the vulgar ever since Magellan himself, the discoverer of the Straits, gave it birth.

Magellan, it will be remembered, described the Patagonians as "so tall that the tallest of us came up only to their waists." It is true that the Portuguese are not a tall race. Nevertheless, Magellan's words would indicate that the average height of the Patagonians must have been some nine feet. Later travellers of the Middle Ages improved upon Magellan. Sebald de Wolf, who visited Patagonia in 1598, describes the inhabitants as being ten or eleven feet high, and so strong that they could easily tear up by the roots trees of a span in diameter.

Then came more moderate statisticians. Byron, in 1764, says that he saw a chief not less than seven feet high, and others nearly as tall. Byron was merely guessing. It was Captain Wallis in 1768, who first put the Patagonians to the test of actual measurement. He found a few who were six feet seven inches in height, but the average stature was only from five feet ten inches to six feet. Captain Wallis and Dr. Cook are in substantial agreement.

The belief that giants formerly inhabited this globe and that they still survive in remote and inaccessible regions has been fostered in Christendom by the statement in Genesis: "There were giants on the earth in those days." But many Biblical students are inclined to accept the interpretation of St. Chrysostom: "I think that those in Scripture called giants are not of any unusual kind of men for shape or feature, but such as were heroic, strong and warlike."

Deuteronomy describes the bedstead of Og, King of Bashan, as nine cubits in length and four in breadth. A cubit was about eighteen inches. Hence the bedstead was thirteen and a half feet long. But it is quite possible that Og used a bedstead not in proportion to his actual size, but in proportion to his fancied importance.

In which connection one may recall the story of Alexander the Great. In one of his Asian expeditions he caused to be made and left behind him a suit of armor of huge proportions, in order to induce a belief among the people he had conquered that he was of immense size.

An explanation of this sort would not, however, have suited the ancient rabbinical and Arabian writers. They tell delightful stories of how Og survived the Deluge by wading, the waters reaching no higher than his knees. The only inconvenience he experienced during the flood was that he was reduced to a diet of his own food consisting of whales, which he roasted on the disc of the sun.

Legend aside, it is more than probable that the men of today are equal, probably superior, in stature to the ancients.

The Greeks and Romans were undoubtedly of small size. The helmets and sword hilts that have come down to us from the heroic ages do not bear out the majority of soldiers of the present European nations. Ancient rings also are generally too small for modern fingers.

But the classic writers give testimony enough on this point. Caesar, speaking of the Gauls, says: "Our shortness of stature, in comparison with the great size of their bodies, is generally a subject of such contempt to the men of Gaul." Tacitus also described the Germans as of robust form and of great stature, as if he saw them.

There is no proof that the men of these nations were any larger in ancient times than they are now. On the contrary, the graves and barrows tell a different story. The remains are usually under the average height of men of the present day. It is the same with the Egyptian mummies.

THE Le Roi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 $5 shares went to $23, or $10 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $200,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the Le Roi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—also small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

HOW AGUINALDO FELL INTO AMERICAN TRAP

His Capture Involved an Arduous March and Great Hardships on the Part of the Americans and Scouts

The Filipino General Furious at Being Caught—He will now Issue a Manifesto Advising a General Surrender of the Filipinos now in the Field

Manila, March 29.—Following are the details of the capture of Aguinaldo by Gen. Funston. On January 14th a detachment of Gen. Funston's troops captured a messenger from Aguinaldo's headquarters at Puluan, Isabela Province, who was carrying letters to the various insurgent chiefs, asking them to send reinforcements. On February 8th one of Aguinaldo's staff officers surrendered, who had in his possession valuable correspondence which told of Aguinaldo's whereabouts, and of the strength of the force with him. One of the letters was addressed to Balduino Aguinaldo, ordering him to take command of the insurgents in Central Luzon, and to send four hundred riflemen to Aguinaldo's headquarters. Gen. Funston immediately conceived the plan of equipping a number of native troops, who would pass themselves off as the expected reinforcements, several Americans going with the party, ostensibly as prisoners, the object being, of course, to trap the generalissimo of the insurgents. Four Tagalogs, who were formerly officers in the insurgent army, were first chosen; then seventy-eight experienced and trustworthy Macabebe scouts were selected, some of them being told off to play the part of insurgents. Three American officers accompanied them.

THEY SET SAIL.

March 14th the gunboat Vicksburg, landed the expedition 20 miles south of Aguinaldo's hiding place, and was to stand off to return and pick up the party if successful.

The expedition was nominally under the command of Hilario Placido, an ex-colonel of the insurgent army, with the other three ex-insurgents pretending to be officers of lesser rank. With the exception of the twenty Macabebes, who were armed as insurgents, the other natives in the party were dressed in the ordinary costume of the country in order to allay any suspicion that might be aroused. All of them were armed, but the supposed peaceable natives kept their arms concealed as much as possible. The American officers, who were acting as prisoners, were dressed as privates, in blue shirts and khaki trousers. Each had a towel, a tooth brush and half a blanket.

ON THE MARCH.

March 14th, the expedition started on a tedious march for Casiguran, word in the meantime being sent to the president that the reinforcements expected by Aguinaldo were on the way to him. This ruse was adopted so that when the expedition arrived at Casiguran food and quarters would be ready. The message was signed by a supposed officer, who notified the president, and the message was sent by him to Aguinaldo. The message was written on captured official paper, and the name Lacuna was signed to it. It stated that the reinforcements were sent in response to Aguinaldo's order, that the troops were the best in Lacuna's command, that the reinforcements had been in engagement with the Americans, and that five armed with Krug rifles had been captured.

Some months previously a Funston had captured the camp of the insurgent general Lacuna, incidentally obtaining Lacuna's seal, official papers and a quantity of signed correspondence. From this material the letters were constructed, ostensibly from Lacuna to Aguinaldo.

AT HIS HOME.

After a terrible march of 90 miles the party, almost starving, arrived at Aguinaldo's camp, where a body-guard of fifteen riflemen were paraded, and the officers were received at Aguinaldo's house. After some conversation with him, in which they gave the alleged details of their supposed engagement with an American force, they made excuses and quietly left the house. They at once gave orders in an undertone for the Macabebes to get in position and fire on the body-guard. The order was obeyed with the greatest rapidity and three volleys were delivered. The insurgents were panic-stricken by the sudden turn of affairs, and they broke and ran in consternation. Two of them, however, were killed, and 18 wounded.

Simultaneously with the delivery of the volleys, the American officers rushed into Aguinaldo's house. Major Alumbaugh, one of Aguinaldo's staff, had been shot in the face. He, however, was determined not to be captured, and he jumped from a window into the river and disappeared. Two captains and four lieutenants made

Chinese Millions no Menace to Christian Powers

LACKS ONLY MOTIVE POWER

But Corruption and Ignorance Combined Will See That it is not Supplied

Pekin, March 28.—A possibility of China's becoming an armed menace to the civilized world has until the recent occupation of Peking by the Allies, and Russia's grab of Manchuria, been looked upon as one of those vague eventualities which might possibly occur three or four generations hence.

The arguments which have been employed to prove the enormous power of China as a military factor in the world's affairs, should she suddenly decide to wield her strength, are founded upon her millions of able-bodied men; her wealth, not alone in money or silver, but in the great resources of the country; the fact that all her vast domain is in one great tract, with but one seaboard and one frontier; and the enormous difficulties which would beset an army approaching overland through Asia's deserts, wastes, over mountain passes, and through districts inhabited by wild and hostile peoples, together with the possibility of defending much of the coast. These, however, are but available conditions in themselves they are nothing but possibilities.

GENERAL DE WET AGAIN IN THE FIELD

Reported to Have Crossed the Vaal With Four Hundred Men

London, March 29. A despatch from Standerton, Transvaal, says that on Tuesday Gen. De Wet with 400 followers crossed the Vaal river at De Villiersdorp, and it is expected that he will be joined by many Transvaalers.

COMMANDERS REBUKED

On March 29th the British routed the commandos of Gen. Malan and Commandant Scheepers on Sunday river, killing 100 Boers.

30,000 MOUNTED MEN SENT

In the House of Commons, Mr. Brodrick the War Secretary, announced that the War Office had fulfilled its engagement, given February 1, to send 30,000 mounted reinforcements to General Kitchener, 25,500 men having been actually despatched, while 6,000 men were awaiting transportation.

REBELS WORSE THAN BOERS

In reply to a criticism by Mr. James Bryce (Liberal), in which he expressed the hope that the Government would reopen the Borneo-Kitchener peace negotiations, Mr. Chamberlain replied that to offer better terms would not be magnanimity but folly. The Government could not afford to show again that it paid better to a rebel than a loyalist. The Cape rebels as a rule, had been worse than the Boers.

LORD LANSDOWNE ON MANCHURIAN MATTERS

Russia Has Given Explicit Assurances Regarding Treaty Ports

London, March 29. Lord Lansdowne, Foreign Secretary, announced in the House of Lords yesterday that no further military operations against the Chinese by the British troops were contemplated. The compliance of China to the demands of the powers was hardly of such character as to justify the withdrawal of the allied forces, but the British Government hoped to be able before long to win a peace which would be to the advantage of all concerned. The British and German Governments had been negotiating with the powers as a whole that should also enter into a private arrangement involving territorial or financial conditions with any other power. Russia had again concerned Great Britain that the occupation of the British railroads was only temporary and without prejudice to the interests involved. Great Britain had not waived her rights in connection with these railroads, nor had she ignored the interests of the shareholders. As to the sources of revenue, he thought the maritime customs might be regarded as so as to impose a real instead of a nominal 5 per cent. ad valorem duty.

SIMPLY TALKING.

Lord Lansdowne referred to the published versions of the Manchurian agreement as simply trial balloons on the part of some official, or pure inventions designed to bring about a misunderstanding. He added: "Nothing would give us greater pleasure than to co-operate with the Russian Government in exposing such an unworthy object. If Russia would only be communicating the real text of the agreement, enable Great Britain to put an end to this misconception, we should be prepared to co-operate with her."

The Foreign Secretary pointed out that the only two treaty ports in Manchuria were Newchwang and Tientsin, with regard to which explicit assurances had been given by Russia.

THE RUSSIAN DEMANDS ON CHINA HOLD GOOD

The Czar Refuses to Modify the Terms of the Manchurian Agreement.

St. Petersburg, March 29. Russia, it is announced, cannot abate her moderate demands on China. To do so, it is asserted, would be inconsistent with Russia's interests and would not sufficiently safeguard the frontier and the railway.

It is announced on competent authority that the Russo-Chinese agreement will probably be signed shortly. However, the negotiations continue, and the result is not yet certain. While it is possible the details will be slightly modified, the arrangements will be substantially as decided.

TO SEND PICTURES OVER THE TELEGRAPH

An Invention Which will Transmit Writing or Pictures by Wire

Toronto, March 28. A group of Detroit capitalists will organize a company to revolutionize the art of telegraphy. By this invention it is claimed that messages can be sent in the exact handwriting of the sender, and maps and pictures transmitted with equal accuracy.

Previous inventions of this sort have been frequently mentioned in newspapers, but they have all been found impracticable from a commercial standpoint, being either too slow or too expensive.

In the new process invented by Hans Liebreich, an elderly German, residing at 181 Congress street east, it is claimed that all the objections to the other systems have been done away with.

Liebreich's machine requires only one instead of several wires. It can be used to the ordinary wires of the telegraph companies. There is no delay in making, expensive plates with acids and non-conducting paste. The message is written on prepared paper and fed into a machine which serves equally well as a sending or receiving instrument.

OPERATORS NOT NEEDED.

A business man would keep a stock of this paper on hand instead of telegraph blanks. He would write his message on the paper and send it to the telegraph office where it would be fed into the machine. Not the slightest knowledge of telegraphy would be required in sending the message, and at the receiving end it would be taken off on ordinary writing paper, the prepared sheets being only required in sending messages.

The message thus received, it is claimed, is an exact duplicate of the original, and the handwriting of the writer can therefore be recognized and will verify the genuineness of the message. The written line will not, of course, be one continuous stroke of the pen, but a series of tiny marks or dots, but they will be so close together that to the eye they will appear as a continuous line in ordinary handwriting.

THE PASSING OF ACHIN'S KINGDOM

Holland Has Almost Completed Its Subjection

Amsterdam, March 28.—In some parts of the world campaigns are being carried on, which because of their long-standing have been forgotten. Among these is Achin, situated to the north of Sumatra. For nearly one hundred years the Dutch and the Achinese have been at war, and it seems that this little state, numbering 328,000 souls, is about to lose its independence, and become a Dutch dependency. During the last three years the Dutch have won repeated victories and now Batavia, the strongest fortified garrison of the Achinese is hard pressed. Its fall is expected to result in the surrender of the natives.

Before its decline, which commenced early in the eighteenth century, Achin was in close touch commercially with England. It was to the port of Achin that London merchants directed their first efforts towards securing trade in the Indies. Queen Elizabeth sent confidential communications to the King of Achin by special envoy, and James I. also corresponded with the reigning monarch, who lived in such luxurious style that he had nine hundred state elephants. To this day there stand near the gate of the King's palace a couple of brass cannon of extraordinary size. They were a present from James I. to the ruler of Achin. They still bear the founder's name and the date legibly inscribed upon them.

A VANISHED POWER.

So considerable, in fact, was Achin's one-time power that to reduce Malacca it fitted out an armada of no fewer than five hundred ships, a hundred of which larger than any then used in Europe. The ships carried sixty thousand men, with the King himself in command. Moreover, at one time Achin produced more gold than any other country in the East, excepting perhaps Japan. One chronicler fixes the annual output at 52,800 ounces. For fifty-eight years female sovereigns ruled and the foreign residents in Achin believe, though erroneously, that the Queen of Rhee was Queen of Achin.

Though once powerful enough to drive the Portuguese out of the island and to have a fleet and an army that were the envy of larger countries, Achin has slowly drifted into the limbo of forgotten States, and now appears destined to disappear from the map altogether.

RUSSIA HONORS AMERICA.

Bodies of United States Marines Guarded by the Czar's Soldiers.

Pekin, March 30.—The bodies of six American marines who were killed during the siege of the legation were removed today for shipment to the United States. In addition to the American troops in Peking, the Monarchy, Commander F. M. Wise, sent a detachment of marines to be present at the disinterment.

The courtesy of the Russians deeply moved the Americans. Two Russian companies participated in all the funeral services. The Russians guarded the disinterred bodies all night and rendered all the Russian military honors to the dead.

General Chaffee wrote to M. de Giers, an expression of his feelings and of the feelings of the officers and men of the entire command. M. de Giers referring to the incident, said:—

"It was only natural. The Russians and Americans fought side by side during the siege and were virtually brothers."

It is recalled that in the case of an American marine, who had done duty beside a Russian soldier, and who was buried without a coffin, the Russian with the tears streaming down his face leaped into the grave and arranged the earth as a rest for the head. Those who were present say it was a most affecting scene.

MILNER RETURNS TO THE TRANSVAAL

Bloemfontein, March 29. Sir Alfred Milner escorted by an armed train has returned to the Transvaal Colony.

HERE IS OUR CHANCE.

The Board of Trade Should Act Withon Delay.

A deputation from Peterborough is to call Ottawa next week in the interests of the North-west and Asper railway, and the Times suggests that the Board of Trade, which is, we believe, to be represented on the deputation, take advantage of the occasion and urge the Minister of Railways to open the Canal this season between Peterborough and Lakefield. This portion of the Canal, as our readers are aware, is practically completed, and it was thrown open, considerably sooner than was expected. The Council will meet on Monday night, and it would be well to join in making this request.

OVER NEW ROUTE.

Chicago Grain Firms to Send Wheat to Liverpool via the Georgian Bay.

Cleveland, O., March 30.—Representatives of grain shipping firms in Chicago were in the city yesterday looking after tonnage for the first cargo for the season. A great deal of grain from the Northwest will be shipped via Georgian Bay and Montreal. The new route will be over the Buffalo and Montreal railway to Montreal. The plan will make inroads upon the Buffalo business and necessarily upon New York trade.

REFORM IN INDIA.

Viceroy Declares an Increase in Army to Necessary for Safety.

Calcutta, March 30.—In the course of the debate on the budget today Viceroy Curzon spoke of the necessity of reform in many directions and congratulated the Council on the surplus after a year of famine. He defended the military estimates, saying that while he would not increase the revenue on economic measures, an increase in the army was required to make India safe.

THE FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON

The funeral of the late Harry Beck, who met his death so suddenly at the Canadian General Electric Company's works on Thursday morning, will take place from the Murray Street Baptist church this afternoon when he will be placed in the vault at the Little Lake Cemetery until the relatives of the deceased in England are communicated with. Mr. R. E. Harding, representing the Murray Street Baptist church, and Mr. McClellan of the machine shop of the Canadian General Electric Co., are looking after the funeral arrangements. The pallbearers will be made up of three representatives from the Canadian General Machine Shop, of which deceased was an employee, and three from the Murray Street Baptist church and Y.M.C.A.

CHORUS GIRLS MUST HAVE CHAPERONES

Manager of the New York Casino Issues a Drastic Order

New York, March 29.—George W. Lederer announces that all his chorus girls in "The Casino Girl" company must have chaperones, equally feminine in appearance, to accompany them to the theatre, and that effect has already been posted. Here it is.

"Notice.—Members of the Ladies of the Casino Girl company commencing with the performance of the Knickerbocker Theatre, Monday, April 15, must be accompanied to and from the theatre by some adult female relative or other equally feminine proper companion. Failure to comply with this rule will be attended by instant dismissal."

"While the company is on the road all ladies of the chorus shall report before and after performances to a woman who will be appointed for that purpose. It is not understood that the rule applies to leading ladies, their understudies or the principals of their support. The whole matter may be referred to the management of the Knickerbocker Theatre, which is the rule of the White Mice. It was said yesterday, for instance, that if there are sixteen chorus girls who wear blue stockings and do nothing but stand in a row and kick and slap while the nervousest girl wears green stockings, stands out

Malt Breakfast Food, a wonderful revelation of food purity and food value to food experts, is a combination of the virtues of Malt and the full strength of the choicest wheat, partially cooked and predigested. No other grain breakfast food has ever attained such widespread popularity. It is especially recommended by the President of the Italian Health Club for its wonderful health-giving qualities.

The proper use of Malt in its pure, simple and natural state in Malt Breakfast Food, gives to this kind of 'foods' many health virtues and advantages as an article of diet for the weak and strong, for the young and old.

Malt Breakfast Food is perfectly free from all starchy substances and irritating properties which characterize ordinary oatmeal and other grain foods.

The regular use of Malt Breakfast Food tones the stomach, will banish constipation, correct disordered digestion; in a word, it is the dyspeptic's friend. All chronicers will find it.

BEAUTIFUL PICTURES FREE!

Superb pictures of Queen Victoria, King Edward and Queen Alexandra given free to subscribers of the Weekly Times.

These lovely pictures are the most striking and handsome of Royal personages ever issued, being 18x24 in size, and are in even colors. They would adorn any wall and are superb for framing.

Big Four Con. & M. Co.
LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE Le Roi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 $45 shares went to $23, or $110 per share in a few months. Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous veins as the Le Roi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

In respect of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over $700,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have DONE MORE WORK WITH LESS MONEY THAN ANY COMPANY IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

Every day should be distinguished by at least one particular act of love.—Lavater.

I think it is going to God with every want that he loves the officer we go the more we please him.—Rome Porter.

Alas! this time is never the time for self denial; it is always the next time. Abstinence is always so much more pleasant to contemplate upon than the other side of indulgence.—George MacDonald.

Most people dread far more the social frown which follows the doing of something conventionally wrong than they do the quailings of conscience which follow the doing of something intrinsically wrong.—Herbert Spencer.

That which is often asked of God is not so much His will as His approval of our way.—S. F. Sibley.

He that gives good admonition and had example builds with one hand and pulls down with the other.—William T. Bacon.

Do not dare to live without some clear intention toward which your living shall be bent. Mean to do something with all your might.—Phillips Brooks.

Silk worms, in Plamaron's experiments, have attained their maximum production in white, red and blue light.

The first two planetoids in 1901 were discovered, the one by the Austrian astronomer Paliga and the other by Charlois of Nice.

Let us lay hold of the happiness of to-day. Do we not go through life blindly, thinking that some fair tomorrow will bring us the gift we miss to-day? * * * Know thou, my heart, if thou art not happy to-day, thou shalt never be happy.—Anna Robertson Brown.

No one has any right to suppose that he will do better by and by, unless he is prompt to seize upon means and plans for doing better. Better living and better service do not come by chance; they are the result of thoughtful and earnest effort. We grow as we go.

Of this be certain:

Of the dim past collect and shape themselves.

Upstarting in their own completed image.

To scarce or to reward.

—Coleridge.

I want to the woods, because I wished to live deliberately, to front only the essential facts of life, and see if I could not learn what it had to teach, and not, when I came to die, discover that I had not lived.—Thoreau.

Love is like the wild-rose briar; Friendship like the holly-tree, The holly is dark when the rose-briar blooms.

But which will bloom most constantly? —Emily Bronte

We do not judge of the acts of nature as we do those of man. If we did nature would frequently be sentenced to death without benefit of clergy. Nature is irresponsible, unaccountable and incomprehensible.

Oh, deem not they are blest who live whose lives a peaceful tenor keep; The Power who piles man hath shown.

A blessing for the eyes that weep. —Wm. Cullen Bryant.

WORTH KNOWING

Japan gets the most of her salt from Germany and China, the best coming from Germany. She makes a considerable quantity of her own from sea water, but the quality is poor.

Nearly all of the "pure olive oil" imported into this country is not only made in the Southern States, sent abroad and there refined and returned to us as the pure product of the Mediterranean olive.

Argentine flour, which is trying to make its way into northern Brazil, cannot compete with the American product.

The palm trees of Venezuela are in a large silk-spinning spiders, making white and yellow silk, but they cannot be used commercially, owing to the expense of keeping the spiders reared. If left together they will devour each other.

Wasps eat honey, honey dew and the juice of fruits, but they also are carnivorous and live largely upon other insects. Pollen of flowers they are not supposed to use.

Commenting on the amount which a spider actually consumes during twenty-four hours, Sir J. Lubbock says: "At a similar rate of consumption a man weighing 160 pounds will require a whole fat steer for breakfast, a steer and five sheep for dinner, and for supper two bullocks, eight sheep and four hogs, and just before retiring nearly four barrels of fresh fish."

If we examine a fly's head with the microscope, we shall notice that it has two distinct kinds of eyes; large ones, placed on each side of the face, and little ones or "ocelli," disposed in triangular form on the vertex. The large eyes form two convex protuberances and are composed of a multitude of juxtaposed hexagonal facets. Three facets appear to be about four thousand in number; they are not of the same size, those of the upper part being one one-thousandth of an inch in diameter and those of the lower part only about one two-thousandths of an inch.

In olden days, when tea was a rare and precious luxury, silver strainers were used into which the exhausted leaves were put when they had been well watered and drained. They were afterward eaten with sugar on bread and butter. This fact is recorded by Sir Walter Scott in "The English Well."

LIVELY LAKEFIELD.

Latest Budget of News From Our Pretty Northern Suburb.

It will be disappointing to many here to know that the canal to Peterborough is not likely to be opened this season.

Mr. E. M. Lala Fosse is visiting friends in Toronto.

Miss Rebecca Watson has returned from a visit to friends in Campbellton. Everybody in Lakefield reads the Times.

We are pleased to note that our old friend Mr. John Cooper, has again secured the contract for carrying the mail.

Mr. Field of Gore's Landing delivered an address in the old English church, yesterday afternoon at 4.30.

Miss Maud Kindred of Peterborough has been visiting friends in the village.

Messrs. Wesley Sherin and Wm. A. Graham have been appointed enumerators for the census and will commence their duties on Monday.

The new steamer, which is being built by Messrs. White & Grylls, the well known steamboat men, is to be a -lady.

COUNCIL MEETING.
The council met in the town hall on Tuesday evening, all the members present. Mr. Fitzgerald in the chair.

On motion of Councillors Graham and Fitzgerald, the reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

Applications for the position of clerk were read from Dr. Duncan Fraser, Dr. John A. Burgess and Mr. Wesley Sherin.

Moved by Mr. William M. Graham, seconded by Mr. H. G. Fitzgerald, that it be with very great regret that we accept the resignation of Mr. Alex. Bell, a village clerk, he having so ably filled the office for the past seventeen years. We feel sorry to lose him, as he has always proved himself a faithful and efficient officer handling the several details of his office to such perfection as to be classed as a model clerk.

We wish him every success in his new home, and congratulate the people of Lakefield and vicinity on securing a medical man so well up in his profession, and we feel assured they will find him as we have done, a valued friend and adviser.

A by-law, No. 36, appointing a clerk in place of Mr. Alex. Bell, resigned, received its several readings, was signed and sealed by the village clerk, appointing Mr. Wesley Sherin, as clerk of the municipality.

Mr. H. Graham presented the village with a moose's head, mounted.

Moved by Coun. Kelly, seconded by Coun. W. Harper, that it be with pleasure that this council accept the handsome trophy presented by Mr. H. Graham, and that the caretaker be instructed to place it in a suitable position in the town hall.—Carried.

Lasswade, March 23, 1901.
Messrs. W. J. Doughty & Sons, Peterborough.

Gentlemen,—I have pleasure in stating that the steam saw mill plant manufactured by George White & Sons, of London, and supplied by you, has been running for some time and giving perfect satisfaction. I may say that the capacity of the mill is fully equal to your guarantee.

Although I have not yet required to run it up to the full twenty horse-power, I feel satisfied that it will perform all that it was represented to do with ease. It is simple in construction and easily handled.

Yours truly,
J. W. RADCLIFFE.

—The sick of this place are all getting strong again.

—The sleighing is good for the 23rd of March.

—Owing to the storm last Tuesday evening, the most of the people were unable to attend the Epworth League.

—Chas. Hawley and family, of Chatham, have taken their departure to Wisconsin, where they intend to reside for a few years.

—Mr. Henry N. Merriam, of Hawwood, was in this vicinity a few days last week, healing the sick with his herb medicines and liniment.

—Hay seems to be scarce in these parts.

—The camps are nearly all broken up on account of the men being ill with bad colds and coughs.

GORE'S LANDING.

Mr. H. J. Dale left for Toronto, last Friday, on a business trip.

Miss Mina Wallace has been confined to a house, with an attack of "la grippe."

A case of scarlet fever is reported in the family of Mr. Wm. Russell, Plainville.

Mr. and Miss Cheyne have been spending the week at Mr. F. Cheyne's.

It is said that numerous air-holes are already showing in the ice, so that if the mild weather continues, the lake will be safe for skating for some time.

Mr. Fred Harris entertained a number of friends at a progressive euchre party last Thursday evening.

The Epworth League of the Methodist Church, met on Friday of last week, instead of Thursday as usual.

The prize winners at progressive euchre were Mrs. Herald and Mrs. W. S. Herald.

Rev. G. A. Field is taking Lenten services this week at Millbrook, Peterborough and Lakefield.

Mr. and Mrs. Hore were guests over night last week of Mrs. (Capt.) Harris.

PETERBOROUGH MARKET

This week was an exceedingly poor one so far as the marketing of produce was concerned. There was a general complaint about the unpassable condition of some of the roads, and the pathmasters in some cases came up for a great deal of hard criticism.

The prices this week are unchanged, except in that of hay. The quotations were as follows:—

HAY—Only a few loads were sold, and those that came in sold ready at $12 to $13 per ton. There is a good demand.

WHEAT—Several loads offered and sold at 66 to 67 cents. There is a good demand for spring wheat.

OATS—None offered, but there were numerous enquiries, and it is easy to get 30c. The dealers quote 28 and 29 cts. for them.

BARLEY—A couple of loads were marketed, and sold at 40 to 41 cts.

RYE—None offered, and there are few, if any, enquiries. Price is 40 cents.

Potatoes—There was quite a run of small peas, which sold at 63 and 64 cts. Large peas are selling at 75 to 78.

LIVE STOCK.

During this week quite a few head of cattle have been brought in. The Dickson Co. sold 10 fine head of steers to Mr. H. P. Kennedy, at about 1 cent per lb.

Mr. J. A. Ruth shipped a fine car load of cattle to Toronto on Wednesday. Among the bunch were five very fine steers, which were fed by Mr. Wm. Taylor, of Douro.

Mr. H. Stabler bought a fine 1,200 lb. steer from Mr. Andrew, of North Monaghan.

Mr. John Grady sold a very fine animal to Mr. Alex. Patterson. It weighed 1,500 lbs., and will be killed for the local market.

The hog market has again improved and the jump came with somewhat of a surprise to the dealers. Owing to the small run, quotations went up 37 1-2 cents. Local quotations are 86 to 86 1-2, and it is uncertain as to what the quotations will be for the next week.

Mr. Walter English, market clerk, retires from office on Saturday, and he desires to thank the farmers and persons having dealings on the market for many favors conferred on him during the past year. He also wishes Mr. Hutchinson every success for the coming year, and asks for him the same patronage that has been extended to the market during the last year.

Bad Back.

—The lumbermen are flocking in great numbers back from the northern camps. Some have considerable money, and are using it in a manner that has become common among lumbermen.

—Mr. John S. Lennox, of Dumfries, died on Friday last, of pneumonia, after an illness of about two weeks.

Deceased was in his 38th year, and was a brother of Mr. Fred Lennox, of Norwood. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon, from his late residence, 10 in the 9th con. of Dumfries, to the Norwood cemetery, the Rev. Wm. Peck, Baptist minister, officiating.

—The town of Woodstock is in a very uncomfortable predicament, having discovered that about four tons of dynamite is concealed "in its midst."

A train partly loaded with dynamite, was wrecked near the station a couple of months ago, and the dynamite was scattered about but luckily did not explode. A quantity was taken away by boys and more of it got lost in the snow. Now that spring is come the concealed dynamite is thawing out. The other evening some of it exploded but no one was hurt. About four tons of the explosive has been missing since the wreck.

This incident recalls the dynamite explosion which took place in Dumfries about 14 years ago. A man was driving a wagon load of the explosive to Burleigh, which he brought from the factory. When ascending a hill, about two miles from Lakefield, it was supposed that some of it dropped from the wagon and caused the explosion. The driver and a companion were blown to atoms, there not being enough of them found to fill a quart measure. The trees for a quarter of a mile around were covered with shreds of flesh and blood. The explosion made a cavity in the roadway fully 15 feet deep. The horses and wagon were annihilated, a small piece of the oak tongue of the vehicle, only a few inches long, being all that was ever found. This was on exhibition for years at the C. P. R. Hotel here, and possibly may be there still.

The explosion disturbed the country for miles around, and showing the ground as badly as an earthquake. Windows were broken in Lakefield, and the shock was plainly felt in Peterborough.

NORWOOD — APSLEY RAILROAD

Rev. Mr. Davidson Replies to His Critics Regarding a Railway to the North.

Rev. J. C. Davidson, the esteemed Rector of St. John's Church, in a letter to the Norwood Register, in reply to a communication from Mr. P. W. C. Newell, of Apsley, still maintains the ground taken by him that a railway into that country would be an outrageous waste of public money. The Times cannot agree with the rev. gentleman. When the road from Lindsay to Haliburton was proposed, similar ideas prevailed, and so strongly were they urged that the promoters of the railway experienced the greatest difficulty in securing the necessary funds to build the road. It was said that the country was so poor that one train a year would take in all the goods the poverty-stricken settlers in that region could pay for, and one train would bring out all the produce the barren and rocky wilderness could grow in a season.

What was the result? As soon as the road was built, business developed rapidly, and to-day we believe it is understood that the line between Lindsay and Haliburton is one of the best paying sections of the Grand Trunk Railway. As Mr. Shewen, Mr. Lord and Mr. Harding says, a railway will create business for itself; it will develop the mineral and other resources of the section; it will afford a market to the settler, and it will bring into the market a vast area of grain producing and stock raising country.

HUMORS

Spring's Inheritance from Winter.

Waste matters which the kidneys, skin and other organs were too torpid (in the cold days) to take care of, and cannot take care of now without help, there is such an accumulation of them.

They litter the whole system.

Pimples, boils and other eruptions, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, bilious turns, fits of indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles common in Spring are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes all humors, overcomes all their effects, strengthens and tones the whole system.

Don't deny yourself its benefits this Spring.

WAR BETWEEN JAPAN AND THE RUSSIANS

Hostilities Between These Two Powerful Nations Considered to be Unavoidable

Outline of the Situation To-day—Great Britain Would Welcome a Declaration From the United States

Paris, March 30.—It is said here that Russia has given China until April 1 to sign the Manchurian treaty, which the southern Viceroy is urging the court to reject.

JAPAN MAKING READY.
Tokyo, March 30.—The newspapers state that the Government intends to relieve the Japanese troops in the province of Chihli, China, by a force fifty per cent. stronger than the force now there. It also intends to send relief immediately to Seoul, Korea, instead of in May, when the Japanese force there is customarily relieved. There is unusual activity in the Japanese arsenals.

It is asserted that Li Hung Chang will be the future Foreign Minister of China, replacing the abolished Tsung-tsi-Yamen, and that Liu-Kun-Yi, the Nankin Viceroy, will succeed him as Viceroy of Chihli.

Washington, March 30.—There is no longer any doubt that the Emperor of China, sustained by the advice of Japan, England, and the United States, has instructed Yang-Yu, his envoy at St. Petersburg, not to sign the treaty, and Yang-Yu has had a convenient attack of vertigo, which the first point of attack for a narrower place in the road, they have Manchuria, and are actually enjoying all the powers and privileges granted them by the suspended treaty, which they will continue to exercise as long as they please until China is ready to make the concessions in a formal manner.

The refusal of China to sign the treaty postpones the inevitable war between Japan and Russia, but it is the universal opinion that the struggle will come sooner or later, and that the battle ground will be Korea, the Liau-Tung peninsula, and Manchuria. The first point of attack for Japan will be the Russian naval station and arsenal at Port Arthur, and the Yellow Sea will be filled with hostile fleets.

RELATIVE STRENGTH.
Russia is the more powerful of the two nations in wealth and numbers, but the fighting will be done on the eastern side of Asia, where is 7,000 miles from the base of Russian supplies. The naval strength of the two nations is very nearly even, but Japan has the advantage of being able to throw all her fleet directly into war and keep them there, while it is necessary for Russia to have a reserve force at home.

Japan also has an advantage in the experience that her soldiers and sailors gained during the recent war with China. Russia has done no fighting for more than fifteen years.

GUARDS ARE STRENGTHENED.
Shanghai, March 30.—A regiment of Sikhs, with eight machine guns and some field guns, have been ordered to Tientsin to strengthen the guards along the Shan-Hai-Kuan-Pekin railroad.

THE STATES SHOULD ACT.
New York, March 30.—Mr. J. N. Ford cables this to the Tribune from London: "There is little doubt that the Foreign Office here would welcome strong action by the United States Government against the detachment of Manchuria from the general scope of diplomacy covered by the concert. Both Great Britain and Germany might follow this lead, though neither seems disposed to take a strong line of its own."

FIGHT ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Narrow Escape of General Kritzinger's Force

BOER CONVOYS CAPTURED

Train Wreckers on the Delagoa Bay Railway—Methuen ill

London, March 30.—Making a rapid night march from his camp, Colonel De Lisle came up with Commandant Kritzinger on St. Patrick's day and benumbed the Boers in the fork of the Elmdy and Vleekpot rivers. The Irish Yeomanry took a kopje in a dash, and 100 of the defence force were ordered to hold the extreme left near the banks of the Elmdy river, mistook their orders, and wandered in another direction. The error thus caused was irreparable. The river began to fall, and in the absence of the force, the enemy succeeded in getting across and escaping. De Lisle is reported to be returning to Kronstadt.

CAPTURING CONVOYS.
According to a Durban despatch the second Imperial Light Horse, made up of Natalians, have been operating successfully in Swaziland, and have captured 1,000 head of cattle, and a convoy of 26 wagons with a number of cattle, sheep, and horses. Later, another convoy of ten wagons was captured. Some of the men met a Boer party, consisting of a commandant and several other officers. They ordered the Boers to throw up their hands. Two who were slow in obeying the order were wounded, whereupon the party surrendered. Later a number of snipers were captured.

METHUEN ILL.
Lord Methuen is said to be ill with fever at Pretoria, but is progressing favorably.

For attempting to bribe the lieutenant of police by promising a share of the proceeds of buried gold in return for assistance to recover it, Mr. Memmer, manager of the Cyanide works at Johannesburg, has been sentenced by the Military Tribunal to two years' hard labor. A Dane, who tried to bribe a policeman was given six months.

At the treason trials at Dordrecht one of the English rebels was fined £300. It was shown that "Pony" De Wet (no relation to the Boer general) who represents Wodehouse in the Assembly, actually assisted at the trial of several loyal colonial natives which took place when the Boers occupied the town. Several of the men were sentenced to be shot, but they were saved by the timely arrival of the British.

BOERS WRECKING TRAINS.
Boer activity along the Delagoa Bay railway seems to be persistent. Since the British occupation of Kowalga, twenty-one trains have been wrecked or derailed. Last Sunday a train containing hospital comforts, etc., was wrecked by a commando of Boers between Belford and Middleburg. The driver was injured and a private killed. Other trains were looted, and in some cases Boer women were roughly handled.

A PLAGUE OF HYPNOTISM IN CITY OF STRATFORD

Dangerous Science Being Used by Public School Children

Stratford, March 30.—A man for hypnotism has developed in this city of late, and the word of it is that those who are exercising the power, which is not only "grown up" but irresponsible children of age as tender as seven years. Some time ago a young man at the business college sent a whole family to sleep and had great difficulty in waking one of them. There are said to be others at the same institution who practice the art with more or less success. At the Collegiate Institute, too, some of the boys are making an effort to master the science, and, in addition to this there are a number about town who amuse themselves in a similar way.

But strange to say, the worst cases exist among irresponsible children in the Public schools of the city. There are not more than three or four who are not as mesmerizers, but their subjects include every boy who is willing to go under their influence. One youth, who has been holding entertainments in a barn, is reported to have made his schoolmates, while in a hypnotic state, imagine they were swimming, turn somersaults in puddles, and do other acts not calculated to their mental or physical advancement. Some boys, it is stated, were even put in a cataleptic state and stuck with pins.

With commendable promptitude, the Public School Board has set about suppressing such performances. The boys, who have engaged in them have been threatened with expulsion and thus will likely have a beneficial effect on the youngsters.

Will Assist on the Market
Mr. Walter English, whose term as Market Clerk expired on Saturday, will assist his successor, Mr. Hutchinson, for a few weeks. Mr. English during his term, has earned the good-will of all having business on the market, and it will therefore be pleasing for them to learn that his services are to be retained at least for a time.

THREE HUNDRED INFANTRY MUTINY

Lord Kitchener Reports Further Surrenders of Boers

A BREEZY INCIDENT IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

A Lively Tilt Between Mr. James Keendry, M.P., and Mr. Ralph Smith

A PETERBOROUGH TELEGRAM

From Mr. R. F. McGregor causes a mild sensation in the House—An incident in which the Peterborough People are interested

The proceedings in the House of Commons were enlivened on Friday morning by a tilt between Mr. James Keendry, M.P., and Mr. Ralph Smith, the Labour member for Vancouver.

Mr. Keendry devoted attention chiefly to the working of the preferential tariff, and the injury it had done the Canadian manufacturers of woollens. It was during the last of Canadian mill hands to the United States. The preference was not working to the benefit of Britain, it helped only the manufacturers of that country against ours.

Mr. Smith made one of the best speeches that have been heard on the budget. He is a free trader and gave expression to his views in a voice that held the attention of the House down to the last word.

His tilt issue with the principle of protection and replied to the argument that the preferential tariff had hurt the Canadian woollen industry. The latter read by Mr. Keendry referred especially to the woollen mills at Peterborough, in which Mr. Keendry was himself interested. Mr. Smith was able to read to the House a telegram from Mr. R. F. McGregor, president of the Union Labor Association of Peterborough in which it was stated that the mills in question had been running night and day for the last four years and that they employed twice as many hands and had twice as large a revenue as formerly; that their output had grown to double what it had been, and that there had been improvements made to the machinery; that for three years they had been too busy to stop for stock taking; that they had regularly paid dividends for five years and that now, a few hands had been laid off temporarily for stock taking and to allow of some repairs being made to the machinery.

Mr. Keendry denied that the statements in the telegram were correct.

THE PROVINCIAL SECRETARY.
How a Worker in the Star Regards the Member for West Peterborough.

Mr. Stratton's distinguishing quality is his geniality. The Provincial Secretary has an off-hand, slap-you-on-the-back, old-college-chum manner which makes him very popular with both sides of the House and with the electors generally. This bonhomie is quite irresistible, and it is not surprising to hear his opponents say, "Well, Stratton may be a grail, but he's a good fellow." This being a good fellow, goes a long way in the business of Parliament, and I myself have seen the Provincial Secretary make use of it very adroitly to counter some sharp-tongued advocate on the other side or to turn the edge of his comments. Mr. Stratton is the youngest member of the building in Queen's Park. When his colleagues are at a loss what to do with any department or how to rearrange work, the practice is just to tack it on to the Provincial Secretary's business. He rarely loses his temper, however, and a little extra work means only an extra pound of steam. Mr. Stratton always travels with a full head of steam. He makes good speed, and he is always ready to direct toward any of his multifarious activities.

Put Into the Grave While Still Living

One of the Four Englishmen Shot by the Boers was Thus Treated

Port Elizabeth, March 30.—A private letter has been received here from Klerksdorp, dated the 14th instant, describing how four Englishmen were shot by the Boers at Wolmarstrand on the 9th inst. The Boers (says the writer, who is a lady) have forty of our men prisoners there. Eight or ten have been condemned to be shot. From first to last they were most brutally treated. The execution was a sad spectacle. The prisoners on being taken out of jail grasped one another's hands. They were placed in a row, and shot down one by one. Mr. Lloyd received three bullets, but was still alive when put into the grave. The Boers then fired again, and all was over. It was clearly by my husband's fate, but thank God, he escaped. Mr. George Savage, was also condemned to be shot, but he has been insane since his trial. His wife has gone with Mrs. Pienaar to try to get the sentence commuted. Mrs. Pienaar being with her may possibly have some influence. Mrs. MacLachlan, who lives at Hartbeestfontein, has made a statement narrating how she took coffee down to bury the bodies. She was nearly out of her mind after losing her father, brother and husband all in one day in such an awful manner. She tried hard, but was unable to get to the place of execution until Wednesday following. Mrs. MacLachlan has only been married two years.

SIAM BATTLE IN FRANCE.
Paris, March 30.—The French police have arrested a batch of individuals wearing the Boer costume, and trying to imitate their language, while offering for sale at any price, sardine goods. The story they told the credulous populations in the country towns through which they passed, was that 200 Boers had seized two British vessels, that they had brought part of the cargoes to France to sell, and that they intended to return to the Transvaal with the proceeds. In Havre they offered what they called a tallman for toothache. They were all natives of a village near Rouen.

COMFORTS FOR SOLDIERS.
London, March 30.—The Secretary for War has received a telegram from Lord Kitchener to the effect that any comforts which private individuals might desire to send out to the troops in view of the approaching winter in South Africa would be most acceptable, and should be despatched as early as possible.

COMPLETE BOAT SERVICE

The Trent Valley Navigation Service Will be Better Than Ever

The T. V. C. Co. have concluded arrangements with Messrs. White & Grylls, owners of the "Sunbeam," which will give a complete boat service over our famed Kawartha Lakes, during the approaching season. Big Four Con. G. M. Co.

LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE Le Roi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share, and the Le Roi No. 2 1/2 shares went to $25, or $10 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non-Assignable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous veins as the Le Roi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring big gains. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

DONE MORE WORK WITH LESS MONEY THAN ANY COMPANY IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Thus the management has no regrets to offer, and you by subscribing will have 200 Feet More of Tunnel Work Now Under Way.

And it is too bad that we should suffer from the wrong doing of others, but we have, or this would never have to be advertised, and we propose, in the future as we have in the past, to do well and fear no ill. Let them do better who like.

Shares to be had only at the company's office, opposite New Court House Columbia Avenue, Rossland, B. C., P. O. Box 545.

THE MOST NUTRITIOUS EPPS'S GRATEFUL-COMFORTING COCOA BREAKFAST-SUPPER

THE SUPERSTITIONS.

SOME OF THE WHIMS BOTH MEN AND WOMEN RESPECT.

Cut the Nails Before Breakfast, Monday—White Horses and No Red Headed Woman is Good Luck—Umbrella May Bring Trouble.

There is much discussion now whether man or woman is the more superstitious, and statistics are being collected by some who would be accurate individuals to prove one side or the other. The latest report is that the men are more superstitious, but it must be understood that this investigation is not conducted with the strictest oversight, and there may be some flaws in it.

There is a growing superstition in favor of cutting the nails before breakfast on Monday morning in order to obtain a present before the week is out. This may truthfully be called a popular superstition, and would seem to be an easy one. Unfortunately within the last two months a serious controversy has been raised as to which is the correct shoulder over which the new moon should be seen in order to bring good luck. One certain rule, however, is that "to see the moon in your breast for a month you'll know no rest." In other words, it is not well to meet the moon face to face—in fact, it is only one degree less dangerous than to see it first through glass. The superstition of kissing the hand to the moon seven times and making three wishes while so doing away with a great deal of evil of seeing the moon over the wrong shoulder, and besides, the three wishes may come true. Indeed, they are more likely to than "wishing on a load of hay," which, in case you do not see the load again, means fulfillment of the wish.

Dropping a Fork—Expecting a Gentleman Visitor.

Certainly, if one carries out many of the petty superstitions when living in a crowded city one will lead a lively life. To see three white horses in succession and no red headed woman is a forerunner of good luck. The latter untoward incident, however, can be done away with if a wish is made and then one turns around three times in succession. But all this has the disadvantage of tending to make one conspicuous in a crowded street. Still, it can be accomplished quietly by the use of a little tact and a great deal of sublime unconsciousness of surroundings.

To open an umbrella in the house means to bring down a shower of trouble for the family in the house as well as for the individual who opens the umbrella. Even in choosing an umbrella or a parasol in a shop care must be taken to open it from the side and not up and down, for it is far better to buy an inferior silk than to run the certain risk of ill luck that will follow opening a new umbrella and holding it over one's head inside of any building.

Going under a ladder in the street really means a criminal risk of one's future, not to speak of the present danger that the ladder may fall. To step with the right foot first on entering for the first time a new house will insure such a happy life that it would seem foolish not to take the trouble. In visiting for the first time at a strange house it behooves the guest to name the four corners of the bed with the name of some one of the opposite sex, and the first corner that is looked at in the morning will be the future bride or groom as the case may be. The fact of being already married does not interfere with this, for it is known that second marriages are lucky. Salt split at the table was formerly considered very dangerous, serving as a warning that a quarrel would take place between the two people seated beside one another unless a pinch of salt was thrown over the right shoulder. But to throw a pinch of salt over the right shoulder is tempting fate, since it is a preventive of matrimony, so it is now necessary to carry the salt three times around one's head and then throw it over the left shoulder. Thus one may avert disaster, but the custom makes one somewhat conspicuous at a dinner.

Amulets and charms of all kinds are far more fashionable now than they were, which seems to prove that as the world advances people grow more superstitious or attach more importance to antidotes. The four-leafed clover has made a very pretty pendant in silver or glass or the crystal pendant with the tiny gold rim, and has been every bit as popular as the rabbit's foot set in silver, which was supposed to ward off any possible evil from the wearer thereof. Really, from a truthful point of view, the rabbit's foot has proved sadly inefficient, for very few of the rabbits' feet that have been

Bunker Hill monument was built during the years 1825-1842. Lately the attending the laying of the corner stone and President Tyler the official dedication, while Webster furnished the oration for both occasions. In the lodge at the base is Dexter's marble statue of General Warren, and in 1831 a bronze statue of Colonel Prescott was raised, showing the brave soldier in a seraphic coat and a broad farmer's hat with drawn sword, as when warning his eager men. "Don't fire until you see the whites of their eyes."

Longfellow's house in Brattle Street, Cambridge, is the most famous private house in America (Mt. Vernon being public). It is a comfortable mansion and was built in 1759, but deserted by Colonel Vassall, its first master, in 1775, and occupied by Washington as headquarters during the eight months of the siege of Boston. Longfellow came here as a boarder in 1837. He came possessed of the house later and died there in 1832. Washington's office and Longfellow's study were in the room of the first floor to the right of the door, the officers' room and library being back of it, and the drawing-room on the other side of the front door.

The First Parish Church, Roxbury, situated in Eliot square, is an excellent and well preserved specimen of Puritan architecture, dating from 1604. The society originated in 1622, and for many years had for its pastor the gentle John Eliot, who gave most of his time to preaching to the Indians and translating the Bible into their language. After nearly two centuries of Orthodoxy, the parish became Unitarian, and Dr. George Purington led it from 1830 to 1836. In 1775-76 the steeple on this site served as a signal station for the American army, and the church became the target for cannon shot from the British lines.

THE FINGER NAILS.

Long nails never indicate such great physical strength as short, broad ones.

Very long finger-nailed persons are apt to have delicate chest and lungs. Long nails very wide at the top and blunt in appearance denote bad circulation. Long-nailed men and women are less critical and more unapproachable than those with short nails.

Long nails indicate idealism and an artistic temperament.

Long-nailed people are very apt to be visionary and hate to face disagreeable facts.

They judge even themselves severely.

Short-nailed women never give up on argument.

A keen sense of humor accompanies short nails.

Short-nailed persons make good critics; they are sharper and more logical than long-nailed individuals.

Short nails, thin and flat at the base, indicate a weak action of the heart.

Short nails very flat and sunken, as if were, into the flesh at the base are a sign of diseased nerves.

Short nails very flat and inclined to curve out or lift up at the edges are the forerunners of paralysis.

Don't scoff at the idea that pressing the ends of the fingers gently will make them assume the shape of the nails, for it is a fact.

Don't use nail bleaches too generously, and don't fail to be stingy of rouge and powder. Let your nails be beautiful, with no visible signs of the manicuring that keeps them pink and lovely.

Don't fancy that the tiny white specks that come on the nails can be easily removed. The improper use of steel manicure instruments generally causes them, although they are sometimes the result of an over-supply of lime in the system.

LIVE ONE HUNDRED YEAR

These are Sir John Sawyer's nine rules for living 100 years:

1. Eight hours' sleep.
2. Sleep on your right side.
3. Keep your bedroom window open all night.
4. Have a mat to your bedroom door.
5. Do not have your bedstead against the wall.
6. No cold water in the morning but a bath at the temperature of the body.
7. Exercise before breakfast.
8. Eat little meat and see that it is well cooked.
9. (For adults) Drink no milk.
10. Eat plenty of fat to feed the cells which destroy disease germs.
11. Avoid intoxicants, which destroy those cells.
12. Daily exercise in the open air.
13. Allow no pet animals in your living-rooms.
14. Live in the country if you can.
15. Watch the three D's—drinking, water, damp, drains.
16. Have change of occupation.
17. Take frequent and short holidays.
18. Limit your ambition.
19. Keep your temper.

BACHELOR REFLECTIONS

Determination is obediency that goes to the end.

It is only a very foolish woman that can make a smart man a fool.

If you can once wake a woman's curiosity, you can make her do anything for you that you want.

When a woman has the same hired girl a year the other women say she has "rare executive ability."

Women will never take much real interest in politics as long as the campaign comes at the same time the magazines are all printing pictures of the styles that are going to be worn next winter.

Nervousness and Nerve

The more nervous a man is, the less nerve he has. That sounds paradoxical—but it isn't for nerve is stamina.

Hood's Sarsaparilla gives nerve. It tones the whole system, perfects digestion and assimilation, and is therefore the best medicine a nervous person can take.

If you get tired easily, mentally or physically, take it—it will do you good.

A STRANGE CASE

The Physician Wanted Mrs. Tompkins to go to the Hospital and Have Food Injected Into Her Bowels.

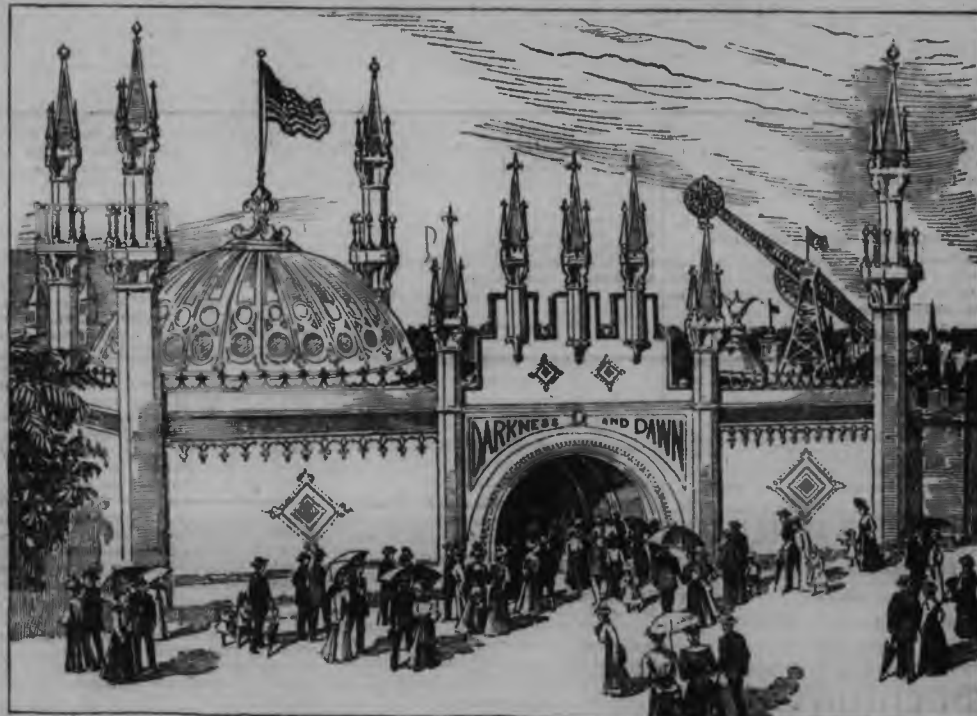

"It gives me great pleasure to send you my testimonial and thank you for your valuable Ozone, which has been of such benefit to me. I had been suffering from dyspepsia for months, which developed into an ulcerated stomach. I could not eat or drink, as everything gave me such awful pain. The least bit of food gave me as much pain as a big meal would. Finally I decided not to eat anything, and for five weeks I lived on milk and lime water. I was doctoring all the time, but the medicine did me no good. Finally the doctor gave me the last bottle and said I had better go into the hospital; that I ought not to swallow anything, and that in the hospital everything would be injected into my bowels. Then I would have a chance to get better. I did not feel like going there, but I went away into the country for four weeks. I then weighed ninety-five pounds. My nerves were so bad that I could not sleep at night. I came back as bad as ever, when I happened to see a testimonial from some person who had suffered something like myself, and who had been cured by the use of Powley's Liquefied Ozone. I went to Harcourt Bros., 162 Queen Street West, and got a bottle. I took it every two hours for two days, and then I took a little piece of bread, without feeling any pain. I took three bottles after which I could eat anything. I could sleep well, and am now in perfect health. I can never express my thanks for all it did for me. One hundred and nine pounds, having gained fourteen pounds. I am, yours very truly, (Signed) Mrs. E. L. TOMPKINS, 19 University Avenue, Toronto.

As a matter of fact, the letter urged, the supply of laborers and mechanics in the city in question is far in excess of the demand for same.—Received.

From Market Clerk English, as follows: I received a letter from the Town Solicitor stating that the balance on account of market tolls must be paid forthwith. Before you instruct Mr. English to take any action in the matter, kindly consider what allowance you are going to make me for the time the scales were out, and also for other inconveniences to which your attention was drawn some time ago.—Committee of the whole Council.

From Geo. Schneider, drawing attention to the wrecked condition of Balfour street.—Board of Works.

From Mr. Daniel O'Connell, demanding $500 as compensation for injuries sustained by Mrs. Geo. K. Martin in falling on the sidewalk on George street. Also notifying Council that in default of settlement before the 25th inst., a writ against the town will be issued. Legal Committee.

From S. B. Armstrong, Secretary of the Trent Valley Waterway Association, asking for a further contribution of $100 towards the expenses in connection with securing the completion of the entire waterway.—The Treasurer was authorized to issue a check for amount asked.

From a number of ratepayers, asking that Lock street, from Balfour street to the Grand Trunk Railway crossing the watered the coming season.—Board of Works.

From Port Hope Town Council, asking Council to co-operate with the former body in memorializing the Government to adopt the Port Hope route as a means of connecting the T. V. C. with Lake Ontario and to make the section of the waterway from Bowdley to Port Hope (if adopted) ten feet deep instead of six, as now intended.—Received.

From R. N. Rodd, applying for a license for shooting gallery on same terms as last year.—Referred to the License Committee, with power to act.

From the Ashburn Power Co., re erection of poles connecting power with Knox's soda water works.—Granted, subject to approval of Town Engineer.

From W. Aldridge, Thos. B. McGrath, Jno. Kinkaid and Thos. McKee, seeking

Gentlemen.—Your Board of Works beg leave to report as follows:

1. A letter was received from Messrs. Terhoun, Peck and Stephenson stating that a flow of water from the street line into Ormond & Walsh's cellar had caused damage to the extent of $500 and asking for a settlement. The matter was referred to the Town Solicitor for his opinion.

2. The Town Engineer was instructed to verify the electric company that placed a pole opposite Mr. G. W. Hall's property on Simcoe street to remove the same. All which is respectfully submitted.

The report was adopted as read.

PLOT IN COREA AGAINST RUSSIA

JAPAN BUSY IN CHINA

Army in Pe-Chi-Li Province to be Strengthened Fifty Per Cent.

England Sends more Sikhs.

London, April 2.—A divorce was granted to the Countess Russell this morning upon the ground of the bigamy of Earl Russell with Mrs. Somerville. The suit was not defended.

John Francis Stanley, Earl Russell was married to Mollie, daughter of the late George Cooke of Cumberland, Scotland, on April 15, 1900, in Reno, Nevada. They had previously been living for several months in Nevada, where both had obtained divorces of divorce from their wife and husband, respectively, the latter being George John Somerville. Earl Russell obtained a divorce from his wife on the ground of desertion. He alleged that she had left him nearly ten years ago. She was Miss Mabel Edith Scott, youngest daughter of the late Sir Claude Edward Scott.

The domestic trouble of the Earl and his wife first came to public notice in 1891, when Countess Russell brought suit for divorce, based on cruelty and other charges. Countess Russell's suit failed, and the judge took the unusual course of requiring her to pay in costs, amounting to more than $25,000. As the result of that suit the Earl obtained a judicial separation.

Countess Russell, in April, 1896, unsuccessfully sued for a restoration of her conjugal rights, withdrawing the charges which she had made in her suit for divorce. About a year ago he went on the stage under the direction of Charles Kraly.

The second Countess Russell obtained her divorce from George John Somerville on the ground of cruel treatment. She was married to Mr. Somerville in Aberdeen, Scotland, on July 23, 1899. She ceased living with him on July 4, 1899. Earl Russell and the new Countess returned to England on May 7 last. In addition to the suits against the first Countess Russell, the criminal proceeding against Lord Russell instituted against his first wife, mother, Lady Scott, for libel, in connection with the accusation which it is alleged, she circulated against him, attracted widespread attention. Lady Scott being condemned to six months imprisonment.

PULLED HIS WHISKERS

Two school boys were fined $5.00 each in Police Court yesterday morning.

At the Police Court yesterday morning for assaulting Mr. Thomas Harrison on Sunday last, appeared Mr. Harrison, who was walking south on Water street, when he met the two boys, one of whom he said, made a swing at him with his hand, which he avoided by dodging off the walk. The youth, he said, raised an aspersion upon his person in general and his whiskers in particular, and he had many other occasions, annoyed him.

The evidence given by a witness for the plaintiff, who said, that he and the defendant had endeavored to touch the plaintiff's whiskers, and that the offense was the outcome of an argument between the two boys. An informant, who was with the witness, said that both were fined.

Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for Mr. Harrison and Mr. D. O'Connell for the boys.

Quite a number of boys were in the court room listening with great interest to the case, but were advised by the Magistrate that they might better have been at school.

ASHBURNHAM COUNCIL

To Meet the Council of Peterborough and District Fire Protection

The Ashburnham Village Council met last night in regular session.

Communications were received as follows:—

From Joseph X. Valois, asking for remission of taxes; from the Council of the town of Peterborough, stating that the town cannot continue to furnish the use of fire appliances at the present rate, and asking Ashburnham Council to meet Peterborough Council to discuss the matter; from E. A. Beck, applying for an extension of the water system on Stewart street, south from its present termination near St. Luke's Rectory, as far as Sophia street, and offering to take water and lawn service for a house to be erected at the corner of Stewart and Sophia streets from the collector, giving a statement of poll taxes and dog taxes not collected, $8.40 each.

As most of the persons in this list had left the village, it was moved by Mr. Smith, and seconded by Mr. Sheridan, that the taxes be written off, except $1.05 poll tax James Collins, and that the collector be paid 90 cents for his disbursements for postage.—Carried.

On motion the following accounts were passed:—

Town of Peterborough, fire protection	43.75
Water Co., water	44.00
W. H. Thompson, Assessor	40.00
Light and Power Co.	50.00
Postage to Assessors70

Moved by Mr. Smith, seconded by Mr. Sheridan, that the communication from the town of Peterborough be received, and this Council will arrange to meet the Town Council on a date to be arranged.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Sheridan, seconded by Mr. Smith, that the clerk be instructed to advertise for tenders for street watering, about the same route as last year, tenders to be received up to 10th inst.—Carried.

Before adjourning, the Council discussed the matter of numbering houses on the streets. The proposal was favored, but no formal action was taken at this meeting.

NOTED FENIAN DEAD

Head Centre Stephens' Record in Ireland and America

DIRECTS CANADIAN INVASION

Was One of the Most Active of the Men Who Formed the Rebellion of 1848 and was Wounded and Left for Dead at the Battle of Ballygarry.

London, April 2.—James Stephens, called the "Head Centre of Fenianism," who died in Dublin on Saturday, was associated with the popular Irish cause from his boyhood. He was born in Kilkenny, Ireland, in 1823, and while a youth he formed the views and prejudices which later brought him into prominence as a leader of the "Young Ireland" party.

Stephens was one of the most active in fomenting the rebellion of 1848, and in the fighting at Ballygarry on June 29, 1848, he was severely wounded and left for dead on the field. He made his escape from Ireland to France after wandering through the mountains for several months disguised as a woman.

Fenianism grew, under the guidance of Stephens and his lieutenants, to a formidable conspiracy. It became remarkably strong in numbers and in wealth and created alarm in England. In 1868 when Stephens visited America he boasted that the receipts from this country were $150,000 a month. On the occasion of a previous visit to the United States in 1858 Stephens said that the Fenian army was 70,000 strong.

Stephens was acknowledged to be the founder of the Fenian society and the central organizer of the Irish Republican Brotherhood.

Stephens proclaimed his lack of faith in the home rule policy of Parnell and other Irish leaders of that day, and reiterated his conviction that the hope of the Irish people lay in absolute separation from England.

Shortly after making this public declaration Stephens was expelled from France and went to live in Belgium. He devoted himself to literary pursuits for several years, when his strength and health failed and he became an invalid. Poverty came upon him, and in 1895 he was reported destitute and dying. The report resulted in a movement being started for the collection of a fund for his relief to which Irishmen will over the world contributed.

Captain Patrick W. Dunne, father of Judge Edward F. Dunne, yesterday recalled the visit of James Stephens to America in the early '60s, when his mission was to seek the aid of his countrymen in overthrowing British rule in Ireland. On that occasion, Captain Dunne entertained the revolutionist when he came to Chicago to attend the Irish national fair.

"We had arranged to have our fair in Bryn's Hall, which at that time was the largest building in the downtown district," said Captain Dunne, "when the Catholic Church opposed the fair and we sought to attain. While we were severely censured, there was one man a quiet, unassuming sort of a fellow with a full beard and a prominent forehead and thick brown hair, who walked about and heard everything but had nothing to say. This man was James Stephens. He stayed in Chicago for more than a week and then, with a few friends, we visited Peoria, St. Louis, and other cities, and finally went out into the fields with the union army, in the ranks of which we had thousands of Irishmen who were there to learn the science of war.

"At that time I was in business in Peoria with John W. Fuller, who, although American born, was as much in sympathy with our cause as though he were a native Irishman. Our national fair raised thousands of dollars for our cause, and every night the hall was packed. Then Stephens went back to Ireland and Fuller and I were to take over the money later.

"Mr. Fuller, his wife, and I left for Ireland in 1863. It became known to the officers of the crown that Fuller was an American citizen, and for this reason they were slow to arrest him. While he was suspected, they simply watched him.

"My connection with Stephens and Fuller became known through a draft for $1,500 that I gave Stephens. This was to tide him over and bear the expenses of the undertaking while it was yet in its infancy. When Stephens went to get the draft cashed the found that he had been out. Against my advice, he stopped payment on it. When it was discovered that it was made good by Mr. Fuller and myself the British authorities became suspicious. We escaped, however, and afterward returned to America."

To Terrorize the Car

Paris, April 2.—Nihilists here state that the notification of the death sentence to the Car's Ministers is part of the new propaganda of terror recently inaugurated against the Car. They say that passed on M. Potholomastoff will yet be carried out.

The men marked for death will not be pardoned, but must surely die. These Ministers not sentenced, however, have several days of grace in which to bring about reforms. The object is to secure the reforms with as few assassinations as possible.

RELICS OF ANCIENT EGYPT.

Professor Petrie Discovers Records Written Over 3000 Years Before Christ

Boston, April 2.—Rev. Dr. William C. Winslow, vice-president of the Egypt Exploration fund, has just received official word that Professor Petrie has unearthed at Abydos records of the first dynasty, nearly 3000 B. C. "We have found," writes Professor Petrie, "the names of Narma Ka, and a King named by a fish sign, perhaps also of two Kings, Deb and Sem of Men and the earliest Kings. There are hoards of gold with the name Aba (Men). In the tomb of Khasekhemui were found stone vases, each with a gold cup and lid with gold wire. Also two broad bands of gold, and a dinner service of a dozen in sheet copper. The frequent use of ivory then is witnessed by the discovery of forty inscribed ivory and stone and two lions cut in ivory."

Regarding the statement recently printed that hoards of gold, with turquoise and amethysts, found in the tomb of Zer, the second King, are the only jewelry known before the twelfth dynasty, Dr. Winslow says that there are gold ornaments of the earliest dynasties in the famous Abbott collection of the New York Historical Society.

ALL EUROPE.

Figuring on an industrial combination to fight competition of the Americans.

Paris, April 2.—It is rumored in Vienna financial circles, in which a new anti-American feeling seems to be inspired by the Government, that negotiations are going on for a coalition of the continental powers against the ever-increasing commercial development of the United States.

Negotiations are being carried on, it is said, between all the powers with the exception of England and Russia. According to another version Russia is the only power which has been back.

This idea, which is far from being a new one, is regarded by practical politicians as Utopian, and one which cannot be carried out at a moment when the European powers are in proof by the polemic between M. De Witte and Count Von Bülow, are not far from a tariff war among themselves and when Austria cannot even succeed in coming to a permanent commercial arrangement with Hungary. I imagine that in the whole affair the wish is father to the thought.

MARRIED AT COURT BAR

Young Woman Weds a Man Under Indictment for Murder

Chicago, April 2.—The marriage of a man under indictment for murder to a young woman, who was under indictment for murder, interrupted a criminal trial in Judge Tuley's court yesterday forenoon. The bride was Miss Lonia Hendricks of No. 302 Auburn street, who, in a pretty, new white dress, accompanied by her friend, Miss Mamie Kalaski, came to the court early and nervously waited for the judge to order the groom, John Christopher, brought from his cell to the bar.

Judge Tuley leaned over the desk with a kindly smile as he greeted the pair, and asked a number of questions of the young woman, who said that she and the bride had heard her story on the previous afternoon when she visited him to make arrangements for the event. The ceremony prescribed by law was brief, and in a pretty, new white dress, armed with a plain gold ring which he placed on the finger of the bride, while promising her faith and constancy and protection.

As he was led back to his cell Christopher said to the bride, "I wanted to know, but I didn't have the nerve to before that crowd." Later the young bride was permitted to see her husband and receive his coronation.

Christopher was indicted by the February grand jury on a charge of the murder of Edward A. Erickson. Leon George Oberon is a co-defendant. Erickson was found on the walk in front of No. 124 North "C" street Jan. 1, by residents of the vicinity, who had heard several pistol shots. The men were later arrested and one of them is said to have confessed to the police that the old man had been shot while resisting being robbed.

The young couple had set their wedding day before he got into trouble, and she insisted that it should not be postponed. Hence the ceremony.

Christopher is confident of her husband's acquittal.

Made no Commitment

St. Petersburg, April 2.—Several students have been committed suicide and it is reported they did so because of the crushing of their political hopes.

The forty-one students who were arrested a fortnight ago for participation in a student meeting were released yesterday. They spent one week in military confinement. Under the law 1,110 prisoners taken into custody recently on account of political demonstrations must be released within a month unless their prosecution has been begun before the expiration of that time.

ENGLAND THE SHIPBUILDER.

Great Britain Leads List in Tonnage Output

Washington, April 2.—United States Consul Sawyer reports to the Department of State from Gloucester that England still holds the first rank among the nations of the world in the building of commercial ships. He says that on account of the suspicion with which the powers view attempts by any nation to acquire privileges in that country.

The government would like to secure a site for a coal depot on the north coast of China, but it is restrained from taking any active steps in that direction on account of the suspicion with which the powers view attempts by any nation to acquire privileges in that country.

ENGLAND THE SHIPBUILDER.

He says that on account of the suspicion with which the powers view attempts by any nation to acquire privileges in that country.

The government would like to secure a site for a coal depot on the north coast of China, but it is restrained from taking any active steps in that direction on account of the suspicion with which the powers view attempts by any nation to acquire privileges in that country.

It is shown in Lloyd's register of English and foreign shipping that from the ship-building yards of the United Kingdom 1,442,771 tons of ships were turned out last year, against 1,300,000 tons combined. If war vessels are added, the respective amounts are 1,510,835 and 1,037,792. In the last three years, however, foreign countries have doubted their output, while England has only increased hers by 50 per cent.

"Among other nations, the United States last year built 358,557 tons; Germany, 297,751 tons, and France, 163,318 tons. Next came Italy, where, through States premiums, 175,222 tons left the stocks. Germany turned out the largest ship—the Deutschland, with 16,592 tons—while four other steamships had each a tonnage of over 10,000. England built eight big ships, four of them being 12,000 tons each, and the Minnesota, 14,403 tons. France is making no headway with steamships, but in consequence of a fraudulent ship sailing fleet increases, whereas England no longer pays attention thereto."

Blind Man Kicks

Sioux City, Iowa, April 2.—Totally blind, married for twenty-four years, the father of a family, and proprietor of a prosperous restaurant, B. Coffee of Kimball, S. D., has eloped with a married woman with a family of grown children. Mrs. Richards' home is in San Francisco and she recently arrived at Kimball to visit her sister.

A short time after her arrival Mrs. Coffee became suspicious and ordered Mrs. Richards away from her house. Coffee objected, but his wife threatened to call the officers, and finally Mrs. Richards left. Coffee followed her and joined her in Sioux City. Mrs. Coffee is pretreated with grief. Mrs. Richards is anything but good-looking, but Coffee is blind.

THREE SHIPS LOST.

Norwegian Steamer Krim, Schooner Florence, and British Bark Hasting.

Philadelphia, Pa. April 2.—The Norwegian steamer Krim, the schooner Florence, and the British auxiliary bark Severn have been given up for lost. The crews of these vessels aggregate fifty-four men, and all are believed to have been drowned.

The Krim, Captain Irgens, sailed from this port on Jan. 25 for Vera Cruz, with a cargo of 2,200 tons of coal. Under ordinary conditions it should have reached its destination in ten days. Since clearing the Delaware Breakwater nothing has been heard of it.

The bark Severn, Captain Reid, sailed from Philadelphia for Baltimore and Hampton Roads last September, and left that port for Santos. It has not been reported.

The schooner Florence, Captain Chandler, left Port of Spain for Philadelphia on Jan. 10 with asphalt, and is long overdue.

Big Four Con. & M. Co.

THE Le Roi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 $45 shares went to $25, or $10 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 5 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the Le Roi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over $700,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

THOU'RT NOT AFRAID.

Thou'rt not afraid! thy face is still before me
With all its light—its liveliness divine;
The south wind blow thy dark, deep tresses o'er me
And still the gray eyes shine!

Thou'rt not afraid! No distance, dear, can sever
Hearts that in hearts all faithfully abide;
Love that is love forever and forever
No oceans can divide!

Thou'rt not afraid! But oh, to feel the living
Clasp of thy hand! to kiss the tears away
From those dear eyes—the tender and forgiving—
And hear the dear lips say:
"I love you!"—as in moments long departed!

Yet this is still my solace and my trust;
There shall be rest, dear, for the broken-hearted,
Beyond God's daisied dust.
—Frank L. Stanton.

Little Vidette of Lombardy.

In the year 1859 during the war for the liberation of Lombardy a few days before the battle of Solferino and San Martino, won by the French and the Italians, united against the Austrians on a beautiful morning in the month of June a little troop of cavalry of Saluzzo was moving slowly through a solitary path, toward the enemy, reconnoitering the country as they went.

The troop was commanded by an officer and a sergeant, and all spied into the distance before them with eager eyes, silent, expecting every moment to see the white uniforms of the advance post of the enemy shimmering through the trees. They came to a hut surrounded by ash trees, in front of which was a boy about twelve years old, standing alone, looking toward the distance from a small branch with a knife.

From the window of the house floated a large tri-colored flag, but no one was inside. Having hoisted the flag, all had run away fearing the Austrians. As soon as the boy saw the cavalry men, he threw away his stick and took off his hat. He was a fine-looking lad with a brave face, large blue eyes, and long blonde hair. He was in his shirt sleeves and his shirt was unfastened, showing his bare chest.

"What are you doing here?" asked the officer, stopping his horse. "Why did you not run away with your family?"

"I have no family," answered the boy. "I am a foundling. I work a little for every one, and I remained here to see the war."

"Have you seen the Austrians pass?" "Not for the last three days."

The officer sat thinking a moment, then dismounted from his horse, and, leaving the soldiers turned toward the foe, he entered the house and went up on the roof. The house was low and from the roof only a little stretch of the country could be seen.

"It is necessary to climb the trees," said the officer, and he did so. Just in front of the yard there was a lofty, slender ash tree which was rocking its top in the sky. The officer stood looking in thought for a moment, looking now at the tree, now at the soldiers, then, all of a sudden, he asked the boy:

"Have you good eyesight, you ragabuffin?"

"I can do that in a minute," said the boy. "And could you tell me what you see down below from the top, whether there are any Austrian soldiers, clouds of dust, guns glittering or any horses on that side?"

"Surely, I could," said the boy. "What do you want me to pay you for this service?"

"What do I want?" said the boy, smiling; "nothing, of course. If the Austrians asked me, I would not do it at all, but for my own people—I am a Lombard!"

"Well, then, climb up!" "Wait just a moment for me to take off my shoes."

He took off his shoes, tightened the strap around his trousers, threw his hat on the grass, and climbed the trunk of the ash tree.

"But, look out!" exclaimed the officer, making a gesture as if to hold him back, as though seized with a sudden fear. The boy turned around to look at him with his blue eyes, as if to question him.

"Never mind," said the officer; "go up."

The boy went up like a cat. "Look in front of you," cried the officer to the soldiers.

In a few moments the boy was at the top of the tree, with his legs around the trunk among the leaves, but with his breast uncovered, and the sun shining on his blonde head made it look like gold. The officer could hardly see him, he looked so small from the ground.

"Look straight in the distance," cried the officer.

The boy in order to see better took his right hand from the tree and put it over his forehead.

"What do you see?" asked the officer.

The boy bent his head forward, and, making a speaking tube of his hand, answered: "Two men on horseback on the white road."

"What distance from here?" "Half a mile."

"Do they move?" "They are standing still."

"What else do you see?" "After a moment's silence, 'Look to your right,' near the cemetery there's something which glitters like bayonets."

"Do you see any people?" "No, they must be hidden under the wheat."

At that moment the sharp whiz of a bullet passed high through the air and died away, far off, behind the house.

"Come down, boy," cried the officer, "they have seen you. I do not want anything more, come down."

"I am not afraid," answered the boy.

"Yes, at the left!" The boy pushed his head to the left, and another whiz, sharper and lower than the first, cut through the air. The boy shook all over.

"Confound them!" he exclaimed, "they are aiming at me!" The bullet had passed very near him.

"I will come down directly," said the boy, however, will protect me. Do not fear. To the left, you wish to know what I can see?"

"To the left," answered the officer; "but, come down."

"To the left," said the boy, turning his head that way, where there is a chapel, it seems as though I can see."

A third raging whiz was heard and almost at the same time the boy was seen coming down, holding for a moment to the trunk and to the branches, and then falling down head first, with open arms.

"Come down!" cried the officer, running to him.

The boy struck the ground with his back and lay stretched out with his arms open; a stream of blood was flowing from his left side. The sergeant and two soldiers jumped from their horses, the officer bent down and opened his shirt; the bullet had entered his left lung. "He is dead," exclaimed the officer. "No he lives," answered the sergeant. "Our poor, brave boy!" cried the officer.

"Courage! courage!" But while he was saying this and pressing his handkerchief over the wound, the boy rolled his eyes wearily, and let his head fall back. He was dead.

The officer turned pale and looked fixedly for a moment, then laid him with his head on the grass, and, for awhile he remained looking at him. Also the sergeant and the two soldiers stood motionless and gazed at him; the others were turned towards the enemy.

Then he approached the house and took from the window the tri-colored flag and stretched it out like a funeral pall over his body, leaving the head uncovered. The sergeant picked up the boy's shoes, cap, the little stick, and the knife.

They stood in silence a moment, then the officer turned to the sergeant and said: "We will send the ambulance for him. He died like a soldier, and we will bury him like a soldier."

Having said this he threw a kiss to the dead and cried: "To horse!" They all jumped to their saddles, the troop formed again and followed up its route; but a few hours later the little dead boy did receive the honors of war.

Towards sunset all the lines of the Italian advance were marching toward the enemy over the same road which had been taken in the morning by the troop of cavalry.

The large battalion of bersaglieri, which a few days before had valiantly stained with blood the hill of San Martino, proceeded in two files. The news of the death of the boy had spread through the army before the soldiers had left their encampment. A stream ran along beside the path a few paces distant from the house. When the first officers of the battalion saw the little corpse stretched at the foot of the ash tree and covered with the tri-colored flag they saluted him with the sword, and one of them bent over the edge of the stream, which was bordered with flowers, plucked two flowers and threw them over him. Then all the battalion, as they were passing, plucked flowers and threw them over the dead. In a few moments the boy was covered with flowers, and officers and soldiers all gave him a salute as they passed by. "Hurray! Little Lombard!" "Good bye, boy!" "Honor to you, little blonde!" "Hurray!" "Glory!" "Goodbye!" One officer threw a medal of valor on him; another kissed his forehead; the flowers continued to shower on his bare feet, upon his wounded chest, and upon the blonde head. And he slept there in the grass wrapped in his flag, with a white but almost smiling face, now boy as if he felt the honor paid him, as though he were content to have given his life for his Lombardy.

Mr. Neighbor—Merely taking down a little of the paling so that I can move my garden strong porter here, but you don't look quite heavy enough for the job by the way, why did you have the job done before?

"Well, you see," said the applicant, "I liked the boys, and so they—"

"Excuse me," said a man in a top hat, "I saw that I come to think of it, we hired a man to fix this place day before yesterday."—Chicago Times-Herald.

THEIR FAME SPREADING

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills a Wonderful Remedy

Sir—It is because I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid that I ask you to publish some facts regarding Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills. I was for many years a sufferer from indigestion and stomach troubles. I could not digest my food, I was constipated, and it was only by injections that I could get relief. Physicians did me good. I was reduced to a skeleton and could hardly walk. As a first resort I tried a box of these pills, and the improvement was so marked that I continued taking them. I have now taken twelve boxes, never remembering being so well in my life. I have gained 22 pounds, and am putting on more flesh daily. I am a living, walking advertisement, and consider no trouble too great in order to spread the fame of Dr. Clarke's Pills. A. P. Jones, Lockport, N.Y., Peterborough, Ont.

Identifying the Idiots.
A gentleman was once being shown over an idiot asylum, says Sir Wilfrid Lawson, in Answers. He asked an attendant how they knew when an idiot was considered to be sufficiently restored to sanity to be discharged.

"Oh," said the attendant, "it is easily managed. We take them into a yard where there are several troughs. We turn on the taps and then give the idiots buckets to bail out the water and empty the troughs. Many of them go on bailing away while the taps keep running, but that isn't idiots stops the tap."

No Politics for Mary.
"It's all right, Mary," he said, pleasantly. "Go into politics if you want to. But remember one thing—that cartoonists 'll be after you as soon as you're a candidate."

"And they'll put your picture in the paper with your hair out of curl and your hat on crooked."

"Do you think they would do that?" she inquired apprehensively.

"Of course. And they'll make your Paris gown look like calico, and say that your sealskin coat is imitation."

"William," she said, after a thoughtful pause, "I think I'll stay here and make home happy."—Tit-Bits.

Annual Easter Concert

The annual Easter concert, in connection with St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, will take place in the Town Hall, Ashburnham, on the evening of Tuesday, April 23rd. Rehearsals for the entertainment are now being held, and an excellent programme is assured.

A Strike on

The pine hour a day scale of the carpenters and joiners' Union, went into effect yesterday, and trouble is anticipated. It is stated that employers are unwilling to concede the demands of the union, and unless this is done, the men will quit work. The Union has nearly 100 members, which is sufficient, it is claimed, to bring the employers to time.

His Departure Regretted

Much regret is being felt over the departure from Peterborough of Rev. R. Zimmermann, of Bethel, Minnesota, who has resigned his charge here and who will take up his residence in Toronto. During Mr. Zimmermann's pastorate, covering a period of eight years, his little flock has grown to be a large congregation, with a beautiful church, without debt. The congregation presented him with an address and a well-filled purse. His successor has not yet been appointed, but Pastor John Salmon, of Toronto, will preach the next two Sundays.

A Suggestion

A good deal of kicking is being indulged in with regard to the picture of the American Soak which appears on the new Canadian $1 bill. It is claimed that a Canadian scene should have been engraved on the William. The latter contention is right. This great family journal would like to see a picture of the lift lock now being constructed at this place, on the Trent Valley Canal, or the bill. Such a scene would have preserved the public with the modern methods of the Liberal Administration in the construction of public works. Not only this, but it would show by this lock how many and varied are the opportunities to rise in the world.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN

—Yesterday was all fools' day.
—Three days more and Good Friday.
—Havelock wants better fire protection.
—The Board of Education will meet this evening.
—The mumps are very prevalent in town at present.
—It is proposed to establish a lock factory in Belleville.
—The Pan-American will likely detract from Money Lake travel this year.
—Market Clerk Hutchinson assumed his duties as clerk of the market yesterday.
—The ice on the upper lakes is still strong enough to travel on with ease.
—The attendance at the schools is very light on account of measles, scarlet fever and mumps.
—Elderly wings and feathers look pretty on an Easter hat. The bill, of course, is out of sight.
—The deputation to Ottawa to-morrow, re the Norwood and Aspley Railways, will leave on the morning train.
—The Canadian Cordage Company will make a move in a short time with a view to commencing operations.
—Mr. Henry Owens will take charge of the farm implement agency recently conducted by the late Thomas Cochrane.
—The children of the Y.W.C.A. Sewing School will please meet at the rooms on Friday afternoon at 4.15. Do not fail to come.
—Humors of all kinds are prolific of worse troubles. That they may be entirely expelled by a thorough course of Hood's Sarsaparilla.
—The Young Men's Guild of St. Andrews Church holds its regular monthly meeting in the lecture hall this evening. Young men of the church and others are asked to attend.
—Messrs. Bogus & McDiarmid, the contractors for the Chemung Lake bridge, have about completed the work as far as they can before the ice goes out. They have made splendid progress, having the piers all in, except the large center one.
—Mr. Wm. Collins, Secretary West-Peterborough Farmers' Institute, received a telegram from Mr. A. B. Shuttleworth, yesterday, stating that he would be in Peterborough along with Mr. James, Deputy-Minister of Agriculture, to address a meeting on the sugar beet question.

TAKING THE CENSUS.

Unhappy Experience of One of Our Local Census Enumerators.

The census enumerators started work yesterday morning, and some of them had some rather exciting experiences and narrow escapes. One of them informed the Times last night that he went to one place yesterday morning and as luck would have it there was a meek looking young lady of uncertain age engaged in making some pantry. He settled right down to business, and began by asking the questions as to the number in the family, etc. She answered him without any hesitation, but when he asked if she was married or single, and how many children she had, she became quite excited and threatened to throw the rolling pin at him. The next question was her age, and that was the climax. Before the unhappy official could realize the situation, something sailed past his head, and he got to the door just as a kettle of water and sundry other articles fell on the chair where he had been sitting. He retreated behind a gatepost, and from that point of vantage saw the rest of the questions, and filled out the paper as best he could.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. Fred. Sawers is home from Trinity University.
—Mr. Harry Rogers is home from Trinity College school, Port Hope, for his holidays.
—Mr. H. B. Rogers, Superintendent Engineer of the Trent waters, returned on Saturday from a trip to the "800," where he was called to inspect a break in the lock.
—Mr. George Lee, the popular agent of the London Life Assurance Company, who was confined to his home for days with a gripe, is now all right again.
—Mr. J. W. McWilliams, of Ashburnham, who has been with the Bridge Construction Department of the Grand Trunk for almost eighteen years, left this morning for North Dakota.

BERT HUBNER'S PUNISHMENT

The Sheriff Taken Back to Belleville on Saturday.
Bert Hubner, who was found guilty at the local assizes last week of having stolen a horse from Mr. Charlie Westlake, of town, and Mr. Scott, of Norwood, and who was sentenced to two years less one day in the Central Prison, Toronto, was taken down to Belleville on Saturday by Deputy Sheriff Fred Hall. Hubner was first sentenced from Belleville, from where he came to stand his trial, and was from there to the Central. Hubner is quite a young man and very little is known of him previous to his present trouble. There is scarcely any doubt that he was the same person who stole the butter from the factory near Westwood.

The Sugar Beet Question

Mr. William Collins, the energetic chairman of the joint committee of the County Council, the Town Council, the Peterborough Farmers' Institute and the Board of Trade, has completed arrangements for holding a public meeting, which will take place in the Market Building at 120 p.m. on Wednesday, April 11th. Mr. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and Mr. A. E. Shuttleworth, have promised to be present and deliver addresses.

A W. C. A. Sewing School.

The children of the Y. W. C. A. sewing school will please meet at the rooms on Friday afternoon at 4.15. Do not fail to come.

AMERICAN BRAINS

Brain Workers Require Special Food

American brain workers have for some years past been largely using an especially prepared food for rebuilding the gray matter of brain and nerve centers. Any man or woman who cares to make a test by using this food, Grape-Nuts, for a portion of one or two meals each day, will find a distinct increase in vigor, and particularly in brain power.
Then if they feel disposed to know the reason why, they can have Grape-Nuts analyzed, or take the analysis of the London Lancet and the result will show that the food contains the natural phosphate of potash obtained in a natural way from the cereals, and albumen obtained in the same way.
These two elements unite together in the human body to make and rebuild the gray matter of which the brain, solar plexus and nerve centers are filled.
These are scientific facts which can be ascertained by any careful investigator. The food, Grape-Nuts, is not only the most scientifically made food in the world, but almost any user will agree with us that the flavor is unique and most winning.

LIVELY LAKEFIELD.

Latest Budget of News From Our Pretty Northern Suburb.

—Everybody reads The Times in Lakefield.
—Messrs. White & Grylls' new steam-er is progressing splendidly.
—The Trent Valley Navigation Company intend to cover the waters of Stony Lake this year, having made arrangements with the proprietors of the Sunbeam and the new steamer under construction, to cover the Lakefield end of the route.
—A meeting under the auspices of the Women's Institute, was held yesterday, at the residence of Mrs. Sherin.
—Messrs. Trust & Co., butchers, are doing a rattling good business.
—Mr. Thos. Hendren has disposed of his furniture and undertaking business to his son, Mr. Geo. Hendren, took over the business on Monday.
—The Times congratulates Mr. Wesley Sherin on his appointment to the position of Village Clerk. He is the right man in the right place.
—Mr. Z. White's steam sawmill at Hague's point, is doing a rushing business just now. The farmers of this section have brought in enough logs to keep him running for some time.
—Rev. J. Jenkins, the evangelist, began a series of revival services here on Sunday.
—The suggestion made by the Times that the canal should be opened between this village and Peterborough, meets with general approval.
—The tourist season has already commenced, the following guests being already registered at the Craig House: Mrs. Fraser and maid, Toronto; Mrs. Col. Graves, children and maid, Toronto; Mrs. J. M. Kilbourn, Owen Sound. Mr. Craig has had his excellently appointed hotel thoroughly renovated and repainted, and is now well prepared for the big rush that is to come. Electric fans have also been installed.

Man's Millinery at Belleville

Peterborough's most particular men, who know where they can be best served, will have an easy task selecting their Easter outfits at Messrs. H. Lebrun & Co.'s. Easter is only a few days away, but we are fully prepared for the occasion and have planned for some pleasant surprises. Come and see our large and varied stock, in every department, on every counter, on every shelf, spring newness reigns. The City Clothing Store is showing a range of the latest spring fabrics for men's fashionable custom-tailored spring overcoats and suits, at prices which will be better than the best value offered this season. We would advise you to place your order early for made-to-measure garments. We are showing in our men's department a "ready-to-wear" clothing a very remarkable range of everything to be desired in black suits, serge suits, worsted suits, Scotch and Canadian tweed suits, and handsome light overcoats for spring wear. Our standard of excellence and style in clothing is recognized as the highest among ready-made in Peterborough. In gentlemen's furnishings we show the newest styles in hats, neckwear, gloves, collars and cuffs. Come and judge for yourselves. Treat your boys to some of our bargains in new suits. We have received 600 boys' and children's suits from two of the best makers of boys' clothing in Canada, Messrs. W. B. Hamilton & Co., of Hamilton, and Messrs. J. Johnston & Co., of Toronto. Nothing adds to the appearance of the boys' good fitting clothes. These suits have been selected with unusual care, which enables us to offer the newest styles of superior ready-made garments at lowest prices.

The Charges Against the Scott Estate to be Disposed of

At the last session of the Legislature on motion of Mr. German of Welland, a select committee was appointed to decide as to what should be done in regard to the charges of fraud against the estate of the late W. V. Scott, of Peterborough. The question is an old one, dating back to 1871, when it was alleged that for five years Mr. Scott had made fraudulent returns to the Government of the timber dues for lumber cut on lands in North Peterborough. An investigation followed and Mr. Scott was fined $28,000. Later, $6,000 of this was remitted and the Scott estate claimed that another $18,000 should be refunded. This contention was pressed, and last session, on Mr. German's motion, Messrs. Foy, Pardee, Macpherson, Charlton and Auld were the committee appointed to deal with the question. They recommended that the whole question be submitted to two judges of the Court of Appeal. This recommendation was acted upon and the Government appointed Mr. Justice Osler and Mr. Justice Lister, who held the first sitting at the Parliament buildings on Saturday. Mr. Amelin Irving, K. C., was present for the Government, Mr. Kennedy for the Crown Lands Department, and Mr. G. H. Watson, K. C., for the estate. No evidence was taken and it was decided after a brief discussion to recommend the case a fortnight hence.

Death of Thos. Cochrane

There passed away on Sunday night about eight o'clock, Thos. Cochrane at his residence, 381 Water street, after a lingering illness. Deceased has been ailing for several months, and has been a patient sufferer.
The late Mr. Cochrane conducted a carriage and implement emporium at 381 Water street, and was generally known as the "Carriage Man" of the town. He had no immediate relatives here. The funeral will take place to the Little Lake cemetery this afternoon.

OUR SUMMER RESORTS.

Idyl-Wild and Jubilee Resorts Being put into First-Class Shape.

The Rice Lake has long been noted for its beautiful summer resorts. It is here that tourists gather from every part of the American continent, to spend a few days or weeks enjoying the unequalled fishing that is afforded in the waters of Rice Lake and River Otonabee. A year ago last autumn the new-idyl-wild hotel was burned, but it proved a great loss. This year a new one is being erected by Commodore Calcutt, which when completed, will contain about 30 rooms. It is a beautiful new hotel, where the food and house stood. The hotel will be ready for guests in June, and will be under the management of Mrs. Walter Howell, of Trent Bridge, who will conduct it. The Jubilee Point Hotel will again be under capable management as last year. The house is being overhauled, repainted, and otherwise improved. Jubilee Point is an ideal spot for the tourist and sportsman, and a splendid season's business is assured.
The Peterborough Navigation Company's steamers will make two trips daily during the season between Peterborough, Jubilee Point and Idyl-wild, so that our citizens will have ample opportunities to visit these charming spots.

Foresters Conclude

At the recent meeting of Court Littlejohn No. 92, C. O. F., a resolution of condolence was passed to Bro. Robt. Mulligan, in sympathy with his recent losses by death, which have occurred in his household.
Bro. B. B. Mulligan, Your Brethren of Court Littlejohn No. 92, C. O. F., desire to express their heartfelt sympathy for you in the recent double affliction which has deprived you of a dear wife and a dear son, and to convey to yourself and Mrs. Mulligan and the bereaved members of your family the comforting assurance that some day you will be reunited in the hereafter. We realize that two such bereavements as these, coming as they did, within a short week of each other, cannot be otherwise than of a very painful nature. We earnestly trust that in your hours of adversity you have enjoyed the sustaining grace of Him who knows best how to soothe our afflictions and speak words of solace to our wounded hearts.
Your Brethren wish to place on record their testimony of the fraternal sympathy for your losses, and to convey to yourself and Mrs. Mulligan and the bereaved members of your family the comforting assurance that some day you will be reunited in the hereafter. We realize that two such bereavements as these, coming as they did, within a short week of each other, cannot be otherwise than of a very painful nature. We earnestly trust that in your hours of adversity you have enjoyed the sustaining grace of Him who knows best how to soothe our afflictions and speak words of solace to our wounded hearts.

The Norwood-Aspley Railway

An item appeared in The Times of Saturday last, which on re-reading carefully, led me to have doubts as to the justice to the Rev. J. C. Davidson. We inadvertently made it appear that Mr. Davidson, in a letter to the Norwood Register, still maintains the ground taken by him in his previous letter to the country would be an outrageous waste of public money.
What Mr. Davidson says is—[It is the construction of the railway an advantageous enterprise for the country. I find the Peterborough interested in promoting it.]
Having had an interview with Mr. Davidson, it is clear to us that he has no kind of bias against this project, and no personal interests to serve, but did simply and solely what he believed to be the interests of truth. He felt obliged to return a negative answer to both these questions. The Rev. gentleman had traveled all through the northern country and knew the facts. Mr. Davidson does not think the town should oppose the scheme, the question being, "Should we help it forward?"
In a postscript to the letter which appeared in the Register, Mr. Davidson says—I was much interested in Rev. Mr. Davidson's letter to The Times on this subject. After his long residence, and most devoted work, his opinion is entitled to every consideration. My attitude would seem to have helped the promoters in drawing out evidence in favor of the Railway. Of this I am glad, for I have no side to champion, but simply desire the true welfare of our country which cannot be brought out without free discussion. It is only when a cause is weak that men dislike hearing the other side.

WM. MORTIMER CLARK & GRAY

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62604, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet. This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices, and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10%, on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock or radiators.

Dated at Toronto this 18th day of February, A. D. 1901.

THE TALK-TO-BIRD
There is a bird I like to see,
A bird that always talks to me.
Whenever I have anything been
This bird is sure to drop in.
And tell mamma just what I've done.
Then she says, "My little son."
I know all what she's going to say.
The "Jenny" you've been bad to-day.
But when I ask, "How do you know?"
She says, "A birdie told me so."

And if a piece of pie I take,
Or even a small bit of cake,
From pantry where no windows are,
And I creep through the door ajar,
This little bird has eyes to see,
And tells mamma all tales but me.
Yet still I never saw that bird,
But ever if I have heard.

WOMEN THAN SMALLPOX

There has been a good deal of talk and much unnecessary alarm over a few cases of smallpox that have occurred in Ontario of late, but little attention has been paid to a disease that has been far more prevalent and which is much more dangerous. It is a curious fact, which has until recently not excited observation, that since 1886 epidemics of scarlet fever, have been observed to occur periodically, the period representing multiples of three years. English authorities agree that its recurrence may be expected about every six years. In the case of scarlet fever the greatest danger of communicating the disease is at the time when the infected one is apparently recovering and when the previously inflamed skin is shedding its powdery scales. These particles are the real carriers of the poison, and can be lodged on the clothing and hair, in fact, in everything that may come in contact with the air of the sick room. All this proves how difficult it is to institute absolute quarantine in any house in which the disease exists and how natural it is for the fever to spread.

It is well known that within the past few years by the use of the Air Drill and the Electric Drill the cost of Gold mining has been reduced from 50 per cent to 20 per cent; that by improved machinery and chemical processes, the extraction of gold and silver from the ore has been equally reduced; that all items of expense connected with mining have been so materially reduced that mining has passed from the condition of being a mere venture to that of one of the most profitable occupations. Money now put into a conservative, legitimate mining company is not a "gamble" but

THE MAKING OF MARTIN

Tucked in the hollow of his arm, Martin bore the screaming child to the water's edge. The crowd followed—at a respectful distance. They laughed, because Martin laughed, and not because there was any reason for mirth. The child was Madge Pittcain's baby, a fat, gawky, wailing, afraid of water, a fear it was whispered of by old women, because of a pre-natal influence. (For his father was brought home drowned before Davy was born.) But Martin's favor meant bread and butter to the populace of the factory district.

For a year ago, come Easter, had old Martin eaten of fish and sour milk, and he had gone the final way of all men— even money grabbers. And Martin, the nephew, had stepped into old Martin's shoes, shoes that were pinched, since young Martin was six feet in his stockings and weighed like a great god Thor. Ten generations of sturdy peasant blood had given redness to his cheek and soundness to his sleep. And the slavish adulation old Martin had rendered unto the girl giant had given yet greater sleep to his soul. Martin, men seldom met of the mills—was a thoughtful, selfish, lumbering brute.

Martin strode out on the pier and held the boy over the breaking ripple. "Say your prayers!" he roared, between gasps of laughter. "When I count ten in you go!"

The child, frightened beyond speech, struggled for breath. The weakened face was ghastly. At a sight of it Martin roared the louder.

"One, two, three—"

A girl, darting through the crowd, came suddenly between him and the edge of the pier. Two flashing eyes glowered scorn and contempt upon him.

"Put that child down, you great cowardly brute!"

The crowd fell back aghast. From sheer amazement Martin dropped the child. His face darkened ominously.

"Who are you that dares to speak to me?"

"It matters not who I am, dare to touch that poor unfortunate again?"

"Who shall prevent it?" He folded his arms still struggling with astonishment.

"I shall, I shall have you arrested for cruelty to children, if you owned a hundred mills!"

She turned away now, since Davy had fled homeward like a hurtled deer. Martin was no man with whom to bandy words; she remembered that now, since her angry pulse had subsided, Martin's voice followed her.

"You belong up there!" with a nod towards the mills.

"Yes, her color went out swiftly; she knew what would come next.

"You needn't go back."

"This, then, is my dismissal!" she said quietly, facing him again.

He looked at her curiously from the wayward hair and delicate face to the slim figure and shabby shoes. A dollar a day—trudge, and yet a lady. Martin knew it. He knew, too, his peasant blood. But it was good, healthy, God-fearing peasant blood until he and Miss Martin had trailed the first sinister streak across it. Martin had seen Alice every day for almost a year; he had never until to-day seen the real beauty of the pale, contemptuous little face.

"That's it," he said, answering roughly. "What's due you?"

"Three dollars," she said, slowly. But she longed to say "Nothing!" But alas! one cannot say "Nothing!" and yet independent. She slipped the money in the purse as if the touch burned her.

A scant week afterward, Martin, looting in the grocery is as genuine looter as the miller, heard a woman's voice.

"No tea to-day, only bread and a little bit of butter."

"Now, Miss Alice, if there's anything you want, though 'tisn't my custom, just take it along."

"Thank you, Mr. Jones. But it is too tempting. And I may not get work at the shop."

"Where does she live?" over his face.

"Where does she live?" with a nod toward the door.

"Elate," the shopman said briefly. "Got a hump-backed sister to support, too."

"After that it came to pass that Alice, going to work in the miserable sweat-shop, met Martin twice a day. She passed without recognition, but always she felt the fierceness of his eyes upon her. One evening she turned upon him with a rush of the old fearless anger.

"Why do you follow me?" she demanded. His eyes fell; he took off his rough cap confusedly.

"The shorter way."

"It is not. You know it. I am afraid of you, Martin, though you mean to starve me, do you? Who but you had the nerve to come from the shop? War upon a woman because she dared to speak the truth!"

She left him there, raging at his own impotent tongue. A child ran out the next night, and he was against him. It was Davy. Martin caught the child, who screamed in terror. Martin's other hand was in his jacket.

"Don't squall, young one. Martin won't hurt you. He's a big, tough brute in his play, though, ain't he? See, here's a dollar, Davy, a bright new dollar."

Davy grasped the money, and as Martin reached him, Alice's white face was at his elbow.

"O, why will you torment the child so?"

With the perverse treachery of youth, Davy caught and clung to Martin's knee.

"Go away, Alice! Martin's good. You shan't talk back to Martin!" and then her glance comprehended the scene.

"I beg your pardon, Martin," she said, simply. She held out her hand as by some timid thought. Martin clasped it closely that she winced with pain.

"Alice, won't you come back to the mill? I will not look at you, nor speak to you, if you wish it. Only, you come back!"

She looked at him steadily, and saw the new light in his eyes. Her voice was soft and clear.

"Yes, Martin," she said.

In less than a fortnight smallpox broke out at the mill. A dozen cases in one day, and as many more the next. Alice sent Bertha to the country; she the quarantine shut down. Martin was away when the scourge appeared.

When he came home he was shut out from his mill people. But one day he walked into the mills and heard his arm for the surgeon's needle.

"Nurses are scarce. I can do as I am told. That's a sound help," he said. Then Martin went cheerfully down to the pesthouse, and men in that week of horrors forgot to call him the lumbering brute. One day, with his face haggard and sleepy, Martin came up to room No. 1. As he was there alone, he lifted her face from her loom, a feverish, bright face.

"I called you a coward—you. I know

Those who suffer from obstinate cough, bronchitis, weak lungs and ailments in general which tend to consumption, will find speedy relief and perfect cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures ninety-eight per cent of those who give it a fair and faithful trial. It purifies the blood, heals the lungs and builds up the body with firm flesh instead of flabby fat. The "Discovery" contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor other narcotics.

Only for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I think I would be in my grave to-day," writes Mr. Moses Miles of Hilliard, Utah Co., Wyoming. "I had been laid up for some time, and it affected my lungs so that I coughed all the time, both day and night. My friends all thought I had consumption. My wife had taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and had helped her so much she insisted on my trying his 'Golden Medical Discovery' which I had heard of. I have taken four bottles and am now a well man, weighing 155 pounds, thanks to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I would like you to print this testimony as it may help some other poor sufferer."

what you are doing down there. The doctor said that house of horrors!" She sobbed, and then reeled dizzily. Martin caught her in his great arms. He carried her down stairs, and a look at her and the mill doctor together put her in his carriage. Consciousness glimmered again. Her startled eyes met his. "The pesthouse!" she muttered.

"No, Martin said, quickly. And to the driver, 'house of horrors!'"

"And Martin?" Alice said, as old Greaves brushed the close-clipped curls. The query had ached on her lips so long! It had been a century of strange dreams since the day Martin had borne her through the iron gates of his home.

"Martin is ill, liechen."

"Let me go to him," Alice said, suddenly. "O, let me go to Martin!"

But at sight of her Martin covered his face, bridled face with the quilt, as if to hide his face from her suggestion of the hideousness beneath. "O, Martin!" Alice said. Then the hands went down under the quilt. "I am going to die, Alice," Martin said. "I am going to die, you said I was a big cowardly brute. All the good that may be in me is spelled 'Alice.' You might have made me a decent. The money helped to ruin me. It's your fault, now. He closed his eyes—then opened them. Alice's weak, little hands pressed the ugly bandages between them with feeble insistence.

"Martin," she said. That was all. They looked at each other a steadfast while.

"I think," said Martin, happily, "that I am going to get well, Alice." And he did.

The Chicago Tribune

is a newspaper for bright and intelligent people. It is made up to attract people who think. It is not neutral or colorless, constantly trimming in an endeavor to please both sides, but it is independent in the best sense of the word. It has pronounced opinions and is fearless in expressing them, but it is always fair to its opponents.

Slatters of national or vital public interest get more space in THE TRIBUNE than in any other paper in the West.

For three reasons it is the newspaper you should read during the forthcoming political campaign.

THE TRIBUNE'S financial columns never mislead the public.

Its facilities for gathering news, both local and foreign, are far superior to those of any other newspaper in the West.

It presents the news in as fair a way as possible, and lets its readers form their own opinions. While it publishes the most comprehensive articles on all news features, if you are busy the "Summary of THE DAILY TRIBUNE" published daily on the first page gives you briefs of all the news of the day within one column.

THE Le Roi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 $5 shares went to $23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the Le Roi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $500 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that have complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

HINTS AND HELPS.

Do not begin to feed your new corn until the stock of old corn is exhausted. Let it dry.

The small, unsalable potatoes may be boiled and fed to calves, or they may be utilized for poultry.

A farmer who has tried it speaks in the highest terms of gas tar for painting wagon wheels, stating that it tightens them and makes them better than anything that can be tried.

Add a little glycerine to the grease applied to harness, and it will be kept in a soft and pliable state, in spite of the annual washings of the stable, which tend to make it brittle.

Let there be some evidence of taste in the grounds about your home. A neat lawn, with shrubbery, fruits and flowers, not only make it a pleasant place to live, but add to its money value.

Hats and mules will go into a trap much more readily if a piece of looking-glass is put in any part of the trap where they can see themselves. They are so fond of looking at their reflection where they can get any of their tribe, there they will go.

Heaves in horses is caused generally by dusty hay. As a precaution the hay may be well shaken and moistened before it is placed in the rack, and the rack should be on the floor rather than above the head of the horse.

Somebody had to plant trees for the present generation, and it must be done for the next. If the prospect of a crop is remote, there is no reason something gained at present in the increased value of the farm that contains a young and growing orchard.

It is bad policy to wash harness with soap, as it injures the leather. If the harness becomes rusty rub off the dirt as well as possible with a soft brush, and apply a dressing of grain black, followed with oil or tallow, which will fasten the color and make the leather soft and pliable.

It is stated by those who have had the advantage of experience, that if apples which have been frozen are thawed in the dark they are unimpaired; but if in the light, they very soon become unfit for use. We should, suppose the same result would most likely appear if the experiment were tried with potatoes.

To get rid of mold in cellars, put some roll brimstone into a pan and set fire to it; close the doors, making the cellar as nearly airtight as possible, when the fungi will be destroyed and the mold dried up. Repeat this simple and inexpensive operation every two or three months for two or three years at a time.

For keeping fruit to the best advantage in winter, the following requirements should be observed: (1) Keep the temperature within even degrees of the freezing point. (2) Let it be as uniform as possible, as an occasional warm draught is not required to maintain ventilation and uniform cold. (3) Keep all odors away from the fruit.

The first beginning in teaching the boy to prefer farming is to get him interested. Give him a few bantam fowls, and allow him to manage the flock and have the proceeds. He will be pleased with them as pets, and as he becomes larger he will gradually take an interest in other stock, especially if he is permitted to grow the food for his pets on a small plot of ground.

A Farm Tool House.

One of the most useful and money-saving buildings that a farmer can place on his premises is a spacious and convenient tool house. It is generally the case that there is room enough in the various outbuildings to house the farm implements if it is economized; but it is a common error, when a few feet of barn or shed floor there; sometimes in a cellar and sometimes in a loft, possibly difficult, and in all such instances it is space originally intended and needed for some other purpose. The main reason why so many farmers neglect protecting their implements from the weather when not in use, is the lack of convenient and roomy storage. It is a great stress on his busy schedule and handy; for if it is thus, James will always drive the lumber wagon hunk to take the hay rack off, and he will draw in the storage house with the plow and harrow and cultivator on it, and they will escape the next rain or dew and the consequent cost of rust. A farmer needs a tool house as much as a horse barn, and the illustration is suggestive. It is adapted to a locality abounding with stone. The walls of the building are made of that material, laid without mortar.

The foundation is placed below the frost, and the earth is banked on the outside to further protect them and to throw off water. The top of the wall is leveled with mortar, and a two-inch plank laid on, to which the rafters are spiked. The latter are braced on the inside by nailing on cross pieces. The roof may be made of the cheapest material, which varies with localities. There is one window in the end opposite the door. The doorway should be twelve feet wide, to admit a reaper, and if the location is not too much exposed there is little need of doors. The ground is the floor. The walls are but six feet high, and the structure should be twenty wide by thirty or forty long. Such a building will cost but little where stones are in the way. The farmer can build it, and will save many dollars in twenty years and many steps each year otherwise taken after mislaid implements.

TALMAGE'S SERMON

THE CITY CHURCHES AND THEIR MUSIC.

In Many of the Churches of Christ in Our Day the Music is Simply a Mockery—It Has Nothing to Say Against Aesthetic Music.

It is often the case that churches are envious of each other, and denominations collide with each other, and even ministers of Christ sometimes forget the bond of brotherhood. But in the time of which I speak, there will be just as many differences of opinion as there are now, there will be no acerbity, no hypercriticism, no exclusiveness.

In our great cities the churches are not to-day large enough to hold more than a fourth of the population. The churches that are built—comparatively few of them are fully occupied. The average attendance in the churches of the United States to-day is not 300. Now, in the glorious time of which I speak, there are going to be vast churches, and they are going to be thronged with worshippers. Oh, what rousing songs they will sing! Oh, what earnest sermons they will preach! Oh, what fervent prayers they will offer!

Now, in our time, what is called a fashionable church is a place where a few people, having attended very carefully to a sermon, wait until the end of the service, and then they do not want to be crowded.

Oh, they like a whole seat to themselves—and then, if they have any time left from thinking of their store, and from examining the style of the hat in front of them, they sit and listen to a sermon, and then they go to the man's side, and listen to music which is rendered by a choir warranted to sing tunes that nobody knows! And then after an hour and a half of indolent yawning they go home refreshed. Every man feels better after he has been to church.

In many of the churches of Christ in our day the music is simply a mockery. I have nothing to say against artistic music. The two or five dollars I pay to hear one of the great queens of song is a good investment. But when the people assemble in religious convocation, and the hymn is real, and the angels of God come from their throne to catch the music on their wings, do not let us drive them away by our indifference. I have preached in churches where vast numbers of money were employed to keep up the music, and it was as exquisite as any heard on earth, but I thought at the same time, for all matters practical, I would prefer the hearty outbursting song of a back woods camp-meeting.

Let one of these starveling fancy songs sung in church get up before the throne of God, how would it look standing amid the great dancing stars of the redeemed? Let the finest operatic air that ever went up from the church of Christ get many hours the start, it will be caught and passed by the hosanna of the Sabbath school children. I know a church where the choir did all the singing, save one Christian man who, through the persuasion of the saints, went right on, and afterward a committee was appointed to wait on him and ask him if he would not please stop singing as he bothered the choir.

"The future wage earning girl should have in her mind during the latter part of her school life the election of her profession," writes Margaret R. Sangster in the Ladies Home Journal. "I think it well for her, too, to wait quietly, but with intention, to cast about among her friends for suggestions, to ask the kind offices of one and another, and to make known her need of immediate employment as soon as she leaves school. Many good positions are lost because of misadventure or false pride or unwary reticence on the part of those who seek them. The mental attitude of the girl in search of employment should be neither indifferent nor patronizing; she should see in motion every legitimate means, and let those who may be able to assist her know something of her situation. They can help, and she can seek with much greater hope of success if the goal in view be something definite."

Strength and Endurance.

Are factors of the greatest success.

No person can do full justice to himself without them.

In no season of the year are they more easily exhausted than in the spring.

We need not discuss the reason for this here. It is enough to say there is one, and that Hood's Sarsaparilla gives strength and endurance, as thousands annually testify.

THEIR FAME SPREADING

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills a Wonderful Remedy

Sir,—It is because I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid that I ask you to publish some facts regarding Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills. I was for many years a sufferer from indigestion and stomach troubles. I could not digest my food. I was constipated, and it was only by injections that I could get relief. Physicians did me no good. I was reduced to a skeleton and could hardly walk. As a first resort I tried a box of three pills, and the improvement was so marked that I continued taking them. I have now taken twelve boxes, never remembering being so well in my life. I have gained 22 pounds, and am putting on more flesh daily. I am a living, walking advertisement, and consider no trouble too great in order to spread the fame of Dr. Clarke's Pills. A. F. Jones, Lockport, N.Y., Peterborough, Ont.

ARMY MOVING TOWARDS NORTHERN TRANSVAAL

The Steady Advance of the British Towards the North to Subdue the Boers

Kimberley Column Has Returned After a Week's Work—Letter from Commandant Viljoen to the Bloemfontein Post—Train Wrecked by Boers

London, April 3.—That the army has advanced its position to the north of Kimberley is shown by the occupation of the town of Pekaia, a few miles north of the town. The Kimberley column, which was sent out on a raid last week, has returned after a week's work. The column, which was commanded by General Buller, has been successful in its operations. The Boers have been driven from their positions and the British have advanced their position to the north of Kimberley. The Kimberley column has returned after a week's work. BOERS WHISK A TRAIN
Newcastle, Natal, April 3.—The Boers have whisked a train from Newcastle to the north. The train, which was carrying a large number of passengers, was stopped by the Boers. The Boers then whisked the train to the north. The train was then set on fire and the passengers were killed. The Boers then returned to their positions. The British have been informed of the incident and are taking steps to prevent such incidents from occurring in the future.

FOUGHT LIKE DEMONS WHILE TRAIN SPED ON

A Drunken Brakeman Attacks an Engine Driver in Locomotive

New York, April 3.—With his hand on the throttle, a drunken brakeman fought like a demon with the engine driver in a locomotive. The brakeman, who was drunk, attacked the engine driver. The engine driver fought back. The locomotive was moving. The brakeman was killed. The engine driver was injured. The locomotive was damaged.

WAR OFFICE ADOPTS NEW AND HEAVY GUNS
The Ehrhardt Big Guns Being Manufactured for the British Navy

London, April 3.—The recent purchase by the War Office of 100 quick-firing Ehrhardt guns, and an additional order for twelve more of the same type called forth a publication of reports to the effect that serious defects had been discovered in the German guns. These reports are without any foundation of fact. General Wille, a German expert on this subject, gives some interesting details concerning the Ehrhardt guns.

THE PROJECTILE
The projectile weighs rather over four pounds, and with a charge of one pound of a high explosive is discharged with a velocity of 1,740 feet per second. This diminishes so gradually that at a range of 600 yards the aim is practically point blank. At 3,300 yards the firing point the velocity drops to 965 feet a second, but this compares very favorably with the records for all other quick-firing guns of equal or smaller calibre, except, perhaps, the newest Calibre twelve pounder.

THE MURDEROUS SHELL
The shell used is bored out of solid steel at white heat and then drawn through successive narrowing rings, which toughens the metal, and gives it greater elasticity with comparative lightness. A shell contains 56 bullets, each weighing about a third of an ounce. This means that a steady stream of 5,600 bullets per minute can be fired, or in other words, 104 lbs. of metal. The fuses can be regulated by hand without any mechanical aids. Their burning period is twenty seconds, which would make them effective at a range of between six or seven thousand yards.

CONVICT COLONY HORROR.
Revelling Truants Practised Upon the Exiled French Prisoners.
Paris, April 3.—Paris is interested in other things than the horrors of the French convict system, which last night terrible fascination when Captain Dreyfus was released from his living tomb. Otherwise there would surely be a fierce revolt against the iniquities disclosed by Eugene Degraeve, the survivor of two brothers "Riquieu," condemned to death for a murder of which they were innocent, and reprieved by President Carnot. Their experiences in penal servitude are given in "Le Buge," which has recently been published in France and is being translated for publication in England. Traps are laid for prisoners to escape by spies to denounce them; men are smothered with molasses and tied to trees near anthills; for a momentary loss of temper a prisoner is made to dig his grave and is then shot over it. These are some of the iniquities charged against the French convict system, and worse are hinted at. It is strange that Paris remains unmoved by the agitation which made Dreyfus a cyclone centre.

COULD DRIVE RUSSIA OUT OF MANCHURIA

This Is the Opinion of the President of the Japanese House of Peers

Regarding the Trouble Between the Two Countries—Southern Viceroy Threatens Rebellion if the Court Yields to the Demands of Russia

London, April 3.—The China crisis is regarded as somewhat more pacific. The Japanese viceroy has saved the situation by justifying, not compelling, the Imperial Government's refusal to agree to the Russian terms. Japan may quiet down, and Russia hide her time. Well knowing that neither Germany nor Great Britain will thwart her in Manchuria ultimately. Germany, as usual, comes out well on a diplomatic score. No offence has been given to Russia, and the powers can now settle down to a prolonged discussion of the indemnity question under German leadership.

JAPAN CAN DO IT.
Russia's reply to Japan's protest against the Manchurian convention, says the Yokohama correspondent of the Daily Mail, "is regarded as unsatisfactory, and further vigorous representations will follow. Prince Konoye Atsumaru, President of the House of Peers, in the course of an inflammatory speech, openly discussed the probable results of a war between Japan and Russia, and said that Japan could upon the friendly neutrality of Great Britain and Germany. He declared that the United States would only cause uneasiness by the employment of her Annapolis force and by a naval demonstration off Formosa. This, he predicted, would be the limit of French action, and therefore Japan's vastly superior army would be enabled without great difficulty to drive Russia out of Manchuria. THEY THREATEN REBELLION. The Chinese expect, after all, that the Manchurian convention will be ratified in the course of the next five days," says the Tsingtau correspondent of the Standard, writing Monday. "The southern viceroy and governor are incensed, and threaten rebellion if the court yields. The northern Chinese troops at Peking are wearing Russian uniforms, and the town is occupied by a strong Russian force."

RUSSIA'S DOMESTIC AFFAIRS.
London, April 3.—The Vienna correspondent of the Times takes a serious view of the Russian political situation, believing that the first symptom of far-reaching revolutionary movements are confirmed by the reports of sanguinary disturbances in Pityok, where there is no university. The disorders there, in his opinion, show that the rioting is no longer confined to the capital. The correspondent, however, does not believe that the domestic situation will immediately hamper Russia's foreign policy.

CHINA FORMALLY REFUSES TO SIGN Cannot Lose Friendship of all Other Nations to Give Special Privileges to One
Peking, April 3.
The Chinese Government has formally notified Russia that China, owing to the attitude of the powers, is not to sign the Manchurian convention. It is China's desire, says the formal notification, to keep on friendly terms with all nations. At present she is going through a period which is the most perilous in the Empire's history, and it is necessary that she should have the friendship of all.

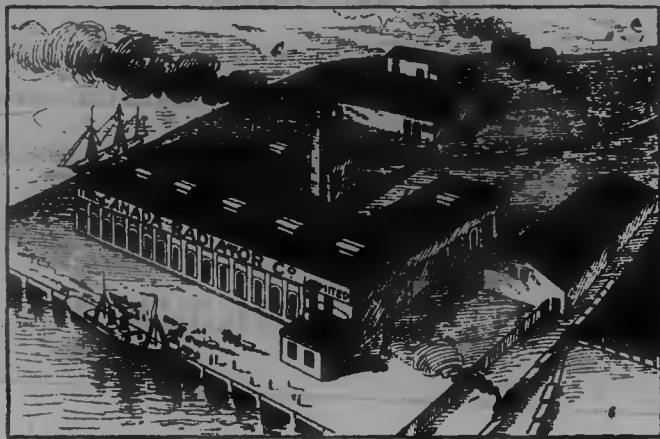

A NEW COLLEGE
New York Starts a Laundry School to Teach Ladies the Business.
New York, April 3.—Among the many movements in this city for helping and equipping women for self-support is that of an "educational laundry." An effort to re-arrange the laundry for Social Service it was learned that a fully equipped laundry has been established by New York women, at No. 616 West Twenty-eighth street. This educational laundry has proved a success. Applications for employment and training are not only beyond the capacity of the laundry school, but women of education are applicants, anxious to become efficient workers in the business, and thus be self-supporting. Women employed at the laundry school are paid according to their efficiency, from 60 cents to $1.25 per day. They are also provided with a comfortable meal at noon, for which there is no charge. For women who do not care to do actual work in the laundry, but desire the training, a special course of instruction is given, for which a small fee is charged. However, the women who take this special course can go into the laundry and work a certain number of hours daily. For this they are paid the usual wage of sixty cents per day. The laundry is self-supporting.

An Ingenious Bed
London, April 2.—Penny-in-the-slot machines for sleepy people are being erected at railroad stations, theatres, parks, and in various other places where there is space. The machine is a feet 2 inches high, and a little larger in girth than the ordinary weighing machine. When a penny is dropped in the slot a comfortable leather-covered couch comes out of the machine and falls into a horizontal position. It is provided with an adjustable wrap, so that the user can keep himself warm in cold weather. After the occupant gets off the couch it goes automatically into place and can only be brought down again by the insertion of another penny. It is believed the machine will be greatly appreciated at English railroad stations where passengers have to wait many hours for trains. Doctors believe that it will be a great benefit to the health of the community. Much has been written lately about the rush and restlessness of modern English life, and this will tend to relieve that curse.

Religious Weddings
Yesterday morning at St. John's rectory Rev. J. C. Davidson performed the marriage ceremony of Mrs. J. R. Mitchell, of Omemee, and Mr. Jefferson Davis, of Lang, Ontario. The principals were assisted during the ceremony by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel English of Keene, formerly of Omemee. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will reside in Lang, where Mr. Davis is a prosperous tradesman. Their many friends here will wish them every happiness.

Killing in Switzerland
London, April 3.—The Daily Express has received the following from its correspondent at Geneva: "A riot has occurred at Blonay, in the valley of Cham, owing to the municipality council selling land on which the people had enjoyed grazing rights. The inhabitants tried to stop the sale and a fierce conflict ensued between the rioters and the gendarmes. Two persons were killed and fifteen injured."

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62064, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet. This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a large margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices, and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

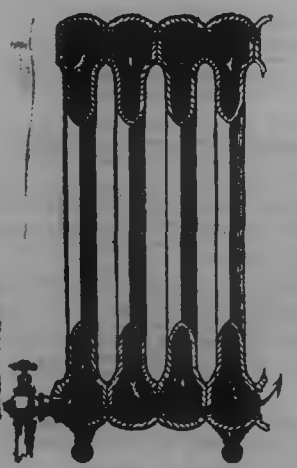

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock or radiators.

MIND VS MATTER

Professor Countenist gives his opinion on the subject.

Professor Countenist is a small man, with a large mentality. His wife is a tall woman, who believes in the power of matter over mind. The professor has been absorbed the whole evening in a profound paper on the mental characteristics of people who were unhappily married. Suddenly looking up, he remarked:

"My dear, are you aware of the fact that a man's brain weighs about three and a half pounds?"

"Humph! You've just read that, haven't you?"

"Er—er—why—er—oh! yes; certainly of course."

"Well, that article says a woman's brain is not so heavy, eh?"

"Er—er—yes, it certainly does, but—"

"And it also states that a woman's brain is of much finer quality, doesn't it?"

"Er—er—well, yes; you are quite right, my dear."

"Now, listen to me. Just concentrate your three-and-a-half-pound brain on that scuttle and figure out how much it will weigh after you bring it full of coal from the cellar."

The professor meekly bowed his great head, and, as he departed for the lower regions in search of abstract information, he murmured:

"The man who thinks that mind is superior to matter is an illustrious idiot."

One way of Settling It.

The other evening a muscular person was passing a house a lady who stood at the gate called out to him:

"Sir, I appeal to you for protection!"

"What's the matter?" he asked, as he stopped short.

"There's a man in the house, and he won't go out of doors though I have ordered him to."

"He won't? We'll see about that." Thereupon the man gave the woman his coat to hold and sailed into the house.

He found a man at the supper table and took him by the neck and remarked: "Nice style of brute you are, eh! Come out of this or I'll break every bone in your body."

The man fought, and it was not till a chair had been broken and the table upset that he was ousted out of doors by the legs and given a fling through the gates.

"Now, then, you brass-faced old tramp, you move on or I'll finish you."

"Tramp! Tramp! Tramp!" said the man as he got up. "I'm no tramp! I own this property and live in this house!"

"You do?"

"Yes, that's my wife holding your coat."

"Thunder!" whispered the muscular man as he gazed from one to the other and realized that it was the wife's method of finishing her row she had been having with her husband. And then he made a grab for his coat and disappeared into the darkness.

He Knew the Real Thing.

They had just got married and were starting on their honeymoon. The bride had got the man she loved, and she didn't care who saw her put her head on his shoulder. The bridegroom had got a farm with his wife, and if he wanted to squeeze her head hard or feed her with sweets, whose business was it? A little old man sat opposite the couple, and he looked at them so often that the young husband, finally explained:

"We've just got married."

"I knowed it all the time," chuckled the other.

"And we can't help it, you know."

"No, you can't, I'll be blown if you can!"

"I presume it all seems very silly to an old man like you?"

"Does it? Does it?" chuckled the old fellow. "Well, I can tell you it does not, then. I've been there three times over, and now I'm on my way to marry a fourth. Silly? Why, children, it's paradise boiled down!"—London Answers.

A New Way to Study Owls.

Some young hunters may like to know of a new way to study owls. A party of amateur sportsmen went out shooting near Chesapeake Bay recently, and one shot at and wounded the wing of a white Virginia horned owl. He was advised to kill the bird at once, but being also an amateur ornithologist, refused to do so, saying he was going to study the bird alive. So he put the big bird on the ground, fastening it by the leg to a stout peg. Presently a duck came along, and the hunter stooped so low in shooting that he sat on the owl, which, not liking this way of being studied, fastened its claws in the hunter's back and refused all attempts to make it let go. The more they tried to get it off the harder it pinched, and, from the howling of the man, it would appear as if the owl was studying the man instead of the man studying the owl. In the end the bird had to be killed before it would release its hold, and the hunter rose up with the conviction that he knew all about five owls that he cared to know.

THE OWL'S WITNESS.

There is no better whitewash for stone and brick surfaces than the following white wash had the test of many years on government lighthouses, barracks, stables, warehouses, etc. It gives a fine polish and is said to last five years. It is used to coat the east end of the White House.

Take a half bushel of unslaked lime, slake with boiling water, cover during the process to keep it steamy, strain the liquid through a fine sieve or strainer, and add to it a peck of salt, previously dissolved in warm water; mix the whole with a wooden spoon to a thin paste and stir in white hot half a pound of Spanish whiting and one pound of glue, previously dissolved by soaking in cold water. Add five gallons of hot water to the mixture, stir well and let it stand a few days covered from dirt. It should be applied hot, for which purpose it can be kept in a portable furnace.

THE SAVING DOG.

The story is told of a dog, during the French Revolution, which showed such fondness for music and such appreciation of melody that he became quite famous. He was a regular attendant at the theatre, where he would sit in a corner where the orchestra played, and listen calmly to the music. If a new piece was played he would wag his tail, and show his enthusiasm unmistakably. If the pieces were those he was accustomed to, he would listen quietly and then curl up and take a nap. A new melody would rouse him instantly. A New York organ grinder owned a dog which was very fond of organ music. The organ was stolen from its owner, and months passed; but one day the dog and his master heard an organ playing, and the dog instantly sprang on the man who was turning the handle. It was the long-lost organ, and the musical ear of the dog recognized the sound and the tunes.

THEIR FAME SPREADING

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills a Wonderful Remedy

Sir,—It is because I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid that I ask you to publish some facts regarding Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills.

I was for many years a sufferer from indigestion and stomach troubles. I could not digest my food. I was constipated, and was only by injections that I could get relief. Physicians did me no good. I was reduced to a skeleton and could hardly walk.

As a first resort I tried a box of these pills, and the improvement was so marked that I continued taking them. I have now taken twelve boxes, never remember being so well in my life. I have gained 25 pounds, and am putting on more flesh daily. I am a living, walking advertisement, and consider no trouble too great in order to spread the fame of Dr. Clarke's Pills.

Alf's many friends will give him a warm reception.

The Brighton Havelock Railway.
 The Havelock Standard says that in a communication received from Mr. M. Barbour, of Toledo, they are informed that the proposed electric railway between Brighton and Havelock is not dropped by any means, and that when matters are ready to proceed, the promoters will move fast. Certain obstacles have arisen which must be disposed of first. The Campbellford Herald fears that Mr. Barbour will meet with other obstacles when he solicits the towns which he expects from the several municipalities, and themselves unless he can give the public a satisfactory guarantee that the road will be operated continuously after it is completed.

An Extensive Measure.
 In Toronto, last week, a grand jury recommended that inasmuch as drunkenness is not deterred by imprisonment, every drunkard should be liable, the number of lashes to increase with the number of convictions. The Judge remarked that the question might shock the sensibilities of many people. He suggested that a letter from the court to consider drunkenness a disease and to treat it as such. Whipping is regarded as degrading in a degree, but in at least 25 States it is the punishment for wife beaters. If drunkenness is not a disease, the habitual drunkard should be treated as a common nuisance, practically that is what he is. The man who is continually soaked by draughts of alcoholic liquors is a menace to his society and a menace to the home life of his family.

TIMK EXPENDED
 Moved by Harris and Wigg, That the time for collection of taxes be extended until the 3rd day of June next, and that the appropriate act be attached to this resolution to give it the effect of a by-law.
A VOTE OF INDIGNATION.
 The following resolution was moved, seconded, and carried unanimously: That, with reference to the charges made through the public papers, that the Rev. Mr. Davidson, of Peterborough, has spoken very harshly of this back country, and the condition of the inhabitants thereof, at a recent meeting of the Peterborough Board of Trade, and this Council is of the opinion that the reverend gentleman must have been very much let astray as to the real state of the case, as the country here is not in the condition of a wilderness, but is a well timbered and very valuable timber, which cannot be marked without the means of a railway, and in the name of the people, this Council cannot but condemn Mr. Davidson for the manner in which he has tried to restrain a railway company from opening up and developing the country to the detriment of the inhabitants.
COURT OF REVISION.
 On motion the Court of Revision on assessment roll will be held on June 3rd, and that no claim of over assessment from last year roll be taken into consideration.
 Council adjourned until June 3rd.

THE COUNTY'S MEMORIAL

In Favor of the Norwood and Apsley Railway.

Which Was Presented to the Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways, by the Deputation on Wednesday.

The following memorial was presented to the Minister of Railways and Canada, on behalf of the Norwood and Apsley Railway.
 To the Honorable A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canada.
 The petition of the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the County of Peterborough, humbly sheweth:
 That this Council most respectfully submit that for forty years they have been desirous of securing railway communication with the back country portion of this county, which was opened for settlement by a colonization road. For a time the district attracted a large number of settlers who settled on the lands and commenced extensive lumbering operations, and received a ready market for their farm products, for which good prices were paid, and the pioneer settlers were prosperous. But so soon as the forests of pine and other floatable timber became depleted, lumbering ceased leaving the settlers without a market, excepting by hauling their very rough roads to Peterborough, a distance of over fifty miles. Though large portions of these townships are fertile and fit for farming, and well adapted for dairying and cheese making (for which there are now six factories) this portion of our county cannot become prosperous without railway accommodation, and the young men from our frontier townships or immigrants, will not be induced to settle upon the lands which there are about two hundred and fifty thousand acres belonging to the crown. Without railway access these lands are of little value to the settler, and the facility is afforded the land would be taken up and cleared for farming, and in doing so large quantities of excellent and valuable floatable hardwood timber, suitable for sawn timber, would be destroyed, and the land required for the manufacture and for other purposes, would be taken out and marketed at remunerative prices, and thus reverse the lumbering business of this district.
 This Council concurs, entirely approving of the wisdom of your government in granting aid to assist in the construction of railways to open up and develop the back country, and the natural resources of our country, by so doing conferring indirect benefit on the community at large infinitely greater than the direct benefits accruing to those whose private means may be invested in such undertaking. Though the general policy of your Government in assisting railways is approved, we most respectfully submit that railway development of this county has heretofore received but a meagre share of the public moneys granted to railways.

This Council was gratified to know that by their efforts the company has been formed and a Provincial charter secured, to build the Norwood and Apsley Railway through the townships of Dumfries, Methuen and Burleigh to the village of Apsley, in the township of Anstruther, a distance of thirty miles. This railway will open up a section of country which has been discovered, only in recent years, to be exceedingly rich in large quantities of valuable mineral deposits. It is an established fact that in the township of Belmont there is one of the largest and most modern equipped gold mines in the Dominion, owned by the Cordova Mining and Exploration Company of English capitalists. This company employs nearly two hundred employees, and the work goes on there day and night, with the exception of the Christmas holidays, from small beginnings, as to warrant the expenditure of a large sum of money to utilize the power from a large waterfall of 90 feet. By this hydraulic power, copper and iron will be conveyed through steel pipes from the falls to the mines, a distance of three miles, and will furnish motive power for the entire plant.

The section of country through which this railway will run is situated in the mineral belt of Central Ontario, as shown on the maps of the Government's geological survey. The northern and southern portions of the great mineral belt, at the base of the Huron Mountains in the townships of Burleigh and Methuen, on the direct line of the railway, copper and iron have been found, also marble and granite for monumental and building purposes. The finest quality of syenite (granite) has been discovered in large quantities in the line of this railway, almost identical with a fine quality, with the famous Egyptian quarries, out of which for centuries the finest monumental stone has been obtained. We are informed that if this railway is built an American Company, having an idle quarry valued at over three hundred thousand dollars, would like to ship in their whole plant.

By opening up this mineral district it would greatly enhance its value, and home and foreign capital would be largely expended in developing and working the mines. The mining industry promises to become a large factor in the prosperity of the country, and if fostered we have no doubt large revenue will be derived by the country in order that these vast mineral deposits lying dormant at our very doors, for lack of railway facilities, may become a benefit to the country, petitioners earnestly hope that your Government may deem it incumbent to grant the usual subsidies of three thousand (three hundred) dollars per mile to the Norwood and Apsley Railway Company.

This Council assumes the bias and responsibility of asserting that this railway project originated with this Council and is in no sense a speculative undertaking by which any member directly or indirectly will derive or expect to derive any personal benefits or advantages other than the general good to the district as a whole. We are confident that if the subsidies now asked for are assured and confirmed by your Government, it will confer general and lasting benefits to this remote section of our county and assure its future agricultural prosperity, and more particularly the speedy development of its many mineral deposits of great value and would establish beyond the question of a doubt the construction of the railway. But by withholding the grant our most sanguine hopes must be blasted beyond any future success.

Although of secondary importance, it is nevertheless true, and young petitioners consider worthy of reference, the fact that this petition will give direct communication with that popular summer resort, Stony Lake, which is dotted with hundreds of beautiful islands, on which are built handsome cottages, and only a few miles distant from the shore of the beautiful lake known as the Kawartha Lakes, which abound with fish and are surrounded by rugged lofty hills and mountains of flooring, and the abundance of large and small game with picturesque and romantic views unsurpassed in the Province. With commodious and modern equipped hotels, and a large number of cottages, and frequent these lakes are a resort on account of the pure atmosphere recuperating many thousands during the heat of summer months.

And your petitioners therefore pray that your Government will aid in the construction of the Norwood and Apsley Railway as heretofore stated.

And your petitioners are in duty bound to pray.
 Geo. Stewart, J. W. Fitzgerald, County Clerk Warden

ROYAL-VICTORIA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA

Income and Reserves Largely Increased, Death Claims Much Below the Expectation. A Satisfactory Year's Business.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The regular annual meeting was held at the Head Office, Montreal, on the 27th March. Mr. James Crathern, the president, occupied the chair, and Mr. David Burke, General Manager, acted as Secretary.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.
 Your Board of Directors submit herewith their Annual Report and Financial Statement for the year 1900.

REVENUE.
 The cash income from premiums and interest reached the very satisfactory amount of $95,420.47, the ratio of increase compared with 1899, being over 40 per cent. The cash premiums actually paid to the Company by policy holders during the year show an average of $40.85 per thousand of insurance.

RESERVES.
 Your Directors having adopted a 5-1-2 per cent. interest basis for computing premiums to be charged on new policies issued after January 1st, 1900, all such policies have consequently been valued on the 5-1-2 per cent. interest basis in ascertaining the legal Reserve thereon. This conservative basis tends to produce a high ratio of reserves on insurance and annuities in force as shown by the fact that while the insurance increased 24 per cent., the Reserve thereon increased over 70 per cent.

DEATH CLAIMS.
 The claims by death occurred under six lives for a net amount of $4,845.00, which has been paid, with the exception of one policy for $1,000 held over awaiting proof of death from South Africa. The death claims were again much under the expectation, according to the Institute of Actuaries H.M. Mortality Table.

THE BUSINESS OF 1900 COMPARED WITH 1899 SHOWS AS FOLLOWS:

Premiums received (in cash).....	$ 84,418 68	Increase over 1899.....	42 per cent.
Interest received.....	9,001 79	Increase over 1899.....	30 per cent.
Total Cash Income.....	95,420 47	Increase over 1899.....	40 per cent.
Reserves.....	130,638 26	Increase over 1899.....	70 per cent.
Insurance in force.....	2,116,880 00	Increase over 1899.....	24 per cent.

The new business offered, amounting to $216,000 of which $80,500 was accepted and policies issued therefor, was not so large as the previous year. This contraction, which was experienced by nearly all companies, was partly due to the increase in premium rates on new business. This effect, however, seems now to a large extent to have passed away, and the indications are that during the year 1901 the new business will again expand to a reasonable volume.

The Assets of the Company, including the Paid-up and Guaranteed Capital, now amount to $1,072,865.51. The Directors again have to express their appreciation of the faithful services of the Agents and Staff of the Company. The books and securities have been regularly audited by Messrs. Macintosh & Hyde, Chartered Accountants, and their certificate is herewith attached to the Financial Statement.

The Directors retiring this year are Messrs. A. F. Gault, Samuel Finley, Hon. Jas. O'Brien, Dr. T. G. Roddick, and Rev. R. H. Warden, D.D., all of whom are eligible for re-election for the incoming term of three years. All of which is respectfully submitted.

DAVID BURKE, General Manager.
 DAVID CRATHERN, President.

There was a large attendance at the meeting. On motion of the President, Mr. James Crathern, seconded by Mr. Andrew P. Gault, Vice-President, the Directors' Report and Financial Statement was unanimously adopted, and the retiring Directors were re-elected for three years.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board, Mr. James Crathern was re-elected President, Mr. A. F. Gault, and Hon. J. J. Finley, Vice-President, and Dr. T. G. Roddick, Medical Director.

In moving the adoption of the Report, the President, Mr. Crathern, pointed out that the large increase in the cash income and Reserves of the Company during the year was a very satisfactory feature from two standpoints, first, showing the certainty of sufficient revenue to provide for all liabilities as they mature, which is one of the great safeguards to a Life Insurance Co., and secondly, to provide the accumulation and investment of Reserves on a conservative basis of interest, thereby placing aside sufficient funds to meet beyond doubt all liabilities of the future. The assets of the Company have during the year also increased to the amount of over $1,000,000.

The new business reported to the Insurance Department as taken up and paid for during the year, was only about $200,000 short of the previous year's business, notwithstanding that the premium rates on new insurance were, of necessity, advanced on January 1st, 1900, to comply with the lower rate of interest which the Canadian Government had established as a basis for calculating policy Reserves.

After the payment of Death Claims, and Annuities, and all charges in connection with the organization and establishment of the Company, including the cost of securing a volume of business out of which over $1,140,000 of insurance remains on our books, we have, in a little over three years, added $72,865.51 to our Capital and Assets. In connection with the securing of this business now remaining in force on our books, the Company has in the same time declined to accept or carry out, over $200,000 of additional business offered, which was not considered desirable.

In concluding the President said that in the organization and establishment of a Life Insurance Company, time was essential. Some of the most successful companies have been many years in placing on their books a volume of business equal to ours. In certain cases a large business had been secured within the same time, but the cost of good management was not in the amount of business written. The quality of a Life Company's business was best judged by the premiums received for carrying the risk, the proportion of insurance remaining in force, and the claims by death. The first, proved the extent of the company's resources; the second, the methods employed in getting business, as well as public confidence in the company; and the third, the care and good judgment exercised in accepting only good lives.

In concluding the adoption of the report, Mr. A. F. Gault, vice president, said: "In the work of his department and the results obtained, said that much of the credit was due to the examining doctors at the various agencies of the Company for the very favorable mortality experienced so far."

Since commencing business the net losses from mortality have only reached about 35 per cent of the expected losses. The regularly appointed staff of Medical Examiners throughout Canada, now on the company's registers, number about 500 physicians, carefully selected, in whose ability and integrity in the company's interests he had the fullest confidence. Dr. Roddick further stated that without unduly anticipating the continuance of such favorable mortality results in the future, as had thus far been experienced, he was, nevertheless, pleased to state that for the first three months of the present year, 1901, only one claim for $1,000 had fallen in.

"I am pleased again to be able to say the progress of our company has been very satisfactory, considering the many difficulties to be overcome in establishing a Life Insurance Company. Competition is perhaps greater in this class of insurance than in any other, and the number of companies competing is very large. The volume of business written, however, does not necessarily in every case ensure the making of profits. A high premium rate and a good quality of business are more favorable elements to ensure the building up of an institution of this kind."

Having full confidence in the scientific basis on which our company is established and conducted, I believe it is certain at an early date to be one of the leading insurance institutions of this country, and an important factor in the enormous growth and development of life insurance as represented by our Canadian companies, which is evidence that the people of this country believe in the soundness of their own institutions. Now that the company has established agencies in nearly all the important places in the Dominion, it is only reasonable to expect that the business for the current year will be proportionately increased."

RUSSIA WILL NOT LEAVE MANCHURIA

She Withdraws the Convention, but Troops Will Remain Until Order is Restored

London, April 6.—From the various contradictory reports regarding Russia and China things stand out clear. Russia is still in Manchuria, and says she will stay there, and retain her troops there until she is satisfied that law and order are restored, and China is capable of administering Manchuria, and providing the interests of the large number of Russian colonists who reside there. Eighteen years ago Great Britain made the same statement in Egypt, and she is master of that country to-day. Russia has taken a leaf out of Great Britain's diary, and no one who knows the tenacity of Russian policy doubts that she is in Manchuria to stay. It is true that she has withdrawn the Manchurian convention, and this is satisfactory, because it relieves the tension which has prevailed, but the date of withdrawal of her troops is not mentioned.

WHAT RUSSIA SAYS.
The official Messenger of St. Petersburg says that Russia's stand was taken because it considered it necessary to concern itself with the establishment of a permanent order of things in the Chinese territories, i.e., Manchuria, along the borders of which the Russian Asiatic territories extend for 5,000 miles. In order to provide for a permanent satisfactory civil administration in these territories Russia drew up the draft of a special agreement with China, which provided for the gradual withdrawal of the Russian troops as soon as the Chinese civil authorities were ready to administer Manchuria peacefully. Unfortunately, the foreign press regarding the intentions of Russia, and falsified texts of a secret agreement between China and Russia, reaching Manchuria to the latter, were sent abroad. As a matter of fact the agreement was to serve as a basis for the restoration to China of Manchuria, which had been occupied by Russian troops during the disturbances of last year. That could only be done when peace was restored, and a strong administration, powerful enough to prevent a recurrence of the disorders of last year, was established by the Chinese.

THE FRENCH VIEW.
From Paris comes a similar statement, coupled with the significant news that Russia will not withdraw her troops until the Chinese Government inspires confidence to Russia. The Parisian correspondent says that Russia's action in withdrawing from the Manchurian convention will greatly facilitate peace negotiations, but he concludes with a most significant remark as follows:
"At the same time the present Russian occupation of Manchuria is regarded here, rightly or wrongly, as a parallel case to the British occupation of Egypt, as de facto possession that will approach permanency as each year elapses."

UNITED STATES READY TO FIGHT WITH CASTRO

The Americans are Looking With Eagle Eye on Venezuela

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 6.—A dispatch to the Enquirer from San Juan de Puerto Rico says:—
Minister Loomis has not arrived, though cable despatches state that he left La Guayra for San Juan on the auxiliary cruiser S. Orpion, due yesterday morning. It is expected that the squadron will join the squadron at Culebra, whence daily despatches are received. There is no doubt that the Americans here profess ignorance of the whereabouts of Loomis.

THE SMALLPOX SCARE

The Disease Nothing New in Comparison With 100 Years Ago
There are at present perhaps 100 cases of smallpox in Ontario. The outbreak began in the lumber camps, and in view of the presence in Peterborough of many shantymen some timid folk have been uneasy. The question suggests itself, "What do the people of this century know by personal experience of the dread disease itself?" Compare the present condition of things in this respect with that of one hundred years ago.

At the beginning of the nineteenth century, if a man were to walk along the streets of any English city, half the people he met would be peck-marked; to-day a person might saunter down the Strand for blocks, or one might walk the crowded streets of Toronto for the whole afternoon, and not see a single pitted face. At that time it would have been difficult to find a single family, some of whose members had not suffered from the virulent plague, now most people will have difficulty in recalling a single case that has come under their personal knowledge.

During the ten years from 1780 to 1790, one hundred and eight out of every thousand deaths that occurred in London were from smallpox, and for the last half of that century the number of deaths from that cause was ninety-six to the thousand. Two thousand persons dying from it every year in that one city.

THE CHINESE COURT ANXIOUS TO RETURN

Li Hung Chang Says They Will Return to Peking as Soon as Foreign Troops Leave

Peking, April 7. Mr. Hockhill, United States special commissioner in Peking, had a long interview yesterday with Li Hung Chang, who satisfied him that there is not likely to be any further important hitch in the negotiations for a settlement between China and the Powers. China has agreed to the list of punishments submitted by the Ministers of the Powers, asking only one concession, namely, that the Emperor, instead of banishment in the case of a man who is seventy years of age. To this the Powers have agreed. Li Hung Chang says the Court is extremely anxious to return to Peking, as soon as the foreign troops evacuate the capital.

THE GRIM REAPER

ADAM C. THOMPSON.

The death occurred in Souris, Manitoba, on March 28th, of Adam C. Thompson, formerly of Ontario. Deceased was the youngest son of the late Charles Thompson, of Ontario, and moved to Manitoba just two years ago. He was married to Miss Fowler, daughter of Mr. John Fowler, who resides near Peterborough, who together with eight children are left to mourn his demise.

Besides those to mourn his loss, he has six brothers, Thomas, of Hiawatha, Walter, of Kenora, Andrew of Toronto, George, John and Charles, of California.

Mrs. John Cunningham, of town, is a niece of the deceased.

Mr. John A. Fowler, father of Mrs. Thompson, left last Friday for Manitoba, but did not arrive in time for the funeral.

The Souris Plaindealer has the following to say concerning Mr. Thompson's death:—
Mr. Adam C. Thompson, who has been confined to his bed this last few weeks, with an attack of pneumonia, succumbed at 4 a. m. yesterday. Mr. Thompson kept up his spirits well until last Thursday when the disease developed into double pneumonia. From that day little hopes were entertained for his recovery, and a sudden decline brought him to an end on Thursday morning.

Mr. Thompson is a well-known and respected citizen of our district, and we regret to have to record his death in the prime of his manhood, being 41 years old last January. A wife and eight children remain to mourn his loss. The funeral will take place on Saturday, April 7th, at 1:30 p. m. on Saturday for Glenwood Cemetery.

MRS. MARGARET SMYTH.

In the death of Margaret Smyth, of Ontario, which occurred on Thursday night, the township loses one of its oldest settlers. Deceased's maiden name was Margaret Little, daughter of the late Christopher Little, of Peterborough, Ireland, and was born here in the year 1813. She was, therefore, in the 88th year of her age. She came to the township in 1819, when but six years of age, settling in the township of Hamilton, where she was born, and where she married her late husband and resided for 23 years. She was a devoted and active Christian life. Her husband predeceased her about 24 years, and she has continued to reside on the homestead with her son, Mr. John Smyth. Three sons and one daughter survive. These are Rev. William, of St. Catharines, and Thomas and John, of Cayuga. Deceased was an ardent member of the Methodist church and was widely known as one of Ontario's oldest settlers, who was in excellent health and maintained all her faculties up until Saturday morning, when she was taken ill.

THE COST OF THE WAR

An Interesting Summary of the Cost of the Fighting in Africa

In an article on the economic side of the Boer war, Sir Robert Giffen takes rather an optimistic view of the situation, far more optimistic than that taken by the leaders of either of the two great English political parties, but nevertheless his summary is sufficiently interesting and serious. The total cost of the war he estimates at £100,000,000, a low figure, and the net loss to the mother country he estimates at £30,000,000 per annum. While the war is costing the mother country such large sums, Sir Robert thinks that South Africa generally has made a gain in money during the operations. The Transvaal gold mines, of course, have been subjected to a temporary suspension of operations, but on the other hand, the country has reaped large profits by selling its produce at a high figure to the British army. In Cape Colony and Natal the volume of imports and exports has been maintained and trade has been active. In the Transvaal and Orange Free State there has been some loss of live stock and buildings, but Sir Robert does not believe this loss to have been nearly so much as is generally supposed. The loss has been confined to the path traversed by the British army and as only a very small proportion of the farm houses were molested, the damage has been light. The greatest loss which has been suffered has been in the life and health of those who form the producing classes of the country.

DRANK BLOOD OF A SHARK.

Crew of French Barque Pyralis Wrecked in Mid-Sea Suffered Terrible Privations.

Cape Town, April 6.—The Norwegian barque Andromeda has landed at this port part of the crew of the French barque Pyralis, who, having been wrecked in mid-sea after having undergone terrible sufferings. The Pyralis, which was bound from Calcutta to Buenos Aires for the English channel, was wrecked on January 30. The Captain and thirteen men escaped, but the rest of the crew and the mate and five men were lost. The next day a sail was sighted and the mate's boat attempted to intercept it, but never returned. Several other ships were sighted, and the shipwrecked crew were unable to attract their attention. Rough weather increased their sufferings. When the small supply of food was exhausted a shark was caught, and the men drank its blood. The cook died insane, and a sailor also succumbed.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills a Wonderful Remedy

Sir,—It is because I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid that I ask you to publish some facts regarding Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills. I was for many years a sufferer from indigestion and stomach troubles. I could not digest my food, I was constipated, and it was only by injections that I could get relief. Physicians did me no good. I was reduced to a skeleton and could hardly walk. I tried a first resort, I tried a box of these pills, and the improvement was so marked that I continued taking them. I have now taken twelve boxes, never remember being so well in my life. I have gained 25 pounds, and am putting on more flesh daily. I am a living, walking advertisement, and consider no trouble too great in order to spread the fame of Dr. Clarke's Pills. A. F. Jones, Lockport, N.Y., Peterborough, Ont.

Too Much Money
A young New York man's suicide is attributed by his most intimate acquaintances to the fact that he had too much money. This is a novel reason for self-destruction. Still wealth is so rapidly increasing that sociologists need not fear an attack on their doctrine that suicide increases as civilization advances. There are, nevertheless, men who will submit to having any amount of money and still live—Russell Sage, who has a hundred millions and is 85 years old, for example. Mr. Sage works every day except Sunday, but his interest goes on seven days in the week.

A BIG INCREASE

The first census of the British empire, which, by the way, was taken thirty years ago, showed a total population of 230,000,000. It has been estimated that when the present census is concluded it will show that Edward VII. has dominion over 400,000,000 subjects.

London, April 6.—The Duke of Manchester appeared in the Bankruptcy Court this morning for public examination, but the case was adjourned to May 10. It was represented that Mr. Zimmerman, the Duke's father-in-law, had just arrived in England and was investigating the debtor's affairs, and that, therefore, it would be for the creditors to adjourn the case until the investigation should be completed. This is taken as an intimation that Mr. Zimmerman proposes to extricate his son-in-law from his embarrassments.

A LUMBER PROBLEM

The Demand for Railway Ties in the State and Can. Exceeds the Supply

The number of railway ties turned out in the United States and Canada is something enormous, and yet the demand exceeds the supply. The Canada Lumberman, whose statements are always reliable, has an article in its March issue on which it is pointed out that there are about 200,000 miles of main track in the United States at the present time. It is estimated by railroad men that about 400 ties to the mile are each year required for replacements; the average number of ties to the mile is 2,500, and the average life of a tie is seven years. There is therefore required on the present railroad mileage of the country about 82,000,000 ties annually for replacements, with another 14,000,000 needed for new track, assuming that the construction is about 5,000 miles annually. There is thus a total use in excess of 96,000,000 ties a year. Something over a year ago it was estimated that of the 80,000,000 ties then said to be used for renewals each year, 42,000,000 were of oak, 12,500,000 of pine, 2,500,000 of chestnut, 5,000,000 of cedar, 2,500,000 of hemlock and tamarac, 1,500,000 of redwood, and 2,500,000 of cypress.

HATS OFF IN CHURCH

As Says Mr. Hunter to the Ladies who Attend Services

The Quinsley-Hunter-Ladies-Hospital Scheme, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Hunter, was discussed last night in the Quinsley-Hunter-Hospital. Among the editorialists contributed to the Quinsley-Hunter-Hospital was the following:—
"It would greatly contribute to the interest, pleasure and profit of church services, if the ladies were to remove their hats during the delivery of the sermon. This is a woman's custom in many churches in the United States, and we are informed that ladies remove their hats in theatres in our own country. Certainly church-going people should consider the convenience of others as much as those who attend the theatres."

NO MORE HORSES FROM NEW ORLEANS

British Government Could Get More Animals, but None are Needed

New York, April 6.—According to a Washington special to The Tribune, a statement has been sent from the Department of Justice to the United States District Court at New Orleans which will stop such actions as that recently brought by agents of the Boer Republic to prevent the shipment of mules and horses to South Africa purchased in this country by British Officers. The ruling of the department in effect is that the courts of the United States cannot sit in judgement in litigation between two other governments.

Crew of French Barque Pyralis Wrecked in Mid-Sea Suffered Terrible Privations.

Cape Town, April 6.—The Norwegian barque Andromeda has landed at this port part of the crew of the French barque Pyralis, who, having been wrecked in mid-sea after having undergone terrible sufferings. The Pyralis, which was bound from Calcutta to Buenos Aires for the English channel, was wrecked on January 30. The Captain and thirteen men escaped, but the rest of the crew and the mate and five men were lost. The next day a sail was sighted and the mate's boat attempted to intercept it, but never returned. Several other ships were sighted, and the shipwrecked crew were unable to attract their attention. Rough weather increased their sufferings. When the small supply of food was exhausted a shark was caught, and the men drank its blood. The cook died insane, and a sailor also succumbed.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills a Wonderful Remedy

Sir,—It is because I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid that I ask you to publish some facts regarding Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills. I was for many years a sufferer from indigestion and stomach troubles. I could not digest my food, I was constipated, and it was only by injections that I could get relief. Physicians did me no good. I was reduced to a skeleton and could hardly walk. I tried a first resort, I tried a box of these pills, and the improvement was so marked that I continued taking them. I have now taken twelve boxes, never remember being so well in my life. I have gained 25 pounds, and am putting on more flesh daily. I am a living, walking advertisement, and consider no trouble too great in order to spread the fame of Dr. Clarke's Pills. A. F. Jones, Lockport, N.Y., Peterborough, Ont.

For sale by Ormond and Walsh, Dr. Clarke's Sure Cure for Catarrh, same price. $100 will be paid for any one that will not permanently cure. For sale by Ormond and Walsh, Peterborough, Ont.

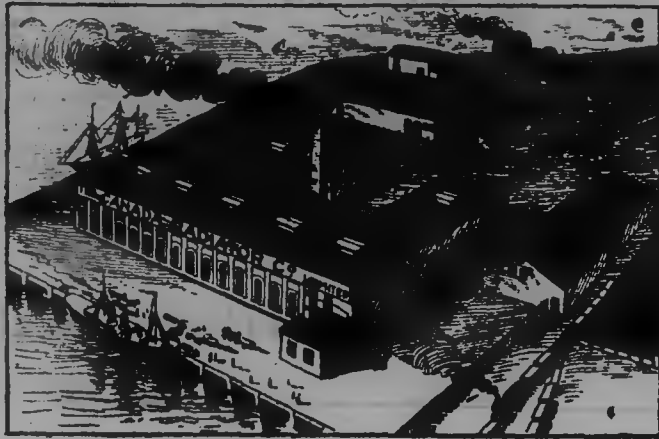

Too Much Money

A young New York man's suicide is attributed by his most intimate acquaintances to the fact that he had too much money. This is a novel reason for self-destruction. Still wealth is so rapidly increasing that sociologists need not fear an attack on their doctrine that suicide increases as civilization advances. There are, nevertheless, men who will submit to having any amount of money and still live—Russell Sage, who has a hundred millions and is 85 years old, for example. Mr. Sage works every day except Sunday, but his interest goes on seven days in the week.

A BIG INCREASE

The first census of the British empire, which, by the way, was taken thirty years ago, showed a total population of 230,000,000. It has been estimated that when the present census is concluded it will show that Edward VII. has dominion over 400,000,000 subjects.

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62064, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet. This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto, or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock or radiators.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, APRIL 8, 1901

The Bill Passed

The bill, respecting the Town of Peterborough and the Village of Ashburnham, had its third reading in the Legislature on Friday morning, and is now law of the land.

FRESH CHOCOLATES

and Bon-Bons at Babb's Confectionery, also night. W. BATES, opp. Oriental.

Don't Want to Play in Your Yard

There was to be a meeting at the Oriental Hotel on Friday afternoon for reorganization of the Midland Baseball League. Delegates were promised from Oshawa, Cobourg and Port Hope, but only the Port Hope men appeared. Cobourg and Oshawa sent no explanation.
As a result nothing definite is known yet, to the probability of the league being revived. It is believed that Lindsay does not intend reorganizing, although that the Midland League will be organized of only four clubs, in any event, this season.

Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. William Armstrong of Chesley Farm, Oshawa, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage on Tuesday last. Of the family present were four sons and two daughters, Mr. J. G.
Armstrong of Smith, Mr. Fred Armstrong of Oshawa, Mr. Samuel Armstrong of Oshawa, Mr. John Armstrong and Miss Armstrong, residing at home and Mrs. Knox of Amherst. Mr. Bert Armstrong, of Maple Creek, found it impossible to be present. There were other friends and relatives of the family in attendance, and a very delightful time was spent. Among the gifts was a handsome chair, presented by Mr. Armstrong by his sons.

Lakefield Local

While playing with a revolver in Lakefield, Reggie Meredith, aged 12 years, met a companion, James Weale, in the foot. The injured boy was brought to Dr. Brown's surgery in Peterborough, where, by the aid of the X Rays, the bullet was found hidden under a bone and removed by Drs. Brown and McCallough.

On Thursday, before County Magistrate

Edmund, Robert Godfrey pleaded guilty to the charge of being drunk and risi-ciously and was fined $2.00. Several others who were to have been up on a like charge had left for the shanties before they could be served.

A man named Bull and his wife, from Bridgewater, were arrested on Tuesday evening, charged with keeping a disorderly house. They will come up for a hearing to-morrow.

HYMENIAL

At St. Andrew's Manse, Thursday, Mr.
William Thompson and Miss Annie F.
Scott of Oshawa, were married by Rev.
J. J. Scott. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will carry with them to their new home in Detroit the very best wishes of many friends.

Mr. J. O. Oates de L'epante, the popular young barrister, of town, left for Detroit, where he will wed Miss Rose Albright, only daughter of Mr. Joseph Albright, of Detroit.

THOUSANDS ARE DYING IN CENTRAL SIBERIA

Kirghiz Women Obligated to Kill Their Children to Save Them From Starving

Settlers Eat Weeds and Bread Mixed With Clay—Terrible Extremities to Which Western and Central Siberia Have Been Reduced by Famine

London, April 8. Distressing details have been received regarding the great famine which has already been reported as raging in the greater part of Western and Central Siberia. At present a great part of Tomsk and Tobolsk and the whole of the Akmoinsk district are suffering from the effects of the failure of the crops last summer. During the whole of the spring of 1900 but a drop of rain fell in these districts, the fields were furrowed with ravines, and the grain and hay crops when they came up at all were burnt up before harvesting. Last summer the peasants, owing to want of fodder, were forced to sell their cattle and horses at a price of from half to one-fifth of their former value. On the top of the disaster came the cholera outbreak, which disorganized the whole country. The railway was occupied with troops and stores, and the peasants whose holdings were not devastated by the drought were called up to join the reserves, leaving their crops to rot. The immigrants who entered the country in the spring of last year are in particularly bad condition, as before they had exceeded in settling on the land the famine had come, the price of food rose rapidly, and wages fell owing to the rush of starving peasants into the towns.

Thousands of immigrants are now wandering in beggary from town to town, and dying in the snow. The more fortunate settlers are reduced to eating liquorice, weeds, and bread mixed with clay. The condition of the Kirghizes in the steppes is even worse than that of the northern peasants. The whole of the Akmoinsk district is devastated, and the absence of towns, industries, and educated persons who could call attention to the state of the country, has resulted in leaving them without help. The Kirghiz herds have been reduced by half, and it will take years before they recover their former prosperity. The steppes are infested with American and Russian peddlers, who buy the trinkets and valuable of the natives for a trifle. A handful of flour thrown into cold water is the only food of the majority of Kirghizes. Horses are sold for three roubles, and many Kirghiz women have been reduced to killing their children in order to save them from the worse death of starvation. The sale of children in the towns has become quite common. In Irkutsk bread has risen in price 150 per cent. and owing to the military occupation of the railway it was impossible to send food from Russia until too late.

Too much rain. Even Eastern Siberia, hitherto the most prosperous part of the country, has been overtaken by famine. In this case the famine is the consequence of too much rain. Nearly all last summer rain fell continuously, flooding the fields and ruining the crops. Bread is practically unobtainable, and hay has risen in price 60 per cent. The prosperous peasants have been reduced to living on sodden potatoes, and the poorer are subsisting on roots. The mortality among children has risen to more than double its ordinary height. The whole country is ravaged by typhus and diphtheria, and scurvy is now setting in. The Siberian papers bitterly complain that the Government has done nothing to lighten taxation, even temporarily. Even in comparison with European Russia, Siberia is enormously will find homelike surroundings, reading matter, etc. Mr. George Williamson spoke for the Y.M.C.A., telling of the good work done by the Association in extending wholesome influences to strangers. After a solo by Miss Godfrey, the Rev. Robert Harkness, of Rutherford, who has spent seven years in Japan, delivered a thoughtful and vigorous address on the subject, "The Worker's Outlook." Rev. D. O. Crossley followed with "Impressions from Abroad," giving an account of his observations in California, where he found "devilish wickedness," and attributed much of it to the fact that the majority of the people do not keep the Sabbath. After a beautiful solo by Miss Myrtle Henderson and a vote of thanks to those who had assisted the Endeavorers, the meeting was closed with prayer by Rev. Robert Harkness. In spite of exceedingly disagreeable weather the attendance was large, and the convention is pronounced the most successful yet held.

MAKING NEW YORK HOWL

A Woman Well Known in Peterborough Uses Some Strong Language

She Courts Arrest for the sake of the Free Advertising She Will Get Thereby. A Remarkable Woman With a Peculiar Record.

It is some years since Mrs. Margaret L. Shepherd visited Peterborough, and the promise which she made the other day, as reported by the New York press, of an early return to Ontario, will make her present movements of interest to our readers.

Mrs. Shepherd, who calls herself Sister Magdalene Adelaide, is making a big disturbance in New York, by her attacks on the Roman Catholic church, and especially on the convent system of that church. While in Peterborough she did the same thing, offering her book for sale, and disposing of hundreds of copies. For many nights she filled the Opera House to the doors, many being turned away for want of room.

If Mrs. Margaret L. Shepherd, is not arrested in New York for circulating alleged obscene literature, it will not be her fault, nor the fault of the Roman Catholic clergy. The Rev. William F. McGinnis of the International Catholic Truth Society, and other Catholics, have been working hard to have Mrs. Shepherd arrested. She is just as anxious to be arrested as her adversaries are to have her arrested.

So far the Catholic Truth Society have failed to cause the apprehension of Sister Magdalene Adelaide. The efforts made last week were fruitless, but the clergy were not discouraged. Monday morning the Rev. W. McGinnis, the Rev. Mr. Hennevey and several of their associates in the International Truth Society, called upon District Attorney Clarke to urge the indictment of Mrs. Shepherd. They made the same request of the District Attorney on Saturday without result, and they were rather indignant that no action in law had been taken to protect their church from Mrs. Shepherd's attacks. Their second visit to Mr. Clarke was as fruitless as the first. All they got was advice. The District Attorney told them frankly that he thought they had made a big mistake in bringing public attention to Mrs. Shepherd and advertising her attacks on the Catholic church. He pointed out the fact that very few persons would ever have heard of Mrs. Shepherd had not the society tried to put a stop to her work. Whereas now, the whole public knows of her and is aroused to a high pitch of curiosity, which is proving quite profitable to Mrs. Shepherd. Mr. Clarke asked the clergymen if they had consulted Bishop McDonnell before proceeding against Mrs. Shepherd. They informed him that they had talked with Mr. McNamara, the next in authority, who they said, had advised them they had the right on their side and ought in justice to the Roman Catholic church to proceed against Mrs. Shepherd. They were advised to see the Bishop.

District Attorney Clarke has positively refused to take any action against Mrs. Shepherd until the matter is presented to him in the regular course of legal procedure. He told the clergymen they must first carry the case to a police magistrate and let it reach the District Attorney's office in the regular way. Immediately after leaving Mr. Clarke, the Catholic priests called upon Judge Brenner, in the Adams street police court, and demanded a warrant for Mrs. Shepherd. They didn't get it, but the judge would not refuse to issue one. He wanted time to study up the law on the subject. Monday afternoon he was quite busy looking up authorities on obscene publications. He had found one section of the code which says it is illegal to circulate obscene publications, even under the guise of religious work. The book which the Catholics claim is an obscene publication is sold by Mrs. Shepherd at the close of all her lectures against Catholicism. It is called "Secret Confession to the Priest Exposed," and is sold together with a very elaborate and bulky story of her own life, three years of which she is said to have spent as a nun. Mrs. Shepherd claims that the book on secret confession quotes mainly from Gury's "Theology," which it alleges, is a book used by students for the priesthood in the United States and Canada. The book is said to illustrate the obscene questions which are alleged to be asked of the priests of those who are at confession.

The questions touch upon the confessing penitent's relations with the opposite sex. Mrs. Shepherd is doing a flourishing business since the Catholic Truth Society started out after her. She held a meeting Sunday night, and got 15 cents each from every one present. They she compelled all the women to take off their hats and plunged into her scathing denunciation of the Catholic priesthood. She announced that she wanted Father McGinnis to have her arrested as she did not fear the courts and had some questions to ask the father which he would not like to answer.

Mrs. Shepherd's plans are kept to herself, but it is understood that she has asked for her bill at the hotel, where she is stopping and it may be that she intends to leave New York.

Kalter McGinnis was seen by a Times representative. "If I am not telling the truth," said Mrs. Shepherd, according to a report of the proceedings in the hands of the priest, "why don't they arrest me?" In consideration of the fact that she seemed to be anxious to pose in the role of a martyr and that little girl would be accomplished by her arrest, it was decided for the present nothing should be done. Father McGinnis has said, however, that the case of the woman was still under advisement by the prosecuting authorities of the country and that it was possible that something might be done on Monday.

The priest explained that he had been very much interested in the case of the woman and that he had been successful in preventing her from leaving in Trenton, N.J.

"It was two weeks ago," he said, "organizing a branch of the society and while there learned that she had advertised to speak at the Masonic Hall. The society which I represent has learned much about the woman and I was able to submit to the owners of the hall some of my information. Now, you know, the Masonic fraternity is not particularly friendly to the Catholic Church, but in spite of that they decided that the contract for the rent of the hall should be annulled."

"They gave her back the money she paid as a deposit on the rent of the hall and told her that she could not use for the purpose for which she had engaged it. The money given back to her amounted to $15.00, which was 50 per cent. of the rental. The management were willing to break their contracts and this woman allowed it to be broken without a murmur."

"I have had agents at her lectures, two of them purchased the books, and I also had a stenographer, a Protestant girl, take a shorthand report of her statements. The copy was given to me and I understand that the young woman said she would not go back again to listen to her story for $50. Just what we intend to do about the case I cannot say. The facts are in the possession of District Attorney Clarke, and he may take action on Monday. At present there is a disposition, however, to take no action against her in the criminal courts."

Patric McGinnis says that he has a history of the woman since the time of early life in Bristol, England.

LONG LOST PORTRAIT HAS BEEN RECOVERED

Report of the Finding of the Famous Painting of Duchess of Devonshire Confirmed

Liverpool, April 8.—Mr. C. Moreland Agnew, upon his arrival here on the steamer Eurymia this morning, admitted that he had the Gainsborough portrait of the Duchess of Devonshire. Gainsborough's portrait of the Duchess of Devonshire, one of the famous pictures in the world, was stolen from the art rooms of William Agnew & Sons, in Old Bond street, London, on the night of May 5, 1876. The picture was cut from its frame, and its disappearance remained one of the art world's mysteries. The picture was first exhibited at the Royal Academy in London in 1783. It attracted attention at once, and was sold at various times, the last time being at the rooms of the famous art auctioneers, Christie, Manson & Woods, in St. James square, on the evening of May 5, 1876. After the picture was sold for 10,000 guineas to William Agnew, now Sir William Agnew, the son or member of the firm of William Agnew & Sons.

The next day the painting was removed to the rooms of the Agnews in Old Bond street and placed on exhibition. The rooms were closed as usual on the evening of May 25, and when they were opened again the next morning the Agnews were confronted by the empty frame. They offered a reward of £1,000. No clue was found which led to any definite results, and after the excitement had died down there came to be a suspicion among art dealers and critics that the Agnews, having proved to their own satisfaction that they had bought only a copy of a genuine Gainsborough, had it destroyed themselves, that they might not be accused of selling again a spurious picture.

REBELS TO BE PUNISHED BY DEATH

Will go in Force

Cape Town, April 8. WIFE'S ELOPEMENT DIDN'T WORRY HIM

All He Wanted Back Was the Deed to the Farm

Woodstock, April 8.—Frank B. Hughes of St. Charles, Mich., a husky, six-foot farmer, arrived in town Wednesday and broke up two happy homes. Hughes' advent in Woodstock is the sequel of the elopement of his wife and his hired man, and his son and his hired man's sister, a year ago last spring.

Hughes married the woman who eloped with his hired man seven years ago, and bought a small farm at St. Charles. Last spring he hired Frank Hill and soon after the hired man came there he became convinced that his wife was false to him. He renounced his wife of infidelity, but she denied any fault. Shortly afterwards she sold all the farm stock, and a couple of weeks later Hughes' farm house was mysteriously burned down. Mrs. Hughes held the insurance policy in her own name and she collected the $500 for which it was insured. A few days later, Frank Hill, the hired man, Mrs. Hughes, Arthur Hughes, her son, and Bessie Hill, the hired man's sister, disappeared. Hughes did not worry about his son's or his wife's disappearance, but the absence of the deed to the farm kept him awake at night, and he determined to recover it if possible. He intercepted a letter from Hill to his mother and discovered that the elopers were at Woodstock. He came here on Friday and sought the aid of the police. Before a search warrant which he secured could be executed he signed Hill on the street and made a dash for him. Hill saw trouble coming, sprang for the open country and escaped. The house in Henry street, where the elopers lived, was searched and the deed was recovered. Young Hughes and Hill left town Saturday night. Bessie Hill also is in town and is now in the Ind gens' Home in Detroit. Mrs. Hughes is still here.

While here Hill and Mrs. Hughes called on Mr. and Mrs. Bailey. Young Hughes and Miss Hill traveled as Mr. and Mrs. Arthurs. The men worked at Woodstock, Mich., on a charge of counterfeiting. They were arrested at Wilson, Mich., and jumped their bail.

A Boy Criminal. C. W. V. V. V. April 8.—In the Circuit Court today the jury in the case of Charles Crawford, the eleven-year-old boy who was charged with the murder of his brother Frank, because he refused to let him have a gun to hunt, found him guilty of voluntary manslaughter, and he was sentenced to the Reform School until he is 18 years old. The father of the boy is serving a six-year term in the penitentiary for attempting to murder his brother-in-law, and is also under indictment for forgery.

The Protection of Kings. In view of the recent and current attempts upon the lives of King, Emperor and Czar, the London Spectator considers the precautions that can be taken to protect the persons of sovereigns. "The man who could devise a scheme to make their assassination impossible," it says, "would do a service to the world. He would return to monarchs their serenity and therefore their judicial sense."

Even imprisonment for life in a guarded palace is not perfect security, as the undermining of the Czar's country residence has just proved. Penalties appear to be futile, for the fanatic assassins are not hindered by the certainty of death or torture. Police protection does not suffice, as numerous instances prove. Rapid driving through the streets, kept clear for the royal progress, a device of Napoleon which many kings have adopted, is not sufficient in these days of bombs. Emperor William has instituted a body-guard on bicycles and has armed his coachman and footman. The Oriental method of employing a "taster" to sample all dishes as a safeguard against poison is practised in the Czar's household.

Against the attacks of individual cranks or madmen ordinary precautions will hardly avail. And when, as at present in Russia, multitudes of the people desire the death of the Czar, as a protest against tyranny and oppression, of which he is to them the symbol if not the cause, the difficulties of protection are enormously increased. The ruling spirit in the Russian despotism seems incapable of learning the truth that the only remedy for injustice is justice, and that the best protection of sovereignty lies in the propriety, the gratitude and the affection of their people.

If the mind were free in Russia, as the N. Y. World says, there would be no Russian among us. If speech were free the Czar would learn of the wrongs done to his people of which he is now probably ignorant. If justice were evenhanded there would be no talk of anarchy. The trouble in the archaic autocracy of Russia is that they are trying to repress the irrepressible. When gunpowder and fire meet there is bound to be an explosion.

CANADIANS CHARGE IN WILD WEST STYLE

They Drove the Boers From a Position Which Could Not be Flanked

Dewet and Botha Join Forces—Sketch of the Situation in South Africa as at Present Developing—A Fine Sword for French

Durban, Natal, April 8.—Details which are arriving here of Gen. French's successful operations in the Eastern Transvaal show that in one engagement the Canadian charged at a foot position in the Tlofalo Hill style, firing as they galloped on. The Boers were in a position where they could not have been flanked, and where it was almost impossible to dislodge them, but by the forward charge of the Canadians they were forced to yield. Scores of Boers with their families have surrendered at Melmoth, Zululand, and others are following their example, at different places.

DI WET JOINS BOTHA. London, Monday, April 8.—A despatch to the Times from Kromaat states that it has been definitely ascertained that General De Wet and Botha have met at Verde. The return of Gen. De Wet's followers to the northern part of the Orange River colony has been signalled by increased activity among the Boers. The railway has been damaged on three successive nights.

FIGHTING IN FOUR DISTRICTS. London, April 8.—South African operations are followed with difficulty, owing to the meagreness of the despatches. There are four districts in which hostilities are in progress. Gen. French has virtually cleared the Eastern Transvaal and broken up the Boer commandos; Pumer is advancing northward along the railway from Pretoria, and meeting with little resistance, the columns which have been thrown off the neck, for there is no authentic information respecting his movements; the raiders are still on the edge of Cape Colony, near Krikskinder and other Boer leaders have not succeeded in crossing the Orange River. General Kitchener has no opportunity for brilliant strategy, but he is doing his work with scientific thoroughness, and slowly wearing out the resources of Boer endurance. The Government has decided to send 30,000 more men, but it need not be supposed that the war will come to an immediate end in consequence. After the arrival of the promised 30,000 reinforcements, for every soldier landed in South Africa one ought to be sent home.

DEER GUN FOUND. London, April 8.—A news agency despatch from Heidelberg states that the British have found a 17-inch gun which has been abandoned by the Boers. It is presumably the same gun that was captured from the British at Heletia on December 28.

SWORD FOR FRENCH. Cape Town, April 8.—The sum of £361 has been subscribed in Kimberley for the purchase of a sword of honor and a silver casket for Gen. French. The De Beers Mining Company has given 20 diamonds, which will be set in the crossbar of the sword.

Collision Caused by North Star. Buffalo, N.Y., April 8.—Judge Habel today handed down an interlocutory decree in the case of the steamer Sir William Siemens and consort, Alexander Holley, against the steamer North Star.

This libel case grew out of a collision which occurred in St. Mary's River in 1899, and the De Beers Mining Company, owners of the Siemens and Holley, place the amount of damage done at $39,813. The decree places the responsibility for the collision upon the North Star, owned by the Northern Steamship Company. There are special rules for the navigation of St. Mary's River, and the De Beers Mining Company claimed that the North Star violated or the collision would not have occurred. The defense claimed that in a general way the navigation laws of the great lakes had been obeyed by the North Star.

Judge Habel decided that St. Mary's River rules applied to St. Mary's River and therefore issued the decree, as before stated. The De Beers Mining Company will have to prove the amount of damages sustained before they can collect on the Northern Steamship Company.

ATTACKED GIRLS WITH HATCHET. Halifax, N.S., April 8.—An Italian mail operative, Giovanni Lautere, was arrested here today charged with assaulting and seriously injuring four persons. It is alleged that during the night he stole into the house of Enrico Mazzello, a young woman who had rejected his matrimonial advances, and armed himself with a hatchet, crept upstairs to the room occupied by the young woman and two other Italian girls.

After cutting their clothing into shreds with a pair of scissors, he attacked the sleeping girls with the hatchet. Their cries awakened the other inmates of the house, and seeing them an one man, Enrico Del Pozzo, going to their assistance, was seized with the hatchet and his skull fractured. The Mazzello girl's skull was fractured also and the other young woman was badly cut. Lautere made his escape, but was arrested today.

The old man and the three girls were removed to the Rhode Island Hospital. The two with fractured skulls are in a precarious condition.

The Famale in India. London, April 8.—The depopulation of India through famine and cholera is assuming alarming proportions. The latest advices from Simla say the census returns of the central provinces show a decrease of over a million since 1891, when an increase of a million and a half might have been expected. It is estimated that five millions have died in India since 1896 from causes directly due to the famine. In Western India things are even worse. The Codepoor State returns show a decrease of 140,000 or 15 per cent. of the population; the State of Bhopal shows a decrease of 500,000; the District of Banda shows a decrease of 124,000, and so on. In Bombay city the population will have diminished by 50,000. The localities which escaped the plague show a satisfactory though unimpressive increase. For instance, Madras has gained 32 per cent. over 1891.

Strand Story. Evansville, Ind., April 8.—Mrs. North Cotton, one of the prettiest women in Spencer County, living near Gentryville, left there with Albert Sampson, who was employed by her husband, and they are supposed to be in St. Louis. The husband followed the couple as far as Huntington, where they were located at a hotel. Cotton begged his wife to return home with him, saying he had forgiven her, but she would not consent. Finally Cotton kissed his wife good-bye and went to the depot to see her off with Sampson. He returned to his home, and says he will never marry again. He was married last August. Cotton is a wealthy farmer.

ESTATE NOTICE. All persons indebted to the estate of the late DR. R. KING are requested to pay or arrange for settlement of amounts due at the office, corner Charlotte and Stewart streets.

As the books must be closed and made up before the hands for collection on April 2nd, it is imperative that attention be paid to above request.

PROSPECTUS — OF THE — Canada Radiator Company, Limited

FACTORY AND WORKS AT PORT HOPE

Authorized Capital $150,000. In 3,000 Shares of $50 Each.

DIRECTORS:

FERGUS J. TRAVERS, Toronto, Manufacturer, President
ALEXANDER STEWART, " Wholesale Merchant, Vice-President
RICHARD J. HODGE, " Accountant, Secretary-Treasurer
FRED S. WATSON, Toronto, Merchant, C. A. SMITH, Port Hope, Proprietor Oshawa Canning Co

SOLICITORS, WM. MORTIMER CLARK & GRAY

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62064, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet. This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock or radiators.

Dated at Toronto this 18th day of February, A. D. 1901.

EXPOSITION BEAUTY.

PUTTING THE RAINBOW COLORS ON ONE OF BIG BUILDINGS.

Early Hints of What the Visitors May See of Molded Plastic Ornamentation and Color Decoration at Pan-American Exposition.

It is now possible to go somewhat more into detail regarding the plastic and color work upon the various buildings of the Pan-American Exposition. The most advanced of the buildings is that to be devoted to machinery. The staff upon the exterior of this edifice is now nearly all in place, and the great structure is in the hands of the color artists.

Though a very large building, 500 by 350 feet, the four facades are so broken by architectural features that there is nothing of monotony or severity. Every one who has the good fortune to visit the grounds during this advanced stage of development unhesitatingly applauds the happy results of both the architectural and color schemes.

In order that the reader may have a correct understanding let me first describe the molded work with which the exterior of the building is ornamented. By means of the very ingenious production known as staff, which is made out of white plaster, into which liberal quantities of manila fiber have been mixed in order to make it tough and durable, the Exposition buildings are given the appearance of solidity and massiveness as well as the beauty of richly carved stone. But, since the material is not stone, the idea of adding color to the work has been suggested. How to apply the color so that it would lighten the beauty of the work has taxed the ingenuity of the most famous mural painter of the world, Mr. Charles Y. Turner of New York.

The very intricate character of the staff work and the vast amount of it in delicate designs offered a most formidable task. All four of the broad facades of the building have an arched effect. Every window is a deeply recessed arch, with wide soffits and casings. Every entrance is composed of one or more high arches, with massive pillars at the sides, and every pillar and pilaster is of very elaborate detail. Every window is grilled and finished with fidelity to the most artistic ideas of architects of the Spanish Renaissance, from which the general architectural scheme of the Exposition is derived.

At the four corners of the great building are four towers, with open pavilions, 50 feet above the ground. Above the great arched entrances on

MACHINERY AND TRANSPORTATION BUILDING the east and west sides are massive domes. Two very tall towers rise above both the north and south entrances and help to complete two wonderful architectural compositions. Imagine, if you can, the delicate and beautiful character of this unique work. Some one has said it reminded the observer of a skillful confectioner's best achievements in a fancy wedding cake many times exaggerated. The comparison is not inappropriate perhaps, for the Exposition celebrates a closer union of the several Americas, and in the original white the wonderful compositions of staff which crown these towers possessed the apparent delicacy of one of these marvelous creations of the confectioner.

But color has been added, and the white has disappeared. The likeness is no longer there. The brilliant colors that the Moors loved so steadfastly hundreds of years ago in Granada and Andalusia have been revived, better than the originals. The majestic columns and fancy pillars look like carved ivory. The arabesques have a background of brilliant shades such as yellows, pinks and reds of varying degrees of brightness. The round domes have bands of green and other shades. The roofs are all of red tile. The broad eaves are upheld by substantial brackets that resemble rose wood carved in intricate design. The lofty towers present a radiance of blues, reds and gold. Medallions of Erickson and other famous men who have given the world wonderful machinery are surrounded with a glow of color.

Difficult or impossible as it may seem to the reader to employ brilliant colors so freely upon a great building such as this without destroying its grandeur and cheapening its appearance, the problem has been magnificently worked out, and the effect is not merely pleasing and harmonious, but the work is an artistic triumph that every person from far and near will delight to see. The wonderful harmony of the many colors that have been used is at once observed, and there is no one feature of the Exposition that has aroused more popular interest than the great color scheme. With the 20 or more other big buildings, all aglow with color and adorned with richly molded plastic work, the effect will be a profound surprise to those who have visited other Expositions.

THEIR FAME SPREADING

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills a Wonderful Remedy

Sir,—It is because I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid that I ask you to publish some facts regarding Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills. I was for many years a sufferer from indigestion and stomach troubles. I could not digest my food. I was constive, and it was only by injections that I could get relief. Physicians did me no good. I was reduced to a skeleton and could hardly walk. As a first resort I tried a box of these pills, and the improvement was so marked that I continued taking them. I have now taken twelve boxes, never remembering being so well in my life. I have gained 32 pounds, and am putting on more flesh daily. I am a living, walking advertisement, and consider no trouble too great in order to spread the fame of Dr. Clarke's Pills. A. F. Jones, Lockport, N.Y., Peterborough, Ont.

THE Le Roi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 1/2 shares went to $25, or $10 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the Le Roi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such a extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 500,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have day, to settle a little difficulty which had arisen between them. It appears that Mrs. Cunningham claims that she has been the victim of slanderous statements concerning her acquaintance with Mr.

Thompson, the husband of the above mentioned defendant. After hearing some evidence, the Magistrate gave the women some good advice and dismissed the case.

The Ontario Government has awarded the contract for electric wiring of the seymon building in a firm in Toronto, says the Cobourg Post. It is the intention to advertise for tenders for plastering and the metallic work required, and as this is to be done at once, the prospect is that the building will be completed in time for occupation on the first of October. The government has asked for tenders for almost everything except tearing down the old walls and some small work about the interior, and the lowest tender has been accepted nearly everytime.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN

—Lt. Gerald Hayward, of Lakefield, has joined the South African Constabulary.

—The Peterborough Planning Mills
have been started up again. Mr. J. D.
Baptie having renewed his lease of the mill.

—Langour and weakness, due to the depleted condition of the blood, are overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great purifier.

—We welcome the Lindsay Post to our sanctuaries once more, the premises of our contemporary having been put in order again after the fire.

—We are pleased to learn that the little daughter of J. W. Byers, who was taken to the hospital some time ago with diphtheria, is now gradually improving.

—If you have a piano or are interested in music, send your name and address to Wm. M. Annis, 1123 Broadway, and he will send 4 pieces of new music absolutely FREE.

—The Trent Valley Canal Association will send a delegation to Ottawa on April 12th to interview the Minister of Railways and Canals and press for the early completion of the remaining sections of the great work.

—People generally do not know that while Mr. W. H. Brown is in the theatrical business they are also farmers and stock raisers, and at Perth they own a splendid farm on which they raise some of the best cattle, swine and sheep shown at the fairs in Ontario and Quebec.

—The Belleville Cemetery Co. have dedicated two fine plots in the cemetery for the use of the local regiment, so that a friendly member or ex-member of the regiment will not be exposed to the risk of being laid in a pauper's grave. A suitable monument will mark the plot. Why should the little Lake Cemetery Co. follow suit?

SUGAR BEETS.

(Editor Morning Times) A

Sir,—The Ontario Government has been experimenting in growing sugar beets in several sections of the country last year. At Newmarket 31 farmers reported as to cost of growing sugar beets, the average being $26.80 per acre; 36 farmers report as to yield, the average being 33,860 pounds per acre, which, at $4 per ton, would amount to $67.70, leaving a net profit of $41.09 per acre after paying all expenses. A fair sized factory should use 50,000 tons of beets a year; that would give the farmers who supplied the beets a net profit of $123,500. At Nylin, 29 farmers report as to cost (on growing sugar beets), the average being $26.
30 per acre; 45 report as to yield per acre, the average being 36,772 pounds, which at $4 per ton would be $73.44 per acre, leaving a profit of $45.44 per acre, or a profit of $123,500 on 50,000 tons of sugar beets. The town of Windsor in the county of Bruce, and farmers in that vicinity, have formed a beet sugar joint venture. They now have a subscribed capital of over $250,000, and are endeavoring to build a sugar factory this year.

Last year the farmers in the above county grew about 600 acres of sugar beets. A portion of them were shipped to Michigan and they claim that after paying freight and eighty cents a ton duty the beets were their best paying crop.

The secretary of the Windsor beet sugar company writes me that about 15 tons per acre was a fair average crop and that farmers could realize from $30 to $60 on an acre clear profit. Last year 9,000 tons of sugar beets were raised on the Canadian side of the St.
Clair River, shipped to Marine City, Mich., the farmers say that after paying freight and duty the beets paid better than any other crop they raised.

Wallaceburg citizens offer to give a site for a beet sugar factory free of cost, a cash bonus of $25,000, and to take stock in the company at par value to the amount of $75,000 to $125,000.
They have already over $75,000 of the capital subscribed. I have doubts as to out citizens having enterprise enough to raise the necessary funds to procure a charter. The Government offers to experiment in growing sugar beets in the vicinity of London providing about 40 farmers agree to grow 1-8 or 1-4 of an acre, and will furnish seed free and send a man to instruct them in growing beets. The central exhibition intend giving farmers in the county of Peterborough prizes from $1 to $16, for beets that have the highest per cent of sugar.

Those who intend to compete for prizes or grow beets under Government instructions, should communicate with Mr. Collins, chairman of the committee Peterborough, as soon as possible. The amount of sugar beet seed wanted, and I have no doubt they will be supplied cheerily. If you can establish the fact this year that we can grow good quality of sugar beets, we do doubt that a sugar factory will be erected in Peterborough next year.

Malt Breakfast Food

The Greatest Triumph of Food Science.

Malt Breakfast Food can be easily distinguished from all other brands of breakfast grain foods on the market. It is the only Malt Food made in the world; the greatest triumph ever achieved in Food Science.

You can tell Malt Breakfast Food by its delicious taste, by its satisfying qualities, by the vim and energy it imparts, by its strengthening and refreshing properties. Ordinary grain foods have many poor points. Malt Breakfast Food has not a single bad point that can be named by food critics. It is free from starchy substances, it is partially cooked and predigested, therefore easy of digestion, most nutritious and healthful. Malt Breakfast Food is the only grain breakfast food that gives the benefits and virtues of pure Malt that enriches the blood and builds up the system.

LIFE SAVING STATION.

One Is Being Erected by United States Government.

Work was recently begun on the United States life saving station upon the grounds of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, N. Y. The site of the station is on the north side of the lake in Delaware park, in one of the most beautiful portions of the Exposition grounds.

The life saving station will be fully equipped with apparatus and men and will be a most attractive as well as novel exhibit. Life saving exhibitions will be given every day during the progress of the Exposition. The apparatus in use by the government for this purpose will be shown and a crew of ten picked men will be employed in giving the exhibitions. The station is to be modeled after one of the regular stations along the coast of the United States.

THE MINER BUILDING.
bile are among the well known new and useful applications of electricity unknown at the time of the Columbian Exposition. Electricity is to be extensively used in making attractive displays at night. For this purpose a steel tower 375 feet high has been planned which will face the Court of the Fountains. Upon this great tower and in this broad and beautiful court there will be seen at night fantastic and beautiful displays in electrical illumination. More than 200,000 electric lamps are to be used for this purpose, it being the intention of electricians to have all the large buildings surrounding this court outlined with a fringe of brilliant electric lamps.

These wonderful electrical displays are made possible by the nearness of Niagara Falls, from which nearly all the power used for the Exposition will be drawn.

WEST VIRGINIA ALERT.

Governor Will Urge Appropriation to Have State Represented.

Governor Atkinson of West Virginia announces that he will embody in his next message to the legislature a recommendation for an appropriation to pay the expenses of the state commission having in charge the state exhibit for the Pan-American Exposition.
West Virginia is one of the many states that are inviting capital and labor to come in and help develop their natural resources. With her 16,000 square miles of coal lands, her thousands of acres of hard wood forests, her wonderful stores of petroleum, her iron ore deposits and her great acreage of lands suitable for farming, stock raising and wool growing, she has much to offer in the way of exhibits and much to gain by bringing her resources properly before the world. It is expected that an exhibit will be made showing by maps and specimens, statistics and information of a general character what a newcomer to the state may be able to do in the way of advancing the fortunes of himself and those who depend upon him. The millions of visitors to Buffalo next year will be interested in knowing what the possibilities are in all parts of the western hemisphere.
The West Virginia commission is composed of Stuart W. Walker of Martinsburg, president; J. C. Morrison of Charleston, secretary; R. B. Battelle of Wheeling, treasurer; James M. Porter, Jr., of New Cumberland and E. B.
Smith of Parkersburg.

GUARDING AGAINST FIRE.
Every Precaution to Be Taken at the Pan-American Exposition.

There are two fire houses upon the grounds of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, N. Y., which are fully equipped with the apparatus and men necessary to fight any outbreak of fire upon the grounds.

In addition to this there are chemical fire extinguishers in all of the buildings. These are of the same type used at the World's fair at Chicago and are attached to the wall on the interior of the building. A cog on the bearing of the reel releases a valve which turns on the water in case of fire. It is only necessary to unroll the hose and thus turn on a stream which can be directed upon the blaze without a moment's delay. In this way every precaution is to be taken to prevent the occurrence of any fire and consequent destruction of valuable property.

Excursions to the Pan-American.
All over the country the people are planning to make excursions next summer to the Pan-American Exposition.
Clubs are being organized whose members are saving money for the trip in this way. Pan-American study clubs are also being organized. Some large business firms are planning to give excursions to their employees, and in many manufacturing the employees are organizing to go in a body to the Exposition. In the large shoe manufacturing concern of Hanan & Sons of Brooklyn the employees, who have organized themselves into an association called the Mutual Aid society, have decided on a five days' excursion to the Pan-American and Niagara Falls and have engaged a special vestibule train for the purpose. The trip will be made during Independence week, and it is expected that at least 1,000 persons will participate in the journey.

Visitors to Attend in a Body.
The Hill Hook and Ladder Company of Rensselaer, N. Y., will attend the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo next summer in a body.

ELECTRICAL EXHIBITS.

Wonderful Collection and Grand Display of Electric Lighting.

It is the plan of the management to make the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo next year the greatest electrical Exposition ever held. In view of the wonderful advance in the electrical science since the World's fair there will probably not be a single duplication of an exhibit seen at Chicago in 1893.

Nearly everything in the electrical line then exhibited has been superseded in the market by new machinery and appliances constructed upon a better understanding of the wonderful force.
The discovery of the Roentgen rays,
the invention of wireless telegraphy and the development of the electro-

WHERE I MET MY SALLY.

[Lines written for The Times, based on fact.]
Peterborough lies in a valley, with mountains all around.
It was there I met my Sally, my dear, dear Sally Brown.
It was on the Otonabee River, where often we did stray, Far below the Yankee Bonnet, in the merry month of May.
Oft we would pass the Little Lake, which is so fine and grand,
Sally and I were happy—happy in the land;
Unconsciously our boat would glide, to the Locks Bridge and on,
Far below the Bonnet, my Sally and I, alone.

A DUMMER WEDDING.

A very pleasing event, in which all South Dummers were greatly interested, took place on Tuesday of last week at the residence of Mr. Wm. Spence, when his third daughter, Luella A. and Mr. Harry R. Patterson, two of Dummer's most prominent and popular young people, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.
Only the most intimate friends of the contracting parties were present, and about 7 o'clock they gathered in the spacious drawing room, which was artistically decorated for the occasion. At 7.30 the bridal party entered the drawing room to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.
The bride looked lovely in a costume of blue-gray ladies' cloth, trimmed with white satin, lace and ribbon, while the groom wore the conventional suit of black.
The Rev. E. B. Cooke, of South Dummer, officiated, and after the ceremony the guests proceeded to the dining room, where a sumptuous wedding dinner was lavishly served.
The evening was spent in games, music, etc., after which the guests departed to their several homes. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson have taken up their residence on the homestead, in the commodious brick dwelling formerly occupied by Mr. F. Patterson.
Their many friends and acquaintances extend to them their heartiest congratulations in which The Times cordially joins.

ESTATE NOTICE

All persons indebted to the estate of the late DR. R. KING are requested to pay or arrange for settlement of amounts due, at the office, corner Charlotte and Stewart streets.

RUSSIAN DISCONTENT

Once more there is an outbreak or revolutionary agitation, sedition and assassination in Russia, and the Czar, like his father and grandfather before him, dwells in the midst of alarms. That marvelous organization, the Russian administrative system, goes on its unimpeded way, gradually extending the empire over distant lands and establishing Russian influence among alien people; but among the Russians themselves the ferment of new ideas is at work and the old reverence for the government of the Czar is weakened at the very time when the Russian power appears most threatening abroad. Americans and even Europeans generally know so little about Russia and our actual news from there comes by such devious routes and in so questionable a shape, that it is foolish to speculate upon the situation. The political institution of Russia belong to an era that elsewhere in Europe has passed away, overturned by the earlier revolutionary movements and the constitutional development of the past century, and it is easy to believe that some such storm as long ago passed over the western world is the necessary preparation for the building up of a modern system in Russia as well. On the other hand, the vast military system of the Empire has proved so wonderfully capable and adaptable to sudden demands in all material concerns, it would be rash to deny the possibility of its adapting itself also to new political conditions.

Even in Russia, the intercommunication of ideas has now become so general that the old-fashioned way of dealing with revolt by stern suppression is no longer effective. Discontent cannot be allayed by the Cossack's whip, but more than ever will find expression. If Russian statesmen of to-day can find a means of dealing with this, with some of the foresight they have shown in dealing with commercial and financial problems, the present unrest may prove only another stage in Russian development.

The feature to be remembered about Russia is that while the Czar imperatorates an absolute autocratic power such as now exists nowhere else in the civilized world, the actual government of the Empire is carried on by the most completely impersonal and self-perpetuating machine that exists anywhere, which patiently works out its definitely shaped policies, subject only to the general direction, from time to time, of the men in highest station. Thus the Russian generals in Asia may be held back by orders from St. Petersburg, but they need no orders to push steadily onward for the Russianization of the East.

The present Czar is the conservative, pacific, liberalizing force in Russian policy, the removal of which would undoubtedly have a reactionary effect. To that extent his death would make the domestic problems of the country more difficult, without greatly changing their conditions. It is not the Czar but the organized forces of the great Russian nation that will have to work out these problems in their own way.

Oom Paul Kruger safe in Europe with his 12,500,000 in gold looted from the wreck of the republic his headstrong intolerance ruined, presents a poor figure as he declaims to the newspapers on the heroic sacrifices of his brave burghers, denounces the alleged atrocities of the British and threatens the latter on the authority of the Bible with national extermination unless they grant independence to the country he deserted. Kruger told his unfortunate burghers that he was going to Europe to arrange for intervention by the powers. He must have known at the time that the mission was destined to fail, but instead of returning to the Transvaal, or even to Marquias, to encourage and assist them by his presence and counsel, he has appropriated the public money and abandoned his burghers to their fate.

"THE RIDDLE OF THE UNIVERSE."
(Communicated.)
Not until we have a thorough knowledge of electricity, will the "riddle of the universe" be solved.

It is night. Look skyward, see that meteor shooting through the atmosphere, suddenly ignited, leaving a shower of sparks in its path. It is ignited and disintegrated by the action of electricity. Imagine the scene. See that immense meteor shooting forth through space, going through the same process of disintegration, casting off "war dust," and we have the "milky way," of which our planet is an atom. The heavenly bodies in view are all of the same age, all moving in the same direction. Whether? How beautifully poised and held in place by electric action of attraction and repulsion. What subtle fluid in which we live, move and have our being. You ask what about reflected light. The theory that the light which we see is reflected, is an absurdity. It is purely electric, each body being a point of resistance in the electric stream. This is well illustrated by any city electric light plant, the light is given from the carbons—the points of resistance. The theory that our sun is a burning body in simply childish, pusill, it is nothing more or less than a "storage battery" of electricity. Should the voltage be suddenly changed, quickly would life cease in our little planet. Still "it moves."

MORE LIGHT.
St. Catharines, April 8.—A serious and probably fatal stabbing affray took place here early yesterday morning. Two young men named Frank Whitten and John Auburn, both well known around town, fought a duel in the rear of the Grand Opera House. Whitten drew a knife and stabbed Auburn, first in the breast, then in the abdomen. Both wounds are serious ones. The ambulance removed Auburn to the hospital. He is still alive this morning, although his chances for recovery are very slight. Whitten was promptly arrested and locked up. Bad blood has existed between these two men for some time. Whitten is a married man, Auburn is single.

Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada

Annual Report for the Year 1900.

Applications to the number of 13,876 have been received during the year for assurances of $13,841,872.45. The number of policies actually completed and paid for was 11,219, amounting to $10,423,445.37. This exceeds the corresponding amount of the previous year by $677,136.53.

The assurances in force on the Company's books at the close of the year numbered 51,206 for $57,980,634.68, showing the very gratifying increase during the twelve months of $5,174,598.75.

The financial accounts have also kept pace with the assurance transactions. The income from premiums was $2,347,743.13, while the total income from all sources, including interest and rents, was $2,789,226.52. This is an advance of $103,019.25 beyond the figures of the last report.

The death claims continue favorable. The amount paid to the beneficiaries of deceased policyholders was $489,982.22 under 492 policies. The Company now pays on an average about fifteen hundred dollars in death claims every business day. In addition $94,241.64 was disbursed during the year to the holders of policies who had survived their endowment periods. The total of the payments now made by the Company to its policyholders or their representatives since its foundation is $6,774,364.86.

The assets have been augmented by a larger sum than during any previous year in the Company's history. They have now turned the ten million dol-

WM. MORTIMER CLARK & GRAY

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62364, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet.

This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock or radiators.

Dated at Toronto this 18th day of February, A. D. 1901.

EXPOSITION MAKING

THE PAN-AMERICAN TO EXCEL IN MANY PARTICULARS.

The Most Delicate and Intricate Plastic Work Ever Attempted For Exposition Purposes—Color and Horticultural Embellishment.

The development of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo is observed with profound interest throughout the western world. Almost every day shows some new feature of the magnificent enterprise completed. Some new tower rises aloft its ornamental pinnacle, some new dome crowns its rounded top to the sky, or some new decoration of form or color is added to the wonderful bouquet of architectural loveliness.

Never was there an Exposition so novel, so unlike what the world has learned to expect, as this. With the glorious examples of the Exposition builder's art and genius to look back upon with fond remembrance and admiration, the world has wondered if all that has been promised for the Pan-American would be realized. If one may judge by the present stage of the vast work, the millions of visitors to Buffalo during the exposition season, which begins on the 1st of May next, will suffer no disappointment.

The Pan-American Exposition will outshine its distinguished predecessors in many particulars. Of these the court settings are of first importance. In order that there may be abundant room for the elaborate decorative effects, 33 acres are alone devoted to courts. This area is two and a half times the area of the courts at the Chicago Columbian Exposition. About these broad courts are grouped a score of great buildings, in which the multitude of exhibits from all parts of the western world are to be displayed.

As a second important feature may be mentioned the ornate architecture, the use of plastic ornamentation of very intricate and beautiful design and the employment of original sculptured groups in the exterior decorations of buildings, entrances and architectural features. No less than 125 original sculptured groups, modeled by some 30 or more distinguished American sculptors, will be used in this feature of the decorative work.

The use of an elaborate color scheme has never before been attempted at an exposition. The appropriate title of the "Rainbow City" has already been applied to this great group of brilliantly colored buildings, and lovers of color will find the exquisite harmony of this that has been produced a most delightful subject for contemplation and study.

As a fourth point of superiority may be named the hydraulic and fountain features. In all the courts are broad pools containing numberless cascades and fountains. These will add to the beauty of the great work in no small degree. Many of the fine sculptures will form a part of these charming fountains. A broad and stately canal, a mile and a half in length, banked with grass and lined with a double row of young trees, completely encircles the main group of buildings.

The horticultural embellishment of the grounds constitutes a fifth point of excellence. Ornamental trees, shrubs, lawns and flowers of brilliant hue will delight the eye everywhere. Sunken gardens and formal beds of flowers will surround fountains and pools and border upon the walks throughout the courts.

Crowning the great work of producing unparalleled vistas and an exposition picture of unrivaled beauty will be the electrical illumination. Only when a great volume of power is available, such as Buffalo possesses in the newly harnessed Niagara, could electric illumination be undertaken on so grand a scale. With unlimited power to draw upon, the electrician has had no restraining conditions in his work. The electric tower, 375 feet high, of rich and elaborate design, will form the centerpiece of the electrical brilliancy, while every building, fountain and architectural feature and even the broad surfaces of the artificial lakes and pools, with floating lights, will glow with electrical radiance and luster. The scene will be one of unsurpassed loveliness, hitherto impossible and unlikely soon to be repeated again on account of the vast expenditure of electrical energy necessary to produce it.

MARK BENNETT.

Manitoba and the Exposition.
The Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo next year is assured of a representative exhibit from the important province of Manitoba. Special Commissioner Henderson, who has made a tour of northwestern Canada for the Exposition, met with gratifying success in arousing interest in the enterprise.

Oregon Editors Will Go to Buffalo.
The Oregon Press Association at its annual convention recently voted to hold its annual excursion meeting in 1901 at the Pan-American Exposition.

Loss of Appetite.
A person that has lost appetite has lost something besides—vitality, vigor, tone.

The way to recover appetite and all that goes with it is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla—that strengthens the stomach, perfects digestion and makes eating a pleasure. Thousands take it for spring loss of appetite and every body says there's nothing else so good as Hood's.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills a Wonderful Remedy

Sir,—It is because I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid that I ask you to publish some facts regarding Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills. I was for many years a sufferer from indigestion and stomach troubles. I could not digest my food. I was constipated, and it was only by injections that I could get relief. Physicians did me no good. I was reduced to a skeleton and could hardly walk. As a first resort I tried a box of these pills, and the improvement was so marked that I continued taking them. I have now taken twelve boxes, never remembering being so well in my life. I have gained 22 pounds, and am putting on more flesh daily. I am a living, walking advertisement, and consider no trouble too great in order to spread the fame of Dr. Clarke's Pills. A. F. Jones, Lockport, N.Y.

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Saluda copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims: The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Saluda, a very promising property, only a few steps from the deposit in Saluda. This claim occupies an important position on a mountain just north of Saluda at Cleora station, on the main trunk line of the Great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which is length is one of America's greatest streams.

Big Four Con. & M. Co.

LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE Le Roi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 45¢ share went to $23, or $10 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that if shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the Le Roi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such a extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 50,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

DONE MORE WORK WITH LESS MONEY THAN ANY COMPANY IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Thus the management has no regrets to offer, and you by subscribing will have none.

200 Feet More of Tunnel Work Now Under Way.

DAYS OF TORTURE BY BOXER FIELDS

A Lady Missionary Tells of Her Trip Through China And Dangers Encountered.

HUSBAND DRIVEN INSANE AND BEATEN TO DEATH

They Were Tortured, Beaten and Starved by The Chinese Ruffians and Their Escape Was Miraculous.

Shanghai, April 10.—Mrs. Ogren, who has arrived from North China with her two children, tells an exciting story of her escape and trip from Yanglingchou to the coast. She says—

When we came to Chikou, on the Yellow River, we found the people there determined to kill us. They seemed like mad people, and but for the soldiers firing at them, they would certainly have torn us to pieces. We got safely on board the boat, but had to give the soldiers all that remained of our money for their protection. We landed, and an inkeeper, who had once been a military mandarin, took us in and kept us for five days, when a party of thirty soldiers came from Pingyang-fu to kill us. The inkeeper knew the officer, and persuaded him to let us cross the river into the adjoining province of Shensi. He also kindly arranged that we might go to a farm of his on the Shensi side about twenty-five miles from the river, and on leaving he gave us a thousand cash (two shillings) for expenses. Before we had gone far, robbers met us. They demanded thirty thousand cash, or they would take all our things and kill us; but, after taking nearly all, some men passing persuaded them to let us go. We went back to the inkeeper, who sent us another thousand cash, with which we crossed the river, and lived till we reached the farm.

It took us four days to get there, as I could not walk at first, and we had no money to spare for hiring. At night we slept in caves. When we reached the farm, the people would not take us in but allowed us to put up in an adjoining cave, where we remained three days. I gave them my watch and they let us have a little food, but robbers came again who said the cave was theirs, and took all we had left, save one empty basket. We managed to escape from that place to the hills, and lived in three days in a cave till we were starved out. My husband thought we should try to get back to Shensi. After we set out for the river, the men who had taken us from the Yamen caught us again, and drove us on the road with their swords, just as if we had been cattle.

WITH THE BOXERS.

The place we crossed at was called Matsu, and we no sooner crossed over than we found ourselves in the hands of the Boxers. The Boxers took us away two days' journey to a place called Tso-chiao, where we remained for three days. I heard from the Boxers that they would not give me cloth to bind my wounds, but washed my only shirt and made bandages with that. We could not get food to eat. The Boxers gave us a hundred cash a day for food for the three of us, but the gaoles kept most of it, to himself. It seems as if we were not to be murdered, but only starved to death. Then my poor husband lost his reason. He was quite mad and often violent. We were two months shut up in that dreadful cell, but how we lived through it, do not ask me, for I cannot tell you. At length orders came from Peking to have us sent on to Pingyang-fu, at which place my husband died shortly after we reached it.

YOUNG WOMAN FATALLY BURNED

Gasoline Ignited and Set Fire to Maggie Brown's Clothing.

Simcoe, Ont., April 10.—Maggie, the old daughter of Frank A. Brown, who with her younger sister, retired to their room last night, and just before going to bed put her gloves on to the young sister noticed what she thought was the lamp on fire and called the attention of her deceased sister, who immediately, with the gloves on her hands that were saturated with gasoline, attempted to blow out the lamp. Her gloves and night apparel caught fire, and she rushed down stairs a mass of flames. The mother, in attempting to put out the fire, had her hands badly burned. Death resulted from the burning eight hours afterwards.

Indefinitely Postponed.

On account of the death of Companion Mrs. Alfred Dunford, the basket social advertised to take place to-night under the auspices of Companion Court Queen, I.O.O.F., is indefinitely postponed.

THE BOXERS HATED THE FOREIGNERS

The Movement Was Directed Against Strangers And Not Against The Missionaries.

183 PROTESTANT MISSIONARIES WERE KILLED.

Forty Thousand Native Converts Killed in Boxer Riots According to Report of American Bible Society.

New York, April 10.—The annual report of the American Bible Society relative to the situation in China will contain the following interesting statements from its agent in China, the Rev. John H. Hykes, D.D.:—

There was a deep and cunningly laid plot, under Imperial sanction, to exterminate Christianity, expel all foreigners, and destroy all foreign interests. In all 183 Protestant missionaries, including 60 men, 75 women and 48 children have been massacred.

With the exception of the massacre at Ku Chiao in Chee Kiang, in which only 15 persons were killed, and at Hong Ching in Hunan, all of the deaths occurred in the northern provinces.

The question has been raised at home as to whether the Boxer uprising was anti-foreign or anti-missionary in its character. The movement was undoubtedly against foreigners and everything foreign, Christianity included. Hsu Ching Cheng and Yuen Chang, two Ministers of the Chinese Government, could not transmit the awful edict which reiterated the order to "painfully exterminate all foreigners."

GEN. BOTHA AGAIN NEGOTIATES FOR PEACE

De Wet's, Intellect Weak, and His Followers are Now Rapidly Diminishing.

Mr. Kruger May Visit the United States Later on in the Year— Boxers Again at Work in China.

Cape Town, April 10.—It is understood here that although General De Wet at his recent interview with General Botha, refused to surrender, General Botha regarding him as ir- responsible, undertakes to negotiate in behalf of the rebel forces.

The British authorities here consider that if General Botha surrenders De Wet's following can be easily taken.

Cape Town, April 10.—General Botha has reopened negotiations with the British for peace. An explanation here, this action was determined in part by General Botha's discovery at a recent meeting that General De Wet's intellect had weakened. His influence with his followers was diminishing, and that the continuance of the campaign, in view of General De Wet's irresponsibility, rested with General Botha.

STAMPEDE AT DAWSON

San Francisco Describes How It Was an Opening Day.

Writing from Dawson on March 10, Dan McCall says, "The whole country was being stampeded as it was in 1898, since the 26th of last month, when everything was thrown open, it would surprise you to see the number of horse sleighs and dog teams and sleds that are travelling the creek yet, but the first night everyone was at his favorite claim to be ready to drive stake at 11 and then start for the recorder's office. Some got there at 1 a.m., and from that of it was a confusion of rush—and it was a very cold night to wait at the door till 9 a.m. A big crowd left the Forks yesterday afternoon for Clear Creek. I did not hear the particulars yet. J. J. Geck and Charlie Meyer are over, expecting our claims yet, and I expect them back every day now with good news."

Dan mentions that the gamblers would have to go to work to get out on Saturday following the date of writing as the authorities have notified them that all the places of that sort would be closed up. He mentions having seen a miner going back to Klondike. He had been working on the Klondike bridge for two months in extremely cold weather, but at the time of writing it was getting milder. He intended to "go up" with a mining party in a few days. The Yukon Council in February passed a law making 5 a day and board or 80 cents an hour without board, the minimum rate of state of wages for laborers on all public works.

MAJOR GAT HOWARD BRUTALLY SHOT DOWN

He Was Ambushed by Fifty Boers and Practically Murdered.

Ottawa, April 10.—Capt. C. Ross, Major "Gat" Howard's successor, has written a letter to Col. Sherwood giving details of "Gat" Howard's death. He says—

"Derry, S. A., Feb. 12.—Yesterday while the corps was out reconnoitering, Major Howard, accompanied by a number of his men, was ambushed by about 50 Boers, who immediately deprived them of arms, ammunition and valuables, and then brutally shot down the Major and his men. This happened on the borders of Swaziland. Their remains were brought in to camp to-day, and buried with honor."

WIFE FAITHFUL TO GERALD SIFTON

Trial Delayed a Few Hours by Absence of Material Witness.

London, Ont., April 10.—Gerald Sifton, charged with the murder of his father, Joseph Sifton, a London Township farmer, nearly a year ago, was brought up for trial this morning before Chief Justice Meredith. The only exception to the rule that the prisoner must be present at his trial, was made in this case, as the only material witness, Mrs. Canon Richardson, the defendant's wife, was unable to appear for fear of nervous prostration. She was a witness in the preliminary examination, and was the first person to see the body of the victim, except the prisoner. Sifton, and Walter Herbert, the hired man, who has confessed to complicity in the crime, and who is awaiting sentence pending his being called as a Crown witness.

TIN CAN COMBINE COUP.

Lake Carriers Will Not Let Engineers Disrupt Management—Knox Now U.S. Attorney-General—Jersey Engineers May Not Strike.

Chicago, Ill., April 11.—A special from San Jose, Cal., says: "Death resulted from a cut in the neck, made by a guillotine, and operated with suicidal intent."

Such was the verdict rendered to-day by a coroner's jury impelled to inquire into the facts surrounding the death of John Connelly, whose body was discovered in a cabin at Wright's station. Connelly had a great ulcer on his back, and he had a guillotine and cut off his own head. He was a broodmare by a copper can, a post on a wall, when he cut a cord the wire fell across his neck, which was stretched on a block of wood, conveniently located. The plan worked effectively, as death probably was instantaneous. Connelly was 57 years old and unmarried.

SOWING THE SEED OF SUGAR BEET INDUSTRY

Fifty Peterborough Farmers Will Experiment This Season.

DIRECTED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Strong Committee to Consult Capitalists, Etc.—Inception of a Factory Within Measurable Distance.

The attendance, especially of town-people, was not so large as it should have been at the beet sugar meeting in the Market Hall yesterday afternoon, but the interest manifested by the farmers present showed that they at least are in earnest.

The presence of two gentlemen, who speak with authority, Mr. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture and Mr. Shuttleworth, of the Agricultural College, gave the meeting especial importance.

Known the tenor of the speech of Mr. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, seems probable that no factory will be built this season in Ontario. He laid much stress on the necessity of assurance to the manufacturer of a sufficient supply of beets. As it will take 40 or 50 tons per acre of ordinary sugar, the importance of this condition is manifest. Experiments in growing beets will be conducted at six points in Ontario this season, of which it is more than probable that Peterborough will be one.

It is already demonstrated that large yields of the best of sugar beets can be grown in Peterborough county, and no doubt the coming experiments will confirm the conclusion. In that case it will be in order next fall for the town to move toward obtaining a factory. It is the opinion of conservative men that the building of a factory here, which would be greatly to the benefit of the town, is within measurable distance of accomplishment.

Mayor Denno called the meeting to order and said that he had pleasure in introducing as the first speaker an old acquaintance, Mr. A. E. Shuttleworth, of the Ontario Agricultural College, who he had known when a student at the College.

Mr. Shuttleworth said that the most important requisite in the cultivation of the sugar beet is to have the right soil. Two features of the soil are essential—that it shall retain a large quantity of water and admit air freely. To have those qualities the soil must be reduced to particles. Hence the value of fall plowing, which gives the exposure to frost, and allows the thawing to pulverize it. So pulverized and friable, the soil has the largest air retaining capacity. The spaces between the particles are the lungs of the soil. The greater the air space, the more freely roots can get air. Clay loam is preferable, but the sugar beet will grow on almost any soil if the soil is properly prepared. A beet sugar factory, requiring an investment of $500,000, would require 20 to 350 tons of beets per day to pay running expenses and 500 tons a wagon load per day to be profitable. This would mean say 1000 farmers cultivating the beet.

Mr. Shuttleworth stated that the beet industry has large proportions—there are 100 factories, and it is the farmer's most profitable crop. Experiments in growing beets in Ontario last year showed that Ontario farmers, following the rules laid down, could grow 15 and even 18 tons to the acre a better bet than are grown in Michigan, where the beet is successful and where the industry is successfully established. The seeding should be done from the 1st to the 10th of May, with an ordinary seed drill or a beet sowing machine. The seed should be sown in rows 18 inches apart, and the plants should be up in ten days, and about ten days later the thinning should be done. One man can do an acre in a day. Keep weeds down through June, and by the middle of July there should be nothing more to be done until the crop ripens in the cool nights and sunny days of September. A beet puller, costing $10, will pull three acres in a day, or the roots may be pulled out or turned out with a fork. The only way to obtain a factory is to demonstrate that beet can be grown here of the right quality and in the right quantity. To make the test, at least 50 farmers should grow a quarter of an acre each. The Department of Agriculture will supply 50,000 acres of a pounds each of seed to farmers whose names have been taken by some responsible board. The Department will send a man here to go from farm to farm and inspect the ground, and when thinning time comes he will make another visit. At the conclusion of his report, the Department will officially declare the interest of the farmers is aroused.

C. C. JAMES.

Mr. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, was next introduced. Mr. James said that as the business of beet sugar production requires so much capital, it is of very great importance to start right. Capitalists must be induced to do the undertaking, the undertaking is likely to prove a success. Taking up the question, would there be a market for the beet sugar? Canada consumes 200,000 pounds of sugar a year, and imported in crude form the value is a value of $7,000,000; after refining, almost double that amount. It would take 30 factories or at least 25 of the very large capacity, to produce this quantity. Touching the origin of beet sugar, Mr. James said that it resulted from Britain's blockade of French ports during the Napoleonic wars. The French could not import sugar and turned their attention to the beet. The French produced 15 tons of beets, or 15,000 pounds of sugar, of a market value at wholesale of $70. Of this the farmer would get about $30 and the manufacturer $40. It would take 10 acres to produce the beet, and the value at 25 tons to the acre and 75 cents per bushel. The by-products, the pulp after the beets are crushed and the tops, are good fodder. The sugar beet does not improve with the soil. Sugar, as it is extracted by the plant from the air—there is not a particle of soil material in a pound of sugar unless put in by the grower. This is why they can keep on growing the sugar beet year after year in thickly populated Europe. The Ontario Government has not as yet $250,000 to bonus manufacturers, on the condition that the producer shall pay a minimum price of $1 per ton. Last year the Government advanced $250,000 to bonus manufacturers, on the condition that the producer shall pay a minimum price of $1 per ton. Last year the Government advanced $250,000 to bonus manufacturers, on the condition that the producer shall pay a minimum price of $1 per ton.

Mr. Wm. Collins announced that Mr. H. Calcutt had decided to offer $25 in three prizes of $12, $12 and $12 for the best results in sugar growing, as decided by Professor Shuttleworth. In the County of Northumberland and the Townships of Otonabee and Ashpool, which skirt the Trent Waters. Mr. Collins expressed the opinion that the completion of the Trent Canal, a great pleasure in navigation southward about 60 and northward about 100 miles, would give Peterborough peculiarly good facilities for bringing in beets.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

The following resolution was moved by C. W. Fitzgerald and seconded by E. M. Elliott and carried.

That this meeting is of opinion that a beet sugar factory should be established here, and that a committee be requested to investigate the matter, and to secure the capital necessary to establish the factory. The Committee to consist of Hon. J. R. Stratton, Messrs. James Kennedy, M.P., John Lang, M.P., Thomas Howard, M.P., J. H. G. Denno, Mayor, C. W. Fitzgerald, Warden, D. W. Lumbie, President Board of Trade, F. Adams, Reeve of Ashburnham, and Messrs. J. G. Armstrong, J. G. Weir, Wm. Hall, J. G. Driscoll, Jonathan Smith, Thos. Hall, C. D. Moon, D. Kennedy, R. A. Dyer, Wm. Rutherford, John McClure, David E. Brown, J. A. Carpenter, E. M. Elliott, Wm. Collins.

There is no doubt the requisite 50 will soon be obtained.

SCRATCH ACROSS THE HAT.

In the War Injury Suffered by the Long Lots.

London, April 10.—When Mr. O. M. Agnew arrived in London from Liverpool yesterday he admitted that he had brought back with him the stolen picture, but declined to make a detailed statement of the negotiations with the thieves, and hastened to his residence. When Sir William Agnew returned from business he left his son and nephew in charge, but he had never failed to consult him on all important matters.

Mr. Lockett Agnew denies the report that the recovery of the famous Gainsborough was effected through Pat Sheedy. He states that, except for a slight scratch across the hat of the houseful picture, the picture is unimpaired. Within a few weeks it will probably be exhibited again in London, but it is hardly to be expected that the full details of the story of the theft and recovery will be known for some time to come. The matter has been engaging the attention of the authorities for years, and the man on whom they had their eyes as being connected with the theft died three years ago.

A short horse is soon carried.

THREATENED WITH DYNAMITE

Being Warned.

Nashville, Ill., April.—Threatened with being blown to atoms by a charge of dynamite, Albert Wassum, a fisherman, and his Indian wife, who were barricaded in a house on the river north of this city, after defying Sheriff Colby-meyer and a posse of deputies for three days, surrendered last night and were brought to this city and placed in jail. Wassum's arrest was demanded by three members of the Nashville Rod and Gun Club, whom he threatened to kill. He replied to the sheriff's demands with a charge of backshot.

In attempting to capture Wassum as he left his retreat Sheriff Colby-meyer fell down the river bank and broke his shoulder.

Well Deserved Honors

The many friends of Mr. R. B. Rogers, the efficient Superintendent Engineer of the Trent Valley Canal, will be pleased to learn that he has been elected a member of the Institution of Civil Engineers, and chairman of the Committee to award medals for the best paper read before the Society at Montreal. Mr. Rogers has also been elected a member of the Institution of Civil Engineers of England, there being only nine in Canada. The Times joins in extending hearty congratulations.

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Saluda copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims: The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Saluda mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Saluda, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Saluda. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of Saluda at Cleora station, on the main trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streamings.

NIAGARA'S WONDERS.

POWER FROM THE GREAT FALLS FOR THE BUFFALO EXPOSITION.

Niagara Falls Citizens Preparing to Entertain a Few Extra Millions of People in 1901—Many Costly Improvements by the State.

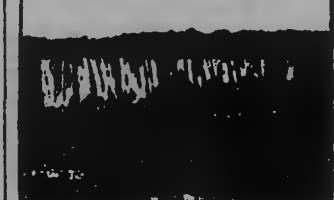

Within 30 minutes' ride of the Pan-American Exposition are the falls of Niagara, the most magnificent and inspiring spectacle ever wrought by nature for the sight of man. Here, also, are to be seen the greatest electric power development in the world and bridges which are marvels of engineering. To see these natural and engineering wonders over a million people visit Niagara annually. These objects may be said to form a part of the Pan-American Exposition, situated as they are within such a short distance of it, and visitors will find it convenient as well as pleasant to include them in their Exposition itinerary.

The trains of eight trunk lines of railroad and the cars of a double track electric railway will run between the Exposition grounds and Niagara Falls. Visitors at the Exposition who may be pressed for time, but would not miss having a general view of the wonders of Niagara, may board an electric car at the station on the grounds, which will take them along the frontier, through the power district, the city of Niagara Falls, the reservation, across the new steel arch bridge spanning the gorge, past the falls, along the top of the cliff to Queenstown on the Canada side, across the suspension bridge to Lewiston on the American side, along the edge of the water and past the whirlpool in the great gorge to the reservation and back to Buffalo, the entire trip taking up less than three hours' time.

The people of Niagara Falls are making preparations to accommodate such crowds as have never yet been seen at that famous resort. There are 150 hotels and hundreds of commodious restaurants, boarding and lodging houses in the city. Many of them are being enlarged for the anticipated Pan-American business. The city is adding to its many miles of asphalt pavement and park roads, and before the opening of the Exposition all of its principal thoroughfares will be in the finest imaginable condition for driving. A police patrol signal system is being installed, and the efficient police department will be recruited sufficiently to afford the most ample protection to visitors. Ordinances have been established governing the acts of all persons catering to visitors and fixing the fees for services rendered. In fact, the authorities and citizens generally of Niagara Falls, wide awake to the importance of the Exposition, are doing everything in their power to add to its success and glory.

The railroad companies are planning increased facilities for handling the enormous traffic expected. Their stations will be enlarged and trackage increased. The International Traction company is erecting a large and handsome terminal station directly opposite the Niagara reservation and within a stone's throw of the falls. The different lines of the electric railway system on the frontier—the finest in the world—are being equipped with new cars, possessing all modern improvements and conveniences, some of them 50 feet in length, and equalling in elegance the drawing room cars of the steam railroads.

In the state's Niagara reservation new beauties and conveniences are being

ing provided for the Pan-American visitors. A new steel and concrete bridge to span the rapids from the American mainland to Goat Island, for the building of which the New York state legislature appropriated $120,000, is in course of construction. A new administration and shelter building is being erected at a cost of $25,000. The old stone inclined railway building at Prospect Point will be razed to afford an unobstructed view of the falls from the park. A broad stone staircase connecting Goat and Luna Islands, where the rainbows play and delight the visitor with their prismatic colors, has been built and new balconies for sight-seers have been constructed. New beauty spots have been created by grading and seeding wherever the possibility was offered. A flock of sheep will wander at will on Goat Island and add life to the beautiful scene. An automobile service in the reservation will be inaugurated. In the Canadian park many improvements are being made. Niagara Falls will be dressed in her finest for the Pan-American Exposition in 1901. Niagara is an ideal breathing spot. The parks are extensive, liberally shaded and constantly irrigated by cooling breezes. No Exposition ever yet held has offered to the public an attraction equal to Niagara.

Missouri's Grain Exhibit.
Charles C. Bell of Booneville, Mo., who is one of the commissioners for Missouri to the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, is at work preparing the agricultural display for the Pan-American from that state. He is working to obtain from various sources the best specimens of grains, grasses and everything pertaining to such an exhibit, and he expects to obtain from county fairs in Missouri much material for this purpose.

Andal Nature.
You have been told to "hitch your wagon to a star"—that Nature will assist you. That's all right. There are times, however, when you should assist Nature, and the spring is one of these times. Nature is now undertaking to cleanse your system—if you take Hood's Scurvy Pills the undertaking will be successful, and your complexion bright and clear.

Everybody reads The Times.

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 549,101, 545,57, 589,28, 594,43, 620,64, 68,546; (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating-branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet. This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

JESUITS DISPERSED IN PORTUGAL

Nation Rises in Revolt Against Their Repressive Influence, Smouldering Hatred Breaks Out.

THE KING SWEEPS AWAY ALL RELIGIOUS ORDERS

The Latin Nations of Europe Are Now All Arrayed in a Solid Phalanx Against the Church of Rome.

London, April 11.—All Europe is now waiting with deep interest what is now admitted to be a revolt of the Latin races against the Church of Rome, or rather against the repressive influence as embodied in the Order of the Jesuits, it is the most important social upheaval of modern times, embracing as it does France, Spain and Portugal, all three Roman Catholic countries, all three nations in which religion enters more conspicuously into the daily life of the people, in every grade of society, than in any other part of the world. France has just passed the Law of Associations bill, which at one stroke abolishes religious education in that country, prohibiting any one not educated at a State college from holding any military, civil or public position whatever, it disperses religious communities, prevents them from holding property, and prohibits anyone from holding it in their name.

Now, this anti-clerical law has swept over Portugal, and that country has followed the example of France. The public has risen up against the clergy, and denominated by the force of the hatred that smouldered under the repressive power of the Church by the riots, until finally the King of Portugal has passed a law prohibiting the existence of congregations, whose objects are not in accord with the laws of Portugal, or who derive authority from a foreign country. What has happened in Portugal is only now beginning to leak out, as the country of the great house of Ullao, in Madrid, they attempted in Oporto with Benito Calmon, the daughter of the Brazilian Consul, they wanted to get her into a convent, when her father put her under control, tried to kidnap her, thereupon Senator Calmon took his daughter away from Oporto, but the people came to hear of what had taken place, and, aided by the students, attacked the Jesuits, and their sympathizers. Government stepped in gladly; its sympathies are said to be entirely clerical, and its

SIFTON TRIAL POSTPONED

Important Witness is Too Ill to Attend Before That Time.

CANON RICHARDSON EXPLAINED.

Says That His Wife Will Not be Strong Enough to Appear For Months, and in dictment is Withdrawn.

Toronto, Ont., April 11.—The Sifton murder trial has been postponed until the Fall Assizes in September. The case came to an abrupt termination this morning. An affidavit was read by Mr. Kiddell, K.C., from Canon Richardson, who was subpoenaed to testify in the case. The judge of justice by not allowing his wife to attend as witness, in the affidavit, the canon stated that he had no objection to his wife testifying in the case, but that she was in a fit physical condition to do so. Her nervous system was in very bad condition, and she had been forced to leave the city on that account, and he would likely be months before she regained her strength. That and that only was the cause of her departure.

An affidavit was also submitted by Dr. Richardson, which stated that it would be several months before Mrs. Richardson would be in a position to give evidence without endangering her life. In view of this fact, Mr. Johnston said it would be necessary to postpone the case, as Mrs. Richardson's evidence was very important to the defence, and that they could not go on without it.

Mr. Kiddell, Crown prosecutor, said it would be impossible to take Mrs. Richardson's deposition at the instant as evidence.

Mr. Johnston further explained that the defence had nothing to do with Mrs. Richardson leaving the city, but that they were responsible for thus delaying the trial.

Chief Justice Sir W. R. Meredith then formally postponed the case until fall, and Gerald Sifton was removed from the Court House to spend several more weeks in hospital.

No evidence was produced against Canon Richardson in the indictment charging him with trying to defeat the ends of justice, and the case was consequently dropped.

DR. J. A. WATSON KILLED YESTERDAY

His Horse Thrown Into a Panic and Backed in Front of a Train.

FATALITY OCCURRED IN LAMBTON

Shock Was so Terrible That Both Horse and Rider Were Killed—He is a Well-known Fragrance.

Toronto, April 11.—This afternoon Dr. J. A. Watson of 145 Sherbourne street was out riding on horseback on Dundas street when the Canadian Pacific Railway train crossed it near Lambton when the approach of a train threw the animal into a panic. It refused to move and backed across the line. The shock was terrific and both rider and horse were killed.

Dr. Bull, of Lambton, was seen on the scene, but his services were not required. The remains were taken down to the C.P.R. station. An inquest is to be held.

Dr. Watson was widely known in Toronto as an enthusiastic horseman.

NEW ROAD TO BUFFALO, N. Y.

A Radial Railway to Join That City With Cleveland.

A BOON FOR WESTERN ONTARIO.

Ferry Service Will Take Them to Cleveland and the Trolley Line to the Fair.

Toronto, April 11.—If the dreams of many of the Cleveland people are verified, it will be able to get into Buffalo and Cleveland by a decidedly novel route. The Cleveland, Painesville and Eastern Railway Company have decided to extend their line 25 miles eastward this summer from Painesville to Ashabua, there to connect with a line running from the latter place to Cleveland. From Cleveland an electric road is projected to Buffalo. The project possesses interest for Western Ontario, because of the ferry service, which will be run across from Cleveland to Port Dover, or Port Rowan, either of which are on the Grand Trunk. Should the enterprise be carried out people west of Tinsburg and Woodstock will have a choice of routes, either over the G.T.R. all the way, which is the quickest, or if a holiday trip is the intention, down to Port Rowan or Port Dover, across the lake to Cleveland, and thence to Buffalo.

DEWET REPORTED TO BE INSANE

A Body Guard of Chosen Adherents Continually Surround Him.

DISTRACTED BY HOPELESSNESS OF HIS CASE.

Dewet's Follower's Crying for Peace—Lord Salisbury Has Not Left His Villa Since His Arrival at Nice.

London, April 11.—A new agency this afternoon publishes a despatch from Cape Town, confirming a despatch on the same subject tabled to the associated press yesterday, which says that General De Wet is so distracted by the hopelessness of his case that he can truthfully be described as insane. He goes in fear of his life amongst his own troops, and keeps himself surrounded by a bodyguard of chosen adherents. But from his own ranks, voices are now more frequently heard calling imperatively for peace.

Nice, April 11.—Lord Salisbury has not left the grounds of his villa since his arrival. Several members of his family arrived there today.

KING CHRISTIAN EIGHTY-THREE

Englands Queen And Russia's Dowager Czarina Attend the Birthday Festivities.

Copenhagen, April 12.—The 83rd birthday of King Christian was celebrated today everywhere in Denmark. The King is in good health and received the congratulations of officials, diplomats and other dignitaries. The streets were crowded and in the square fronting the Amalienborg palace several thousand people constantly cheered the King, who, in response, appeared upon the balcony with his daughters. At the banquet given to-night at the Crown Prince's palace, the Crown Prince, Prince Frederick, toasted the King, his father.

Queen Alexandra of England, and Dowager Empress Marie of Russia, who have been attending the celebration, leave here to-morrow. Queen Alexandra will go to Copenhagen for a few days and will thence return home.

A GOOD IDEA.

The Young Chief of Police Has an Example.

Chief of Police Hume, of Cobourg, recently visited the different schools in that town and warned the pupils against killing birds, and robbing their nests. Parents, at a rate, do not take time to instruct their children as to the great usefulness of birds in wiping out myriads of larvae, insects, beetles, flies, worms and bugs hurtful to plants, shrubs, flowers and every form of plant life, and as a result thousands of our beautiful feathered friends, among them our sweetest singers, are cruelly slaughtered by thoughtless and sometimes evil disposed boys.

The warning given by Chief Hume should be sounded in every room of our public schools; and as regularly as the birds return in the spring, teachers should not apart a certain time to impress upon the minds of their pupils the cruelty of killing birds and robbing their nests, and inculcate in them as much as possible a love for the beautiful in nature, particularly the birds that charm us with their spring time melody.

AN ATHLETIC CLUB FORMED

An Enthusiastic Meeting Held at the Y. M. C. A. Building.

An enthusiastic meeting was held at the Y.M.C.A. Hall on Wednesday evening, when an athletic club was formed, with the following officers:

President—Mr. R. F. McWilliams.
1st Vice-President—Mr. J. M. McLeod.
2nd Vice-President—Mr. A. W. McPherson.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. Sanford Hall.

It was taken for granted that tennis, Association football and track athletics would be indulged in, but a new game was thought advisable to be introduced. The intermediaries as a permanent desire to play tennis, and well as several senior men, and it was decided to introduce the game when it could be properly governed by such an organization.

On motion of Messrs. Ipton and Whiten, the officers of the club were instructed to call meetings of those interested in the various sports—football, tennis, track athletics and lacrosse.

It was moved and seconded by Messrs. Goidley and Anderson, that the executive committee be invited to seek reference to permission for the use of the Nicholls oval.

The club was formed will be known as the Y.M.C.A. Athletic Club, and the admission fee is $1, permitting a full member or intermediate member to participate in any or all the four outdoor sports.

A largely attended and very enthusiastic meeting held in the Central Ontario Power Co's office, the Colts' Cricket Club was organized for the coming season. J. A. Alexander, a well known man who has ever manifested an interest in the game, presided. The following officers were elected:

Hon. President—Dr. Geo. Burnham.
Patrons and Patronesses—Mr. R. H. Rogers, C.E., and Mrs. Rogers, Mr. J. A. Kennedy, M.P., and Mrs. Kennedy, Mr. Chas. McGill, and Mrs. McGill, Dr. P. J. Brind and Mrs. Brind, Mr. A. H. Stratton and Mrs. Stratton.
President—Mr. J. A. Alexander.
1st Vice-President—Dr. T. W. H. Young.
2nd Vice-President—Mr. A. A. Hollinghead.
Secretary—Mr. Herb. S. Wood.
Treasurer—Mr. Jas. Luddy.
Captain—Mr. Frank Burnham.
Manager—Mr. E. S. Clarry.
Executive—Messrs. Harold Armstrong, A. Goucher, C. Simpson, H. Munro and C. Rogers.
Hon. Coach—Messrs. W. Stocker, H. Burnham, J. H. Burnham, and H. Hamilton.

It was decided to make the membership fee $1.00.

A very handsome and useful gift to the club was made by the popular President, Mr. Alexander. It consisted of one pair of pads, two pairs of batting gloves and one ball. His gift of a bat that year to the player obtaining the highest batting average was won by Mr. Douglas Hammond. Mr. Alexander has offered another bat for competition this year.

Matches will be arranged with the Grange School, Lakefield, A.C.S. Port Hope, Upper Canada College, Toronto, and other teams. First-class cricket will be played. The membership promises to be large and includes many excellent players, both old and young. Teams will be put on the field immediately, and a very prosperous season is looked for.

CLASS RE-UNION

Good Music and Interesting Speeches Were Delivered.

The Y.M.C.A. class reunion last night was an interesting and enjoyable affair. After some excellent music by the Glee Club, Mr. A. E. Dixon was called to the chair. Mr. Dixon cited the fact that the majority of boys in school at the age of 12 are out of it at 14, and the value of evening classes. It was hoped to make the reunion an annual event.

Mr. McCallum, teacher of drawing, made a breezy speech, in which he commended our public school system. There are too many scholars. He believed one reason why Scotchmen are so generally successful in life is that they thoroughly learn what little they do learn in the elementary schools.

Mr. C. F. Merrill, superintendent of the Canadian General Electric Works was present and was invited to speak. He was so favorably disposed toward our public school system that he believed in the kindergarten, and did not believe in sending children of 6 or 7 to public schools. He had had his head filled with stuff they did not understand.

Mr. J. S. Smith, teacher of English, put in a word for the defence. A child would profit in the long run from imperfect acquaintance with studies imperfectly understood at first.

Several young men, students in the evening classes, testified to the benefits they had received.

A patriotic solo by Mr. Mulligan, who has a powerful and cultivated voice, was rendered with cheers. Refreshments were served at the end of the meeting. The attendance was quite large.

THE CEREAL COMPANY.

The Delay in Commencing Operations is Fully Explained.

The Times has been asked quite often lately why it is that the Cereal Company has not made a start. For the information of those who made enquiries from the company's solicitor, Mr. A. P. Foushee, K. C., who said that there was some delay in preparing the plans of the buildings. It was deemed advisable by the company to secure the very best plans obtainable, and with this object in view, the company's architect is inspecting the principal mills in the United States.

Under the Act which was recently passed by the Ontario Legislature, relating to the by-laws of the Town and Ashburnham Councils, one year is given in which the company is to expend not less than $100,000 in buildings.

There is therefore no reason for apprehension whatever. The works will go on, and that, too, very soon but no start can be made until the plans are fully prepared.

CHINA TRADE PARALYZED.

London, April 11.—The correspondence of the Times pictures the situation in the districts occupied by the foreign troops in the gloomiest colors, and says trade with Northern China is completely paralyzed.

The first steamer from Shanghai to Tientsin, after the opening of navigation usually carry goods to the value of ten million taels ($650,000). This year there is a single package has come forward. He further states that the anti-foreign feeling is stronger, more genuine, more independent than at any time since the Boxer triumph.

In reference to the Russo-Chinese relations, the correspondent says the language used by M. de Giera, the Russian Minister at Peking hardly reflects the benevolent sentiments expressed by Count Lammudoff, the Russian Foreign Minister, in his circular. M. de Giera demands the return of all communications from the Russian Legation respecting the Manchurian negotiations, and has warned Earl Li that instead of being, as heretofore, an advocate of the Chinese cause, (M. de Giera) will henceforth support a policy of the utmost severity.

AN AWFUL EXPERIENCE.

Crime in a Suburb of Scranton That May Rival the Beaches Case.

Scranton, April 12.—Kidnapped by three and assaulted by five young men was the terrible experience of 14-year-old Edna Hunt last night in the suburb of this city. Seven arrests have already been made in connection with the case. The girl has been taken in charge by the Board of Charities, but with her mental faculties impaired serious doubts as to her recovery are entertained. Edna is extremely pretty, and of good size for her age.

Saturday night three unknown young men accosted and induced her to accompany them. Suddenly a hand was placed over her mouth to prevent an outcry, she was carried to a nearby freight car, and there her arms were tied and a handkerchief tied across her mouth when each of the trio assaulted her. Leaving her with one of the number the other two disappeared. Six other young men happened along at this time and entered the car. The third man of the first trio made a hurried exit and the second crowd assaulted the girl. Further assaults were interrupted by a crowd of police who arrested the entire crowd and their ages range from 18 to 24 years.

Edna since her arrest has shown alarming symptoms of insanity. She laughs and cries alternately and cannot tell a connected story. The affair has created much excitement and public indignation is high.

A COUNTERFEITER

OF CONTINENTAL FAME

Chicago, April 11.—Upon receiving news of the capture in New York of John Albert Skoog, who is pronounced by officials of the United States secret service to be one of the most expert counterfeiters in the world, the United States Secret Service located in this city, at present and was invited to speak. He was so favorably disposed toward our public school system that he believed in the kindergarten, and did not believe in sending children of 6 or 7 to public schools. He had had his head filled with stuff they did not understand.

Several young men, students in the evening classes, testified to the benefits they had received.

A patriotic solo by Mr. Mulligan, who has a powerful and cultivated voice, was rendered with cheers. Refreshments were served at the end of the meeting. The attendance was quite large.

MR. ARM CRUSHED.

Mr. Harry Rutherford, of Otonabee, while operating an oat crusher yesterday, so his arm caught in the machinery, and the result that it was broken and badly injured.

He was brought in to the Nicholls Hospital, where Dr. Greer dressed the limb.

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salda copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims: The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salda, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salda. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of Salda at Cleora station, on the main trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

AGUINALDO'S EASY LIFE

Former Insurgent Leader is to Be Given a Large House.

HE IS BUYING DIAMONDS

Proclamation is Still in Process of Preparation.

Civil Government Will be Established Within Next Few Months.—How the War is Progressing.

Manila, April 12.—Aguinaldo, who appears to be well supplied with money, is enjoying life and expresses his pleasure at the contrast which his present position affords with that of the days when he was a fugitive. He is to be moved from the Malacanang palace, where he is now incarcerated, into a large house in the city, surrounded by pleasant grounds, and the guards around his person will be few and in no way sufficient to inconvenience him. He is spending the greater part of his days in preparing the manifesto, which is progressing but slowly, owing to his ignorance of the English language and his determination to compose the fact without the assistance or the advice of any outsiders. Another of the reasons of the delay is that Aguinaldo is anxious to word the message in such a manner as to leave him a loophole for explanations to the Filipinos who are now rather distrustful of their former leader.

Filipinos Are Envious.

The Filipinos in Manila are much exercised over the favors which are being shown to the insurgent leader, and it is feared that their distrust and growing dislike to him may cause his proclamation to lack much of the effect desired. His vast purchases of diamonds and indeed of valuables of every description in the city and his shrewdness in distributing these purchases in nearly every store presided over by natives are, however, obtaining him some friends and he has many visitors to whom he is giving the advice that submission to American control is now the only hope for the island.

General Sando, a former member of Aguinaldo's cabinet, has surrendered to the American authorities at Cabanatuan, in the province of New Ecija. He has a bad record and may be tried.

Surrender of Funes Important.

Washington, April 12.—Late mail advises to the war department contain the details of the surrender of the insurgent leader Emilio Funes at Ifilan on Feb. 22 last, which has already been touched upon briefly in the cable dispatches from Manila. The expedition to capture Funes was instigated by the federal party and considered by the Forty-seventh volunteer infantry and twenty-two enlisted men of that regiment.

The soldiers were accompanied by four members of the federal party of Bulacan, who, upon arrival at Ifilan, addressed the people of the village gathered in a convent, setting forth to them the advantages that would accrue from a declaration of fealty to the American cause. As a consequence 1,073 natives from the surrounding country took the oath of allegiance within the next few days.

Plan the Civil Government.

The news from Manila regarding the establishment of civil government is in accord with information already made public here that the new Philippine government will be established about July 1. Immediately upon the passage of the army appropriation bill the Spooner amendment was called to the Taft commission and the commission was directed to prepare a plan for the government of the islands in accordance with the law.

This plan has not yet been completed, but it is expected to be about the time of the return of the commission to Manila, and it will be called here for approval or amendment. The civil government proposed will not be very elaborate, but sufficient to meet the present requirements.

Authority over the islands probably will be exercised by the president through Secretary Root, as the secretary already is familiar with the government machinery of the islands. More than this, the law specifically asserts that the military as well as civil and judicial powers shall be exercised in the islands and it is not believed feasible to divide the responsibility, as for many years to come there must be joint and harmonious action by the civil and military authorities.

Says War's End is Nearer.

Washington, April 12.—General A. B. M. Young, just returned from the Philippines, where he commanded a district in northern Luzon, mildly deprecated the idea that the war in the archipelago is over because Aguinaldo is a prisoner. For professional reasons General Young does not enter into extensive details to prove that, but he says with significant emphasis that it will be a hinder for the administration to cut down the 50,000 limit that has been maintained and that the peace and tranquility of the archipelago will be menaced if such a course is followed.

General Young called on the president this morning in company with the aide and was accorded an interview lasting half an hour. He told the president what he subsequently said to newspaper correspondents about the general conditions existing in the islands. The general says that such leaders as Alejandro and Santos, who are superior to Aguinaldo in intelligence and education, will never consent to lay down their arms until they have been captured.

Alejandro is described by General Young as the ablest of all the Filipino leaders. He has a large following, which, though well scattered over the present time, can be mobilized on short notice and made a formidable instrument of opposition to the United States forces. General Young evidently has little confidence in the belief that Aguinaldo's rival leaders will surrender voluntarily now that they have an opportunity to take up the scepter of command and that the war, instead of coming to a close, is apt to prove more destructive and prolonged than ever. In any event, even if most of the leaders will surrender, the general says, there will still be small bands all over the archipelago which will continue to cause trouble.

Nervousness and Nerve.

The more nervous a man is the less nerve he has. That sounds paradoxical—but it isn't for nerve is stamina. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives nerve. It tones the whole system, perfects digestion and assimilation, and is therefore the best medicine a nervous person can take. If you get tired easily, mentally or physically, take it—it will do you good.

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62064, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet. This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock of radiators.

—Dr. Herb. Bell, of Warsaw, and Mr. O. A. Langley, of Lakefield, attended the Golf Club ball.

—Mr. Wm. Scott, local manager of the Cereal Company, arrived in town yesterday from Lakefield.

—Mr. R. S. Breckenridge, for three months the efficient teacher of Fraser, ville school, has accepted a position with the Dickinson Co.

—The Times was yesterday favored with a call from Mr. George Garbutt, of Fort Hope, who recently sold out his sole water business, and has gone into the manufacture of wagon boxes. Mr. Garbutt has invented a combination hay, grain and stock rack wagon and sleigh box, which is bound to have a large sale. Mr. Garbutt is a guest at the Snowden House.

—Mr. John A. Macdonald, who is well and favorably known in the printing and stationery trade of the country, through his connection with the Canada Paper Co., as a traveler, has severed his connection with the company and accepted a responsible position with the Imperial Life Assurance Company. Mr. Macdonald is well fitted for the new duties which he assumes, and has plenty of friends everywhere who will be pleased to hear of his success.

Death of Earnest McCabe.

Mr. Earnest McCabe, an old resident of Peterborough, passed away at the family residence, 29 Division street, yesterday morning. The deceased had been ill for some time with consumption. He was born in Ashburnham, 46 years ago, and was a printer by trade. For many years he was a member of the 57th Battalion band, and was an enthusiastic player of more than usual ability. Possessing many good qualities, and genial in disposition, the deceased was well liked, and his death will be mourned with regret, and great sympathy will be felt for his wife and family of five children who are left to mourn his demise. The funeral will take place from the family residence on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

Matches Will be Shorter.

The most important change in lacrosse rules this year is that relating to the length of the match. In olden days the match was decided by a team winning the best four out of three, then it became the best four out of seven. For the last four or five years it has been the team winning the most games in two hours. Hereafter it will be the team winning the most games in 1 hour and 35 minutes, the actual playing time being 1 hour and 20 minutes. The amendment in full reads:—"The playing time of the match shall be divided into four quarters of 20 minutes each, and the conclusion of each quarter period. A rest of five minutes shall be allowed at the end of each quarter of 20 minutes, thus making the duration of a match of 95 minutes."

The Late Harry B. Beck.

A letter has been received from Mrs. Beck, mother of the late Harry B. Beck, whose accidental death in the electric works a short time ago caused such universal regret, asking for further information regarding the fatal- ity. The writer came addressed to Mr. E. G. Patterson, manager of the Canadian General Electric Company, and was in reply to a cablegram sent to Mrs. Beck, who resides in London, Eng- land, shortly after the accident. A letter had been forwarded to her since, detailing the circumstances.

The absence of any direction con- cerning the disposition of the body of the young man will probably be in- terred in Little Lake cemetery, Mr. John Bab having kindly granted a plot there for that purpose.

Laid at Rest.

The funeral of Mrs. Albert Dunford took place yesterday from the family residence, 114 Sherbrooke street, to the Little Lake Cemetery. The funeral was very numerous. Including two beautiful wreaths from Companion Court Queen and Court Chemists, I.O.F. Court Queen was represented at the funeral by a number of the lady members, and a representative was also present from Court Chemists. Bro. A. Allison, D.H.C.R., gave the eulogy. Services, at the home of Mrs. G. Swan, H.C.R., occupied three carriages in the procession.

Probably a Lindsay Incident.

Said the dentist, after looking at the offending molar, "It is a very ugly one. I would advise you to have it out by the painless system. It is only a shilling extra." He showed the fam- ily the apparatus for administering gas, remarking that it would cause him to fall asleep for a minute, and before he awoke the tooth would be out. After a slight resistance the sufferer consented, proceeding to open his purse. "Oh, never mind paying just now," said the dentist kindly. "Hood's" answered the cautious old Scot. "A wasn't thinking of that; but if it ain't gum it ain't a tooth." "A was like to point his finger at you."

A WORK OF ART.

Grand Trunk Railway Issues a New and Exquisite Folder.

A BEAUTIFUL PUBLICATION.

To the Grand Trunk must be given the palm and the credit for being first in the field with a handsome new publication dealing with the great attrac- tions of the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo, which will open on the first day of May for a continuance of six months.

Nothing yet so pretentious and ele- gant as this book has been issued in connection with the great international event, and the Grand Trunk, never doing things by halves, has thought fit to get up this fine piece of work for the benefit of its patrons and the public generally. The publication is composed of thirty-two pages, with a four-page cover. The inside is printed in three colors, including the "luxu- rious" finish on the illustrations. The descriptive matter has been carefully compiled and arranged with a view of giving the reader a comprehensive and true picture of the different buildings and attractions of the exposition. There is also a good description of the "Midway," a feature of the exposition, which, it is said, will surpass anything of the kind heretofore attempted.

The publication is also a very valu- able feature of the exposition, as it gives the traveler a complete and up-to-date map of the Grand Trunk Railway system in three colors, including, as well as a map of the city of Buffalo, showing the several railway stations and the street car lines running to and from the exposition grounds, a valuable feature of the exposition, as it gives the traveler a complete and up-to-date map of the Grand Trunk Railway system in three colors, including, as well as a map of the city of Buffalo, showing the several railway stations and the street car lines running to and from the exposition grounds, a valuable feature of the exposition, as it gives the traveler a complete and up-to-date map of the Grand Trunk Railway system in three colors, including, as well as a map of the city of Buffalo, showing the several railway stations and the street car lines running to and from the exposition grounds.

CENSUS HUMORS.

Our Old Peterborough Man said His Son Was Older than His Mother.

One of the Peterborough's census men went to a house in town yester- day and proceeded to tally the old gen- eral, the head of the house, with ques- tions.

"How old are you?" asked the ven- erable "Eighty-four."
"And your wife?"
"Thirty-six."
"And your son?"
"Oh, he's thirty," answered the old gentleman. As a matter of fact, his wife is 76.

Quite a good story, relative to con- nexion with the census, is being told by the enumerator, promptly told that official that he would give all neces- sary information without any ques- tions being asked. The enumerator got his schedule and forms ready, then inquired that he was ready for busi- ness, when his host replied—

One wife—with red hair.
Two sisters—she's a fair.
One horse—and she's a mare.
That's all—I swear.

An enumerator on his rounds ran across somewhat of a novelty in the way of information. The lady of the house was away from home, leaving a young son and daughter at home. The boy was at school, and, fearing of the census man would call dur- ing his absence, he left a piece of paper giving the name of the street, town, county, province, dominion, contin- ent, stating that the house was the second from the street with green shutters and brown door, knobby very floor, no carpet on stairs, two coal stoves, dining room, parlor, kitchen, three bed rooms, cloak room, pantry with rat traps (dead), no dog, no cats, no birds, two kids, lamp down cel- lar with music box, etc.

SEABOARD NAVAL TERRORS.

England, having long scoffed at submarine torpedoes, is now find- ing five of the Holland pattern, though the Admiralty is very dubious of their utility. This is a step taken under the name of the "Holland" very re- sponding. It may be remarked that France possesses more submarine boats than any other country, and is con- stantly putting them through evolu- tionary practice.

As an American naval officer put it, "their chief value is their moral effect." "Other words," they are a naval "bluff." Holland's success in prac- tice at Newport last year showed that the Holland boat might easily have torpedoed the battleship Massachu- setts.

The recent invention of a torpedo that can be controlled by electric waves, and kept going toward the target without wires and at a speed twice as fast as the old style torpedoes, adds another terror to the fighting. The period of natural an- nihilation once attained, all existing navies will become obsolete. This per- haps will be reached at a point where every country will be mistress of the seas, or, in other words, none will be.

IN SEARCH OF A BROTHER.

Stratford, April 11.—Norman Mil- ler, of England, called upon Mr. Ar- bur T. Miller, his brother, of this place, whom he had not seen for seven years, and informed the Stratford man that their father had died and left a small fortune to the Stratford man. He wanted his way across to Hal- iifax on a Beaver liner. He was pen- less when he reached Halifax, but by the aid of some members of the Strath- conis, he had a comfortable ride as far as Montreal. From Montreal he walked to River Beaudette, where he worked on a farm for three days, for which he was paid one dollar and given a change of clothes. From River Beaudette he made his way to Corn- wall, and thence to Toronto. From Toronto he rode to Stratford on a flat car, arriving here Easter Sunday. Yesterday he found his brother.

Canadian Has Won Victoria Cross.

Kingston, April 10.—Dr. H. E. Doug- las, of Kingston, Jamaica, a graduate of Queen's College, has received the Victoria Cross for bravery in action, while attached to the Gordon High- landers as surgeon. He was with the Black Watch on its death march, and when the fire opened, though slightly wounded, crawled amid the bullets, to the head of the column. The officers of his regiment were told that he had been out of action. He was wound- ed by a bursting shell which carried away part of his cheek.

T. HURLEY &

A PREFERENCE FOR ALL ENGLISH BEEF

The Home-Bred Article Alone Will be Bought For The Army--A Boon For Canada.

A GREAT BLOW TO CHICAGO CATTLE DEALERS.

A Chance For Canada--It's Supply Problem Will be Greatly Simplified A Well-known Chicago Firm Will be Affected.

London, April 12.—The British War Office confirms the report that it is going to try the experiment of supplying the army with only home grown beef. The experiment will extend six months from June 1. The director of contracts, a major, said to a representative of the Associated Press:

"The new rule applies only to refrigerated beef, hitherto bought in the open market in London. It will not seriously affect the American trade, as the total weekly supply for the army is only 200,000 pounds, which is barely 2 per cent. of the weekly imports of refrigerated beef into England from the United States. Mr. Broadbent's action was taken long before the New Orleans proceedings. It is quite absurd to suppose any idea of retaliation prompted the order, which was due to a natural desire to help some of the industries. The difference in price is very trifling, and we are making that up by giving Tommy Atkins from mutton two days instead of one day weekly.

"If the plan is satisfactory, our supply problem will be greatly simplified, for we often have complaints and disagreements over refrigerated beef. You must not suppose that we now use no home-grown beef. Aldershot and some of our other camps are almost entirely supplied with home-grown beef. We have hitherto used refrigerated beef as an integral part. We have no prejudice against American firms, and we do not believe they will miss this trade to any extent, even if it is decided to continue the experiment."

Toronto, April 12.—The foregoing despatch was received later than the following one, which came in from Washington last night: "The Department of Agriculture has received a despatch from a prominent packing company of Chicago, announcing that the English Government have excluded all beef, except home-bred, from the British army contracts. This, it is stated, is to be effective June 1 next."

The prominent packing house was Swift & Co., one of the biggest in the business on the other side. American-like, as soon as they were hit, away they went to Washington with their complaint. Uncle Sam may refuse to let John Bull sell his goods in the States; he may even put obstacles in the way of

WILL NOT RELAX GRIP UPON CUBA

An Indication that Uncle Sam Means to Exercise Control.

New York, April 12.—Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, a member of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, is quoted in a Herald special from Washington as saying, after a conference with Secretaries Hay and Root: "Congress has defined the relations which shall exist between the United States and Cuba, and, in my judgment, it will not agree to any modification."

Coming from such a source, this is of the utmost importance to the Cubans, and shows conclusively that the sending of a commission to Washington to consult the President will be fruitless.

BREATH TAKEN BY COLONEL MUNRO

Two Hours Hard Fighting Reported by Kitchener Near Dewetsdorp.

EIGHTY PRISONERS CAPTURED.

British War Office Confirms The Report That Home Produced Will Only be Used In The Army.

London, April 12.—A despatch from General Kitchener from Pretoria, dated Thursday, April 11, says Colonel Munro's mounted infantry, after two hours' hard fighting, has captured eighty prisoners, including Commandant Breda, at Liebenfeyne, near Dewetsdorp.

A WAR OFFICE EXPERIMENT.

London, April 12.—The British War Office confirms the report that it is going to try the experiment of supplying the army with only home-produced beef. The experiment will extend six months from June 1.

Washington, April 12.—The Department of Agriculture has received a despatch from Swift & Co., the packers of Chicago, announcing that the English Government have excluded all beef, except home-bred, from the British army contracts. This, it is stated, is to be effective June 1 next.

CONVOY SAFE.

The convoy which left Pretoria on March 27, with supplies, reached Rustenburg safely, and returned to Pretoria yesterday. It was accompanied by a strong escort was not openly attacked by the Boers.

A Boer force numbering about 900 was seen hurrying toward the north, a reconnaissance was made toward them and a long occupied camp, just evacuated, was discovered.

DON'T WANT PRISONERS.

The Federal Cabinet of Australia today decided that it was unwise to surround the suggestion of Joseph Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary, that Boer prisoners be sent to Tasmania.

CIVIL GOVERNMENT BEGINS.

A civil administration was inaugurated at Pretoria yesterday, under a proclamation by Governor Sir Alfred Milner. The military tribunals at Johannesburg and the Transvaal law of procedure is maintained, but proceedings must be conducted in English.

Great satisfaction is expressed over the commencement of a civil government. The appointments announced meet with much approval.

HOOFSTAD RELIEVED.

The British Garrison at Hoofstad in the northwestern part of the Orange River Colony, which has been isolated for some months, has been relieved by a column under Lord Eriq, and withdrawn. The fortifications at the place were destroyed, and nearly all the inhabitants quit the town. Lord Eriq's column surprised the Boers at Kereefankling seven of them.

NO SURRENDER.

The British War Office has issued the following special order regarding surrenders in the field:

"Any officer or soldier, who, when in the presence of the enemy, displays a white flag or other token of surrender, will be tried by general court-martial."

SPRING, BEAUTIFUL SPRING.

It has arrived at last and got down to business.

Spring, except the vernal season, has commenced to get its work in. As this great family journal writes, the sun is shining brightly, the breezes blowing of the South and the birds chatting gaily in the branches.

So far as may be observed up to the time of going to press, spring this year is very much like the spring we had last year. Being the first spring of a new century, one might be excused for expecting something a trifle out of the ordinary, and perhaps we will get it yet.

In the parks and squares yesterday the buds began to swell in business-like fashion, having been apprised of the advent of the new season by those inveterate gossip, the sparrows. In sheltered nooks the grass took on a fresher shade of green, while the breeze which drifted softly through the branches was so lazy that even this g.f.f. knew it had spring fever.

Throughout the length and breadth of the land the poets took down their poems from the shelves and dusted them preparatory to starting them on their yearly peregrinations. The toy shop windows are full of toys and marbles, and, well, in short, it is once more spring.

DICKSON JEWETT'S DOG.

Mr. Dickson Jewett, the popular manager of the Snowden House, has a dog that knows as much or more than some of our contemporaries that we could name. The dog is intelligent, and is always being taught new tricks. "When Dickson takes a broom for instance, to sweep the floor, the dog at once brings the dust pan, and as soon as he has used it, the intelligent brute will return the pan to its place. His latest accomplishment was exhibited the other day to a Times representative. "What do you think," said Mr. Jewett to the dog, "of the Oriental Hotel?" The animal growled and showed his teeth. "What do you think of the National?" There was another deep growl. "Now tell us what you think of the Snowden House?" Here the intelligent dog barked joyously, wagged his tail and leaped upon his questioner with every indication of delight. "That's what he thinks of this town," said Dickson. "And now he'll show you what he thinks of the newspapers of the town, and when the name of this g.f.f. is mentioned our canine friend shows such unbounded delight that our representative felt in duty bound to set up the hard chair for the dog."

It is Reported That Russia Has Already Prepared a Fresh Convention for China To Consider.

London, April 12.—The despatches from the Far East are contradictory, and devoid of very much interest today. One despatch has it that there is increasing evidence that the court intends to leave Singan-fu, and proceed to the Province of Honan on the way to Peking. The court will remain at Kaifeng-fu, the capital of Honan, for some time, and await developments.

A NEW CONVENTION.

"M. de Giers demands the return of all communications to the Chinese authorities regarding the Manchurian negotiations," says Dr. Morrison, writing to the Times from Peking, "and he has warned Li Hung Chang that instead of being, as heretofore, an advocate of the Chinese cause, in conference with Ministers of the powers, he will henceforth support the policy of the utmost severity. Russia has still ample means to induce this spirit. The report is current, but I believe it is premature, that Russia has already prepared a fresh form of convention. Doubtless, however, when the process of intimidation has been carried far enough a fresh attempt will be made to recover the lost ground."

JAPAN'S ATTITUDE.

New York, April 12.—Mr. J. N. Ford, in a special to The Times says:—Japan's attitude with regard to the Chinese situation is now more clearly defined. When the Chinese court returns to Peking another protest will, it is said, be sent to Russia against the occupation of Manchuria. The Russian Minister in Peking is reported to have been instructed to adopt a policy of terrorism towards China in the hope of compelling the Imperial court to agree to the Manchurian treaty. Meanwhile from Shanghai comes the rumor that the Emperor has decided to leave Sianfu for Peking on May 11th.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

Under the auspices of St. Peter's Total Abstinence society, a very pleasant banquet and "At Home" was given on Thursday night in the society's parlors. An address and gold headed cane was presented to Rev. Father Sullivan, which was suitably acknowledged. Short and witty speeches were made by Ven. Archdeacon Casey, Rev. Dr. Gilman, and others. A beautiful pen was also presented to Mr. D. J. Levine, with an address. Nor was this all: Mr. J. J. Hick, ex-chairman of the Literary Committee, was presented with a very complimentary address, which was accompanied by a gift in the shape of a shamrock, hand-somely wrought in silver. Mr. Hick, after being pronounced a "Jolly Good Fellow," made a very appropriate reply. A pleasant dance was afterwards indulged in, and at twelve o'clock a most enjoyable occasion was brought to a close. Tickets 50 cents.

THE KERMIS.

This grand production will be put on both Thursday and Friday evenings, April 12th and 13th, with change of programme on Friday evening. The reserved seat plan will be opened at Ormond & Waiha's Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Tickets 50 cents.

THE CORONATION OATH MUST BE AMENDED

Catholic Prelates Throughout The World Are Making a Vigorous Protest.

Ottawa, April 13.—The archbishops and bishops of the Roman Catholic church of Canada, have signed a joint letter addressed to Cardinal Vaughan of England, congratulating him upon his protest against the statements in the coronation oath which are offensive to Catholics. The letter says that the cardinal's protest was well-timed, and that the Canadian bishops agree with it. The letter is in part as follows:—

"The words of that oath would too deeply the conscience of Catholics and insult too keenly their feelings, to permit those who have the happiness of belonging to the church of Rome to refrain from seeking by all legitimate means to abolish it forever."

"Very many of our separated brethren, prompted by a sense of justice as honorable to themselves as it is pleasing, to us, consider that the hour has come to efface from the statutes of the empire that evil reminder of former discord and hatred; they judge the time opportune to give the twelve millions of Catholics, over whom Edward VII. reigns, a precious and long-desired pledge of peace and religious liberty. In accordance with this spirit, the parliament of Canada, now in session at Ottawa, resolved a few days ago, without distinction of creed or party, by an almost unanimous vote, to petition for an elimination from the oath of accession of all expressions hurtful to the feelings of his majesty's subjects. In doing this,

IRELAND MUST FIGHT FOR ALL SHE WANTS

Maude Gonne, The Fire-Flame of The Fenians in Buffalo.

OBJECT-POINT OF AGITATORS.

An Attempt is Being Made to Keep the Irish People From Enlisting in the British Army.

Buffalo, April 11.—Maude Gonne, the champion of freedom for Ireland, and Major John McBride, who led an Irish brigade against the British at the battle of Colenso in the Boer war, are here.

"Ireland can hope for no relief by legislation," said Miss Gonne to a reporter, "but must fight for what is to be gotten. The decisive war is impending, and the emancipation is but a few years off at the most."

"Ireland has a population of over 4,000,000. If we were free we could support 9,000,000. We can raise an army of 500,000 men and these would make a very formidable showing, in comparison with the resistance that the Boers were able to offer. The fight has just begun. The siege of Pals has continued for thirty years. Now there must be action. No people ever won their freedom by talk."

"We want the people of America, especially our people, to know that we are in earnest, and we want our people to be prepared for the fight when it comes."

"Our principal work now in Ireland is to stop enlistment in the English army. John Redmond hasn't the right idea. He preaches home rule but seeks redress through constitutional argument, while the only way to get it is by force. William F. Stead knows nothing at all about Ireland."

WORTHY OF IMITATION.

A strong company formed to boom the Muskoka Lakes.

Yesterday Mr. M. C. Dickson, of Toronto, the efficient District Passenger Agent of the Grand Trunk Railway, called the attention of The Times to what is being done in connection with the Muskoka Lakes, and pointed out that nothing similar should be taken in hand in connection with Stony Lake. The Muskoka Navigation Company, with a capital of $300,000, will undertake:

(1) Two new $50,000 hotels for Muskoka.

(2) An improved Grand Trunk Railway train service to Muskoka Wharf.

(3) A more frequent and up-to-date steamer service between Muskoka Wharf and the various resorts on the lakes.

Mr. Dickson thinks that there is a great future for Stony Lake region. What is needed is hotels, and the rest will follow. The Grand Trunk is booming these lakes as they were never booming before and the tourist trade is increasing very rapidly. There should be steps taken at once to erect a commodious hotel at Stony Lake, and we hope that a company will be formed in the near future for this purpose.

GREAT BRITAIN IS NOT IN DANGER eloquent Address at the National Club by Principal Grant.

HAS A BRAVE, STRONG SPIRIT.

Toronto, April 12.—Last night the portrait of the late Sir John A. Macdonald, and Sir Oliver Mowat, painted by Mr. E. W. Grier, were unveiled at the National Club by Rev. Principal Grant. Mr. Grant in his address eulogized his statesman, and read a poem, written for the occasion by W. A. Fraser, which is as follows:

Here's to the chief that we hold! And here's to the chief that we hold! And here's to the tribute of men, To the merit that's better than gold, To the knight who's a better party griffe! Weigh them not thus as men, Weigh under the portrait of each his was a great Canadian.

His theme, however, was Canada and the Empire.

"Why has not every one of us the same high, unselfish patriotism that those two men had?" His answer was, "From pure ignorance," and he illustrated his statement by citing history from the surrender of Canada by Louis, who said "it was nothing but a few arpents of snow," to the concessions of the Ashburton treaty, the laughable surrender of the navigation rights on the Yukon, and numerous boundary surrenders. That ignorance was far more culpable in Canadians than British statesmen. The lack of patriotism he complained of was due to the deplorable ignorance of Canadians of their own country, and a lack of faith in its future. It was so that even in the present day they actually had to be obliged to an enterprising foreigner for showing Canadians the possibilities of development on the north shore of Lake Superior. And it was not that Canadians had not the capital. That ignorance was what had kept Canadians from being as patriotic as the leaders whose pictures they had unveiled. And ignorance was often associated with impudence. Such men with brass mouths and iron tongues were the wrecked cause of a country, especially if they get control of a newspaper. They then multiplied themselves, and people thought they heard the voice of God, when they heard only the voice of Billy Boston.

Ignorance of the empire, as well as ignorance of Canada, was responsible for all that "That mysterious entity called the British Empire" was the phrase by which the London Times expressed not many years ago a doubt as to whether the entity was a reality or a fiction. There was no doubt now. The mysterious entity had become a reality. Yet the empire was even more real than the decline and fall, because, forthwith, Germany was manufacturing some goods, but had built a fast ship, and steel trust had arisen in the United States. Had people who talked that way ever read history? Those things did not touch the secret of the empire's might, the secret of its marvelous power. The speaker showed how in other days other nations overshadowed Britain in wealth and commerce yet she had won Crecey, Poitiers and Agincourt, and had overthrown the Armada. Cromwell had dictated terms for religious liberty to the nations, and Britain, before the days of iron and steel trusts, had held Canada and India, and built a new nation under the Southern Cross. So, while the wealthy and commercial empires of the ancients had passed away, Israel, Athens and the Republic of Rome lived in the religion, of the philosophy and the jurisprudence of to-day.

The speaker showed how in the long struggle for liberty and the rights of conscience the British people had been realizing the highest potentialities of their future, and so long as they were adhered to, so long would the empire continue an instrument in the hand of the Almighty. Principal Grant sustained this thought in eloquent detail, and made a deep impression on his hearers. At the conclusion he was applauded to the echo.

NO MORE TROOPS FOR SOUTH AFRICA

King Edward to Abolish The Giving of Peerages For Party Services.

BULLER IN HIS SPEECH EULOGIZES COLONIES.

A Serious and Seditious Movement Among the Natives inciting Them To Throw off European Control.

London, April 12.

The Daily Press this morning says it understands that the government has decided to cease sending reinforcements to South Africa.

London, April 12.

It is asserted that King Edward intends to a great extent abolish the giving of peerages and other honors for purely political and party services.

London, April 12.

"A serious, seditious movement," says the Pictorialist, "is spreading among the natives. It is headed by native ministers, who preach the doctrine of Africa for Africans, and incite the natives to throw off all European control. The authorities are carefully watching the propaganda, but are reluctant to interfere through fear of making martyrs of the ringleaders."

London, April 13.

General Sir Redvers Buller, speaking last evening at Plymouth, eulogized the assistance which Canada and Australia had rendered Great Britain in forming in South Africa a third English-speaking nation. Nations are springing up around us, he said, and must be allowed to do what is proper for themselves. Reasonable concessions must be granted them. We must not repeat the error which lost us America, the first great child of the Empire, which was lost because a fine, growing, lusty boy was not given enough rope and was not allowed to think differently in small matters from his parents.

OVER 40,000 WERE CRUELLY MURDERED

The Number of Native Christians That Have Been Killed in China.

THE RECENT BOXER MOVEMENT.

New York, April 13.—The annual report of the American bible society, relative to the situation in China, will contain the following interesting statements from its agent in China, the Rev. John R. Hykes, D.D.

There was a deep and cunningly laid plot, under imperial sanction, to exterminate christianity, expel all foreigners and destroy all foreign interest. No one divined the full extent of the iniquity which was deliberately contemplated.

In all 183 protestant missionaries, including fifty men, seventy-five women, and forty-eight children have been massacred. With the exception of the massacres at Ku Chee in Che Kiang, in which eleven persons were killed, and at Heng Chee in Hunan, all of the deaths occurred in the northern provinces.

The question has been raised at home as to whether the Boxer uprising was anti-foreign or anti-missionary in its character. No doubt exists in the mind of any well informed person in China. The movement was undoubtedly against foreigners, as such, and the crusade was directed against foreigners, christianity, of course, included.

Hsu Ching Cheng and Yuen Chang, two ministers of the foreign office, would not transmit the awful edict which reiterated the order to "punitively exterminate all foreigners." He changed it so as to read, "protect all foreigners," and then sent it flying over the wires to the remotest provinces. They were sentenced to be cut in two. Missions were the class that benefited by this act of heroism. The fact that every missionary escaped from fourteen out of the eighteen provinces would indicate that the crusade was not specially anti-missionary.

In the provinces of Chihli and Shanai every school, hospital, chapel, and dwelling was looted and burned by the Boxers or imperial troops. The only exception being the property in the foreign settlement at Tien Tsin. So complete was the demolition of property by these mad fanatics that not a vestige was left mark the site; even the foundations were dug up and carried away. There was also destruction of missionary property in the provinces of Shensi, Honan, Hunan, Hupeh, Kiang, Si Chekiang and Kwantung. The native christians have been the worst sufferers. Those who escaped the general slaughter in the northern provinces lost absolutely everything and many of them are perishing from cold and starvation.

The scriptures destroyed will aggregate not less than one hundred thousand volumes; and the actual loss to the society will not be less than eight or ten thousand gold dollars, including the necessary expense of getting workers to places of safety and back again to their stations. All of our foreign superintendents were saved.

More than forty thousand native converts, including Roman Catholics, met death with a heroism worthy of the best age of the church. While the total number of volumes of the scriptures published is 37,000 less than the previous year, the number of pages is slightly in excess. The number of pages printed in 1899 was 76,932,200 this year it was about three-quarters of a million more. This is the largest number of pages ever printed in one year by the China agency, and will give some idea of the proportion to which the work had grown when, in common with all the forms of christian work, it was suddenly interrupted by the means of the past year.

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims: The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of Salida, at Cleora station, on the main trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

LOCAL NEWS LETTERS.

MILLBROOK.

—Miss Flossie Thorton has returned from an extended and very enjoyable visit with Marjorie and Omerie friends.

—Mr. Thos. Eakins, of Peterborough, was in town this week, the guest of Mrs. Sam Eakins.

—The Misses Green left on Monday for their future home in Listowel.

—Miss Rita Needler has gone on a trip to England, in company with Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin, of Toronto.

—Mr. Geo. Anderson, a resident of this place for over twenty years, died last Thursday, after a long and painful illness. Deceased was a member of the Canadian Home Circle. The funeral took place to Gardiner's burying ground Saturday afternoon, and was largely attended.

—Mrs. Colling, of Lindsay, is visiting with her parents here.

—Miss Henderson, of Omerie, is the guest of Mrs. D. Adams over Sunday.

—It is our painful duty to have to record the death of Mr. James Cavan, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cavan. Deceased had been ailing at intervals, but would always recover again; he took down bad about two weeks ago, and was under the skillful treatment of Dr. C. H. Heron. Despite all that medical aid could do, he expired on Wednesday. His heart was the locality of the disease. His wife, who died some years ago, was a Miss Somerville, daughter of Mr. William Somerville, near Haldimand, he leaves a small family. Interment took place at Graham's burying ground, followed by a large concourse of sorrowing friends and acquaintances, on Friday afternoon. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved family.

—Mr. Robert Ingram, who had been ailing for some time, expired on Thursday. The remains were followed to their last resting place on Saturday. The funeral was largely attended, showing how highly the deceased was respected in this locality.

—The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Davis died on Wednesday, and was buried in Graham's burying ground on Friday. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved family, as it is only a short time since they lost their only child.

—Mr. Robert Kennedy, one of our most respectable citizens, has gone from amongst us for a while. He came to Millbrook with his parents and other members of the family, in January, 1884. He attended the Bethany Public School under that grand teacher, G. A. Irwin, who "coached" the boys in cricket, and also brought them along by giving handsome prizes to encourage his pupils to learn quickly. Mr. Kennedy commenced blacksmithing in March, 1884, and worked up to March, 1901. He made application for service in South Africa and was accepted, but a meddler having given false information, he was rejected, after having sold out his business and good will, and he has now gone to seek employment elsewhere. His intention was to see the world. Mr. Kennedy, being a first class blacksmith, secured a very large trade and quite a competency of this world's goods. He will be greatly missed in the village. His family will remain in Bethany till July, and all parties indebted to him may settle with Mrs. Kennedy. We wish him every success in whatever enterprise he happens to choose.

—The farmers are greatly interested in the Canadian Cattle & Manufacturing Co., of Peterborough. Some of them are buying all the stock they are able to, and nearly all are buying more or less. At the rate the applications for stock are going in the company will soon have all sold. Several parties in Toronto are offering large inducements to have the factory located in that city. Any person wishing to take stock in the company in Manvers should call or write to Mr. Arthur Graham, of Bethany, who is agent for Manvers, Manvers, H. H. Riley and Levi B. Simon have been authorized by him to take applications from parties who

As a first resort I tried a box of these pills, and the improvement was so marked that I continued taking them. I have now taken twelve boxes, never remembering being so well in my life. I have gained 22 pounds, and am putting on more flesh daily. I am a living, walking advertisement, and consider no trouble too great in order to spread the fame of Dr. Clarke's Pills. A. F. THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62064, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet. This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 16% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock or radiators.

LESSONS OF THE WAR

The Clever Editor of the Ottawa Citizen Gives His Experience

Lt. Morrison Delivers a Lecture Before The Officers of the Ottawa Brigade.

Before the officers of the Ottawa brigade at the drill hall on Wednesday.

Lt. Morrison, M.P., delivered a highly interesting lecture before the officers of the Ottawa brigade at the drill hall on Wednesday.

Lt. Morrison went fully into the subject and his remarks elicited much interest.

At the outset he dispelled the prevailing view that the war is a very unfavorable country for military operations.

He pointed out that the land is clear for mines and well suited for military maneuvers, being free from the obstructions prevailing in Canada.

It was especially well suited for the work of long range artillery.

One of the lessons of the war, the lecturer said, was that long range fire of artillery was not worth the cost of the shells.

It was impossible to accurately judge the distance or make proper observations at such long ranges and the fire was consequently ineffective.

He cited a case where a battery had been under the fire of half a dozen long range guns for three hours without a casualty.

He quoted one of the officers of the field guns, which did the best of work.

He mentioned particularly the 12-pounder, the only fault of which was that it was ranged up to 1000 yards when it could fire 6000.

He considered that in view of the very effective work of the smaller guns it was not necessary to replace them with ones of longer range.

Speaking of infantry work, Lt. Morrison said with the up-to-date rifles of long range now used it was necessary for an infantry officer, if not provided with a cavalry screen, to keep men well in the front in order to prevent the enemy from coming within a mile of him.

He also said that the war demonstrated the necessity of infantry being drilled in extended order as far as possible.

Reverting to artillery work, the lecturer said the old brigade division at work was out of date.

The day of manning guns with over now that smokeless powder was used, with the consequent facility of concealing the guns.

These should be distributed and great difficulty would be experienced in the enemy locating them.

Of the Canadian batteries, Lt. Morrison spoke in the highest terms.

His transport, he said, was most compact, the only objection being that the forage wagons were too heavy.

The ammunition wagons and harness which came from England was also very cumbersome and there was no reason why they should not be very much lighter.

In the matter of artillery drill he thought the war showed that some relics of the past were maintained.

The everlasting removal of horses to get them in face of the fire was unnecessary.

Constant reversing of limbers was unnecessary.

He spoke highly of the Colt guns, some of which, he thought, might well be placed on the pivot of ammunition wagons.

Every gunner should carry arms and not be left without any such equipment beside the big guns.

Speaking of cavalry, Lt. Morrison said that in Canada the cavalry corps would have a rational use as mounted infantry.

The day of the sword was gone. The equipment was too complicated to be thought of as the drills might also be made of a more practical character.

The carbine was also out of date. He said that in service in South Africa tents were not used except in heavy rain.

The men preferred to cover themselves with tarpaulins. He explained the position, which, he said, was not a piece of artillery but a big machine gun.

In closing the lecturer spoke of the relations between the Canadian and British soldiers, paying a warm tribute to Tommy Atkins, who, notwithstanding the criticism directed against him, was the whole backbone of the Army.

Canada lacked organization on an army basis such as was provided in the imperial force.

The idea of the mother country was not for organization but rather for men, and he thought that the war had fully demonstrated the wisdom of Canadians to serve in that capacity and assist in the defense of the empire.

(Applause.)

In the discussion which ensued those who took part were Col. Aymer, Col. Cotton, Major Hurdman, Major Rogers, Surg. Major Courtney, Capt. Winter, Capt. Eliot, Lt.-Col. Couture and others.

One of the most important points elucidated was that the heavier corps do not take the place of the regimental surgeons and company bearers.

The latter collect the wounded on the firing line while the former supply the link in transporting the wounded to the nearest field hospital.

A LARGE ORDER.

It was learned from authentic authority yesterday that the Ontario Power Company, which has a charter to construct their power canal from Chippewa to empty into the gorge below the Falls at Niagara, have made and signed the contract for all their electrical machinery to be installed in their plant, to be delivered by the Canadian General Electric Co. in two years. The company also announced, have come to an amicable agreement with the Park Commission to have all their power houses located below the bank, and the work of construction will begin within a few weeks. As the construction will be on a large scale, it will take at least two years to complete it. This is the largest order ever booked on this continent for electrical machinery.

John Adlum, one of the town navvies called on the Times yesterday with a long story of how unfairly he was being used by the town. John says that although he is one of the best workers, and an old citizen, he is only given two days work each week, while other men, who are newcomers, get steady employment. He thinks the Town Engineer has a lot of favorites in the corporation employ, who do not earn their salt. John is mad all the way through, and threatens, unless things are different, to go out on a strike.

Some humors are inherited; others are acquired, commonly through derangements of the digestive organs.

Whether inherited or acquired, they are radically and permanently removed by one and the same medicine, and that is

For various reasons humors are most quickly removed in the Spring.

THE COAL MINES OF OLD ALBERTA

Rich Veins Struck Just East of the Crow's Nest Pass--Work of Development Begun.

MR. G. PLUMMER HILL IS THE LUCKY OWNER.

One of The First Men to Go Into The Mineral Districts of British Columbia, He Has Made a Great Discovery.

Ottawa, April 13.—Among the arrivals in the city is Mr. G. Plummer Hill, one of the members of the large Kootenay delegation which arrived in Ottawa last Wednesday to interview the Government in connection with the mining industry of the West. Mr. Hill has had a most interesting career in the Kootenay Mountains. Twelve years ago when no railroads were dreamed of, no mining regions exploited, no trails or around mountains, and there were not even log cabins to give shelter to travelers, he came up the Kootenay river with a party of prospectors. Now railroads are built in several directions and large towns, with gas and electric light, electric street cars, theaters, and, in fact, all modern conveniences, have sprung up in the country that was even then as nature made it.

Mr. Hill is essentially a discoverer. He has discovered numerous mines which now give promise of great richness, but the most recent of his discoveries, and the one that has occupied his attention since his men set up the stakes, is that of coal in the Blainville and Livingstone districts. This tract of land is in Alberta adjoining the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company's possessions, which come east to the boundary line between British Columbia and the Territories. Mr. Hill became possessed of the idea that the boundary line between Province and Territory did not mean a boundary line between coal and country rock. He, therefore, put a large party of men on the land to the east of the Crow's Nest holdings, and after several months' patient work and the expenditure of a large amount of money, succeeded by means of various tunnels and shafts in finding some remarkably rich coal deposits in the region referred to.

Since this discovery he has continued development with the most gratifying results. He has proved that the seams are large, continuous, and numerous. Tests for coke and steam purposes have proven that this new coal is just as rich as the Crow's Nest, in that it is superior for steam and slightly inferior for coke. When asked what effect his discovery would have on the British Columbia market for coal and coke Mr. Hill said that he expected within a very short time, when those interested in the properties with which he was connected, and also the other large capitalists who have properties adjoining his, and, though independent of the Crow's Nest Company, had opportunity to see the mines, there would be an output which would make these new fields a dangerous competitor of the Crow's Nest Company, for their supply, as in the case of the Fernie collieries, is simply inexhaustible, and would be capable of supplying the demands of the American continent for many, many years to come.

"In that case," I asked, "you do not anticipate that by your combination of circumstances the granting of the charter to the Crow's Nest Coal Company could entirely cut off this British Columbia smelter from receiving coke?"

"Nothing in the world would please me better," said Mr. Hill, "than to have the Crow's Nest Coal Company absolutely refuse to sell to British Columbia smelters—which I would take as a sign of insanity on the part of the management—this would provide a quick and ready market for our output. We can look after all the smelters that will be built in British Columbia, and we may say that, knowing that British Columbia is destined to become the greatest smelting country in the world, you people down here have no idea of the enormous coal deposits which Canada possesses, they are limitless, the seams are continuous, well defined, rich, and with proper transportation facilities, they will be able to compete with any coaling coal on the continent."

GREAT HOTEL FOR TORONTO.

Chicago Men to Build It and Indiana Men to Be Used.

Toronto, April 14.—Chicago contractors are to build a great hotel in Toronto, the plans for which were drawn by a Chicago architect. The W. A. Hiley company, with offices in the Bedford building, have been advised that it has been awarded the contract for the erection of the hotel in the Canadian city. The cost of which is to be $1,000,000. Henry Ives Cobb, the architect of the government building now in course of construction, made the plans for the proposed hotel.

The hotel, which is to be called the King Edward, will be one of the finest hotels in the Dominion. It is to be six stories in height and will be built of granite, stone and brick. The stone is to be Indiana colliery limestone from the quarries at Bedford in that state, and because of its peculiar susceptibility to carving the artistic features of the hotel contemplated in the plans are to be elaborate.

A time limit of one year has been placed on the contractor and work will begin as soon as possible. The hotel is to be built by a syndicate of Toronto capitalists, who have decided that a modern house in that city would prove a paying property.

PULLMAN HITS THE TRUSTS.

Brother of Late Chicago Magnate Denounces Combination of Capital.

New York, April 14.—Rev. James M. Pullman, brother of the late George Pullman, of Chicago, caused a sensation in the New York City church today by delivering a stinging speech on the evils of trusts. Mr. Pullman is the presiding elder of the New England conference and his statement in Lynn, Mass. He declared that trusts were fast sapping the vitality of the nation. They were depopulating the towns of New England, formerly so thrifty and prosperous, and he predicted that unless steps were taken to check them many of the manufacturing towns of his section of the country would be ruined beyond repair in ten years. The speaker charged the trust magnates with closing many factories by taking away the manufacturing industries.

MINISTERS WAR ON GAMBLING

New York Pastors Recognize Evil as a Threatening One.

VICE PROTECTED BY THE STATE.

A Kindred Evil According to the Minister is the Faculty of Children in New York Homes.

New York, April 13.—Too much gambling in society and too few children and the twin evils that are attracting the attention of the pastors of fashionable New York congregations, says the evening World to-day. Many of these ministers are recent additions to the religious and fashionable life of New York, and they declare that the conditions that they have encountered here appall them.

The ministers have been counselling with each other, exchanging confidences and experiences, and trying to devise means of correcting the conditions which they say prevail.

They have not decided what they will do, but they have decided that they will not begin any public crusade, and they will not refer to the subject in sermons. When a score of ministers who care for flocks that live up and down Madison, Fifth street end, and Amsterdam avenues began to talk over their troubles in confidence they found that all had the same story to tell.

Gambling among the members of their flocks, they said, was entirely too common, and the play was often for extremely high stakes.

Many instances were told showing how young men had lost much larger sums than they could afford, and had often been compelled to borrow small sums for railroad fares or temporary expenses from their hostesses.

One of the ministers who attended the conference says: "It is my personal opinion that a good deal of the money put on the plates in such liberal amounts on Easter Sunday came easy at the gambling table, or if it did not, these large gifts were made in many instances as belated supposed guilty consciences."

"It is a very easy form of imaginary self-denial, this giving of money by people who have plenty instead of personal service, and to atone for dissipation."

"I am no longer young, and have seen conditions in many cities, but I never imagined conditions existing anywhere so bad as were described at our informal talk, and that by men who related what they knew beyond doubt to be true."

THE FIFTEEN'S REPORT.

New York, April 14.—After nearly five months devoted to investigation and to attempts to suppress vice in the City of New York, the Committee of Fifteen has made a preliminary report to the public which is in the nature of a review of its work. The report deals with the preliminary work of study of the problems confronting the committee, and with the organization of a force of expert agents, as follows:

"Investigation disclosed that gambling and pool-rooms were being operated openly in violation of the law; that the gambling spirit had been artificially encouraged and developed to such an extent as to have become a distinct menace to the community, and that these gambling and pool-rooms were permitted to remain open by the authorities, and were undoubtedly protected in their operations by officers whose duty it was to close them. The committee considered, therefore, its first duty to be to execute warrants on the proprietors and managers of some of the most noted gambling houses."

FEAR FOR THE CZAR OF RUSSIA

Russian Anarchists and Revolutionists Active.

MUCH ALARM IS BEING FELT

Members of Students' Committee Probably Compromised—Stories of Plots Against Nicholas' Life Common Talk.

London, April 13.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says alarm has been felt in all circles for the life of the Czar, as the avowed anarchists and revolutionists have been displaying unusual activity since the beginning of the student troubles. It would not be going too far to say that the students' central committee, or members thereof, are probably compromised by their relations with the revolutionists, and that the revolutionists are infected with revolutionary principles.

The students do not appear ever to have regarded the Czar as responsible for their grievances, continues the dispatch. "He recently received a delegation of them at Tsarskoe Selo, where he now resides. Many of them frankly confess that they never heard an unkind word spoken of him, and this cannot be attributed to fear, for the students are accustomed to talk quite freely among themselves. Thus the idea that the students as a body are plotting against his life falls to the ground. Emperor Nicholas certainly does not seem to entertain this fear, for he comes to the city frequently to transact state affairs or to attend public concerts."

The stories of plots against the life of the Czar which found their way into the American press through England, Germany, Austria, and French channels, were common talk on the streets of St. Petersburg months before they were published, but their inherent improbability and falsity as to details caused them to be generally disbelieved. Reports of the effect that the Czar was living behind steel walls and continually running from one desk to another in his study for fear of bombs, aroused nothing but ridicule.

WHY THEY FAILED TO CATCH DE WET

Absence of a Heliograph Signaller to Keep Communications Between Columns Responsible.

DUE TO COMPETITION MORE THAN CO-OPERATION

Correspondent of the London Daily Mail Gives Three Causes Why the British Have Failed to Corner De Wet.

London, April 14.—The special correspondent of the London Daily Mail, Mr. Edgar Wallace, writes as follows, explaining escape of De Wet when hemmed in by the British in Cape Colony and south of the Orange River: "De Wet's last few days in Cape Colony were the most fearful days he has ever spent, for it was touch and go with him whether he would be completely surrounded. Hennenker, after leaving Pretoriusville with Craib, followed up De Wet to the Zand Drift, Thorneycroft being on Hennenker's right, the Orange River in flood on Hennenker's left. Hickman, moving up from Philipstown, came in touch with the enemy, but only with his rear guard, unfortunately. Haig and Williams were further south, and the question now was, Where was Byng?"

Byng, as far as the columns knew, should be exactly in front, and thus would have completed the cordon. Haig and Williams making a break south was an impossibility. Byng had left Colaba, and unknown to us had struck De Wet's forward at a farm called Goedehoop. He then sent a message to De Wet informing General Lytton, who commanded, and who recently rules away was directing operations, and received either from that officer or from Pretoria direct an order to retire south to prevent De Wet moving in that direction. De Wet then moved over the ground which had been vacated, and reached Littlefontein crossed the river.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

This in brief what happened, and the question is, what would have prevented it, and made De Wet's capture possible? I am informed that for two or three days Hickman, desirous of conveying and receiving information, had tried in vain to attract the attention of the officer commanding at Colaba by heliograph. Colaba, famous thereon, is a landmark, and from certain aspects can be seen for forty or fifty miles. Who, then, can blame Colonel Hickman for imagining that on the eminence, which is in a garrison town, there should be a staff of signallers?

THE SIGNAL THAT FAILED.

There can be no doubt at all that

INDIAN COTTON TRADE INCREASES

Development of Cotton Industry in India Threatens British Trade.

INTRODUCTION OF MACHINERY.

Formerly Cotton and Jute Were Exported to England in Raw State—Now Manufactured at Home.

London, April 14.—The development of cotton manufactures in India is becoming a serious matter for the Lancashire cotton industry. According to Sir Richard Temple, a leading authority on India, the Indian output is supplanting the Manchester product to a large extent. This is due to the introduction of machinery, brought about by competition and the natural development of India's resources. In some times a great deal of cotton and jute raw state was sent to England for manufacture, but under the new order of things cotton and jute goods are sent to foreign countries, where they can compete directly with the trade that England has built up at the expense of much time and money. The jute mills have been built more largely in Calcutta, and the exports total $20,000,000 annually. The product is sent in large quantities to the United States, Great Britain, and Australia. To the considerable detriment of this great industry in the mother country. Cotton manufactures have had remarkable progress. Bombay is the greatest centre of manufacture, and its mills are operating 3,500,000 spindles and 25,000 looms. In all India there are in operation 4,728,000 spindles, and 38,000 looms, an increase in 20 years for spindles of 221 per cent, and of looms 189 per cent. Last year they consumed 1,641,000 bales of raw cotton. The India mills are comparatively near the great China market. China is one of the largest buyers of cotton yarn in the world. Last year Indian mills supplied her with cotton yarn valued at $2,000,000, and the trade is increasing annually. Although India does not yet manufacture the finer grades of cotton goods, her coarse fabrics are becoming more and more popular. Now she sells $15,000,000 worth of coarse cotton annually, most to the markets where she has the special advantage of comparative proximity. This industry is not likely to be of supreme moment outside of the Orient. But even this fact demands serious attention from the manufacturers of Great Britain.

ONE CANADIAN AND ONLY FOUR BOERS

How Corporal Gee Saved Himself From Capture or Death And Landed a Quartet of Snipers.

HAD ONLY HIS NERVE AND A PISTOL WITH HIM.

Boers Threw Their up Hands at The Command of a Lone Man, Dropped Their Rifles, and Were Marched Into Camp.

The day was so hot and sultry—so hot that the rifle barrels scorched the soldiers' fingers. But there was work ahead—only a little foraging, it is true, but then anything was better than another day of monotonous garrison duty.

Away went the little foraging party—only eight men and two wagons—in search of horse provender.

The wagons were almost loaded and the sun was declining.

Across the veldt moving figures were seen—four mounted men! An incoming patrol, thought the foragers. But there was a man on foot, behind. What's up? A Boer leaped over his mount, most likely.

But the man behind carried his rifle—a Boer weapon at that—as if it were his best friend.

A little nearer he came, and the men at the wagons set up a cheer. Ahead rode four Boers, a sheepish, crestfallen group. Behind came a Britisher—a Canadian—with a floor rifle and the men were his prisoners—captured single-handed.

ON A SCOUTING EXPEDITION.

"It was about the 25th of September," said Gee to-day, "when I had that little adventure. The Strathcons were following Botla. We were in the Lydenburg hills, when I was taken ill with rheumatic fever. We were then at Spitzkop, 32 miles from Lydenburg, and I was sent back to the hospital at that place. I recovered at the end of two weeks, and in order to make room for others who were more in need of the doctor than I was, I applied for a transfer to the 5th Lamars, then in garrison there. I secured leave to go out with the foraging party, which consisted of eight men and two wagons, and left town in my shirt sleeves, taking only my revolver with me. The party stopped at a deserted Boer farm about four miles out, and I, for curiosity's sake, rode out to a ridge about half a mile away from the wagons. I could see nothing from there, so I went further to a small kopje. Another half-mile away from there I could see moving figures. At first I thought they were some of our fellows, and sat down to watch them. When they came nearer I saw they were Boers, out scouting. They came down to the end of the ridge I was on first, and from there sighted the foraging party. They were now about half a mile away from me.

"I was within range of their rifles, and knew if I made a bolt for it they would get me, so I concealed myself in the grass and waited. I was not in a happy frame of mind. I was scared, but determined to give them a scrap before I went for the Boers, in order to snipe the foraging party, came along behind the ridge, between the kopje I was on and the party. Their intention was to get to the north westerly end of the ridge, where they would be within easy range of the party. As they came along the valley, they followed a sheep path, and I saw that this would bring them within 30 yards of me, and in easy range of my revolver. I could hardly hope to escape discovery, and without a rifle was under a disadvantage, for they could have remained out of range of my revolver and picked me off. I knew then that only a big bluff could save me. When they came opposite me I shouted 'Hands up!' They reined up their horses so sharply that they were almost thrown over the animals' heads.

It was laughable, but I did not appreciate the joke at that time. Up went their hands, but how to get rid of their rifles was the problem. I knew no Dutch, but I shouted to them to drop their rifles. They made no move, and I shouted again. Still no move. So I threatened to fire if they did not drop them instantly. Their rifles, which they had been carrying over the pommels of their saddles, dropped to the ground in a hurry. I came out from the grass, and still covering them with my revolver, picked up one of the rifles. The magazine was full, and I had them at my mercy.

"Where are the rest of them?" said one of them, who understood English. "There are no more," I replied. The air was blue with Dutch cursing for about ten minutes, but I had the best of them with the rifle in my hand, and ordered them to ride toward the camp. I followed on foot. They made no trouble. I remained about twenty-five yards behind them, and at that distance they knew that I could pick off two or three before they could run me down.

"After they were secured, we went back and got my horse, which was tied behind the kopje, and their rifles."

Mr. Gee was wounded at Waterval on July 30. A bullet which passed clean through his horse lodged in his leg just below the knee. The surgeons refused to remove it, and the wound healed in three weeks, and he rejoined his regiment. He was taken ill again with rheumatic fever at Johannesburg and was invalided home. He arrived in England on the 19th of December, where the bullet was located by "X" rays and removed. The bullet had worked its way down to the ankle, but had caused him no trouble. He arrived home on the 17th of February.

WOMAN WORE RAGS, HER DOG, JEWELS

And Hencelorth $10,000 Will Be Expended in His Maintenance.

New York, April 13.—For the care and maintenance of a little black and tan dog which lay 30 feet when she was dying, Miss Annie Griffin left $10,000 by her will. The fortune, which she died in East Eleventh street was small and plainly furnished but "Dandy Jim," as the dog is called, was a jeweled blanket, the only article in the room indicative of the wealth of the woman.

Miss Griffin was worth $150,000, and had for years been a recluse. Her costume was made of calico, and she was a familiar figure in Union square, where every policeman knew her and her peculiarities. She was the daughter of Charles Alexander Griffin, a prominent New York lawyer fifty years ago, and the grand-daughter of George Griffin, at one time the leading lawyer of New York, and a writer of ability. She was born 58 years ago. Her most intimate friend during her school days was Ellie Vanderbilt, grand-daughter of Commodore Vanderbilt. When a young woman Miss Griffin fell in love with a cousin, Her parents would not permit her to marry him. Her grief over this, which was great, was intensified by the death of the young man not long after. The death of her mother led her finally to take the room near Union square. She never again saw any of her old friends, her only companion being "Dandy Jim" and a canary bird.

Last week it became evident that Miss Griffin's end was approaching. She sent for a lawyer and made her will. She appointed him her executor, and left her property to her nieces and nephews. To Mary Magivney the housekeeper, Miss Griffin left $10,000 for the maintenance of the dog until the end of his days. The rest of the property, which is said to amount to more than $100,000, to eight nieces at Santa Barbara, California.

A GUARANTEE OF PEACE IN EUROPE

Germany is Pleased to See Russia and France So Friendly.

Berlin, April 14.—German official circles comment calmly on the Russian festivities. They claim that the Tsar has not been unpleasantly impressed thereby. On the contrary, he is glad for everything making for peace. The official point out that the French were less demonstrative than at the reception of the Russian fleet a few years ago. One of them said: "We can only hail the demonstration as a guarantee of the continuance of peace. The French, apparently, are dropping the Alsace-Lorraine question. The prospects of a European war are more remote than ever, the nations being too much occupied with developing their economic strength to think of war."

London, April 14.—A despatch from St. Petersburg says the newspapers there express satisfaction at the festivities at Villefrance and Toulon, as evidencing the strengthening of the Franco-Italian rapprochement is anticipated to lead to the early conclusion of an alliance between Russia, France, and Italy, which, in view of the pacific sentiments of the three powers, would, in the opinion of the newspapers of St. Petersburg, constitute an efficacious guarantee of European peace.

PICTURES PUT ON BY TELEGRAPH WIRE

One of the Greatest Inventions of This or Any Other Age.

PICTURES THAT WERE SENT BY TELEGRAPH.

Half-Tone Is Sent From New York to Chicago--An Invention of the Greatest Possible Importance as a Detector of Crime.

Chicago, April 15.—University of Chicago scientists and learned men gazed in awe at the powers of the telegraph last night at the Quadrangle club when it performed the marvel of sending a half-tone picture of President Haig from New York to Chicago. Within fifteen minutes a half tone picture of President Haig was transmitted from a cylinder in New York to a cylinder in Chicago by a simple breaking and closing of an electric current.

Sending a picture a thousand miles in the most severe test to which the telegraph has ever been put, and interrupting currents in New York city marred the success of the experiment to some extent. The first attempt of the evening was to send a half tone of President Haig from New York to Chicago. The first attempt of the evening was to send a half tone of President Haig from New York to Chicago. The first attempt of the evening was to send a half tone of President Haig from New York to Chicago.

Professor Palmer, who was manipulating the New York machine in the physics laboratory of Columbia college, telegraphed that he thought foreign electric currents from other lines which were sent through a common conduit with their line in New York were interfering.

The telegraph is a complex little machine resembling a phonograph. Two machines were necessary for the experiment last night—one in Chicago and one in New York. When Thomas Miller, who was operating the Chicago machine, wished to send a half tone of President Haig he placed a metallic cylinder, on which the picture was transmitted to a cylinder on the telegraph in New York on which was wrapped prepared receiving paper.

The principle which controls this transmission is simply the opening and closing of an electric current. It is absolutely necessary that the two cylinders revolve at the same rate of speed. This result is brought about by an automatic governor which has been invented for the machine. The cylinder on which the picture is engraved is interesting for END'S LIFE IN WIFE'S SIGHT.

Without Any Apparent Cause Joseph Beatty Shoots Himself.

Chicago, April 15.—Joseph Beatty, a cigar-maker, committed suicide last night in the presence of his wife. Beatty, who lived at 2222 North Fourth avenue, returned home early. He seemed moody and nervous. While he and his wife were sitting in the parlor and he was looking at a picture of a revolver from his pocket. He placed it against his right temple and pulled the trigger. Death was instantaneous. Policeman Wagner of the Cragin police station heard the shot and ran to the house. He found Mrs. Beatty in hysterics, leaning over the body of her husband and trying in vain to bring him back to life. Beatty was 40 years old. His wife says he had never been in any business trouble, that might have been an incentive for suicide.

DELCASSE TO SEE CZAR.

French Minister to Discuss Important Affairs With Nicholas.

Paris, April 15.—It has now been decided that M. Delcasse, French minister of foreign affairs, will go to St. Petersburg to confer with Count Lamsdorff, the Russian minister of foreign affairs, and to the czar. The date of his visit has not yet been fixed, though it will probably be the beginning of May. Chinese questions and the situation in eastern Europe will be discussed and important consequences are expected to result from these conferences.

ST. JOHN'S SEARCHING FLEET

Dr. MacWillie, of Toronto. Re/a'es His Experience.

SLAUGHTER SEALS ON ICE PANS

Something About the Seal and the Life of the Hardy Men of the North Atlantic Fishing Fleet.

Dr. John MacWillie, one of the Toronto medical men who accompanied the St. John's sealing fleet this spring, returned to town on Saturday evening some interesting stories of the chase. In addition to the seal, the St. John's seals which he sent alive to the Zoo, but one of which unfortunately died last night, Dr. MacWillie has a young seal which he has kept in a small box and also the hide of one of the largest seals killed this year, an animal which weighed about 800 pounds, and measured nine and one-half feet in length.

The heads, or, as they are sometimes called, sea-lions, are the largest species of seal, and the doctor says that although he has seen a good many seals with curious and other collections of live animals, those which he sent to Riverside Park are the first of this variety he has ever seen in captivity. They derive their name from the head of the seal, which is blown up on the top of his head, which he blows up when he is angry, and the female a hundred or so less. Their color is bluish or dirty grey, with many black spots, and their commercial value is the least of all seals.

The fur of the seals caught in the Atlantic is, of course, useless, and though the hide is used as leather, the fat from which the famous seal oil is made, the most valuable part of the animal.

A DAY'S HUNT.

Dr. MacWillie gives a most vivid and interesting account of the way in which the hunt is carried on by the crew of the Algonquin, to which he belonged. "We were on deck at dawn. Here and there, from one boat to another, were six or seven other vessels. We had all struck the herd together, and were in the midst of them. We could hear the howling of hundreds of young harps—the harp last, or two weeks old. The hair of the young harps, or common seals, is pure white, until it is old enough to take to the water. Dozens were seen within fifty yards of the ship, and as five or six 'pans' were taken up by its two flippers, or gliding gracefully off the 'pan,' or block, of ice into the water—to poke its serpentine head above the ocean as its baby brother does plaintively for its mother, the whole scene is covered with ice in pans or sections from a foot to 40 feet square.

THE START FROM THE SHIP.

Then Green's crew, consisting of about 30 men, is called first, and these all climb over the side of the vessel, and stand upon logs tied up, about two feet from the water, waiting for the word of command. At the word, they jump, scramble, or fall onto it, headed by the master of the watch, who leads the way, selecting the path. They walk, run, jump from pan to pan, while the ship's crew on the fast as the ice will permit. Very soon we see them separating into groups of eight to twelve, and then again into two, and then into pairs, however, so that if they fall in, which most of them do, once to six times a day, they will then have assistance.

"Our watch to-day makes a circle, and we are with a good field, and another company from a rival vessel is also trying to get a large area as possible. It's all fair field, and no favor. If one vessel circles a very seldom encroaches.

A GREAT SLAUGHTER.

"And then commences the slaughter. A blow on the head with the end of the gaff is all that is required. Then comes the razor-like knife. A sit down its front, from end to end, through the skin and two or three inches of the skin and fat is cut from the skeleton, and the seal is left to rot, and the seal, or what is left of him, is ready to be hoisted aboard. The mother and father have by this time waddled into the water, comparatively safe from the destroyer. All the seals within a couple of hundred yards are piled together, and the ship's flag—ours is red and yellow—set up. And by this time the ship is a mass of two off, sending more and more seals to the party then goes out to further slaughter—until the whole ice for miles around looks like a huge slaughter house.

THE TEMPEST OF THE GRIM REAPER

Death of Henry Langford, Crown Attorney, at Rat Portage.

A. D. CAMERON, OF BRANDON.

Samuel W. Wainman of Toronto Suddenly Stricken on Sunday Morning. Mr. Langford a Respected Citizen of Rat Portage.

Rat Portage, April 15.—This town lost one of its best citizens through the death on Saturday of Mr. Henry Langford, Crown Attorney for the District of Rainy River, who had been ill with typhoid and pneumonia for some weeks.

Mr. Langford came here ten years ago, immediately after being called to the bar at Toronto, and entered into partnership with Mr. James Robinson, and at the time of his death was in partnership with Mr. W. J. Moran. He was a son of Rev. Dr. Langford of Owen Sound, formerly of Toronto, and was educated at Victoria University, where he graduated in arts in 1888. He studied law in the office of Messrs. Fraser & Fraser, London, and with Mr. Hartley Dowse, Toronto. He was greatly interested in athletics, and was a keen supporter of many of the clubs here. In religion he was a Methodist, and was one of the most prominent members of the church here. Several years ago he married Miss Jennie Davison daughter of Dr. Davison, and granddaughter of the late Rev. Richard Jones of Colborne, who, with one daughter, survives him. He was 31 years of age. Rev. Prof. Langford of Victoria College, Toronto, and Rev. F. Langford of Calgary are brothers of the deceased. The arrangements for the funeral are not yet completed, for the remains will be taken to Toronto for interment.

PLACE WREATH ON TOMB.

French Training Ship Officers Visit Washington's Tomb.

Washington, April 15.—There was a touching scene at Mount Vernon yesterday when Cambon, the French ambassador, accompanied by the officers and cadets of the French training ship Duguay Trouin, placed a wreath of flowers on the tomb of Washington. The occasion was commemorated on being particularly indicative of the continued fraternal feeling existing between the two great republics of Europe and America. After the brief ceremony at the tomb the guests spent some time in looking at the main objects of interest in the mansion which Washington occupied while a resident of Mount Vernon, and in strolling around the spacious grounds surrounding it. In the main hall particular attention was paid to the room in which Washington died and to that in which the Marquis de Lafayette slept while a guest at Mount Vernon. Several groups of pictures were taken, one of them while the party surrounded the tomb and others in different parts of the grounds. The party, which comprised about seventy persons in all, and included a number of women, went down the river on the President's yacht, Sylph, returning to the city at 6 o'clock. Lunch was served on the home-made trip. A number of women, who were placed the party embarked, they were received by the commandant, Admiral Silas W. Terry, and the officers on duty there and conducted aboard the vessel, the same courtesy being shown them on their return. Later, the officers and cadets of the Duguay Trouin returned to Baltimore, where their ship awaits them.

NAVAL BATTLE RECALLED.

London, April 15.—Memories of the Albatross have been revived here by an advertisement offering a reward for the recovery of a document conveying the thanks of the Confederate States to John Lancaster for rescuing Captain Semmes and part of the crew of the Albatross when the Kearsarge sank her off Cherbourg.

The Confederate steamer Albatross, which was captured by the Union corvette Kearsarge, Captain Winslow, on the night of June 19, 1864, was a thirty-three year old vessel, and carried thirty-nine persons, including Semmes, and fourteen of his officers, after which she headed for Southampton. Captain Winslow's officers begged him to throw a shell at the Deerhound, but he refused. John Lancaster was the commander of the Deerhound.

EX-QUEEN HAWAIIA LIES DANGEROUSLY ILL

Lilikalanai, The Deposed Monarch Very Ill in Washington.

Washington, April 15. Ex-Queen Lilikalanai, of the Hawaiian Kingdom, was taken ill with a gripe a few days ago, suffered a relapse, and is now dangerously ill. She has resided in this city for some time, having come to the United States shortly after the country became a republic. Her Majesty the Ex-Queen assumed power in January 1891, upon news of the death of Kalakaua, her brother. She had been known as Princess Lydia, or Mrs. Dominya, her husband being an American of that name. The Queen never was firmly seated on the throne, as doubts were widely felt at the time of her accession of her sincerity in taking the oath to maintain the constitution. She actively assisted in the missionary work while reigning over her little kingdom.

The Dickson Company's Immense Operation in the Woods Last Winter.

The camps of the Dickson Company were up last week, about 500 men being present. They arrived in town during Thursday, Friday, Saturday and yesterday, and were paid off. The company cut about four hundred thousand pieces during the winter, the operations being confined to the townships of Carleton Place and Anstruther, where the company's main limits are situated. The logs will be floated down in five or more drives, the first arriving about June 1st. The cutting will be done at Lakeside and Peterborough. The majority of the men are returning this week to work on the drives.

KING HONORS VON MOLTKE

London, April 15.—King Edward to-day received General Von Moltke, nephew of the former Field Marshal, and Lieut. Lordon, at Marlborough House. The German officers were accompanied by a sergeant wearing the new German field service uniform, sent by Emperor William for King Edward's inspection. The uniform differs little from the usual colonial equipment. The knapsack and other paraphernalia are so arranged that their weight falls entirely upon the wearer's back, and the whole equipment can be released whenever required by unclipping a single buckle.

King Edward expressed warm approval of the uniform. He made General Von Moltke a Knight Commander of the Royal Victorian Order, and Lieut. Lordon a Commander of the same Order.

TOBACCO USERS AMONG LOYALTY

A London Journalist Writes of the Royal Smokers.

THE DUKE OF YORK'S CIGARETTES

Tried to Do With Five Cigarettes a Day but Gave up the Attempt on the Fourth Day, and Then Smoked Fifty.

London, April 14.—A London journalist some time ago investigated the use of tobacco among royalty. He tells many anecdotes of European rulers. The King, before his accession to the throne, in answer to a remonstrance from a well-known society lady in regard to his excessive use of the weed, said: "Madam, many years ago I commenced smoking. In all probability, I enjoyed smoking. In all probability, I shall keep on smoking as persistently as 'Charley's Aunt' keeps on running."

The Duke of Connaught, on being asked whether he approved of smoking, answered: "Yes, indeed. There are two things which I trust I shall never lose—my honor and my tobacco pouch."

When the Khedive of Egypt visited England some months ago he suffered it will be remembered, from some throat trouble which kept him on his yacht for a few days. After a careful examination, Sir Douglas Powell, the great throat specialist, said: "I believe your highness does not smoke in any shape or form."

"You are right, sir, I do not smoke. Well, indeed, I remember the first and only time I was ever persuaded to try a pipe. After the experiment I declined in a most undignified position in a certain room, in my palace, looking most unkindly gestures and grimaces. You English people, I believe, great smokers, are you not? Ah, well, you in England never do anything in a halfhearted manner."

THE RED SULTAN.

During some recent internal disturbances in Turkey the Sultan was very much worried. One day he sorrowfully said to his leading physician: "Ah, how awful are my troubles, to be sure! Life would be quite intolerable were it not for my cigarettes and my wives!"

The Duke of York is, as every one knows, a great cigarette smoker. He once said to the young Czar of Russia: "A short time ago I had an idea that cigarettes were bad for me, so I determined to limit myself to five a day. The first day I was successful. The second day I smoked all five before lunch and felt very miserable during the rest of the day. The third day I smoked the five judiciously, but still felt a great wanting. The fourth day I couldn't stand it any longer, and so smoked fifteen cigarettes to make up for my self-denial during the other days."

A short time ago the Queen Regent of Spain was telling her son, the young king, how very poor his country was becoming and what need there would be of reform and economy in many respects. "Mother," said the young monarch, "I have quite made up my mind that we must all give up something for the sake of my country—some luxury. I for my part, have determined to give up smoking."

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR THE BRITISH

On Complaint of Girl Passenger Who He Insulted.

Arthur Burns, who was employed as night watchman at the National Hotel, is in jail to await trial on a serious charge. A Barnardo girl 15 years of age, arrived at the C.P.R. station on the midnight train Saturday, on her way to the Home in this town. She was to arrive on an earlier train and as she did not appear it was assumed she would not come, and there was no one from the Home at the station to meet her. She entered the hotel, and asked to be taken to her room. The regular driver was in charge, but when the hotel was reached he was relieved by Burns, who after taking another passenger to his destination, drove on with the girl alone in the bus. He did not go to the Home and she does not know in which direction he was taken, but on some side street he stopped the horses, left his seat and turned out the steps and entered the carriage. The girl screamed and he desisted from his purpose, declaring that at that out of the night she could not claim admittance to the Home, offered to drive her back to the hotel and she consented. On arriving at the hotel, however, she immediately proceeded to George Street where she met officer McIntyre and told him her story. He escorted her to the station, and she was taken from there to the Barnardo Home by officer Adams. A short time later the chief and officer Stewart proceeded to the hotel and arrested Burns, whom they found in bed. Burns was up for examination before Police Magistrate Dumble yesterday afternoon, and after hearing the girl's story the Magistrate committed him for trial at the first court of competent jurisdiction. Burns was taken to the county jail.

FLOTILLA IS DAMAGED.

English Torpedo-Boat Destroyers Are Blasted by Navy Sea.

London, April 15.—The Telegraph says that disaster has overtaken the Devonport flotilla of torpedo-boat destroyers since the inauguration of the system of three weeks' cruises. After the latest of three instructional voyages eight craft returned to port disabled. The most serious case was that of the Seal, the back of which was broken. It is feared that she is unfit for further service. She is a comparatively new vessel and cost £75,000. She was struck by an enormous wave in the Bristol channel. The shock was so terrific that these below thought there had been a collision. Her upper deck was cracked across, admitting daylight into the stokehold. The side plates were split down for eighteen inches. The seven other vessels were damaged. Besides these there have been fifteen disabled boats of this class recently repaired at Portsmouth. The trouble is ascribed to the unsuitability of torpedo-boat destroyers, which are necessarily of somewhat flimsy construction, to knock about in such weather as causes larger vessels to seek shelter. Their plating is only an eighth of an inch thick.

BRITAIN PREPARES FOR AN INDIAN WAR

Outbreak Feared Upon the Northeastern Frontier as Soon as Cold Weather Ceases.

CONDITION OF AFFAIRS IN CHINA THE SAME.

Arrangements Being Made to Throw Thousands of Men on the Frontier at Forty-Eight Hours Notice.

London, April 15.—About three months ago a cavalry and two infantry generals of the British army in India made a visit to the Sikkim-Thibet frontier, during which they made reconnaissance for some distance across the border. It is now announced in the last mail's Indian papers that the Indian Government is busily engaged in preparing for an anticipated outbreak of hostilities upon the northeastern frontier as soon as the cold weather breaks up in the mountains. The trouble, it is said, may emanate from Yunnan and perhaps also from Thibet. It is stated that the preparations will permit of several thousands of native troops, infantry and mounted men, being thrown on to the frontier within forty-eight hours, fully equipped for a campaign. The possibilities spoken of arise out of the conditions of affairs in China.

It is currently reported that a part of the large reinforcements which the Russians have been sending into Transcaspia and Central Asia are placed ready to move on Chinese Turkestan and western Thibet, in which case they would soon come in contact with the British troops moving through Kashmir and Nepal. Whether the contact would be friendly or the reverse depends on a variety of circumstances only in the course of development and not yet clearly defined.

STAKING THIR CLAIMS.

Whatever may happen in consequence of the military movements on the part of the British and Russians, it is evident that the staking out of the great areas of territory in the centre of Asia

THE BIBLE IN THE SCHOOLS

The question of the Bible in the schools formed the subject of a discussion at the meeting of the Ontario Educational Association at the Toronto Normal school on Tuesday. It came up on a paper read by Rev. W. A. Cook, H. A., on "The Whole Bible Should be a Text-book in our Public Schools," which was a strenuous advocacy of the proposition conveyed in the title. Mr. Cook followed this up with a motion, which Mr. Robert McQueen seconded, that a committee be appointed to bring the subject to the attention of the Minister of Education, to report at the next session of the association. An animated discussion followed, in which a large number of members participated. Mr. J. G. Elliott, of Kingston, seconded by Mr. Leitch, of Brantford, moved an amendment that Rev. Mr. Cook's address and proposed resolution be published in the minutes, and that the members be urged to consider it and decide upon the action to be taken at the 1902 meeting. This amendment prevailed. It is interesting to note that while this meeting was in progress, there was also being held a meeting of the Toronto District Congregational Association, at which the same subject was discussed. "That this association is not in favor of the introduction of Bible study in the public schools of Ontario," was the decision reached. In connection with the debate which led up to this result, Rev. J. W. Pedley, formerly of this city, read a paper on "Voluntary Schools with Religious Instruction." He spoke of the question as viewed by Congregationalists, and pointed out that the matter of religious education at the present time made difficult by the fact that there are denominations that cannot agree on the essentials to be taught. Up to the present day the people of Ontario have put forth no great effort to have religion taught in the public schools, for the simple reason that it might in some respects create a disturbance amongst the different denominations.

EDITORIAL NOTES

It seems peculiar to read that they are building a $30,000 cold storage plant in Dawson City. One would think a $100,000 tubular boiler for heating purposes in winter would be more in line.

CHANCE TREASURE.

One day Dr. Francis Hastings was in the wards of a New York hospital. It was part of his duty as one of the internes, or house physicians, to take an early run through the surgical wards.

As he passed from bed to bed someone caught at his hand. It was a new patient, brought in the day before from an emergency hospital uptown. The doctor bent over him at the agonized clutch. Drops of agony stood upon the man's black brow.

"Suffering, are you? I will give you a little relief," he said kindly.

The doctor had shapely white hands. The patient watched them as if pleased as he administered a hypodermic injection.

"Are you a rich man?" he whispered hoarsely, "or a poor one?"

Dr. Hastings shook his head and smiled bitterly. The question chimed in well with his thoughts. His term at the hospital would expire in exactly three weeks. He had chosen no spot in town to settle, and he was in love with the daughter of a wealthy man who had politely asked him the day before to discontinue his visits.

"I am as poor as you are," he retorted after he had closed his syringe barrel. "Say, I wish you would look after me a little. I'll make you rich when I get well or not. Honest, I will."

The doctor smiled again. He was used to vagaries and delirium of patients.

The man struggled up on his elbow. "You don't believe that. Before God, I'll not let this stab in me. I would have been at sea this morning going after gold, and a plenty of it."

The doctor listened a moment in spite of himself.

"I'll make a bargain. I haven't a living soul to see after me. If you will I'll get the money and make you rich. If I do I'll tell you where it is. I would you to see that I'm buried out of the potter's field."

His eyes glittered. Half to appease him, the doctor promised. From that time he had a nurse who nursed him that he would be his lifelong benefactor.

His first order was about the old clothes that were in him when he was brought into the ward. Dr. Hastings found them—a filthy bundle.

"They've been sterilized," he said to the nurse, who frowned.

"What's that?" asked the patient grimly.

Dr. Hastings explained. The man chuckled, and when the nurse moved on he said:

"Cooked my old clothes, did you? Didn't know you was bilin' up half a million!"

He horrified the doctor's nurse, ripped open the lining of the coat and took from it an oilskin pouch.

"Throw 'em to the dogs now," he said with an oath. "That's all I want. Here, you're playing fair. Keep 'em, will you? If I die it's your'n to get rich on."

He died suddenly the next night. The doctor's nurse and he received "Dominion's" bedside just in time to receive a feeble hand pressure or two, and the man was gone. It cost Dr. Hastings some authority and some money to keep his promises. He buried the patient in a cheap cemetery, and stood a moment beside his grave as the clouds were drawn in. Then he went home to examine the oilskin pouch and to wonder at his own folly.

It contained a bit or two of yellow paper, a map, apparently of the west coast of Florida, with one island of a group of three marked in red ink.

It also contained a letter from the Jules Shorl to Pierre Restieux telling him of the discovery of Black Caesar, a treasure pirate. This treasure was buried on the island marked red on the map.

Dr. Hastings was a cool-headed young man, but his heart leaped. If the incredible would come true he might aspire to the hand of Flora McDonald. Only yesterday he had spoken to her for a few brief moments.

"It's my Florida, next month," she said. "I wish I could see you there."

Black Caesar's treasure came into his mind.

"Stranger things have happened," he made reply to her.

Still he would not have been able to go had it not been for Dr. Long Cutter. He met him after leaving Flora and heard that cutter intended to go down the coast in his yacht for February and March.

"I wish you would take me to St. Augustine," he said, with a sudden resolve. "I have a queer errand there."

He told Cutter of the marked island and of the treasure. Cutter's father helped him to get on his feet.

"Why of course, I'm your man. You're too good a fellow to be lost to our club anyhow. I wish you'd get your half million. Plenty of girls to marry."

Dr. Hastings smiled meaningly.

In early February the yacht was running up and down the western coast of Florida, touching here and at small islands. The hopelessness of his task soon dawned upon the doctor.

The map seemed correct as to the coast contour, but there were three islands, either of which seemed to be the very one indicated by the red cross.

Several guests of the yacht who did not know the doctor came for the Tampa Bay hotel and its delights.

"We'll run there and land then and come back," said Cutter on the fourth day.

At the hotel Dr. Hastings found Flora McDonald with her mother. He had a long talk with her. He told her of the quest, showed her the map and his dilemma.

"It's my wild and foolish hope of winning you," he whispered.

After a time she asked him if it could be arranged that a yachting party would go down the coast, able to be accompanied by a young married woman who was a distant relative of the Cutter's.

"It may be nonsense," she said, softly, "but we were all hypnotized last winter at her house and I found a handkerchief that was hidden. They say I'm a good seer."

Cutter was called in and entered into the conspiracy to carry a few tried and true souls on the cruise. Mrs. McDonald was averse to Flora's trip, but finally gave her consent.

The third day out found them among the islands. Dr. Hastings was to hypnotize Flora and suggest to her a search for the treasure. The rest of party thought it but a huge joke and jest. They gathered in the cabin to witness the feat.

The young girl sank readily into the hypnotic state under the doctor's passes.

"There is treasure buried on one of these islands," suggested the doctor, his voice trembling in spite of himself. "A black man, some black sailors, buried it. Can you find it?"

In a little time Flora said in a faint voice: "I see it. It is buried deep. But you have made a mistake. You are not near it."

This produced a visible excitement. "The island was one of three. Two are now submerged reefs. All vessels avoid them. See the scarlet buoy for danger!! It floats in a line with the middle island. The buoy's rock point."

"When it is," she said, the doctor. "To the northward. We passed it yesterday. The box is broken. The

THE MODERN CONSTRUCTOR

The man tangled in the tape from the tacker is the type of the average business man. His business cares wrap him about like the coils of a constrictor and slowly crush out his life.

The common sign of the business man's slavery is "weak stomach," the natural consequence of the rapid eating, the indigestible pastry, the coffee and pie or doughnuts, which which a man stuffs his stomach under the name of "quick lunch."

The quick way back to a strong stomach and sound health is to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery until perfectly cured. It goes to the root of disease. It removes the cause of ill-health. It makes more blood and better blood, and this blood nourishes every organ in the body to the highest point of vigorous health.

"During the summer and fall of 1897," writes Chas. H. Sergeant, Reg. of Plain City, Madison Co., Ohio, "I became a 'run down,' nerves were out of order. I wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice. He said I had general debility, and advised Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and, thanks to it, I am now a strong man, and since I stopped taking it about one year ago, I have been able to work every day. My appetite is good, I can eat all I want, and I am in good running shape, and I am in good running shape."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure Biliousness, Colic, Scattered in the rock crevices. There have been shocks, earthquakes, what not. You will find it. Yes, I see you with the broken box lid.

The guests were disappointed at the girl's restoration.

"How real it was!" they exclaimed. "Positively! I thought there was actually buried treasure about. What a wonderful power of suggestion you have, Dr. Hastings!"

The yacht made a fast run to the hotel. The guests had a delightful trip.

They would have been amazed on the next Sunday morning could they have seen two men sitting down working on a rocky islet 100 miles away. They brought up old gold coins by the bucketful and set steam straight for port, where they could bank gold coin safely.

That night old McDonald received a telegram—

At cool $100,000 left me. Am still a sailor for Miss Flora McDonald. Address me at Tampa Bay hotel at once. FRANCIS HASTINGS.

LOCAL NEWS LETTER

CAVAN.

There passed away on Saturday last after a somewhat protracted illness William H. Coulter, of Fairpoint, one of the most respected residents of Cavan. He was born in the Township of Clark, but nearly forty years ago moved to the north of Cavan, where he resided ever since. He was a man of sterling integrity and known as a man of sterling integrity and upright beyond reproach. Like his countrymen he was firm in his convictions and ever ready to advocate his views with determination and a full knowledge of his position; yet he was considerate for all and most lovable in his sympathetic nature. Although he had no children of his own his fondness for the young and his deep interest in all that made for their moral and intellectual welfare made his own mind and life for some months. To his widow and adopted son, who has been a son indeed, the sincere sympathy extended. The funeral took place on Tuesday to Fairpoint cemetery, Rev. Mr. Cron, his pastor, and Rev. J. Kilgour, of Peterborough, his former pastor and warm personal friend, conducting the last obsequies.

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims: The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of Salida, at Clara station, on the main trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

THE JEWELLED CROWN FOR EDWARD'S HEAD

It Is Valued at Nearly Two Million Dollars.

Four crowns will be used at the coronation of Edward VII and Queen Alexandra. The chief one, known as Queen Victoria's crown will be the one actually used in the ceremony of crowning the King; the second one will be used in crowning the Queen Consort; and the other two will be worn by their Majesties during the services following the actual crowning.

These, together with the sword of state, the scepter and coronation ring, all taken from the tower by order of the Earl Marshal of England, are in the custody of the Dean of Westminster during the coronation services.

The Queen Victoria crown, also called the State crown, is a dazzling mass of precious stones, 3,900 in all, and many of them having interesting histories. There is a magnificent sapphire, which is said to have come from the ring of Edward the Confessor. Then there are six in all sapphires, eleven emeralds, four rubies, of which one belonged to the Black Prince; four drop-shaped pearls, 273 other pearls, 1,383 brilliant diamonds, 147 table diamonds and 1,247 rose diamonds.

WEIGHES 39 OUNCES.

With all this mass of jewels the whole crown weighs only thirty-nine ounces. It was made in 1838 for Queen Victoria's coronation from jewels taken from old crowns, and is valued at $1,800,000. The cap is of crimson velvet, lined with white silk, and has an ermine border.

It is not the most costly royal crown in Europe, that distinction is ascribed for the crown belonging to Portugal, which is valued at $3,000,000. The crown which represents the smallest gateway is that of Roumania. It is made out of a bit of old cannon captured at Pleyna.

The most beautiful crown is that of the King of Denmark. It is simple in design, but of artistic workmanship, the leaves by which the circlet is surmounted being curved and veined by precious stones, and each leaf ornamented by a magnificent jewel.

The oldest crown in Europe, which is also the smallest, measuring only six inches in diameter, is the iron crown of Lombardy.

The crown which is distinguished as the sacred crown is that of Hungary. It is revered by the people, being regarded as a palladium. Two nobles of ancient lineage and a troop of halberdiers guard it night and day in the Castle of Buda, where it is kept.

THE KAISER'S CROWN.

The crown most decorated with emblems is that of the German Emperor. It has the figure of an eagle, four diamond crosses, four hoops supporting a globe and this surmounted by another cross.

The pontifical one possesses most crowns is the Pope, eight at least being stored at the Vatican. Many of them are simply gilded, and have no special significance. Napoleon I was the 'donor' of one to Pius VII. This is the handsomest one of all, having a beautiful emerald. A Queen of Spain was the donor of another. The principal Papal crown is a triple one.

The Shah of Persia has a crown, 'if such it can be called, which is variously described as resembling a flower pot and a bonnet. The small end is open, the other closed, it is made of cloth of gold, with strings of hanging precious stones, with here and there tufts of feathers, or nacreous by diamonds, rubies, emeralds and pearls. The top is set with what is perhaps the greatest ruby in the world, an uncut, absolutely flawless stone as large as a hen's egg.

It Has Blessed and Saved Others; Its Virtues Are Sufficient for Your Case.

PAINE'S CEREAL COMPOUND THE GREAT SPRING HEALTH BUILDER.

Owing to its peculiar and scientific combination, Paine's Cerebral Compound is unequalled as a blood cleansing and health restoring medicine, and stands day after day at the head of all known spring remedies. The wondrous and matchless cures wrought by Paine's Cerebral Compound in dyspepsia, nervous prostration, kidney and liver complaints, troubles arising from impure and poisoned blood, rheumatism, neuralgia and insomnia, have won the admiration and confidence of all classes of our Canadian people.

If you are run down, weak, nervous or suffering from any of the common maladies mentioned above, Paine's Cerebral Compound is your only hope; it is the only medicine that can permanently banish your burden of misery, and give you that health, vigor and happiness your soul so earnestly desires. Mr. C. E. Decker, of Rochester, N.Y., tells of his cure by Paine's Cerebral Compound:

"About thirteen years ago I had an attack of rheumatic fever. While recovering I took a cold and had a relapse which ended in inflammatory rheumatism, and was laid up two years. I was also greatly afflicted with sleeplessness, and my doctor said I would not live to see my thirtieth year. While almost giving up in despair your Paine's Cerebral Compound was recommended to me. I bought a bottle and used it, and to my surprise I gave me natural sleep and rest. After using six bottles I was entirely cured."

THEIR FAME SPREADING

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills a Wonderful Remedy

Sir, - It is because I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid that I ask you to publish some facts regarding Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills. I was for many years a sufferer from indigestion and stomach troubles. I could not digest my food, I was constipated, and it was only by injections that I could get relief. My ailments did me no good. I was reduced to a skeleton and could hardly walk. As a first resort I tried a box of these pills, and the improvement was so marked that I continued taking them. I have now taken twelve boxes, never remembering being so well in my life. I have gained 22 pounds, and am putting on more flesh daily. I am a living walking advertisement, and consider no trouble too great in order to spread the fame of Dr. Clarke's Pills. A. F. Jones, Lockport, N.Y., Peterborough, Ont.

SOLICITORS, - - - WM. MORTIMER CLARK & GRAY

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62064, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet. This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock or radiators.

Dated at Toronto this 18th day of February, A. D. 1901.

CARD PLAYING AND DANCING

In the Methodist Conference in New York a minister makes the statement that the restrictions of the church as to card playing and dancing kept the young women out, because the latter find these restrictions incompatible with their chances of matrimony. It may be taken that his remarks from fair observation and that his remarks are true.

Differences of opinion may exist as to the morality of card-playing and dancing, but there is practical unanimity of opinion as to the propriety and morality, or even the extreme desirability, of marriage. Under the circumstances it behooves the church to reconcile its tenets with the pursuit of husbands while not relaxing the moral bounds prescribed by its interpretation of the Scriptures.

CRIME IN CANADA

Canada's record for crime is exceedingly small in proportion to its population. Between 10,000 and 11,000 murders were committed in the United States last year—say 135 for every million of the population. If murder had been as common here as there we should have had about 676 murderers to deal with during the last twelve months, instead of twenty-five. We have among us the criminally disposed, men of all nationalities, just as the United States has but we have no cities notoriously rife with crime, as New York and Chicago are, and a trial for crime with us is not a farce as in many of the United States courts it is conceded to be. It is largely the integrity of the Canadian courts, the certainty that speedy justice will be meted out to the law's offenders, that keeps our record of crime below that of most other countries in the world.

A GENERAL ELECTION

In discussing the probable outcome of the Cook scandal investigation by the senate committee, "Events," of Ottawa, says:—

What will be the end of the Cook charges investigation? The senate will undoubtedly declare that Mr. Cook was justified in the charges he made in so far as the late Mr. O. Cameron and W. T. R. Preston are concerned. It is not likely, however, that they will attempt to connect the government with it directly though an attempt may be made to censure it in some way. After that it would not be at all surprising if some one on the government side fell called upon to resign in the commonsense and move a vote of want of confidence in the senate, and there is no doubt that it would be carried. And then? Well then, the senate could come back at them by a want of confidence vote in the commonsense followed by the throwing out of the supply bill, and that would mean another general election. I am no prophet and I do not pretend to say that this will happen, but it might, and we would have an election on the straight issue of senate reform, and nothing else.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Card-playing and dancing are both very ancient pastimes; probably, indeed, they are almost as old as the institution of marriage.

It should be hardly necessary for public opinion to denounce the offensive expectorator. He is condemned out of his own mouth.

Spring has come in at last. And yet how was it likely to come in so long as people were constantly yelling: "Shut that door!"

Bismarck.

Come to the surface in the spring as in no other season. It's a pity they don't run themselves all off that way; but in spite of the pimples and other eruptions, they mostly remain in the system. That's bad.

Head's Sarsaparilla removes them and cures all the painful and disgusting troubles they cause. Nothing else cleanses the system and clears the complexion like Head's.

ARRESTED FOR WIFE MURDER

Eccentric and Wealthy Farmer of Mason, O., Locked Up.

Hamilton, O., April 16.—John McCutcheon, 72 years old, an eccentric old farmer, worth $75,000, is under arrest at Mason, twelve miles east of Hamilton, charged with the murder of his wife, Rebecca, 62 years old.

Mrs. McCutcheon was killed in her bed this morning by repeated blows on the head with a club. The McCutcheons were the richest people in the community, and so far as is known Mr. McCutcheon had no motive for the crime of which he is accused.

Mr. McCutcheon was the first to give the alarm after the crime. Running into a neighboring house he told Albert Dill that he had got up at 4:30 o'clock and went to his barn to feed his stock. Returning half an hour later, he found his wife dead in bed with her head crushed in.

She was slain at the instant this afternoon that nothing was stolen from the house although the McCutcheons, who distrusted banks, had a large sum there. The coroner discovered a spot of blood on McCutcheon's sleeve and said suddenly: "Mr. McCutcheon, did you not kill your wife?" The old man answered in a broken voice: "Well, maybe I did and maybe I did not. If I did I don't remember anything about it."

It is generally believed that if McCutcheon is guilty he is insane.

1,000 MEN KILLED IN A BATTLE

Army of Arabian Sheikhs Lured into Narrow Gorge and Overwhelmed.

Benghazi, April 16.—The Rashid has recovered the Kingdom of Nefat, Central Arabia, after defeating Mabarok, Sheik of Koweit, who recently seized the City of Nefat and deposed the Rashid after a pitched battle.

The army of Mabarok was lured into a narrow gorge, where the horses of the Rashid swooped down from the mountains and overwhelmed their enemies.

The fugitives who have reached Gulf ports declare that five thousand men were killed. The fate of Mabarok is not known.

It was announced in a dispatch from

A Spotless Skin

And a clear complexion are desired by every woman and admired by every man.

Eruptions, pimples and similar blemishes are caused by an impure condition of the blood. These skin blemishes are permanently removed by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which thoroughly purifies the blood and cures the cause of the disease.

"For about one year and a half my face was badly broken out," writes Miss Carrie Adams, of 16 West Main St., Battle Creek, Mich. "I spent a great deal of money with doctors and for different kinds of medicine, but received no benefit. At last I read one of your advertisements in a paper, and obtained a bottle of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I noticed a change, and after taking three bottles I was entirely cured."

Bombay March 3.—That Mabarok, the Sheik of Koweit, was then master of Central Arabia, according to despatches received by the Times of India, Mabarok having followed up his previous victory over the army of the Rashid by driving the defeated troops clear across Central Arabia, seizing the City of Nefat and disposing of the Rashid.

The latter appealed to the Sultan of Turkey to send troops from Bussorah, a frontier city of Asiatic Turkey, to the assistance, threatening to stop the overland pilgrimages to Mecca if he was not helped by Turkey.

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salda copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims: The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salda, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salda. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of Salda at Cleora station, on the main trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

WAITS FOR RESPIRE

Convicted Murderer Lingers at No. 144

by Seafield Builders

Monday, April 17.—Frank Major, alias Kennedy, in 1898, was in his cell in the Crawford County Jail under heavy guard and laughingly listens to the noise of the carpenters at work on the gallows which will end his days on April 18. He is merry, then calm and composed, and even claims to know something about the whereabouts of his companion in crime in the killing of Chief of Police Daniel McGrath, of Titusville. He eats heartily, sleeps well and is robust and strong. Knowing full that death awaits him, he still hopes for a reprieve.

Sheriff Scott has hundreds of applications to witness the execution, two coming from women. He has arranged for sixty-five deputies to be present in addition to the relatives, physicians and officers. Major does not like his and may petition the court for an injunction restraining the Sheriff from making a public show of his execution. The Sheriff to-day received a letter from a woman in Kane, asking him to commute the condemned murderer's sentence to life imprisonment, she insisting, evidently, that she could override the decision of the Governor and Pardon Board, which have been appealed to in vain.

AFTER 15 YEARS.

Eczema Cured After Many Years of Terrible Torture

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—At the request of the makers I gladly write a line to tell what Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills did for me. For over 15 years I was a sufferer from eczema and although treated by the best doctors in the country, I got no relief. After taking 9 boxes of the pills, I am, thank God, entirely well. They cured me when every known remedy failed. Jas. Britain, G. T. B., Brantford.

BORN IN FERRIS WHEEL

Mother Lived With Ten Other People in Luffy Lane

Paris, April 17.—When the great Ferris wheel was made ready to resume business, after its winter closing, two families of tramp wanderers, comprising eleven members were living comfortably in two of the swinging cars. They had been camping out thus all winter.

The Bohemians first selected the lowest cars, but one day, engineers, who had been sent to examine the machinery, made the great wheel describe half a turn, so the camping families were hoisted to the topmost position. Since that time only one man, a former sailor, could communicate with the earth. Climbing down nightly, he would hustle for food to keep the two tribes alive. He would eat roast chicken to make smokeless fires. The provisions were pulled up by a rope.

On February 22, a baby girl was born up in the wheel. The wheel company has offered the mother and her infant a good salary to exhibit themselves throughout the coming season in the car in which the child was born.

THEIR FAME SPREADING

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills a Wonderful Remedy

Sir,—It is because I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid that I ask you to publish some facts regarding Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills. I was for many years a sufferer from indigestion and stomach troubles. I could not digest my food, I was constipated, and it was only by injections that I could get relief. Physicians did me no good, I was reduced to a skeleton and could hardly walk. As a first resort I tried a box of these pills, and the improvement was so marked that I continued taking them. I have now taken twelve boxes, never remembering being so well in my life. I have gained 22 pounds, and am putting on more flesh daily. I am a living, walking advertisement, and consider no trouble too great to order to spread the fame of Dr. Clarke's Pills. A. F. Jones, Lockport, N.Y.

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62064, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet.

This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock of radiators.

Dated at Toronto this 18th day of February, A. D. 1901.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN

Breezy Dashes Here and There by Times' Reporters.

—The watering carts should die out.
—Local real estate is more buoyant.
—For school books go to The Times Bookstore.

—Peterborough will have a big boom this summer.
—There was a practice last night for the Kermis.

—The watering carts should die out. Yesterday the dust was unbearable.
—Fishery Inspector Yelland will be glad to hear of any violations of the fishery laws.

—We want a smart, intelligent boy at The Times office, to learn the printing business.
—Peterborough sailors have discovered that there are many promising young men in the town.

—A young lady with good education wanted at The Times office, for teaching proofs and office work.
—No, my dear boy; a young man with a slender salary should marry a girl with a small wage.

—The White House has just put in a handsome new hotel register, the work of The Times bursary.
—A piano erected by Mademoiselle Dreyer drew a small audience at the Y.M.C.A. Hall last night.

—Yesterday eleven new subscribers were added to The Times' subscription list. This speaks for itself.
—Peterborough may now be classed as a great manufacturing center. Even our rate of taxation is 18 mills.

—Mr. Bob Jackson came up from Rice Lake yesterday. He says that the ice in the lake is still quite thick.
—Salt rheum, eczema, with its itching and burning, is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. So are all other blood diseases.

—There was a cock fight in the south end, which was witnessed by about 20 young men. A dozen birds were used.
—"Lint on the lungs" is the latest disease that affects some Peterborough people. It is caused by "chewing the rug."

—It's no use for the census takers to look at an old maid's teeth if she won't give her again—she may have false ones.
—A lady in town, while on her way to the skating rink, mistook a man for her pocket book containing over $30, the other day.

—In other days his idle hands—
1. Perform any listless on his knee—
But since a Times Want Ad he used He's just as busy as a bee.

—There was a practise of Prof. Sheets Kermis classes yesterday. The pretty little girls in Highland costume attracted considerable attention on the streets.
—Water for lawn service is available on and after May 1st. Water for keeping the dust down on the streets can be had at any time, but the Council prefers to wait until the interior of the houses of the town are ankle deep with dust.

—Complaints are being made that the Nicholas Park is being injured by certain boys who persist in playing baseball and other games on the oval while it is yet in a very soft condition. It is to be hoped that the practice will be discontinued.

—Reports from almost all points in Ontario indicate that the fall wheat has wintered in comparative safety. On light soil the plant is healthy, and under heavier conditions, where the land is rolling, the promise is good. Only on level fields, where ice formed, there are patches where the plants are killed. On the whole, an average crop may safely be counted on.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

—Miss Finlay has returned home after a pleasant visit in Port Hope with Mrs. W. R. Young.

—Mr. R. C. McFarlane, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Commerce was in Toronto on business yesterday.

—Miss Ida Fair, of Millbrook, who has been in town on a visit to her brother, Mrs. R. Fair, returned home yesterday.

—Mr. F. C. Napier, who is now in England, is stated to be contemplating taking service with the Baden-Powell constabulary in South Africa.

—Lindsay Post-Conductor Fred Haskell, of the Peterborough-Lakefield train, and young son, spent yesterday in town guests at the Simpson House.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. Rickell, of town, left Tuesday on an extended trip to the Western States. They will locate in Everett, Wash., for a time before returning home.

RESULTS OF BANK AMALGAMATION

The Canadian Bank of Commerce
Completes the Purchase of the Assets of the Bank
of British Columbia.

The Bank's Capital Now Eight Million Dollars and Assets Over Sixty-
three Millions.

The negotiations for the purchase of the assets of the Bank of British Columbia by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, an announcement respecting which was made some months ago, have been carried to a successful conclusion. A thorough examination of the affairs of the Bank of British Columbia was made by the officials of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and this proving entirely satisfactory, the amalgamation was finally completed. A statement of the affairs of the Canadian Bank of Commerce after the amalgamation, has now been issued, and discloses a very strong position. In point of capital and reserve the Bank through the Bank's own banking institutions on the continent of America. It has 62 branches throughout Canada; five branches in the United States, namely, at New York, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland (Oregon), Skagway (Alaska), and one in London, England; 68 establishments in all. The acquisition of the London office is an important step in the progress of the Bank. The bank's transactions in sterling exchange in the United States and Canada each year amount to many millions of pounds, and the ability to handle this business through the Bank's own London office will result in an important addition to the earning power of the Bank. In many other directions also the interests of the two banks will be immediately benefited by the amalgamation.

The following is a condensation of the statement issued by the bank at the close of business on the 31st of March—

LAKE AND RIVER RIPLETS.

Latest Grist of News From Rice Lake and Ottawa River.

—The work of building the new Idlewild summer hotel is progressing satisfactorily.
—Jubilee Point hotel is being renovated and repainted.

—The ice is not yet out of Rice Lake, being still about six inches thick.
—The steamer Beaver is pulled out of the water, and is being put in good order.

—The North Star is at Gore's Landing, and will not begin work until well on in May.
—The steamer Water Lily, (see Eclair) will not be ready for business for some time to come.

—The work on the City of Peterborough is progressing satisfactorily. She is engaged to run an excursion on Victoria Day, May 24th.

—Capt. C. W. Calcutt paddled over from Norwood to Jubilee Point on Sunday. This was made possible by the fact of the opening in the ice three or four feet wide. He had no sooner safely landed when the opening closed. Had it closed a few minutes sooner, Charlie would have been in trouble, as the ice is too rotten to bear any weight.

TO PASS THE CROWD.

All Can. of Br. Brilliant no Matter How Healthy.

It probably comes to every thoughtful person at times that there are plenty of common, mediocre people, and that if one determines to be, he or she can press to the front, pass the crowd, and win position, fame and gold. It is largely a matter of determination and health. Many a determined character with brilliant possibilities, is held back by ill health. Some find that bright thoughts refuse to come to their brains, and wonder why.

The kind of brain work that makes successful Merchants, Lawyers, Doctors, Artists, etc., etc., makes heavy draughts on the filling of the minute nerve cells of the body, said filling being composed of a greyish sort of material which must be replaced day by day, or the brain and other parts of the body will not act properly.

Coffee is a noxious but powerful enemy to one's progress in life. Its subtle, narcotic poison weakens heart, interferes with digestion and has a definite and destructive effect on the nervous system. People who are content to lead their lives with impediments to progress, who refuse to supply body with food and drink of the highest quality, need to make up for the daily deterioration of the nerves and tissue. Let stand aside in the race for pre-eminence.

The ones who are properly fed, will find the food of the future. Food of the future is not a matter of chance. Nature to nourish brain and nerve with food. It does not narcotize and stupefy. It is frequently misapplied on food, because of improper preparation, but it will be found to be a most delicious beverage if, after boiling, it is allowed to continue boiling for 15 minutes. This is necessary to extract the food value and flav.

There are those who are entirely careless as to what goes into the stomach, but the one who would make all his movements tend towards health and possible greatness, cannot afford to risk inferior food or drink or any other.

MOULDER'S STRIKE AT ELECTRIC WORKS

The Moulders in the Carbon Department Go out on Strike

They Make Their Grievances to the Times—
The Men Refused to Work Under a 10
Per Cent. Reduction of Pay

Yesterday morning the moulders engaged in the carbon department of the Canadian General Electric Company's works here, went out on a strike. The men, who are only six in number, state that they received a notice last night from Manager Peterson to the effect that a ten per cent reduction would be made in their wages, to take effect at once. The men resolved to resist, and the result is that no carbons are now being made at the works.

The men say that they are entitled to an increase rather than a decrease in pay, their pay being only $1.00 per day. They have been working and producing carbons for the past four years, and the men say that the late manager, Mr. Borton, sympathized with them in the strike which they had to perform, and cheerfully granted them the 10 per cent increase which is now proposed to take off.

The closing of the moulding shop will mean the shutting down of the other departments of this branch of the works, which is a serious matter, unless other moulders can be had to take the place of the strikers.

ACROSS THE RIVER.

Latest and Most News From Ashburnham Village.

Everybody in Ashburnham reads the Times.

—The Ashburnham shipyard is humming these days. President Calcutt will be a proud man when his new and splendid fleet is afloat.

—It was good news to our citizens to see in The Times that the Central Company is making a start. It will mean a big thing for Ashburnham.

—By a fluke The Times reporter was not present at the Council meeting Monday night. He went to see his best girl, and forgot all about the meeting.

—There is no truth in the rumor that our esteemed fellow citizen, Mr. Billy Collins, is in relation to John Collins, who has agreeably tickled so many palates in his day.

—Mr. Tom Kelly, the gentlemanly and efficient clerk of the canal works, is a firm believer in the existence of coal oil under the village. He says there is no doubt whatever that gas or coal oil, or perhaps both, exist here, and Tom is no spruce chicken either.

—People are holding their breath till Ald. Smith gets in his work on "Single Tax," before the Civic Association. People all along have regarded themselves as martyrs to a system of double tax. If John can get it down to single tax, we will make him Mayor.

—A writer in one of the Peterborough papers suggests that the village institute is a number of drinking fountains. What does this mean? Does he dare to cast any reflection on our two hotels, saying nothing about the brewery? These are all the drinking fountains we require over here.

—An Ashburnham man was out fishing yesterday, and he caught a small, but he missed his massive gold ring. Shortly after he caught a big sucker. On arriving at home with the fish he found the missing ring on his toilet stand where he had left it the morning before. This is a true story, if you don't believe it ask Sam Bicknell.

—Our three local philanthropists, Messrs. J. J. Lundy, David Conroy and Mr. Irwin, it is said, are contemplating presenting the village with a free library. Indeed, they have already they have not done so long ago. When they are at it, they might easily be induced to put up the necessary funds to bore for coal and gas.

C. P. R. EMPLOYEES' BALL.

Referring to the C.P.R. employees' ball at Hazelton on Easter Monday the Standard says:—Mr. Archie Moore, of Peterborough, who stands pre-eminent as master of ceremonies, on such occasions, officiated in his usual capacity, and the Hatcher Orchestra, also of Peterborough, supplied the music, which was conceded by all to be the best that ever was heard in town. The committee which had the affair in hand are to be heartily congratulated on the success attending their efforts. It was organized as follows:—John McFarlane, chairman, Alex. Milne, secretary, W. J. H. Williams, M. McMillan, R. Nelson, S. O'Hara, T. Wright, J. Muldoon, J. McCallum, S. Voyer and W. Nelson.

SEVERELY BURNED.

Yesterday morning a child of Mr. Roland Hill, who lives on Weller street, about 18 months old had a narrow escape from being fatally burned by falling into a bonfire. It appears that a quantity of leaves and rubbish was being burned in the back yard, and the little one being unwatched for an instant fell into the flames. It is reported that the mother quickly to the scene, and the child was rescued before it received serious injury. The skin, however, is badly burned on the arms, legs, and face, and but for its prompt rescue, the result would without doubt have proved fatal. Dr. Greer and Dr. D. C. and Lionel King were in attendance.

HUMORS

Spring's Inheritance from Winter.

Waste matters which the kidneys, skin and other organs were too torpid (in the cold days) to take care of, and cannot take care of now without help, there is such an accumulation of them.

They litter the whole system. Pimples, boils and other eruptions, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, bilious turns, fits of indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles common in Spring are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes all humors, overcomes all their effects, strengthens and tones the whole system.

Don't deny yourself its benefits this Spring.

Accept No Substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla as a Spring tonic for several years and have derived great benefit from it. I recommend it to all who have that tired feeling, loss of appetite or impure blood." FANNY FARRAR, 2018 High St., Des Moines, Ia.

A Gentleman And Gambler.

"I am a believer," said the colonel, "in man's natural goodness. I had the pleasure once in knowing an honest gambler, and I liked him, too, for he was a gentleman. The days of this class of gamblers, however, are passed."

Moore—but that wasn't his name—was a Mississippi river gambler, one of the old school, who played a straight and honest game. He traveled, in fact, lived on the big river steamboats. He wouldn't have felt at home anywhere else. In no way did he attempt to conceal the truth about himself. It was surprising to find a gambler by occupation, a gambler by habit, but a gentleman by nature.

If you have this awful disease you are in danger until completely cured; the various symptoms you notice should be a warning to you to seek immediate treatment. Don't put it off until too late, as it continually gets worse. If you have sore throat, patches on tongue or mouth, swollen glands, hair falling out, blotches on body, itching skin, or other signs of this awful disease, call on us. We give you a written guarantee to cure you by our BEST METHOD TREATMENT without Mercury or Potassium, and You Pay When Cured. Each time you call you see Dr. Goldberg personally, who has 18 Diplomas, Certificates and Licenses received from the various colleges, hospitals and States, which testify to his standing and abilities.

The original testimonials can be seen at our office. $100.00 reward for any who cannot show us at request of patients we publish what the initials are. I am improving every day. I notice if I cut or scratch myself the sore will heal up. I hope you will not stop treating me as long as there is a sign of that terrible disease. I am more afraid of it than death. I believe you have the right medicine for the disease. I feel so thankful to you for the good you have done me; I was a perfect wreck when I came to you, and was on the verge of suicide. To make a nurse doing I would like to continue a while longer, so that it will not return. Very respectfully yours, Mrs. L. S. CASE NO. 34003. May 31, 1899.

PORTUGAL'S QUEEN TO ENTER A CLOISTER

The Beautiful And Accomplished Wife of King Carlos To Retire From the World.

London, April 17.—The startling announcement is made in court circles here to-day that Queen Maria Amelie, wife of Don Carlos, King of Portugal, has resolved to become a nun. This is a direct result of the protracted quarrel between the royal couple over the king's attitude toward the religious orders of the country.

The agitation against the clergy in Spain last month spread to Portugal, where trouble between the laity and the clerical elements has been brewing for a long time. Queen Amelie is a devout Catholic, while Don Carlos sides with the laity, and during the recent disturbances he openly espoused their cause against the church. Violent scenes between husband and wife in the Lisbon palace followed, in which, it is said, the queen, threatened to leave Portugal, and arrangements were made at one time for her departure on a long journey to foreign lands, but as the king refused to permit her to take her children with her the trip was abandoned.

MARIA AMELIE
Queen of Portugal.

QUEEN HAS A WILL OF HER OWN.
Queen Amelie is known to be a woman of strong will power. She is in her thirty-sixth year and is a daughter of the late Comte de Paris, thus a sister of Duke Philip of Orleans and a sister-in-law of the Archduchess Maria Dorothea.
She possesses the dominant qualities of her illustrious parents, while, on the other hand, the king is rather of a weak and worldly character. The couple have two sons, Crown Prince Louis Philip, Duke of Braganza, and Infant Manuel, Duke of Beja.

There are other grievances against the king which Queen Amelie's heart.
The king has proved several times of late unfaithful to his marriage vow, which recently led to a public scandal. A prominent physician in Lisbon committed suicide over the loss of his beautiful young wife, whose affections had been alienated by the king.

CLIMAX OF THE DISPUTE.
The climax of royal domestic contention was reached last week when King Carlos caused an edict to be issued in the Diario do Governo against the cloisters of his realm which commands that all religious institutions will be required to make a report of their rules and regulations to the respective municipal authorities and that all who do not comply within a fortnight would be closed up by the government. The edict has been received with storms of indignation by the clerical and even the more conservative of the liberal party are astounded at the king's boldness.

The queen with tears in her eyes besought the king to relent, but he remained obdurate, and it was then said that unless the king would modify his edict she would not hesitate to take the veil.

TWO FIND LIFE A BURDEN.

One Turns on the Gas and the Other Drowns Himself.

Chicago, April 17.—Mrs. Margaret A.
Van Brunt, who occupied a room at 25
Park avenue, committed suicide yesterday morning by turning on the gas in her apartment. She had been suffering from heart disease for some time past and it is supposed that she decided to end her life after retreating to her room shortly before midnight. Mrs. Van Brunt was 50 years old and her son, George Kohl, resides at 57 West Lake street. He informed the police that his mother was devotedly complained of her sufferings and wished them ended.

The body of an unidentified man, who is supposed by the police to have committed suicide, was taken from the south branch of the river near the Fort Wayne railroad bridge shortly after 9 o'clock yesterday morning. The men who first noticed the body said that it had not been there until yesterday morning.
There is a possibility that the man may have fallen into the water, but inasmuch as the body bore every indication of extreme poverty the police are inclined to the theory that the drowning was deliberate. The body was that of a man about 35 years old, poorly clad in a worn-out coat and two suits of underwear.

DOUBLE-TRACKING THE G. T. R.

Superintendent Cotter, of the Grand Trunk Western Railway, in the course of a recent interview, said: "We will double track one hundred miles of the Grand Trunk Western this year. This work will be done between Port Huron and Durand, and will take in the 'top around Flint'.
It will probably be two years before the entire road between Port Huron and Chicago is double-tracked. The traffic is very heavy on the road at the present time, and we cannot afford to bring it to a standstill, just at present we are

STORY OF HORROR FROM THE NORTH

Young Man Partially Blinded From Exposure And Neglect.

EXPERIENCE OF CIVIL ENGINEER.

Young Man Arrived in Toronto in With the Hope of Regaining His Sight Which He Lost in The Frozen North.

Toronto, April 17.—The black snow fields of the Yukon have been the scene of some of the most terrible stories of peril and privation that the world has ever known, but it is doubtful if any of them can exceed in horror the experience of a young civil engineer from an Ontario town who has recently come to Toronto for medical treatment. His whole nervous system was so completely shattered that he has lost the use of one eye completely, and the other occasional periods of sight.

Somewhat less than three years ago this young man was seized with the gold fever, and with three comrades set out for the Klondike. Leaving the bulk of their provisions at Dawson City, they went several days' journey up the country, skated the claim, and built their cabin. Three of them then returned to Dawson City to bring on the rest of the provisions, while the fourth remained to hold down the claim. Arrived at Dawson City the wretched trio went on a prolonged search, and it was not long before the whole stock of provisions had been converted into whisky.

Meanwhile at the lonely cabin in the country, days lengthened into weeks, and his solitary human occupant began to grow anxious, thinking some misfortune must have befallen his companions. Attending several weeks his supplies began to get low, alarmingly low. The solitude was terrible, without the boundaries stretch of snowy woods, within the silent darkness and starvation staring him in the face. Then body and brain weakened with hunger, the awful loneliness began to prey upon his mind, and at times he thought he would go mad. He might have been a martyr if he had but fate was more cruel. The fearful reveries strain began to tell upon his eyes.
One went blind. The other began days at a time he groped about in the perpetual darkness and in awful agony. For weeks his life was like an endless nightmare.

But why enlarge upon such a hideous experience? Finally his partner, haunts by the thought of their criminal neglect, returned to the cabin, expecting to find his corpse, and instead found him in this state of living death. With some difficulty he was able to get him to reach his home in Ontario, where his mother and sister live. During the last year he spent everything he owed for medical treatment, but he has not succeeded in regaining the partial use of one eye.

Some kind-hearted people in Toronto, who are too modest to wish their names mentioned, have taken the matter up, and subscribed liberally for the purpose of sending the unfortunate young man to New York, but money is still required, and it has been decided to appeal to the public. Mr. W. B. Reid, 38 York street, is receiving subscriptions, and a benefit concert will be given in St.
George's Hall on Thursday, April 25.

VENEZUELA DROPS DOUBBLE ENSURES

The Asphalt Dispute Will be Submitted to the Courts.

CASTRO HAS REPUBLIC IN HAND.

South American Republic Under Control
New and Castro Will be Re-Elected President, Says Loomis.

New York, April 17.—Frank B. Loomis, United States Minister to Venezuela, who was a passenger on the Red Diner Caracas, from Porto Rico, discussed this morning the events of the Washington this week, and reported to the State Department and President McKinley. He gives positive disclaimer to the authorship of the San Juan interviews, in which he was made to discuss some severely critical things about President Castro, and avers that injustice has been done him in this respect. To an associated Press reporter this morning Mr. Loomis said:—
"Preliminary steps towards a legal settlement of the asphalt case have been taken in the Venezuelan courts.
That is, as far as the dispute goes. We insisted that the dispute be submitted to arbitration without prejudice and carried our point. I do not say that our Government is satisfied with the result, but we want the matter passed upon by the courts. There was some feeling at the height of the incident but it has subsided and our relations at the present time are quite satisfactory."

"President Castro seems to have the country quite under control. He is a staunch and able man, but I believe, as yet, he has not had, in just adjustured, and there is to be an election in the autumn. It is quite certain that Castro will be elected. President and inaugurated next Spring.
The Barcelona incident, in which our consular agent was twice arrested by local officials in an attempt to extort money from him, has been arbitrarily closed in a manner quite satisfactory to us. Our Government directed me to demand an apology and the fullest reparation. Just before leaving I was given assurance that the fullest amends will be made. I am convinced personally that the assurance given me will be carried out."

Minister Loomis says he does not expect to return to Venezuela for at least five months. He is accompanied by his wife.

TO VISIT LINDSAY.

Lindsay, Ont. It is understood that the prospects of a concert being given here by the 37th Regimental Band of Peterborough, under the conductorship of Mr.
Rupert Glendon, are taking some definite shape, and that an advance subscription list will be circulated in town with the view of allowing citizens an opportunity to encourage this excellent musical organization to come here and give a concert. The band would be of 40 strong, and there would, therefore, be considerable expense in connection with the concert. It is to be hoped that the encouragement will be such as to warrant the concert being arranged, for beside the musical treat it would be, it will allow our citizens to enjoy a practical demonstration of what may be accomplished in the band line in Lindsay. Get on the advance list and you will have first choice of seats when the box office opens.

MILL HARNESS WIND AND WAVES

Eminent Electrician Predicts Great Things of Edison's New Invention.

LONG SOUGHT STORAGE BATTERY.

Edison's New Storage Battery May Turn Wind and Waves into Electric Power
If Necessary.

Ithaca, N. Y., April 17.—Dr. Robert Thurston, Eng., one of the most eminent mechanical engineers and authorities on electrical engineering, enthusiastically praises Thomas A. Edison's latest and greatest invention, the storage battery.
If anything were needed to prove Dr.
Thurston's standing as an electrical expert it is the fact that months ago Edison made known to him the details of the storage battery. Necessarily these details were given in the strictest confidence. But Dr. Thurston, using generally so as to bring out the best, has lately been loudly praising the new storage battery to the students of Cornell University. Dr. Thurston has told the students that a really practicable storage battery has been the great electrical possibility for fifty years, and that Edison's battery is the ideal. This battery, he says, will make it possible to turn the power of the wind and of the waves into electric power, and with an infinite amount of power. The new battery will be vastly more efficient because it will be capable of holding an infinite charge, and will lose a very small amount of power while the charge is being exhausted by use. The great loss of power while in use has been the greatest imperfection of all storage batteries up to this time. Another great advantage of the new storage battery is that it will weigh less than half as much as the lightest storage battery now in the market. The great weight of the present storage batteries is the most serious drawback to efficiency of electric automobiles. Dr. Thurston thinks that when they are supplied with Edison's storage battery electric automobiles will be the best.

REORGANIZATION OF THE BRITISH ARMY

A Forecast of Next Monday's Debate on Mr. Broderick's Army Bill.

MANY OBSTACLES IN THE WAY.

London, April 17.—The House of Commons is expected to discuss the plan of army reorganization, prepared by Mr. Broderick, the Secretary of State for War, on Monday next, when the member will come before it upon a motion that the Secretary's plan is "expedient." The official plan of "reorganization" (which first army corps to be organized in the United Kingdom, with the necessary staffs, stores and buildings, a militia reserve of not more than 50,000; an increase of the Yeomanry from 10,000 to 20,000, and the enrolment of eight regiments for garrison service. The "vote" or appropriation asked for to carry out this plan of reorganization provides for the army of 100,000 men, and for other points, the proposal is certain to meet lively opposition, or at all events, criticism.

The "Service Members" (Members of Parliament who have served in the army and the navy), are trying to agree upon a plan to propose instead of Mr. Broderick's; one such member is expected to call for "increased incentives with respect to pay, promotion and pension" for officers and non-commissioned officers; another will urge three instead of six corps; a third will demand that the Yeomanry and a naval member will insist that the navy, not the army, ought to be the subject of careful consideration.

VICTORIOUS TOUR OF GEN. FRENCH

Description of the Movement Which Resulted in Gen. Botha's Complete Demoralization.

EASTERN TREK A FATAH MISTAKE OF BOERS.

Boer General Underrated Remarkable Energy of Lord Kitchener—Country Strawn With Relics of the Trek.

London, April 17.—The details of the movement eastward of the British columns, which resulted in the demoralization of General Botha and his forces are to hand. The great trek within the Eastern triangle was, as a matter of fact, a fatal mistake on Botha's part, understanding perhaps, the remarkable energy of Lord Kitchener. Botha had thought that the hitherto unconquered country including the towns of Bethulle, Carolina, Ermelo, and Amersfoort, with the back lands and districts of Amsterdam, Lureberg, and Piet Retief, and the Tongolo ranges, beyond, would remain a safe refuge until the fever season passed away, and the winter months made the rugged North a base for renewed activity. The commander-in-chief, unfortunately for Botha, was in no mind to repeat eastwards the practically useless marches of Sir Redvers Buller and General French through a wide, absolutely hostile country. In place of sending one column, hampered by a heavy transport train, along one road only, with the result that the Boers would harass it when it passed, as Be-loft, he rapidly organized a series of columns which, making a front of some 60 miles, enabled General French to push the enemy before him towards a corner.

The six columns engaged aggregated over 15,000 splendid fighting men—narly all veterans at the game of war, and able to withstand exposure and fatigue.
General French kept a position in the centre of the movement, with General
Smith-Dorrien on the left and General
Darnley on the right flank. General Smith-Dorrien's route, straight from Wunderfontein, on the Laagun line to Carolina, promised big fighting. The road lay over country through which Sir Redvers Buller, so long ago, as August last, had to fight his way before an obstinate enemy, and where both French and Smith-Dorrien himself afterwards had unpleasant experiences.

Resistance was made at Teyateya by an enemy 1,000 strong with a pom-pom. The column under Carolina without opposition and met with opposition near Middelburg. The Boers' objective was left at Wunderfontein and the columns struck due east.

Rearguard actions became common as the columns neared the alignment of Ermelo. General French fighting an unsatisfactory engagement at Bushman's Kop, and General Darnley meeting one of 400 Boers, with two guns and a pom-pom, on the right flank. The enemy were invariably chary, however, of using their guns, fearing that they would lose them. In their haste to get out of the way, they began to abandon herds of stock and many wagons fell into our hands. Smith-Dorrien, keeping his force well out to the left of Lake Chrisme, or some 30 miles north-east of Ermelo, bivouacked on February 8 on the Bothwell farm.

A NIGHT ATTACK.

The night was extremely dark and General Botha, with 2,000 men, made an attack which lasted half an hour, and then died away.

"G" and "H" Companies held the two long trenches, and the Boer forlorn hope at our hands.

taking advantage of the momentary confusion caused by a troop of loose horses being driven in on the outpost, flung themselves between and charged forward to the camp. The West Yorkshire support, barred the way, a sharp exchange of musketry followed, and then what was left of the Boer band were running hard back again into the black veil.

All this time the Boers outside were firing fast into the camp, which, with cavalry horses plunging and the marti-ned awaking of tired men, was in some confusion. The men, however, soon collected their senses, seized the half-maddened horses, and were ready to repel their assailants. As the enemy's column hope ran headlong into the veil, leaving Commander Spry, a brave man and 20 others dead in front of the West Yorkshires, the latter moved forward in extended order, and still bore the brunt of the firing on that side.

TOWNS BURNED.
In addition to a number of prisoners taken during the attack, the column in the days succeeding it got up to the right rearward of the enemy, and began the capture of prisoners, wagons, and stock which subsequently swelled to enormous proportions, and thoroughly crippled the Boers as a mobile force.

It is impossible to ascertain with certainty what became of Ermelo; but, so far as is known, the town remains intact. Not so Amersfoort, where, although nothing was set on fire, the houses were considerably damaged. From the Delagoa line down to Piet Retief and the Tongolo the whole country was laid waste, in order to prevent the Boers from resembling there for supplies. The towns of Bethulle, Carolina, Ermelo, Amersfoort, and the district of Piet-retief, Lureberg, and Amsterdam were denuded of their inhabitants, who, with hundreds of women and children who were left in the captured wagons, have been sent into the various refugee camps along the Natal Railway.

With nearly three weeks' incessant rain, the lot of these poor people forced to travel through a mere quagmire, has been little better than that of our own troops. The latter, reduced for eight days to living on mealie meal and meat, were gladdened later only by the arrival of the long-delayed convoys. Through all wet through, and undergoing exasperat-ing hardships, sleeping for ten days marches day after day, they have nobly borne all their hardships.

It being impossible for General French to salvage the enormous number of wagons captured, and it being unwise to leave them intact for the Boers to back them again, all, with the exception of a few retained and those required for the conveyance of the refugees were broken up and burned. The eastward veiled described as being covered with these relics of the Boer fight, while tens of thousands of sheep and cattle may be seen.
Whatever happens to Lukas Meyer and the 1,000 men he is supposed to have remaining out of Botha's considerable army it will be some time before they forget their harrowing by General French, and the severe losses, in men and material of war, which they have already sustained at our hands.

ANOTHER OUTBREAK FEARED IN CHINA

The Rev. Mr. Kelly, Presbyterian missionary, has returned from San Ho, where Christians were burned to death in December. Mr. Kelly reports to Gen.
Chafee that sometime ago several of his converts were killed. He had the guilty parties tried in the Chinese courts, where they were convicted and sentenced to death, subject to Li Hung Chang's signature.

Mr. Kelly came to Peking and saw Li Hung Chang, who said the men should be executed immediately. Three weeks later the missionary found the men alive. He spoke to a judge of the Chinese courts on the matter, who thereupon showed him a letter from Li Hung Chang instructing that the men must not be executed as they had only been convicted on the testimony of Christians, consequently the evidence was untrustworthy. Mr. Kelly has a copy of this letter. In the meantime the French had proved the same men guilty of incendiarism and other things outrageous, and demanded their execution, whereupon the judge again showed his orders from Li Hung Chang. The French authorities replied that if the men were not executed within eight days they would take the law into their own hands and punish the Chinese offenders themselves.

The Ministers of the Foreign Powers view with alarm the expedition against Gen. Liang Tsung, as they think he will retreat, probably laying waste the villages, he traverses and killing native Christians, and that such action will be used as an excuse by the military for further aggression which would probably be the kill of Sai Yuan Pu.
At a late meeting of the Foreign Ministers, the question of indemnities was considered. It is now estimated that seventy million pounds will cover all claims.

Peking, April 17.
Troops in large numbers are massing in the province of Shan Si, near the frontier of the province of Chi Li. Well informed natives prophecy further trouble. It is impossible to ascertain whether the court is playing a double game or its authority is insufficient to prevent the Chinese generals acting in a manner likely to provoke hostilities.
The fact that for many months
there has been nothing in the shape of facts given, favors the latter hypothesis. Probably a great deal will depend upon the Franco-German expedition inflicting a severe defeat upon the Chinese who have transgressed the agreement by entering into the sphere of the allies. If these offenders are thoroughly thrashed it is likely to produce a good effect.

THE WORLD'S SUGAR SUPPLY

The increase made by the sugar beet in supplying the demands for sugar throughout the world is shown by an article in the Summary of Commerce and Finance just issued by the U.S. department of statistics. According to this report the sugar crop for 1900 was 5,960,000 tons, and the cane sugar output 2,850,000 tons, over two-thirds of the world's demand for sugar being supplied from beets. In 1840, beets supplied less than five per cent. of the world's sugar consumption; 1850, they supplied over 14 per cent.; in 1870, 34 per cent.; in 1890, over 60 per cent.; and in 1900, 67.71 per cent. The amount of sugar consumed has also grown to gigantic proportions during that time. In 1840 the total sugar crop of the world was only 1,150,000 tons; in 1870, 2,415,000 tons; in 1890, 5,702,000, and in 1900, 8,800,000 tons. Although the world's population has no more than doubled during the 30 years, probably not so much, yet its consumption of sugar is to-day fully eight times as much as in 1840.

The report also says that but one factory in Great Britain now refines cane sugar, the other factories exclusively preparing for the market the raw product of the beet farms of Germany, France, Austria and Russia. Following is the estimate of the beet sugar crop for the year ending Sept. 1, 1900:

Countries—	Tons.
Germany	5,950,000
France	1,125,000
Austria-Hungary	1,075,000
Russia	850,000
Belgium	340,000
Holland	170,000
Other countries	400,000

Total beet 9,860,000

The sugar cane crop is estimated as follows:

Countries—	Tons.
Cuba	570,000
Louisiana	500,000
Hawaii	230,000
Brazil	150,000
Peru	120,000
Demerara	90,000
Egypt	90,000
Antilles	85,000
Porto Rico	70,000
Philippines	50,000
Trinidad	45,000
Barbados	40,000
Jamaica	30,000
Martinique	30,000
Guadeloupe	30,000
Reunion	30,000

Total cane 2,850,000

The world's consumption of sugar in 1900 was 8,800,000.

EDITORIAL NOTES

An important question in social economy has just been decided by a Chicago debating society, to the effect that it is impossible to live on $2.00 per week. It was shown as a result of a recent investigation into Chicago's sweatshops, that the average weekly wages of dress-makers in those establishments was 50 cents, and of seamstresses $2.05. The inference would seem to be that there are some things in this world that even debating societies do not know.

An Ottawa doctor has taken into his house as a servant a girl who is under surveillance for signs of smallpox. How nice to have her never asking for an extra evening out.

Suppose the Boers are retreating? When for the moment arms cannot be used the legs are all right.

Catarth.
Called an American disease, is cured by an American medicine, originated and prepared in the most catarrhal of American countries.

That medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures radically and permanently, in that it removes the cause, cleansing the blood of scurvy and all other impurities. It overcomes all the effects of catarrh, too, and builds up the whole system.

—Miss Lillian Weir, who is attending Normal School in Toronto, spent holiday week at home.

—Miss Emily Adams and Will Adams left for Peterborough last Saturday. It is rumored that they intend going West.

—Mr. R. H. Douglas, Methodist minister here, preached last Sunday a very comprehensive sermon on the text, "Thou art Weighed in the Balance and Found Wanting." The attendance was good.

—There is as yet, no minister for the Presbyterian church.

—Spring work has commenced here, and the farmers are busy getting their fields ready for the crops. Some have sown already.

LOCAL COUNCIL.

Council met at a call from the Reeve on April 17th. Members all present. Dennis H. H. Reeve, in the chair. The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was dispensed with.

On motion of Mr. Condon and Sullivan, Charles Curtis and John H. Alter were appointed commissioners to examine the contract on line of road between concessions 7 and 8 in front of lot 3, and in the event of the same being satisfactory that the Treasurer pay cost of same on the said commissioners' report. Cost not to exceed $10.00.

On motion of Mr. Allen and Curtis, the Reeve was appointed a commissioner to act in concert with a commissioner from the Durham council, re water course on boundary between Douro and Durham. In front of lot 3, and report at next meeting of Council.

Moved by Mr. Sullivan and Condon, That the sum of $18.00, being a refund of printing fee for 1900, be paid over to the Treasurer, the same to be credited to the general funds of the municipality.

On motion of Mr. Sullivan and Curtis, The Auditor's report was referred back to the Auditor for correction, by inserting the name of Patrick Ryan for $3.00, and Edward Nolans for $3.45 in statement, and that the Clerk be authorized to have report so corrected attached to printed statement.

On motion of Mr. Condon and Sullivan, The Reeve ordered the payment of $2.00 to Wm. Abbott for gnatue labor performed but charged on the Collector's Roll of 1899 against H. Debuze.

On motion of Mr. Sullivan and Curtis, The Clerk was instructed to allow Wm. Abbott 2 days' gnatue labor when preparing the list of 1901 if he finds by the Assessment Roll that Mr. Abbott was overcharged to that amount in 1899 and 1900.

On motion of Mr. Curtis and Sullivan, The Treasurer was authorized to allow the following abatements to the Collector as the final settlement of his roll, viz: 5 per cent. on his taxes, $1.38; 5 per cent. portion of uncollected taxes to Dec. 14th, 17 cents, and his salary, $59.00.

On motion of Mr. Sullivan and Condon, Wm. Garbutt was appointed an arbitrator to decide on the contemplated alteration of S.S. No. 6, Douro; No. 10, Lakefield, and the formation of a new S.S. No. 4, portion of said S.S. Sections may be altered.

On motion of Mr. Sullivan and Curtis, James McClellan, ex-Reeve, was directed to hand over to Mr. Maloney, present Reeve, all property in his possession belonging to the municipality.

On motion of Mr. Sullivan and Allen, The Reeve and Council were authorized to appoint commissioners to interview the Peterborough Town Council re the boundary between Douro and the Town of Peterborough.

On motion Council adjourned to the 27th day of May next. Then to meet as a Court of Revision.

THE SPRING LIFE - GIVER

Paine's Celery Compound

Carries On Its Great Work in all Classes of Society.

Its Present Use Will Establish a Firm Foundation of Health for the Future.

The success of Paine's Celery Compound, as a life-giving spring medicine is confined to no one class of society. Its grand work in banishing disease has won the approval of those in high positions, and it also fully enjoys the confidence of our city toilers and the farmers of our broad Dominion.

At this season, when health-restoring should be the first thought, take no chances with medicines that have no reputation or established fame. The wise and prudent make Paine's Celery Compound their chosen remedy and never suffer disappointment. Mr. G. J. McDonald, of Cornwall, Ont., gladly writes as follows:

"After having given your Paine's Celery Compound a thorough testing, I am pleased to say a few words in its favor. For three years I suffered terribly from rheumatism. It seemed to me that I was forced to endure all the agonies and pains that a mortal could possibly experience from the dreadful disease."

"While suffering I tried many of the advertised medicines and also doctors' prescriptions, but never found a cure until I procured a supply of Paine's Celery Compound. It worked like a charm—it seemed to strike at the very root of my trouble. I am now cured, all pains are banished, and in every respect I am a cured man."

"I shall always consider it a pleasure and duty to strongly recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all who are afflicted with rheumatism."

ATTACK OF ROYAL CANADIANS AT PAARDEBERG

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield was the grandest of all. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures, size 20x24, on heavy, superfine, colored paper. The pictures that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called "Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg." There are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the distance is swarming with men, while here and there a prominent figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Armstrong met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands made them God-senders as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, charging the Boer Guns at Middelburg and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are REPRODUCED in color. Each picture is sold for $1.00. Sample and terms 25 cents (no freight). Four for $3.75; six for $5.25; 12 for $9.75; 24 for $18.00; 48 for $32.00. Write today for sample and make money. Best Novelty Mfg. THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Saluda copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims: The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Saluda, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Saluda. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of Saluda at Chocoma station, on the main trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

PRICES AND TERMS

PRESENT PRICES: We are now selling our fully paid and non-assessable TREASURY SHARES at 5 cents per share, in balance of 100 shares and more; 100 shares, $5; 500 shares, $25; 1,000 shares, $50; or 10,000 shares or more at the same rate. Send your order RIGHT NOW, before the next advance, as you will soon pay a higher price. Investors are rapidly investing with us. The Company fully prepares all Government revenue, postage, etc. Send also for our handsomely illustrated prospectus, which contains much valuable information. It is free for the asking.

SHOT HIS WIFE

He Says It Was Accidental, She Says It Was Not.
Morrisonville, N. J., April 18.—James Tobin, a well known resident of this town, shot his wife this afternoon. He claims it was accidental. She says it was not.
The couple have frequently separated and as many times become reconciled. He called on her to-day and they went out walking. She says he directed her attention to something, and when her back was turned fired two shots at her. One struck her on the right and the other on the left side of the neck. Tobin made no effort to escape.

THEIR FAME SPREADING

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills a Wonderful Remedy

Sir,—It is because I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid that I ask you to publish some facts regarding Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills. I was for many years a sufferer from indigestion and stomach troubles. I could not digest my food, I was constipated, and it was only by injections that I could get relief. Physicians did me no good. I was reduced to a skeleton and could hardly walk. As a first resort I tried a box of these pills, and the improvement was so marked that I continued taking them. I have now taken twelve boxes, never remembering being so well in my life. I have gained 22 pounds, and am putting on more flesh daily. I am a living, walking advertisement, and consider no trouble too great in order to spread the fame of Dr. Clarke's Pills. A. F. Jones, Lockport, N.Y., Peterborough, Ont.

BANK OF TORONTO, PORT HOPE

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62064, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet.

This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock of radiators.

Dated at Toronto this 18th day of February, A. D. 1901.

HER KNIGHT.

"O for the days of romance and chivalry!"

The fat, little volume descended unceremoniously on his head as the girl in the hammock rocked lazily.

"Whacking my head will not restore them," he said, rolling over on the grass. What have you here?" opening the book. A crumpled glove marked the page of her interrupted reading of Tennyson.

"A fig for your knights and belted ears. Em; a girl with your practical name and golfing honors cannot be associated in my mind with loveless Lancelots."

"No more can choker collars and football boots represent romance to me," she said, tilting her hat over her eyes. "The age of love seems to be dead."

"You need not be personal," he retorted, tossing back his long hair. "There is romance enough if you care to see it. I can count at least three embryo love affairs now on the links. Turn around, Em, and look at Hawkins."

She gave a fleeting glance. The gay, striped awnings showing the veranda of the country clubhouse relieved the monotony of green sward on which the last golf tournament of the season was in progress. At their feet glistened the quiet river.

She raised herself on one elbow. "Surely, Hal, you are not stupid enough to call the studied gallantries of Hawkins love?"

"Why not?" he asked, making a pillow of her Tennyson. "The girl in the case thinks so, Em—what do you wager it will not end in a wedding?"

"I would be sure to lose," she replied, resuming her careless pose, "but a wedding is not proof of love. Don't you see he is only wooing her money? Do you think he would look at her twice if she were not a railway's daughter?"

He laughed softly. "Command me to you for originality, Em; if Miss Terry is a railway's daughter I must be a dry goods son."

She waved her hand airily. "Don't try to improve on your natural density, Hal. That dry goods is another point in favor of my theory. Fancy a Lancelot or Belshazzar measuring calico."

"Just so," he agreed. "I believe they measured wine, if my pillow is an authority."

She made a thrust at him with her sunshade.

"You have no conception of the sublime, Hal; you are nothing but practical, mechanical mediocrity."

He watched her a moment silently. "So you are waiting for a hero incoat-of-mail, but, Em—'he must erect—to be consistent you must draw your part. Who will play the 'Lady of Shalott' or 'Elaine'? Choose the latter, please; I am sorely in need of a gun case; that will be far more useful than 'brooding a case for a shield. I don't care about the 'brooding if you will only stitch it strong.'"

The hammock ceased to sway. "If you were any one else, Hal, it might be worth while talking, but you are so sublimely obtuse. You know I never saw."

"So I thought," she said. "The modern girl is too apt with ologies to take interest in such trifles; but, Em, you are so wise, tell me what has become of the old-fashioned girl who did crocheted work in the parlor after dinner and made no secret of enjoying life from the thrilling circus period of childhood to the young womanhood that acknowledged the need of love?"

She stifled a yawn. "I guess she occupies the same shelf with the young man who collected stamps and sprang autographs on his friends. You had better ask the professor's daughter; she is keen on antiquities."

Her broad-eyed walking shoe drew geometrical figures on the ground. He watched it admiringly.

"Why are you not watching the game?" she asked abruptly. "I came here to rest and read; give me my book."

"Presently," he answered. "A girl with your knowledge ought to know that it is injurious to read in the sun."

"Not more than to lie in it," she flashed. "You have acquired three freckles since you have been here and they don't suit your nose a bit."

He propped himself against a tree facing her. "I am going to tell you something, Em."

"Well," she said listlessly. "I am in love, really and truly in love."

She opened her eyes and looked at him. "So you are; the symptoms are plain enough."

He caught at the hammock, but she swung away.

"I am, for a fact," he went on; "what shall I say to her, Em?"

She smothered the ruffle on her waist. "The much depends—how long have you had it?"

"About a week," he answered laconically. She raised her brows. "Ah! it has developed slowly. You are apt to have it violently—no, I mean virulently. Is it different from your other attacks? This is your fourth college year and every vacation you have told me a love story. Is the heroine the same in each volume?"

He moved nearer. "The others were nonsense. This is the real article. She is the sweetest—"

She put out a sunburned hand. "Spare me, Hal—all that goes without saying, but if you are serious in this I would approve of it."

Is she capable of solving the servant problem? "Can she do the plain cook act?"

The sunburned hand was imprisoned in two broad ones, his tawny head came anxiously near the ruffled pillow. "Ah, out as capable as I am at sewing wood," he answered. "I am not looking for a working housekeeper. Em—I want a wife who is up to date, a golf champion, a"

She withdrew her hand and pushed the pillow further away. The sun had flushed the cheek next high. He moved nearer.

"I don't think I approve of her, Hal," she said. "You have an appetite, you know, and hired girls are always leaving. Athletic medals are pretty ornaments—the professor's daughter has two, hasn't she? But they don't help to cook a string of old-fashioned girl would be far more suitable."

"I think so, too," he said, "but that is not the question. Can you cook, Em?"

"Of course not—nothing but angel cake."

He helped himself to part of the hammock. "So I thought, Angel cake might do as an occasional after clap, but, Em, would you choose a man solely for his ability to build fires and draw water?"

She essayed to rise, but he caught her hand.

"Janitors and faucets do away with all that," he said airily. "You are hating my hand, Hal; the answer, taking the other one. 'Must he be a Lancelot, Em? Will no one else do?'"

"Perhaps," she said softly. "if he could meet conditions."

The space between them, diminished. "Suppose a young fellow, not entirely bad looking—"

She gave a swift upward look, then dropped her eyes. "With a few brains and a little money, some one who loves you devotedly, Em, who would do everything to make you happy—"

"Would he keep the household accounts?" she interrupted.

"By the car load."

"And get my cat?"

"I-I think so," rather faintly.

She looked at triumphantly. "You must be sure. My cat is very dear to me."

"He would," he said emphatically. "I believe he would spend the time not devoted to you catching mice for him."

She looked away with a mischievous smile. "Then it is not you, Hal. I know you hate cats."

He stared at her blankly. "Don't be silly, Em. I only said it to please you."

She looked gravely. "I know you did. The man I marry must have the courage of his convictions. If he dislikes cats he must say so. If I cannot have knightly devotion I shall exact veracity."

"But, Em, I am devoted to you—you do not doubt it?"

Her black lashes swept her cheeks. "What does devotion mean, Hal? Telling fibs? Following one around the globe? Keeping her from reading?"

He laughed softly. "Sometimes, I am sure about the cat. Em, I don't like cats—I never could."

"That is better, Hal," she said.

He looked longingly at the gunboxed hand playing with the hammock fringe.

"If I don't like cats I can tolerate them," he said. "Have a menagerie if you like, if you will only include me."

She looked at him suspiciously.

"I thought you said you had been in love with some frivolous society girl for ages."

"I have," he replied, taking the real hand. There was a moment's silence.

"Perhaps I was wrong about the girl. Hal—I thought you meant the professor's daughter."

He looked into her eyes. "You know who I mean, Em—what shall I say to her?"

She looked back at the links. The players had gone to the house. She moved toward him.

"I can say nothing flowery, Em, I can only tell you in an everyday sort of way. I imagine I have said everything your knight would say."

Her head sank on his shoulder.

"You might at least have gone down on your hands and knees and whispered from the shelter of his coat."

A PLEASING EVENT.

Mr. M. Sheehan and Miss Nellie Mead, were united in marriage by Rev. Father Kelly of Ennismore, on Tuesday last.

The young couple are very popular in Ennismore. The bride and groom were Miss Annie McLaughlin and the groomsmen Mr. J. McGarity.

The happy couple visited Peterborough after the marriage and were guests at the Clancy House, where had also arrived Mr. and Mrs. Hogan, Ottawa, who, however, have many friends here.

A pleasant dance was held at the hotel in the evening in honor of the guests.

A WARNING.

To feel tired after exertion is one thing; to feel tired before is another.

Don't say the latter is laziness—it isn't; but it's a sign that the system lacks vitality, is running down, and needs the tonic effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It's a warning, too—and sufferers should begin taking Hood's at once.

ATTACK OF ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has been the splendid display of valour and heroism. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures, also 25¢ each, on heavy, superfine, calendared paper. A picture that will command itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called 'Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg'. There are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the a mountain or kopjes stretching out into the distance are awaking with men, while here and there a profile figure speaks only too well of the heroism of the war. It is on this battle-field the gallant Major Armstrong died unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of these brave soldiers boys are alluring pictures and cannot fail to command themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are $25.00 each, in one day. Sample and terms $5.00 (non-refundable). Four for $20.00; $3.75 per dozen; 25 for $93.75; 50 for $187.50; 100 for $375.00. Write for day form, and make money. The Aristos GOLD MINING CO.

Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pike's Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.

THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.

100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividend the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 2000 by 3000 feet, or 600 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The features of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 30 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. This vein runs fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $200 to $1000 per ton. The property is advantageously located, and is well developed by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 100 to 500 tons per day. The development by tunneling is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 650 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 200 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 200 feet of this Tunnel.

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $200 to $1000 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which also at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

Buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high grade gold mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.

The above offer of Preferred Dividends is an assurance of early returns. After additional machinery is erected, this property will be earning dividends almost equal to its Capital Stock.

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Saluda copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims: The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which properly adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Saluda, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot at Saluda. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of Saluda, at Chama station, on the main trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills a Wonderful Remedy

Sir,—It is because I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid that I ask you to publish some facts regarding Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills. I was for many years a sufferer from indigestion and stomach troubles. I could not digest my food, I was constipated, and it was only by injections that I could get relief. Physicians did me no good. I was reduced to a skeleton and could hardly walk. As a first resort I tried a box of these pills, and the improvement was so marked that I continued taking them. I have now taken twelve boxes, never remembering being so well in my life. I have gained 22 pounds, and am putting on more flesh daily. I am a living, walking advertisement, and consider no trouble too great in order to spread the fame of Dr. Clarke's Pills. A. F. Jones, Lockport, N.Y., Peterborough, Ont.

SOLICITORS, WM. MORTIMER CLARK & GRAY

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62064, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet.

This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock of radiators.

THE NINTH LANCERS AMBUSHED BY BOERS

Lord Kitchener Reports That Four British Were Killed and Five Wounded.

EDITOR PUNISHED FOR LICELLING GEN. FRENCH.

R. H. Malan, of the Ons Land, Sent to Jail for Casting Reflections on the Victor of Toronto.

London, April 19.—Lord Kitchener, in a despatch from Pretoria, under date of yesterday, says: "I regret to report that a party of the Ninth Lancers have been ambushed and Lieutenant A. MacDonald and three men killed, and five wounded."

EDITOR MALAN'S SENTENCE.
Cape Town, April 19.—H. H. Malan, editor of Ons Land, who has been found guilty of libel in having cast reflections upon the conduct of General French and his troops, has been sentenced to one year's imprisonment.

CRABBE SURROUNDED BOERS.
Colesberg, April 19.—I have received from an eye-witness a description of the manner in which Colonel Crabbe encircled a small Boer commando. He drove the Boers right up to the Orange River. A small number endeavored to cross. The receding water, however, had left stretches of soft mud, into which the Boers sank, and their riders were washed down by the stream, most of them being drowned. Colonel Crabbe did not allow his men to fire at them.

African News, has been found guilty of libelling Lord Kitchener. He made the statement in his paper that the British commander-in-chief in South Africa had instructed his men to take no prisoners. Lord Kitchener denied the truth of this statement. Mr. Cartwright said, in his evidence, that the article which led to his arrest was to obtain a denial of the charges made therein.

COLONIALS' GREAT WORK.
A despatch from Rosemead, Cape Colony, says Colonel Goring's column has arrived there to rest after three months of extraordinary hard trekking. The column consists almost entirely of colonial soldiers of splendid physique and hardihood, who are mounted on colonial horses. During the three months the average daily trek has been 31.2 miles. In the attempt to save Pearson from that place was threatened by the Boers. Colonel Goring's men covered 11 miles in forty hours, crossing on the way the precipitous Cossberg by a bridge path with guns and all necessary equipment. The column has hung closely on to the Boers, allowing them no halt for rest or recruiting.

London, April 19.—Details of the operations of Col. Darnell's column on the Swaziland and Zululand borders show that the British compelled the Boers to retire from very strong positions, with the loss of 300 wagons and 40 carts, which were either captured or burned. The British captured a tom-pom, a Maxim gun, 5,000 head of cattle, and a large number of horses and sheep. A number of Boers were killed or wounded. The British sustained practically no losses.

SWISS BOERS' DUEL.
It is announced from Bellinzona, Switzerland, that a duel has been arranged between Colonel Richardi, late commanding the foreign legion serving with the Boers, and a journalist named M. Auguste Deha, who has written several articles criticizing the colonel both on the field and on the lecture platform. Colonel Richardi has during the last five weeks been delivering speeches in all the great Swiss towns, eulogizing the Boers and making collections on their behalf.

LIBELLED KITCHENER.

Winnipeg, April 19.—The telephone girls at Central went out on strike at nine o'clock this morning, completely tying up the service for almost an hour. The cause was the installation of a new chief with orders to see that the operators paid more attention to discipline and rules. The manager gave them five minutes to go back or quit, and they decided to stay out, causing great inconvenience to the business part of the town. New operators will be employed, some being brought from other towns, and it is expected things will be running as usual to-morrow.

NEW ZEALAND'S SEVENTH.
A Times despatch from Wellington, New Zealand, says the seventh contingent, numbering 600 men, have embarked for South Africa. They are commanded by Col. Porter, who fought in the Boer war.

DEATH CAME TO THEM SUDDENLY

James Bishop of Brantford and a Son of Police Magistrate Ellis.

Brantford, Ont., April 19.—Death came very suddenly to Frank Ellis here to-day. He had complained of headache and went to a drug store for powder, where he dropped dead at 12.15. Deceased was 30 years of age and was a son of Police Magistrate Ellis of Toronto Junction.

Brantford, Ont., April 19.—James H. Bishop, aged about 44, of Victoria street, fell dead on the street this morning. He leaves a widow and a young child.

CROWN'S STRONG CASE IN AURORA

Thirty Witnesses Were Heard by Magistrate Ellis Yesterday.

CHINAMAN TELLS FUNNY STORY.

Case Adjourned Until Next Thursday in Toronto—Aurora Enjoyed a Holiday Yesterday.

The preliminary investigation at Aurora of the charges against the alleged safe-blowers, Rutledge, Rice and Jones, was the sole topic of conversation at that town yesterday, and the day was practically regarded as a holiday. The Town Hall was jammed with people and the kitchened kitchen was taken in the proceedings. Nearly thirty witnesses in all were called and the net result is that the Crown has already made out a strong case against Rutledge and Rice, and only a weak case against Jones.

The evidence was very interesting. There was much fun over the story told of Fung Tow, the Chinaman who was the only man who saw the robbers actually forcing an entrance into the bank.

The first witness called at the afternoon session was Mrs. Hanbury, of Aurora, daughter of George Knowles. On the evening preceding the robbery she saw two strangers sitting by the roadside near her father's gate on Kennedy street. Later on that same evening she saw one of them in W.C. Town's store buying oranges. That one was Rutledge.

Mr. Towns remembered the sale of oranges to a stranger on that occasion, but he was unable to say who he was, as several customers were in at the time, and he had been busy.

Louisa Thumhart, of Aurora, deposed that she saw a man whom she thought was Jones, standing on the east side of George street, opposite the Methodist church, between 5 and 7 o'clock on the evening of the 22nd of May.

HEWITT MADE A LAUGH.
Samuel Hewitt created a big laugh by his ideas of what constituted a swallow-tail coat. He swore that between 2 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon preceding the robbery he met Jones at Hutchison's Hill, a quarter of a mile south of Aurora.

"How was he dressed?" asked Mr. Robinson.

"He had on a black Christie, black trousers, a black vest and a black swallow-tail coat," said Hewitt. This caused a roar of laughter.

"What kind of a coat do you mean by a swallow-tail?" asked Crown Attorney Dewar.

"I mean one something like the one you have on now," said Hewitt. (Laughter.)

Mr. Dewar was wearing an ordinary cutaway coat. Witnesses further testified that at four or five o'clock he saw the same man again, with two comrades, lying on the grass at the foot of the main hill.

Milton Fleury, who had been called in the afternoon, was recalled. He had then been fairly, but not absolutely sure that Rutledge and Rice were the two who had supped at the Royal, but after he further inspected and studied their faces he was quite sure of them.

Dr. Stevenson, of Aurora, saw Rice and Rutledge pass his verandah between 9 and 10 o'clock. Rutledge was carrying a bag of oranges.

Arthur Andrews, barber, rather thought that Jones was the man whom he had shaved a week previous to the robbery. His customer had questioned him closely about what building was in rear of the barber shop and about the bank, which was next door. He had heard the three explosions and he and his wife had arisen from bed and looked out. They saw the man walk down the street towards the Queen's Hotel.

Arthur Winter, whose take shop is across from the bank, also heard the reports. He had called earlier in the evening and asked for sandwiches. He had sent him to a hotel.

Geo. W. Lee, huckster and farmer, while driving from Toronto to Aurora very early on the morning of the 23rd met a horse dragging a road cart on which were three men and a bicycle.

CHINAMAN'S AMUSING STORY.
Fung Tow, the Chinese laundryman, heard "big noise" and "shoots" from the bank and "shoots" from the bank. He was very "frightened" and only dared to raise the curtain a little bit. He saw "three" men, one "little high." He wore a stand-up collar. At three o'clock the robbers had "finished and gone."

Norman Henderson, of Eglington, had risen early on the 23rd to dig the garden. He saw three men, two of whom were Rutledge and Rice, driving a big black stallion and a sulky down Yonge street towards Toronto. The horse was in a foam.

Ivan Pergrine, who was in flower bank, described the condition of the bank before and after the robbery, and gave an account of the money stolen.

Richard Wells, landholder of the Queen's Hotel, deposed as to the theft of Philipp Butten's stallion from his stable and the steps taken to recover it.

Wm. H. Evans swore that on that night two bicycles were stolen from his bicycle establishment. One of them was found at Bond's Lake, and the other has never been seen.

Walter Scott Tule, Aurora, added further testimony proving Rutledge's presence in Aurora.

The court then adjourned until next Thursday in Toronto. An enormous mob met the special car at North Toronto.

REGULATIONS HARD ON THE HORSES

Australian Officer Makes Some Pertinent Remarks on Waste of Horses.

TOO MUCH RED TAPE TO BLAME.

Prodigal and Useless Waste of Horses During the War Colonial Officers for Colonial Troops.

London, April 19. Among inviolable Australian officers returning from South Africa by way of England is Captain H. R. P. Durham, of the Imperial Bushmen. Before joining the Imperial Bushmen, Captain Durham had seventeen years' experience in the Queensland Police Force. A considerable portion of his service was in the back country where the conditions of travel and transport are different, often more so than in South Africa. On account of his previous experience in bush travelling, Captain Durham was made transport officer of the contingent, and had full opportunities of judging of the weak points both in the colonial and the imperial forces in this respect.

What most struck Captain Durham during the campaign was the prodigal and useless waste of horses, largely caused by the cast-iron and hide-bound nature of the army regulations. To a Daily Chronicle representative he stated that when the Queensland horses landed at Cape Town they were in first rate condition, though they had been twenty-eight days on board ship. They were at once sent up to the front by open trucks, where they were not tied up. They were terribly knocked up. The Government forage allowance was only 5 pounds of oats to each horse. When on the march they were never given time to feed during the day, when the sun was up, and the horses could camp for a bit in comfort, and there was no suitable grass at night. The horses fell away visibly week by week. At night time they were picked in exposed places, where they would stand shivering, unable to find any shelter to lie down. In six weeks' time the contingent lost all their horses, except a few that were practically useless. As never allowed to stop, and no consideration was shown to them.

A REMEDY SUGGESTED.
As the horses got low in condition, sore backs and withers became general, and for this Captain Durham blames the equipment provided. The country, says Captain Durham, peculiarly suitable for pack-horses, and spare horses running loose. A few smart men could have rounded up any number of spare and pack horses, which would have reduced men, and also given the horses a chance, as the men would have had spare horses to ride. But, of course, all this was against the regulations, though it would have given our mounted forces a mobility at least as great as that of the Boers.

COLONIAL OFFICERS.
In future, Captain Durham is of opinion, colonial forces should be commanded by officers who have had experience of colonial military systems, and are accustomed to deal with men enlisted from the colonial services should be complete and form a unit in itself, and be kept as a separate body when on active service. Captain Durham speaks of the British officers and soldiers in the highest terms, but says that they do not understand the rank and file of the colonial forces.

A TEST TO BE MADE.
The growing of sugar beets to be tried at Peterborough.

Yesterday Mr. Wm. Collins, Chairman of the Sugar Beet Committee, received word that Prof. Shuttleworth would arrive in Peterborough on the 23rd inst. with seed for the sugar beet test.

It will be remembered that an application was sent to the Department of Agriculture in Toronto, that a test be made here, and 58 applications for seed were put in by Mr. Collins, although only fifty were called for. It was doubtful whether our application for seed would be entertained by the Department, as there were almost no requests from twelve different places, and only half that number could be supplied.

It is satisfactory to know that this work has been gained. If our soil is found to be adapted for the growth of sugar beets, the next step will be the establishment of a factory.

A NEW PASTOR.
The First Church of Christ Scientist has secured the services of Mr. R. J. Todd as first pastor. Mr. Todd comes highly recommended, being a member of the Toronto Christ Scientist Association, as well as a member of the First Church of Christ Scientist, Boston, and having established and led the cause of Christian Science in the City of Ottawa for many years. Mr. Todd is in town and will enter upon his duties to-morrow morning at 11 a.m., at 41-43 George street. Experience meeting Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

THE CEREAL COMPANY.
The Company are using the vacant room in the rear of the Canada Life Assurance Company's building, until permanent offices are secured. The stupendous operations which the Company have in view are hard to realize, as within a couple of years the output will be 2,000 barrels a day. There will be 1,000 barrels of oatmeal, 500 of peas and 100 of barley. Besides this the erection of a flour mill of a capacity of 1,000 barrels a day is contemplated.

WITH THE SOLDIERS IN SOUTH AFRICA

Interesting Experiences Related by One of the Strathconas.

SOME LAUGHABLE INCIDENTS.

Mr. Trull, of Lakefield, Tells the News of His Adventures on the Veldt Other Interesting Tales.

Mr. Trull, who was one of the members of Strathcona's Horse in South Africa has kindly given us an account of the experiences of his regiment in that country, of which the following is a brief epitome:

The sea voyage to Capetown was greatly enjoyed by the men, but there was great mortality among the horses, 183 dying from various causes during the long journey. It will be interesting news to the Red Cross Society to be informed that the men on their voyage to Capetown were obliged on account of the indifferent fare provided for them by the steamship authorities to purchase delicacies from the captain's steward. It was discovered afterwards that the comforts for which they had paid had been grossly inflated by their being taken by the Red Cross Society. On arriving at Capetown three months were quarantined for his weeks on account of an outbreak of glanders. From Capetown the regiment re-embarked for Durban and seems to have had a lively time of it marching from point to point. In all the Strathconas marched close on 6,000 miles, traversing in their journey, Natal, the Transvaal and Orange River Colony, and skirting Zululand and Basutoland.

Mr. Trull gives a vivid account of the hardships to which the men were continually subjected. The want of good water was greatly felt, thick soupy mud being the usual liquid available. Want of proper washing facilities was also another noxious feature, laundry work being accomplished under difficulties, the men either remaining in the water till their clothes dried in the sun or sitting on the banks at the cost of a blistered epidermis.

Still another nuisance was the want of proper camp outfits, and most of the time the Strathconas were in the field which in chilly weather was anything but comfortable. Mr. Trull, however, speaks most cheerfully of his experiences and looks on the bright side of things. The Strathconas it will be remembered were under General Buller's command, and he speaks most highly of that general, saying that he had by long odds the hardest job to tackle of any of the South African generals. He tells also several laughable incidents which occurred during the war.

On one occasion one of the officers in the Strathconas advanced guard sent one of his men in to General Buller to inform him that the Boers were in force and getting their gun in position to shell the column. This man rode up to General Buller who was in the midst of his staff, and said "Say, is there a bloke called Buller anywhere around here?" "I believe I'm that gentleman!" replied Buller. "Well," said the man, "if you fellows don't hurry up and do something there's going to be the devil to pay around here."

On another occasion, an officer commanding an English regiment bivouacked his men for the night next to the Strathconas. On inquiring what the regiment's name was and on being informed that it was the Strathconas, the officer's dignity was outraged. He gave orders for his men to fall in again and marched them off to a further point saying that it was altogether too much of a good thing to be camped next door to such a lot of thieves and devils. This was an unconscious tribute to the prowess which the Strathconas had exhibited in corralling chickens, spearing pigs and shooting cattle to ease their scanty rations. Who could blame them when many a time their food for the day consisted of two hard tack biscuits apiece? The Strathconas seem to have had more than an ordinary share of the hardships of campaigning. On one occasion, when they had crossed the Caledon River, they had to subsist for five days on what they could pick up, as the transports were unable to cross owing to the swollen state of the river. Mr. Trull very modestly says that they wanted for nothing during that period and lived well. So it may safely be presumed that some body's barnyard suffered.

Another tale Mr. Trull tells is that of a Tommy Atkins pursuing a Boer. Tommy was rapidly catching up to the Boer, when the latter shouted out "Don't kill me, I'm a field cornet!" "I don't care if you're a whole brass band!" replied Tommy. "If I get my bayonet into you, you'll be a blooming angel!" Mr. Trull doesn't state if Tommy Atkins helped the Boer to a higher sphere. In the matter of active warfare, the Strathconas seem to have had a heavy experience. Of 75 days with Gen. Buller they were in engagements for not less than 75 and in chasing Dewet under Gen. Kock, they were out five weeks, being in touch with the Boer rear-guard the whole time. The Strathconas also had a glimpse of Boer partying, one of their number being shot near Standerton by a man carrying a white flag. Altogether Mr. Trull's account of the doings of the Strathconas is most interesting. Like most soldiers, however, he is altogether averse to extolling the deeds of his own regiment, looking upon what ever they were able to perform as the natural outcome of the duties entailed upon them.

WILL PATTERSON IS FOUND GUILTY

Of Treating a Dead Human Body With the Utmost Indignity.

HE WILL IN ALL PROBABILITY BE FINED FOR IT.

Although a Criminal Offence by Punishment Is Usually a Fine—Judge Weller Has Reserved Judgment.

The trial of Mr. Will Patterson took place yesterday, before Judge Weller, in the Court House. At a preliminary hearing before Police Magistrate Dumble, Patterson was committed for trial and the prisoner elected to be tried before a Judge Weller. The case accordingly came up for hearing yesterday. Amongst those present was Mr. Dennis Sheehan, husband of the woman whose body was molested, as well as deceased's three daughters. Patterson and his solicitor, Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, arrived in good time, and awaited the arrival of His Honour Judge Weller. County Crown Attorney Wood and Mr. F. McWilliams looked after the interests of the Crown. Mr. D. O'Connell watched Mr. Sheehan's interests. The trunk in which the body of Mrs. Sheehan was taken to Belleville, was also in evidence.

The charge was "That the said William J. Patterson on or about the 20th day of February, one thousand nine hundred and one, in the cemetery or graveyard belonging to the Roman Catholic Church of the Roman Catholic Episcopate of Peterborough, unlawfully and wilfully did break and enter, and disturb the grave there in which the body of one Margaret Sheehan, deceased, had lately before there been interred, and there also unlawfully, wilfully and indecently did open, and the body of her, the said Margaret Sheehan, out of the grave aforesaid, unlawfully, wilfully and indecently did then take and carry away. And also that the said W. J. Patterson on or about the 20th day of February aforesaid, unlawfully and indecently did interfere with the dead human body of the said Margaret Sheehan deceased."

The first witness was Mr. Dennis Sheehan, the husband of the late Margaret Sheehan. He said that he was a labourer, living on Alfred street in the town of Peterborough. His wife died on the 16th day of February, and the remains were placed in a grave in the Roman Catholic Cemetery. On the morning of the 21st of February he was notified that his wife's body was in Mr. Bellegem's undertaking establishment, and on going up to that place he saw this to be true. He had given no authority to anyone to remove the body from the grave.

Frank Brown, caretaker of the Roman Catholic burying ground, described the burying of Mrs. Sheehan's body on February 18th. The next time he was at the grave was on Wednesday, and he went to Mrs. Sheehan's grave for the planks which are used in connection with lowering the coffin, and saw nothing wrong. On the 21st he visited the grave with Mr. Marks, a son-in-law of Mr. Sheehan, and noticed that the grave had been tampered with. The screws of the coffin and been taken out.

Just here the Crown Attorney sprung a little sensation by producing a coffin screw and asking witness if the screws in the coffin did look like the one he held in his hand, and which Mr. Wood had just been handed by Chief Rosell.

Mr. Dennistoun contended that there was no evidence to show that any of the screws had been taken. It was leading the witness.

Mr. D. Bellegem, who took charge of the body when brought back to Peterborough, gave evidence on the same lines as that which he gave before Police Magistrate Dumble.

Mr. Martin McFadden, the undertaker who had charge of the funeral arrangements of deceased, told of having superintended the interment of the same. He identified the coffin screw produced in court as identically the same as the ones which were used in Mrs. Sheehan's coffin.

To Mr. Dennistoun he said that they had different patterns of screws. He had never thought of the coffin screw sensation till to-day. He had seen nothing in the papers about the coffin screw being found. He was certain that the coffin screw produced was of the same pattern as the ones placed in the lid of the coffin.

Mr. John Newton, Chief of Police, Belleville, testified to arresting Patterson.

Mr. Alex. Reid, the expressman, told the same story as has already been published, concerning the bringing of the trunk from Mr. Shortly's store to the prisoner's house, and thence to the G. T. R. station on the morning of the 20th of February.

Mr. Geo. Clarke, said that the body of Mrs. Sheehan was put in the trunk quite easily. There was no forcing it. From the careful way in which the body was handled it did not strike him that a murder had been committed. Chief Rosell related what he knew of the case, which is already known.

THE DEFENCE.
Allen Bennet was the first witness for the defence. His home is in Ashburnham, and he has been studying medicine in Kingston. He knows Patterson, who has just completed his third year at the University. Patterson and he took meals at the same house in Kingston. He remembered Patterson's arrest and it naturally aroused his attention. The last he saw of Patterson previous to his arrest, was at dinner time on the 19th of February. He could not have reached Peterborough before 8 o'clock on Tuesday night the 19th.

To Mr. Wood, Mr. Bennet said, that Patterson never said anything to him about going to Peterborough. He has never heard Patterson talk of how he came into possession of the body. Prisoner told nothing whatever of what took place on Tuesday night.

Mr. Walter Peters proved from his weather records that there was a light snowfall (about half an inch) on the afternoon of February 19th, between 2 and 6 o'clock p.m., which was the only one that fell for some days previous or several days afterwards.

This closed the case for the defence, and Mr. Dennistoun proceeded to address the court. He first went on to show that the grave, according to the evidence of Mr. Brown, the caretaker of the cemetery, and the evidence of Mr. Peters, as to the fall of snow, must have been robbed on Monday night or at least before Tuesday evening, and up until Tuesday at 3 o'clock, Patterson, according to the evidence of Bennet, was in Kingston. This then, prisoner's counsel contended, disposed of the first charge. As to the second and third charge, Mr. Dennistoun contended that there was nothing whatever to show that the prisoner had offered an indignity to the body or was unlawfully handling the same. There were no marks on the body which would indicate that there had been any violence used. He went on to show that dead bodies were necessary at medical colleges. As to the manner of taking the body to Kingston, he held that it could in no way be construed into an act of indignity. He did the matter openly, and not in a manner of a man who had committed a criminal offence. He felt that there was nothing criminal in having the body in his possession, and the possession of a body is evidence of no offence whatever known to our law. As to the first charge there was no evidence at all to substantiate it, and regarding the second and third charges he asked His Honour to find that the placing of the body in the trunk in the manner it was, was not an indignity, and that it was not therefore improperly interfered with.

Mr. Wood reviewed the evidence of the Crown very carefully and quoted many articles of law to prove the charges specified in the indictment. He touched on the matter of the screw which was found in the back as being strong evidence against the prisoner. His Honour, Judge Weller, in summing up the evidence, held that the fact that a person had a dead body in his possession, unless accounted for, is evidence that he took that body from the grave. The first charge therefore was disposed of in this way.

Regarding the second and third charges the facts appeared to be that the body was taken from the premises of the prisoner's father-in-law, by the prisoner, that they were forced into a trunk and carried away. Prisoner's counsel had said that a trunk was a better looking article in which to convey a corpse to a medical school than a rough box such as Mr. Bellegem uses, but it must be remembered that in one case the act is lawfully committed and in the other it is not. A young man knew that he was not doing what was entirely proper. It was wrong and contrary to law unless under very particular circumstances, and he would not like to have a witness such as the prisoner could be carried on inside the county. It was impossible to find anything else than that the prisoner was guilty of the 2nd and 3rd charges.

Mr. Wood asked that the sentence of the court be pronounced, but Mr. Dennistoun arose and made a strong plea for mercy for his client. He reminded the court that perhaps never before in the Canadian courts had a like case been tried, and much valuable information had been brought out. He himself had great difficulty in looking up the law regarding such an offence, and it is a wonder that a medical student should be ignorant of the law. Mr. Dennistoun continuing, spoke of the prisoner having grown up in the town, he was known as a keen, clever, and in fact, brilliant student. He had committed the act unthinkingly, and had nothing whatever to do with robbing the grave. He was told that there would be a corpse at his home at a certain time. He came and got it, without knowing whose it was, and took it away. In view of this fact, would it not be well to temper justice with mercy and not blight a young life forever? How could he hold a place in society if his name could be held up as having served a term in jail? Alas! him to go on suspended sentence on his own bail that if he ever should make a slip again he could be brought up for sentence.

Mr. Wood pointed out the fact that a fine could be imposed if the court saw fit, but his Honour reserved judgment until Monday. The case continues.

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Saluda copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of encumbrances the following claims: The Saluda Extension, the Saluda Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Saluda mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Saluda, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Saluda. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just south of Saluda at Chocoma station, on the main trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

BRIDE JUMPS INTO A WELL

Mrs. Fanny Conroy, Married Last Thursday, killed herself at English, Ind.

English, Ind., April 19.—Mrs. Fanny Conroy, wedded last Thursday, committed suicide this afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock by drowning in a well. The well is twenty-two feet deep, and contains nearly nine feet of water. With my whole soul, but life is not what I expected. My body shall be in the old well when you read this. The body was found by the distracted husband, who was guided by a note saying: "Good-bye, Frank, I love you."

GIBRALTAR IS TO BE SAFE

British Comm. on Works Construction Work Protected

London, April 19.—The Daily Mail publishes the following from its Gibraltar correspondent:

"I learn that the report of the special commission appointed to inquire into the contention of Thomas Gibson Bowles in the House of Commons that the harbor works under construction here would be in danger of attack from the Spanish mainland will substantially justify his position and will recommend the construction of a sheltered dock on the Mediterranean side of the rock."

Help for the Suffering and Crippled.

Paine's Celery Compound

A Positive Cure For Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

The Unsolicited Testimony of a Prominent Nova Scotia Gentleman.

NO OTHER REMEDY SO GENERALLY PRESCRIBED BY EMINENT PRACTITIONERS AS

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Heaven help the thousands of victims crippled and suffering from rheumatism or tormented by the terrible agonies of neuralgia to lay hold of Paine's Celery Compound, the only remedy that can bring relief and speedy cure.

To those who long for release from the diseases mentioned above, we can give the strong and honest assurance that Paine's Celery Compound has made complete and permanent cures in ninety-five per cent. of the cases of rheumatism and neuralgia where it has been used.

Mr. R. G. Irwin, Registrar of Probate and Registrar of Deeds, Shelburne, N. S., writes as follows:

"Having been largely benefited by the use of Paine's Celery Compound, I gladly and voluntarily add my testimony to its value.

"During six months of the year, 1897, I was disabled and crippled with rheumatism in my right leg, hip and shoulder. Getting up and down stairs was a very painful and tiring exercise, and for months I could do but little better than drag my leg. Paine's Celery Compound was recommended to me, and I used six bottles, and am now clear of the pain. I firmly believe that the above mentioned medicine cured me of rheumatism."

AFTER 15 YEARS.

Excess Cured After Many Years of Terrible Torture

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—At the request of the makers I gladly write a line to tell what Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills did for me. For over 15 years I was a sufferer from eczema and although treated by the best doctors in the country, I got no relief. After taking 9 boxes of the pills, I am, thank God, entirely well. They cured me when every known remedy failed. Jas. Britain, G. T. R., Bradford.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills a Wonderful Remedy

Sir,—It is because I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid that I ask you to publish some facts regarding Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills. I was for many years a sufferer from indigestion and stomach troubles. I could not digest my food, I was constipated, and it was only by injections that I could get relief. Physicians did me no good. I was reduced to a skeleton and could hardly walk. As a first resort I tried a box of these pills, and the improvement was so marked that I continued taking them. I have now taken twelve boxes, never remember being so well in my life. I have gained 22 pounds, and am putting on more flesh daily. I am a living, walking advertisement, and consider no trouble to great in order to spread the fame of Dr. Clarke's Pills. A. F. Jones, Lockport, N.Y., Peterborough, Ont.

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62064, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet. This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock of radiators.

Among the civilians Dr. Sir William MacCormac, who volunteered for service in South Africa, is made a Knight Commander of the Order of the Bath. Among those made Knights Grand Cross are the Order of St. Michael and St. George are General O'Leary and Rundle. Ninety-five officers are appointed Companions of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, and 286 are appointed Companions of the Distinguished Service Order. Among them is Driscoll, of the Scouts. Major-General Lord Kitchener is promoted to a major-general. His commission is ante-dated to December 27, 1899, the date on which he proceeded to South Africa. General Kelly-Henny, Hunter and Lytton are promoted to be lieutenant-generals. Gen. French is promoted to a major-general, his commission being ante-dated to September 23, 1899. Gen. Pole Carew is also made lieutenant-general, his commission being dated November 27, 1899. General Ian Hamilton, Charles Knox, Smith-Dorrien, F. W. Kitchener, the Earl of Dundonald, A. H. Paget and B. M. Hamilton, are made major-generals. Col. Robert G. Broadwood and Lieut.-Colonel Herbert Plumer and Thomas Pilcher are among those created extra-de-camps to King Edward. One hundred and seventy-five officers are given a step to brevet rank. Among them Lord Edward Cecil, son of the Prime Minister. It is noticed that Prince Christian Victor would have received distinguished service order had he survived. Among the ordinary members of the military division of the third class of the Companions of the Bath are Col. C. W. Drury, of the

THE FICKLE APRIL GIVES A SURPRISE

A Snowstorm Which is Uninvited and Quite Unexpected.

QUITE A HEAVY FALL OF SNOW

Not Little to the South Are Much Worse Off Than Peterborough—The Cause of The Storm.

Saturday's snowstorm came as a surprise. Peterborough had put on her spring garb and looked for nothing to remind her of the cold season that is past. To wake up amid the falling snowflakes was something undreamed of in her philosophy. Although the weather has been so mild and warm for the previous week it must not be taken for granted that the month of April has always been one of salubrious temperature. Many, many Aprils have given us a taste of winter, and it is on record that even the bluish-month of June has presented us with a few frigid moments. The weather man when seen this morning was not in a position to give complete details of the snow flurry. All the wires were down, and the gentleman who makes up the returns had to sit idle at his desk waiting for the fatal "tick-tick" at the telegraph instrument which would convey the intelligence that he had to start work. The cause of the present storm, is of a most simple explanation. Several days ago we had very cold temperatures in the Northwest. In some of the recording offices there it went below zero. After agitating the thermometer in that western country the weather decided to take a trip east and accordingly started off. But instead of congealing up all the country it met with a halfwave of air fresh from the Mexican gulf. These two air currents were bent on different missions. One brought with it a warm and congenial atmosphere and was destined to open up the buds and give us an early spring. This was the good angel. But the darker spirit conquered. From the northwest came the cold wave, and the two meeting caused a precipitation of snow and sleet that had caused many Torontoans to mourn. It started to snow here about 5 o'clock this morning, and since that time about 4 inches of sleet have been recorded at the Observatory. To the east of us, however, the people are more fortunate, for the storm centre is located along the Atlantic coast, and if the telegraph wires were only in a position to tell the tale they would inform us that the Maritime Provinces are buried in sleet. April is not an unusual month for a fall of snow. In 1864 there was a fall of 2 inches, and in 1864 seven inches of snow was recorded in one day. In 1877 one day's storm brought 4 inches, and in 1876 there was only one inch less. On April 14, 1874 two inches fell, and in 1860 three and a half inches of snow melted the landscape. The year 1885 capped the record, with eight and a half inches of snow, which fell on April 16, but following year, on April 8, was a close second with seven inches. The year 1894, on April 12, showed a storm of similar depth. Other years were 1892, April 14, 6 inches; April 6, 1893, 6 inches; April 7, 1890 4 inches. But May, too, has seen wintry weather, for the observatory records show as follows: May 8, 1855, sixteen inches of an inch; May 30, 1856, snow flurries; May 10, 1857, half an inch; May 7, 1875, three inches. Then June has not been without its troubles. In 1859 there were snow flurries, and early vegetables were all destroyed by frost. How long the snow is so late, the Observatory man does not know. He will be able to tell when the wires get working. THE STORM IN LOCKPORT. Lockport, N.Y., April 20.—There has been a steady fall of snow since yesterday morning. About twelve inches now cover the ground throughout Niagara County. Fruit trees have been injured by breaking limbs. Street car traffic in this place has been delayed. SNOW IN BUFFALO. Buffalo, N.Y., April 20.—Between 7 and 8 inches of snow have fallen in downtown business section of this city since yesterday morning, and from ten to fourteen inches in the outlying districts, including the Pan-American ground, where it has caused the abandonment of out-of-door work.

TORONTO POLICE CHASE SUSPECTS

They Drop Their Bundles and Run With Police in Hot Pursuit

TWO OF THEM MANAGE TO ESCAPE

Charles Deas, a Colored Youth is Caught and Charged With Burglary and Robbery.

Toronto April 20. At half-past four o'clock this morning as Police Constables Mathias and Dawson were walking up Yonge street near Grenville street, they saw three young men, two of whom were negroes, rush across the road from Alexander to Grosvenor streets, bearing bundles on their backs. The situation was too suspicious for the officers to ignore, and they started in pursuit. By the time they reached a point where they could look along Grosvenor street only one of the fugitives was in view. Mathias chased him, but the fleeing individual had too much of a start and made good his escape. The other two had turned southward into a lane, but their tracks were visible, and Dawson followed in. One escaped, but he captured a colored youth named Charles Deas. The bundles, which had been dropped on Grosvenor street, were found to contain several pots of marmalade, books and a large assortment of household odds and ends. Quite evidently a burglary had been committed. Deas was arraigned before Police Magistrate Denison today, and remanded until Wednesday. HIS WELCOME HOME. Three years ago Alexander Wallace, a man with a very bad record, left Toronto under the shadow of a charge that he had assaulted and robbed one F. C. Henderson. In the interval, it was stated on authority, of more or less weight, he had been working on an American war ship in Western Pacific waters. Returning to Toronto recently, he is now charged with having, on March 17, robbed John Meanie of $80, a gold watch and chain. Wallace has the reputation of a footpad. He was captured last night by Detective Cuddy, and today the magistrate remanded him until Friday. CHRISTOPHER McHENRY, son of a Queen street hotelkeeper, was fined $20 and costs 50 cents for committing an aggravated assault on High McLean. DAVID CURRIS did not deny that he had tried to do the Grand Trunk out of a ride. He was given a fine of $1 and costs of ten days. John Cairns, an old deceitful man, admitted vagrancy so as to get thirty days shelter. John J. Scott, accused of assaulting his wife, was remanded until Monday.

ANDREW CARNEGIE'S GIFTS SHOULD ALL BE INDIGNANTLY SPURNED

How The Royal Family Has Been Insulted by The Man of Many Millions.

THE DEAD QUEEN NOT FREE FROM ATTACK.

Canadians Should Resent His Insults to The Nation by Refusing His Gifts of Money for Libraries.

Mr. William Robins, of Walkerville, writes the Times in regard to the gifts of Andrew Carnegie to Canadian cities. Mr. Robins says: The self-respecting individual is very careful about accepting presents. I know no reason why communities should be any less particular; and I venture to ask whether self-respecting Canada should take money from Mr. Carnegie. It is very natural that offers of free libraries, etc., should at first sight appear praiseworthy in every way; and the fact that Mr. Carnegie was born under the British flag, though now an American citizen, seems a sufficient explanation of his proposed contributions to Canadian objects. I submit, however, that we cannot accept his benefactions without forfeiting all claims to independence of character and proper self-esteem, for reasons which I will proceed to give. There are certain things which we Canadians, in common with all true British subjects, hold dear, and of which we feel we may be justly proud. They are our own fair Country; the splendid Empire to which we belong; our form of Government, a constitutional Monarchy under which we enjoy a freedom unsurpassed since the world began; the Navy and Army, whose glorious achievements no words could overstate. Upon all these Mr. Carnegie has aired his opinions in print, so it is easy to ascertain what they are. As the day is approaching when Englishmen all the world over gather to do honor to their Motherland, (always heartily joined by their fellow-subjects of every race); and soon follows the anniversary upon which for more than sixty years Britain's sons and daughters have voiced their devotion to our late deeply lamented Queen; it has occurred to me that the facts might be most forcibly presented by compiling a "toast-list" appropriate to such occasions, substituting for the usual quotations from the great poets and authors extracts from the writings of Mr. Carnegie. If these examples of that gentleman's sentiments do not cause his proffered gifts to be declined, without thanks, by all Canadians I am greatly mistaken in the people of my adopted country. TOAST—OUR CHARLES KING. "Of course men can kiss the hand of the Queen, but how will it be when the Prince of Wales holds out his hand, and Messrs. Chamberlain and Morley, Collins and Broadhurst, Trevelyan and Fowler, and others, are required to kiss THAT? I am not sure but that even those Radicals may find it to strain upon their manhood to incur this degradation, but the first man who finds it so ought to feel well either while when the hand is extended, at the suggestion that he could so demean himself, and give it a good hearty shake, or knock his Royal Highness down." (1) —From Andrew Carnegie's Triumphant Democracy. TOAST—To the Memory of Our Late Beloved Queen. "The Royal mother of her people cannot be induced to support her own children during life, or even to bury them decently at death, as long as the public can be further bled." (2) "Even the Queen, a woman, who should shoulder at war and not publicly parade her interest in slaughter, would publicly congratulate him." (3) "If any man believe that Queen Victoria, or the Prince of Wales, could receive more welcome news than that of the downfall of the Republic (meaning the United States) 'his estimate of human nature differs from mine.' (4) —From Andrew Carnegie's Triumphant Democracy. TOAST—The Royal Family. "These royal people are only excrencences upon the State, the settlers of bad example, and the very core round which the worst vices of English life gather and fester." (5) —From Andrew Carnegie's Triumphant Democracy. TOAST—The Motherland. "The man born abroad, like myself, under institutions which insult him at his birth." (6) "The insult inflicted upon me by my native land, I am made the peer of any man, although denied political equality by my native land, I dedicate this book, with an intensity of gratitude and admiration which the native-born citizen cannot feel nor understand." (7) —From Andrew Carnegie's Triumphant Democracy. TOAST—The Dominion of Canada. "Canada's hypocritical and ungrateful conduct merits only contempt." (8) "Canada, subject and dependent, contrasts unfavorably with the Republic in every way." (10) "But why talk of Canada, or of any mere colony? What book, what invention, what statue or picture, what anything, has a colony ever produced, or what man has grown up in any colony who has become known beyond his own local district? NONE. Nor can a colony ever give to mankind anything of value beyond wood, corn and beef." (11) —From Andrew Carnegie's Triumphant Democracy. TOAST—The Army and Navy. (Referring to England's interference to preserve order in Egypt.) "The Government sent a large force to Egypt and began an aggressive campaign to prevent the people of Egypt from having such rulers as they desired." (12) "It (the Sudan campaign) was a crime." (13) "How was it with Admiral Seymour, the servant of a Monarchy? Let him refrain from bombarding, from behind his iron walls, the few miserable defences in Alexandria, and never in his history, perhaps would such an opportunity occur again to rescue his name from obscurity. Admiral Seymour might say thus reasonably: 'Negotiate this trouble peacefully, I remain poor and obscure. There is no danger; I am perfectly safe behind these iron walls; just open my guns, and fame and honour and rank and wealth are mine.' " "Fellow-countrymen, what would you think of a judge upon the bench deciding his own cause, where a verdict for the defendant meant to the plaintiff meant a pecuniary and twenty-five thousand pounds? Yet this was precisely the position of Admiral Seymour at Alexandria, and it is practically the position occupied by every British commander who is committed the issue of peace or war in the exercise of his discretion." (15) —From Andrew Carnegie's Triumphant Democracy. (Referring to the South African war.) "She (England) stands condemned before the civilized world. Her conduct is indefensible." (16) —From Article by Andrew Carnegie in The North American Review. Notes. 1 The vulgarity and uncharitableness here displayed are probably a key to Mr. Carnegie's character. 2 If her Majesty's sex universally recognized virtues were not thought by Mr. Carnegie a sufficient protection against so grave an accusation, he might at least have had the honesty to remember that

JANITORS LEAGUE FORMED.

New York. April 20.—The janitors of New York have taken formal action making a profession or trade of their occupation. They have formed a Janitors League. One purpose of this organization is educational—not among themselves so much as among their patrons. They want to remove from the minds of tenants the errors of the cartoonist and the comic papers have planted—the impression that the janitor is a fierce beast of prey that makes life in an apartment unbearable.

SPECIALS WATCH ON HOTELS.

Hamilton. April 20.—At the meeting of the Board of License Commissioners last Friday, representatives of the Royal Templars stated that on Saturday night they had placed eleven of the hotels under surveillance. Only two of these were quiet. A peculiarity of the others was that many men entered, while very few came out. The board promised rigid inspections. As the poet puts it, Winter loads around to give Spring a crack in the jaw.

Prominent Official Says the City Would not Permit Improvements. Montreal, April 20.—In reply to Mr. Bickerdike's statement that the Grand Trunk would have secured better results if they had spent money in Montreal terminals instead of Portland, a prominent railway official stated yesterday that two years ago the railway spent $400,000 in Montreal, without asking the permission of the city, but when they wanted to spend another $200,000 they were stopped by the city, thus rendering the first expenditure valueless.

LOST IN THE FAR AND LONELY NORTHLAND

Experiences of Charles Bunn, Who Became Separated from an Exploration Party.

EIGHT DAYS WANDERING WITH BROKEN ANKLE.

Deserted by a Halfbred Guide He Subsisted on Moss and Aralia Grass And Was Eventually Saved.

Edmonton, April 20.—Charles Bunn, who left here with the Chatfield exploration party in 1898, returned last week. At year of his age he joined the Bell Company. One day when the party was far in the north on the great barren lands, he was out with a half-breed and did not come back to camp with him. The Bell party searched for him unsuccessfully for some time, and then were forced to leave, believing that Bunn had been lost and was dead. Bunn's story is of unusual hardship. He was deserted by the half-breed because he had dislocated his ankle and in this condition he struggled for eight days without compass to guide him and with the weather such that he could take no bearings from landmarks or stars. Through all he retained and faithfully protected the Government party's entire records of the trip, which had been entrusted to his care. "I had something to eat—Arctic grass and moss, but it was wasn't good eating. As for game, it was all around me. I could but the antelope with stones, but couldn't kill them. If I had just had a few cartridges for the rifle I carried, I would have been happy." Of his wanderings he said:—"When I got to the Indian traps I had hardly any clothes on. I had kept tearing off and tearing off for wrappings for my feet; both feet were gone to the knees, and half my body to protect my feet, clambering over the rocks." He then fell in with the Yellowknives Indians, who gave him food and clothes. Fifteen days after he was lost he returned to camp to find that the party had left. He came from there by easy stages to Edmonton. Mr. Bunn learned in his explorations that the Great Bear Lake is the second largest, perhaps the largest, body of water on the continent. Bunn intends to return to the Arctic circle.

BRITISH CAPTURE EIGHTY-ONE BOERS

Two Missionaries Have Been Brutally Murdered by Fly River Natives

London, April 22. The war office received a despatch from Lord Kitchener reporting that since April 18th various British commandos have taken eighty-one prisoners together with 100,000 rounds of small ammunition and many horses, cattle and wagons. Lord Kitchener reports also the surrender of twenty Boers since that date. Sydney, N. S. April 21. Advice received here from New Guinea says that the natives of Fly River recently murdered Rev. James Chalmers and Rev. Oliver Tomkins.

RESULTS OF BANK AMALGAMATION

The Canadian Bank of Commerce Completes the Purchase of the Assets of the Bank of British Columbia.

The Banks Capital Now Eight Million Dollars and Assets Over Sixty-three Millions.

The negotiations for the purchase of the assets of the Bank of British Columbia by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, an announcement respecting which was made some months ago, have been carried to a successful conclusion. A thorough examination of the affairs of the Bank of British Columbia was made by the officials of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and this proved the desirability of the amalgamation was finally completed. A statement of the affairs of the Canadian Bank of Commerce after the amalgamation, has now been issued, and discloses a very strong position. In point of capital and reserve the bank now ranks fourth among banking institutions on the continent of America. It has 62 branches throughout Canada; five branches in the United States, namely, at New York, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland (Oregon), Skagway (Alaska), and one in London, England; 66 establishments in all. The acquisition of the London office is an important step in the progress of the bank. The bank's transactions in sterling exchange in the United States and Canada each year amount to many millions of pounds, and the ability to handle this business through the bank's own London office will result in an important addition to the earning power of the bank. In many other directions also the interests of the two banks will be immensely benefited by the amalgamation.

The following is a condensation of the statement issued by the bank at the close of business on the 31st of March:

ANARCHISTS PRAISE POACHERS

Brussels, April 20.—The congress of Anarchists which met recently numbered over a hundred delegates, proving the existence of numerous groups of Anarchists in Central Belgium. Among the revolutionary press representatives were the Internationalist, the Vrye Socialist, of Amsterdam, and the Liberaire, of Paris. The names of the orators were written in soap on the mirrors of the hall. Some of the speakers insisted on the necessity of war against alcoholism and the development of the project of creating communal farms in the Belgian district of Hesbaye, a very fertile part of the province of Liege. A vote of thanks was passed congratulating the Flemish on their excellence in the gentle art of poaching. A league is to be founded to assist in the removal of Anarchists who are worried by their landlords in the district of Chetierol, where there is a great anti-Socialist propaganda.

AFTER 15 YEARS.

Witnesses Cured After Many Years of Terrible Torture

Editor Morning Times.
Sir,—At the request of the makers I gladly write a line to tell what Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills did for me. For over 15 years I was a sufferer from eczema and although treated by the best doctors in the country, I got no relief. After taking 9 boxes of the pills, I am, thank God, entirely well. They cured me when every known remedy failed. Jas. Britain, G. T.B., Brantford.

THEIR FAME SPREADS

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills a Wonderful Remedy

Sir,—It is because I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid that I ask you to publish some facts regarding Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills. I was for many years a sufferer from indigestion and stomach troubles. I could not digest my food, I was nervous, and it was only by injections that I could get relief. Physicians did me no good. I was reduced to a skeleton and could hardly walk. As a first resort I tried a box of these pills, and the improvement was so marked that I continued taking them. I have now taken twelve boxes, never remembering being so well in my life. I have gained 22 pounds, and am putting on more flesh daily. I am a living, walking advertisement, and consider no trouble too great in order to spread the fame of Dr. Clarke's Pills. A. P. Jones, Lockport, N.Y. Peterborough, Ont.

SOLICITORS,

WM. MORTIMER CLARK & GRAY

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators

having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents

Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62064, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet.

This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The workings of these radiators side by side with the ordinary may be seen at any time at the Company's office, in either steam or water, and you are invited to examine them here, whether you desire to take stock in the Company or not.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock of radiators.

THE RADIATOR COMPANY.

The Splendid Radiator Made By the Canadian Radiator Co., Port Hope.

A visit to the foundry and works of the Canadian Radiator Co., at Port Hope, will effectively set at rest any doubt that might exist as to their ability to make radiators to compete with anything in the Dominion.

They have one of the finest equipped foundries on the continent, and have secured from the largest Radiator concern in the United States a complete plant combining all the latest methods employed in the making of radiators, which is now being set in position, and in a few weeks they will be in full running order with facilities for 100 men.

The officers of the company are highly pleased at the way orders are coming in. They have already imported six car-loads of castings to fill orders until their foundry is in working order. They fully anticipate that the entire facilities will be taxed to the utmost. In the meantime they are in a position to fill orders immediately on receipt of same.

They have the only Radiator on the market having positive circulation, and the public are being rapidly convinced of its superiority over the other makes of Radiators.

PRICE OF TIMBER.

Bobcaygeon Independent.—There is a decided difference in the price of pine logs to-day, and any thirty years ago. Mr. Chas. Austin delivered eleven pine logs on the river bank this winter and was paid by the Rathbun Co. $49.40 for the lot. It was about eleven dollars a thousand. Thirty-five years ago Mr. Stevenson thumbed on what is now Mr. J. L. Read's farm, and drew the logs with a yoke of oxen on a truck he made himself, with solid wooden wheels. He delivered those logs, five large clear cork pine at the old mill on the canal, at 60 cents a standard, or $2.40 a thousand.

MANY CONVERTS TO FAITH HEALING

Members of English Aristocracy Christian Scientists.

GETS CLOSE TO THE THRONE.

London, April 21.—Christian Science, like the majority of American importations, is winning its way in Great Britain in the face of fierce local hostility. Its adherents number lords and ladies, and a multitude of commoners, including several dignitaries close to the throne.

Within four years from the time that Mrs. Eddy's disciples began to hold organized meetings the London cult has increased in popularity until the commodious church in the fashionable precincts of Hyde Park is now found to be too small to accommodate the proselytes from Anglicanism and the nonconformist faiths of the Kingdom.

Radiating from the flourishing mother church of the metropolis, vigorous branches have been established at such points as Edinburgh, Dublin, Manchester, Cambridge and Leamington.

In communities where no organized congregations exist Mrs. Eddy's missionaries labor, through the medium of meetings at private houses and public lectures in town halls. Her lieutenants predict that another decade will witness in England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales such a landslide to Christian Science as that to which the depleted rolls of established churches in the United States have borne witness in recent years.

The Earl of Dunmore and the Earl of Tankerville are aristocratic pillars of the Eddy church. Mrs. Henry Montague Butler, wife of the master of Trinity College, Cambridge, is another distinguished patroness. She and Mrs. Charles Smith, the wife of the head master of the Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge, are waging an active propaganda among the cultured population of the university. Mrs. Eddy's English believers entertain mild hopes of interesting Royalty in Christian Science. They assert that Queen Victoria was a regular reader of Science and Health, and that one of her maids in waiting was a Scientist. One of the maids in waiting to the present Queen is also a recruit.

Mr. Miller, a prominent adherent of the new faith in London, said last night that practicing healers are at work all over the United Kingdom, and their success in a number of notable instances has done much to stop the howl which large sections of the press are ever ready to indulge in. Under instructions from Mrs. Eddy, one of her loyal students came to London in 1890 to reveal her discovery.

This student remained here about a year, effecting some excellent healing. Mr. Miller continued: "In 1891 meetings began to be held regularly in private residences, and in 1896 they were transferred to a public hall. (Owing to growing requirements of the church, the church we now occupy in Bryanston street, near Marble Arch, was leased and with a ten months' progress warranted the purchase of the building, which, together with improvements since made, represent an investment of $30,000, all of which has been paid. We are looking for still larger quarters. We are conscious of the great popular interest in our cause, because, while our active London membership does not exceed three hundred, our congregations frequently are five times that number. In the year 1900 Christian Science literature circulated represented a sale of £1,500 ($7,500)."

TIME WAS UP.

It Was Quite Coffee or Tea.

When a woman is brought to the edge of the grave by poisoning from the drinking of ordinary coffee day by day, and then made a well woman by leaving it off, her experience is worth something to others that are poisoned in various ways from the same habit.

Mrs. Jeannette B. Brown, 104 Minor St., New Haven, Conn., says: "Four years ago my life hung on a very slender thread with liver, kidney and heart trouble, and a very severe form of rheumatism. I was confined to bed with hands, wrists, feet and ankles so badly swollen that they bore no resemblance to parts of the human body. I had frequent sinking spells from heart weakness when I was thought to be dying and sometimes thought to be dead. My doctor, one of the Directors of the State Hospital, a very successful man in his profession, told me to stop drinking coffee and use Postum Food Coffee, as he said coffee was the primary cause of my trouble."

I took his advice at once and discontinued medicines. Slowly the swelling left me, the sinking spells became less frequent, and I got out of bed and around the house. I was completely cured but it required some time.

For the past three years I have been perfectly strong, healthy woman, sleep well, with good appetite, good color, active and energetic.

It is a great pleasure to testify to Postum that has made me a well woman again. I have made friends here and in other parts of the State who are using Postum Food Coffee regularly, and I know to their very great benefit."

SHAMROCK II. FLOATS ON OCEAN WAVES

The Challenger For The American Cup Launched Saturday.

CHRISTENED BY LADY DUFFERIN.

Dumbarton, April 20.—Shamrock II. was successfully launched this afternoon at Denny's yards in the presence of a good crowd of invited guests, newspaper men, and employees. Lady Dufferin christened the new challenger. The new boat looked spick and span in its coat of white paint, rimmed with green, while the magnificence shone like a mirror.

Lord and Lady Dufferin, Sir Thomas Lipton and others, who came from Glasgow on a special train, stood upon a raised platform decorated with Union Jacks, the Stars and Stripes, and the Irish flag and with Venetian masts in green and white which were the prevailing colors.

The weather could not have been better. The sun shone brightly and overcoats had been discarded. The employees of the Denny's had a holiday, and in fact all Dumbarton was en fête to see Lady Dufferin break the bottle over the curiously snail-nosed bow of the new boat.

When the yacht is viewed in profile the most striking feature is the extreme fineness of her ends. The overhang fore and aft are drawn out to exceptional length, and the water-line underneath looks deceptively short. Her fin is of the medium length, probably thirty feet at the extreme measurement, and is finished at the bottom with a pronounced rocker. Without doubt, the chief characteristic of the yacht's design is the manner in which her beam is thrown right forward almost into the eyes of the boat. The forward deck lines are carried out full well into the overhang and the drawing in does not start until half way between the mast and the stern. From about the mast it runs off in a long easy curve and goes out into the longest, and finest counter ever seen on a cup challenger, the breadth at the aft rail being only about seven feet.

The deck, with its fine lines forward and exceptionally fine run, has the appearance of having been suggested by towing experiments. In the Shamrock I. the well defined stem was carried from under the bowsprit to the top edge of the fin, but in the new boat the stem stops short before it reaches the water line. Under this the sections of the boat run in perfect semicircles and give this part of the hull the exact shape of the forward end of a soup spoon. Some danger of forming an awkward shoulder might have been expected in drawing the wide deck down to the final lines of the underbody. But the problem appears to have been successfully solved; every line runs true.

The general shape of the bow gives the impression of a boat, which should be able to keep her head well up, no matter how hard pressed. It was in this ability to keep her head up that the Columbia's chief superiority over the first Shamrock lay. To take the first Shamrock as a standard for comparison, it may be said that the principle of making the yacht sail over rather than through the water will be pushed very much further in the present yacht. There is none of the flat sides under the low or big shoulder seen in the Eife boat.

When the yacht is viewed end on, it is seen that Mr. Watson has departed greatly from the midship section adopted by Eife. The new challenger is immeasurably easier than the previous boat in the turn of the bilge and garboards, and easier than even the Columbia. The fin is narrow in the section where it joins the hull, and spreads until it turns in the rounds of the trough in which the lead is carried. The same principle of skimming water is seen in the after end. All the sections are again in the segments of a circle.

The total draught from the waterline to the bottom of the raked curve of the keel is only an inch or two over eighteen feet, or two feet less than that of the previous challenger.

In the measurement at the extreme beam there is little difference, though the point of this measurement falls much further forward in the Eife boat. In the matter of over-all length the advantage lies with the new craft by nearly ten feet.

Summing up, the challenger undoubtedly has the finest lines ever turned out of the Clyde. She undoubtedly has a hull that will be easily driven. Her beam will give her a good deal of stability. But she will probably sail a trifle tender, and will be best suited when club topsails can be carried with dry decks.

Captain Fitzgibbon, who sailed the last challenger, said to the correspondent of the Associated Press: "Everything has been done in the best possible way. I have more confidence than I ever had before."

LAKE AND RIVER RIPLETS.

What is Going On In and Around Rivers.

—The steamers City of Peterborough and Pelopon are now ready for the new machinery, which is expected every day.

—Several of the upper lake steamers have already been out of port.

—The steamer Esaurian, plying between Lindsay and Bobcaygeon, is undergoing extensive repairs. The steamer Ogenah is taking her place until the repairs are completed.

—The steamer Crandella will go to Bobcaygeon dry dock for repairs previous to starting on her season's work.

—The locks at Bobcaygeon are being repaired, concrete being put in. They will not be open for business for some weeks.

—The steamer Beaver has been repaired at Gore's Landing.

—The Majestic, of Young's Point, is repainted and improved. She will be under the same popular crew as last year.

—Mr. George H. Brown has issued a pretty little illustrated folder from the Times press. The folder gives a full description of this popular resort and how to get to it from distant points.

—Jubilee Point had a fine trade last year and is sure to have a greater rush the coming season. The hotel will be under the same capable management as last summer.

—The Craig House, Lakefield, reports summer visitors arriving already.

THE FIRST BOAT.

The steamer North Star arrived at the locks on Friday night with a load of hogs for Mr. H. P. Kennedy. For some reason the Grand Trunk Railway swing would not open, and the result was that the hogs, 216 in number, had to be unloaded at the locks and driven to town, entailing considerable loss, through shrinkage, on the owner.

RATHBURN AGENCY SOLD.

The Rathbun Company has disposed of their local agency here to local men. Mr. Clark Allen, the local manager, and Mr. Tobias Fredenburg, foreman of the yard, have been asked to report at the head office of the company. The Rathbun Company have conducted an agency in Peterborough for about eighteen years.

JUST IN FUN.

"I could save more money," the young man admitted, "but I find it so hard to break away from my friends. A fellow can't be a boor and cut off all his acquaintances without reason, you know."

"I will tell you what to do," said the man with the brimble moustache. "Buy a dog."

"And then what?"

"Then, when you meet your friends, you will find yourself telling them stories of his wonderful intelligence. You just can't help it. In this manner you may soon be alone."—Indianapolis Press.

The Layman—Candidly, do you expect your prayer in behalf of the Boers to be answered?

The Pastor—I suffer myself it is unanswerable, sir. Three or four cranks have tried to answer it, through the press, but it seems to me they have failed egregiously.—Detroit Journal.

Collector—I'm sorry, M. Slowpay, but your tailor has not his account against you into my hands for collection.

Mr. Slowpay—He has, eh? Do you work on a commission basis?

Collector—Yes, sir.

Mr. Slowpay—Then I'm sorry for you.—Chicago News.

Bachelor—I am told that a married man can live on half the income that a single man requires.

Married Man—Yes. He has to.—Tit-Bits.

TO CARE FOR WATCH.

A watch should be wound up every day at the same hour.

Avoid putting it on a marble slab or near anything excessively cold.

A sudden change of temperature, contracting the metal, may sometimes cause the mainspring to break.

The cold also congeals the oil, and the pivots and wheels work less freely and affect the regularity of the time-keeping.

To keep your watch clean, take care that the case fits closely and see that the watch pocket is kept free from dust, which is so often given off by flannels.

Avoid sudden jerms and falls, for even if the watch does not seem to affect it at the moment, a watch will resent rough handling, by becoming gradually "out of order" without apparent cause.

The Orchard.

Thorough cultivation improves trees and fruit.

Eating plenty of fruits aids digestion and improves the health.

As countries grow older the love of flowers grows more universal and stronger. When bread is assured for the body the need of the soul for flowers begins to be respected.

Some of the best small fruit growers say that cultivation is better than manuring, providing time permits cultivation. But the malch is preferable to weeds, by a large majority.—Farm, Stock and Home.

Catarrh

The best authorities say, is a disease of the blood.

Therefore local applications cannot cure.

Being a constitutional disease it requires a constitutional remedy—Hood's Sarsaparilla.

By thoroughly purifying the blood, this great medicine reduces the inflammation of the mucous membrane and stops all catarrhal discharges of the nose, throat, stomach, bowels, bladder and generative organs.

Catarrh is especially dangerous in persons who inherit or have acquired a predisposition to consumption.

In these and all other catarrhal cases, Hood's Sarsaparilla so thoroughly renovates the blood and restores strength and vigor that it permanently cures.

In fact, because of the character of the disease, and the peculiar merit of the remedy, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the common-sense treatment for catarrh.

It was a sufferer from nasal catarrh, gradually growing worse. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla which completely cured me of that troublesome disease." MRS. DOAN, 1615 Arrow Ave., Indianapolis, Ind. Be sure to get

DEATH OF HARRY RUTHERFORD

The Young Sacrifice on Saturday at Nicholls Hospital.

The many friends of Mr. Harry Rutherford, of Otonabee, will exceedingly regret to hear of his death, which occurred at Nicholls Hospital on Saturday morning.

The deceased was severely injured through having his arm caught in the machinery connected with the driving power of a grain chopper, which he was operating on the farm of Mr. John Lenchman.

When the arm was caught and drawn into the machinery it clogged the wheels to such an extent as to bring three teams of horses to a standstill. When freed from the machinery, he was driven at once to the hospital, where great efforts were made to save the arm by flesh grafting, but as the flesh and sinews had been stripped from the bone in places, this plan had to be abandoned and amputation was decided upon a day or so ago. The patient, however, unexpectedly developed heart weakness, rendering an operation impossible. He gradually sank, and passed away about noon.

The father, mother and family have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in their great affliction.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at two o'clock, from the family residence, Zion, the Little Lake cemetery.

DEATH OF MR. JAMES LITTLE.

The death of Mrs. Jas. Little, formerly of Peterborough, occurred on Friday in Belleville. The deceased had only been ill a few days. Deceased, whose maiden name was Miss Jessie Jack, was the second daughter of the late Mr. Henry Jack, and was born in Belleville. For some years she was engaged as a school teacher, in which profession she was successful. Mrs. Little is survived by her husband but no family. Two brothers, Henry and Dr. John Jack, of Chicago, and three sisters, Mrs. Dr. Penwick, of Kingston; Miss Martha and Miss Ida, at home, are left to mourn the demise of a devoted wife and loving sister. Deceased was a member of the John St. Presbyterian church.

BOY ON A BICYCLE ... SAVED A TRAIN

Storm Which Visited Peterborough on Saturday Did Damage in Neighboring States.

SAD HAVOC WROUGHT IN CITY OF CINCINNATI.

Lake Michigan Was At Its Wildest, and Damage Was Done in Pittsburg, Rochester and Other Cities.

Pittsburg, April 22.—One of the thrilling incidents connected with the flood conditions prevailing in this State was the hairbreadth escape from destruction of the Pennsylvania limited train westbound near Tyrone yesterday. A boy riding frantically at the side of the track, wildly waving his cap, gave the warning to the engineer that saved the train from going full speed into a landslide. Even so, the train ran into a large rock, knocking off the cow-catcher of the engine and a pullman was badly damaged. At Altoona another engine was secured and the damaged car was taken out of the train.

Passengers said at Union Station last night that they thought the train must have been running nearly sixty miles an hour when the passengers suddenly were thrown forward in their seats by the application of the brakes by the engineer. Some who were looking out of their windows at the time saw the boy on the wheel waving his cap as the train flew by him. The engineer had a difficult task to handle his train, which was not only running fast, but was heavy and the rails were slippery, which made checking its speed more difficult. J. R. Francis, a former Governor of Missouri, was one of the passengers.

STORM SWEPT OVER MICHIGAN.

Chicago, April 22.—The great storm of wind, snow and rain which prevailed in the middle east Saturday swirled around unexpectedly Sunday and swept over Lake Michigan into Chicago. It did damage to property, blew down trees, and shrubbery in the parks and boulevards, crippled electric wires and whipped the lake into the heaviest sea of the season.

Shortly after sunrise the wind rose and began to increase in speed until by noon it was racing over the city at the rate of fifty-two miles an hour. Early in the day warning signals to mariners were flung out all along the lake. Obeying them saved more than one vessel from what would certainly have proved disaster. Vessels remained in harbor and boats coming down the lake making for Chicago put in at convenient ports.

HAVOC IN CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, April 22.—The danger line was reached here to-day in the Ohio River flood, which started at the headwaters last week and did much damage at Pittsburg and intermediate points. The floodwater along the Licking on the Kentucky side has inundated parts of Covington, Newport and other suburbs. The mill creek valley is full of water and doing damage.

THEY DO NOT LIKE UNITED STATES

Continental Nations of Europe are Greatly Annoyed.

ITALIAN STATEMAN'S HOSTILITY.

London Spectator says Alliance Against United States is Threatened. Criticism for Maintaining the Monroe Doctrine.

London, April 21.—The Spectator to-morrow will discuss "The Continent and America," taking as a text a possible alliance having given Europe 30 Count Canavero at Toulon, which the Spectator believes has not attracted the attention it deserves.

Admiral Canavero, in concluding his utterances regarding the triple and dual alliances having given Europe 30 years of peace, said:

"This fact would, perhaps, lead European nations to consider the possibility and necessity of uniting against America, Africa and Asia, as the future of civilization will require them to do so."

The Spectator does not consider this the rash outburst of the "man-in-the-street," for Admiral Canavero has been Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs.

REASONS FOR HOSTILITY.

"His utterances," the Spectator will say, "corresponds exactly with that of Count Goluchowski (Austro-Hungarian foreign minister) and with all the recent trend of affairs. The annoyance of the continent with America, which is very deep, is based upon three reasons, the first being the dread, or rather the conviction, that competition with America is nearly impossible, her wealth and energy being too great. Both are employed, the continent thinks, to monopolize trade, and so to control in the end all the wealth of the world, an idea not without advocates even among ourselves."

The Spectator mentions the giant trusts and protection and refers to the Americans as "not scrupling to commence quick and severe reprisals if European governments fence them off with tariffs."

"The second reason," the article will say, "is that America is easily in the way in Asia. The whole action of the Washington Government in the Chinese muddle points to the conclusion that, although the Americans took the Philippines, they are not willing to see any but native powers in control of the richest countries of Asia."

SOUTH AMERICA.

"The third reason is America's attitude in South America. She will neither take it nor let anybody else."

"The total result is a bitter dislike of America, mixed with dread. Our object is only to awaken the Americans from an illusion, to induce them to increase their fleet and to persuade them to think steadily of what they are doing. They may rely upon it that the continent will lose nothing by want of planning and that when the alliance against America of which Admiral Canavero talks is transmitted into facts it will be full grown and full armed."

OFFICIALS OF C.P.R. CHANGE PLACES.

William Whyte Now Assistant to President.

J. W. LEONARD QUILTS TORONTO

Will be Succeeded as Superintendent of O. and Q. Division by H. P. Timmerman.

Montreal, April 23.—Some very important changes have lately been made in the Canadian Pacific railway staff. The following important announcements were made from headquarters.

Mr. William Whyte, hitherto manager of the Western lines, with headquarters at Winnipeg, has been appointed assistant to the President.

Mr. Whyte will remain at Winnipeg for the present, but it is understood that his future headquarters will be at Montreal.

The positions of managers of Western and Eastern lines are abolished.

James Osborn, general superintendent of the Western division, with headquarters at Winnipeg, has been appointed general superintendent of the Atlantic division, with headquarters at St. John, N.B.

H. P. Timmerman, hitherto general superintendent of the Atlantic division, has been appointed general superintendent of the Ontario and Quebec division, with headquarters at Toronto.

J. W. Leonard, hitherto superintendent of the Ontario and Quebec division, has been appointed general superintendent of the Western division, with headquarters at Winnipeg.

The jurisdiction of C. W. Spencer, general superintendent of the Eastern division, has been considerably extended, over five hundred miles being added to his territory.

The position of manager of transportation is a new one, and Mr. Whyte will have supervision over all transportation matters.

PURELY A FAKE.

That Anarchists Were Plotting to Kill German Emperor and the Czar.

London, April 23.—The story of a plot to end the lives of the Emperor of Russia, and the Czar of Russia, turned out to-day to be without foundation.

The story grew out of the finding of a mysterious letter in an ash barrel near the anarchist quarters in straight street, this city. It was written partly in Russian and partly in a secret code, which could not be deciphered. It was sent to the procurator Emley by the finder, who signed himself "A Friend of Peace," along with the following letter:

"I found the enclosed letter in a suspicious place and have had it copied off on the typewriter so that if it fell into the hands of my enemies they would not know who wrote it."

It contains a plot against the life of the Czar of Russia and the ones mixed up in it are lawless characters, and they would not hesitate to do this deed. I wish I could give my name, but I dare not do so. I am an anarchist by necessity, but I do not believe in killing rulers. No reform comes that way, for the new ones are usually worse than the old. I send you this so that you can investigate the matter and thwart the attempt."

The procurator's detective went among the Italians and anarchists, but could learn nothing of any plot so the matter was forgotten, only to pop up again today in the form of a dispatch from Buenos Ayres.

The Italians of this city are excited over the report of the arrest of Romagnoli in Germany and several of the anarchist societies are meeting and discussing the affair.

Pedro Esteve, Editor of La Question Sociale, the anarchist organ in this country, when shown the dispatch ridiculed the whole story.

ASK HELP FOR A TURK

King Edward Urged to Seek Justice for Sultan's Brother.

London, April 22.—The Turkish Free Masons have sent to King Edward a curious appeal on behalf of the unfortunate Mourad, elder brother of Abdul Hamid, who reigned as Sultan until the name of Amurath V. for three months and was then deposed on the ground of insanity. The appeal refers to him as one who for the last quarter of a century has been imprisoned on the pretext of a mental malady, and begs King Edward to use his influence to secure the freedom of a brother Mason.

KAISER TURNS TO ENGLISH.

Commands That is to be Taught in all German High Schools.

Washington, April 22.—Emperor William has decreed that the English language shall take the place of French in the High Schools of the German empire, according to a communication received at the state department from Consul General Guenther at Frankfurt. The French language hereafter will be an optional study.

SUFFERING CAUSED BY THE FLOOD.

Large Portion of the State of Pennsylvania Under Water.

DISTRICT LOSE OVER $2,000,000

Railroads Lose Over a Million Dollars—Thousands Lie in Upper Rooms—Negroes Suffer.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 22.—A large portion of the State of Pennsylvania is already under water as a result of heavy rains, and the rivers and streams are still rising. This district lies in the centre of the storm-stricken district. At Oil City, as it was impossible to secure quotations from New York and other points, the Oil Exchange temporarily suspended business.

The railroads entering this city will lose, roughly, about $1,000,000 as a result of damages wrought by the flood causing landslides, wrecked bridges and the general interference of passengers' traffic. On the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, near Robo, in the Allegheny Valley, a landslide covered the track for 150 feet, requiring to clear the road, a gang of men working fourteen hours.

The inhabitants of the lowlands in the Pittsburgh, and Allegheny districts are many of them, in abject misery. Nearly every cellar is flooded, and in many cases the ground floors of the buildings are also under water. Thousands of people lay in the upper rooms of their water-soaked houses Saturday night without heat or light or food.

Conservative estimates of the total damage done in the Laval district places the amount at between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. Fifty thousand workers are suffering from enforced idleness.

At Carnegie, about six miles from here, a number of negroes were enabled by the general confusion and devastation caused by the flood to steal a large quantity of liquor. When the people attempted to arrest them the drunken negroes drew razors, and commenced slashing at the policemen. The fire bells were rung and the citizens turned out, eventually suppressing and arresting the negroes.

ROCHESTER AT CHARLOTTE.

Charlotte, N. Y., April 22.—A fierce northern wind, blowing straight into this harbor on Saturday night, caused one of the roughest seas ever known on this part of Lake Ontario. The schooner McDonald, Capt. Alois Mathews, of Kingston, Ont., made port with her cargo gone, and her lifeboats carried away. She had been laden with lumber.

SCHOONER BADLY DAMAGED.

Oswego, N. Y., April 22.—The schooner Two Brothers, of Kingston, Ont., during the gale on Saturday, crashed against the pier here and was damaged badly. The crew of the vessel narrowly escaped the falling masts and smashing timbers.

DISASTERS AT MCKEESPORT.

McKeesport, Pa., April 22.—A series of disastrous incidents were occasioned here by the flood on Saturday. Thirty loaded coal boats went over the dam at Lock No. 4 on the Monongahela River, and the steam barge Alceda was crushed to pieces between runaway barges and the river banks.

The steamer Robert McKinley was burned to the water's edge and sunk.

PAN-AMERICAN DELAYED.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 22.—The storm has caused a serious delay in the landscape work and road building of the Pan-American Exposition. As a consequence, the opening ceremonies will take place on the 20th of May, instead of on May 1st as projected.

Many cellars are inundated as a result of the flood. Two street car lines running through the southern part of the city have suspended operations.

TRAFFIC DEMORALIZED.

Wheeling, West Virginia, April 22.—As a result of the flood the river here has risen to 42 feet, and all railroad traffic has been paralyzed by the overflowing of the river banks.

GREAT DAMAGE DONE.

New Haven, Conn., April 22.—Terrible damage has been occasioned all over the State by the floods. At Winsted, the Highland Lake threatens to overflow at any moment, and this, it is feared, will entail an awful loss of life and property. Guards have been posted to give instant alarm.

FREIGHT IN A WASHOUT.

Rochester, N. Y., April 22.—A fast freight on the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg Railway ran into a washout near Forest Lawn yesterday morning and the engine and nine cars were derailed. Loss, $50,000.

TELEGRAPH WIRES DOWN.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 22.—Not a single telegraph wire was in operation between here and Buffalo and Pittsburg yesterday's storm. It will be several days before communication is fully re-established.

IN A CAR OF POTATOES.

Pittsburg, New York, April 22.—A party of nine Chinamen was captured in a car of potatoes at Rome's Pt., N.Y., to-day, by Deputy-collector Berry, by his personal permission. Also a short account of his marvellous lecture on animals. Y.M.C.A. Hall, to-morrow evening, at eight o'clock. Admission 10 cents. Proceeds to be given to the Children's Aid Society of the town.

A GREAT HISTORIAN PASSES AWAY

Rt.-Rev. Wm. Stubbs, Bishop of Oxford, Prominent as Ecclesiastic Student, Died Monday.

INVESTIGATED DEEPLY INTO MEDIAEVAL HISTORY

He Was Born in 1825, Educated at Ripon and Christ Church, Oxford Fellow at Trinity.

London, April 22.—Right Rev. William Stubbs, Bishop of Oxford, died this morning.

The Right Reverend William Stubbs, D.D., Bishop of Oxford was born on June 24, 1825, at Knarborough, and was educated at Ripon Grammar School and Christ Church, Oxford. He was just in classics and fellow Trinity College. In 1848 he was ordained and became Vicar of Havestock in Essex. His reputation as an investigator of medieval history was well-known and became thoroughly established and universal recognized in 1860, when he published a sketch of the papal succession in England in his "Registrium Sacrum Anglicanum." Four years later he attained the position of Librarian of the Archbishop's Library at Lambeth. It was soon after that he began his great series of editions of medieval chronicles for the Rolls' collection. A period that he particularly made his own was that surrounding the reign of Henry II. and of special importance are the cycle of editions bearing on themselves. In 1866-6 there were published the two volumes of "Chronicles and Memorials of Richard I." In 1867 there followed the "Chronicle of Henry II. and Richard I." and in the succeeding four years came the four volumes of Roger, Hoveden's "Chronicle" of the same period. The "Historical Collection" of Walter of Coventry was presented in 1872-3, and in 1875 an edition of the "Historical Works" of Ralph Diceto in 1876. The series was completed in 1879-80, when the works of Gervase of Canterbury were presented. Important as these contributions to the Rolls are they only present one phase of his historical researches. In 1860 he was appointed to the position of regius professor of modern history at Oxford, and for eight years he filled the office. Soon after his appointment, he along with Rev. A. W. Hadden, began the publication of a collection of "Councils and Ecclesiastical Documents relating to Great Britain and Ireland," based on the "Concilia" of Spelman and Wilkins, in which he was especially responsible for the Anglo-Saxon portions. This occupation was brought to a sudden termination by the unfortunate death of Mr. Hadden, and was never afterwards resumed.

In 1871 "Select Charters and other illustrations of England constitutional history from the earliest period to the reign of Edward I." was placed before the public. That prepared the way for his greatest effort, "The Constitutional History of England, in its Origin and Development." His death will prove a distinct loss to literature as well as a deeply regretted occurrence in church circles.

U. Pierpont Morgan The Purchaser of Famous Painting.

New York, April 22.—A special cable to The Herald from London says: Mr. Lockhart Agnew, who has been in Paris, virtually confirmed the statement that J. Pierpont Morgan bought the recovered Gainsborough for $300,000. This bears out the story circulated recently regarding the offer for the famous painting made by Mr. Morgan and W. A. Clark, who is a rival of the American art collector.

Mr. Morgan first offered $25,000 for the picture, whereupon Mr. Clark offered $30,000 as the top price. Mr. Morgan promptly said that he was willing to pay $30,000, and as he was a heavy buyer at all times of costly art works, the Gainsborough went to him, the agreement being if he equalled any bona fide offer he should have the refusal.

Mr. Morgan stipulated that the authenticity of the picture must be established beyond a shadow of a doubt. It is apparent that this has been done.

A NEGRO HANGED.

Frederick, Md., April 22.—Charles H. alias "Cephus" Overa, colored, was hanged at noon to-day in the jail yard at this place for the murder of Charles McDonald, a young white man. The negro, who was only 18 years old, displayed unusual courage on the scaffold, and the execution was without special incident.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN

Breezy Dashes Here and There by Times' Reporters.

—Spring had a relapse on Sunday.
—The Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company is extending its operations.
—Some editors have been out on their hands. This g.f. will be satisfied with a spring suit.

—Kingston will tax Chinese laun-dries $40 each. Peterborough should follow suit.

—Money makes the mare go, and by the same token, the mayor, sometimes makes the money go.

—Mr. Will Metcalf, who was dangerously ill with pneumonia, is recovering.

—Local real estate is advancing in price.
—Large orders have lately been received by the Electric Works.

—The country roads are in bad shape.
—The recent rains are causing high water again in the creek.

—The Board of Works, Finance and Property Committees met last night and transacted routine business.

—General Manager W. E. Lech of the Olympic Club, has issued a first call to arms for the annual excursion.

—Woodstock has decided to have brick pavements. Peterborough prefers mother earth for the present at least.

—The Board of Managers of the Y.M.C.A. held a special meeting last night, when business of importance was transacted.

—Miss Mabel Tontley returned from a visit to Kingston.

—Mr. O. B. Shortly, Toronto, spent Sunday in town.

—If you are scrofulous, dyspeptic, rheumatic, troubled with kidney complaint, general debility, lacking strength, take Blood's Sarsaparilla.

—If altogether feeling blue,
Because you're out of place,
Be quick to use a Times Want Ad.
And so get in the race.

—Mr. O. H. Brown, of the Chenango Park Hotel, was in town yesterday and dropped in to see the Times. He reports the outlook for business good.

—Petroleum is being discovered in several places in Ontario. It is said Peterborough had her coal oil boom on. It is sure to come, however.

—Trying to do business without advertising is like winning at a girl in the dark. You know what you are doing, but no one else. —Battle Creek Record.

—The young man, Burns, charged with indecently assaulting a Harar-do Home girl, will appear for trial before His Honor Judge Weller to-morrow.

—The Times was favored with a call yesterday from Mr. Monroe, of the well known book manufacturing firm of Monroe & Cassidy, Toronto, who was in town on business.

—Messrs. W. E. Roxborough, of Norwood, and W. E. Herin, of Lakefield, are engaged in making the regular yearly audit of the books and accounts of the County Treasurer.

—There was a loud noise in the Post Office last night, and a clerk explained that it was caused by the postage stamps.
Postmasters Rogers' official letters go at that.

—Peterborough should have a loco-mobile to collect the mails. We see that Ottawa has two, and Peterborough contributes enough to place her in the class of towns having these facilities. Mr.
McClellan, wake up!

—You're no real grievance. True, you may be idle.
But with Times Ads. at command
You're but to use them and the work you wish for
Will surely come to hand.

—The stockholders in the Victoria Co.
Telephone Co., who at one time made application to our Council for permission to enter Lindsay, are now considering a proposal made by the Bell Telephone Co.
to purchase their interests and the transfer will likely be made.

—There is a decided difference in the price of logs to-day, and say thirty years ago. Mr. Chas. Austin, says the Bob.
Ind. delivered eleven pine logs on the river bank this winter and was paid by the Hamilton Co. $1400 for the lot. It was about eleven dollars a thousand.
Thirty-five years ago Mr. Stevenson lumbered on what is now Mr. J. L. Read's farm, and drew the logs with a yoke on a trust he made himself with solid wooden wheels. He delivered these logs, the fine large clear cork pine at the old mill on the canal, at 60¢ a standard, or $240 a thousand.

—The many friends of Mr. Percy Mc-Intosh, the clever Times' artist and cartoonist, will regret to learn that he has been confined to his home through illness. We are pleased to say, however, that he is gradually recovering, and with the warm weather, he hopes to regain his usual health.

—A Toronto paper protests against Evangelist Hunter's requests to the ladies at his meetings that they remove their hats. Women do not pay from $5.00 to $25.00 apiece for articles that will be carried where they can be seen.

—The Cobourg School Board is about to add to the curriculum of the Collegiate Institute telegraphy, electricity, domestic science, manual training, pharmacy and agriculture.
Typing and shorthand are already taught.

—James Angleson, an employee in the tool room of the Canadian General Electric Co., yesterday morning had the misfortune to have one of the fingers of his right hand taken off while at work. Mr. Angleson only a short while ago had the misfortune to have one of his fingers of his right hand taken off in a like manner.

—The Chemong lake bridge broke as

GRAVE ROBBERY CASE

Patterson, a Medical Student, Fined
Two Hundred Dollars.

JUDGE WELLER'S REMARKS.

The Friends of Patterson said he was well satisfied with the result. The money paid and the defendant returns to his studies.

Yesterday Judge Weller rendered judgment in the grave robbery case, fining Patterson $200, or a term of one year in jail.

Patterson was present when the judgment was read by Judge Weller. He was accompanied by his solicitor Mr. R.
M. Dennistoun. Mr. Wood, County Crown
Attorney, and Mr. P. D. Kerr, representing Mr. Dennistoun, were also present. A number of spectators.

"Have you anything further to say to me before I proceed to pass sentence upon the prisoner?" said His Honor Judge Weller.

Mr. Dennistoun replied that he had.
He believed that one of the members of the family of the late Mrs. Sheehan had understood him (Mr. Dennistoun) to say that the body of the deceased had been delivered by one of the family. He had said no such thing nor did he insinuate anything of the sort, and so far as he knew no member of the deceased's family had anything to do with the matter.

Mr. Dennistoun asked His Honor to remember all the circumstances and to deal as gently with the prisoner as possible.

His Honor Judge Weller said that he was very glad that Mr. Dennistoun had seen fit to make such statement as he had, and if any such view had been expressed in this regard so far as he was able to say there was not the slightest evidence for such a suspicion that any of the family had anything to do with the affair. Should anyone of any financial responsibility make a statement of this kind they would subject themselves to a civil action, and be required to pay heavy damages.

Proceeding with his sentence, His Honor said that he had considered the evidence since Friday and he was fully convinced that he was correct in finding the prisoner guilty of the charge. A strong appeal had been made by prisoner's counsel, and he was quite right in making the same, but the evidence was passed on the prisoner. This can be done only under certain fixed reasons, and unless these reasons exist he has no right to suspend the judgment of the Court.

In reciting these reasons, His Honor recited the matter of age, character and antecedents. There was no evidence as to his character being at all bad. As Mr. Dennistoun had said he was a young man of ability and possessing a great future, it was all in his favor, but in addition to this we must consider whether the nature of the offence is of a trivial nature or not. He considered that it was an offence of a very serious kind, and of considerable importance to the public at large. It was a most serious matter and should be stopped, as far as the law can stop it.

Further, the prisoner has refrained from giving any information of an opportunity nature. In this he has perhaps been very wise. Therefore it becomes a matter of fact. There were no circumstances to mitigate the offence. Having refused to suspend the sentence of the Court, His Honor had no alternative but to pass the sentence of the Court.

THE FARMER AND THE BEET.

Beet growing may not be a good thing for the farmer, says the "Michigan Sugar Beet," but we have not heard of any farmer rushing about looking for contracts for acreage on which to grow wheat, plant corn or potatoes, but those who do know something of the beet growing business don't let any opportunity get away from them to grasp a few extra acres of beets. F. L. Wilson, who owns a fine farm in Hampton township, grows a large acreage of beets each season, and he thinks so well of the crop and the opportunity around Lansing, that he has been putting in his time here this week leasing 200 acres which he will put into beets for the Lansing company. Mr. Wilson knows something of farming and its opportunities, and it may be set down as a safe proposition that he isn't growing 200 acres of beets 100 miles from home simply to benefit his health.

EDITORIAL NOTES

"Cuba, Lecher!" was the war cry with which the United States army invaded that island to drive the proud Castilian into the sea. Now Cuba would be glad if her rescuers would lecher alone.

There is an agitation on foot in Woodstock for the holding of funerals in the evening, instead of mornings or afternoons. The suggestion is not wise. Most men, particularly ministers, have their evenings more or less occupied, many of them definitely so with church meetings, lodges, and the like, while the man who has worked all day, finds an evening at home a pleasure. The tendency of modern days is towards privacy and unostentatiousness in the burial of the dead, and this feeling is constantly on the increase.

Kraeger, a willing to "sacrifice" much for peace, he says. As Artemus Ward put it, he would willingly sacrifice all his wife's able-bodied relations on the altar of his country. But for himself he takes no chances.

Japan has invited the nations of the earth to join her in a general extermination of the rat. Is this a dastardly blow at poor suffering China's food supply?

ACHIEVEMENT IN SURGERY

Montreal, April 22.—What is regarded as one of the most remarkable surgical operations on record has been performed at the General Hospital. On March 27, a G.T.R. switchman employed at Bonaventure Station was brought to the hospital. Six pairs of car wheels had passed over his right shoulder, breaking the collar bone and shoulder blade into fragments, crushing the first and second ribs, and tearing the sub-clavicular artery some two and a half inches. As a result of the rupture of the artery and the internal hemorrhage, an immense blood tumor was formed, extending from the neck to the hip and from the center of the trunk in front to the spinal column. His condition looked hopeless.

Gangrene set in after a few days in the arm and the portion of the body covered by the blood tumor, and the living and mortifying portions of the body were clearly demarcated. As the man showed himself to be remarkable vitality, it was decided to perform an operation. To compensate for the extraordinary loss of blood, a large quantity of a solution of common salt and water was injected into a vein in the arm. After administering an anesthetic, an incision was made and the captured artery secured and tied. The arm was amputated and the whole of the skin over the tumor severed, while the broken bones were removed. The wound was given an antiseptic dressing and in a short time the man was ready for the final operation of skin grafting.

Amidst Nature.

You have been told to "blithely wag your tail to a star"—that Nature will assist you. That's all right. There are times, however, when you should assist Nature, and the spring is one of those times.

Nature is now undertaking to cleanse your system—if you take Head's Sarsaparilla the undertaking will be successful, and your complexion bright and clear.

FATE.

Dinner was being served at the bungalow of the consul general at Bankok. The omnipresent punkah waved noticeably overhead, cooling the evening air, which was heavy with the odor of the lotus flowers. The guests conversed gaily in languages foreign to their own, for a fluent tongue is essential to friendships in Siam.

The men, and the women, too, with one exception, were dressed in spotless white. This exception proved to be the most beautiful woman in the room. Perhaps, as she had passed the heyday of her youth, she considered her black gown as more appropriate, and the fact that the absolute purity of her skin shone with exquisite beauty against that gown was beyond argument.

There was a lull in the conversation. "Appropos of your last remark on the duty of a man toward a woman who loves him," said Raleigh Carter, as he turned to a member of the French legation on his left, "I should like to tell you a story."

The attention of the table was his in an instant, for the minister told a story well—a rare accomplishment.

"Years ago," he began, "no matter the number, a young fellow we will call Wainwright was a student at Harvard. He went there, fresh from a country town, more of a boy than most men of his age, with simplicity and goodness written on his face, and a power to gain friends that was envied him by many. He was so much in earnest in everything he did his attentions were so rare and so courteous that he instantly became a prominent figure at the college social functions.

"At one of these he met the sweetest, most lovable young woman he had ever imagined. She was the sister of his roommate, and through him the intimacy ripened.

"You are the one fellow on earth who is good enough for Isabel," he often told him, but Wainwright was silent.

"Back in that little village he remembered clinging arms, a farewell kiss, a promise of eternal faith. He knew then, too late, perhaps, that he had never loved her, that she could never reach those deep-laid chords that this clever, refined young woman of the world had struck into harmony at once.

"As the year passed it became part of his regime to spend the end of each week at her home, and at last they found themselves alone. It was a perfect night, starlit, redolent with the springtime—a night for love.

"They were standing together by an open window and a passing zephyr blew a lock of hair across his eyes. At the moment it was the one thing needful to bind him to the past. With a motion that was the tenderest invitation he held out his arms, with a movement as natural as Isabel laid her head upon his breast. Words were not necessary; their love was unseparable.

"Afterward, when the influences were changed, Wainwright was wrong with remorse. He knew his relations to both were dishonorable and he determined to break with the other woman."

Here the Frenchman interrupted. "Quite right," he vouchsafed. "Even a man's word of honor cannot make him marry a woman he no longer loves."

For a moment Mr. Carter was silent. Outside came the wail of oars in the dead-end river and the strain of a song borne on the mellow, languorous air.

The woman in the black gown, who sat directly opposite him, had dropped her handkerchief and when she regained it he again took up the thread.

"In a short time Wainwright's father died and the lad left college never to return. He went back to that distant village, commenced his life where he had left it off and found that everything was changed, that nothing could be the same. The blue eyes, the sympathetic hand-touch, the tender voice was nothing to him now, and yet hating to pain one who so loved him, he could not bring himself to tell her."

The gentleman from France smiled contemptuously.

"And so ruined his own life and the other woman's. The odds were in favor the other way," he remarked.

"Perhaps," said the consul grimly. "Time passed. So things drifted and at last Wainwright enclosed a newspaper clipping in an envelope and addressed it to Isabel. He felt the woman despised him and at the time he prayed she would."

The years passed and with them the wife, but the love look was ever on her face, for no action of Wainwright's had diminished her belief that she was all to him. Finally, his stern sense of duty satisfied, he sought the world again. He met Isabel then—

The ever-ready Frenchman turned his lips indolently.

"And she still loved him?" he enquired.

"That I never knew," was the answer.

"There was an unmistakable something always between them—their relations were those of strangers and he could never close the breach. He longed to tell her what his life had been, as a woman who knew the world he felt she would forgive him, and if she forgave him might she not love him?"

Once again the Frenchman leaned forward.

"He should have told her the story. He should have asked for her love," he said emphatically.

Later, when most of the guests had sought cooler, more secluded spots under the banyans and palms of the lawn, a solitary black-gowned figure leaned indolently against a pillar of the verandah. Despite the haughty upturning of her head the brilliant oriental light could not hide the sorrowfully drooping mouth, and her head trembled visibly against the railing as the consul appeared within the doorway.

He stood there a moment—a noble and impressive figure, then walked slowly toward her.

"Isabel," he said, softly, "my story awaits me ending."

She was silent, and the sad note of a night bird came softly from a far-off tree.

Again he spoke and every word was audible pleading.

"It has been so long—so long without you, my love," he whispered. Her hand dropped and fell against his own.

"So long, my love," she echoed softly. Her face was turned away from him, but he placed his hand upon her forehead, and drawing her head gently backward, all it rested on his breast he kissed her.

GET UP!

That's the morning call of Chanticleer. It's a welcome cry to a well man. But to a man whose sleep seems to have been only an unrefreshing stupor; who wakes with burning eyes, throbbing head, and a bad taste in the mouth, it means only a new day's misery.

In such a physical condition of health is most surely and swiftly restored by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition, and it cures through the stomach diseases of liver, lungs, kidneys, etc., which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands, and every organ is benefited by the resulting increase of rich, pure blood.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics.

"Your Golden Medical Discovery" and Dr. Pierce's Catarrh Remedy have been of benefit to me," writes (Prof.) Pleasant A. Oliver, of Viola, Fulton Co., Ark. "Before I used the above mentioned medicines my sleep was so sound; digestion bad; a continual feeling of misery. I now feel like a new man. Any one in need of medical treatment for nasal catarrh could do no better than to take treatment of Dr. R. V. Pierce, his medicines are all right in this class of diseases."

RESULTS OF BANK AMALGAMATION

The Canadian Bank of Commerce
Completes the Purchase of
the Assets of the Bank
of British Columbia.

The Bank's capital now eight million dollars and assets over sixty
three millions.

The negotiations for the purchase of the assets of the Bank of British Columbia by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, an announcement respecting which was made some months ago, have been carried to a successful conclusion. A thorough examination of the affairs of the Bank of British Columbia was made by the officials of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and this proving entirely satisfactory, the amalgamation was finally completed. A statement of the affairs of the Canadian Bank of Commerce after the amalgamation has now been issued, and discloses a very strong position. In point of capital and reserve the Bank now ranks fourth among banking institutions on the continent of America. It has 82 branches throughout Canada; five branches in the United States, namely, at New York, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland (Oregon), Skagway (Alaska), and one in London, England; 58 establishments in all. The acquisition of the London office is an important step in the progress of the Bank. The bank's transactions in sterling exchange in the United States and Canada each year amount to many millions of pounds, and the ability to handle this business through the Bank's own London office will result in an important addition to the earning power of the Bank. In many other directions also the interests of the two banks will be mutually benefited by the amalgamation.

The following is a condensation of the statement issued by the bank at the close of business on the 31st of March:

NEWSPAPER RULES

A Few Points for the Benefit of the General Public

Business courtesy demands an answer to a business letter and the business man who does not answer a business letter is not courteous and has no one to blame but himself when made defendant in a law suit.

It is an acknowledged principle of the COMMON LAW that any person taking, receiving, or making use of any article of value, (except an executed gift) is liable for payment of the same.

Courts have decided that a newspaper taken and used in a family is a household necessity, and that a man and his wife are both liable for the subscription price of the same.

Business men do not notice such promises as this: "I will pay when I can," or, "as soon as possible." They are constructed to mean and generally are "stand off's," pure and simple. Be definite, specify when and how much you can and will pay.

If subscribers move to other places and neglect to give notice to publishers, and papers and periodicals are sent to the former address, who is to blame, and who is responsible because it is not received, and who should pay the subscription?

Discontinuance will not exonerate a person from liability for the subscription price of a book or newspaper taken from the post office.

Failure to receive a copy of a newspaper, without fault of the publisher, is no ground for refusing payment of subscription.

If subscribers pay in advance they should give notice to publishers at the end of their subscription period if they do not wish to continue taking it.

Many persons yearly cause themselves much trouble and incur unnecessary and sometimes serious expense, in allowing small debts to run and fail to respond to communications sent by the commercial agency or attorney, when notified to settle up the indebtedness.

Don't make payment to a publisher or another person, while an account is in the hands of an attorney or agency for collection, or you may be compelled to pay it again to the attorney or agency.

Don't forget that you can become liable for the subscription price of a paper without subscribing for it in writing.

If you have credit or even expect to have any you cannot afford to neglect your newspaper accounts. A word to the wise is sufficient.

No responsible man will allow, and no responsible man will allow, to have judgements and costs rendered against him. The proper time to make a defence or settle an account is before a case gets into court. When once judgement is entered defences are barred.

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62064, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet.

This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The workings of these radiators side by side with the ordinary may be seen at any time at the Company's office, in either steam or water, and you are invited to examine them here, whether you desire to take stock in the Company or not.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock or radiators.

Dated at Toronto this 18th day of February, A. D. 1901.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN

Breezy Dashes Here and There by Times' Reporters.

—It is said that a locomotive trust is now being engineered.

—The hotels of the town are doing a rattling fine business.

—The rain of the last few days had a depressing effect on business.

—There is considerable building in progress and under contemplation this season.

—The Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's church will meet to night at eight o'clock.

—Mr. R. J. Kidd, of Hastings, was in town yesterday, and reports business in the eastern village very good.

—The steps leading through Victoria Park to the Court House, are being repaired.

—Mr. Allie Brown, formerly bandmaster of the Lindsay band, will again take the position of band instructor.

—Humors of all kinds are prolific of worse troubles. They may be entirely expelled by a thorough course of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

—There was no march out of the 57th Regiment last night owing to the rain, but battalion and company drill was put on at the drill shed.

—It is said that there is some likelihood of the Grand Central Hotel changing hands, in which case it will be turned into a modern hotel.

—An impetuous Peterborough man kicked his dog till it howled all night, and then boasted next day that he had been out at a wine party.

—A movement is on foot to organize a bowling club in town, the green adjacent to the residence of Dr. McClelland on Simcoe-st., to be used.

—Mrs. (Rev.) Campbell occupied the pulpit of the Mark Street Methodist Church, Ashburnham, on Sunday night, and preached a rattling good sermon.

—The National Hotel, under Mr. Moon's popular management, is increasing its trade every day. This is one of the best of which Peterborough has reason to feel proud.

—The many friends of Prof. and Mrs. Sheets will be pleased to learn that they have decided to make Peterborough their home, and have decided to take up house.

—Dr. Caldwell, who has purchased the vacant lot adjoining the residence of Mr. John Nugent, Brock street, has commenced building a house and office, which he expects to occupy in September.

—The 57th Band will leave at 5:30 p.m., Friday, for Lindsay, and after the concert, will, it is expected, return. A couch will be attached to a freight train in order to accommodate the musicians.

—Manager La Valley, of the Orillia Lumber Company, and Mr. Robt. Hicks, who for some years has been the representative of the local interests of the Rathbun Company—a coal, wood, lumber and cement business—and will take possession on May 1st.

—Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards, K.C., has received a letter from Mrs. F. Beck, London, England, mother of the late H. B. Beck, expressing her heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the kind manner in which friends have aided on the occasion of the death of her son.

—The members of the Public Library Drawing Class, which was organized by the Y.M.C.A., honored their instructors, Messrs. W. H. Collier and Charles Laing, with a very pleasant and enjoyable complimentary banquet on Monday evening.

—Lindsay Post.—The 57th Regimental Band, Peterborough, under the conductorship of Mr. Rupert Giddon, has made a great reputation as a concert band. They will be heard here in a popular programme at the Academy on Friday evening next, April 28th.

—Lindsay Post.—A quartette of Christian Scientists, two being women, are making the town warm by propagating the new doctrine. Suffering and sorrow—bodily ailments are purely imaginary, and pains and aches disappear under faithful prayers and song. The evangelists paid a visit to the house believe that she had not suffered injury by a recent fall. The quartette are said to be visiting houses where infectious disease exists, in which case they should be promptly quarantined.

ADJOURNED VESTRY MEETING.

Interesting Report Submitted—A Very Bad Infactory Showing.

The adjourned vestry meeting of St. John's congregation was held Monday night, the attendance being larger than at the Easter meeting. The financial report for the past year was received from the auditors and passed.

Interesting reports were received of the work of the Chancel Guild, read by Mrs. E. Brown; the Women's Auxiliary, read by Mrs. John Manning; and the Sunday school, read by Mr. W. H. Walkey, showing that these institutions were in good and healthy condition.

In moving their reception, Mr. Deniston expressed his admiration of the clear and business-like way in which the ladies had managed their finances. After auditing their books he felt that their books would have been a credit to many an accountant.

The Women's Auxiliary report showed that $250 had been collected during the year for Docean Missions and correspondingly large sums for missions in the Northwest and in Japan. A special paragraph testified the society's appreciation of a gift from a sister church in the Georgia Methodist church of $50 for mission work in India. This money had been forwarded and would be expended for work in Tinnevely.

The Chancel Guild reported that they had added several valuable articles of furniture to the church during the year and had given the usual tender care to the sanctuary and its belongings.

The different reports as they were read, gave much satisfaction, and elicited words of praise for those who were doing such faithful work in the different departments.

The following committee was appointed to carry out, at the earliest practicable date, the work of decorating and improving the church:—The Churchwardens and Messrs. J. Belcher, H. Long, A. P. Pousette, J. Campbell and Macfarlane Wilson.

It was resolved to take steps and secure the full payment of the assessments for the year.

The most important event of the evening was the election of a Warden to succeed Mr. E. D. Kerr, who felt himself unable to give the requisite time during the coming year.

After considerable discussion the meeting came to the conclusion that Mr. W. E. Conroy was the man whose services should be secured.

Complimentary references were made to Mr. Conroy's success in commercial pursuits and to his other qualifications for the position. These the chairman of the meeting fully endorsed, and by a standing vote, Mr. Conroy was elected.

Though hesitating at first, on account of claims upon his time, Mr. Conroy assented to the urgent call made on him, on the condition that those who made the call should give him a hearty and steady support during his term of office. He left sure that with the general co-operation which would be thus assured that he and Mr. Bell would be able to advance the interests of the church.

The meeting then adjourned, inspired with much hopefulness for the future, with thanksgiving and the benediction.

DEATH OF MRS. CORKERY.

The death of Miss Marguerite Mary, eldest daughter of Mr. Thomas Corkery, and niece of Ald. Corkery, will come with a sad shock to her many friends in Peterborough and surrounding district. The deceased young lady was but 26 years of age. She had been in her usual good health up to about a week ago, when she suffered from an attack of grippe. Her condition becoming serious, she was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital about 8 days ago, and notwithstanding everything that science could do to relieve her sufferings, she gradually sank until the end. Miss Corkery was esteemed and beloved by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance, and her demise will be sincerely regretted by a very large circle of friends. The funeral took place this morning from the family residence, 270 King street, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

FINED FIFTY DOLLARS.

William Armstrong, of White Lake was fined fifty dollars yesterday, by Magistrate Edmonson, on a charge of selling liquor without a license. The information was laid by License Inspector J. J. Crowe, of East Peterborough, and the defendant pleaded guilty.

EXAMINE THEM.

The "Coffee-Never-Hurt Me" People.

Some famous brain workers have made a welcome discovery along the line of recovery of health by the proper selection of food. Several were of the "Coffee-never-hurt-me" kind, but, as an experiment, tried leaving it off ten days, and the use of Postum Cereal Food Coffee in its place. A definite and decided improvement in health is practically certain to attend such a change.

Look carefully into the state of health of the individual who knows that "coffee don't hurt me," and you are almost sure to find some form of physical or functional disturbance—perhaps muddy complexion, or weak eyes, incipient heart failure, kidney trouble, liver or bowel disorders, or some form of weakness that shows plainly enough by the cry for relief sent up from some organ of the body.

Why does the diabolical of Coffee and the use of Postum bring help? Experiments in artificial digestion show clearly to the scientific investigator that coffee is indigestible, and according to one authority, allows only 61 per cent. of the food to be digested. That strikes at the very key-stone to the arch of health. Failure in digestion means lack of good blood, and therefore a lack of food for the nerve centers. As the nerves control the organs of the entire body, one can readily understand that a disorganized nervous system may show effect in any part of the body. Therefore, a removal of the cause will allow nature to right herself. A powerful assistant to nature is Postum Cereal Food Coffee, composed of the albumen, phosphates, gluten, etc., from which nature builds in the delicate tissues of the nerves.

Postum aids digestion without drug-ing, and furnishes a concentrated liquid food as well as a most delicious morning Coffee.

If the reader has ever failed to make Postum satisfactory, it will be found that to allow it to boil is minutes after boiling commences will solve the problem. It is not to be boiled to extract taste, color and food value. It is the only original Food Coffee with a pleasant coffee flavor. Many imitations of Postum are now upon the market. The only reliable ones thus far tested were to be made of a low grade of coffee, and some other articles, notwithstanding the loud claims that they are "pure."

SHOOTING AND FISHING.

The Season When One May Legally Fish and Shoot.

The Game Laws as Amended by the Ontario Legislature—Sporting Men Should Cut This Out and Paste It in Their Mail.

Now that the fishing season is at hand it would be well for anglers to familiarize themselves with the laws of both Ontario and Quebec. In Ontario laws shall not be caught, sold or had in possession of anyone from April 15th to June 15th; muskellunge from April 15th to June 15th; pickerel (dore) from April 15th to May 15th; speckled trout from Sept. 15th to May 15th; salmon trout from October 15th to December 15th; whitefish from November 15th to December 15th.

In Quebec the close season for fish is: Bass, from April 15th to June 15th; muskellunge, from May 15th to July 15th; pickerel (dore), from April 15th to May 15th; speckled trout, from October 15th to May 15th; salmon trout, from October 15th to December 15th; whitefish, from November 15th to December 15th.

CLOSE SEASON FOR GAME.

The close season for game in Ontario is: Deer—Between November 15 and November 15 in following year.

Partridge—Between December 15th and September 15th of following year.

Duck of any kind—Between December 15 and September 15 in following year.

Woodcock—Between December 15th and September 15th in following year.

Snipe—Between December 15 and September 15 in following year.

Plover—Between December 15 and September 15 in following year.

These laws subject to change.

The close season for game in Quebec is: Caribou—Between February 1st to September 1st in any year.

Moose—Between February 1st to September 1st in any year.

Duck—Between February 1st and September 1st in any year.

Partridge—Between February 1st and September 1st in any year.

Woodcock—Between February 1st and September 1st in any year.

Snipe—Between February 1st and September 1st in any year.

Plover—Between February 1st and September 1st in any year.

These laws are subject to change.

FISHING REGULATIONS.

Some fishery regulations which anglers should observe are:

Fishing by means of any kind of net, snare, rack, trap, weir, night line, seine, spear, grapple, negor or niganon, or by any other means or apparatus whatever, without a fishing license, license or permit from the Commissioner of Fisheries having been first obtained, is prohibited; but nothing in this section shall prevent angling without a license for any fish except sturgeon. No sturgeon shall be caught, taken or killed by any means whatever without a license first had and obtained.

No person shall take, catch or kill in any of the waters of this province in one day by angling or shall carry away a greater number than twelve black or Oswego or large mouthed bass, twenty green bass, twenty pickerel, or four muskellunge.

No person shall take, catch or kill in one day by angling a greater number of speckled or brook trout than in the aggregate shall weigh more than 15 lbs. or a greater number than 10 speckled or brook trout, though said number weighs less than 15 lbs.

No bass less than ten inches in length, no speckled trout less than six inches in length and no muskellunge less than fifteen inches in length shall be retained or kept out of the water, sold, offered or exposed for sale or had in possession; but every person who takes or catches any of the fish mentioned of less than the minimum measurement named shall immediately return such undersized fish to the water.

Any person or persons violating any of the above regulations shall be liable to the fines and penalties provided by act. H. S. O., Cap. 285, and amending acts.

Yours most respectfully,

A. KINGSOOTE, Rec.-Sec.

PETERBOROUGH BEN.

Mr. R. S. Davidson received a letter yesterday from Mr. W. Taylor, Vice-President of the Bank of Montreal, stating that the famous dog, Peterborough Ben, was in that city, in Mr. Taylor's charge. The dog, it will be remembered, only recently returned with the Strathcona Horse from South Africa. It was announced that Ben was to return to Peterborough last week, but Mr. Taylor says that he is making enquiries from Lord Strathcona as to what disposition is to be made of the dog. It is altogether likely he will order him to be returned to Mr. Davidson, in which case his "bark" will be steered for Peterborough.

"CINDERELLA."

Pretty Presentation in Ashburnham Last Night.

New England Comedy "From Pumpkin Ridge" Also Given by the Guild of St. Luke's.

Though begun under adverse circumstances, the entertainment in Ashburnham Town Hall last night was a success. A fall of rain did not prevent the hall being crowded. There was something wrong with the gas supply and kerosene lamps hastily improvised made a very imperfect illumination, but soon after the curtain rose gas was furnished and showed a tasteful and charming decoration of the national colors. The entertainment was gotten up by Miss Calcutt and the Young Women's Chapter of the Guild of St. Luke's Church. A pretty and witty musical version of "Cinderella" was first presented, with the following cast of characters:

Fairy Queen..... Florence Bulcher.
Cinderella..... Florence Scott.
Prince..... J. J. Turner, Jr.
Baron..... H. Bell.
Baroness..... Miss Fitzgerald.
Walter..... George Rogers.
Step-Sisters..... Misses K. Phillips and M. Adams.
Attendants to the Prince..... Mr. Parker and Mr. Purser.
Ladies..... Miss Mead and Miss Calcutt.
Page..... Mr. Patterson and Mr. Burnham.
Fairies..... Misses Lillian Rogers, Lillian Scott, Muriel Scott, Hilda Symonds, Antoinette Parker, Florence Howden, Clara Adams, Hazel Crane, Eva Crane, Kathleen Long, Rita Gaskin, and Jessie Moore.

The fairies were daintily garbed and sang and danced with pleasing grace. The adult characters were also nicely costumed and well represented.

After "Cinderella" there came an interlude, during which a stirring instrumental duet was rendered by Mrs. Spence and Miss Touchette. The farce-comedy "From Pumpkin Ridge" ended the entertainment and seemed to please the audience immensely. The actors showed great talent worthy of a more pretentious play. The cast was as follows:

Jonathan Scroggin..... F. Pakenham.
Miss Brown..... Miss C. Brown.
Annie Brown..... Miss Helen C. Brown.
Augustus Stimpson..... J. J. Turner, Jr.
Harry Clifton..... H. Bell.
Folsom..... H. Burnham.
Belinda Jane Hopkins..... Miss Annie Burnham.

It is no light task to prepare for such an entertainment and it was carried out with credit and thoroughness. Some of the ladies of St. Luke's congregation showed their appreciation by giving a supper to the performers after the performance.

RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE.

Mrs. Wm. Payne is in receipt of the following resolution of condolence, passed by Lansdowne Lodge No. 26, Sons of England—

Peterborough, April 23, 1901.

Dear Madam,—At the last regular meeting of Lansdowne Lodge No. 26, S.O.E.S., the following resolution was adopted, and ordered to be forwarded to you:—

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God in His infinite mercy to remove from our midst your beloved husband and our brother, we feel that we cannot pass it over without extending to yourself and family our deepest heartfelt sympathy in your hour of bereavement. We therefore commend you to the Source of All Comfort, who alone can heal the broken hearted, and may He give you grace to look forward to that happy re-union where parting never comes.

On behalf of the members of Lansdowne Lodge, No. 26, S.O.E.S.,

Yours most respectfully,

A. KINGSOOTE, Rec.-Sec.

AUSTRIA AND MEXICO CLASP HANDS AGAIN

The Diplomatic Relations Broken Emperor Maximilian Was Slain in Mexico, Will Now be Resumed.

PRESIDENT DIAZ of Mexico.

Vienna, April 25. The official Frobenblatt to-day says the friendly rapprochement between Austria and Mexico, in consequence of the erection of an expository chapel at Queretaro, where Emperor Maximilian was executed will result in an early resumption of diplomatic relations, interrupted since 1867, the year the Emperor was shot.

In 1868 the French troops were withdrawn and Maximilian left to contend against Juarez, who had raised the standard of independence. In May, 1867, Maximilian fell into the hands of the Mexicans, and after a trial by court-martial, was shot on July 19.

COL. DRURY REPLIES TO HARDING DAVIS.

Explains Why British Prisoners Were Removed From Pretoria.

GOT TOO MUCH INFORMATION.

Woodstock, April 24.—Colonel Drury, who was with the Second Canadian contingent in South Africa, was in town last night. In the course of a conversation with a number of friends, the Colonel gave an interesting explanation of how the British officers who were prisoners at Pretoria before the fall of the city came to be accused of unbecoming conduct to the Boer women. Richard Harding Davis, the well known novelist and war correspondent, got himself tabooed from the Author's Club in London for openly making the accusation that British officers in Pretoria had been guilty of insulting conduct towards the Boer women, and that they had been removed from the school building in which they were imprisoned to the race course of means of stopping the alleged insults.

BRITISH SOLDIERS' GREATEST REWARD

Three Canadians Decorated With the V. C. for Distinguished Gallantry.

COCKBURN, TAYLOR HOLLAND.

The Boats Which Will Send Their Names Down to History Were Performed at Koomatipoort.

London, April 24.—According to the Gazette last night three Canadians have been awarded the Victoria Cross for conspicuous bravery at Koomatipoort River on November 7 last. Lieuts. H. Z. C. Cockburn and R. E. W. Turner, and Sergt. E. Holland, all of the Royal Canadian Dragoons.

Lieut. Cockburn is a Toronto man, and holds the rank of captain in the Governor-General's Body Guard. Lieut. Turner is an officer of the Queen's Own Canadian Hussars at Quebec, and Sergt. Holland, before enlisting for South Africa, was a member of the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards at Ottawa.

The acts for which the men received the much coveted honor were performed at Koomatipoort. The enemy made a determined charge on the Canadian guns, the retirement of which was covered by a squadron of Canadian Dragoons, under Lieuts. Cockburn and Turner, who with a few comrades fought until those who were not killed and wounded were captured by the Boers.

Later on in the same day the Colt automatic machine gun, under Sergt. Holland detached the gun from the carriage, placed it under his arm, and, mounting his horse, rode off with it, under a hail of Boer bullets.

RUSTENBERG RELIEVED AGAIN. Pretoria, April 24.—The pretty little village of Rustenburg, situated about half way between here and Mafeking, and completely isolated from railway communication, has again been under siege. From January 11th last till just a week ago, when relieved by General Cunningham, Major B. Doran with about 1,500 men, has been surrounded there. The investing Boers confined themselves to raiding the stock collected by the garrison, and they succeeded in closing all telegraph communications with the outside world, except by heliograph with Pretoria, by which means the besieged Britons were informed of the Queen's death. If the defence had been weaker they possibly would have been attacked.

Major-General Baden-Powell's was besieged at Rustenburg for six weeks, being relieved on August 7th by Lord Methuen. Baden-Powell's force at that time, included "C" Battery, Royal Canadian Artillery, who erected a large substantial fort there, known as Fort Canada.

AFFAIRS IN ALL DIRECTIONS. Cape Town, April 23.—The Boers in Namaqualand are still operating in the neighborhood of Pella. Fromenka's commando, Kenhardt district, has been very active lately. Kritzinger, Fouché, Scheepers, and Malan are also raiding Cape Colony.

The engineer and stoker of a train held up by the Boers near Stormberg on Monday, were especially commended for their gallantry. The Boers captured the cattle which were aboard the train.

Reports vary as to the present location of Gen. Christian De Wet, but it is generally believed that he is in the neighborhood of Amekal, Orange River Colony.

It is officially stated that the number of Boer prisoners is now 17,123.

BROTHER SPIES ARRESTED. Mafeking, April 24.—The two Gertze brothers have been arrested at their farm in Rooigrond. A squad of Boers was seen to enter the farm-house, and on the advance of the British patrol the enemy tried, killing one of our fellows and wounding another. The arrest of the Gertze brothers is regarded as important, as they are believed to have been engaged in many traitorous acts.

MACDONALD LEAVES AFRICA. Cape Town, April 24.—General Sir Hector Macdonald, the Earl of Erroll and Lord Norham ex-Governor of Bombay, sailed for Southampton to-day on the Carlsbrook Castle. "Fighting Mac" was honored by a luncheon given by the Cape Highland Society, before sailing.

WOMEN TO BIDE ASIDE.

Brooklyn Girls Promise a Sensation at the Far-Coming Horse Show.

New York, April 24.—Young lady members of the Brooklyn Riding and Driving club promise a sensation at the horse show to be held across the river the latter part of this week. They will ride satiride. One of them said today: "This opposition to riding across saddle is all a bunch. Women do it out west; they do it in Boston. Why, I've seen well known London society leaders ride satiride down the row. There's nothing immodest about it. All who have seen a woman ride across saddle have been forced to admit that the sight was not at all shocking. Any woman who has ridden that way never wants to use the side-saddle again. It is a safe, natural and altogether graceful position, and the young women of Brooklyn are not going to be deterred from following a sensible fashion just because a lot of old fogies hold their bands up in horror. Many a girl who rides across saddle would be ashamed to appear in some of the 'bitch' costumes that these very particular menions affect."

'ROUND ABOUT TOWN

The suckers are now being caught by the barrel.

Lakefield wants the G.T.R. to erect a new station there.

The steam dredge will begin work next week at the lift lock.

Mr. J. H. Brandon, Fensal Falls, was in town yesterday on business.

Work on the Lakefield Cement Company's factory is being vigorously pushed.

Considerable damage was done at the lift lock by rain, the banks sliding into the excavation.

The census enumerators are "falling up" with their work. Some have completed their labors.

Mr. W. Vance, postmaster, Millbrook, was in town yesterday and gave The Times a friendly call.

Here is a suggestion made by The Times to an esteemed subscriber: How would it do to tax all narrow girths?

The Dan Spence Memorial committee will meet in the Town Council Chamber to-morrow evening.

A local barber suggested to The Times the advisability of closing at 7 o'clock during the summer months. Next!

Don't forget the public meeting to-morrow night. Let there be a big turnout and an old-time celebration on May 31th.

Mr. Couch Grylle of the Sunbeam, was in town yesterday and reports work on his new steamer as progressing rapidly.

The circulation of the Weekly Times covers 75 per cent. of the best homes in the district. Advertisers should make a note of this.

The Cereal Company's engineers are experiencing some trouble in striking the bed rock. A boring machine is being brought from Toronto.

The Mrs. Barling wanted on account of her sick son, formerly kept hotel in a small rough-cast house on Hunter street, near the Carey House.

There are rumors that a fine injustice, from the heads up the table. But a trust that Times Ads bring work is a trust that never fails.

Dr. Beattie, who for the past four weeks has been confined to the St. John's Hospital with illness, was to Cobourg at noon, where his friends reside.

The Canadian Order of Foresters have chartered the City of Peterborough for their annual picnic and excursion on Dominion Day.

Mr. W. G. Ferguson requests that persons owning stakes that have been left at the skating rink will please take them away immediately, or run the risk of their loss.

A meeting will be held at the Bank of Commerce to-morrow evening, at eight o'clock, for the purpose of forming a Lawn Bowling Association, suitable grounds having been secured.

The fact that three Canadian Colonists have been made Commissioners of the Bath, is not, of course, any reflection on other Canadian officers. Col. Edwards, for instance, is said to bathe quite frequently.

A little daughter arrived at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cunniff, No. 6 Walton St., during the small hours of yesterday morning. We fear their many friends in congratulating them.

At an early hour yesterday morning the infant son of Mrs. and Mr. Herbert Morphet, Walton St., was taken very ill. Prompt medical attention, however, soon relieved the little sufferer, who is now doing nicely.

Mr. W. J. Pearson, the well known Montreal horse buyer, was in town yesterday and purchased a load of fine stock. Mr. Pearson says that the demand for horses is good, with fair prices being paid.

Miss Muriel Jarrott and Miss Sadie Brown, of Toronto, who have been the guests of the Misses Louis and Nora Stanleys, were delightfully entertained by their hostesses on Tuesday evening. Miss Jarrott returned to the city yesterday.

Several months ago Premier Duggan offered to sell his railway to the Great Northern, but now the coal mines and thousands of acres of land grants are included. The road is 200 miles in length, and it and the mines give employment to about 4,000 men. Mr. Duggan will be given credit in the American Smelter Company.

MR. JOHN GLASS HONORED. Mr. John Glass was the recipient of a very flattering address, accompanied by a handsome gold headed cane, from his Sunday School Class, on the occasion of his departure from Peterborough. Mr. Glass was taken by surprise. In his expression of sincerest gratitude, he said it was cause for great regret on his part that he was leaving town. He would ever cherish fond remembrances of his pleasant associations with the young men of his Sunday school class.

A VALUABLE PRESENT.

Mr. Edwin Skene, taxidermist has presented a very beautifully mounted deer head to the Y.M.C.A. It has been placed in the reception room, in a most conspicuous position and adds much to the attractiveness of the interior.

FIFTY SMALLPOX CENTRES IN ONTARIO

Provincial Board of Health Trying to Confine the Disease Within Municipal Control.

ALARMING NUMBER OF PEOPLE NOT VACCINATED.

Toronto, April 24.—The quarterly meeting of the Provincial Board of Health was held Wednesday morning at the Parliament Buildings. Dr. Vaux, Hamilton, chairman, Dr. McCulloch, Owen Sound, Dr. Oldright, Dr. Cassidy, Toronto; Dr. Kitchen, St. George; and Dr. P. H. Bryce, secretary, being among those present.

The Town of Prescott is putting in a new waterworks and sewerage system. For the latter the model plumbing system suggested by the Board of Health was adopted, but a number of the plumbers objected to the iron soil pipes provided, as they were too heavy. The town was notified that the pipes suggested were none too heavy for safe and sanitary plumbing.

A letter had been received from the Secretary, R. S. Weir, of the Anti-Vaccination League protesting against the compulsory vaccination provisions of the law, and asking that they should be annulled. The letter stated that vaccination was not a scientific discovery. "It originated with milk maids," the writer stated that much of the vaccine matter provided was poisonous and created lasting evil effects on those inoculated in many instances.

Dr. Bryce read his quarterly report in which he said that returns of the quarter show the death rate to be in excess of that of last year due largely to diphtheria, and the consequences of grippe. The smallpox outbreak had not been responsible for many deaths, as its nature was not very violent as yet. Smallpox was very prevalent in the United States, where its danger was only surpassed by the outbreak of bubonic plague in San Francisco. There the occurrence of that dread disease has been kept secret by city authorities, as well as the State of California Board of Health, although it had existed for months.

THE PRESENT SITUATION. The instructions sent out to Ontario doctors showing how to properly diagnose smallpox had been of great benefit, as they had aroused the medical men to a proper sense of the danger. There were 50 smallpox centres in Ontario. The object of the Provincial Board's exertions had been to confine the disease within municipal control. The experience had been that once smallpox got outside the control of the municipalities it was almost impossible to check it. An alarming number of persons all over Ontario are not protected against smallpox by vaccination. Especially was this so in the cases of the shanty men in the New Ontario, where practically none of the men were vaccinated. In the older parts of the province the people were not alive to the danger, and the local boards seemed afraid to enforce the law regarding vaccination. It was hoped that no evil result would occur.

It had been found that in a number of instances medical men had issued certificates of vaccination to people who had not been vaccinated at all, and another case in Toronto was where a doctor gave a white powder and then issued his certification of vaccination. This was done to secure the admission of children to the schools. The opinion of the board was that these practitioners should be prosecuted.

Attached to the report was a complete description of a typical case of smallpox, as well as the conditions that would result from a good vaccination. The importance of vaccination was enlarged upon, and statistics quoted to prove that it prevented the smallpox. The report concluded "The urgency of the situation demands that this board makes public its views on a subject, which the public have been ignorant or careless of, and that it impress its views in the most positive manner upon local health authorities in all parts of the province."

A special report on smallpox will be presented this afternoon.

TORONTO GIRL HAS BEEN KIDNAPPED

Katie Chidley Taken Away That She Might Not Give Testimony.

MOTHER VERY ILL WITH GRIEF

The victim of the kidnappers is little Katie Chidley, aged 14 years, the daughter of Mrs. Jessie Chidley of 337 Queen street east, the widow of Rock Chidley. Last fall William Culligan, leader of the orchestra at the Princess Theatre, was arrested on a serious charge, in which little Katie was the principal witness. He was committed for trial. The case came up last fall, but Culligan had jumped his bail. The bail was forfeited, and shortly before the session opened here three weeks ago Culligan's bondsmen made arrangements for him to surrender and stand trial. The day the case was called in the sessions Kate Chidley disappeared.

She was last seen in Huntley street that afternoon. In company with a notorious East End rough, Culligan did not appear at the sessions, and it was suspected had been kept out of the way in order to prevent Culligan's conviction, would be allowed to return next day or the next week. It is over three weeks since the girl disappeared, and her mother is ill with grief. Detective Foreman is at work on the case. The girl when she disappeared wore a dark cap and dark clothing. She is stout and well built for her age. Her hair is dark brown.

AGAIN IN TROUBLE.

At the police court yesterday morning May Roy, a young girl 16 years of age, was charged with having stolen $10 from Robert Collin, of North Monaghan. She pleaded guilty and will come up for sentence on Monday. May is a bright looking little girl, and does not appear to appreciate the gravity of the situation. This is her second offence.

BURNS FOUND GUILTY.

Burns, who was committed for trial by Police Magistrate Dumble, came before the County Criminal Court yesterday for trial. His Honor Judge Walker presiding.

He was tried on two charges—one of larceny, and one of resisting arrest. After hearing the evidence, he was adjudged guilty on both charges and was sentenced to three months in gaol at hard labor.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES.

Yokohama, April 24. The claim that Japan will make upon China for indemnities amounts to 4,760,000 pounds sterling.

Tien Sin, April 24. The British have discovered nineteen Krupp guns with a quantity of ammunition buried in the vicinity of Shanghai Kwan.

Dayton, Ohio, April 24. Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton express went through bridge near Johnson station eight miles south of this city. Five people reported killed.

LAKEHURST

—Rev. Mr. Edmison, of Queen's University, occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church here last Sunday.
—Rev. Mr. Roadhouse preached a good sermon last Sunday evening. In spite of the rain, the attendance was as usual.
—The Sunday School in connection with the Methodist Church here, is to be started next Sunday. Mr. A. L. Shearer is to superintend it.
—Miss Dora Irwin, of "verloch" is confined to her room with a very severe sore throat. Her many friends are hoping for her speedy recovery.
—Mr. Robert Shaw is having his house renovated—new floors, etc.

MT. PLEASANT

—Mrs. Samuel Casey is visiting at her former home with her relatives, at Garden Hill, Ont.
—Mr. J. F. Staples, the thoroughbred stock raiser, sold a horse a few days ago for one thousand three hundred dollars.
—The pulpit of the Presbyterian church was occupied by a Persian on the 21st inst. He left Persia about six years ago, and is now a medical student at Toronto. He expects to return to his native country in about two years, having another year to finish his course in medicine, after which he will go to Knox College and study theology for one year. He thinks that having thus prepared himself he will be able to do the work of a missionary in that country. He told us of the mild climate, the great variety of fruits grown there, the state of society and the different religious sects which inhabit that country. Why is it that these fine countries are allowed to be overgrown by savage bands; could they not be driven out and Ontario take possession?
—Farmers are rejoicing at the prospects for a great crop of fall wheat.

Dangerous Anarchist Said to be on Board Steamer Malle.

Madrid, April 24.—It is reported here that on the arrival at Vigo of the German steamer Stromer, from Buenos Ayres March 27, there was an anarchist on board believed to be implicated in a plot against the lives of several European sovereigns, formed in Rosario, Argentina, and Paterson, N. J. The man refused to land. According to El Imparcial of this city, the German police are awaiting the arrival of the Malle at Bremen to arrest him.

RESULTS OF BANK AMALGAMATION

The Canadian Bank of Commerce Completes the Purchase of the Assets of the Bank of British Columbia.

The Bank's Capital Now Eight Million Dollars and Assets Over Sixty-three Millions.

The negotiations for the purchase of the assets of the Bank of British Columbia by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, an announcement respecting which was made some months ago, have been carried to a successful conclusion. A thorough examination of the affairs of the Bank of British Columbia was made by the officials of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and the proving entirely satisfactory; the amalgamation was finally completed. A statement of the affairs of the Canadian Bank of Commerce after the amalgamation has now been issued, and discloses a very strong position. In point of capital and reserve the Bank now ranks fourth among banking institutions on the continent of America. It has 82 branches throughout Canada; five branches in the United States, namely, at New York, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland (Oregon), and San Diego (California); and one in London, England; 98 establishments in all. The acquisition of the London office is an important step in the progress of the Bank. The bank's transactions in sterling exchange in the United States and Canada each year amount to many millions of pounds, and the ability to handle this business through the Bank's London office will result in an important addition to the earning power of the Bank. In many other directions also the interests of the two banks will be immensely benefited by the amalgamation.

The following is a condensation of the statement issued by the bank at the close of business on the 31st of March:

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62064, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet.

This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The workings of these radiators side by side with the ordinary may be seen at any time at the Company's office, in either steam or water, and you are invited to examine them here, whether you desire to take stock in the Company or not.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock of radiators.

Dated at Toronto this 18th day of February, A. D. 1901.

She was 49 years old and apparently

Judge Meagher of Halifax Denounces Rampant Crime There.

Halifax, April 24.—In addressing a jury, Judge Meagher yesterday said that there was scarcely a Government department in which stealing was not going on, and the criminals in every instance were protected from the penalty provided by law. He thought that the audacious condition of affairs applied with a special force to Halifax. He referred to the big steal made by a cashier of one of the Halifax banks not long ago, and condemned the citizens who covered up his crime and paid back the amount of his steal.

Thieves, he contended, permeated every branch of commercial enterprise in the city, and their criminality was invariably covered up.

PRICE TWO CENTS

PRINCESS EULALIA TO BE DIVORCED

Royal Princess of Spain Seeks Divorce From Her Husband,

London, April 26.—Don Antonio De Bourbon has written to a friend here that he has obtained the services of one of the most distinguished advocates in Madrid in order to secure a divorce from the Infanta Eulalia. Though steps for divorce are only now being taken the actual separation of the couple occurred last June.

PRINCESS EULALIA OF SPAIN

The Princess Eulalia will be remembered as the Spanish bit of royalty that "honored" the world's fair at Chicago with personal presence. The Prince Antonio, son of the Duc de Montpensier, was in Chicago with her in 1893, but attracted little attention. The couple had two sons, who remain in the care of the princess. Princess Eulalia was for many years only third in the succession of the throne of Spain. She was popular at Madrid, and it was often said that she would have made a better regent than her sister-in-law, Christina. That, however, was before the latter had been tried with the experience which have since endeared her to the Spanish populace. The princess was married when was 22. She is now on the shady side of 40. For some time past her home has been either in England or France.

With the political life of Spain she has had very little to do since her own chances of ascending the throne disappeared. As for Prince Antonio, he is called in Paris "a gay duck," and as having an eye for a great many things not approved of by royalty, or even common people. When in Chicago he appeared to be a devoted husband.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Mischievous are some of the methods employed by Teachers.

A good deal of fault is being found with the absurd methods employed by many teachers in our local schools in teaching arithmetic. These methods simply confuse the pupil and teach nothing. A reader left the following "problem," which was the last day given by the teacher to his ten-year-old son, to be solved at home:

"Express how many square inches there are in seven-fifths of an acre."

Now, could anything be more radically and utterly absurd? Did any one in Ontario, or on top of earth, ever have occasion to know the answer to that problem, or who cares how many square inches there are in any fraction of an acre, or in an hundred-acre farm, or a quarter-section, or a timber limit? Of course, it can be easily figured by any one grounded in the simple elements of arithmetic if he ever wants to know. Then why not teach the simple elements thoroughly?—they contain everything necessary for the solving of any problem. But to put such a question to a boy of ten is not teaching at all—it is torture.

MEETING POSTPONED.

The meeting which was to have taken place last night for the purpose of organizing a bowling club, has been postponed until Monday evening, to take place in the parlors of the Bank of Commerce. All interested will please take notice.

TAKING THE BRITISH LOAN.

Americans Subscribe for $11,000,000, but Will Get Only $1,000,000.

New York, April 26.—The subscription in this country to the British loan aggregate about $75,000,000. It is not believed that more than one-fifth of this sum will be awarded to American subscribers. Thus far no gold shipments have resulted from the subscription to the British bond. The $1,000,000 which is to be sent abroad by the National City bank and $1,000,000 that has been engaged for export by a Nassau street firm were simply the result of ordinary exchange transactions. The gold will be shipped to-day.

T. A. S. ENTERTAINMENT.

The Merchant of Venice was presented by amateurs to a crowded house last night. The entertainment, which was presented by local talent, was one of the best amateur dramas ever seen in Peterborough.

All the characters took their parts in a manner which showed the effect of several months' hard training, and every act was heartily applauded.

Prof. Glidden's philharmonic orchestra gave several selections between acts. Mr. A. F. Saunders delighted the audience with a baritone solo, entitled "Love's Old Sweet Song," and on being recalled gave the old favorite "Answer."

Considerable credit is due Miss Katie McGrath, who at a great expense of time and trouble, trained the members of the company.

The entertainment, which was in aid of St. Joseph's Hospital, was a decided financial success.

There is some talk of presenting this very popular play again in the Opera House next week.

PEOPLE YOU KNOW.

—Mr. T. J. Gough is in Toronto on business.

—Mrs. W. H. Robertson is in Fenion Falls on a large visit.

—Mr. T. B. B. passed through town yesterday for Toronto on business.

—Mr. Fred Roy has returned from Kirkfield, where he took some very fine views of the Peat works.

—Mr. Ernest Bellegue left yesterday for Halifax to take a year's term in the military school there.

—Mr. Will Patterson, the Queen's medical student, returned to Kingston yesterday to resume his studies.

—Mr. and Mrs. Kavanagh, of Toronto, are in town. Mrs. Kavanagh is superintendent of the Mercer Reformatory.

—Miss Lillian Hurley returned yesterday from Greenburg, where she acted as bridesmaid, the wedding of her friend, Miss Brennan, formerly of Ashburnham.

—Mr. T. E. Bradburn has accepted the agency for Peterborough for the Atlas Assurance Company, of London, one of the oldest fire companies of the Old Country.

—The many friends of Mr. Wm. Helm are pleased to see him once more on the street after a long period of illness. The Times joins in wishing him complete recovery.

—Mr. P. H. Gurnish, of the Baptist church, who, for some time was engaged in establishing the branch at Indian River, and for some time assisted Rev. Mr. Elliott, at Park-st. church, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Baptist church at Pontiac, Michigan.

—Hastings Star.—Mr. Henry Johnson, Hastings' well-known financier, left yesterday morning for an extended tour through Mexico, Texas and California, coming home by way of British Columbia. Health and weather permitting Mr. Johnson will visit the Klondike and intend bringing his friends a nugget apiece from the gold fields. Henry said not to say anything about it—but he was sure this time to bring home the wife. If he does not our idea of his errand to the sunny South will be knocked out. Mr. Johnson will be away over three months.

—The meeting which was to have been held in the Bank of Commerce building Thursday for the purpose of organizing a bowling club, has been postponed until Monday evening on account of several other attractions this evening.

—Y.M.C.A. ATHLETICS.

Parents and those interested are invited to the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium to-night to witness the winding up of the indoor work for the season of 1900-1901, commencing at 8. Boys accompanied by a guardian not admitted.

—LACROSSE.

One by one the old players are becoming enthusiastic and announcing their intention of getting into the game again this summer. Jack Meen now says he'll try in another season. A meeting of the Peterboroughs should be called next week to decide on the question of grounds.

—HARRY DOWNING. Hastings' star lacrosse player, has been fobbed by Bracebridge and has gone to that town for the season. Harry is a fast man and should strengthen the Bracebridge home division materially.

—BASEBALL.

A baseball player in the California League was made the recipient of a gold watch. In receiving the gift he was addressed as follows: "Wear this gift proudly in memory of the honor until life's game shall be ended; and when the recording angel shall have made up your life's score may the error column be clean; may you be credited with an 'assist' for every good deed performed; may it show that you struck out every unworthy inclination, and when your last 'time up' shall come, may the record that you won't cheerfully to the 'bat' knocked out four bigger and was declared 'safe' on the home plate by the Great Empire on High."

—CRICKET.

The Campbellford Cricket Club has reorganized with the following officers:—

Hon. President—A. A. Mulholland.

Patron and Patroness—Dr. and Mrs. Macoun.

President—W. C. Boddy.

Vice-President—Dr. Scherk.

2nd Vice-President—L. E. Burrows.

Sec.-Treas.—T. S. Tait.

Committee of Management—J. C. Fowles, D. E. Tait, R. Donnelly, Jr., Committee to Solicit Subscriptions—T. S. Tait and J. C. Fowles.

—THE TURF.

Mr. L. G. Bennett, of Port Hope, Ont., who drove Looker Glass, 219-1-1, in his ice races last winter, says the report that that horse is one of the "cold storage" sort is without foundation as he has driven him in 214 over one of the worst half-mile tracks in Canada, on one of the hottest of August days. Mr. Bennett says Looker Glass' poor showing when he was brought to the State to be raced, was simply because he was not properly balanced and he predicts that the ice racer will be the fastest in Canada next summer if he meets with no bad luck.

—THE FALL WHEAT.

Reports from almost all points in Ontario indicate that the fall wheat has wintered in comparative safety. On light soil the plants are healthy, and under heavier conditions, where the land is rolling, the promise is good. Only on level fields where ice formed there are patches where the plants are killed. On the whole an average crop may safely be counted on. Mr. Biehard, M. P., told The Times yesterday that the crops never looked better in his section than they do this year.

BOER OFFICER GOES TO CONSULT KRUGER

Captain Francis J. Turner is Entertained in Chicago.

HE TALKS ABOUT THE WAR.

He Denounces the Reports Sent Out by the British as Utterly False. Turner is What Canadians Would Call a "Bag of Wind."

Special to The Times.

Chicago, April 26.—Captain Francis J. Turner, an American engineer and officer in the Transvaal army, who arrived in Chicago a few days ago on his way to Europe to consult with President Kruger on Boer matters, was interviewed yesterday afternoon at McCall's hotel by members of the Irish-American ambulance corps, headed by Captain Patrick O'Connor, and by the local Transvaal league.

Captain Turner, who is a native of New York, and whose father was killed at the battle of Gettysburg, has been in South Africa since 1895. He was associated in Rhodesia and in the Transvaal for several years with W. C. Herford, a South African capitalist, and subsequently became a mineowner himself. He was a confidential officer of President Kruger and General Botha, under whom he held a roving commission as captain.

Captain Turner, who was formerly an engineer on the Louisville and Nashville road, was assigned the task of blowing up the Modder, Karoo, and Vet river bridges. He was in charge of the engine of the last train that steamed out of Bloemfontein when Lord Roberts entered the city. His last official act prior to leaving through Portuguese territory was escorting Michael Davitt to the mountain fastnesses to hold council with the Presidents and commanders of the South African republics. Captain Turner lost a finger of his left hand at Colenso, and at Ladysmith a piece of shell struck him on the left cheek.

"I am on my way to meet President Kruger in Europe," said Captain Turner, "on matters which I do not care to make public, and will leave for the continent on the first Rotterdam steamer in May. I have closely watched the development of the present war since the Janse raid, in which I declined to take part. In 1895, when the raiders concentrated at Mafeking, I was there."

REPORTS NOT ACCURATE.

"Reports concerning the South African war as you get them in this country are subsidized and mostly emanate from London, where they are promulgated by parties interested in Kaffir stocks. When Kitchener's capture was reported, it was for the purpose of affecting the stock market. Then came the story that De Wet was a prisoner, and when that did not go they made out that he was insane. The British at present under Kitchener are at a standstill, the main bodies being concentrated at Pretoria, Bloemfontein, and Johannesburg, while the Boers are 300 or more miles in British territory and perilously active. Of the 220,000 British soldiers in South Africa it takes 140,000 to police the colonies, which are inhabited, in Cape Colony by four-fifths and in Natal by three-fifths per cent. Dutch."

"General De Wet is at present south of the Vaal River in the Orange Free State, where he is acting in conjunction with President Steyn, while General Botha is in the Leydenburg district. General Botha is in charge of the country on both sides of the railroad between the Natal and Transvaal borders, and while the whole fighting force does not amount to 14,000 it is so mobile that it keeps itself in the jump all the time."

—BOERS USE NO BIG GUNS.

"The stories about the capture of big guns from the Boers at present are all untrue, and if any are recovered you may rest assured that they were originally captured from the British. Neither is there any truth in the statement that peace overtures have been made by the Boers. General Roberts inaugurated the peace movement and offered General Botha £50,000 to surrender the northern army, but, of course, he declined."

—FROZEN TO DEATH IN ALASKA.

Young Pioneers of the Gold Field Perish in Blizzard.

Seattle, Wash., April 26.—Partial confirmation of the rumors of death by freezing in Alaska were received to-day. The Nome Gold Digger of Jan. 30 says:

"Dr. Felton, one of the best known and most esteemed young pioneers of Alaska, was frozen to death on the night of Jan. 1 near Solomon. He came from Oakland, Cal., and was 33 years old. Dan Anderson left Dexter for Nome about four weeks ago and has not been heard of since. It is feared that he perished in the New Year's blizzard. Dr. W. P. Baum perished while carrying medical assistance to a sick miner. Dr. Baum left Nome on June 21 last. He was a native of Mobile, Ala., and saw service in the Cuban war. This afternoon United States Marshal McLean brought into town the remains of a man from Solomon. Later they were identified as those of Alexander Snow. A horrible story was told at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday night of sixteen men and a woman shuddered together in a maimed and mutilated condition from frost bite in a cabin on Pilgrim river. Only half of them escaped death."

—Scrofula is a bad thing to inherit or acquire, but there is about it—Hood's Sarsaparilla completely cures even the worst cases.

—Subscribers to the Weekly Times are reminded that all accounts overdue for subscription will be placed in court for suit unless paid at once.

—A sad case was the removal of a young girl belonging to the town yesterday to the shelter, Toronto. The poor thing is simple in mind, and has been ruined by some blaguardy scoundrel.

—The closing exercises in connection with the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium will be held this evening from 8 to 10 o'clock. They will close the work inside until next fall, and the outdoor work will commence next week.

—It was a Lindsay man who filled up on milk shakes before retiring to his berth in the sleeping car, and on being taken into a hospital the next morning the doctor diagnosed his case and found him full of butter.

—Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, Peterborough's well known sail, tent and awning makers, received yesterday from London, England, a large order for camping outfit. This speaks well for the enterprise of this local firm.

—A prominent citizen suggested to the Times the advisability of having the Kerms repaid for the benefit of the Children's Aid Society. The idea is a capital one, only it does not take place till after house-cleaning season.

—The town is to spend five or six hundred dollars in rebuilding the gravestone walk on the north-east corner of George and Bruce streets this year. And yet there are a few who still pretend to maintain that a Town Engineer is indispensable.

—The legislature has passed a new act respecting High Schools and Collegiate Institutes. There are no very important alterations in the old act. Officers of the municipalities as well as members of the council are now disqualified as trustees. No use of the local board is effected by this clause.

DAN SPENCE MEMORIAL.

Public Meeting to Decide What Form
it Shall Take.

Suggestion That a Monument be Erected by the Duke of York in September.

A meeting of the Dan Spence memorial committee was held in the Council Chamber last night for the purpose of considering the disposition to be made of the funds collected for the proposed memorial. There is something over $100 in hand, and a large part of it was subscribed with the understanding that the money should be applied to the purchase of an ambulance, to be called the "Dan Spence Memorial Ambulance." But others are opposed to this idea, some otherwise favourable to the memorial even declining to subscribe for such a purpose. It appears Mr. A. Constock has added or is about to add an ambulance to his equipment, which will provide the town with all needed accommodation for conveyance of the injured or ailing.

After some discussion, in which the idea that the memorial should take the form of a monument in the park was favored, the committee decided to call a meeting of subscribers and the public generally for Thursday evening next, May 2nd. The question what form the memorial shall take will be submitted to this meeting for decision.

All the members of the committee present expressed themselves in favor of a monument in the park. Mr. McFarry, treasurer of the fund, suggested that it should be unveiled by the Duke of York in September.

CEREAL COMPANY NOTES.

The Big Dam which is to be built near Hants is now well proceeding.

The work of drilling for rock foundation is now well proceeding.

The construction of the new dam will be away with the logs of the dam altogether.

It is expected that fully $100,000 will be spent in building before the work is fully completed.

The effect of the proposed works is already having stimulating effect on business, and real estate is advancing in price.

When the Hydraulic Company completes their dam and buildings, the surplus power will be disposed of. It will thus be an inducement for other manufacturers to locate here.

The Peterborough Hydraulic Power
Co. have men at work taking soundings in the river near Hunter street, for the foundation of a dam, which it is proposed to build. Not only does the Company propose to build, but they also the Company propose supplying the American Cereal Co. with power, but the development will be such that many other concerns can be supplied with all that is necessary.

TONIGHTS MEETING.

Citizens should Turn Out in Large Numbers

The citizens of the town are asked to remember the meeting which has been called by Mayor Dineen for to-night for the purpose of discussing the wide tire by-law, and the proposition to hold a monster celebration in Peterborough on May 24th. Mayor Dineen is most enthusiastic over the latter question and asks the hearty co-operation of all classes of citizens. At the meeting to-night it would be well that representatives should be present from the various sporting organizations and from the different manufacturing establishments of the town. The Times would suggest that the matter be placed in the hands of a number of gentlemen like Messrs. Harry Winch, Harry LeBrun, R. S. Davidson, Ald. Rush, James English and others. Let us have one of the old time demonstrations, which is a sure winner.

JEERMYN.

Spring is again on hand and fer-mers are busy putting in the crop. The snow storm puts them back a few days.

Mr. Hector Nelson is spending a few days in Jermy. He will likely soon make it his future home.

Mr. J. Fife is preparing again for milk drawing and the people will be glad to see him coming around.

Mr. John Palin has purchased a new partridge dog from Dr. Harrison, and intends going hunting this fall.

Charles Manley is busy cutting shingles for P. O. Walker.

Mr. John Lang, M.P., is home from Ottawa and intends staying a few days.

Mr. Stewart Fife is leaving for the Northwest on Tuesday with a car load of cattle. We wish him good luck.

SMALLPOX IN LAKEFIELD.

A Case of The Dread Disease in Our Northern Village.

Man Named Orlando Morey the Victim. The Case is Isolated and Little Danger Apprehended.

Yesterday the startling news was received in town that smallpox had broken out in Lakefield. The Times at once interviewed Dr. J. R. Frazer, who confirmed the report.

It appears that Morey had been to the shanties during the winter, and is supposed to have taken the disease from some of his companions after his return from the woods. His companions, it seems, had been out in the shanty district.

The symptoms were such as warranted Morey being isolated, and as soon as Doctor Frazer saw him, he pronounced the disease smallpox. There is little fear of the infection spreading.

Morey is now confined to his own house, where are also his parents and grown sister.

RUSSIA NOT RIPE FOR FREEDOM

Goldwin Smith says it is Difficult to See How Political Revolution Can Come to a Head.

Mr. Goldwin Smith, in the Weekly
Sun, says:

It is difficult to learn the truth about the state of things in Russia.

The Government censorship is strict;
on the other hand, the European press, to which we must look for information, is very largely in the hands of Jews, the deadly enemies of Russia.

It is noted that now for the first time there is a riotous demonstration in the streets of St. Petersburg; but neither street mobs nor student outbreaks can shake the Government, while the army remains firm. (The visions of theorists, communists, anarchists, or nihilists, cannot have made much way among a very ignorant, simple-minded, and widely-scattered people. There are wild movements among the Russian peasantry, but they are movements of religious frenzy, not of political or social revolution. Military service must be a terrible burden to the people. Taxes must also be galling. Administrative corruption abundantly, but is not likely to be an active cause of peasant disaffection. It is very difficult to see how political revolution on a large scale can come to a head. In the measures of repression and in the punishment of assassinations leniency appears to prevail. Of the personal benevolence of the present autocrat, so long as he is not exasperated by threats of assassination, there is no doubt; and for anything better than a benevolent autocrat the wishes of the Russian people seem at present to be unripe.)

ONLY FIVE MORE DAYS.

Owners of dogs are reminded that there are only five days more in which to obtain tags for their dogs. There are generally 1000 tags issued each year, but so far there have been only about 30 dog owners who have taken out their required license. This is a rather alarming state of affairs, and the Town Clerk should be kept busy during the remaining five days of grace.

25 Years of Vito Catarrh.

Chas. O. Brown, journalist, of Duluth, Minn., writes: "I have been a sufferer from Throat and Catarrh for over 25 years, during which time my head has been stopped up and my condition truly miserable. Within 15 minutes after using Dr. Agnew's Catarrh Powder I obtained relief. Three bottles have almost, if not entirely, cured me." 50c—73

WHO WILL THE VICTIM BE?

It will be interesting to know who is to be the victim of the proposed local legislation for the West borough. On the last occasion Mr. J.
W. Garvin was the victim, and his experience will perhaps keep him in his place this time. In any case he is not the man for the job. In almost every riding in the Province candidates have been selected. Is it not about time that Mr. Stratton instructed his Tory friends to trot out a victim?

A SCIENTIFIC BREAKFAST.

Rightly selected food will cure more than half the diseases. Try a scientific and healthy breakfast.—Fruit of Grape-Nuts, with cream; a dish of Grape-Nuts, with cream; two soft-boiled eggs. Put two eggs in a tin cup of boiling water, cover and set off for nine minutes. Whites will be the consistency of cream, and most easily digested. One slice of bread with butter; cup of Postum Cereal Food Coffee.

On that breakfast you can work like a horse and be perfectly nourished until noon. Your nervous troubles, heart palpitation, stomach and bowel troubles, kidney complaints and val-lous other disorders will gradually disappear and firm solid health will be in.

Why? You have probably been living on poorly selected food, that is food that does not contain the required elements the body needs. That sort of food, and coffee, is the direct or indirect cause of more than half the ill the human body acquires.

Grape-Nuts is a perfectly cooked food and both the fruit and the Postum Food Coffee contain fine microscopic particles of phosphate of potash obtained in a natural way from the grains of the field and by scientific food experts incorporated into food and drink. That element joins with the albumen in food to make gray matter, which is the filling of the brain cells and the nerve centers all over the human body.

A man or woman thus fed is scientifically fed and rapidly grows in vigor and vitality, and becomes capable of life. To produce a perfect body and a money making brain, the body must have the right kind of food and the expert food specialist knows how to make it. That is Grape-Nuts and Postum Cereal Food Coffee, produced at the pure food factories of the Postum Cereal Co. Ltd., at Battle Creek, Mich.

THE CZAR HAS A HIGH AIM.

Will Ask The Monarchs to Meet Peace Congress.

TO DISCUSS HAGUE CONFERENCE

Latest Book of Baroness von Suttner Also Prompts the Movement. Nicholas II Influenced by Family Reunion at Danish
Court.

London, April 26.—The report that the monarchs of Europe will be asked by the czar to gather at Copenhagen for the discussion of plans to promote international peace is credited by the best authorities in official circles. The Birmingham Post positively announces that Emperor Nicholas has decided to summon a congress of all the rulers of civilized countries to consider the consideration of topics which were discussed at the peace conference at The Hague. The czar's plan is to meet the monarchs in the Danish capital in September.

STORY CREDITED IN LONDON.

Diplomats who are on intimate terms with members of British royalty say that the resolve of the czar was influenced by the annual family reunion at the court of Denmark on the occasion of the eighty-third anniversary of King Christian IX. Queen Alexandra, wife of King Edward VII, the czar's aunt, it is said, has impressed the young ruler with the fearful carnage of the useless war in South Africa. It is also well known that most of the numerous progeny of the Danish king who convene every year in his palace are growing more and more anti-martial in sentiment, their influence radiating every court of Europe.

The reign of Emperor Nicholas II has thus far been marked by economic development. Throughout his administration he has given his first thoughts to the development of the commercial interests of his subjects and the nation and opposed all propositions of war, believing that more good will accrue to the nation through the workings of diplomacy and strategy than by force of arms. By his acts he has raised the Russian empire from the condition of feudal times to a rank among the civilized powers of the world.

Many of his acts to this end will forever stand out prominently on the pages of history of the country he is ruling, but they will all dwindle into insignificance when compared with the appeal he has made to the civilized nations of the world for international arbitration instead of war. This appeal from the ruler of the strongest monarchy in the world, which resulted in the peace conference at The Hague in 1898, surprised the entire civilized world, notwithstanding that the czar was charged with bad faith and with attempting to draw the other nations into a peace agreement while he was preparing his own subjects for war.

GOOD RESULTS ARE OBTAINED.

No matter what the czar's motive was in issuing the letter to the nations in August, 1898, the result of the conference was eminently satisfactory and the international agreements which were reached will have a telling effect upon the civilization of the world. If it does not entirely obliterate the possibility of war it has disposed of the question of armaments, which was especially important by the czar's receipt, and is certain to result in a marked decrease of armaments in future wars between civilized nations.

Another satisfactory result of the conference was the extension of general Red Cross rules to naval warfare and the adoption and extension of the laws promulgated by the Geneva conference for the conduct of land warfare. The appointment of a commission of enquiry to examine the causes of international wars and fix the responsibility was another important step taken by representatives of the civilized nations assembled at this conference.

Although the czar's plan for arbitration of all international disagreement was not approved by the United States it is almost certain that the work of the ruler of Russia in this connection will result in an international agreement in the near future which will accomplish the end at which he aimed, if not in the same manner as he proposed.

SMALLPOX SPREADING.

People are Warned to Prepare for the Disease by Vaccination.

From almost every direction comes reports of the spread of smallpox, and it is feared that the end is not yet.
Fortunately Peterborough has escaped thus far, but how long we will be free from the scourge, no one can tell. Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, is anxious that vaccination should be general, as this is the only sure preventive. Should the disease break out here, there will doubtless be a stampede for vaccination, and this might easily be avoided by giving the matter attention.

veloped here is not at all alarming.
It is of a mild type, and there is little danger of the disease spreading.

—The dredge is at work again taking out the rock at the upper entrance to the canal, opposite Mr. John Hill's mill. Mr. Beck is engineer and in charge, Mr. Fred McWilliam freeman and Mr. Hugh Sutton craftsman.

—The dredge was being locked through the canal, was leaning over one of the men, he lost his balance and fell down about twenty feet on to the dredge. He is on his feet, but he has been unable to be at work since owing to the shock.

VESTRY MEETING.

The adjourned vestry meeting of St.
John the Baptist church was held in the old church on Monday evening, April 23rd, from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Present: Messrs. LeFevre,
Blomfield, Langley, Everett, J. P.
Strickland, R. C. Strickland, J. Strickland, Isaac Watson, Dene, Hilliard, Ogilvie, Angus and Della Fosse.

The incumbent in the chair. It was moved by Mr. Blomfield, seconded by Mr. Hilliard, that Mr. Dene be asked to act as secretary of the meeting. Carried.

The minutes of the last meeting were then read. The accounts for the past year, which had been audited by Messrs. Hilliard and Della Fosse were then read.

Moved by Mr. Hilliard, seconded by Mr. Everett, that the various financial statements submitted by the incumbent and churchwardens be received and adopted, and that the usual number of copies be printed for circulation amongst the members of the congregation. Carried.

Moved by Mr. R. C. Strickland, seconded by Mr. C. F. Blomfield, that when the churchwardens distribute the envelopes for the clergyman's stipend, the amount of shortage required to be made up at the end of the previous month or surplus in hand at that period be written on each envelope. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Angus, seconded by Mr. Ogilvie, that Messrs. Hilliard and W. M. Graham be appointed auditors for the ensuing year. Carried.

Mr. Blomfield tendered his resignation as people's churchwarden, a position which he has filled most ably and acceptably for the past six years, but on the earnest representation of the meeting kindly consented to hold office and defer definite action till July next. A discussion ensued on the question of making assessments in regard to Doosan Missions. Mr.
G. B. Hilliard entered a protest against the system as being in his opinion ultra vires of doosan law. The incumbent explained matters by stating that it was the opinion of the mission board discovering that the mission fund was going down hill. This method had been resorted to in order to raise the fund to a right level.

The meeting then adjourned.

GOKE'S LANDING.

—Mr. H. Edwards, of Winnipeg, a member of the first contingent, is a guest of his aunt, Miss Edwards, at "Fir Cliff."

—Mr. H. J. Dale, who has been travelling in Quebec, is at home for a few days.

—Mr. W. S. K. Edwards returned to Montreal Monday, to resume his position there.

—Mrs. Wallace is at Newark, called there by the illness of her sister, Mrs.
Cleary.

—Miss Waldingham entertained a few guests at what last Thursday evening.

—Herald Bros. are very busy this season. They have already more orders for canoes than for a number of years and are putting on extra men.

—There is a rumour that the football team is to go to Warkworth on the 24th.

—On the return from Peterborough on Saturday evening the "Star" was unable to make port owing to the gale and was compelled to lay in the shelter of Close's Point until Monday morning. Some anxiety was felt for the welfare of Capt. W. C. Harris, when a canoe belonging to the "Star" was picked up at noon on Sunday, bottom found that it had blown overboard upwards. Capt. T. Harris made his way to the "Star" to investigate and during the night and that the crew were all well and simply waiting for the wind to moderate to get home.

PROSPECTUS OF THE PETERBOROUGH PURE MILK COMPANY (LIMITED) CAPITAL $40,000 IN 1600 SHARES OF $25 EACH.

This company has been formed for the purpose of carrying out the suggestion of the committee recently appointed to enquire into the question of pure milk supply.

It is proposed to enter into a Contract for the supply to this Company of the quantity of milk required under the conditions referred to in the committee's report.

The Company will erect proper buildings and plant for treating the milk and delivering it free from impurities; the herd of cows, stables, employees, etc. being subject to strict regulations and rigid inspection.

A careful estimate has been made of the cost of buildings and plant, including Refrigerat-ing apparatus, and it has been decided that subscriptions to the necessary extent should be obtained in order to carry on the projected scheme successfully. It may reasonably be anticipated that within a short period the delivery will be sufficient to ensure the Company against loss and that as the quantity increases the return will produce a fair dividend upon the capital, after providing for depreciation.

Subscriptions to the extent of two shares and upwards are invited.

As soon as a sufficient number of shares have been taken to warrant the commencement of operations, a meeting of the subscribers will be called for the purpose of naming Provisional Directors.

Further particulars may be obtained at the office of Mr. A. P. Pousette, 379 Water St., or
Mr. H. P. Kennedy, 340 George St., or Mr. F. H. Dobbin, at the Review Office.

The following gentlemen have already subscribed:—Dr. Halliday, Mr. Boucher, Dr. Carmichael, Dr. Eastwood, Dr. Greer, Dr. Scott, Messrs. A. H. Stratton, B. Shortly, W. D. Parker,

THE WORLD'S GREATEST RAILWAY BUILDER

Sir William C. Van Horne Now Controls the Railways of Cuba.

SIR WILLIAM C. VAN HORNE

New York, April 27.—The New York Herald says: "Sir William C. Van Horne, a Canadian railway financier, has outmaneuvered Congress, and the secretary of war will not stand in the way of his construction of a railroad traversing Cuba, despite the Foraker law that no property, franchises or concessions of any kind whatever shall be granted by the United States, or by any military or other authority whatever, in Cuba, during its occupation by the United States, the occupation thereof by the United States, Sir William has been able to purchase a route, and to obtain grants from municipalities which only require the approval of the governor-general to make them valid. Sir William evidently knows a thing or two.

Sir William has done much for Canada, having really controlled the Canadian Pacific since its inception. He is one of the earth's great railway kings, and a man that this country has good reason to feel proud.

VICTORIA DAY TO BE CELEBRATED

Public Meeting So Decided Last Night.

WIDE TIRES ARE WANTED

Declaration Against Repeal of Bylaw
That Takes Effect July 1st

The public meeting last night to kill two birds with one stone, i.e., to discuss the wide tire question and to arrange for the celebration of Victoria Day, dispatched its business exceedingly well. But the bird of a by-law regarding wide tires was not killed. On the contrary, and somewhat unexpectedly as it seemed, the majority of those present were in favour of the by-law. Mayor Deane called the meeting to order and briefly stated its object. About two years ago the Town Council adopted a by-law requiring that no vehicles carrying more than four passengers be allowed on the streets with tires less than four inches in width, or less than three inches with a lesser load, after July 1st 1901. The Mayor said that he was in the Council when the by-law was passed but opposed it. He did not think its enforcement practicable. The Council was in favour of repealing the by-law, but thought it better before doing so to call a meeting for discussion. Messrs. E. Brown, P. Matthews, and A. Hatten expressed themselves as unfavourable to the by-law. It was pointed out that according to its literal meaning the weights specified included the vehicle, which was manifestly wrong. Mr. W. A. Kincaid moved, seconded by Mr. Brown, that the by-law should be repealed, and that the Ontario Legislature should be memorialized to enact a law of general application throughout the Province for the protection of the roads.

Mr. Wm. White spoke against the repeal and Mr. T. E. Bradburn agreed with him. He moved in amendment that the Council should submit the question to the ratepayers before interfering with the by-law. The amendment was carried by a decisive majority.

VICTORIA DAY.—The meeting was unanimously and enthusiastically in favour of celebrating the 24th of May. The question of obtaining the necessary permission for the celebration of the day was referred to the Mayor. It was decided that a committee be appointed to look after the celebration of the day. A multitudinous committee was chosen, as follows: W. B. Bamford, J. S. Knapman, J. H. Yelland, Thos. Rutherford, H. C. Welch, M. H. Halpin, P. J. R. Mitchell, the Mayor and Aldermen, H. P. McWilliams, E. L. Edwards, M. L. Henry, W. H. White, Archie Moore, James Haggart, T. A. Hay, John White, W. A. Kincaid, P. H. Durrill, A. C. O'Connell, Jackson Hall, D. Davidson, Wm. Menzies, E. Brown, M. Mulken, T. P. Matthews, R. McWhinnie, A. D. McGill, J. G. Hutchinson, W. J. McCallum, P. H. Tobin, A. Terrill, F. D. Mackay, W. H. Robertson, M. H. Halpin, R. A. Dutton, John Irwin, P. W. Rutherford, R. Dutton, T. Drew. On motion of J. S. Knapman, seconded by W. A. Kincaid, it was resolved that the celebration shall include trades, military, bicycle, and calisthenic processions, sports, fireworks, etc. Sub-committees were organized with Mr. Peter Campbell as chairman on finance, Mr. Welch on processions, Lt. Col. Edwards on sports, the 5th Battalion is to take charge of the sports in the afternoon. It was also decided that the Fire Department shall have charge of the fireworks. The sub-committees let no grass grow under their feet, but went right at the work of arranging preliminaries as soon as the meeting adjourned.

MISS COLLINGS' HONORED.

The Popular Secretary of the W. C. T. U. Received an Address.

At the regular meeting of the Sunshine Society, held at Y.W.C.A. rooms last night, Miss Collings, secretary of the W.C.T.U., was presented with the following address, accompanied by a handsome gold ring: "Dear Miss Collings,—We the undersigned desire to take advantage of this time to express in a small way our regret at your removal from among us. As a member of our Sunshine Society we will miss you as we would a sister; as a member of our Sunshine Society we will miss you as we would a sister; as a member of our Sunshine Society we will miss you as we would a sister. We wish at this time to thank you for the interest you have taken in us and in our work, and we hope that while we may never be associated together in the same way again, we may still look forward to a reunion in our home above, where parting is no more. As a token of our esteem and appreciation we ask you to accept this ring." Signed on behalf of the patrons of the Home, Literary Class and Sunshine Society: Allie Whitten, Margaret Chambers, President, Secretary.

The address was read by Miss Brooks, and the presentation made by Miss Robson. Miss Collings, who was taken entirely by surprise, found difficulty in finding words to express her feelings of gratitude and pleasure. Since Miss Collings' residence here, she has endeavored to do all in her power to help the members of the Association and Associated Societies, and her departure from Peterborough will be sincerely regretted. During the evening refreshments were served, and an enjoyable time spent.

WORLD OF SPORT.

THE TURF.

It is said that a delegation of sporting men from Canada had come to the track to back the Faraday colt for all they were worth. The layers were evidently alert, for when the betting began Critteron was made an equal favorite at 7 to 5, with All Green, piloted by Shaw. All Green finally had the call, and went to the post favorite. Himself set the pace, but Critteron and All Green were on even terms with him for the first quarter. Then All Green took the lead, and after that never was caught, winning by a length and a half from himself. Critteron was eight lengths back.—New York Journal.

Next to Chris. Fitzgerald, the Canadian, Cassidy, is the best flag wielder that we have had in years. After the present meeting ends he will officiate at Toronto, Hamilton and on the Canadian circuit, and in the west.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Train, winner of the last race at Nashville on Monday, was bought $200, and retained by Owner George Hendrix, of Detroit, for $1,000.

THE RING.

"Jack" Roberts, the pugilist who fatally injured "Billy" Smith, the American, Monday night at the National Sporting Club, in a contest for the 125-pound championship of England, and the others under arrest were arraigned yesterday on the charge of manslaughter. Police Inspector Boxall testified that previous to the fight he had told all the defendants that, in the event of anything serious resulting, they would be held responsible. The defendants were remanded on their own recognizances in $500 each.

WANT TROOPS WITHDRAWN.

China Willing to Guarantee Safety to Foreigners Without Aid.

Washington, April 27.—It is understood here that the Chinese plenipotentiaries at Peking, Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang, are prepared to give a guarantee to the powers for the protection of all foreigners in China if the foreign troops now stationed there are withdrawn.

Thus far the retention of the foreign forces has been urged as necessary in order to preserve order and protect foreigners, but the Chinese authorities say that order has been so far re-established that the imperial government is fully able to direct the Chinese troops in such a way as to insure complete safety to the interests of all foreigners.

This is understood to be the basis of the withdrawal of 10,000 French troops, and it is earnestly hoped among Chinese officials that this will be followed by a similar movement on the part of the other foreign forces in China.

It is said at the State Department that no doubt, without intention, the Peking dispatches representing the United States as joining in the demands for more heads and more punishment in China, do not correctly portray the position of this government.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Rockhill, our special commissioner at Peking, is acting under broad instructions from the State Department to do all within his power to restrain the unnecessary shedding of blood.

FROM THE SOO.

Mr. John L. Gilmour, of Monroe, Alex. Elliott & Co., wholesale liquor merchants, returned yesterday from a business trip to Sudbury and Sault Ste. Marie. Mr. Lattimer told the Times that there is a glut in the labor market at the Soo, although carpenters, bricklayers, and masons are in great demand. Over three hundred men are in course of construction, and everything is booming. Smallpox, in the Sudbury district is now well under control, and will soon, Mr. Lattimer thinks, be stamped out.

A SUCCESSFUL TRAVELLER.

The Times yesterday was favored with a pleasant call from Mr. Joseph Hill, the popular representative of the O'Keefe Brewing and Malting Company, Toronto. "Joe" looks well, and speaks cheerfully of business. The splendid goods manufactured by his company finds ready sale in every part of the country.

EIGHTY BODIES FOUND IN RUINS

Children Hurlled Into the River by Griesheim Explosion.

PEOPLE ARE PANIC STRICKEN.

Women and Children Trampled Under Feet
This Morning in Trying to make Their Escape from the Threatened Town.

Frankfort, Germany, April 25.—A disastrous explosion occurred at Griesheim today, where the smokeless powder is manufactured. It is feared that nearly two hundred people have been killed or wounded. Eighteen cylinders, each containing about one hundred weight of smokeless powder, were in the room when the explosion occurred. The factory immediately became a mass of flames and fire brigades from every place in the neighborhood had to be summoned. The work of stopping the flames from spreading to adjoining chemical vats was very difficult, and it was only after five hours hard work that the work of extricating the bodies commenced.

The flames originated by the blowing up of vats and chemicals in the explosive department of the works. The first explosion occurred at 3.30 p.m., and the last about 7.30. The frequency of them kept the firemen away from the buildings. The flames became so fierce that all the inhabitants of the village were ordered to Frankfort until night.

The work of extricating bodies from the debris is going on by torchlight, and hospitals have been improvised in all houses.

EIGHTY BODIES RECOVERED.

Frankfort, April 26.—Eighty bodies had been recovered at 11 a.m. today from the debris at the Electro-Chemical Works, near Griesheim, but still many were missing. About 150 were injured, many of them seriously. The work of fighting the flames proceeded throughout the entire night, though the danger of further explosions was regarded as averted at midnight. The search of the ruins continues. The scenes which occurred throughout the night were most distressing, villagers and survivors were groping about the ruins in search of relatives and comrades and endeavoring to recognize in the charred bodies or dismembered and mutilated corpses the identity of missing friends. The flames gutted Marx and Mueller's chemical factory and a part of the Griesheim Color Works.

A number of children who were hurled by the explosion into the River Main were drowned before the rescuers could reach them. Several firemen are among the victims. A special train with relief firemen, and additional doctors and nurses was sent to the scene of the disaster this morning. A number who it was feared had perished reported themselves this morning.

At noon there was a recurrence of the flames among the ruins at Griesheim, which revived apprehensions, and after the explosion of a great benzine reservoir at 11 o'clock this morning orders were issued that everyone in the village of Griesheim and its vicinity vacate their premises forthwith. The inhabitants fled panic-stricken, with such possessions as they could hastily collect, most of them coming to Frankfort. Even the firemen, salvagers, and soldiers left the scene of the disaster. The railroad service to Griesheim is suspended on account of the danger.

During the terrorized flight a number of women, and children were thrown down and trampled under foot.

The danger of fresh explosions necessarily retards the drawing up of a correct death roll, but later reports do not indicate that this is so large as was at first reported.

NEARLY 200 DROWNED.

By Sinking of Turkish Transport Asian Soldiers and Sailors Fought for Boats.

Constantinople, April 27.—The latest reports show that from 180 to 200 men were drowned or killed at the time of the wreck of the Turkish transport Asian, near Yembo, the first news of which was telegraphed from Jiddah, Arabia, on April 1.

According to the narrative of a survivor, there was savage fighting between the soldiers and sailors for possession of the few boats belonging to the transport.

The captain and a portion of the crew, the survivor adds, seized the boats and abandoned the ship, stabling and belabouring with bludgeons the soldiers and pilgrims bound for Mecca, of whom there were 300 of the latter on board, who attempted to enter the boats.

A mad panic ensued, many hurling themselves into the water, where they were drowned. At the expiration of forty-eight hours from the time the transport went ashore boats from the coast rescued the survivors.

THE PASSING OF OUR OLDEST VETERAN.

Captain John Davis Dies This Morning in His Ninety-EIGHTH YEAR.

WITH GENERAL BROCK AT BURLINGTON HEIGHTS.

Served Through the Rebellion of 1837 and Saw the Burning Caroline Float Down the Niagara Rapids—An Eventful Life.

One of Toronto's oldest and most picturesque citizens, Captain John Davis, passed away this morning in the ninety-eighth year of his age, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Kirkendall, 308 Bathurst street.

Captain Davis was one of Canada's sturdy old pioneers who for nearly a century has served his country faithfully and well in war and peace. Probably no man has seen more stirring events of Canadian history than he. When the war of 1812 broke out, he was living with his father, a U. E. Loyalist, near Simcoe, in the county of Norfolk. When the Canadian Volunteers were stationed at Burlington Heights, his father had a contract for supplying them with flour from Albion Mills, and was accompanied each trip by his son, who, though only 11 years of age, caught the patriotic flame which, in the succeeding years of his life, never waned. Two of his brothers, James and Robert Davis, were with General Brock before Detroit when that post was surrendered by General Hull.

THE REBELLION OF 1837. Shortly after the war, Mr. Davis moved to Barton, at that time an uninhabited wilderness. Here most of his youthful days were spent. On the breaking out of the rebellion in 1837, he at once enrolled himself as a volunteer under command of Captain Servus Starling, from Hamilton, his company marched to Ancaster, and on to Brantford thence to Scotland, and without meeting the rebels. At Norwich they succeeded in capturing several prisoners and a quantity of arms. They marched on to Ingersoll, and from there returned to Hamilton, and after a day's rest started for Chippewa, where they reached in thirty-six hours. Here they remained for about three weeks, until the evacuation of Navy Island. Mr. Davis saw the burning Caroline float down the Niagara rapids.

Death was due to a general breakdown, consequent upon extreme old age. However, up to two or three months ago the captain was in first-class health and his intellect was as clear and bright as ever. He frequently delighted his descendants with graphic stories of the eventful days of his early days when the clank of armed men and the booming of cannon were heard in the land, and when Indians and bears were more plentiful in the bridle paths leading to Toronto and Hamilton than white men. Four children survive him, namely, Mrs. Wm. Kirkendall, of 308 Bathurst street; Mrs. John Irving, St. Patrick street; John W. Davis, Davenport, Ohio, and Thomas W. Davis, Toronto. The funeral takes place to-morrow at three o'clock at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Clean your yards. There is no time like the present for this or any other good act. Very soon the sanitary inspector will be making his rounds and if it will be gratifying both to yourself and the official, your premises are in good order and at the same time you will be guarding against disease which might arise through neglect of this important matter at this season of the year.

The Lindsay Post, in speaking of Hamilton (Gladstone) says: "Gladstone is a musician of many years' experience, although still a young man, and he has enjoyed the benefits of a course of study at Leipzig, Germany. He has been in Peterborough almost two years, and in that time he has brought the 57th Band up to the top place among Canadian military and concert bands. His method is most successful, and his control of his band is perfect."

We have some pretty fair liars in Peterborough, especially during the fishing season, but all liars, great and small, must take a back seat beside the editor of a contemporary, who solemnly prints the following:—"A little girl at Palmyra drank a pint of coal oil, and the doctors thought she would die, until one of them hit upon a happy expedient. He slipped a yard of railway track down to the oil, lit the upper end, and during the evening she lighted the room nicely and then went to bed all right."

A very appropriate memorial stone, to be erected in Port Hope, in memory of the late Archibald Edmunds, the engineer who was killed last summer in a collision on the Grand Trunk between Lindsay and Madoc trains, has been completed by the Coughlin Monumental Works, Hunter street. It is a blue granite stone with the inscription in gold; above the inscription is a well executed outline of an engine and tender, the whole effect forming a very suitable and interesting tablet.

MAGIC MIRRORS OF JAPAN

How the Ancient Buddhist Priests

improved the susceptible. Some time ago I read in the Weekly Times of Tokyo, Japan, about an old steel mirror that, when held to a strong light, was said to reflect the image of Buddha, writes Joseph M. Wade, in the Open Court Magazine for April. This was attributed by the editor to superstition, if I am not mistaken. This past week an old steel Japanese mirror has come into my possession, which, when held to a strong light, distinctly reflects the image of a child Buddha, full length, with arms extended upward over the head. There is no mistaking this, for I am neither sentimental nor superstitious. This, I think, has been produced by some old-time Japanese artist. I think that steel has been inlaid into steel after the manner of damascene work, then the whole face of the mirror polished. The grain of the damascene work being different from the body of the steel mirror, reflects the figure as inlaid, while the mirror shows only a clear polished steel surface. The object of this is quite clear. When such a mirror was shown to the people it would be to them a mystery, and could be palmed off as a miracle, and would draw them closer to Buddhism. Of course there is no such thing as a "miracle." To him who has attained Buddhahood all things are clear. What ignorant people do not understand designing men palm off as a miracle, and draw people closer to their form of "belief."

Since writing the above I have consulted S. Nomura, from whom I got the mirror. Mr. Nomura is president of Benten and Company, of Kyoto, and informs me that he secured six mirrors in exchange for embroideries from the priest or priests of one of the temples in Kyoto. They were very old and very dirty. The priests in charge knew nothing of these mirrors, except that they were very old mirrors brought to the temple before their time. Mr. Nomura supposed them to be old common steel mirrors, and gave them to one of his servants to polish with white powder and silk cloth. As he polished each one he laid it on the floor face up. When the sun struck the mirror the man noticed the reflection on the ceiling the form of a child Buddha, and that was how the discovery was made. I have all the six mirrors in my possession, and have tested each one, and found that each reflects a child Buddha, but not always the same, and some of the mirrors cast a different reflection from others. These mirrors are round, have loops to hang them up and on the back are Buddhist characters.

RESULTS OF BANK AMALGAMATION

The Canadian Bank of Commerce Completes the Purchase of the Assets of the Bank of British Columbia.

The Bank's Capital Now Eight Million Dollars and Assets Over Sixty-three Millions

The negotiations for the purchase of the assets of the Bank of British Columbia by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, an announcement respecting which was made some months ago, have been carried to a successful conclusion. A thorough examination of the affairs of the Bank of British Columbia was made by the officials of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and this proving entirely satisfactory, the amalgamation was finally completed. A statement of the affairs of the Canadian Bank of Commerce after the amalgamation, has now been issued, and discloses a very strong position. In point of capital and reserve the Bank now ranks fourth among banking institutions on the continent of America. It has 62 branches throughout Canada; five branches in the United States, namely, at New York, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland (Oregon), Skagway (Alaska), and one in London, England; 68 establishments in all. The acquisition of the London office is an important step in the progress of the Bank. The bank's transactions in sterling exchange in the United States and Canada each year amount to many millions of pounds, and the ability to handle this business through the Bank's own London office will result in an important addition to the earning power of the Bank. In many other directions also the interests of the two banks will be immensely benefited by the amalgamation.

The following is a condensation of the statement issued by the bank at the close of business on the 31st of March:

WM. MORTIMER CLARK & GRAY

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62064, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet.

This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The workings of these radiators side by side with the ordinary may be seen at any time at the Company's office, in either steam or water, and you are invited to examine them here, whether you desire to take stock in the Company or not.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock or radiators.

Dated at Toronto this 18th day of February, A. D. 1901.

THE STONY LAKE COTTAGE OWNERS

Hold Their Annual Meeting and Discuss Matters.

Officers Elected for the Year and Committees Appointed: The Sunday Collection Balances go to the Children's Aid of the County. The Secretary's Annual Report—Regatta Will be on Civic Holiday.

T annual meeting of the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association was held in the Board room of the Central Canada Loan and Savings Co. on Thursday evening, when many matters in regard to Stony Lake were discussed and dealt with.

Those present were Messrs. Benj. Shorty, President; D. W. Dumble, T. E. Bradburn, E. B. Edwards, J. J. McBain, Geo. Cochran, T. W. Robinson, A. McCallum, J. Crane, W. G. Morrow, R. B. Rogers, G. M. Roger, Arthur Piper (Toronto), Wm. Graham (Lakeland), R. McWhinnie, D. Breese and R. F. McWilliams, sec.-treasurer.

THE ANNUAL REPORT.
The minutes of the last annual meeting having been read and confirmed, the secretary-treasurer read his annual report as follows:—
The President and members of the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association:

Gentlemen, I beg to present the following report of the work of the past year:—
At the last annual meeting I was instructed to communicate with the officers of the Grand Trunk Railway, the Post Office Department, with the object of getting the better connection between the railway and the steamboats at Lakeland, the existing arrangements being a great inconvenience to residents of Peterborough without being any advantage to residents of Lakeland or other places. The effort proved ineffectual, as the Railway Co. declined to make any change. The point is that the railway finds it necessary to make a considerable stop at either Peterborough or Lakeland to accommodate through travellers, and certain interests in Lakeland seem to have sufficient influence to secure the continuance of this system, though highly inconvenient to the large majority of travellers.

The preliminary arrangements for holding the annual regatta were made in good time, but unfortunately when the season came, not one of the officers was able to be at the lake for any length of time. It looked for a time as if the regatta might not be held, but in the last few days Mr. T. W. Robinson and a few others took charge of it and the result was most pleasant and successful day. There is a general feeling that the regatta should be conducted on a large scale, with perhaps some outside entries and with competitions and prizes which would attract the support of all parts of the lake. Much might also be done to enliven the season by a series of concerts and by the revival of bonfires, illuminated parades, etc. The Association is now in good financial position and could easily undertake such arrangements.

As treasurer I beg to report that, after starting the year with a few small accounts owing, we have now paid everything due, including the balance of purchase money of the piano, and will have on hand, after paying present expenses about $20.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

R. F. McWILLIAMS,
Secretary-Treasurer
S.L.C. Association.

Peterborough, April 25th, 1901.

The report was received and referred to the auditors. It was explained that the Sunday collections at the pavilion had been expended on rent and payment on the piano, and there was a small balance on hand.

Mr. Edwards thought these Sunday collections should not be used for the ordinary purposes of the Association.

Mr. Dumble agreed with this, that the collection given at a religious service should not be used for a regatta or secular purpose.

This had not been done in the past, as the explanation given above showed.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The following officers were elected:—

President—Mr. Benj. Shorty.
Vice-President—Messrs. John Davidson, of Norwood; H. Brock, of Toronto, and Levi Payne, of Lakeland.

Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. R. F. McWilliams.
Executive Committee—Messrs. T. E. Bradburn, G. M. Roger, Wm. Graham (Lakeland) and Geo. Cochran.
Regatta Committee—Messrs. Arthur Piper (Toronto), chairman; H. Brock (Toronto), Geo. Cochran, Thos. Barrie, Rev. E. D. Baxburgh (Norwood), Percy Strickland (Lakeland) and C. Piper (London).
Sunday Committee—Messrs. D. W. Dumble, T. W. Robinson, Wm. Graham (Lakeland) and Sheriff Hall.

Musical Committee—Messrs. A. Piper, John Crane, Ed. Dawson, A. L. Davis, R. B. Rogers and J. Action, with power to add to their numbers.

THE REGATTA.
It was decided that the regatta would be held on Peterborough's Civic Holiday.

The membership fee was fixed at 50 cents.

SUNDAY COLLECTIONS.
After a long discussion it was decided to give the collections to the Children's Aid Society.

COLLECTING THE FEES.
For the collection of fees it was decided to divide the lake up into districts.

Mr. Shorty will look after the cottages from Boschink to the head of the lake.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams will attend to those from "the store" to Burleigh, and Messrs. W. G. Morrow and J. J. McBain will assist A. Piper, Toronto.

The regatta committee were authorized to collect subscriptions for the regatta and amusements.

BOUYING THE ROCKS.
Mr. Piper suggested that the Association endeavor to have rocks and shoals dangerous to all classes of boats buoyed.

His idea was to have some places dangerous to skiffs and lying outside of the steamboat channels, marked.

Mr. J. B. Rogers said he would be only too glad to learn of any unbuoyed rocks and shoals in or near the steamboat channels, and he would have them buoyed at once.

He hardly thought the Government would undertake the responsibility to buoy rocks outside of the main or steamboat channels.

The matter was left in the hands of Mr. Rogers and he will do what he can to meet the case.

MORE WHARF FOR JUNIPER.
Mr. Piper thought a more commodious landing for small boats at Juniper Island should be had, and removed that steps be taken to provide this accommodation.

This was considered a much-needed improvement.

Mr. Dumble moved that the sum of $15 be placed at the disposal of Messrs. McBain and Shorty to spend, in conjunction with Messrs. Robinson, Edwards and Roger, in providing a canoe wharf for Juniper Island—Carried.

The question of arranging for a band concert at the lakes was left to the Musical Committee.

THE ASSESSMENT.
Mr. Graham brought up the matter of the assessment of Burleigh township, which had been complained of by cottagers before.

Mr. Dumble explained what it meant to fight this assessment. Mr. Dumble thought the summer cottages should be relieved of school taxes.

Nothing was developed as definite action, and after a vote of thanks for the use of the rooms the meeting adjourned.

Rheumatism will succumb to South American Rheumatic Cure because it goes right to the seat of the trouble and removes the cause. Many so-called cures but deaden pain temporarily only, to have it return with a great violence. Not so with this great remedy. It eradicates from the system the last vestige of the disease and its cures are permanent.—74

THE POISONED SPRING.—As in nature so in man, pollute the spring and disease and waste are bound to follow—the stomach and nerves out of kilter means poison in the spring. South American Nerve is a great purifier, cures indigestion, dyspepsia, and tones the nerves. The best evidence of its efficacy is the unsolicited testimony of thousands of cured ones.—76

FOR THE RANCHING COUNTRY

Mr. Robert H. Bradburn Entertained by a number of his friends.

Mr. Robert H. Bradburn, for many years in charge of the Opera House, left on Tuesday last for the Northwest, where he intends to take up ranching.

Mr. Bradburn has a fine ranch, and took with him several car loads of stock.

On Monday evening the members of the Spion Kop hunting party, of which Mr. Bradburn is an honored member, with several others, entertained him to a supper.

After the good things had been disposed of, Mr. Ed. Brown, on behalf of those present, delivered the oration of the evening, taking for his text, "Love, Association, and Hated." He dwelt with impressive eloquence on the subject, and concluded by wishing Mr. Bradburn bon voyage and prosperity in his new venture.

On the conclusion of Mr. Brown's address, Mr. T. E. Doldy, on behalf of his friends presented Mr. Bradburn with a full rancher's equipment, and did so in suitable language.

Mr. Bradburn, with becoming modesty, and in appropriate words, thanked his friends for the honor done him. He could not sufficiently express his gratitude for the generous gift, which would ever be regarded as a memento of his Peterborough friends.

Mr. Bradburn carries with him to his new home.

FEED YOURSELF SCIENTIFICALLY.

Some sure results from Proper Food Selection.

Farmers select certain food to bring about desired results in their animals, but it is not so easy a matter with the complex machine called man, (for more highly organized woman).

The food specialist, however, has been at work, and in Grape-Nuts we find a food containing delicate natural particles of Phosphate of Potash and large quantities of albumen.

These unite in the human body forming the peculiar soft substance which fills the cells of the brain. Therefore, when one desires to use a food directly intended for brain-building the food Grape-Nuts may be depended upon.

Fortunately it is one of the most delicious bits of food used by mankind, the delicate sweet of Grape-Sugar being the most charming character. All prominent grocers sell Grape-Nuts, made at the pure food factories of the Postum Cereal Co. Ltd., at Battle Creek, Mich.

ALL ABOUT THE COUNCIL.

Yesterday our printer's devil, lined off feeling poorly, so he was taken from his regular duty of shovelling ink into our twenty-thousand-an-hour printing press, and put to work to dust up the editor's sanctum, which hadn't been cleaned for several moons. The surroundings evidently inspired him to write the following lines, which were subsequently found on the editor's desk. The words have not yet been set to music, but it is expected that Mr. Giddon will turn his hand on it at an early date. It was "Shorty" he sung with anvil accompaniment by Aid. Batten:

An Aldermanic meeting's a peculiar kind of thing,
You've got to know exactly when and how to pull the string;

There's the onward march of taxes, so ratepayers mind your eye
For sure the price is going up—'twill soon be to the sky.

They're very fond of talking of the new and costly walks
And the way the money's wasted, it fairly knocks the socks

Off decent, honest people, who never dreamed that they,
Could possibly be chewed up, like any bale of hay.

Mayor Denner's the likeliest that we have had,
To baton up the fence
And rush the civic business through and thus to save expense;

George Roger, who will be the Mayor as sure as I am alive,
Is ever anxious to promote, the interest of this hive.

John Savers spoiled himself for good, all on account of Hay,
He'll be defeated sure enough or next election day.

Bob Clinkscales, he is not so sure, about the way things go,
He fails to "visualize" the wall that bars the people from their foe.

He knows that streets are badly run, he does not possess
The courage to attack and cleave, a crooked, ugly mess.

Jim Edgumbe, he's a new man from the north end of the town,
But if he has the Edge to cut, our street expenses down.

He has not tried to do so—at least it would appear,
His vote is not for street reform which costs the town so dear.

John Corkery's got a level head—a man who's ever found Against all wrong, and for the right—he always takes that ground.

But John's a little timid, and when grand-lithic walks
Are mentioned, he's as dumb as dead, for then he never talks.

But another election day will come, the time will soon be here,
And shortly all will have to walk the plank they all so fear.

The summer days will peter out, and the story once more told,
Of how good votes placed many out, into a frosty cold.

The only hope the people have, in this good town of ours
Is centered in the press that prints cold facts, minus the flowers:

The City Fathers know it well, and hope that sometimes they,
May get a word of praise or two from this great family J.

THE PRINTER'S DEVIL.

Heart-Sick People—Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is a heart tonic that never fails to cure—is swift in its effects—goes closer to the "border land" and snatches from death's grip more sufferers than any other remedy. Not only cures diseases and ailments in the category of human sufferings. Gives relief in 30 minutes.—75

License Department Circular.

The License inspectors throughout the province have just been notified by a special circular, issued by the provincial Secretary, to be read at the first meeting of the Boards of Commissioners.

The circular refers to charges of partisanship in the granting of licenses, and says "licenses should be granted to meet local requirements, as provided by law." The circular urges constant diligence to punish "infractions of the law, especially those connected with the Saturday night and Sunday clauses of the act."

Paine's Celery Compound

HAS MADE THOUSANDS OF MARVELLOUS CURES.

It Makes People Well and Strong in Spring Time.

Gives Strong Nerves, Pure Blood and Perfect Digestion

Successes and victories—marvellous cures over disease and death, have made Paine's Celery Compound Canada's most trusted and most popular spring medicine.

Bright's disease, diabetes, liver complaint, rheumatism, neuralgia, blood diseases and functional irregularities can have no terrors if Paine's Celery Compound be promptly and honestly used.

We proudly point those who are suffering to two most important points: first, that Paine's Celery Compound cures promptly and surely; second, that the cures effected by Paine's Celery Compound are lasting and permanent. Those established truths should cheer the despondent and suffering everywhere.

Mr. A. Forsythe, a well known resident of Manveria, Ont., used the great medicine with most happy results. He says:

"For two years I was in the lowest condition of health, suffering from nervousness, fainting spells, pain in the head, stomach troubles and loss of appetite. I was under the care of two doctors, but received no benefit from their treatment. I was advised by a neighbor to use your wonderful medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. The use of this marvelous preparation soon produced the very best results. I am glad to report that my health is improved in every respect; I am stronger, sleep better, and my appetite is good and natural. I am pleased to recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all sick people, as I believe it is the best medicine in the world."

A SAFE INVESTMENT

The Canadian Radiator Company is Pioneering Heat.

We again call the attention of investors to the opportunity afforded by the Canadian Radiator Company, limited, whose prospectus appears in this issue of The Times.

This company starts business under the most favorable circumstances, on account of the growing demand for radiators, and from the fact that the radiators of this company are the best.

There is little doubt that as soon as the works are in good running shape good dividends will be paid the shareholders.

The company wrote The Times yesterday that the plant will arrive this week and will be at once installed.

Our readers who visit Port Hope should make it a point to visit the works and see the radiators working side by side with ordinary radiators.

A CORRECTION.

The Times has been requested to state that the entertainment in the Opera House on Thursday evening was not given under the auspices of the Total Abstinence Society of St. Peter's Cathedral, as stated by us in yesterday's issue.

WILL CANADA WIN A GIGANTIC RACE?

Every Nation Represented in the Great Rush to Discover the North Pole.

Ottawa, April 29.

Owing to the success of the recent expeditions in search of the North Pole all nations are alert. In all parts of the world scientists have arisen to the emergency, and now with victory in sight it will be a struggle to the death to plant the flag at the earth's axis. No less than seven expeditions are being fitted out and will sail from as many ports. Practically unlimited means have been placed at the disposal of the explorers in other lands. Russia has placed unlimited means at the disposal of Admiral Makarov, William Zeigler, a millionaire of New York is willing to spend one million five hundred thousand dollars to enable Evelyn B. Baldwin to plant the stars and stripes at the Pole. The Duke of Abruzzi who spent five hundred thousand dollars on his first expedition is prepared to spend twice as much if necessary to accomplish his purpose.

Undoubtedly the greatest factor in the world's race for the Pole is the expedition of Captain J. E. Bernier, of Quebec, a Canadian by birth, who has offered his services to his King and Canada gratuitously. The Captain's plans are unquestionably the best that have been conceived. They have been endorsed and approved by the Geographical Society of Quebec, the Colonial Institute of London, England, the Dominion and Provincial Governments, and have received the commendation of such authorities in Arctic research as Sir Clements Markham, Dr. Bell of the Dominion Survey, J. Y. T. Trol, chairman of the committee on Polar research of Toronto, and the late Dr. O. M. Dawson, of the Geological Survey.

The strongest testimony that can be brought to bear in favor of Captain Bernier's expedition is the fact that his plans are fully in accord with nature while those of his competitors are in direct opposition to nature.

LIEUT. AND MRS. PEARY,
the Great Arctic Explorers.

In view of the great interest manifested by Canadians in the Canadian Polar Expedition, of which His Excellency the Earl of Minto is Patron; Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, President; Sir Clements Markham, 1st Vice-President; and Hon. R. H. Dobbie, M.P., 2nd Vice-President and Chairman, Lt.-Col. De la C. T. Irwin, Hon. A.D.C. to the Governor, Treasurer, to immediately appeal to the Canadian Public for assistance in the shape of a popular subscription to supplement the grant given by the Dominion Government.

Subscription Lists have been opened in all the Banks and Newspaper offices in Canada, and it is earnestly requested that the necessary funds be supplied with as little delay as possible; you are, therefore, asked to subscribe now, and any amount you may be disposed to contribute will be most acceptable. Funds will be deposited as received in the Bank of Montreal, Ottawa, and every sum received will be duly acknowledged, and the name of the subscriber will be recorded in the official records of the undertaking.

Subscriptions may be sent to the nearest bank or may be mailed direct to the Polar Expedition Committee, 117 Bank Street, Ottawa.

QUEEN'S COFFIN MADE TOO LARGE

It Would Not Fit Into the Granite Sarcophagus at Frogmore.

SLIPS OF WOOD HAD TO BE USED

London, April 27.—The St. James' Gazette says: The sudden intractability of the artillery horses at Windsor Station was not the only hitch in connection with the funeral of Queen Victoria. There was another, and even more awkward, one at the mausoleum at Frogmore. The contractors did not occur until the public eye, and was kept a profound secret by the court officials and the few workmen who were cognizant of it, but in the neighborhood of Windsor it has now leaked out that the late Queen's coffin was made too large for the granite sarcophagus in which it was intended to be placed. The mistake was discovered only on the night on which the remains arrived at Windsor Castle. The measurements then taken showed that the coffin was six or eight inches higher than the receptacle in which the Prince Consort's remains rested, and where a space was provided for her late Majesty's body. The discovery created great consternation among the court officials and employees at Windsor. Orders were at once given to have an attempt made to deepen the sarcophagus, and stone-masons were occupied at this work in relays all night. When the granite receptacle had been hallowed out to the utmost extent that was considered safe, it was found that the top of the Queen's coffin would still be six inches from the top, and that consequently it would be impossible to close the sarcophagus. In this perplexing emergency it was decided as a temporary expedient to have slips of wood made six inches deep, painted to represent granite, and placed on the upper edge of the "walls" of the casquet. On these temporary supports the massive granite lid was laid. Since then, it is understood, heavy mouldings of granite from the same quarry in Aberdeenshire from which the slabs for the sarcophagus were hewn over thirty years ago have been ordered by the King. These additions to the sarcophagus have been shaped and polished in Aberdeen, and when completed they will be fitted into the casquet, which will then be permanently sealed. It will subsequently stand six inches higher than it did originally.

AGAIN IN FULL OPERATION

We congratulate the Stanley Piano Company on the reopening of their works, which was done on Saturday, a flag being hoisted over the factory in honor of the event. The works have been in operation to a limited extent only, for some time, but henceforth they will be operated to their fullest capacity. The splendid instruments made by the Company have secured a continental reputation, and many orders are waiting to be filled. The old staff are again at work, and as many others as can be secured, in order to try and overtake the accumulation of orders.

Saturday was a field day for golfers, the links being well patronized, amongst whom were a number of the uncles players.

On Friday a very interesting game was played by Messrs. R. C. McHarvie and Ed Brown against Messrs. W. D. Parker and A. St. A. Smith. Owing to the fact that Messrs. McHarvie and Brown were unable to get a satisfactory breakaway, they did not score at all. In fact it was one of their dull days at golf. It is said that the two defeated players are threatening to quit the game, in which event they will doubtless take to marbles.

NINE LIVES LOST FROM WRECKED SHIP

Philadelphia, Pa., April 27.—The wrecked schooner Emma C. Knowles passed in the Delaware breakwater this morning in tow of the tug Frank W. Munn. The Emma C. Knowles was first sighted by the steamer Sunningdale on the afternoon of April 24, off Atlantic City. She was lying on her beam ends, with decks awash, deck house gone, and appeared to have been in collision. She was picked up by the tug Munn early yesterday, and reached the breakwater to-day. The captain of the Munn reports that the Knowles had evidently been in collision with another craft. There was no sign of life on board the schooner. It is the general belief in shipping circles that the crew of nine men has been lost, but the owners of the Emma C. Knowles believe that the vessel which was in collision with the schooner has picked up the crew and that the men will be landed at some foreign port.

DEATH OF MISS LONDERVILLE

THE RUSSIAN EMPIRE HOLDS MANCHURIA

And Will Rend Them The Amount of The Indemnities.

RUSSIA, FRANCE, AND CHINA.

Peking, April 29.—The Courier du Soir, which is officially well informed on ministerial intentions, says that the settlement of the Chinese situation is a question of finance. The newspaper says that Russia, repeating that operation which has had the greatest success, will advance China the sum required to pay the indemnities and that French savings will provide the Russian government with the requisite funds. The European troops, except the legation garrisons, will then leave Peking and a fresh period will begin, during which Chinese patience will be tried out. The British and German governments in their claims regarding the opening of the ports and the customs, Russia, however, will retain Manchuria as a pledge for the loan.

This appears to be the general scheme of foreign affairs and finance, minister, M. Delcasse, is discussing in St. Petersburg with Count Lamsdorff and M. Witte, respectively Russian ministers of foreign affairs and finance.

St. Petersburg, April 28.—M. Delcasse, the French minister of foreign affairs, and Count Lamsdorff, the Russian minister of foreign affairs, went to the palace at Tsarskoe-Selo, near St. Petersburg, this morning, where the car entertained them at breakfast. There were no other guests.

At the conclusion of this meal M. Delcasse held a long conversation with the car, who presented the French minister with a superb casket of nephrite, on the cover of which the car's miniature was set with brilliant stones. The guests at breakfast included, among others, General Baron F. von Fredericks, the minister of the imperial house and imperial domains.

M. Delcasse dined with M. Witte, minister of finance, to-night.

Berlin, April 29.—The Lokal Anzeiger's special correspondent, writing from Peking, near Pao Ting Fu, says: "The German and French expedition is approaching the front of the Chinese army, which is apparently 25,000 strong and well entrenched in three positions. The Germans marched over difficult mountain passes to the gates of the great wall at Nieng Tui Kan. The enemy appears disposed to offer resistance and its retreat behind the great wall is expected."

An special despatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from Peking, dated April 24, says a mounted infantry patrol found the Chinese fortifications unoccupied and unarmed. The natives said General Liu, with the bulk of his army had retreated.

Peking, April 29.—The expedition from Pao Ting Fu has been entirely called off and the French troops have been ordered to return to the original station. The only casualties suffered by the entire expedition were two German soldiers killed. With the exception of the formal ordering off of the Chinese troops the only comment made by the court is a brief notice in the Official Gazette to the effect that, had strong enough manifestations been made through the plenipotentiaries the troops would have been ordered to withdraw before.

This if considered a concourse, would be manifestly unjust because Li Hsing Chang and Prince Ching had been urging the withdrawal for a month. However, the notice is so brief that neither plenipotentiary regards it as a reflection upon his action, thinking that the court means that the powers did not make strong enough representations. As a matter of fact, if any reflection upon the plenipotentiaries were intended, Li Hsing Chang and Prince Ching would be humiliated before the foreigners and could no longer be considered representatives.

The Germans killed in connection with the expedition were members of a scouting party who went far beyond the border.

GERMAN CONTEST WITH THE STATES

Saturday Review Says This is The Cause of Naval Expansion.

IT IS ALL IN ENGLAND'S FAVOR

London, April 27.—The Saturday Review says: "The expansion of the German navy is more in preparation for a contest with the United States than with Great Britain, because the readiest cause for future naval conflicts will be found in the struggle for the partition of the exploitation of the great South American continent."

The Review devotes a page to a description of the resources of South America and Germany's hundreds of thousands of settlers in Brazil and Chile, and the inability of Germany pursuing her designs in South America, without a contest with the United States. The article concludes with the statement that it would be good policy for Great Britain to oppose Germany's legitimate aims, and that an alliance with the United States that had for its purpose the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine "would not only be ludicrously in opposition to our own interests, but it would rightly arouse a death struggle against a genuine Anglo-German alliance."

'ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

—There was a fairly good market on Saturday.

—Campers are arriving at the Lakes already and a big season is expected.

—Dan Foley has gone to Jubilee Point to open up the hotel for the season.

—This is the horse bill season, and the heart of the country printer will be made glad.

—Mrs. Isaac Richardson, the well known driver, of Millbrook, brought up 180 hogs to the Matthews Co.

—Droves of school children were out in the suburban woods on Saturday, gathering wild flowers.

—The North Star came up from the lake on Saturday, bringing a large number of passengers and freight.

—After the grip, or other serious illness, food's Saraparilla is the medicine to take to restore the appetite and strength.

—The concert given by our band in Lindsay on Friday night, was a big success. The audience were delighted with the music.

—The mammoth Victoria Day celebration which is to be held in Peterborough on May 24th, should be liberally advertised.

—There was a little unpleasantness in Ashburnham a few days ago, that will have to be adjusted before County Police Magistrate Edmondson.

—Rev. J. Balfour received a letter from the mother and sister of the late H. G. Beck, expressing their gratitude for services conducted on the occasion of his death.

—How would it do to teach every boy and girl to swim? It wouldn't cost much more than vaccinating, and water is very much more deadly than small-pox in this vicinity.

—The Times is in receipt of a number of photographs of the smallpox camps in the Ashburnham district. They were taken by Capt. W. S. Thompson, and are a very fine lot of views.

—The body of the late H. G. Beck, who was accidentally killed at the electric works here some time ago, was taken from the vault in the cemetery on Saturday, and interred.

—During a high wind last month, the worst experienced in that part for many years, the large red brick chimney on St. George's church, Drummer, was blown down, and it is going through the roof. Luckily church had been dismissed for some time, and nobody was in danger.

—How would a municipal piggery go in Peterborough? It should more than pay for the daily removal of the garbage. Indeed, a handsome profit might be made out of the institution by the corporation.

—The season for the fiend who cuts across lawns is due. He is too shiftless to keep his own lawn neat, and his laziness causes him to ruin the efforts of others. The person who persists in trespassing upon his neighbor's lawn is a pest and should be treated accordingly.

A meeting of the East Peterborough License Commissioners was held Saturday, the members present being Messrs. J. M. Drummond, Wm. Mober and Parker Stevenson. License Inspector J. J. Crowe was also in attendance. A six month's license was granted to Mr. Samuel English, of Keene.

PATH BARRED FOR FRENCH COLUMNS

General Lugard Will Prevent their Passage Through British Territory.

BRITAIN WANTS HER PAYMENT

London, April 27.—The Pall Mall Gazette says: No surprise need be felt at the news from Paris that General Lugard has forbidden a French column under Lieut.-Col. Broze to pass through British territory on its way to Zinder. The French possess no right of way in Northern Nigeria, and the continual passing of their columns through our protectorate has exercised a prejudicial effect upon our relations with the Sultan of Sokoto. It will be remembered that by the Niger Convention of 1891 a tract of land on the eastern bank of the Niger, opposite Say, recognized as British by the 1890 agreement was ceded to France, one of the objects in so doing being to afford the French better means of communication with their protectorates, such as Zinder which lie between the Sahara and Nigeria. The Convention, however, states that the French frontier shall not come within the circumference of a circle drawn from the center of the town of Sokoto with a radius of 100 miles. To avoid infringing this circle French columns from Say would have to make a wide detour to the north, that is, they would have to enter a particularly sterile and waterless region of the Sahara. Naturally they have preferred to pass through the fertile districts of the Sultan of Sokoto, and this they have hitherto done on every occasion when they have wished to reach Zinder. No surprise need be occasioned, therefore, by the announcement which we are able to make, that his Majesty's Government are prepared to modify the Niger Convention in the manner desired by the French in return for an equivalent concession elsewhere by France. What that concession should be is necessarily a subject for discussion. One proposal worthy of consideration is the cancellation of the clause of the Convention relating to France two small areas on the lower Niger. These have already been the cause of slight friction, and the advantage of the French is not great, as the overland route to the Middle Niger through Dahomey lies entirely in French territory. Another form of compensation which would commend itself to the West African traders would be extension to the Ivory Coast and Senegambia of the equal tariff clause of the Convention of 1891.

SEES GREAT PERIL IN BUBONIC PLAGUE

Physicians Says World is Ripe For Epidemic—
All Nations Are Likely to Suffer.

AMERICAN CITIES ARE BY NO MEANS IMMUNE.

Dr. L. F. Barker Tells of His Deep Researches in India and China—
Claims That Spread of Pest Largely Due to Rats

Chicago, April 29.—Unless all indications fail the world is ripe for the visitation of plague that may rage from Asiatic countries into civilized nations where modern sanitary conditions are believed to offer a bar to the spread of pestilence. According to Dr. L. F. Barker, a pathologist whose studies of plague conditions have been prosecuted at home and abroad, medical experts believe that a sweeping epidemic is not only possible but probable.

Dr. Barker made the startling announcement last night in the course of an address before the Chicago Society of Internal Medicine. He is a member of the faculty of the John Hopkins University and professor of pathology at Rush Medical college. In 1899 he was chosen a member of the commission sent to India and China by the John Hopkins university to study the plague conditions in the far east and because of his knowledge of the disease was made a member of the government commission appointed by President McKinley to investigate the bubonic plague conditions at San Francisco.

AMERICA NOT IMMUNE.

"The bubonic plague is of especial interest to us at the present time," said Dr. Barker, "because of its recent visitation to San Francisco. Luckily, the death rate in the California town was not high, but its presence proves that American cities are not immune."

"There has not been a great epidemic since the fourteenth century, when 25,000,000 people were swept away by the black death, which in all probability was nothing more nor less than the bubonic plague. Men of medicine believe that the world is to be again visited by a great plague, and there are many signs pointing out its coming. In Hindoo writings more than 800 years old the people are warned that when there is great mortality among rats pestilence and death is in the air. In India, where I worked there and since, rats are dying by the scores and I have seen them in the streets of Bombay running frantically about until sudden death stopped their movements.

DEATH RATE IS APPALLING.

"The bubonic plague is especially serious when we consider that the treatment of the disease is not promising. Of Asiatics stricken with the loathsome disease 90 per cent succumb, while with Europeans and Americans 60 per cent of the stricken die. Medicine has put forth every effort to find some means of combating the disease but none has been very satisfactory.

"Serum is but partially successful, and none is very effective. Many scientists and chemists have evolved serum from which much was expected, but in nearly every case the result was not what was expected. Rue of Paris compounded a serum which has given the best results and which was used with much success in the epidemic at Oporto. By its use the death rate during the progress of the plague was reduced to 13 per cent, a very encouraging showing."

JERSEY LILY STILL BLOOMING

Mrs. Langtry Scores Greatest Success at London Theatres.

YANKEES ARE MUCH TOO LOYAL

London, April 29.—The re-opening of the Savoy and Garrick Theatres tonight leaves only three West End theaters with closed doors. Most of the playhouses are doing remarkably well. The greatest success of the moment is undoubtedly Mrs. Langtry's, in her new play in her new theater.

No playhouse in London equals the Imperial in pretentious and good taste, while the series of pictures of Paris and Versailles is staged with a completeness and richness unsurpassed, though the play itself is considered by critics not to be worth much.

Next in interest to Mrs. Langtry is undoubtedly Edna May, and despite the marks of disapproval which were manifested in some parts of the house at the first performance of "The Girl From Up There," and the generally cool criticisms, people are crowding to the Duke of York Theatre. The nightly advance sales amount to over £3,000. The disturbance on the opening night is a danger to all American productions run here, and one for which overzealous Americans themselves are responsible. The American colony in London, and American visitors generally are intensely loyal to their country's productions, and when an American company comes over here they generally fill the theatre on the first night, and applaud everything and everybody with indiscriminate enthusiasm. This produces the impression of an organized clique, interrupts the performance, and unduly prolongs it by encores not desired by the rest of the audience.

If American managers in London could induce their supporters to be more discreet in their expressions of partiality on first nights, they would have no more difficulties with the pit and the gallery.

Mr. Charles Frohman had another financial and artistic success on Wednesday, when he produced "Sweet and Twenty," at the Vaudeville Theatre, with Elaine Terris and Seymour Hicks in the cast. Captain Hood's play is generally acknowledged to be one of the most charming little local plays seen here in a long time.

MAY CUT A DOCK FROM SOLID ROCK

Plans to Protect Gibraltar Shipping Against Spanish Batteries.

GREAT SCHEME OF COMMISSION

Gibraltar, April 27.—It will probably be some time before any part of the report made by the special commission that has been inquiring into the safety of the new harbor and docks will be given to the public. It is learned, however, from a trustworthy source that the commission has made one very important recommendation to the home Government. While it is admitted that the powerful Gibraltar batteries might be able to keep down the fire from the guns mounted on the Spanish mainland, the commission considers it proved that ships about to enter the enclosed harbor would be severely handled by any Spanish guns of large size that might be mounted at such points as Verde Island, Camero Point across the bay, or near Mole Point, at the base of the peninsula on which the rock stands. The range in the three cases would be about 7,000, 8,000 and under 6,000 yards respectively.

The new scheme, which would allow of our ships of war coaling in safety, is as follows: Instead of entering the bay and passing around the Mole under fire, they would cut within a breakwater running out from the eastern or seaward side of the rock. The cliff is too steep to allow of the erection of molebreakers, but a tunnel already exists through the work, which has been used for the conveyance of stone to the new works. Through this tunnel coal could be brought by a light railway to the base of the new molebreakers.

A DOCK OF ROCK.

It is possible that a dock may also be cut out of the solid rock near the proposed molebreakers, but the cost would be very great, and the natural difficulties immense. The shallow water near Raita Gorge, on the east side, might also be filled in, or dockyards built there. But the advantage of such a scheme is nullified by the fact that it was works were pushed out from the shelter of the rock, they would be brought under the fire of the Spanish guns mounted near Black Star Bay, on the east side of the peninsula, that belongs to Spain. With the tunnel in existence there would be little expense involved in the more simple scheme beyond the building of the molebreakers. That would, of course, be a serious item, but its advantage for our Mediterranean fleet is too obvious for it to be thrown aside without serious consideration.

According to opinion here, there is no idea of an end being placed to the works in the present harbor, which are more than half completed. The proposed molebreakers on the eastern side would be, in addition to the present costly operations,

IN DEFENSE OF MISSIONARIES

Chicago, April 25.—A special to The Record Herald from San Francisco gives the following expressions from Minister Edwin H. Conger with reference to the alleged looting by missionaries in Peking: "Dr. Amant is the most lied about man in China, unless it is myself. The stories of looting by missionaries and their collecting indemnities by force are absolutely false."

"The missionaries acted with nobility and heroism during the Peking siege, fighting bravely alongside the soldiers and the rest of us."

SUN YAT SEN'S VIEWS. Honolulu, April 19. via San Francisco, April 26.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the exiled Chinese revolutionist, arrived Honolulu last night on the steamship Nippon Maru. Dr. Sun was born in Hawaii and graduated at Oahu College. He was the leading spirit in the attempted revolutionary coup d'état at Canton in '11, since which time he has been an exile from Canton with a price on his head.

The revolutionary party has the real strength of the reform and progressive element in China, according to Dr. Sun. Its membership extends throughout China in secret societies that are waiting their chance. Instead of striking for the return of the Emperor Kwang Hsu to power and trying to induce him to issue again the reform edicts that are supposed to have caused his dethronement the revolutionary party wants absolute of the Manchu dynasty and establishment of a republican form of government in China.

Meldrum was riding by, most opportunely, just at the time, and was able to rescue the little one before any serious injury was inflicted. A number of corporation labourers ran up a minute later and for a time there was quite an amount of excitement which however, subsided when it was discovered that beyond one mark on the hand the child had escaped. The wound was cauterized and dressed by Dr. Greer and to-day the youngster is able to be out again. The dog was subsequently shot.

RESULTS OF BANK AMALGAMATION

The Canadian Bank of Commerce Completes the Purchase of the Assets of the Bank of British Columbia.

The Bank's Capital Now Eight Million Dollars and Assets Over Sixty-three Millions

The negotiations for the purchase of the assets of the Bank of British Columbia by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, an announcement respecting which was made some months ago, have been carried to a successful conclusion. A thorough examination of the affairs of the Bank of British Columbia was made by the officials of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and this proving entirely satisfactory, the amalgamation was finally completed. A statement of the affairs of the Canadian Bank of Commerce after the amalgamation, has now been issued, and discloses a very strong position. In point of capital and reserve the Bank now ranks fourth among banking institutions on the Continent of America. It has 62 branches throughout Canada; five branches in the United States, namely, at New York, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland (Oregon), Skagway (Alaska), and one in London, England; 88 establishments in all. The acquisition of the London office is an important step in the progress of the Bank. The bank's transactions in sterling exchange in the United States and Canada each year amount to many millions of pounds, and the ability to handle this business through the Bank's own London office will result in an important addition to the earning power of the Bank. In many other directions also the interests of the two banks will be immensely benefited by the amalgamation.

The following is a condensation of the statement issued by the bank at the close of business on the 31st of March:

SOLICITORS, WM. MORTIMER CLARK & GRAY

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 5457, 58928, 59443, 62064, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet.

This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The workings of these radiators side by side with the ordinary may be seen at any time at the Company's office, in either steam or water, and you are invited to examine them here, whether you desire to take stock in the Company or not.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock or radiators.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated on Tuesday last, when Mr. Jack Martyn and Miss Perry Gordon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Father Scallan, in the presence of a select number of invited guests and relatives of the contracting parties. After the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the residence of Mr. C. Gordon, Lock street, where a sumptuous wedding dinner was partaken of. There were many rich and beautiful presents indicating the high esteem in which the young people are held by their many friends. Among the presents received was a handsome dinner and tea set from the employees of Mr. Thomas Harris, George street, of which place Miss Gordon was formerly. Mr. and Mrs. Martyn will take up their residence in Peterborough, with the hearty good wishes of a large circle of friends, in which the Times heartily joins.

JUST IN TIME.

Without going into details, we wish to say that we have opened out another large lot of excellent Tweeds and Serges bought direct from the Maple Leaf Woolen Mills, at unheard-of reductions. Nothing better of the kind was ever priced so lowly in this town before. Among these are a lot of splendid pick ups in Hammers from one to five yards, as well as in regular long piece lengths. The goods are good goods and will be sold at 25c, 35c and 40c. per yard. No chance to go wrong with all wool tweeds and serges at these prices! See our window of new English worsted trousers, which we are making up to order for $3.50 and $4, well worth $6 and $5.50. Now's the time to leave your measure.

THE SMALLPOX CASE.

The smallpox case in Lakfield is no likely to be at all serious. It is supposed to be a very mild type of the dread disease, and the patient is doing nicely. In the meantime vaccination has been general.

PAY OF ENUMERATORS.

Ottawa, April 29.—Reports have reached the Department of Agriculture that brokers in Montreal are endeavoring to buy up the claims of census enumerators against the department for 60 per cent. of their value. Mr. Fisher has issued an order that cheques for the enumerators' pay shall be issued immediately, payable only to them. No other endorsement will be recognized.

Queries of the Law

Editor Morning Times.
Sir,—In reading the police and County Court news, in your bright and breezy little paper, I cannot but notice the vast difference in the way justice is administered. As a striking example of my meaning I would call your attention to two cases this week, the penalty in both being the same, fine, and to anyone understanding both cases, it seems a little odd.

In one case a young man in very good circumstances, and to whom a fine is as nothing, is given a pardon, as it were, for the cowardly way in which a grave in one of our local cemeteries was badly robbed.

The other case to which I refer, and which forms an example of the contrast, is that in which Wm. Armstrong, of White Lake, is made to pay the full penalty for selling liquor, namely fifty dollars, and all for being kind enough to oblige a sick neighbor.

Mr. Armstrong is a hard-working, honest tiller of the soil, who has had the misfortune to lose his entire left arm in a threshing machine.

Among the people in that vicinity, whisky is rather a standard medicine, especially for gripe or colds. One of Mr. Armstrong's neighbors being quite ill he sent to Warsaw, for a supply. His son, on the way home, broke the jar, and split the entire contents, not becoming aware of the fact until his arrival home. As the call for the liquor was considered urgent, the young fellow went over to Armstrong's, who being a good hearted soul, shared up with Wilkinson.

When Wilkinson went to Lakfield, in return for Armstrong's kindness, he started bragging of how near home he had been able to purchase liquor. There he foolishly told who let him have it. There being an inspector in the room, he set a trap for Armstrong by getting a fairly intimate friend to go down on a Sunday, and of course, knowing he had it on hand to obtain a similar favor to the first man. This neighbor laid the complaint, with the result that Armstrong had $50 to pay for the sake of befriending a sick neighbor.

Now I fear one cannot see the justice in these cases, and would like the opinion of the g.f., or some of its readers about it. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am, Yours Truly, ONLOOKER.

HOW SMALLPOX IS SPREAD.

Horrible Condition of Affairs in a Western Village.

Sweaborg, April 29.—Small pox has appeared in Sweaborg. Mr. Corey, of that village is now, delirious, in the last stages of the dreadful disease. He has had the disease for over two months, but it has only just been discovered. Mr. Clarkson, of Sweaborg, walked into the Corey house yesterday, not knowing that the terrible disease was so near at hand. But as soon as he saw Corey, he exclaimed, "Smallpox!" and immediately left. Then Dr. Beasley, of Beachville, was sent for. The doctor did not pronounce on the case, however, until he had consulted with a prominent Woodstock physician. At the latter's suggestion, Dr. Beasley telegraphed to Dr. Bryce, the Provincial Health Officer, asking him to come here. Dr. Bryce replied that he could not come, but would send an expert at once.

There is great consternation in Sweaborg and Beachville, as the members of the Corey household, which consisted of the family of ten, and several relatives, have been mixing with people generally.

Mr. Corey has been ill for two months, or since a cousin of his came from Michigan, about two months ago. The visitors from Michigan are now residing in Beachville, and they have been exchanging visits with the Corey family since their removal to the village. It has been noticed that the members of the Michigan family have been suffering from some bodily ailment or rash for the past month.

LINCOLN'S BODY MOVED

Remains of Martyred President Placed in Crypt

Springfield, Ill., April 28.—Unostentatiously the remains of Abraham Lincoln and the other members of his family which have been entombed in the national Lincoln monument and which since March 10, 1900, when the work of rebuilding the monument at a cost to the State of Illinois of $100,000 was commenced, have been reposing in a temporary stone vault near the monument, were this afternoon reposed in the crypt in the monument.

The ceremony of returning the remains to the monument was witnessed by Governor Yates, and the other state officials, the members of the Lincoln Monument association which had charge of the monument until it was taken charge of by the state four years ago; the surviving members of the Lincoln guard of honor, Judge Humphrey of the United States district court and other federal officials, Mayor Phillips and other city officials and probably 200 citizens.

The temporary vault was so thoroughly cemented that it was 5 o'clock, three hours after the work of the removal commenced, that the remains of the president, which were the last to be removed, were finally placed in the marble sarcophagus in the crypt in the monument, where they were sealed up and where they will probably remain through all time. The casket was not opened for the identification of the body of the martyred president, as had been expected, nor was even the leaden casket exposed to view, being covered by a cedar casket.

The remains which now rest in the tomb in the monument are those of President and Mrs. Lincoln, their sons, Willie, Thomas (Tad) and Eddie, and Abraham, son of their oldest son, Robert T. Lincoln.

Died on the Way to a Concert

A despatch from Selkirk to Winnipeg Tribune, dated March 28, says: "Word was brought in from Nettie Lake, 12 miles from here, of the sudden death of Mrs. Beckett, wife of James Beckett, while on her way to a concert. Heart disease was the cause of death. She leaves a family of five small children. They arrived here from Winnipeg last summer." Mr. Beckett, who is a former resident of Norway, accompanied by his children, has returned to the village.

CAUGHT A NURSE

Didn't Know Old King Coffee Had Her

The duties of professional nurses call them among a great many different people, and it is not surprising to know how many are suffering from the use of coffee, which is the primary cause of the majority of many nervous disorders. My own experience has been such that I feel that I can speak with some knowledge of the subject.

"For about ten years I was afflicted with a severe nervous disorder, which was so great that sleep became an unknown thing to me without the use of opiates. I was a confirmed coffee drinker at this time, but had never thought that had anything to do with the difficulty.

After coming to Chicago to live I was told by an acquaintance, who had been a similar sufferer from nervousness, that he discovered it was caused by the use of coffee, and when he made that discovery, gave up the coffee and took up the use of Postum Food Coffee and was completely restored. His argument sounded so logical, I was determined to make the experiment, and to my surprise, upon leaving off the coffee habit I commenced to improve. This improvement has continued until now I am in complete health and sleep well and naturally. I always advise patients suffering from nervous trouble to abandon the use of coffee and use Postum, for I know what I am talking about on that subject.

"Occasionally private families do not prepare Postum well, that is, they fail to allow a sufficient amount of time for boiling. It requires more boiling than coffee, but the care well repays for the beverage is delightful to the taste and wonderfully nourishing." Maggie F. Church, No. 2 R. 3rd Place, Chicago, Ill.

Postum is sold by all first-class grocers, and made by the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

CAPTURED HER CHILD.

Montreal, April 27.—Mrs. Henry Roger, who lives with her father, Patrick Smith, made a sensational act last night when she recovered her child from her husband, from whom she had been separated for two years.

The mother took the little boy from the rear doorsteps of his grandmother's home, where he was staying, and fled to a cab in waiting, closely followed by the grandmother. The cabman, suspecting a kidnapping case, refused to drive on. Then followed a row between the two women, the grandmother winning mainly because the child cried for her.

Strongest Fortification in the World

Halifax, April 27.—The Imperial War Department will construct at the mouth of Halifax harbor one of the strongest forts in the world. The fortresses will be armed with 12-inch disappearing, quick-firing guns of the latest type. It will be second only to Gibraltar, and no hostile fleet will be able to pass it without being destroyed.

Ready Made Oratory on Tap.

Oratory nowhere flourishes as it does on the east side, and that is how the dealer in speeches thrives at his trade. He has a little shop in Grand street, which bears the sign, "Speeches of all kinds sold and taught. Banquets, weddings, christenings, debates, all occasions."

The seller of speeches is a winnowed little old man who has for years conducted a profitable trade. He observed early in life that the east side liked to be supplied with oratory, and he has been supplying the demand. He is not a finished English scholar himself, but he speedily found persons of education who, for a comparatively small sum, were anxious and willing to help the residents of Grand and Kew streets, and of Poverty Hollow, to find expression for their thoughts. Sometimes they had no thought, but he was able to supply every deficiency.

He extended his market to politics, and many a district leader of the eastern part of the city is able to deliver orations which his admirers regard as inspired flights of Cicero and Demosthenes. Frequently the speaker has nothing of "Demosthenes" but his stouter or nothing of Cicero but his "watt," but the east side, in matters of oratory, is not critical, provided the sound of speech is continuous and loud.

At weddings the fond father of the bride or some other person thinks it necessary to make a speech. He buys a suitable package of oratory, as he would buy cheese or sausage, and, under the instruction of the dealer, he speaks it until he is able to retain it, with passable fluency. The felicitous addresses for the christening or for the silver wedding feast can be found at the Grand street dealer's in great abundance.

If the election captain feels that at a meeting of the local political club he should have a choice of words of denunciation for his rival, he carefully memorizes a choice creed.

It is at the meetings of the literary societies, which flourish on the east side, that the demand for ready made oratory is often frequent. With a given subject in mind, the aspirant for forensic fame can get a supply of material which would be space filling and satisfying. He can then devote his full attention to the more important part of most daily oratory—sound.

The Decline of Sunday Schools.

One of the most startling phenomena of the time is the great decrease in the number of children attending Sunday schools. A safe estimate shows a falling off of 32,000 scholars in one year. The shrinkage is not marked in one body more than in another. The Church of England equally with the other Protestant churches has to lament a loss, and the loss is greater in reality than the mere numbers show, for the population naturally increases every year and the increase contributes its ever-growing quota to the Sunday school. That it fails to do so suggests an inquiry probably of greater moment than many social questions that make much noise in the world. Why should the Sunday schools have ceased to attract? The most obvious answer is that the days of what was practically compulsory attendance are over. That means, of course, that the churches are losing some of their moral hold upon the parents. The inference seems to agree with the facts. In ceasing to be compulsory, attendance at the churches has laid aside one weapon without attempting to replace it by another.

ROBLIN HAS BEEN CHARGED WITH DECEIT

Mayor Arbutnot, of Winnipeg, Says he Stifled Movement Against Railway Deal.

Railway Committee Laughed Derisively at Him—Mr. Lash Maintains That There Can be no Conflict Between the Dominion and Manitoba—Blair's Suggestion.

Ottawa, Ont., April 30.—There was a lively time at the resumed discussion of the bill to ratify the Manitoba Railway agreement this morning. Mr. Oler appeared for the Northern Pacific Railway. Mr. Roblin continued his argument of behalf of the opponents of the deal and in a few minutes fell into a political argument, depicting graphically the penalties that awaited the Liberals or the Conservatives representing the provincial constituencies who favored the bill, arousing derisive laughter and comments, amid which he found it very difficult to proceed. He read a list of eighteen towns and public bodies that had adopted resolutions against the agreement, and went at great length into the details of the various that the province, according to his argument, would sustain by the deal being carried into effect. He claimed that bill 103, relating to the agreement between the Government of Manitoba and the Canadian Northern Railway was no longer before the committee but had been replaced by the bill containing the proposed amendments saving all rights of the Dominion as regards rates, and so forth.

Mayor Arbutnot, of Winnipeg, reviewed the growth of the opposition to the agreement on the same lines as Mr. Roblin, contending that Mr. Roblin had deceived the people of the Province by promising to be guided by the results of public meetings, and thus quieting the popular movement against the deal until too late to be successfully revived and then carrying out the deal without reference to the wishes of the people. He proceeded to read from the Winnipeg Tribune, and the mention of this paper aroused such laughter and derisive cries that his voice was drowned for some minutes.

Mr. Richardson, amid interruptions, strongly insisted on the right of the people of Manitoba to be heard through Mr. Arbutnot, and other authorized representatives; but the Mayor had had enough of the Railway Committee, and resumed his seat.

Mr. Lash maintained that the whole discussion had been invested with obscurity, but the plain fact was, no-

CUBA WANTS FREEDOM FROM U. S. A.

The Island People Want to be Allowed to Manage Its Own Affairs.

THEY BOYCOTT AMERICAN GOODS

There is Trouble for Uncle Sam Resulting from the Cuban Boycott of American Goods.

Havana, May 1.—The condition of things on this island cannot be satisfactorily regarded either by Cubans or Americans. To judge by the expressions heard on all sides the situation requires a good deal of clearing before the atmosphere is by any means wholesome for a foreigner to breathe. Matters political and from a business viewpoint are decidedly against the newcomer and the stranger with progressive views is looked at askance, and the mere money and business ability he has the less welcome he is. The original dream of the Cubans to be free for themselves alone is a nightmare, if no longer a dream. The little coo commonwealth republic they intended to build a fence around is the only one they want, and they will continue to "bluff" at the idea of ultimately attaining it just as long as there is any earthly cause to such talk.

The Cuban who went to the United States for education went there to gain knowledge of how to manage his less fortunate fellow Cuban. He thinks he knows now, and that's why he doesn't want the American still to be his tutor in the job.

WANT TO GET THE PLANS.

The thoroughbred, high grade Cuban only desired of the United States government that they should publish the Spanish and mail away, turning over the reins of government to these "wise" men. The Cuban in every respect, if he could just change place with the Spaniard. There were none too many offices for the aspiring ones, and the revenues were very satisfactory to complete, from the distance, to the prospective successors in office. This American idea of economy and retrenchment, the cutting off of superfluous sinuous and reducing the plum crop by half was a decided blow.

Then, again, the American idea of spending money for sanitary purposes, and thus wasting revenues, is unpalatable to the Cuban. The Cuban is a free spender. He would not care to have the Cuban in every respect, if he could just change place with the Spaniard. There were none too many offices for the aspiring ones, and the revenues were very satisfactory to complete, from the distance, to the prospective successors in office. This American idea of economy and retrenchment, the cutting off of superfluous sinuous and reducing the plum crop by half was a decided blow.

JOY REIGNS AT VICTORIA UNIVERSITY

A Magnificent New Campus Purchased For Fifty-Five Thousand Dollars.

The Toronto University's Coffers Are Filled—Big Block of Toronto University Land to North of Victoria College Purchased by Campus and Residence Purposes—A New Residence.

Toronto, April 30.—There is joy in the hearts of the professors and students of Victoria University and there is much money in the coffers of Toronto University. The men students of Victoria rejoice in the realization of a long-cherished hope, to wit, a big new campus; the lady students are glad by the certainty of a new fifty thousand dollar ladies' residence for next year; the Victoria professors see visions of overflowing class rolls next term, and the trustees of Toronto University have refilled their depleted treasury by realizing on fifty-five thousand dollars worth of land just sold for campus and residence purposes to Victoria University.

On Thursday last the long-pending negotiations for the purchase by Victoria University of the vacant land just to the north of the college and fronting on Czar street and Avenue road, were finally got through. The representatives of Victoria agreed to pay $55,000 for the land in question, which is about 680 feet long and 300 feet wide. Fifteen thousand dollars in cash has been paid down and the balance stands on account. Of the $15,000 paid in cash the Hon. G. A. Cox gave $10,000, and the ladies of the Barbara Heck Residence Association gave $5,000.

Victoria's share of the Methodist twentieth century fund will be about $88,000 so that the balance of $40,000 due on the land can be easily met. However, the students and friends of the university are not depending entirely on the fund to meet the indebtedness, and an effort will be made to raise independent funds to pay for the campus, thus leaving a larger amount to apply to university expansion purposes. Next October will see Victoria start the college year on a sound financial basis and with a magnificent campus for college sports.

It is also the intention to proceed this summer with the erection of the ladies' residence for which $50,000 was left by the late W. H. Massey. It will probably be built facing Avenue road either directly north or directly south of Czar street.

An effort will be made to secure the closing of the western end of Czar street, thus throwing all the land to the north of the college into a magnificent stretch of green sward for general college and campus purposes.

The $55,000 to be paid to Toronto University, together with the aid just given by the Government at the last session of the Legislature, will materially relieve the present financial embarrassment of the provincial university.

GREAT WAR CRAFT OF THE FUTURE

Will be the Submarine Boat Which will be used by all Nations

IN THE IMMEDIATE FUTURE.

New York, May 1.—The utility of the submarine boat, which in the past has been much questioned, is being recognized more fully as experiments with the new class of vessel are carried to completion and those most intimately acquainted with the capabilities of the submarine craft are most sanguine of its ultimate success. The inventor of the much-discussed submarine torpedo boat, Holland, John P. Holland, says that within the next 10 years we shall have made more progress in submerged navigation than has been made in the 300 years that have just passed. Within that period he expects to see submarine boats engaged in regular passenger traffic.

For transatlantic travel submarine boats will never be possible commercially. For short trips the submarine offers commercial advantages that will render a dangerous rival of the surface sailing vessel, if, indeed, it does not drive the latter entirely out of competition in certain waters. Take, for example, the trip across the British channel. No other water journey causes an equal amount of suffering. The most hardened traveler becomes seasick there. Fog and heavy traffic are constantly causing collisions. Storms toss the smallest boats about like cockle shells. The submarine boat will remove all these objections.

There will be no seasickness because in a submerged boat there is no perceptible motion. There will be no smells to create nausea, for the boats will be propelled by electric power taken from storage batteries. There will be no collisions, because the boats will travel downward and going at different depths, say one at 40, the other at 80 feet. The water overhead may be crowded with small craft, but the submarine will have a free unobstructed course. She will be kept absolutely true to this course by means of cables running from shore to shore. On these cables will run automatic steering gear attached to the submarine. Storms and fogs will have no existence for the traveler for weather has little effect on the water at the depth at which she moves.

Almost without jar the boat will put off from her dock on the English side. Practically no vibration will be felt from the smooth running machinery and before the traveler fully realizes that a start has been made the boat will be fast at her dock at Calais. This may be regarded as a mere visionary outlook but that it will ultimately come to pass is the belief of students well advanced in the science of ship construction.

As an instrument of war, the submarine craft presents most interesting possibilities. It will offer the spectacle when used in attack, of a weapon against which there is no defense. Objects under water cannot be seen and therefore they cannot be damaged. This being the case the submerged vessel is invulnerable. Wharves, shipping at anchor, the buildings in seaport towns, cannot run away. The sinking of a submarine vessel against them means inevitable destruction. Mines may be set to offset its powers but these could be rendered ineffective by torpedoes and the way clear to sand destruction to the enemy.

WORLD OF SPORT.

A great golfing competition took place on Monday last between the Bank of Commerce and Ontario Bank on one side, and the Bank of Montreal and Toronto on the other. The result was a victory for the former. The match was one of great interest, and was played to a finish. The winners now feel that they are entitled to classification hereafter.

BOWLING.

A well attended meeting of the bowlers of bowling on the green was held on Monday night in the Bank of Commerce building.

Mr. McFarlane was chosen chairman, and explained that he had secured an option on the lot in the north-east corner of Simcoe and Aylmer streets, which was in every way suited for the purposes of bowling on the green, and could accommodate from four to six rinks.

An animated discussion followed, and it was decided that the prospects for a bowling club with a large membership was very bright in Peterborough.

On motion of Mr. E. B. Edwards and R. C. McFarlane, the meeting resolved itself into the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club.

Mr. McFarlane, seconded by Mr. LeBrun, moved that the club adopt the constitution of the Granite Bowling Association, of Toronto—Carried.

The following officers were elected: Patrons—J. R. Stratton and Mr. J. A. Keay, M. P. President—Dr. Boucher. Vice President—Mr. R. C. McFarlane. Sec. Treas.—Mr. A. J. N. Terrill. Executive Committee—Lt. Col. Edwards, Mr. Robert Kerr and the officers.

On motion of Mr. McFarlane and Mr. Geo. Giroux, the club will take the necessary steps to affiliate itself with the Ontario Bowling Association.

The Executive Committee was instructed to make enquiries and report to a general meeting of the club to be held early next week concerning the expense entailed in securing the grounds, fitting them up and maintaining them in a suitable manner, as well as to secure the names of those wishing to identify themselves with the club.

RESULTS TELL THE STORY.

Mr. G. Newton, the well known and popular superintendent of the Canada Savings and Loan and Building Association, placed a small advertisement in the Times a few days ago, for help, and was overwhelmed with responses. He says that it was a revelation to him in the line of advertising. He says again, that merchants who do not use our columns are making a big mistake. Our rates may seem a little high, but advertisers must remember that everybody reads the Times, and therefore be prepared to pay accordingly.

SMALLPOX IN MARMORA TWP.

On Monday of last week Mr. Jas. Cook of Marmora twp. arrived in town from Sault Ste Marie. He slept here over night, and journeyed out home over the Gordons road. A day or two afterwards he was taken ill with smallpox. Precautions were at once taken to prevent the spread of the disease. Messrs. Jos. Doupe, tinsmith, and Hay and Williams have been quarantined on account of being exposed to Cook. A large number are being vaccinated.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Brantford Jury Found That Charles White Died Of Poison.

MRS. WHITE IS ONE SUSPECTED.

Brantford, Ont., April 30.—This morning the coroner's jury which has been holding an inquest upon the body of Charles White, who died suddenly on Sunday, April 14, under circumstances that warranted the belief he had died from poison, brought in a verdict that "Charles White died from being poisoned with strychnine administered, the jury suspect, by the wife of deceased."

Mrs. White was immediately placed under arrest by the police on a charge of murdering her husband, and was removed to the county jail, where she spent the night.

24TH OF MAY VICTORIA DAY.

Ottawa, April 30.—Immediately upon the opening of the House of Commons yesterday, Sir Wilfrid Laurier took occasion to make his promised announcement touching the future observance of the 24th of May as a public holiday. There has been little doubt as to the course the Government would adopt, at the same time the declaration of the Premier was received with much gratification by both sides of the House. Sir Wilfrid said:—

"I stated some time ago that I would make the announcement this day upon the celebration of the 24th of May. The Government I think, as right in assuming that it is the general wish of the people of Canada that the 24th of May which has long been celebrated as a national holiday, should continue to be so observed as in the days of Queen Victoria. I therefore move that the order, House in committee on bill respecting Victoria Day, be transferred from public order to general orders."

This means that Dr. Horsey's bill is adopted by the Government.

A RIVAL BRANDED.

Jealous Girls Used a Hot Iron on a Wayne County Girl's Face.

Binghamton, N.Y., April 30.—Pearl Weasel, and Frances Burton, three sisters of Delaware county, have been arrested at Phenicia, for assaulting and assaulting Miss Elizabeth Holland, whose home is near Darlorn, Wayne county, Mich. While visiting relatives in Delaware county, Miss Holland met a young man who had been courting Miss Cornish. He fell in love with Miss Holland, and his attentions so enraged the girls that they are alleged to have decoyed Miss Holland into a vacant summer residence, branded her in the face with an iron and locked her all night in a closet of the deserted house.

After 12 hours of pain and terror, she escaped, and the arrests followed.

POLICE COURT.

At the police court yesterday morning, Mrs. McIntire Reid street, was fined $5 and costs for allowing her cows to run at large.

George Taylor was charged with assault by Bert Craig. After a good deal of contradictory evidence had been given, the magistrate fined each $5 and costs.

ALONE.

(Concluded.)

"These are the things that have no fixed measure by the law: The angle of the acre field the first gifts, the sacrifice, the charity, and the study of the law; these are the things, the fruits of which man enjoys in this life and the consequences of which are conserved for the future life—veneration of father and mother, the charity, the early rising of the morning, the hospitality, the care of patients."

"And the dowry of the bride," put in Rabbi Levy as he entered the store unnoticed.

"And the dowry of the bride, the accompanying of the dead to their burial place, the devotion at prayer, the reconciliation of dissatisfied friends, but the study of the law is better than all," went on Reb Israel to the end.

"Talk of Moses and he will come," said Reb Israel "Good-morning, good-morning, Rabbi Levy. I thought of you this morning."

"Good-morning. So late, and you are praying—it will soon be time for the afternoon prayer," remarked Rabbi Levy slowly.

"What can I do for you, Rabbi Levy. My daughter will soon be here, and then we'll go to the synagogue. Well, what is new here? What is her name, did you say?" said Rabbi Levy, at a broad smile spreading over his patriarchal countenance. His big beard was heavily sprinkled with gray, although he was not quite fifty.

"In England it is Dora, Bienenstock. How Jewish name is Dreier," answered the Shatehen passing his hand through his reddish beard.

"Dreier, the prophet—he, Reb Levy, I would be well to one thing, Reb Levy. How will I get along with her?" said Reb Israel somewhat bashfully.

"Go, go, you may rely upon me—a girl, I am telling you—a diamond—did you say?" said Rabbi Levy, not forgetting you can't find that so easily nowadays," added Rabbi Levy, winking one eye. He looked very pleased, for involuntarily a commission arose before his mind's eye.

"But you should have heard my brother laugh at me when I told him about Dreier, the German," Israel, in the endeavor to appear calm, looking at some books that lay on the counter, while inwardly he was eagerly waiting for what Rabbi Levy would reply to this.

"Reb Israel, I don't understand that," said Levy with a shrug of his shoulders. "Are you a child? Can you not reason for yourself? A wise man's eye is in his mind. Must you have somebody to tell you what you can't understand it. How is it? Your brother may have a German wife and you may not. The teacher may and the pupil dare not."

Rabbi Levy nodded his head angrily, and began to pace the narrow street and from upon this door opened and a dark girl of about twenty came in.

"They wouldn't let me go; I had to dress him," said she, explaining why she was so slow in coming.

"That's my daughter," said Reb Israel.

It was rather meant for a sign to drop the subject than an introduction. "A pretty girl, she deserves a chosen; a nice girl—your daughter—a real daughter of Israel." A chosen? (underground) he murmured, glancing at Rabbi Levy then Israel's daughter, for girl and dates were plentiful on his list.

"Yesterday I heard Dr. Adler—I mean I heard your brother speak," put in Rabbi Levy to change the subject of their conversation, while Reb Israel folded up his prayer-shawl.

"He has a terrible low! A diamond tongue when he says the right thing," added Rabbi Levy, warmed up to enthusiasm.

When Reb Israel told him that he had never heard his own brother speak in the temple, Rabbi Levy coughed, and somewhat awkwardly remarked:

"I live near your brother's temple, so yesterday, for the first time in my life—would you believe me? For the first time—I stepped in there on my way back from the synagogue."

Israel Adler took off his skull-cap and put on his hat. "He said, 'it is getting late. I may miss minyan (quorum of ten men for prayer) in the house of Learning.'"

He put his prayer-shawl into a velvet bag decorated with "David's shield," took it under his arm and walked out.

On the opposite side of the street stood Dora, watching every move of the "Shatehen." Her heart told her that his companion was the bridegroom.

"He is old," she thought, as soon as she beheld him, "but what matters it? He looks venerable."

The previous night was to Dora one of endless restlessness. Sleep fled from her, and the unbearable, incessant ticking of the old wooden clock made her pray for the quick return of the day.

For this day, it seemed to her, would surely bring something new into her life. "I may not need to work to-morrow," she thought. It was in the evening of this day that Rabbi Levy promised to come with Mr. Israel Adler. Everything was ready to receive them.

Curiosity began to torture her as soon as she rose. How does his store look? How does he look? And a thousand and similar things were forcing her for answers. At nine o'clock in the morning she stood opposite Israel Adler's book-store.

She found herself in a mixed crowd of what looked to her like clever masqueraders; for everything seemed strange to her that morning. She expected, though she feared to think of it, a great change to-day.

"Chanukah candles, mistletoe, Chanukah candles," Dora was offered. "Four apples, four apples, the dear, the fine, test apples—two for a cent," good-naturedly roared the fishman, who for a moment neglected his own business in order to have a laugh at his neighbor, a red-headed, red-faced, bearded, stout Jewess, with a big merchandise license on her gray jacket. The applewoman looked askance and cursed.

The excitement was too much for Dora. Her eyes grew dim. Dizziness seized her frame as she walked to and fro, staring constantly at the beflagged window of the book-store.

There was everything in the window window to please an orthodox heart.

Over the gimples hung fringes, prayer-shawls, skull-caps; Mezuze and books of all sizes and descriptions were there, and pictures of the altar of offerings, of Jerusalem, of the Lebanon, and the Karmel, in striking colors.

"Little prayer books, little Bibles, little calendars," offered her an old man, taking out of a bag a handful of books. It brought Dora to her senses. It was like pouring cold water on her head. A book of prayers and a calendar offered at this moment sounded like a satire intended for her.

She stood as if petrified, watching for a long time the Shatehen and the bridegroom depart into the distance. The noise around was intense, and Dora was carried away by the crowd, farther, farther.

"I may not need to work to-morrow," repeated itself through her mind. Her eyes had a strange glitter in them. She boarded a car and went home, hopeful.

The day seemed to Dora like a year of tedious waiting. Every moment told upon her nerves. Fatigued and pale, she busied herself in arranging and rearranging things on the mantelpiece, curling her hair and trying to appear calm whenever her aunt was near.

Rabbi Levy came up during the day, and told her that he would bring Mr. Adler at eight o'clock, and that the day would also be there.

"I hope it will be all right," said Rabbi Levy to Dora in English, winking his eye knowingly.

"I hope so myself," said Dora, with a smile, but soon inwardly repeated her rash frankness. At this moment she looked both lovely and miserable.

The latter part of the day brought her rest either. She tried to sleep, but could not. For hours she paced her room to and fro in painful monotony. Her eyes were closed tightly, but at times she would open them and look around to find herself alone. Peace seemed so near, yet this was the most trying day of her life.

Twice that day Dora went down on her knees and prayed. Her tears coursed down her face as she uttered passionately: "Help me, God that I may no longer be alone!" This was all she wished for now.

At last evening came. Dora lighted the four gas-jets in the parlor and sat down in the rocking-chair with a book in her hands; her aunt sat beside her on a chair.

"I wonder how he looks?" said Dora's aunt, as she arose to adjust the tablecloth, upon which lay a family picture-album.

"What matter about looks? Look at me, everything Mr. Levy says is a diamond," said Dora, looking at her aunt, who was well-to-do, remarked Dora, lifting her eyes to the book.

"His brother is said to be a nice man—a rabbi of a famous temple," said Dora, looking at her aunt, who was well-to-do, remarked Dora, lifting her eyes to the book.

"You say he will come with his brother?" she went on.

"That is what Mr. Levy told me to-day," said Dora distractedly, looking at the clock.

"Dora, why didn't you put on your gray waist—that one becomes you much better; you look at least ten years younger if it is this black waist," rattled her aunt with a frimace.

Dora nodded her head unconcernedly at a sign to say, "What is a waist, after all? I look as if I were in mourning," and heaved herself in it.

"No, I think this will do it plain, simple, and fits well," she said, turning to her aunt.

"Very nice, but so late! It is almost eight o'clock," asked Dora, after some moments of silence.

"He went to a meeting in his temple. He will be back at half-past nine," answered her aunt, who was well-to-do, remarked Dora, lifting her eyes to the book.

"Eight o'clock," asked Dora, after some moments of silence.

OLD PEOPLE

Have a charm of their own when they are not weak and feeble, but hale and hearty, enjoying the sports and pleasures of youth though they cannot participate in them. The whole secret of a sturdy old age is this: Keep the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in perfect order. The young man who does not think of his stomach will be made to think of it as he grows old. It is the "weak" stomach, incapable of supplying the adequate nutrition for the body, which causes the weakness and feebleness of old age.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It makes the "weak" stomach strong, and so enables the body to be fully nourished and strengthened by the food which is eaten.

"I suffered for six years with constipation and indigestion, during which time I employed several physicians, but they could not reach my case," writes Mr. O. Popper, of Burke, Ontario, Canada. "I felt that there was no help for me, could not retain food on my stomach; had vertigo and would fall helpless to the floor. Two years ago I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and little by little I began to feel better. After taking twelve bottles of the 'Discovery' I was able to do light work, and have been improving ever since. I am now in good health for one of my age—60 years. I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's medicine."

"I suffered for six years with constipation and indigestion, during which time I employed several physicians, but they could not reach my case," writes Mr. O. Popper, of Burke, Ontario, Canada. "I felt that there was no help for me, could not retain food on my stomach; had vertigo and would fall helpless to the floor. Two years ago I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and little by little I began to feel better. LOCAL NEWS LETTERS.

YOUNG'S POINT.

—Mr. Jan. Panning, Sr., our esteemed townman, left on Friday for Owen Sound where he intends putting in the summer. Your correspondent wishes him every success in thus breaking away from home ties and going elsewhere to seek work.

—The boys are again assembling around the vacant lots and indulging in the usual amusements, a sure sign that spring has arrived.

—The majestic was successfully launched on Thursday and will be ready for business in a few days.

—Seeding operations were going on nicely when the east wind of Saturday interfered with it very much. However they will soon be at it again.

—Mr. Shell McMillan was brought home on Friday suffering from pneumonia. He is being attended by Dr. J. R. Fraser and we hope to see him around again soon.

—Mrs. Kearney, of the Lakeview House, is having her house thoroughly painted. The work is being done by our local artist, Mr. Robert Dever, and he deserves much praise for the manner in which the work is done.

—Mr. Walter Young intends erecting a large barn this year. The contract for the stone work has been let to Mr. Sam. Duval. He starts work this week.

—Mr. D. Gifford with a gang of men for the Rathbun Co., arrived home from Squaw River on Monday evening.

—The ice is out of Clear and Money lakes and we will soon see the season of navigation opened here.

—Mr. Z. White's boat "The Pocahontas" arrived on Monday evening. This is the first boat of the season.

—This is the time of the usual spring moving. Mr. E. Wilson is moving out of Mr. T. Gordon's house into Mr. Al. Ian's, and Mr. W. Hutton intends to move into the country again. I suppose Mr. Hutton has become tired of city life and pines for the seclusion of the country.

DUMMER.

The death of Mr. William F. Darling of the township of Dummer, removed from its midst one of its best known and most respected residents. The deceased, who was only in his 46th year, during his duties as census enumerator caught a cold, which rapidly developed into pneumonia, terminated with fatal results on Friday, April 18th. Mr. Darling was one of the best educated men in the township, an staunch Reformer and keenly interested in all matters affecting the welfare of the community. He was also a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters. The deceased leaves a widow and five small children to mourn his untimely death.

The sympathy of a large circle of friends extended to her and to his mother, Mrs. Catherine Darling, on whom this blow had a most severe effect, owing to the loss she sustained last fall by the accidental killing of her son Richard at Norwood. The funeral took place on Sunday, from his residence in Dummer, to the Warsaw Cemetery. Notwithstanding the bad state of the roads it is said that it was one of the largest funerals ever known in Dummer which shows the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

Excesses Cured After Many Years of Terrible Torture

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—At the request of the makers I gladly write a line to tell what Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills did for me. For over 15 years I was a sufferer from excesses and although treated by the best doctors in the country, I got no relief. After taking 9 boxes of the pills, I am, thank God, entirely well. They cured me when every known remedy failed. Jas. Britain, G. T.R., Brantford.

RESULTS OF BANK AMALGAMATION

The Canadian Bank of Commerce Completes the Purchase of the Assets of the Bank of British Columbia.

The Banks Capital Now Eight Million Dollars and Assets Over Sixty-three Millions

The negotiations for the purchase of the assets of the Bank of British Columbia by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, an announcement respecting which was made some months ago, have been carried to a successful conclusion. A thorough examination of the affairs of the Bank of British Columbia was made by the officials of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and this proving entirely satisfactory, the amalgamation was finally completed. A statement of the affairs of the Canadian Bank of Commerce after the amalgamation, has now been issued, and discloses a very strong position. In point of capital and reserve the Bank now ranks fourth among banking institutions on the continent of America. It has 62 branches throughout Canada; five branches in the United States, namely, at New York, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland (Oregon), and Calgary (Alberta), and one in London, England; 88 establishments in all. The acquisition of the London office is an important step in the progress of the Bank. The bank's transactions in sterling exchange in the United States and Canada each year amount to many millions of pounds, and the ability to handle this business through the Bank's own London office will result in an important addition to the earning power of the Bank. In many other directions also the interests of the two banks will be immensely benefited by the amalgamation.

The following is a condensation of the statement issued by the bank at the close of business on the 31st of March:

ASSETS.
Cash, Gold Bullion, Bankers' Balances and Balance Due by London Office $7,246,421.04

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62064, 68546, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet.

This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The workings of these radiators side by side with the ordinary may be seen at any time at the Company's office, in either steam or water—and you are invited to examine them here, whether you desire to take stock in the Company or not.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock of radiators.

FROM LITTLE BROOKLYN.

Breezy Briefs from Ashburnham and Neighb.

—Everybody and his wife in Ashburnham reads the Times.

—The shipyard is being visited by large numbers of people.

—Mr. Sam Dickie, our popular butcher, is doing a rattling business. What Sam doesn't know about good steaks wouldn't fill much of a book.

—Ald. John Smith, it is said, contemplated running for Reeve next January. John will run as a single taxer, and if elected will form a local cabinet of single taxers.

—Ashburnham is the only municipality in the county that declines to publish the auditors' report. The Council may think they are saving a few dollars, but they will find that the ratepayers prefer to see how their taxes are being spent.

—Mr. George Linnett is erecting a fine new dwelling house just south of the hotel.

—Since the capture of the nets in the Little Lake by Fishery Inspector Yetland a few days ago, the driftwood has been allowed to escape. Nothing like this to catch driftwood!

—The watering cart in the village corners over six miles of streets.

—The government should be urged to build a new wharf in the village. The present wharf is a disgrace.

—When the work at the lift lock is completed, the man who will be missed most in Mr. Tom Kelly, Mr. Kelly is the government clerk of the works, and no man is more popular than he.

—The weather is now getting hot, and the Council should provide our Chief Constable with a silk umbrella to keep off the rays of the sun.

—Mr. Billy Collins, our progressive merchant, says that his in the village is fairly good. Billy is a hustler, and if there is anything going, he will have a piece of it.

—The Plannet Club, of which Mr. Bob Watley is the honored President, met last night in regular session, when the shade tree planting crisis was discussed. Mr. John Gillman being understood to be in favor of a judicious and fair distribution of the shade trees. A motion prevailed to the effect that Mr. Dave McManis, the gentleman who disagrees with the much needed re-planting on the King's highway, should put in his rainy days drawing and distributing postholes. These postholes might be used to plant trees in, and as there are a large number of the casual, their use in this way would ensure the planting of the shade trees at a uniform depth.

CENTRAL CHARITY BOARD.

The Regular Meeting Held Monday Night—Accounts Passed.

The regular meeting of the Central Charity Board was held in the Town Clerk's office Monday night. The following members were in attendance: Mr. J. J. McEldin, vice chairman, in the chair. Mr. Archdeacon Casey and Messrs. W. Fowler, W. Stoker, W. Telford, W. Kemp, W. Aldridge and F. W. Miller.

The following accounts were read:

Total $55.00

The Board adjourned until the last Monday in May at 7 o'clock.

SALVATION ARMY SERVICES

A Series of Revival Meetings to be Begun on May 1st in Peterborough.

The Salvation Army of this town are looking forward to big times on the occasion of the visit of Major Ethel Galt, daughter of Judge Galt, of Toronto, who is coming to hold a series of revival meetings, extending over two weeks, in the S. A. barracks on Simcoe street. The Major, who will be accompanied by Capt. Belle Le Dore, will commence operations on Tuesday, May 7th, this meeting, however, being held specially for members of the Army and Christian friends. On the following night, (Wednesday), at 8 p.m., they will conduct their first public meeting, which is hoped there will be a large attendance of the people of the town and also on through this special series of meetings.

The general public are heartily invited to attend.

Miss Galt, it may be remembered, is the lady who caused such a stir among the social circles of society in the city of Toronto some ten years ago, when she stepped into the ranks of the Salvation Army as an officer, leaving behind her the fashionable world, in order to give her life in endeavoring to lift up fallen humanity.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The annual business meeting and election of officers of George Street Epworth League was held Monday evening, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Wilson, occupying the chair. Preceding the business of the evening, Mr. Wilson gave a very interesting talk on "Pledges." The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows:

President—Mr. W. F. Stubbs.
1st Vice-Pres.—(C. E. Dept.)—Mr. V. P. Thomas.
2nd Vice-Pres. (Miss's Dept.)—Miss D. Friso.
3rd Vice-Pres. (Literary Dept.)—Mr. E. Doidge.
4th Vice-Pres. (Social Dept.)—Miss E. Wright.
Rec.-Sec.—Miss Ethel Miller.
Cor.-Sec.—Miss Lettie McHarrie.
Treas.—Miss Janet Wilson.

A TRUE STORY.

A man went into a Peterborough barber's shop to get shaved, wearing a beard of his own making.

"I suppose," said the barber, "you killed that bear yourself?"

"Yes, I did," was the reply.

"Was it a grizzly bear?"

"It was."

"About the size of a two-year-old steer?"

"Geo whizz! How many bullets did it take to kill him?"

"Not any at all."

"Brain him with an axe?"

"No, I talked him to death!"

It took the customer fifteen minutes to get the rest of his shave, and during that time the barber didn't speak another word.

CLOSE SEASON, 1901.

The following changes in the law regarding fines etc. might be of interest to the public. Section 18 of the Ontario Fisheries Act provides for violations of the act or regulations, the fine to be not less than $10 nor to exceed $50; the maximum number of days' imprisonment to be ninety. Any person may prosecute, and is entitled to one-half the fine imposed. Sub-section 2 of Section 12, Dominion Fisheries Act, says: "It shall be the duty of every fishery officer, customs or excise officer, game and deputy game warden, first and second ranger, constable and peace officer, to aid in the observance of the fishery laws and regulations in bringing offenders to justice."

WHAT IT'LL BE YET.

Everybody is getting vaccinated. This is the way it will be before the end of the week.

One man meets another on the street.

"Have something on me?" says the first.

"All right—what'll it be?"

"An'ther year like."

"All right; let's have a vaccination."

"Done," says the other. They go to the nearest doctor's office and the man who suggested the "treat" pays the damage.

TO CARE FOR WATCH

A watch should be wound up every day at the same hour.

Avoid putting it on a marble slab or near anything excessively cold.

A sudden change of temperature, contracting the metal, may sometimes cause the mainspring to break.

The cold also coagulates the oil, and the pivots and wheels work less freely and affect the regularity of the time-keeping.

To keep your watch clean, take care that the case fits closely and see that the watch pocket is kept free from dust, which is so often given off by linings.

Avoid sudden jars and falls, for even if it does not seem to affect it at the moment, a watch will resent rough handling, by becoming gradually "out of order" without apparent cause.

FOUND OUT.

A Trained Nurse Discovered His Effort.

No one is in better position to know the value of food and drink than a trained nurse.

Speaking of coffee, a nurse of Wilkes Barre, Pa., writes: "I used to drink strong coffee myself, and suffered greatly from headaches and indigestion. While on a visit to my brothers in a good chance to try Postum Cereal Food Coffee, for they drank it altogether in place of ordinary coffee. In two weeks after using Postum I found I was much benefited and finally my headaches disappeared and also the indigestion."

Naturally I have since used Postum among my patients, and have noticed a marked benefit where coffee has been left off and Postum used.

I observe a curious fact about Postum used among mothers. It greatly helps the flow of milk in cases where coffee is inclined to dry it up, and where tea causes nervousness.

I find trouble in getting servants to make Postum properly. They must always serve it before it has been boiled long enough. It should be boiled 10 or 15 minutes and served with cream, when it is certainly a delicious beverage." Mrs. Ella C. Burns, 300 E. South St., Wilkes Barre, Pa.

$400 FOR THE 24TH MAY CELEBRATION

Granted by Our Civic Fathers at Last Night's Council Meeting.

WILL RAISE IT TO $500.00

The Town Council met in special session last night, when there were present Mayor T. H. G. Denne and Aldermen J. H. T. Corkey, Clinkscales, Edgcomb and G. M. Hoger.

24TH OF MAY CELEBRATION.

Before taking up routine business the 24th May celebration committee, who were present to ask for a substantial grant towards this laudable purpose, were invited to address Council.

Mr. Peter Campbell in a brief address congratulated the public meeting of last Friday as an exceedingly representative one, and urged that Council make an appropriation of $500 to assure a creditable celebration.

Mr. H. M. Denison said that he had heard at the meeting in question one dissenting voice. If the celebration is held at all it should be to the credit and benefit of the whole community and for the enjoyment of the citizens as a whole. Keeping those objects in view, it has been pointed out that on Dominion Day both Port Hope and Lindsay will hold mammoth demonstrations, therefore in order to draw a crowd from these towns as well as from our localities, the 24th has been decided on as the best day for the town's benefit in the number of visitors it is hoped will be attracted here by the programme the committee are contemplating arranging for. But if you contemplate that on the day of the celebration within reach of every citizen by making all its events free of charge the sum of $500 or $500 will be needed to be raised; the mercantile corporation have so far done handsomely, factories and warehouses have promised their co-operation, and it now remains for the town's chief corporation to contribute its share in a liberal grant. Continuing, Mr. Denison said he did not agree with Mr. D. W. Dumble in thinking the proposed demonstration would savor of disrespect to her late Majesty the Queen. This town has verily mourned the death of our late beloved sovereign, and a goodly number of its citizens have strictly observed the period of mourning laid down by court officials. Now, however, mourning badges have been discarded in military circles and we find that great preparations are being made in Australia to receive His Majesty the Duke of York with festivities and mammoth demonstrations at about the same time as we contemplate a fitting celebration of our first "Empire Day." Wherein then shall we show want of respect in this matter?

In conclusion, the speaker urged that Council give a liberal grant so that the day's programme can wind up with a grand display of fireworks.

Mr. F. H. Lobbin, in reply to Ald. Clinkscales, said the committee proposed to have if possible a kilted parade in the afternoon with sports in Nichol Park, the whole to terminate with fireworks at night. The extent of these will of course depend upon the amount of money raised.

Ald. Edgcomb thought that most of the citizens favored the celebration. If Council makes a grant for this purpose a certain action will be down on them, and if they don't a far larger number will take exception. He would therefore move that $100 be voted for this purpose.

Ald. Hoger thought $100 is more than the town can afford to give. He was in favor of $500, as granted last year, and accordingly moved an amendment in this direction, seconded by Ald. Corkey.

Ald. Clinkscales did not see the point in saving a paltry $100. If we are going to have a demonstration, let it be one worth having and a credit to the town.

The Mayor remarked that this, the first Empire Day and the first 24th in the new century should be fittingly celebrated, and the money would not be thrown away so being. He had been advised that the Force of England had arranged for an excursion down the river that day, which they had postponed on hearing of the decision of the public meeting last Friday.

Ald. Hoger said he would support the motion for $500, on condition that the citizens themselves subscribe $200; in this way a creditable celebration would be assured.

The Mayor replied that there is $150 subscribed already. He did not think there need by any doubt of the subscription reaching $200. In fact he would himself guarantee that amount being subscribed.

Ald. Hoger remarked that the more Council gives the less will be subscribed, $100 AND A HUNDRED.

Ald. Hoger withdrew his resolution and the following was carried:

"Moved by Ald. Edgcomb, seconded by Mr. F. H. Lobbin, that the 24th May celebration, provided the Committee raise $200 by subscriptions. On the suggestion of Mr. Denison the following rider was added: Should the Committee raise $500 by subscriptions the town will give a $100 sum."

COMMUNICATIONS.

A writ of summons from Clerk of the County Court in regard to an action for damages to the amount of $200, brought by Ormond & Walsh on account of their cellar being flooded, and goods damaged by surface water on George and Simcoe streets. This matter was referred to the Legal Committee, who are to instruct the Town Solicitor to defend the same until advised to the contrary.

From Property owners on Highway street asking for a hydrant on said street, between George and Aylmer streets.—Referred to Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From the Geo. Matthews Co., asking permission to construct a siding to connect their premises with the G.T.R. from a point on the Belleville Branch, about the corner of Perry and Aylmer streets, diagonally across the line blocks entering their yard about opposite end of Townsend street. Also asking what width of opening would be required in bridge south of Townsend street. The Company further asked permission to put a track down on George street, crossing the street on an angle and running parallel to their building north as far as Wolf street, this siding would be used for loading outwards and not for receiving live loads.—Referred to Board of Works.

ROAD MACHINERY.

Mr. Robertson, representing the Good Roads Machinery Co., addressed Council in reference to machinery for cleaning streets and a stone cutter. Our present crusher, he said, is a poor concern. He further complimented our roads as some of the best in Canada.

FOR DRAWING GRAVEL.

Ald. Hoger moved, seconded by Ald. Corkey, that Mr. Parnell be paid $250 a year for drawing gravel, on certificate of Engineer.—Carried.

TO ADVERTISE DEBENTURES.

Ald. Hoger moved, seconded by Ald. Edgcomb, that the Mayor and Chairman of the Finance Committee be authorized to advertise for sale the town's debentures which are about to be issued. Council then adjourned.

CHILD ATTACKED BY A CAT.

Georgetown, N. J., April 30.—The ferocity of a trusted cat almost cost the life of a baby to-day in Morris Green's home here. As it was, the little one was badly injured, and only the timely arrival of its mother saved its life. While Mrs. Green was busy with her household duties she left her infant, three months old, asleep on a couch in the kitchen. Suddenly the mother was startled by a shriek from the baby, and hastened to its side. As the mother entered the kitchen she was amazed to see the pet cat jump from the child's body. The little one was bleeding from wounds in the face. The child's wounds were treated by a physician, who said there was no immediate danger unless blood poisoning should follow.

DR. BRYCE FEARS RETURN OF SMALLPOX

Secretary of Provincial Board of Health Says the Pan-American May be a Menace to us.

A Blow For The Opponents of Vaccination.—Figures Compiled by The Provincial Authorities Are Overwhelmingly in Favor of Inoculation as a Preventative.

"I have no doubt in my mind at all that there will be a recurrence of the epidemic of smallpox and we must guard against it. Cleveland has 600 cases, Buffalo must expect to get her share, and when the Pan-American is in full swing there is nothing to prevent people from bringing it over here. Get vaccinated, that is my advice."

Dr. Bryce, Provincial Health Officer, made this statement this morning. He has just returned from Garden Township, where the latest outbreak occurred, and is now busy summing up the situation.

The smallpox epidemic has now reached the stage which enables Dr. Bryce and the Provincial Health authorities to draw strong conclusions from figures. They deal a very heavy blow indeed at the opponents of vaccination. In running over the returns this morning Dr. Bryce pointed out that to begin with in Toronto Junction all who had been vaccinated escaped with but one exception. One of the other hundred of those who were attacked by smallpox had been vaccinated except one person, who had a very mild attack.

Again, in the back townships, where the disease has been most active, the authorities have found that only a small percentage of people have been vaccinated.

The figures at hand show that there have been about 40 centers of smallpox in all, containing 500 cases, of which only six have terminated fatally. Up north some 5,000 people passed through official hands on the trains, of whom about half were vaccinated. Three hundred cases were dealt with at the Sturgis camp, where the outbreak is now completely under control. The work has now narrowed down to those in the hospital and those disinfecting the houses. The train inspection has been stopped.

The active centers are now Lakefield, Warden Township, Waterloo Township, Haldimand, Eldon Township, Oxford West, Beesburg Township, Toronto, York, the Indian reserve in Oneida Township.

Dr. Bryce has just returned from Garden Township, where the latest outbreak occurred. Seventeen cases are in the hands of the authorities, who hope that they have discovered all. The extent of the outbreak is due to the fact that a big dance was held at which all the victims were present.

SMALLPOX IN KIRKFIELD

Twenty-four Cases Now Under Treatment

BROKE OUT AMONG CANAL MEN

A very serious state of affairs has developed at Kirkfield village since Sunday. Smallpox has broken out, and already twenty-four cases are known to exist, and as the patients had been mixing freely with the people for days it will be almost a miracle if they have not scattered the contagion far and wide.

The disease broke out among the men employed on the Trent Valley canal, about a mile and a half from the village. As many of the employees were complaining of illness, Dr. Ross, of Kirkfield, was sent for, and after a brief examination he discovered that 21 of the gang had smallpox. Three cases were also located in the village, one patient being a guest at Gust's hotel.

Prompt measures were at once taken by the local authorities. A statement of the situation was wired to Dr. Bryce, Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, who manifested his sense of the gravity of the news by coming in person. He drove over from Norville, and after confirming the nature of the disease he started out to isolate the patients and prevent further infection. The Canal men were removed to an empty storehouse, which was fitted up as a temporary hospital, while the village patients were isolated in their own homes. This course led to the closing of the Gust's house. The local Board of Health and physicians were instructed to promptly isolate all doubtful cases, and the railway authorities were notified to carry no passenger from that or adjoining stations who could not show a physician's permit.

Dr. Bryce returned to Toronto. It is said the disease was traced to a man who came from the Sudbury lumber camps and obtained work on the Canal.

CARRIE NATION INSANE.

Kansas Saloon Smasher in Eccentric Confined

Wichita, Kansas, May 2.—Carrie Nation will do no more saloon smashing for some time. She sits in solitary confinement in jail here and fumes like a maniac.

While it has been known that the "Home Defender" has been acting queerly of late, it was not thought her mental condition was in such a state. She has been ridiculed by some for her attitude to women to horsewhip every one connected with or interested in a saloon. Lately she has become greatly worked up in her denunciation of the liquor traffic and the officials who she said were responsible.

WORLD OF SPORT.

BASEBALL.

A meeting of the executive of the Peterborough Baseball Club was held Tuesday night in the Oriental Hotel, the following members being in attendance: Mr. H. H. H. Kenner, president, in the chair, and Messrs. Ed. Desautel, Wm. Robertson, Chris. Graham, R. A. W. Hay and E. S. Clarry.

Final arrangements were made for the assault-at-arms to be given in the Opera House this evening. The programme has been arranged with much care and will certainly prove to be one of the most interesting that has been put on at an affair of this kind in Peterborough in some time. The prospects for the season's sports were carefully gone over, and a successful year is anticipated.

The following interesting programme will be rendered at the Baseball Club's assault-at-arms to-morrow night:

BOXING.
Whitby, May 1.—Jake Gaudaur of Ital Portage received a cablegram yesterday morning from George Towns of London, England. Towns referred to row Gaudaur at Ital Portage unless allowed 750 pounds. He is prepared to row in Toronto Bay without any allowance for his expenses. Sullivan, Towns' boxer, is of opinion that Gaudaur is not anxious to row. In order to prove that he is anxious to row, he has sent the following reply to Towns:

Ital Portage, April 30.
George Towns, London, England:
I will guarantee your 750 pounds for a race here during the month of August at 120 a side. As soon as you can cover my 500 now in the Imperial Bank here, articles will be transferred to final stakeholder, when articles are signed. Articles must be signed by June 1st. (Signed) Jake Gaudaur.

T. A. S. ATHLETICS.
The T. A. S. Athletic Association will meet on Friday evening to elect an executive committee representative of the devotees of various sports, tennis, baseball and croquet. Mr. John D. Brian is President, and Mr. James Doria secretary of the Association.

The play ground of the Separate school, Murray-st., is being utilized by the members of the Association for practice, and there were seen on an evening recently 15 hustlers at lacrosse and as many more at baseball. The large trees on the grounds are being cut down.

PORT HOPE TO PLAY HOME.
A communication was this morning received by Sergeant Hay from Port Hope club, stating that the latter would be pleased to play a game here on the afternoon of the 24th.

In fact, they could be accommodated and play two games, one in the morning and one in the afternoon, but as the enthusiastic people will probably have control of everything that moves in the foreground of the day, the club decided that that one game would be put on.

BOXING.
Mathews Beat Conlig.
Louisville, Ky., April 30.—Matty Mathews of New York and Tom Conlig of Dunkirk met last night before the Monarch Athletic Club in a 28-round bout for the welter-weight championship of the world. There were about 3,000 persons in attendance, the crowd composed of some of the most prominent sports and bookmakers in the west.

TURF.
London, May 1.—The race for the two thousand guinea stake at Newmarket to-day was won by Sir E. Sassels Brown's cold Handicapper. Doricles was second, and Obeok third.

SOME FINE HORSES.
Mr. Robert H. Leary is not satisfied with being well up in the procession, but means to keep away in advance. His splendidly equipped liveries stables yesterday received an addition of seven fine horses, which Mr. Leary purchased in Toronto on Tuesday. They are all magnificent roadsters.

FIDELITY OF FRANCE TO ROME UNCHANGED

Dr. Teely Thinks Leaders, Not People, Are Disloyal to Rome.

LECTURE ON FRANCE AND CHURCH

Toronto, May 2.—In view of the present crisis in France, brought about by the introduction of the Association's Bill, Rev. Dr. Teely's lecture last night before the Catholic Young Ladies' Literary Society on "France and the Church" was of unusual interest.

In introducing his subject, Dr. Teely fixed on Louis XIV. as the centre of the circle of conflict he was about to describe. In France to-day, as ever, it was the leaders who were to blame, not the people. The man was lacking, not the men, who were still true to the genius and glory of that great country. To him France was the land of promise, a fair land more nearly approaching the country that once was his than any other. The Jew, with his covetousness, his anti-Christian spirit, his fondness for pleasure, found the opportunity for gratifying his desires in France, with its theatres, its gaieties, its arts, and its sciences. He had no love for Christianity, because it was not his religion, nor for France, because it was not his country. His desire was to uproot the faith of Christ, to mock and ridicule because he had not the courage to draw his sword.

FRANCE'S GREAT GLORY.
What ever the triumph of France in war, in science, in art, her greatest glory was religion; the blood of her martyrs had stained the altars of her own cities and had at last purified the soil of Canada. The lecturer then drew a thrilling picture of the dauntless courage shown by the Jesuit missionaries among the Indians, culminating in the terrible death of the noble Breton. And although this happened in our own country Toronto contained no monument to one of the grandest men that ever trod the American continent.

Dr. Teely then pointed out that retribution had always fallen upon France when the church had been outraged. In the case of Louis XIV it was Marlborough, Ramillies and Blenheim; in Napoleon's case, Leipzig, Waterloo and Wellington.

FRENCH OPPOSITION.
Referring to the opposition to religious communities in France to-day, Dr. Teely said that it would be as easy to stop the torrent of Niagara as to stop the tide of faith in France by legislation. "The law of association is not a law. It is tyranny, and like all tyranny in the past history of France, will strike back upon its altars. Where the monarchism of Louis XIV did not succeed, where the imperialism of Napoleon failed, the republicanism of Waldeck-Rousseau will never triumph. It will defeat itself. The people will not respect such a law. For two things will never change—one is the glorious, unchanging fidelity of the people of France, and the other, the endurance—more than natural—of the Papacy."

In concluding, the lecturer quoted from King Lear, comparing Erin with Cordelia, as the one country in the world that had remained wholly and steadfastly true to Rome.

PATHETIC END TO A ROMANCE.

Sergeant Wendell and Young Bride Found That His Parents Died While He Fought Boers.

London, Ont., May 2.—A remarkable story is that told by Sergeant Wendell, a member of Stratford's Horse, who passed through this city Friday on the way to his home at Kelly's siding. Sergeant Wendell was originally a private in "D" Battery, and ended here in the Second Contingent. He accompanied the corps through its many marches, and when it fought in Africa, having still a taste for fighting, he joined the Strathcona's.

One bullet entering his shoulder, another passing through his shoulder, and a third entering his abdomen. Finally he was knocked from his horse by a piece of pom-pom shell. When recovered, the Strathcona's horse had left for Canada, and as soon as possible, he followed.

On the steamer which conveyed him to Canada he discovered a young and beautiful Canadian woman travelling in the crowd of steerage. She was without means, and Sergeant Wendell gave up his cabin to her. Upon their arrival in Montreal they were married. On his way to this city with his bride, Sergeant Wendell planned a surprise for his parents. When he arrived, he found that both father and mother were dead.

London, May 2.—The Foreign Office here is said to insist that any new Nicaragua Canal treaty be based on the neutrality of the canal.

It is said to be definitely assured, it now seems likely that Great Britain will agree to abrogate the Clayton-Bulwer treaty though it is still possible she will try to bring up the Alaskan boundary matter.

WEDDING BELLS.

Yesterday afternoon the house of Mr. H. O. Fiske, Flemings Terrace, was the scene of a very pretty wedding.

When Miss Mary Alberta, daughter of Mr. O. D. Fiske, Alton, Quebec, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. E. D. Golley, formerly of Alton, but now of Toronto.

The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. W. L. Arthurs, of All Saints' Church, in the presence of about forty of the most intimate friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride was attired in grey lady's cloth in a simple and tasteful ab coquet of red roses. She was assisted by Miss Eva Golley, who wore a gown of grey silk and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Harley Golley, brother of the groom, acted in the capacity of best man.

The happy couple left on the 5.50 G. T. R. train for their future home in Toronto, and will then take up their residence at No. 132 Melbourn avenue.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful presents. The groom is well known in Peterborough being a son of Mr. T. H. Golley, of Ashburnham.

The Times joins in hearty congratulations.

A PRESENTATION.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday night, when a number of his friends assembled to say good-bye to Mr. E. J. Hall, who left for Rochester yesterday morning. Ery has always been one of the most popular and useful members of the Association, as was evident from the appreciative remarks of the officers and his fellow members, and he will be greatly missed by the boys.

After a number of short speeches has been made, expressing regret at Ery's departure, an address was read, after which Mr. Hall received a beautiful ring, as a token of the esteem in which he is held by his associates.

Mr. Hall replied in suitable language.

SAWDUST, MOULDY FLOUR AND LEAVES

Such is the "Hunger-Bread" Now Being Eaten in the Famine Stricken Districts of Russia.

Peasantry Dying in Hundreds of Typhus Fever.—Mortality Among Medical Staffs is as Great as Among Patients—One Third of Them are Incapacitated.

London, May 1.—A correspondent of The Standard at Odessa, says:—"I was favored to-day by a Russian official with the opportunity of inspecting a few loaves of what is locally known as 'hunger bread,' brought from one of the famine-stricken districts of Bessarabia. It is almost impossible to conceive how the starving Bessarabians are able to prolong their existence on such nauseous food. These loaves are composed of coarse pinewood sawdust, a small percentage of stale and mouldy maize flour, and a large admixture of various kinds of weed seed, and finely chopped weed leaves and stalks gathered on the steppe and in the forests."

No wonder that the wretched peasantry, compelled by acute hunger to devour foodstuffs which healthy cattle would reject, are prostrated in thousands and dying in hundreds from typhus and other diseases. One-third of the ambulatory medical staffs in Bessarabia are now incapacitated by the same hunger—typhus and typhoid—and the mortality among these devoted Samaritans is proportionately almost as great as it is among their unfortunate patients. The conditions are little less grievous and deplorable in many parts of Kerson and the Taurida. One can only hope that this year's harvest may be sufficiently abundant to prevent the early recurrence of the terrible tribulations inflicted upon these distressed provinces by three successive crop failures; and it is none the less to be desired that under similar recurrent circumstances in the future the Imperial and local authorities may adopt more timely and effective measures of relief.

It will be sad news to many of the readers of the Times to learn that Mr. Perry Melasaka, who became widely known because of his picture of war generals and cartoons which have appeared in the Times during the past two years, is not likely to recover. He is at present very low, and no hope is entertained that he will rally.

Mrs. (Col) Graves, family and nurse, passed through town yesterday on route for the East Indies, where she will join her husband, who is in command of the forces that are over the Boers who are being taken to that country as prisoners of war. Mr. Graves and family have been guests at the Craig House, Lakefield, for three months.

YOUNG MEN'S GUILD.

The regular meeting of the Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's Church held Tuesday night, the attendance being large in anticipation of the debate which was taken part in by four of the most prominent members of the Guild.

The chair was accepted by Mr. Thomas Anderson, the President, and after routine, the oratorical battle of the evening was commenced.

The debate was—"Resolved that War is More Beneficial to a Country than Peace." The affirmative was taken by Messrs. Jas. Maud and Alex. Weddell and the negative by Messrs. R. M. Glover and Wm. Campbell.

Rev. Mr. Thompson, of Hastings, kindly acted as critic and a committee of four was chosen to arrive at a decision. However, the committee broke even, two holding out for the affirmative and two for the negative.

The debate was well put on and the arguments must have been the result of a great deal of study and valuable research on the part of those who took part in the same. Refreshments were served at the close.

REV. DR. SYMONDS.

Kingston, Ont., May 1.—At the graduation exercises this morning at Queen's University Rev. Herbert Symonds, of St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, and Rev. Mr. Andrews, of Keene, had the degrees of Doctor of Divinity conferred upon them.

The many friends, which both of the reverend gentlemen possess, will join in extending the heartiest of congratulations.

SIR WM. VAN HORNE OUTWITS YANKEES

And Has Secured the Right to Construct Railways in Cuba.

GREAT SHREWDNESS AND PLUCK

Washington, May 2.—It is beginning to look as if Sir William Van Horne, chief of the syndicate that is engaged in planning a network of railroads for Cuba, has outwitted the various promoters for American capital who have been waiting for a change of law or government to get in with their enterprise. Sir William foresaw that he would have competition if he waited and set out to purchase rights of way for his company. He bought all existing lines on the island and then purchased thousands of acres of farm lands extending across Cuba from Havana to Santiago and transverse to the north and south. He has secured options on enough land to enable his company to build lines on its own real estate. The only favor he has to ask from the government is permission to cross public roads. Secretary Root was in doubt as to whether he could give this permission under the provisions of the Foraker civil government act, which specifies that no franchises binding upon the Cuban republic can be granted under the military regime. The secretary has decided to give the benefit of the doubt to Sir William Van Horne and that railroad syndicate controlled by him will proceed with construction work.

The reason men succeed who mind their own business is because there is so little competition in that line.

RESULTS OF BANK AMALGAMATION

The Canadian Bank of Commerce Completes the Purchase of the Assets of the Bank of British Columbia.

The Bank's Capital Now Eight Million Dollars and Assets Over Sixty-three Millions

The negotiations for the purchase of the assets of the Bank of British Columbia by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, an announcement respecting which was made some months ago, have been carried to a successful conclusion. A thorough examination of the affairs of the Bank of British Columbia was made by the officials of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and this proving entirely satisfactory, the amalgamation was finally completed. A statement of the affairs of the Canadian Bank of Commerce after the amalgamation, has now been issued, and discloses a very strong position. In point of capital and reserve the Bank now ranks fourth among banking institutions on the continent of America. It has 62 branches throughout Canada; five branches in the United States, namely, at New York, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland (Oregon), Skagway (Alaska), and one in London, England; 88 establishments in all. The acquisition of the London office is an important step in the progress of the Bank. The Bank's transactions in sterling exchange in the United States and Canada each year amount to many millions of pounds, and the ability to handle this business through the Bank's own London office will result in an important addition to the earning power of the Bank. In many other directions also the interests of the two banks will be mutually benefited by the amalgamation.

The following is a condensation of the statement issued by the bank at the close of business on the 31st of March:—

THIS Company was incorporated in May last, and organized in June, for the manufacture of radiators having a positive and perfect circulation, the construction of which is covered by Canadian Patents Nos. 5419101, 54557, 58928, 59443, 62064, 6346, (see cut below.)

Since the Company was organized it has sold radiators for about sixty plants, and in every one of them the perfect circulation is shown to be a decided advantage, the benefit being more readily seen where the two kinds of radiators are used in the same building and under the same conditions, as is the case in several plants in Toronto and elsewhere.

The iron industry offers to the public greater opportunities for investment than any other, and the heating branch of this industry is one of its most important parts, and one in which the whole public are continually interested.

The demand for radiators is rapidly increasing, not only in Canada, but also in Europe, where in the past they have been little used.

The production in Canada and the United States last year is estimated at 20,000,000 square feet.

This Company not only owns the Canadian patents, but also controls the United States and English patents on the Canada Radiator.

Owing to the superiority of the Canada Radiator over all others on the market it is confidently expected that this Company will control a large portion of the output.

The workings of these radiators side by side with the ordinary may be seen at any time at the Company's office, in either steam or water, and you are invited to examine them here, whether you desire to take stock in the Company or not.

The Company was enabled to place its radiators on the market this year through buying the castings from an American firm, but the information obtained enables it to say positively that there is a fair margin of profit in the business at prevailing prices; and also to say that the Canada Radiator can be manufactured as cheaply as any other on the market, and more cheaply than some.

The plant and appliances for a complete radiator factory have been contracted for and will be all placed in our factory in Port Hope (a cut of said factory and works appears at the top of this Prospectus) before the first day of May, as it is intended to start before that date with a staff of about fifty men.

The Company is managed by a Board of hard-working business men, who will do all in their power to make it a success.

The Board have authorized the issue of 1,000 shares of $50.00 each, upon which a payment is required of 10% on application and 15% on allotment, and 25% within two months, and no further calls in the first six months.

Applications for stock may be made to the Company at its Head Office, 124 Bay Street, Toronto or at Port Hope, and the Company reserves to itself the right to refuse to allot stock to any applicant, or to allot a smaller amount than that applied for.

Any further information will be cheerfully furnished to any intending purchaser of either stock of radiators.

Dated at Toronto this 18th day of February, A. D. 1901.

PICTURE OF JESUS BLEEDS.

Painting of Christ in Michigan Polish Settlement Thought Bewitched.

Menominee, Mich., May 2.—"Strange phenomena developed here to-day and were witnessed by thousands of people in the home of a humble Polish family. The head of the family, Antoni (Zarnicki), a devout Christian, returned from church and knelt in prayer before a picture of Jesus Christ on the cross. Upon looking up he discovered blood trickling down outside the glass from points where the hands and feet were nailed to the wood. In great alarm he sent for priests, and two came and wiped the blood off, but it reappeared as fast as wiped away, running down a distance of six inches. Hundreds affirm the strange occurrence and great consternation prevails. The house has been closed, two priests remaining within, and no further visitors will be admitted. The superstitious believe it to be witchcraft and Bishop Eis has been sent for."

Sixto Lopez Declares Philippine Chief Has

Cameback for Reasons of Policy.

New York, May 2.—Sixto Lopez, who is returning to the Philippines to get evidence to present to the American people that it is desirable to give independence to the islands, was asked to-day:

"What do you expect to come of the acceptance of the rule of the United States by Aguinaldo and other leaders?"

He replied: "If Aguinaldo has willingly accepted United States rule and if the other leaders also accept it, I presume that they will do in the belief, whether expressed or not, that a temporary acceptance would be the best and quickest means of securing independence. I have no hesitation in saying that independence will be ultimately achieved, no matter what Aguinaldo and others may do or accept. It is impossible to crush the aspirations of an entire people who have been afflicted with despotism, but who have tasted of liberty."

REMARKABLE FISH STORY

Told by a Knight of the Grip to a Local Audience.

It was in the Snowden House back parlor, and the genial proprietor had just filled and lighted his pipe after taking his seat, when a well known traveller said:

The queerest fish experience I have ever known of, happened to me at a little lake up west where I used to summer with my family. One day my wife was out in our boat with a party of friends. She was letting her hand trail in the water, without thinking about its shrinking effect, and when she finally got her hand in her wedding ring was gone. The lake was deep at that point, and although we made considerable effort to recover the ring it was not found. Naturally I worried her a good deal, and the next year she would not go back to the same place. Nor did we go the following year, and one day I was in the woods, about a mile from the lake, with my boy, trying to get a shot at some den-of the forest or other. As we went peering around among the trees to get a squirrel we had seen I noticed something shining on a twig of a tree about 25 feet from the ground. I sent my boy up after it, and when he came back I was more than astonished to find that the shining thing was my wife's wedding ring.

How it ever got there was a mystery at first, but I was not a believer in fairies and that sort of thing, so I began to investigate for material causes.

The top of the tree had deadened, and with a suspicion in my mind I sent my boy up to see what signs might be above the green boughs. He called down to me presently that there were remains of a fishhook's nest in the forks of the tree, and, putting this and that together, I came to the conclusion that the hawk had caught the fish that had gobbled up my wife's ring in the lake, and had taken it to the nest for the young hawks. They didn't care for jewelry and had left that part of the fish in the nest, from which, as the nest was blown to pieces by wind and beaten by storm, the ring had dropped out and by chance had caught on the twig where I found it. In any event, if that was not the way it got there, how did it get there surely was there, and my wife is wearing it today.

YESTERDAYS FIRE.

ORANGE GRAND LODGE.

Mr. N. Clarke Wallace has issued a circular to the Orange Order, suggest-railway rates cannot be secured for the proposed Grand Lodge meeting at Winnipeg, the meeting be held in Brockville. The Grand Orange Lodge of British America held its first meeting

after its formation at Brockville in 1833, and met again there in 1866.

COMPLETED THEIR WORK.

Messrs. V. Gallon, of Appleton, John

Macquie, J. W. Rutcliffe and G. A.

Fuller, Chancery, are in town, having completed their labors in connection with taking the census. Mr. John Kerr, the commissioner for East Peterborough, complimented them on the way their work had been done. Mr. Gallon spent a very pleasant hour with the Times.

MAKING OTHERS HAPPY.

Sewing meetings were held every Friday (except the last) in the month, which is the regular business meeting. Our members are increasing in number and interest. Twenty plans have been sent to the sick and have been much appreciated, judging from the acknowledgements read by the secretary at the business meeting. Aprons, blouses and a waist were given to needy families. Regular meetings have been discontinued for the present, but individual work will be continued, and persons knowing where flowers or plants would "scatter sunshine" will please make it known at the Y.W.C.A., the headquarters of the Society.

KITCHEN EXPENSES.

Reduced By Bread Cooked Grape Nuts.

"Modern food saves gas bills (cooking) labor, and doctor's bills, and the food I refer to is Grape-Nuts," says a

"Chicago woman."

"We have used Grape-Nuts over a year. I weighed, when I began using it, about 100 pounds, but I have gained

22 pounds since. I have recovered entirely from dyspepsia since using this delicious food. My husband and children enjoy Grape-Nuts as much as I do, and they have all been decidedly benefited by its use."

My baby is very much healthier than my other two children were at his age. I attribute the difference to the use I have made of Grape-Nuts Food.

Of course it is a great advantage to have a food that is already cooked and sure to be in good condition. This is not always true of many cereals."

THE END OF THE LINE

The Mysterious Hero Turned Out to Be a Detective.

At a large wedding reception recently the attention of a couple of girls was attracted to a rather fine looking man, whose prematurely gray hair and clear cut features combined in giving him a distinguished appearance.

"I see him at nearly every large wedding I go to," said one. "I wonder who he can be. I've heard lots of people, and nobody seems to know. Yet he seems to be invited everywhere."

"Yes, I've noticed him, too," said the other girl. "While he apparently goes to all the big weddings, he doesn't seem to know anybody; or, at least,

I've never seen him talking to anybody. He's such an interesting looking man, too. I'd love to meet him. He looks like a man who has lived and suffered."

A young man standing near, who couldn't help overhearing this conversation, laughed.

"Perhaps I can throw some light upon the identity of your mysterious hero," he said.

"Do you know him?" exclaimed both girls in the same breath.

"Well, I can't say that I exactly know him," replied the young man;

"but I know who he is. He's a private detective. Perhaps you have noticed that he never strays far away from the tables on which the presents are displayed. That's what he's there for—to watch them. You know there are social highwaymen in—"

"Let's go down stairs and get some claret cup," interrupted one of the girls.—Pearson's Weekly.

Sceptic and Believer.

A young man who looked as if he might be about twenty-five years old was sitting in the waiting room of the depot. On his knee was a year-old baby. Presently the lady began to cry, and the awkwardness and helplessness of the young man were so marked as to attract general attention.

At this point one of the waiting passengers, a fat and amiable-looking man, crossed the room and said to the distressed baby tender:

"A young woman gave you that baby to hold while she went to see about her baggage, didn't she?"

"Yes."

"Well, now, I know it as soon as I saw you. You expect her back, I suppose?"

"Of course."

"Ha! Ha! You are looking for her every minute, ain't you?"

"I think she'll come back."

"Ha! Ha! Excuse me, but I can't help laughing. A woman once played the same trick on me. I was in Chicago. You're caught, young man. She took you for a heavy one, didn't she?"

"Oh, she'll come back," answered the young man as he looked anxiously around.

"She will, oh? Ha! Ha! Ha! What makes you think so?"

"Why, because she's my wife, and this is our first baby."

"Oh—um—I see!" muttered the fat man, and he was in such haste to get back to the other side of the room that he nearly fell over a passing pug dog.

THE SUGAR-BEET

In the Farming world is an article which contains much valuable information concerning the sugar beet. Amongst other interesting items are the following:

Over 62 per cent. of all the sugar manufactured in the world is made from sugar beets.

The difference between cane sugar and beet sugar can be detected only by an expert, and what little difference there is, is in favour of the beet sugar.

You are using beet sugar every day if you use any granulated sugar at all. Beet sugar is absolutely pure white granulated sugar.

A beet sugar factory cannot manufacture any brown or yellow sugar. Each plant, whether of child in the United States consumes on an average 30 pounds of sugar in a year.

It requires $300,000 to build and equip the average beet sugar refinery.

One ton of wheat per acre is a large yield. Sugar beets often yield twenty tons per acre.

One acre of land planted to sugar beets will yield about one and a half tons of sugar in a season.

At the present rate the increase in the consumption of sugar in the U. S. it will require the building of at least 25 modern beet sugar refineries each year to take care of the increase alone.

The operating season of a sugar refinery is known in the business as "the campaign" and lasts from 100 to 150 days of 24 hours each, stopping only in the case of breakdowns or for an occasional clean up. A 1000 ton beet sugar refinery in a campaign of 100 days requires as follows:—150,000 tons of beets, 22,000 tons of coal, 2,500 tons of coke, 5,000 tons of limestone, 150,000 barrels of a 100 capacity in sacks, and miscellaneuous materials to the value of $15,000. It employs 300 men and pays out $125,000 for salaries and labor. It pays to the farmers over $300,000 for sugar beets, and the pulp produced during the campaign is worth in actual value as food for live stock at least $100,000.

It would require 30 beet sugar factories capable of slicing 500 tons of beets every 24 hours to supply the people of Canada with sugar.

The natural conditions of Canada for growing sugar beets and the manufacturing of beet sugar exceed any country on earth.

The Ontario farmers are the most successful growers of root crops in the world.

At four dollars per ton, the farmer can make five times as much per acre from sugar beets as from the average farm crop.

The pulp from the refinery makes a splendid food for all kinds of live stock.

RESULTS OF BANK AMALGAMATION

The Canadian Bank of Commerce

Completes the Purchase of the Assets of the Bank of British Columbia.

The Bank's Capital Now Eight Millions Dollars and Assets Over Sixty-three Millions.

The negotiations for the purchase of the assets of the Bank of British Columbia by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, an announcement respecting which was made some months ago, have been carried to a successful conclusion. A thorough examination of the affairs of the Bank of British Columbia was made by the officials of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and this proving entirely satisfactory, the amalgamation was finally completed.

A statement of the affairs of the Canadian Bank of Commerce after the amalgamation, has now been issued, and discloses a very strong position in point of capital and reserve.

The Bank now ranks fourth among banking institutions on the continent of America. It has 62 branches throughout Canada, five branches in the United States, namely, at New York, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland (Oregon), Skagway (Alaska), and one in London, England. Its establishments in all. The acquisition of the London office is an important step in the progress of the Bank. The bank's transactions in sterling exchange in the United States and Canada each year amount to many millions of pounds, and the ability to handle this business through the Bank's own London office will result in an important addition to the earning power of the Bank. In many other directions also the interests of the two banks will be immensely benefited by the amalgamation.

The following is a condensation of the statement issued by the bank at the close of business on the 31st of March:—

PROGRESS.

Some time ago there was a notable automobile procession in the city of Buffalo, N. Y. It was notable for its size, and also for the fact that it was entirely composed of automobile wagons (like that in the cut above), built to distribute the advertising literature of the World's Dispensary Medical Association, proprietors and manufacturers of Dr. Pierce's medicines. In many a town and village Dr. Pierce's automobile has been the pioneer horseless vehicle. These wagons, sent to every important section of the country, are doing more than merely advertise Dr. Pierce's Remedies—they are pioneers of progress, heralds of the automobile age.

And this is in keeping with the record made by Dr. Pierce and his famous preparations, which have always kept in the front of the public. The Invincible Golden Medical Discovery is still the leading medicine for disorders and diseases of the stomach and digestive and nutritive systems, for the purifying of the blood and healing of weak lungs.

Women place Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in the front of all put-up medicines specially designed for women's use. The wide benefits this medicine has brought to women have been well summed up in the words "It makes weak women strong and sick women well."

The reputation of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for family use is international. It may be asserted without fear of contradiction that no other firm or company engaged in the vending of put-up medicines can rank with the World's Dispensary Medical Association, either in the opinion of the medical profession or of the intelligent public. The Invincible Hotel and Surgical Institute, which is connected with the "World's Dispensary," is alone sufficient to prove this supremacy. Here is a great modern hospital, always filled with patients, where every day successful operations are performed on men and women whose diseases demand the aid of surgery. No hospital in Buffalo is better equipped, with respect to its modern appliances, or the surgical ability of its staff. Dr. R. V. Pierce, the chief consulting physician of this great institution, has associated with himself nearly a score of physicians, each man being a picked man, chosen for his ability in the treatment and cure of some special form of disease.

The offer that Dr. Pierce makes to men and women suffering with chronic diseases of a free consultation by letter, is really without a parallel. It places without cost or charge the entire resources of a great medical institute at the service of the sick. Such an offer is not for one moment to be confounded with those offers of "free medical advice" which are made by people who are not physicians, cannot and do not practice medicine, and are only saved from prosecution by artfully worded their advertisements so that they give the impression that they are physicians without making the claim to be licensed.

Those who write to Dr. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invincible Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., may do so with the assurance that they will receive not only the advice of a competent physician, but the advice of a physician whose wide experience in the treatment and cure of disease, and whose sympathy with human suffering, leads him to take a deep personal interest in all those who seek his help and that of his associate staff of specialists.

'ROUND ABOUT TOWN

—Arbor day.
—Only a few maps of the county of Peterborough left. Get one before it is too late. Times Bookstore.

—A scarlet fever card was placed on a house on McDowell street yesterday morning.

—The firemen will have the first of the season's monthly drills on Tuesday evening next at 7 o'clock.

—The Lindsay Post wants the druggists of that town to follow the example of Peterborough druggists, and close at 7.

—The woods are practically haunted these fine days, especially Saturdays, by children in search of the charming trailing arbutus—the Mayflower.

—"Help a lame dog over the stile."
This saw would read to-day:
"To anyone who's seeking work,
A Times Ad. points the way."

—Miss Kate McGrath was the recipient of an address on Wednesday evening, accompanied by a handsomely bound volume of Shakespeare, from the Shakespearean Circle.

—Business men should remember that there is but one way of reaching the thousands of readers of The Times, and that is by advertising in The Times.

—There is some advertising which at $5 an inch is cheaper than other advertising at $5 a page. Use The Times to reach the masses in town and country.

—Time is valuable with the painters and paper hangers just now, as they are often in a quandary to know whom to serve first. The carpet beaters are also a busy people.

—A Syracuse church is to have a gymnasium annex. The qualifications to be the minister there will probably be increased by requiring him to be a skilled scowit, club swinger, runner and all around athlete. This may open a new field for good athletes who are religiously inclined.

—The police have given until to-morrow for owners of dogs to secure licenses and tags. After that, prosecutions will commence. Nearly 400 tags had been disposed of up to last night.

—A quiet wedding took place at the George street Methodist parsonage on Wednesday afternoon, when Mr. H. Halse, of Masson City, Mich., was joined in marriage to Miss Hannah Raper, of Millbrook, the nuptial knot being tied by Rev. J. P. Wilson.

—Rev. Wm. White, of the Presbyterian church, died April 14th last leaving $6,300 secured by mortgages and $1,700 in property in Peterborough. He willed it to his wife so long as she remained a widow, and out of the proceeds she is to maintain the four children.

—Trout fishing season is now open. It is unlawful for one person to catch over fifteen pound weight in one day and all fish under six inches must be returned to the water. No speckled trout, bass or muskellunge shall be exposed for sale before July 1st, 1903.

—It is said that the Pan-American Exhibition has caused many servant girls to go to Buffalo in search of employment. A letter received from Buffalo by the Times states that there is a surplus of girls, the result being that wages are low and employment difficult to obtain.

—There are few complaints about tramps. Some of these gentlemen seem to have tied elsewhere. The detectives sent out by the Ontario Government to hunt them down have done good work in reducing their numbers.

—A citizen suggests that we have a weekly ball holiday in town this year. It should begin at once we think.

—Mr. C. D. Barr, of Lindsay, writes to a friend in town, in which he speaks in terms of praise of the 67th Band. He says: "We did not anticipate anything so fine, and there is a general wish that they will come again in a month or so at some convenient time. They will not get a hall big enough to hold the audience that will want to go. For instance, I know of many families where only one member attended, but now that one would take several, if only to hear the trombone solo."

—Mr. J. M. Bygott lost a roll of bills amounting to $40. It was advertised in the evening papers without result, when a small 25c ad in The Times did the trick. Everybody reads The Times. On and after the 24th of May there will be a daily stage put on between Cobourg and Harwood to connect with the Peterborough Navigation Company's boats. This will be a great convenience to both Peterborough and Cobourg as it will form a direct route between the two places.

—A number of cheese factories in this district commenced operations on Monday. The Ormiston factory, which was rebuilt during the past winter, is a structure of eighty by thirty feet. The curing room can accommodate eight hundred cheese, while the working room has four vats capable of holding nearly 26,000 pounds of milk.

—A number of children undertook to have a little pyrotechnic display in the north end on Wednesday evening. They had a bottle containing powder, which they set off, with the result that a child of Mr. Weese's, residing on Reid street, received a severe burn on the arm, necessitating a number of stitches. Other children were also more or less out.

—The many friends of Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, P. L. S., will be grieved to learn that he is very ill in St. Joseph's Hospital.

—Miss Mollie Burke, of Lindsay, left for home yesterday after being present at the wedding of her cousin, Mr. Chas. A. Stenton.

—Mr. Chas. McFarlane, of Rochester, is home on a visit to his brothers, Messrs. Joseph and Will, who have been on the sick list.

—Miss Duff, of Otonabee, has successfully passed her second year in arts at Queen's. She carried off 1st class honors in every subject.

—Mrs. Moore and children, of Otonabee, who have been spending a few weeks in town, moved out to the home yesterday to occupy their summer cottage for the season.

—Mr. Ben Simpson's many friends are congratulating him on having passed his 2nd year in arts at Queen's. He carried off honors in mathematics.

—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hall, and Mrs. and Miss Taylor returned Wednesday night after several weeks' stay at Clinton Springs. Mr. Hall's health is much improved.

—Little Miss Alberta Gooding delightfully entertained a number of her young friends to an afternoon tea yesterday. Many of her guests are members of Prof. Sheet's dining class, and wore their Highland dress.

—Superintendent Brady, of the C. P. R. Smith Falls, and his staff of train dispatchers passed through town Wednesday night on their way to Toronto, to which place they have been transferred.

—Rev. Mr. MacMillan, the very popular pastor of St. Andrew's church, Lindsay, may possibly go to Halifax, as a deputation from the Fort Massey church of that city waited on him on Monday.

—A LOCAL MEDELY.

The following spasm was handed to The Times yesterday for publication. It is a sure preventative for smallpox, if taken in moderation. Read once, it will probably be effective, but if taken twice, it will kill the germ as dead as a door nail. The only danger is, that it is also liable to kill the reader.

—The writer was at once taken out into the backyard and slaughtered. Here goes—now brace your feet:

Air—"The Bonnets of Bonnie Dundee!"

To the untimely it was Harry who spoke:

"Ere Dundie is slain there's heads to be broce;

Every mother's son, who is elated with the men,

Come follow the bonnets of Mayor Harry Dundee!"

"Come, fill up my cup; come, rush out the clan;

Come, saddle the donkey and call out the men."

"Come, ho, for the border, my dear fellow men,

And it's room for the bonnets of Mayor Harry Dundee!"

With four-faced dumbclitties, the City Hall's crammed,

Some of them look as if they'd sat to be d—d;

There is a split in each lock, there's fear, my dear men,

As they watch for the bonnets of Mayor Harry Dundee."

"Come fill up my cup," etc.

The people all know a Jekyll and Hyde;

There's a steel in the scabbard that dangles beside;

The brass shall be tarnished, the steel shall be free,

And we all shall do honor to Queen's memory!"

"Come fill up my cup," etc.

Away to the hills, to the caves and the rocks!

Our enemies will now crouch with the foxes!

And tremble dear Dundee, tho' you simulate glo;

You've not heard the lark but you'll presently see.

"Come fill up my cup, come fill up my can;

Let the people wake up, summon the clan!"

"Come fellows all young and old men!

And follow the example of Mayor Harry Dundee!"

EXTENDING HIS OPERATIONS.

Mr. George Fitzgerald shipped yesterday to Lakeside three splendid new milk wagons, to be used in connection with the new cheese factory at Buckhorn. Mr. Fitzgerald has also added a new line of manufacture to his establishment, and that is the construction of rubber tire vehicles. He is now turning out a number of carriages fitted out in this up-to-date manner, and has the latest appliances for putting the Dunlop tires on wheels. We congratulate Mr. Fitzgerald on his enterprise, which deserves the fullest recognition at the hands of the purchasing public.

DR. BORDEN AS A PRACTICAL POLITICIAN

Either A Great Administrator Has a Pull or Ready to Obey Requests of Corporations.

Ottawa, May 2.—In all times the worn-out veteran has been a pathetic object. But some revelations were made to-day in the Commons which take the gliding off the military ginger-bread with a vengeance. War and all connected with it is full of contrasts. An army going into action, all clad in battle's magnificent stern array, and that same army at the close of the day, even victorious—what a contrast! But if beaten and flying from the field, all splendor tarnished, harness broken, black and begrimed with dust and gunpowder, the colors drooping or gone—what a still greater contrast! Even among the militia, the carpet knights, the captains and colonels, with their breasts stuffed out and their shoulders and waists gleaming with lace, there are, it seems, "tears of things." The saddest picture Kipling has drawn is that of the sergeant-major cast from the service and running errands at a shilling a day. He's old and he's "nervy," and all he can get is a shilling a day. But it makes him half crazy to think of the days when he went ship for the Ghazis, his sword by his side.

"When we rode hell for leather, both squadrons together, and didn't care whether we lived or we died"—and it would appear there are to this moment in Canada men of long service on the permanent staff who made their glittering part of a score of jagants at Rideau Hall, in the Senate, at the opening of Parliament, at Bialay, had done solid work, too, and now it is not a shilling a day, but how they are going, as they put it pictorially, "to keep out of the poorhouse!" There is no more helpless man east on the world than the man who is all military, or all bureaucratic. Vae victis!

Woe to those who in due time don't look out for number one!

HON. DR. BORDEN A POLITICIAN.
Up rose Dr. Borden, most extraordinary of men, not only of men, but of cases, borrowing a figure from his own profession—or, rather, he is like the bush which burned and was not consumed. A terrible conflagration gathered round him early in 1897, and the magic touch which controlled it was that a similar conflagration gathered round a prominent member of the Opposition, and the Government said: "Spare him and we'll spare the other fellow." The next all-wrapping fire was the emergency food. There was no counterblast against that, and the other day in London he was nearly cremated to the no small cost of Hymus; but he escaped, and there he is to-day, doing the work of his department. What is the secret? Is he a great administrator, or has he a pull, or is he ready to do all the interests and corporations want? He is only fifty-four years of age, but he looks sixty-four, so aging is the role of what Rousseau calls un vieux amant, an over middle-aged gallant. He is tall, rather good looking, was once perhaps handsome, now he is grey, getting very bald; he speaks like a fawn, and he makes the hearer tired. He was born on the 14th of the present month in 1847 in Cornwallis, Nova Scotia. He took the degree of A. B. at King's College, Windsor, in 1866, and two years afterwards he graduated as a medical doctor at Harvard, so that either he was a remarkable young man or Harvard Medical School is a breeder of scoundrels. Then he went into banking and was elected to Parliament in 1874. What is his hold or force? I fear it partakes of the character of the bold of the practical politician.

A BLAZE IN ASHBURNHAM.

Prompt Work of the Department Prevents a Serious Fire.
Yesterday evening about half past six o'clock, a fire occurred at the cheese box factory belonging to Mr. Ernest Mann, Ashburnham.
The fire originated in the boiler room and there being loss of inflammable material around it spread swiftly, and quite a big blaze resulted. The firemen were promptly on hand, and after about half an hour's work succeeded in extinguishing the flames. The building remains standing, but it is very badly scorched. The stock of lumber in the yard was also considerably damaged. The amount of the damage is not yet ascertained.

START BIG FIGHTING SHIP.

Work is begun on the keel of the cruiser Colorado.
Philadelphia, Pa., May 4.—The first half dozen twenty-foot plates for the keel of the armored cruiser Colorado, to be built at Cramp's shipyard, were placed in position to-day. The work of construction of the big fighting machine is now fairly under way. It had been expected that the sister ship of the Colorado, the Pennsylvania, would be the first to be laid down, but owing to change of plans this will not be done until the new Maine is launched, when the Pennsylvania will go up beside her sister ship. The ships on the lead water line will be 602 feet long, and their trial displacement 13,700 tons.

A MASONIC EVENT.

Peterborough Lodge, No. 155, A.F.A.M., at its regular communication in the Masonic hall last night, received an official visit from Rt. Wor. Bro. G. H. Linton, D.D.G.M. There was a large attendance of the brethren, including many visitors from sister lodges. After a sumptuous repast was set down to, at the conclusion of which a pleasant hour was spent in responding to appropriate toasts, agreeably interspersed with instrumental and vocal music. Rt. Wor. Bro. Shaw, Immediate Past D.D.G.M., of Keene Lodge, was also present.

TOKEN OF RESPECT.

At St. John's Confirmation Class last night, deep sympathy was expressed at the death of Percy McLean, who had been a member of the class for some time, but owing to ill health had been unable to attend of late. It was arranged to have a representative at his funeral at this afternoon, and to send a memorial wreath.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

Mr. W. R. Conble, Evangelist, who conducted evangelistic services in connection with St. Paul's Church some weeks ago has been holding special services at the Murray Street Church this week, where large numbers have been present. Rev. Mr. Haslow has been assisting.

BACHELOR'S ENTERTAINMENT.

The bachelors of George Street Methodist Church will give an entertainment and social on Monday evening. A complete programme has been arranged and an enjoyable evening is assured.

WORLD OF SPORT.

Y.M.C.A. ATHLETICS.

The Y.M.C.A. Athletic Club is making rapid strides in putting into play the various out-door games. On Wednesday there were about 20 out playing Association Football on the P.A.A.A. grounds and last night about a dozen interested members of the Association turned out to engage in Canada's national game—lacrosse. From the evidence of enthusiasm displayed in the game, this year the Y.M.C.A. should have a first class lacrosse team. Among those who will likely play are Messrs. Robertson, Kemp, Whitten, Morrey, Robinson, Ayers, Glover, Campbell, McLeod, Upton, Trollope, McKee, Hopkins and others.
A run of the senior sprinters will take place to-night at 7.30.

BASEBALL.

The Electric of the C.G.E. Co. have accepted the challenge of the William Hamiltons to play a game of baseball on the P.A.A.A. grounds this afternoon. A full practice of the baseball club is requested for this afternoon.
There was a game in the Eastern League Thursday, owing to unfavorable weather, Charlie Carr has been induced to rejoin the Toronto nine.
The standing of the National and American Leagues are as follows:

The National League
	W.	L.	P.	C.
Cincinnati	5	3	66
Brooklyn	5	3	62
Philadelphia	5	5	50
St. Louis	5	5	50
Pittsburg	4	4	59
London	3	3	59
Chicago	4	7	33

GOLF.

The following draw has been made for the President v. Captain match to-day. The players are not arranged in order of their standing but as the draw was made:

President: Captain.
H. v. Burdum.
J. v. Hamilton.
Campbell v. Deniston.
Garvin v. Holt.
W. D. Parker v. Eastwood.
T. v. Young v. A. G. Parker.
McCall v. Grange.
Brown v. Smith.
Hollingshead v. Collier.
Dean v. McGill.
Terrill v. Jenner.

The new men, who are practically new to the game, are making a good showing for a place on the first team. Secretary Robert B. Kerr, of the United States Golf Association said Tuesday that the report from Canada to the effect that there will be no international team match this year was news to him. The Canadian Golf Association had just announced dates for the Dominion championships, which will be played at Toronto September 20th, 25th, 27th, and 28th. In connection with these dates it was announced that the annual match with the United States has been dropped. It was the first intimation that Mr. Kerr, or any other officer of the National Association had that the Canadian golfers no longer cared to continue the international meetings.

FOOTBALL.

The Campbellville Football Club has re-organized with the following officers: Patrons and Patronesses Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Burrows, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hume, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Todd.
Hon. President, Dr. McElride.
President, Dr. Coburn.
1st Vice-Pres., Dr. H. A. Sykes.
2nd Vice-Pres., Ed. Huff.
3rd Vice-Pres., J. W. Cairns.
Secy-Treas., Geo. W. Thomas.
McCall v. Grange.
Man. Com. A. Stewart, A. Cumming and D. Douglas.
Fin. Com. A. Stewart, Geo. Haig and A. L. Thompson.
Curling—A. Stewart.

CURLING.

Yesterday Mr. Harry Herroft, of Gr. Illia, received a circular from the Pan-American people offering him reduced rates for his curlers if he would bring them to Buffalo during the Exposition. Then to Buffalo during the Exposition. They have an idea that there, perhaps, curling is a summer game, or again, they may think that Gr. Illia curlers are wicker.

Ugene Hurtubise arrived in town yesterday morning from Ottawa, where he spent the winter. He will be remembered as the famous acrobatic player on our local hockey team.

THE RING.

Tom O'Rourke to-night offered a $10,000 purse for a battle between Tom Sharkey and Jo. Walcott. O'Rourke is still managing the "Barbarous Demon."

C. G. OPERATIONS.

The Canadian General Electric Company propose to make further additions to their works here. A building 175 feet by 40 feet will be erected to be used as a brass foundry, blacksmith shop, etc. This building will be placed under contract without delay. The new building will give increased accommodation at the works, the necessity for which indicates a prosperity and healthiness that is satisfactory. If the steady growth in buildings continues the Canadian General Electric buildings will soon be the most extensive in an industrial line to be found in Canada.

THE ADVENTURES OF PETERBOROUGH BEN

In the Wilds of South Africa Related by Himself.

WHAT A DOG THINKS OF THE WAR

Ben Surprises the City Editor of The Times by Walking in on a Description of the Trip to the Dark Continent and Sections on the Way.

The Times' devil was in a most exasperated state of mind the other day, the same having been caused by a task of unusual magnitude having been imposed upon him, said task consisting of an operation on a very large "pie" of one of the night operators. To say that the "devil" was in a "wretched bad temper" would be putting it mildly. In the midst of his deep impressions on the head of the offending type, his attention was attracted by a soft tapping on the floor, and on looking up for a moment from his disagreeable occupation something met his gaze that for the time being entirely put into oblivion all thoughts of further adjustments of "pie"—nothing less than his dear old friend and past daily companion, Peterborough Ben.

We will not attempt to describe the scene that followed. Between tears and laughter, hand and paw shaking, the old soft-bow-wow of Ben, and the "dear old fellow" of the devil, it was surely a sight the City Editor had never before witnessed. And grown up man as though he is, there was the suspicion of a tear in his eye, and a feeling of something like a lump in his throat as he sat watching the two old friends again united.

"And how did you get along anyway Ben?" said the devil, "and what kind of a time did you have?" and not giving Ben time for reply between his many questions and findings, Ben sat as proudly as you please, occasionally tapping the carpet with his paw for a tail, looking all the time, what he undoubtedly felt, the happiest and proudest dog in all Canada.

"That's a particular kind of a job you have got hand," Ben, ventured to remark.
"It was before you dropped in, Ben," replied the "devil," but it's as good as "pie" to me now, he ambiguously remarked. "And now, Ben, since you are home safe and sound from the wars you cannot please me better than relating the story of your experience since the day you bow-wowed me good-bye."
"It's a long story," said Ben, "but if you would like to hear it I will give it to you with all sorts of good will."

Ben brushed an imaginary fly from his nose and having placed himself in that comfortable position peculiar to the dog family and began as follows:
"I will not say much about my trip from Peterborough to what is usually called the sea board—and that reminds me that I have tried a variety of board during the past year or so. But to my story: As soon as we were all on board (you see I was always reckoned with the Strathconas) the bands were playing the Maple Leaf, and such cheering as I had never heard before. Then as the big ship glided from the wharf the bands struck up 'The Girl I Left Behind Me,' there's not much in the old tune at times, it appears to me, but upon this occasion many a fine big fellow had a wet eye and it was not from the rough sea either. The handkerchief that he waved farewell with to friends ashore was often applied swiftly to his eye when he thought no one was looking. I was allowed perfect freedom, although I noticed that suspicious looks were cast at me occasionally by the members of the ship's crew. Then did I think kindly of dear old Peterborough, and was wondering if Bob, my jack master, was feeling lonesome. I could not, by any stretch of conscience, lay claim to being a handsome dog, still I felt that Bob would not entirely forget me. We could still hear the distant strains of 'The Girl I Left Behind Me,' but as I had left no particular girl I did not consider the music intended for me, and I sat thinking of my friends in Peterborough. I said musically to myself, 'I wonder how friend Parker feel any compensation for often saying to Bob, 'why in blazes don't you have that dog at home, Davidson?' and my friend Mr. Davidson? I imagine would say, 'well the (put in Parker, I like Ben. Humph! I imagine Mr. Parker saying, 'I can't say that I admire your choice in the dog line, anyway, I'm not a dog fancier, but that I bear any particular ill feelings towards Ben—but it is repugnant to my feelings to say that I admire Ben in the slightest.' 'There is no pig about Ben my owner would reply, 'I didn't say there was,' was the reply, 'the word I used was repugnant.' 'In dead,' said Bob, 'the feelings you have, well, you see, it's like this, Davidson—Ben is positively ugly in appearance, although almost human in intelligence. I have particularly noticed on more than one occasion that should you by any possible chance leave the store unnoticed by Ben, just as soon as you are missed by Ben for the bank, and should he not find you there and notice that, that well that—rene one else was out of the bank. Ben, puts straight for—I will mention no names, but we will say, the Times office. He is a dead give-away, every time. Every one in town knows you're not far away when they know Ben. There were some of my reflections as the coast line of dear old Canada slowly faded away. My trip over was intensely interesting, but I will reserve it for another day. Being tired I soon fell asleep, the last sound being the announcement of the boatman's mate that it was eight bells.

A Whirlwind Gives His Opinion of the Town Describes the Parks and Beauty Spots of the Town and Neighbourhood—A Splendid Place for Summer Vacation.

Peterborough and the surrounding country offers many and varied opportunities for the camera enthusiast. In Jackson Park to the north-west of the town he will find many charming nooks. The Japanese bridge may be taken from several positions, giving an entirely different picture in each case. Then if he passes over the bridge, walking in a westerly direction, he will come to another bridge and by crossing it and turning to his left along the road that skirts the stream he will eventually come to a slight up grade and will see, on looking back, the little bridge he has just crossed, with the road leading to it. This, with the stream and stone embankment on the one side, with the dark pines filling in the picture to the left and also forming part of the background, makes a very pretty view, and is well worth taking a shot at. There are many other views to be had in the park, but space will not permit of mentioning each one in particular.

A very fine bird-eye view of the park may be obtained by walking west along the railroad track about an eighth of a mile and climbing the hill to the right.
After he has finished with Jackson Park and vicinity he will find many a fine bit of scenery along the Ottawa River. If he has a wheel the best thing to do is to go out to Stony Lake, which is a beautiful view of the river, and is well worth taking a shot at. There are many other views to be had in the park, but space will not permit of mentioning each one in particular.

The passage through the locks is quite interesting for one who has not had the experience before.
He will find the country getting wilder and wilder the farther north he travels. The steamer touches at a number of points in Stony Lake, which is studded with small islands, many of them being mere rocks jutting out of the water. At person unacquainted with these waters might easily get lost among the numerous channels separating the different islands. On the steamer's return to Lakefield he may take a train to Peterborough for he can wheel back along a different road to that which he took on his trip up.

At Peterborough, if he cares for architectural subjects, he should pay his respects to St. John's Episcopal Church. A fine little edifice situated on the top of the hill, with ivy growing over the walls and tower. Being a Clergy Reserve Church it is of historical interest as well.
Crossing over to Ashburnham, then south around the eastern end of the lake, he will find a number of pretty little streams with clumps of woods along the bank. He may make a circuit of the lake by continuing south to the railway track and crossing back to the Peterborough side and will doubtless find some views which he will consider worth taking. The lake itself is quite picturesque, and if he waits but a little while he may get some magnificent sunset views over it.

While in Peterborough he should not fail to take a trip to Obemong Lake, which is situated about seven miles to the north-west and to which there is a stage running if he should prefer it to wheeling. The road is fair for wheeling though somewhat hilly. He will find a park there in connection with an hotel, which is free to the public, and may if he wishes refresh himself by taking a plunge in the lake—not to mention the hotel.
Speaking of wheels, I might as well state that he can hire one in Peterborough for twenty-five cents for the afternoon, so it would not be necessary for him to take his own along if he did not wish to be bothered with it. I would caution him to unswear his lenses from the shutter and carry them in a case in his pocket as there is some danger of them unswearing and getting spoiled. This of course

A FORTUNE WON AT HIGH COST

The Carnival in Wall Street Piling up Wealth for Speculators and Brokers.

The Effort to Secure Rest Falls—Breaking Under the Strain.—Many Large Winnings Reported, While Even Messengers Are Profiting—Automobiles Pressed into Service to Secure Haste.

New York, May 3.—Several of the large brokerage houses employ automobiles now to carry messages from their offices to the new headquarters in the Stock Exchange. The vehicles can be seen during the busy hours of the day rushing along the streets to Wall street offices, carrying messenger boys and brokers.
The rent for an automobile during the business hours is ten dollars a day. This morning the movement started yesterday to have the governors close the exchange on Saturday, on the ground that the brokers need a day to catch up with their business, and that a rest would be of benefit to the traders, was abandoned, but if the carnival continues the holiday will be asked for a week hence. To close means a loss of a day's commissions to the brokers, and commissions pile up big sums in this market. Many of the traders, however, have been working so hard that they want rest now, not money.

THE RISK THEY RUN.
The average outsider believes that the broker has a very easy time of it, and that all he has to do is to take a shovel and pile up a fortune. Nothing is farther from the truth. Take, for instance, a commission broker, who executes orders for other firms, at $2 per 100 shares. Some of these men are making from $300 to $1,000 a day, but when they take such orders they assume responsibility for the proper execution of them. For example, a broker received an order to buy 5,000 Union Pacific at the market. He read the order "sell" instead of "buy." After he executed it and notified the sender of the order, the error was ascertained, and the broker had to buy back the 5,000 shares and 5,000 more to make good the mistake. Last night he was figuring that he had lost $10,000 on the transaction, simply because in the excitement he read "sell" instead of "buy."

To-day it was announced that three or four more specialists had quit. The strain and dread of costly errors were responsible for their action. Mistakes are matters of hourly occurrence, and $100 ones are commonplace.
Yesterday one specialist handled so many orders that he absolutely refused to send reports until the day was closed. "Your stock was bought or sold," he explained to one commission house, "but I am too busy to stop and send you prices. I am handling enough business to kill two ordinary men."

Commission houses, of course, refuse to accept stop-loss orders, and the traders who made daily transactions in and out of the market are now at a tremendous disadvantage, with the flicker seven to ten minutes behind. To show how this works out, a trader had this experience: Delaware and Hudson was selling on the tape at 179. He gave an order to buy 100 shares to the market, as it looked good enough for a bet, and he was loaded with the stock at 181. Quite a bunch coming out at that price, he decided to take chances on a very small loss or profit. He gave an order to sell 100 Delaware and Hudson at the market, and the price he got was 180 1/4. In five minutes he had lost $200 and was satisfied to suspend his scalping operations. This is one straw that emphasizes the point that this is an extraordinary market.

ENORMOUS PROFITS MADE.
Unless there is some unforeseen calamity, the profits of commission houses this year will be the greatest in their history, and more than one broker will be able to retire on a fortune. Only two months ago Louis Bell and Edward Talcott, two of the ablest room traders that ever operated on the floor of the Exchange, retired, each credited with having accumulated $1,000,000. Last year the cashier of a little cornered the gambling fever, and started a pyramid on the bull side. He ran a few thousand dollars into a roll that enabled him to buy a Stock Exchange seat. He caught the rise in Burlington and Quincy, and played it to the limit a fine capital; he quit the Quincy and switched into Rock Island when the Moore brothers hoisted from 128 to 165, and then into Union Pacific. A friend of his said at night that he could, if he was called upon, produce a certified check for from $400,000 to $500,000. Two years ago he was working for $50 a week.

John W. Gates is believed to have made $500,000 out of the Union Pacific common rise, and Jacob Field, one of his lieutenants, probably did as well. The Moore brothers, who are said to have liquidated a tremendous line of United States Steel issues, and switched over into Rock Island, where they are thought to have worked a corner, have undoubtedly cleaned up a new fortune since election day. Reaching down from the big fellows, who are in the million dollar classes, it is found that about half the clerks and office boys of Wall street are speculating and making money. Over the Easter holidays they were cleaning up their little rolls of a few hundred dollars, packing their suit cases, and spending their holiday at Atlantic City, Lakewood, or some other resort. Men who never made a success of a business proposition in their lives are speculating and making money.

A Stock Exchange member was complaining last night that wherever he went he was regarded as a millionaire, simply because he had a membership in the Stock Exchange. "I am," he said, "making a pretty fine living and am making money, but I am not a millionaire. My net worth is $200,000. To-day I could sell it for $70,000. That's a pretty fair return in two years, but I am not crazy, so no money means around me. I never knew of so many men who are crazy to get rich in a hurry without work as at the present time. It is a continual revelation to me. Money flows in this old town like water. Take all the recent arrivals from the West who have become rich in the last four years. Why, living high does not begin to describe it."

"As money makers they are a very shrewd bunch. New York to them is a life. They believe that the most narrow-minded man in the country is the New Yorker who has never been out of his own city. The conservatism here is timidity and fear. They have courage and nerve, which they use in their market quotation, and they believe that the whole country outside of New York is lacking then."

We used to think that we had pretty big times in the old Windsor, when a little Wall street crowd congregated there in the days of Jay Gould, but to-day the Waldorf-Astoria and other hotels up town draw gatherings of stock speculators the like of which has never been dreamed of. How long it will last no one knows but old ideas about this town don't go any more. The new century marked a new era. We have here to-day ten millionaires for every one we had ten years ago. They are going to become factors in the life of this city."

Some of the stories told about the money-making exploits of room traders and $2 brokers are interesting. This morning a room trader was said to have cleaned up $10,000 in Union Pacific in forty minutes. A specialist in the Athletics got so accustomed to scalping $1,000 a day out of the stocks on the rise, that he quit taking orders and devoted his time to speculating, which, thus far, has been more profitable. All the bullish room traders have been swelling their bank accounts in a way that is without precedent.

There is an old Wall street story to the effect that once upon a time a man attended a regatta, and his host from the deck of his yacht pointed out the different craft and named their owners. "That one," he said, "is owned by Broker Jones. That one by Broker Smith. That one by Broker Robinson." And so on he continued to name broker after broker. On finishing, his friend remarked, in tones of surprise: "And where are the customers' yachts?"

BOOM IN STEAM YACHTS.

The customers yachts were not there, for the reason that the bull market of the same brand as this one were scarce; and on an irregular market the customers usually contribute to the brokers yachting funds. This season, however, there promises to be a boom in steam yachts. Some of the Western millionaires are buying options on steam yachts in the same way as they buy options on manufacturing plants. (More than one new yachtman who got the wherewithal out of the stock market will be steam-yachting this summer.)

to make the trip during my stay in Peterborough.
I must not close this article without mentioning the canoe industry. Some of the finest canoes in America are turned out there. They may be seen dotting the waters of Stony Lake, also the river below the city, and add greatly to the interest of some of the views.
A person should be prepared to spend at least a week there and I do not think he will regret having chosen a visit to Peterborough for his summer vacation.

At this season the housekeeper must look specially after the baking powder.
As she cannot make good cake with bad eggs, no more can she make cake that is light, delicious and dainty with inferior baking powder.
Royal Baking Powder is indispensable for the preparation of the finest food. It imparts that peculiar lightness, sweetness and flavor noticed in the finest cake, biscuit, doughnuts, crusts, etc., which expert bakers say is unobtainable by the use of any other leavening agent.

There are cheap baking powders, made from lime, but they are exceedingly harmful to health. Their adulterated and catering qualities make a dangerous element to food.

RESULTS OF BANK AMALGAMATION

The Canadian Bank of Commerce Completes the Purchase of the Assets of the Bank of British Columbia.

The Bank's Capital Now Eight Millions Dollar, and Assets Over Ninety-three Millions.

The negotiations for the purchase of the assets of the Bank of British Columbia by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, an announcement respecting which was made some months ago, have been carried to a successful conclusion. A thorough examination of the affairs of the Bank of British Columbia was made by the officials of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and this proving entirely satisfactory, the amalgamation was finally completed. A statement of the affairs of the Canadian Bank of Commerce after the amalgamation, has now been issued, and discloses a very strong position. In point of capital and reserve the Bank now ranks fourth among banking institutions on the continent of America. It has 62 branches throughout Canada, and branches in the United States, namely, at New York, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland (Oregon), Skagway (Alaska), and one in London, England; 68 establishments in all. The acquisition of the London office is an important step in the progress of the Bank. The bank's transactions in sterling exchange in the United States and Canada each year amount to many millions of pounds, and the ability to handle this business through the Bank's own London office will result in an important addition to the earning power of the Bank. In many other directions also the interests of the two banks will be immensely benefited by the amalgamation.

The following is a condensation of the statement issued by the bank at the close of business on the 31st of March:—

Do Not Experiment With Medicines That Have No Established Merit or Reputation.

Paine's Celery Compound

Never fails to Cure the Sick.

In matters pertaining to health and life men and women cannot afford to experiment foolishly. This is especially true in regard to the use of medicines that have no established merit or reputation.

When the physical powers are impaired, when you are weak, nervous, irritable, despondent, sleepless, or weighed down with dull, tired feelings so common at this season, it is wise and prudent to use the medicine that has given health, vim and activity to thousands of weak and diseased people in the past.

This safe, certain health-giving medicine is Paine's Celery Compound, so freely prescribed by our best physicians from day to day. The ingredients of Paine's Celery Compound, apart from those in the ordinary walks of life, are clergymen, lawyers, judges, members of parliament and bankers, many of whom it has rescued from suffering and death.

If you seek health and vigor, place your faith in Paine's Celery Compound, and when you purchase be sure you get the right article. See that the bottle and box has the name "PAINE'S," and the Seal of Celery, this is the only genuine make—the kind that "makes sick people well."

SOME FACTS ABOUT THE WAR IN SOUTH AFRICA WHICH HAVE NEVER BEFORE BEEN PUBLISHED

Strong Letter from a Newspaper Correspondent Who Was an Eye-witness of the Facts
Written About.

Pro-Boer Libels Upon British Soldiers Effectively Answered by One Who Knows and Has Seen

London, May 6.—The war in South Africa is now on its last legs, and there is every indication that it will not drag on much longer. The enemy appear to be disheartened, and there is no fight left in them. The latest dispatches from Lord Kitchener indicate that the resistance is gradually being broken down. His steady aggressive tactics is telling with fearful effect.

BULLER'S PART IN THE WAR.
London, May 6.—All the leading papers speak kindly of General Buller, whose harsh treatment by Lord Roberts is being resented in many quarters. With colonialists, Buller was ever popular, and the smothering he has received from the Commander-in-Chief, has aroused much sympathy for him. Buller was given an impossible task, and it was his to keep the enemy engaged while Roberts slipped in from behind.

THE BRITISH ARMY VINDICATED.
London, May 6.—The London Daily Chronicle publishes the following vindication of the British army in South Africa against the charges of the "Stop the War Committee." The document is a private letter sent to Mr. Rogers, of 24 Great Marlborough street, London, by Mr. Gwynne, Reuter's special correspondent in Cape Colony. As will be seen, the letter was not written for the purpose of publication, but Mr. Gwynne allows it to be used as his correspondent may desire. The following is the letter:

My Dear Sir,—I am very grateful to you for forwarding to me the pamphlet entitled "The New War in South Africa," and the sheet "How we are Waging War in South Africa," both published by the "Stop the War Committee." The document is a private letter sent to Mr. Rogers, of 24 Great Marlborough street, London, by Mr. Gwynne, Reuter's special correspondent in Cape Colony. As will be seen, the letter was not written for the purpose of publication, but Mr. Gwynne allows it to be used as his correspondent may desire. The following is the letter:

of it, and fired from the walled enclosures on our men. The second was burnt because, while the women of the house were handing water to a small party of three, their men folk fired a volley from the cattle kraal and killed or wounded the whole party. The third house was burnt because, the farmer having given us his arms and having sworn solemnly that he possessed no more, two mawmers and 6,000 rounds of ammunition were found on the premises. Before his house was fired, he confessed having hidden them.

THE BURNING OF FARM HOUSES.
I do not pretend to say that these were the only farms burnt by the column to which I was attached, but, judging from the three cases which came under my immediate notice, I feel that the destruction of the houses was well justified. I am quite ready to admit that the retaliation for the destruction of the railway line was often unjust. But to say that these burning of farms were carried out with pleasure and satisfaction by the officers and men is a downright untruth. Times out of number of officers charged with this unpleasant duty have confessed to me their hatred of it. And to say the gentle way in which both officers and men helped the women and children showed that they were full of sympathy and loving-kindness, and not numbers of cruelty. The vast majority of the officers openly stated that they were of opinion that the burning of farm houses in retaliation for the destruction of the railway line was an unjust measure, and I know of many cases where the orders were actually disobeyed. I think now, though I confessed I did not at the time, that such a measure was a mistake. It will never again be enacted, and I am glad of it. But to tell the British public that the carrying out of such severe orders was to the liking of the officers and men seems to me an insult to their own sense of honour, and to their faith in the honour of their fellow-countrymen.

THE KINDNESS OF TOMMY ATKINS.
Perhaps I may be allowed to give a few examples of our soldiers' kindness to a conquered enemy. They have all come under my personal notice. During the march from Modder River to Bloemfontein we reached a farm house which had been deserted by its owners, who had left lying on one of the beds a poor old woman too weak to fetch food or water. Three soldiers entered the house and found the old lady feebly asking for water. They immediately fetched it, and not only that but gave her the old lady's hat, which she had (the poor fellows were on quarter rations themselves), and then one of them ran down to the column and brought a cupful of flour, with which he baked some rough chapatties for the poor woman. At that time a cupful of flour fetched 6s. And this is the war of extermination to the bitter end! Her women whenever they have notice of the near approach of a British column almost invariably take bread, which they sell at an exorbitant rate, to the soldiers. Going down to a farmhouse to get water I found a poor soldier bargaining with a farm woman for the last piece of bread, about the size of my hand, and a couple of inches thick. She wanted 2s. for the piece of bread which was worth 1d. at the very best, and poor Tommy had only a shilling to his name. I listened to the bargaining, and at last became so indignant at the bartered attempt to cheat the poor soldier, that I ordered the woman to give him the bread and take the shilling. This she was willing to do, but the man refused, saying, "She's a woman you know, sir!"

GENERAL BULLER.

At nearly every farmhouse I have visited with the troops I have found the housewife standing with arms akimbo at the door. And only once in all my experience have I seen an officer or a man enter without permission. Lately some Kaffirs belonging to our column stole some clothes out of a farm house, whereupon the good lady came up to the bivouac to see the officer commanding, and complain of the theft. She was most politely received, but complaining was listened to, and she went away completely with the ag of her own. One of our conductors who interpreted told me that the good lady, before leaving the house, expressed her satisfaction at the result of her mission, saying the things she had lost had only cost 3s. at the most.

THE TREATMENT OF WOMEN.
If the "Stop the War" publications do not say in so many words that women have been dishonoured, they hint at it pretty plainly. In page 15 of the pamphlet, "The New War in South Africa," I find the following lines, apropos of four women having to beg food in camp: "When women live on the charity of a camp, it is needless to describe to what depths of infamy necessity reduces them." Now, I am perfectly certain that the crime hinted at in these words has never been committed. I have taken the trouble to inquire into the behaviour of our army to the Boer women, and I have never been able to find a single instance of a verbal insult even. On this point I have the testimony of one of the Boer men, taken prisoner at Bothaville. He said to me: "The war is a hard war, though but thank God we know we can leave our wives and daughters with the full confidence that no harm will befall them at the hands of the English."

But to come to the publication which I have just read carefully through, it is impossible not to be struck with a most significant paragraph on the very first page of "The New War in South Africa." It is as follows (speaking of the statements of "An Officer in the Field") of course if evidence is demanded which would convict in a criminal court, from the nature of the case, you cannot have it. To me this paragraph alone condemns the pamphlet. It is tantamount to saying "We are well aware that the statements of An Officer in the Field" will be questioned, but we shall not consent to substantiate them." Now, I, on the contrary, am quite willing to substantiate in a court of law every statement I have made or shall make on this subject.

THE WAR CORRESPONDENT AND THE CONSOL.
On page 5 of the same publication is a paragraph headed "No Affidavit from Public Opinion," and the amazing statement is put forward that "No news is allowed to leak through the strict censorship, and foreigners are absolutely excluded." Now, this is a downright mis-statement of facts. Letters from correspondents to their papers at home are never seen by the censor, and as for the exclusion of foreigners, how does the author account for the presence of M. Jean Carriere, the talented correspondent of the Paris "Matin," and who was given every facility, and whose letters were never censored? Under the author, in order to account for the silence of correspondents regarding the alleged outrages, advises themselves not to be deceived by the narratives of special correspondents who know full well how short would be their snuff if they dared to print.

The darker scenes of war. This is a libel on the special correspondent, which I hope will never be believed. My colleagues are men who do not in any way deserve the sort cast upon them by an "Officer," and they have spoken the unpalatable truth more than once during the campaign.

THE BRAVEST AND GENTLEST ARMY.
I have not the time to write a refutation of the sheet entitled "How We Wage War in South Africa," but it is a story of base insinuations without any foundation in fact. I have read the present pamphlet with much sorrow, and I write this letter not in any spirit of controversy, but simply and solely because I am distressed to the depths by the vile insinuations cast upon the bravest and the gentlest army I have ever campaigned with. If Englishmen can be induced to believe such stuff as this "Officer in the Field" writes, then all I can say is that the sooner they discard the Army the better. Nobler of finer officers and men I have never seen. I have been an eye-witness of a hundred acts of courtesy towards women, gentleness towards children, and a high civility towards the wounded or captured enemy, and when I read such horrible insinuations as that contained in the pamphlet it is no wonder that I feel and write as I do.

You are quite at liberty to make any use you like of this letter. Unlike the "Officer in the Field" I am quite willing to sign my name to what I have written. Again thanking you for giving me the opportunity of reading these attacks on our soldiers in the field, I remain yours truly.

WORLD OF SPORT.

BASEBALL.

The players of the Peterborough team will be shifted around considerably this season, and although Mulhall will be missed at second base, the battery will have special support. Connor will be brought to first base, Dr. Scott will be brought to second base from third, being replaced at the latter bag by Sheridan. Walby Parker is again to play short stop. Positioned there are Melrose, Ellis, Grady, Guerin and half a dozen other good ones to pick from.

With Ketcher to act mate with McCab and Melrose to help out Graham the battery work of the team should be of gold edge order. If either Melrose or Graham had been hurt last season, the club would have been in a bad way.

It is to be hoped that the City League will again do business at the end of the season. The Port Hope Club have expressed a willingness to play here on May 20th, and the offer has been accepted.

The fixtures this year will be strengthened by the addition of Ketcher, who is now expected in the works.

LACROSSE.

As the Peterboroughs have no grounds of their own this year they will probably throw in their lot with the Veterans, who should be able to put some on the field that would keep any C.E.A. Intermediate team knocking.

The March-April Lacrosse Club of Galt will be to be added to its roster, with the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union. The lacrosse club of Galt, Ontario, will also be added. To-day it is learned that the Ontario authorities have been quietly working on the lacrosse case for the last few weeks, with the result that a special committee will recommend the suspension of the club until after the next quarterly meeting of the council, which will be held in June. It appears the suspension for some time of the lacrosse club of Galt, Ontario, is a serious matter, and the lacrosse club of Galt, Ontario, is a serious matter, and the lacrosse club of Galt, Ontario, is a serious matter.

THE WHEEL.
Messrs. Dunlop and W. S. Tefft, Peterborough, will ride the "Red Bird" this season. Some very fast work is anticipated, as the former record of Tefft, who is a Chatham man, shows that he rides in pretty fast company. Dunlop is also one of the fastest riders in Peterborough. The Toronto wheel is very conspicuous in town. Mr. Young, who is the general agent for this wheel, reports sales very brisk.

THE TURF.

Toronto, May 4. The horses are all down to work and some very fast work is being done on the Woodbine. The form of Sagamore's horse, favorite for the Queen's plate, is not reassuring to supporters.

SUGGESTS A HALF HOLIDAY.

General O'Grady, who would like to see the Militia have half a day each week.

Ottawa, May 4.—General O'Grady would like to see the employers of labour in the leading cities of Canada give their employees who belong to the militia half a day off on Wednesday of each week during the summer months. This practice, he says, is pretty generally followed in Britain, and is very conducive to practical results in the training of the volunteers. The general officer commanding in Canada thinks that if Wednesday afternoon were a holiday in the cities it would be possible to take a couple of regiments out at a time and train them in more extended movements than is now the case. The Saturday half-holiday is not an appropriate time because the working classes do most of their shopping on that day. General O'Grady desires strongly to urge this matter upon the attention of the shopkeepers, merchants and manufacturers.

MASSACRE OF CHRISTIANS IS PREDICTED

Missionary Owen Reports That Discontent and Hatred of Foreigners Greater Than Ever.

GUARANTEE OF POWERS ASKED CHINESE LOANS

Without That Guarantee China Will Have to Pay £9,000,000 More Than Otherwise—Parade of Chinese Loot.

Peking, May 4.—Missionary Owen, of the London Mission, says all the reports received by his missions from the provinces show the country to be in a deplorable state. Discontent and intense hatred of foreigners prevail and worse conditions than existed before the siege are threatened. The departure of the troops, he predicts, will be signalized by the massacre of the native Christians. "Those unable to recognize the facts and repeating otherwise to their Governments," says Mr. Owen, "are as wilfully blind as before."

GUARANTEE FOR CHINESE LOAN.

London, May 4.—Dr. Morrison, writing to the Times from Peking Thursday, says: "Mr. Giera has addressed a letter to the Financial Committee of the Ministers of the powers giving the economical advantages of giving to China conjoint government guarantee to enable her to raise a loan with which to pay the indemnity. He argues that in order to pay £65,000,000 China will only need to issue a loan of £75,000,000 at 4 or 4½ per cent. Without a guarantee she would be compelled to borrow £94,000,000 at 7 per cent. He asserts that if the loan is indemnity is reduced to £40,000,000, as the United States suggests, China with an international guarantee, would only need a loan issue of £48,000,000. He suggests that the loan can be secured on the customs or by an increase on the import duties. "The letter is instructive as showing Russia's unwillingness to interfere with the imperial revenue, such as salt, opium, and special imperial privileges, such as the Manchurian railways, and the grain tribute. On the other hand, it shows Russia's willingness to throw the burden upon the foreign import trade, in which she has practically no interest. The letter further shows Russia's apparent readiness to join Great Britain and the United States in a reduction of the indemnity in return for a conjoint Government guarantee."

PARADE OF CHINESE LOOT.

New York, May 4.—Some fifty cases of General Fiey's loot from China, including the imperial bronze lions, confiscated by the French Government, have reached Peking addressed to the French Minister, says a Herald despatch. The returned loot was paraded through the streets and stored at headquarters. This preliminary to the formal act of restitution caused an immense sensation among the Chinese, but they entertain small hope that the example of France will be followed.

GUARDED BY MILITARY.

Peking, May 4.—A majority of the foreign Ministers will leave Peking next week for the western hills to spend the summer, taking with them military guards for their protection, their intention being to come to Peking for the purpose of holding meetings and attending to necessary business.

MAGIC IN THE MARKET.

Herrmann Extracts Money From Eggs and Causes Much Amusement at the Bonsecours.

Montreal, May 5.—There were many eggs broken at the Bonsecours Market this morning. This was not the result of a series of accidents, but was caused by an eager search for silver coin. The market women broke up their eggs with the most reckless abandon, evidently thinking that the hens had at last got the free silver craze.

Herrmann, the magician, visited the market shortly after ten o'clock and a series of most amusing incidents took place. Approached an old bearded dame, who apparently, from the appearance of her basket, had sold no eggs that morning, Herrmann craved the loan of an egg. Consent was dutifully given and the old lady suspiciously watched the unknown stranger cautiously break the egg. She fell back in amazement at Herrmann, after industriously burrowing in the yolk, pulled out a couple of quarters. After carefully wiping them, one was presented to the old lady, who, after the party moved on, industriously began cracking up her stock in trade in an eager search for more of the hidden silver.

An old man was presently seized by Herrmann. He almost dropped dead with astonishment when the stranger drew a large silver dollar out of the farmer's bushy gray whiskers. Coins were taken out of the ears of young French-Canadians. Packs of playing cards were produced from the inner pockets of stall owners, and the climax was reached when a young butcher was seized and a large rabbit was found underneath his vest. The market was in a hub-bub by this time. All business was suspended while both stall-keepers and customers in a large crowd followed the wonderful visitor in his tour around the old market-place.

LADY DOCTOR APPOINTED.

The Officials of the New Asylum for Women at Cobourg chosen.

Cobourg, May 5.—Hon. Mr. Stratton, Provincial Secretary, and Inspector Christie were at Cobourg yesterday, making arrangements for the opening of the Victoria Asylum for Women there in September next.

Dr. McNicholl of Cobourg has been appointed superintendent and Dr. (Harriet) Cockburn of Sherbourne street north, Toronto, assistant physician. The appointment of Dr. Cockburn is a new departure in Canada, and a recognition by the Government of the claims of lady physicians. Miss Nellies, formerly assistant matron of the Brockville Asylum, but latterly matron of the Ontario Institution for the Blind, Brantford, had been appointed matron.

Old Mother Hubbard she went to the cupboard To get her poor doggie's crust; When she got there the cupboard was bare— The crusts were absorbed by the frust.

WEARING OUT THE BURGHERS

Lord Kitchener Reports Mere Captures of Prisoners and Supplies

TWO THOUSAND MORG HORSES.

London, May 4.—The War Office has received the following report from Lord Kitchener under date of Pretoria, May 3:

"Ten Boers have been killed, three wounded, thirteen have surrendered, and 200,000 rounds of small arm ammunition, 100 wagons and 2,070 horses have been captured since last report."

NO FOORMAL SURRENDER.

London, May 4.—The Kimberley branch of the South African League is convinced that the object of the Boer leaders in refusing to make any formal terms of surrender that would imply their loss of independence is for the purpose of allowing them to renew hostilities in the future if they so desire. The Kimberley branch has adopted resolutions strongly urging the Imperial Government to make no settlement with the Boers which does not take this alleged design into account. The peace negotiations have roused the loyalists in Natal, a committee of whom are urging that in the future negotiations unconditional surrender be insisted upon by the British, and that the other questions be held in abeyance. Referring to the British generosity to the Boers and to the ruin of loyalists' property, and their condition, many of them now living on charity, the committee ask if similar provisions, say a loan, will be made to them to prevent destruction, when they return to their homes. The committee claims that the loyalists should at least receive as much consideration as the Boers. Fifteen hundred loyalists have already returned to their homes, and it is believed that this number will be considerably augmented during the next few months.

NO MORE NEGOTIATIONS.

A despatch to the Times from Pretoria says that the correspondent has authority to state that there is no intention to reopen peace negotiations. Rumors to that effect have been started, owing to the fact that Mrs. Botha, who acted as go-between in the previous negotiations, has been allowed to visit her husband, the Boer commander-general.

SMALLPOX AT A SOCIAL.

Young Girl of Northumberland faintly Subjected the Whole Gathering to Contagion.

Grafton, May 6.—Dr. Bryce reports that at Grafton a doctor was called in to attend a young man who was supposed to be suffering from chickenpox. He diagnosed it as smallpox. The sufferer's mother stated that her daughter had the same illness as her son, and had "gone to a church social." The girl was abruptly recalled, and both came quarantined. It is feared that a number of those who attended the social will develop the disease. The smallpox infection was taken to Haldimand Township by a lumberman, who, with his family, is now down with the malady.

Renewed the Grudge.

Even an old sore will give its owner a twinge if it is roughly handled, says the Youth's Companion. Two elderly men met at a reception one evening, and after they had been introduced to each other, one of them said:

"I beg pardon, Mr. Yarty, but are you related to the family of that name who lived in Plattsburg about fifty years ago?"

"I am a member of the identical family," replied the other. "I resided there myself fifty years ago."

"Then you are Columbus Yarty?"

"Yes."

"I am delighted to meet you again. Do you remember Wesley Weston, with whom you played when a little boy?"

"Surely! Are you he?"

"I am."

"They shook hands again, and after a little pause Mr. Weston said:

"You remember we had a quarrel about something or other the last time we met, and you pushed me over into a tan-vat and ruined a suit of clothes for me?"

"Yes, I remember it very well. Ha! ha!"

"Ha! ha! We can afford to laugh at it now, but it was a serious matter to me then. I have thought of it many times since and made up my mind long ago that if I ever met again I would tell you freely and fully forgive you for the mean little trick."

"But as I remember it, you were entirely to blame in the matter."

"Not at all. I hadn't done anything to you. However, as I said before, I don't hold any spite over it now. I forgive you."

"But I don't want your forgiveness, sir! I won't have it! I told you—"

"Sir! Good evening, sir!"

"Good evening!"

And the grudge of fifty years ago resumed business, so to speak, at the old stand.

Testimony of a Babylonian Brick

It is marvellous what a mass of detailed information has come down to us from the perishable brick tablets inscribed, or rather stamped before being, with minute and complicated inscriptions and preserved in the buried libraries beneath the mounds of the Tigris and Euphrates Valley. Prof. Sayce is able, for instance, to tell us from one of these tablets how a widow brought action before her royal judges to recover her husband's property. She stated that after their marriage she and Ben-Hadad-Nathan had traded together and that a house had been purchased with a portion of her dowry. This house, the value of which was as much as 110 manehs, 50 shekels, or £62 10s., had been assigned to her in perpetuity. The half-brother now claimed everything, including the house. The case was tried at Babylon before six judges in the ninth year of Nabonidus, and they decided in favor of the plaintiff, for a woman's dowry was her own property. This might be an extract from the law reports of the "Times," and other details of ancient Babylonian and Assyrian life are not less precise. "In the reign of Ammizadok three men rented a field for three years on terms of partnership, agreeing to give the owner during the first two years one ear of grain upon each acre. The whole of the third harvest was to go to the lessors and the partners were to divide the crop in equal shares on the day of the harvest." This seems a pleasant kind of agreement, worthy of imitation. The third year free of rent must have been delightful.

RESULTS OF BANK AMALGAMATION

The Canadian Bank of Commerce Completes the Purchase of the Assets of the Bank of British Columbia.

The Banks' Capital Now Eight Million Dollars and Assets Over Sixty-three Millions.

The negotiations for the purchase of the assets of the Bank of British Columbia by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, an announcement respecting which was made some months ago, have been carried to a successful conclusion. A thorough examination of the affairs of the Bank of British Columbia was made by the officials of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and this proving entirely satisfactory, the amalgamation was finally completed.

A statement of the affairs of the Canadian Bank of Commerce after the amalgamation, has now been issued, and discloses a very strong position. In point of capital and reserve the Bank now ranks fourth among banking institutions on the continent of America. It has 60 branches throughout Canada; five branches in the United States, namely, at New York, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland (Oregon), Skagway (Alaska), and one in London, England; 18 establishments in all. The acquisition of the London office is an important step in the progress of the Bank. The bank's transactions in sterling exchange in the United States and Canada each year amount to many millions of pounds, and the ability to handle this business through the Bank's own London office will result in an important addition to the earning power of the Bank. In many other directions also the interests of the two banks will be immensely benefited by the amalgamation.

The following is a condensation of the statement issued by the bank at the close of business on the 31st of March:

A Well Trained Boy

Mr. Goodfather had brought up his son according to the good old model which teaches that children shall be seen and not heard, say "Yes, sir," and "No, sir," and respect their elders.

When Johnnie went to college he arranged with his father that on his arrival there, if he found everything satisfactory, he would telegraph "Yes." When the telegram arrived the busy father had forgotten what "Yes" referred to, so he wired back, "Yes, what?" and Johnnie answered, "Yes, sir."

The Athletic Girl.

The athletic girl is apt to be influential, to have power—and most of us like this—and when she expresses an opinion she is generally listened to with respect. A sound mind in a sound body is the superlative of it.

And this a girl may and should possess. For most girls, as for many older women too, it is well to strive for the rounded life, the life of symmetry, the life which is not unduly developed in one direction at the expense of another.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Notice to Manufacturers of and Dealers in Portland Cement

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tenders for Portland Cement," will be received at this office up to twelve o'clock on Tuesday, 7th May, 1901, for the supply and delivery of 25,000 barrels, in any portion thereof, of Portland Cement on the Trent Canal as per specification.

Specification and forms of tender can be obtained by the parties tendering at the office of the Chief Engineer of Railways and Canals, Ottawa.

In the case of firms there must be attached the actual signatures of the full name, the nature of occupation, and place of business of each member of the same, and further, an accepted bank cheque for 10 per cent of the total amount tendered for must accompany the tender. This accepted cheque must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the work at the rates and on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

The accepted cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By Order,
L. K. JONES,
Secretary.

'ROUND ABOUT TOWN

—Mr. Dodds, of Havelock, spent Saturday in town.

—Mr. Sam Campbell, of Havelock, was in town Saturday.

—Owners of tagless dogs are now at the mercy of the law.

—The bachelors of the George Street Methodist church will give a social this evening.

—Mr. John Craig, of Lakefield, was in town on Saturday, and dropped in to see the Times.

—The steamers brought up large numbers of people from Lake Huron on Saturday.

—Mr. R. M. Roy ran down in his little yacht to Idylwild on Saturday, where he spent Sunday.

—The steamer "Water Lily" has not yet been launched on account of the delay in the delivery of the boiler.

—It is said that there is a possibility of a local ice war this season. It will probably be a game of freeze out.

—Mr. Dan Foley, of Jubilee Point Hotel, was in town Saturday. He says everything points to a successful season.

—The singing at the monthly song service in the Charlotte street church last night was rendered by a choir of fifty girls.

—Capt. Reynolds, of Lakefield, was in town Saturday. The Empress has a two weeks' contract for towing for Mr. Aylmer.

—Mr. Wm. Collins, the popular dock master was out to a number of his friends on Friday night, and a very pleasant evening was spent.

—Even little Cornwall has a paying electric railway, while Peterborough's road lies buried out of sight. Is it not time for the resurrection?

—Rev. Jonathan Goforth, of Honan, China, spent Sunday in town and addressed St. Paul's congregation in the morning, and St. Andrew's in the evening.

—The Greigg House, Havelock, has been sold to Mr. Thos. Reid, of Springbrook, who has now possession. Mr. Greigg has taken a new hotel at Bruce Mines.

—The annual County Sabbath School Convention will be held in Peterborough on June 4th. All interested are requested to keep this date in mind.

—Gen. O'Grady-Italy has abandoned the idea of postponing the summer camp at Niagara until October, and has recommended that the camp be held at the usual time in June.

—The water in the river is falling. The quantity of sugar and syrup manufactured this year was very much less than last.

—The Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Company will close their works at noon each Saturday throughout the summer. The employees greatly appreciate this generous move.

—The Times had pleasant call on Saturday from Dr. Willis, of "The Lodge," near Rice Lake. The Doctor has 35 acres, which he has developed into a veritable sportsman's paradise.

—Friends here will learn with regret that reports as to the condition of Dr. John Healy, V. S., who is now with friends near Port Hope, are not as favorable as earlier on in his illness.

—The evangelistic meetings which have been conducted by Evangelist Oordbeek will be continued throughout this week, except Saturday night. The meetings are very interesting and very successful.

—The Times had a card from Dr. Bell, formerly of Lakefield, but now of Aspley, on Saturday, stating that the people of the north country are hoping for the early construction of the railway from Horwood. The Doctor, sensible man that he is, asks us to send him the great family journal. Even the children cry for it in the great and glorious north country.

—Chief Roszel, as a foster parent, is a success. On Saturday a lost child came into his possession, and the way he amused the little one, till claimed by its mother, shows that he is an adept in the care of youngsters.

—L. O. L. No. 80, at its regular meeting on Friday night, decided to go to Port Hope on the 12th of July. The lodge is in a very prosperous state, new members coming in almost every night, and many of the present members taking high degrees.

—Bobbygoose, Independent—Mr. O'Leary, of Peterborough, invited the council for a trip on his boat down the Otonabee some time in June, and the council were of opinion that it was such men as Mr. O'Leary who made this great country of ours.

—We are pleased to state that Prof. Sheets will reside in Peterborough permanently, and re-open his classes here in September. He goes to Orlinda to instruct and put on a Kermess, after which he will return to town.

—Mr. Bravender, of New York, and Mr. Huchard, manager of the Owen Sound Cement Company, are in Lakefield in connection with the Lakefield Cement Company's works, and are guests at the Craig House.

—The many friends of Mr. George H. Howson were pleased to see him in town on Saturday, after an absence of three months. Mr. Howson holds a responsible position as travelling representative of a large Bradford industrial, and has covered all western Ontario. Mr. Howson will remain with his family a few days.

—For some months past a class in drill instruction has been conducted at the armories by Major Miller, of the 6th, preparatory to the participants taking examination at Stanley Barracks, Toronto, for field officers, captains and cadets' certificates. Those who have left to be examined are: Captain Hill and Lieutenants Cameron and Compin, for captains' certificates; Lieutenants Layfield, G. Matthews, McPherson, McWilliams, Bradburn, VanEvery, and Jas. Hamilton, for cadets' certificates.

A PETERBOROUGH BOY'S SUCCESS

Arthur P. Choate, a Toronto Newspaper Man Acquires big Fortune

FROM REPORTER TO FINANCIER

Brief But Eminently Successful Career of a Young Man, Who Has Now Retired.

After acquiring a fortune of $300,000 or more in a very few years, Mr. A. P. Choate, a well-known newspaper man in Toronto financial circles, has decided to take a rest. Mr. Choate has successfully followed the stock market and has, by intelligent methods, become the possessor of more than sufficient of this world's goods to enable him to take a long rest.

Arthur P. Choate was born in Dunsmuir and is about 33 years of age. He began his newspaper career on The Times and went on the Toronto World staff about 11 years ago. From The World, while yet a young man, he went to The Empire, and eventually became commercial editor of The Mail and Empire, which position he occupied until yesterday. It is his intention now to go abroad for a year or two.

It is understood by his friends that Mr. Choate has cleared up at least $300,000 in cash during the past few years. He has made this fortune by following the Wall-street market, largely on the bull side. For the past three or four years Mr. Choate has been considered one of the shrewdest speculators in Canada. He came particularly into prominence among local financial men when he made his first big pile on Louisville & Nashville stock, which he started to buy up around 40, and which is now quoted at 108 7/8. He is understood to have made about $80,000 out of that stock alone, and with that money as capital he has consistently followed up the present bull movement which began Nov. 7 last year, the day after the election of President McKinley, and which now appears to be near culmination.

The whole of Mr. Choate's success is owing to the concentration of all his energies in the study of the legitimate and technical conditions of the market. For instance, before investing in a railway stock he would thoroughly investigate the financial position of the road, the condition of the roadbed, value of the rolling stock and other data likely to affect the ultimate value of the issue. Then, again, he always kept himself in touch with the conditions of the money market on both sides of the Atlantic. Thus, of course, is the most important of the technical conditions in order to know the market, and if a man is well informed on the stock he is speculating in, and at the same time is able to size up the turns in the money market before hand, he is a pretty sure winner. Recently, Mr. Choate made a lot of money in Union Pacific, and his friends say he cleared up $20,000 profit in the last couple of weeks.

Another secret of Choate's success is that he apparently always knows when to "let go" and to get out of any stock that he may be in quickly. As an instance of this, it may be cited that in the big bull market of April, '99 he was heavily long of B. R. T., getting out at 135 with it, and is said, a profit of $100,000. That stock going back 3 and 4 points, Choate bought 2000 shares in again, looking for another quick turn. In the meantime, on a Saturday morning, rumors of the proposed Ford franchise tax came out. The Toronto man spent the afternoon in writing for information and studying up the probable effect of the measure. The opinion he formed led him to sell out his holdings at the opening Monday morning, and he came out about that. A couple of days after Government Flowers' death took place B. R. T. being one of his specialties, tumbled down to 112 in the panic that followed. It will be remembered that during the same summer Brooklyn Rapid Transit broke to 43, and in that "black Monday" of December, '99, it fell to 49.

LAI'D AT REST.

The funeral of the late Percy McNamee took place Saturday, from the residence of his uncle, Mr. Christopher Clements, No. 7 Walton street, and was largely attended.

The religious services were conducted by Rev. J. C. Davidson, assisted by Rev. Mr. Archibald, of Warsaw, a personal friend of the deceased.

The pall bearers were six of his companions from the M.C.A. The floral decorations were as follows: Mrs. Spicer, bouquet; George Street Christian Endeavor Society, bouquet; Mrs. G. E. Cooney, bouquet; Mr. and Mrs. Hunter, bouquet; Employees of the Times office, bunch; Charlotte Street Church Bible class, bouquet; St. John's Confirmation Class, bouquet; Miss Annie Harrell, wreath; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley, bouquet; Mr. McNamee, (a brother), bouquet; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Robertson, wreath.

The address of Rev. Mr. Davidson at the house was very impressive. He spoke of the preparedness of the deceased for death, and of his exemplary life. Although young in years, Percy McNamee lived long enough to endure himself to very many, who will sincerely mourn his death.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.

Services in connection with the sixty-sixth anniversary of St. Andrew's congregation took place yesterday, when the Rev. J. C. Foster preached in the morning, and the Rev. Jonathan Goforth, of Honan, China, in the evening. To-morrow the anniversary reunion will be held, tea being served from 8 to 9 o'clock; and the programme of a literary and musical character beginning at 8 p.m. on Sunday, May 12th, the Rev. Jas. Murray, B.D., of Elmwood church, Toronto, will conduct the services both morning and evening.

BOER CAUSE IS DEAD WAR PRACTICALLY OVER

Colonial Rebels and Adventurers are the Only Ones
Now in the Field.

A NOTED ARMY SURGEON MAKES A STATEMENT.

Deems Occasional Skirmishes of Little Importance—Soldiers of Extinct Republics said to be Scattered.

Chicago, May 7.—To all practical purposes the Boer war is over. The so-called big battles reported from time to time are merely curious engagements. Those still fighting are merely bands of colonial rebels, adventurers attracted from many lands and scattered remnants of the Boer forces.

This was the statement made last night by Dr. John E. Mackenzie, the noted British army surgeon, who has come to Chicago to visit his brother, Dr. W. Douglas Mackenzie, of the Chicago Theological seminary.

The two men are sons of Rev. John Mackenzie, who went to the Transvaal as a missionary and later became one of the leading statesmen in South Africa, holding among other positions that of deputy administrator of Mchuanaland.

"It is to be regretted that such vast quantities of distorted news have been kept out into the world," he said last night. "We have been sorry to note the prejudice with which all news alike have been received. This talk of the Boers fighting for liberty is absolute 'rot.' Suppositions of an analogy between the American war of independence and the Boer struggle are based on an utter misconception of the facts from the economic, social and political viewpoints. As a matter of fact, the analogy, if there be one, is the opposite, for the British in the Transvaal are fighting against the precise principles which the American colonists succeeded in upholding.

The Boers have fought for what? For the institution of slavery, first of all. That was the backbone of their entire struggle. Secondly, they have been contending for the principle of taxation without representation. It has been their policy throughout to deprive the uitlanders of political rights, while burdening them with all the taxes. It is this sort of a system that Britain opposed on behalf not only of Englishmen, but of Americans, Germans, French and others who compose the uitlanders.

"Most ridiculous of all is the talk about a monarchy fighting a republic. It requires but a superficial study to realize that of the two contending countries Great Britain is far more democratic. The so-called republic of the Transvaal has been almost an autocracy, with President Kruger as the center of power in all matters. Kruger had been elected, it is true, by regular ballot, but corruption was rampant and his continuous rule since 1882 was far from true democracy as any pseudo republican institution in history.

RICH MINES NOT AN ISSUE.
"Diamond mines! Gold mines! Why, they had absolutely no bearing on this war. In the first place, there are no diamond mines in the Transvaal."

ASHBURNHAM COUNCIL.

GRANT TO AID THE VICTORIA DAY CELEBRATION.

Stray Cattle Will be Impounded Without Fear or Favor.—The Wharf to be Ligated.

Ashburnham village council met in regular session last night. All the members present, viz., Reeve Adams and Councillors Smith, Pollock, Sheridan and Johnston.

A petition signed by 67 ratepayers was presented, asking that a light (electric preferred) be placed at or over Ashburnham wharf. It was pointed out that on dark nights travelers coming off the boats were in some danger. On motion of Mr. Sheridan, seconded by Mr. Smith, it was decided to have a light placed at the southeast corner of Mark and Maria streets. Accounts as follows were ordered paid:

Peterborough Water Co., repairs to mains $2.60
Review 1.00
Peterborough Light & Power Co. 4.00
Times Sheet No. 3 34.7

Messrs. Peter Campbell and T. E. Bradburn addressed the council in behalf of the Victoria Day celebration committee, asking for a grant to assist in defraying the expenses of the celebration.

The Reeve expressed mild opposition to the principle of supporting such undertakings from the public funds, but the councilmen favored a grant and on motion of Mr. Smith, seconded by Mr. Sheridan, $40 was given, on next Sunday.

—Miss Florence Beatty, who has been visiting Mrs. J. Jeffries, Aylmer street, was unexpectedly called home yesterday by the death of her brother-in-law, Mr. D. Poole, Beamsville. Mr. and Mrs. Jeffries have accompanied her.

The marriage of Miss Ida C. Adams to Mr. George A. Macdonald, manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's stationery department, took place on Tuesday at 10 o'clock, at the home of the bride's father, Mr. McArthur, of the old living member. They settle in some spot and then as soon as they see neighbors approaching off they go with their horses, their wagons and children to some new hunting ground. Thus they have lived for generations; thus they proposed to continue, and naturally the settlements of Europeans were not to their liking. If the American people could only get an opportunity to see with their own eyes and to study the conditions in the Transvaal I am sure they would see the full force of the English arguments.

MR. CRANE RESIGNS.

The Tainted Organist of St. Paul's Presbytery Resigns.

Not only will the members and adherents of St. Paul's Church regret to learn that Mr. St. Paul has resigned the position of chorist and organist, but the general public will also feel deeply sorry. Mr. Crane has held the position for upwards of eight years, during which time he has brought the choir up to a high state of efficiency. It was only after careful and mature consideration that Mr. Crane made up his mind to retire. The fact that he could no longer continue to attend to the multitudinous duties in connection with his various offices, which he held, and his resignation was placed in the hands of the church managers some time ago, but was not then accepted. The managers, asking Mr. Crane to reconsider his decision. At a meeting held here on Monday, Mr. Crane announced his decision to alter, and requested the committee to make arrangements to relieve him not later than July 1st.

A BAD BREAK.

The New Boarder Makes a Bad Break on His First Day.

When the new boarder went into the dining room of a well-known Peterborough hotel, he found a table set down there was only one other person at the table. The new boarder had a kind heart and thought he would be affable to himself as to his family he could no longer continue to attend to the multitudinous duties in connection with his various offices, which he held, and his resignation was placed in the hands of the church managers some time ago, but was not then accepted. The managers, asking Mr. Crane to reconsider his decision. At a meeting held here on Monday, Mr. Crane announced his decision to alter, and requested the committee to make arrangements to relieve him not later than July 1st.

LAKEFIELD AND DICKSON C.

The Matrimonial that the Men are Paid by Cheque not Correct.

The Lakefield News, for some reason or other that does not at this writing appear, are making a deal out of the Dickson Company. We scarcely think the readers of the paper in the village will endorse the statement of the News that the Company's operations in the village are not of advantage to that community. In a late issue our contemporary stated that the men employed in the mill of the Company in Lakefield were paid by cheque, in Peterborough. The Times has been informed that this is incorrect. The men, with the exception of the foremen, are paid in cash, in Lakefield.

THE TOWN COUNCIL IN REGULAR SESSION

Three By-Laws Passed to Provide For Borrowing Money For Construction of Sewers.

LIGHTS FOR THE CENTRAL PARK BAND STAND

Cinders to be Laid Down on George Street For The Accommodation of Cyclists—Accounts Passed.

Town Council met in regular session last night, when there were present, Mayor T. E. Deane, and Aldermen Saward, Edgumbe, Roger, Rush, Shortley, Dutton, Clinkscale and Corkery.

On motion of Ald. Shortley, seconded by Ald. Rush, the reading of the minutes was taken as read.

From a number of ratepayers petitioning for a sidewalk on the River Road, Auburn, from Smith street to Brown street, (Heard of Works).

From Wm. Collins stating that the existing connection with the public sewerage system of the manufacture of beet sugar exceeds its appropriation by the Board of Trade and Farmers' Institute by $150.00, and asking that the town contribute one-half of the cost. This request was granted.

From J. W. Green & Son, complaining of being over assessed—Court of Revision.

From T. Hartley, requesting that Murray street from Reid to Ridgeway, be graded and made fit for traffic, and that west side of Ridgeway, near corner of Murray, be watered. Referred to Board of Works.

From J. E. Haggard, asking that he be recompensed to the amount of $20 for lost time resulting from having his ankle sprained by the overturning of the horse wagon on April 15th. The brigade of the town was called out by a false alarm—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From John Law, John Logan, Jas. Jackson, M. Mowry, Patrick Measles, Mar. Shaw and T. L. Anderson, seeking remission of dog tax. Referred to Court of Revision.

From A. Stevenson, requesting remission of Town Trust, drawing attention to the fact that the late Mr. Stevenson, surviving trustee of the mortgage from the Midland Railway to the Town of Peterborough, and suggesting that another trustee be appointed in the place of Mr. Stevenson. Referred to Legal Committee.

From Mrs. John M. Armstrong, soliciting an eating house license this year. Referred to License Committee.

From Samuel Johnston, asking to be proportionately relieved of his assessment for sewer on McDowell street—Court of Revision.

From Mr. Excellency, Lady Minto, urging the need of cottage hospitals in many localities, and stating that her ladyship would be gratified for any contribution towards the new Victoria Cottage Hospital. (Received.)

From property owners, asking an extension of granolithic pavement on the west side of Park street, from Hunter to Wellington, to be constructed outside of the street—Referred to Board of Works.

From J. E. Brown, seeking appointment as assessor—Referred to Committee on Appointments.

From the Committee of Railways, asking that the right of way for the construction of a dry dock on Lakefield, near the T. & N. wharf, be granted.

From J. M. Armstrong, on behalf of the Peterborough Cheese Board, asking that a more evenly balanced scale for the weighing of cheese be furnished—Referred to Market Committee with power to act.

From Wm. Roling and others, asking that Bolivar street be watered this summer—Received.

From C. Houtley, complaining of the lack of sidewalk at east side of Stewart street, between Hunter and Brock streets. Referred to Board of Works.

From Jas. H. Challen, asking for improvements to the corner of Reid and Smith streets. Referred to Board of Works.

From W. H. Moore, on behalf of ratepayers who petitioned for a sewer on Linden street, from George to Brock street, and north on Ridgeway, asking that construction of said sewer be proceeded with as soon as possible. Referred to Board of Works.

From ratepayers on Donaghy street, asking that this street, between Hunter and Brock, be watered and put in a thorough state of repair. Referred to Board of Works.

From Mr. H. Calcutt, president Peterborough Navigation Co., asking that a stand-pipe be placed at the Wolfe street wharf for the use of excursionists—Fire Water and Light Committee.

From Mrs. Mary Sargent, seeking renewal of peddlers license on same terms as last year—Referred to License Committee with power to act.

From the municipality of North Monmouth, enclosing notice of assessment for sewer extended to Peterborough, and asking the Council to appeal at once, as the assessment is considered exorbitant.

From W. G. Morrow, Secretary Board of Education, asking the Council to have power extended to Sherbrooke street to Rubidge at the earliest opportunity as the Board are desirous of connection being made with the South Central School as soon as possible—Received.

7. That the Town Engineer be authorized to purchase 2,000 feet of 2 inch plank and 2,000 feet of 3 inch plank.

8. Your Board made an examination on Friday last and find that a number of places require to have work done. We recommend that the work required on the leading thoroughfares be attended to first, and that the other streets be then required.

9. Your Board recommend that no action be taken on the application of the Geo. Matthews Co. for adding across and along George street, until Mr. A. Macdonald's requirements are known, and the whole matter dealt with together.

10. Your Board recommend that the Town Engineer be authorized, subject to the approval of the Chairman of the Board, to engage an engineer to run the steam roller from time to time as may be necessary.

11. Your Board also recommend that notice be given of the intention of the Council to construct, as a local improvement, a sluice on London street, from George to Ridgeway, and street, from London to Dublin street.

All of which is respectfully submitted. The report was adopted as read.

FIND GOLD NEAR THE POLE.

Seattle, Wash., May 7.—Sensational reports of rich discoveries in the arctic region made to Captain Francis Tuttle of the revenue cutter Bear by a dying officer have been confirmed by W. Wyatt, manager of the Cutter Bear Mining Company, organized by Tuttle. Wyatt wrote from the arctic district, as it has been named, in a letter dated Jan. 26, saying: "There is no use disputing we have struck it rich in the arctic. One man has just brought in twenty-five pounds of gold, and I am satisfied that we will have no trouble next summer in getting all the money we want. Tomlinson says Tuttle crews will average 75 cents per pan at Idgrock and we have taken out some pans that range as high as $2.60 per pan." The district is seventy-five miles above the head of Behring straits. Tuttle is a miner employed by a company.

CAPT KIRKPATRICK PROMOTED

Mrs. George Kirkpatrick, who has been spending the winter in Peterborough, has received word from England that Captain Kirkpatrick has been promoted to a brevet majority for his services in South Africa. Major Kirkpatrick has been promoted to the rank of Major-General in the D.A.G. of Intelligence on the staff of General Ian Hamilton. Mr. Archibald Hunter and Tucker, and is now the chief intelligence officer in the Orange River Colony, with headquarters at Bloemfontein. Lord Roberts' despatches are dated in November last, and are only being published now.

THE BACHELORS' ENTERTAINMENT.

Given by The Young Men of George St. Methodist Church.

SUCCESSFUL IN EVERY RESPECT.

A very enjoyable and sociable evening was spent at the George street Methodist church last night when the young men of the church gave an entertainment, advertised as "The Bachelors' entertainment," which proved a most successful affair, both financially and otherwise, there being a large crowd present, the majority of which were ladies.

The programme commenced with a chorus: "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name," by 30 young men. The next was an address by the Rev. J. P. Wilson, followed by an instrumental trio by Messrs. Henderson, Dodge and Skitch, which was rendered in a very pleasing manner, receiving loud applause for an encore, which was responded to with "Listen to the Mocking Bird."

Rev. W. W. McCaughey, of Port Hope, who took a very prominent part in the programme, entertaining the audience for some length of time with an address, a reading, and his ventriloquism, which kept the audience in a fit of constant laughter with his comic representations.

Mr. C. Parks then favored the audience with a solo, which was followed by a wand drill by 10 small boys dressed in red jerseys and white knickerbockers, which proved a very pretty affair, the encore being responded to by five of the same boys, namely: Arthur Boucher, Harold Dily, Graham Ferguson, Norman Miller and Robbie Hall, in a dumb bell exercise which was well carried out, and for which the boys deserve great credit.

Following this was a quartette by Messrs. Goldie, McGuire, Walton and Turner, acquitting themselves in a most creditable manner, followed by Messrs. Henderson, Dodge and Skitch in a well rendered piece of music which ended the musical part of the programme.

Refreshments were then served by the Bachelors, and the entertainment came to a close by the young Bachelors, who wore white hats and white aprons, singing "God Save the King."

George Street Methodist Church should be proud of the good showing the young men of that congregation made, the committee having added upwards of eighty names of young men as regular attendants of the church.

A FINE EXHIBIT.

Grand Trunk Railway Exhibit at Pan-American Exposition, N. Y.

The handsome collection of large photographs and steel engravings, depicting the points of interest on the Grand Trunk Railway System and which are on exhibition at the Pan-American Exposition, will be a source of great interest to the visitors at this great Exposition. The space in which this exhibit is placed covers six feet of floor space and over 4,000 feet of wall space in the Machinery and Transportation Building, directly to the right on entering the Main entrance, from the Mall on the North Side. About one hundred and fifty pictures form the collection, which are tastefully arranged in tiers to allow visitors close inspection. Among the collection are included the sixty pictures which were awarded the Gold Medal of the International Exposition held at Paris last year. The pictures are grouped in districts displaying in natural life-like scenes the beauties of the Canadian Summer resorts which are becoming so popular with the ever increasing brotherhood of tourists and include the Muskoka Lake region, the Lake of the Islands, the Kawartha Lakes district and the 30,000 islands of the Georgian Bay. Scenes in the White Mountains of Maine and New Hampshire are also shown as well as views of the Atlantic Coast. Mounted speckled trout from the "Highlands of Ontario" intersperse the scenic views, and these alone will whet the appetites of the keenest fishermen for the sport which awaits the angler in the northern districts. Across the upper portion of the front wall space a large painting of the Grand Trunk Victoria Jubilee Bridge across the St. Lawrence river is placed, showing the bridge and the mighty St. Lawrence in the foreground, and the historic metropolis of Canada nestling at the foot of Mount Royal as a background. The painting portrays a sunset scene and is very realistic.

INSTALLING MACHINES.

Mr. S. B. Best, Manager of the Canadian Typograph Co., Windsor, is in town, installing a battery of three typesetting machines in the Examiner office. These machines are the old ones, which went through the fire, and which have been rebuilt by the Company. They are as good as new, and it is satisfactory to Mr. Best and his company to know that after an exhaustive investigation into the merits of all other typesetting machines, Mr. Stratton selected the Typograph as the most suitable for his requirements. The Times as the most progressive paper in the district was the first to install Typograph machines in this locality, and our example was subsequently followed by our little local contemporaries. Our machines have been in constant use night and day for three years, and they are practically as good as ever. Mr. Best has a standing order from us for two additional machines, to be delivered as soon as we secure larger premises, which we expect will be in the autumn.

The Cook investigation was but a preliminary to the Preston-Ottawa Journal boat.

People who are afraid the British Empire may get into deep water because of the expense of the war can find some comfort in the following paragraph from the Ottawa Journal:

"The war is costing $1,500,000 a week, or at the rate of about $75,000,000 a year. At any rate, the period required to make the British national debt as large proportionately to British wealth as the debt was after Waterloo will be about forty years. Britain won't probably be able to hang out much longer than that. Somebody should cheer the fleet with this news."

With this man Morgan buying up a steamship line every other minute it looks as if he was bound to get control of the Transatlantic ferry.

China is not hugging any rash assertions about what it's going to do in the present crisis for fear it might have to swallow its words, and Chinese words are something terrible.

Lots of English financiers are alleged to be losing sleep over Morgan's visit, if that's all they lose they may rest comparatively easy.

Suppose the short-waist agitation is still on? Why shouldn't men be interested in what goes on behind their backs. That not so many people are eager to jump on the bicycle as a few seasons ago is evidence that the spring fever in some of its phases is lessening.

The New York Sun is printing a lot of rot illustrative of the "luck of cohesion" between the Canadian provinces. There may be some slight lack of cohesion apparent at times, but Canada has never found it necessary to weld her provinces together with a club, the way a certain country inappropriately known as the United States has had to do. The Sun branches have the name changed to the Re-United States—lest they forget, lest they forget.

The great challenge debate on Christian Science between Rev. Dr. Buckley and Carl Norton, Doctor of Christian Science, which was to have taken place in New York the other night, did not come off. Dr. Norton writing that in the 10 minutes each to be given the speakers neither could do it justice. The assembled audience was much disappointed, but Dr. Buckley entertained it with a somewhat lively address, in which he told them some things that he had intended to say in the debate had it taken place.

RESULTS OF BANK AMALGAMATION

The Canadian Bank of Commerce Completes the Purchase of the Assets of the Bank of British Columbia.

The Bank's Capital Now Eight Millions Dollars and Assets Over Sixty-three Millions.

The negotiations for the purchase of the assets of the Bank of British Columbia by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, an announcement respecting which was made some months ago, have been carried to a successful conclusion. A thorough examination of the affairs of the Bank of British Columbia was made by the officials of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and this proving entirely satisfactory, the amalgamation was finally completed. A statement of the affairs of the Canadian Bank of Commerce after the amalgamation, has now been issued, and discloses a very strong position. In point of capital and reserve the Bank now ranks fourth among banking institutions on the continent of America. It has 62 branches (throughout Canada, five branches in the United States, namely, at New York, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland (Oregon), Skagway (Alaska) and one in London, England, 88 establishments in all. The acquisition of the London office is an important step in the progress of the Bank. The bank's transactions in sterling exchange in the United States and Canada each year amount to many millions of pounds, and the ability to handle this business through the bank's own London office will result in an important addition to the earning power of the Bank. In many other directions also the interests of the two banks will be mutually benefited by the amalgamation.

The following is a condensation of the statement issued by the bank at the close of business on the 31st of March:

AFTER 15 YEARS.

Excerpts from After Many Years of Terrible Torture.

Editor Morning Times.
Sir,—At the request of the makers I gladly write a line to tell what Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills did for me. For over 15 years I was a sufferer from eczema and although treated by the best doctors in the country, I got no relief. After taking 9 boxes of the pills, I am, thank God, entirely well. They cured me when every known remedy failed. Jas. Britain, G. T. B., Brantford.

A PEERLESS SPRING HEALTH BUILDER.

Paine's Celery Compound

The Wonderful Curing Medicine.

Wherever men and women work, strive and battle with life's duties and responsibilities, Paine's Celery Compound is regarded as a true friend and helper. In shop, office, factory, and among the weary wives and mothers who bear the burden of domestic work, Paine's Celery Compound is prolonging life by strengthening every bodily function and driving out disease.

Paine's Celery Compound is a peerless Spring medicine in all cases of enfeebled nerves, foul blood, kidney disease, rheumatism, neuralgia, and dyspepsia. The virtues of the great medicine subdue and banish the most obstinate cases of disease.

Mr. R. W. Daniels, Lawrencetown, N.S., writes thus:

"I feel constrained, for the benefit of suffering humanity, to add my testimony to the wonderful effects of your Paine's Celery Compound. I was induced to try your compound through its wonderful effects upon a Mr. Parks. I had previously used a vast quantity of patent and doctors' medicines, only to find myself growing weaker. After using your Paine's Celery Compound, to the number of five bottles, I gained forty-three and a half pounds, and I am able to work 11 day as a mason with comfort to myself. I feel like a new man, which condition I owe to the blessing of God and your Paine's Celery Compound."

Lindsay Post.—A cocking main took place last night near Peterborough. We understand that a number of Lindsay sports were in attendance.

"Billy" Fleming, an old Peterborough boy, has developed into "Prof. W. O. Fleming, the world's famous juggler." He is advertised to make balloon ascensions each day at the Pan-American.

The engineers of the Cereal Company have definitely ascertained, by drilling, that the excavation for the foundations for the new concrete dam will have to go below the river bed to the depth of twelve feet.

Mr. Sam Ray returned yesterday from Sturgeon Point, where he had been to lay out a golf course. Mr. Ray completed his work Saturday and spent Sunday at the Point, returning by boat to Lindsay yesterday morning.

Lindsay Post.—Five carloads of machinery consigned to the General Electric Co. of Schenectady, N.Y. The machinery was of a very heavy nature, one of the largest driving wheels seen here for some time was loaded on a flat car with a capacity of 100,000 lbs.

Mr. R. M. Roy has just completed arrangements with Otisberg Lodge, No. 13, I.O.O.F., for supplying a large group photo, 6 ft. by 4 ft., of the members of the Lodge. There are 160 members in Otisberg Lodge, so that the picture, when completed, will be interesting.

The following officers of the 67th are up for examination at Toronto:—Capt. W. H. Hill, Lieut. S. Gordon Cameron and E. C. Complin for Captain's certificate. Lieut. R. E. Layfield, Geo. Matthews, A. W. Melburn, R. F. McWilliams, C. H. Bradburn, Wm. Van Every and Jas. Hamilton for Capt. certificates.

—By reference to an advertisement in another column it will be noticed that the Town of Peterborough is offering for sale local improvement debentures guaranteed by the municipality, for $33,114.33, running for 20 years, and for $13,111.39, running for 30 years and bearing interest at 3 1/2 per cent., payable half yearly.

—The many friends of Mr. Matthews Modill, head of the test department at the Electric works, is about to leave town. On Saturday evening a number of the employees of the Electric Company called and presented him with a gold headed cane. A very enjoyable evening was spent in social intercourse, music, etc. Mr. Modill expressed his appreciation in suitable words.

—A local barber asked The Times to call the attention of the trade to the fact that the barbers of all large towns have unions formed, and are doing good work. For instance, the barbers union of Stratford held a meeting when Dr. Rankin delivered a lecture on the cause, prevention and cure of skin diseases. The attendance was good and all present took a hearty interest in the question under discussion. Is it not time for Peterborough barbers to make a move?

—Lindsay Post.—Capt. Geo. Crandell will mark the closing years of a very busy life by the publication of a book, "Old Times Along the Reunion," making particular reference to Lindsay since the earliest days. The book should prove interesting to the general public. The Commodore of the lakes has been navigating our inland waters for half a century, and has built eleven steamers in his time, beginning with the Woodman.

—Mr. Percy Wasson, who went with the Peterborough contingent on the 2nd Canadian Regiment to South Africa, and who returned to his home in Norwood in excellent health, has decided to return to the Transvaal republic. It is understood that Mr. Wasson has received a responsible appointment as manager of an extensive farm there, which is owned by a prominent gentleman. (Mr. Wasson left yesterday for his future home. He is a first cousin of Mr. Ernie Wasson, of this town.)

—Mr. A. Hesselbacher, representing the Robert Wire Fence Co., was here yesterday morning, and left at noon for the east. Mr. Hesselbacher's visit to Peterborough has probably something to do with locating a branch of the Company's factory in town. He will meet the Manufacturers' Committee this week again when he will make known what inducements the company desires. They would employ about 40 hands.

Keloid Methods to Make Funds for Hospital Purposes.

The children of Woodstock have adopted a means of raising funds for the hospital in that town that is worthy of imitation. At a meeting of the School Board, of that town, held a few days ago, Miss Lena M. McKay, secretary of the Women's Auxiliary of the Hospital Trust, wrote saying she had decided to gather up rubbers to be sold in aid of the hospital. Peterborough has worthy objects of charity that might be assisted in this way.

—A very pretty wedding was celebrated here on Tuesday, when Mr. William Sharp, son of Mr. Wm. Sharp, the esteemed treasurer of Ashbooke, was united in marriage to Miss Jennie, daughter of Mr. James Stewart.

The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Mr. Thompson, Hastings, in the presence of a number of invited guests. Little Miss Sergeant gracefully filled the post as maid of honor. After the ceremony a sumptuous luncheon was served. The large number of wedding presents testified to the popularity of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Sharp will take up their residence at Ashbooke, where the former has the management of a large cheese factory. They carry with them the best wishes of a large number of citizens. The Times also heartily extends its congratulations.

At the Breakfast Table.

YOU FAVOR DIGESTION AND PROLONG LIFE BY USING

Malt Breakfast Food

Why use grain foods at breakfast that heat the blood, irritate the stomach and that seriously affect the organs of digestion?

When you use oatmeal, common cracked wheat, hominy and any of the host of poorly prepared breakfast foods, you are adding misery and sorrow to life by creating disordered digestion and stomach troubles.

Nature's true health food is Malt Breakfast Food, predigested, readily absorbed by the system, and healthfully strengthening.

Malt Breakfast Food contains no insoluble starchy constituents; it does not heat the blood, causes no irritation and prevents constipation. It is the only grain food that puts new life and vigor into the blood, that develops bone and muscle, that builds up body and brain. Its delicious flavor and palatability makes it the favorite breakfast food for old and young.

One 15 cent package makes from twenty-five to thirty meals. The most concentrated and most economical of all foods. All Grocers sell Malt Breakfast Food.

VICTORIA DAY CELEBRATION.

Promises to be the Biggest Thing of the kind Ever Held Here.

The outlook for the celebration on Victoria Day is very promising. New ideas are continually being brought to the fore.

A prominent member of the Celebration Committee received a letter from the Port Hope Old Boys Association on Saturday, stating that if desirable they would visit Peterborough on May 21st, 2000 strong, all decked out in white coats, castor hats and gold headed canes. Besides these the Port Hope firemen may attend. The offer was gladly accepted.

It is also proposed to invite the Oshawa firemen. The matter will come up for discussion at the firemen's meeting to-night.

The Secretary of the Celebration Committee will open an office, with telephone, etc., so that the work will be greatly facilitated.

Mr. George Stevens has offered to furnish a detachment of 80 cars with a clown driver in each.

CRICKET COACH.

Englishman Comments on American Football.

The English coach of the German town, P. Cricket Club has had an experience with football worth knowing.

He says, "When I came to this country I was engaged as Professional Coach. I had suffered a long time from constipation, and pains in the lower part of the back, and after howling and coughing for about an hour, the pains would draw me to the ground and I would lie there for some time."

I tried many remedies without success. Finally I went on Grape-Nuts Food using it for breakfast in place of oatmeal. Within three days I began to feel better. I have kept it up regularly and now feel like a new man.

I can go on and bow for hours without pain. Bowels are as regular as a clock and my head is clear and steady.

I advise its use with all our players." J. C. Crier, Pro. Coach.

No food on earth will put a man in fit condition so surely and quickly as Grape-Nuts. There's a reason.

WHY NOT PETERBOROUGH?

The District Military Camp should Come Here This Year.

The Times notices that the Military Authorities are looking about for a suitable place to hold their annual drill.

In this connection we think Peterborough should have a say. We have agricultural grounds, which are admirably situated for the purpose, and a strong effort should be made to secure the camp.

We suggest that Mayor Denne, who is always foremost in promoting the welfare of the town, should interview Col. Edwards and bring all possible influence to bear to secure the camp for Peterborough.

GAS AT 20 CENTS.

Mr. S. B. Best, of Windsor, showed The Times his gas bill for the past winter, which for seven months amounted to $31.43. This supplied the heat for a ten room house, and also for cooking, laundry, &c. The price per 1000 feet is 20 cents. We publish this to show the advantage of having in place of your old gas burner, a gas burner of the Windsor type. Peterborough, we believe, also has natural gas, and it is to be hoped that an effort will be made to tap it this year.

PROSPECTUS

PETERBOROUGH PURE MILK COMPANY

(LIMITED)

CAPITAL $40,000

IN 1600 SHARES OF $25 EACH.

This company has been formed for the purpose of carrying out the suggestion of the committee recently appointed to enquire into the question of pure milk supply.

It is proposed to enter into a contract for the supply to this Company of the quantity of milk required under the conditions referred to in the committee's report.

The Company will erect proper buildings and plant for treating the milk and delivering it free from impurities; the herd of cows, stables, employees, etc. being subject to strict regulations and rigid inspection.

A careful estimate has been made of the cost of buildings and plant, including Refrigerating apparatus, and it has been decided that subscriptions to the necessary extent should be obtained in order to carry on the projected scheme successfully. It may reasonably be anticipated that within a short period the delivery will be sufficient to ensure the Company against loss and that as the quantity increases the return will produce a fair dividend upon the capital, after providing for depreciation.

Subscriptions to the extent of two shares and upwards are invited.

As soon as a sufficient number of shares have been taken to warrant the commencement of operations, a meeting of the subscribers will be called for the purpose of naming Provisional Directors.

Further particulars may be obtained at the office of Mr. A. P. Pousette, 379 Water St., or Mr. H. P. Kennedy, 340 George St., or Mr. F. H. Dobbin, at the Review Office.

The following gentlemen have already subscribed:—Dr. Halliday, Dr. Bucher, Dr. Carmichael, Dr. Eastwood, Dr. Greer, Dr. Scott, Messrs. A. H. Stratton, B. Shortly, W. D. Parker, A. W. Cressman, R. A. OUR EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM

No matter how skeptical we have felt inclined to be regarding the real value of our Ontario school system, and regarding our High School system too, for that matter, we have always held our peace in view of the fact that we have received prizes whenever shown. This demonstrates also the evils of theoretical prize giving for we are now finding, out through the process of circumstances that all is not gold that glitters. Some time ago so great an authority as the President of Toronto University sharply attacked our whole system of elementary education as a mere piece of bombast. He was finding out that year after year the quality of our educational material kept steadily deteriorating, like poor but time-looking apples, which would receive the prize if tasting were not part of the test. At last, however, the hardest and most crushing blow has come in the shape of the adoption, after careful investigation, of the New Brunswick school system by the Imperial authorities to introduce into South Africa. Teachers from New Brunswick have also been secured by the English agent of the home government, and we in Ontario have to pocket our pride and look back upon all the lost and wasted opportunities with dismay - and worst of all, have ourselves to look for inspiration to one of the minor provinces. All this establishes what any rational observer must have long ago seen, namely the futility of talking about a mere paper theory. We are not doing our best by any means by our sons and daughters, nor is what we are doing being done inexpensively. Why should this, like direct taxation, be a cause of complaint in this rich and resourceful province?

A PEREGRINATING FEARL

Theodosia was turning the house upside down. She had held the pearl out of the ring Roderic Merrill had given her. It wasn't an engagement ring, although Theo had allowed Jasmine Marsh to suppose it was. Roderic was Theodosia's second cousin.

"Oh, you're a fidget, Theo!" cried her sister Dot. "Sweep the room! Look under the dresser. It's just rolled into some corner. I can find it!" "Maybe I won't," said Theo. Her round, greenish eyes gleamed significantly. "You see - I may not have lost it!"

Dot wheeled around. "What do you mean by that, Theo Brinker?" "It was a valuable stone," declared Miss Brinker, darkly. "It could have been pried out of the setting. It would be comparatively easy to dispose of by one who - who looked like a lady."

"Do you mean to say you think your pearl was stolen?" demanded the younger Miss Brinker in much excitement. "Her shrill young voice reached Jasmine Marsh and arrested her steps at the door of the bedroom. She was a dark-haired, slender girl with a face patrician in feature and gentle of expression. She taught the Brinker twins, who, being considered delicate, were receiving their education at home."

"I shouldn't be surprised to learn it was! You remember the other day I was speaking of its value?" "I did not say that anyone in this house would steal," said Jasmine Marsh, quietly. She came forward into the room. "I recollect your stating that Mr. Merrill had been at pains to secure such a flawless stone."

She stood waiting, silent and dignified. Theodosia turned a brick-red all over her broad, ruddy face.

In danger.

Every one is in danger who neglects the warnings of declining health. The warnings are not as startling as the sudden attack of a locomotive, but they are just as ominous. When the body begins to lose in flesh, when the cheek is hollow and the skin sallow it is Nature's warning that the body is failing of proper nourishment. It is a condition of "weak" stomach, and "weak" stomach involves other organs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and cures through the stomach diseases which are so often remote, but which have their origin in the disease of the stomach and its allied organs.

There is no alcohol in the "Discovery" and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

Before I commenced to use your medicine I was in a bad condition (for eight years), and four doctors treated me," writes Mrs. Bettie Baker, of Garysburg, N. C. "They, of course, gave me at the time some relief, but it did not last long. It was some days in my bed and some days I dragged about the house. I have used five bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and five of the 'Favre Prescription' and four vials of the 'Pell's'. Now I feel like a new woman, and I want the world to know it."
